FROSH SQUAD CHECKS SIXTY UNIFORMS OUT

IS RECORD NUMBER SECOND STRING MEN

VARSITY GETS HARD SCRIMMAGE

Pasteboard Sale in Full Swing With Harold Sebring in Charge—Print Only 2,000 of Season Books

There will be no dearth of material for a valley championship Aggie football team in 1922, according to present indications. The largest number of uniforms ever checked out to a first year football squad at K. S. A. C. was issued to the yearlings Tuesday afternoon of this week. Every suit in the storeroom has been given out and a number of freshmen will have to make use of overalls and other variegated paraphernalia in order to show their loyalty to K. S. A. C. by turning out for freshman football.

Sixty Frosh Practicing

More than 60 candidates, ranging from 110 to 215 pounds of beef and brawn, were running signals under Coach Ted Curtiss at the first practice Tuesday evening. Many of these men are ex-high school stars with enviable football records and their generally husky physical condition together with several years of high school football experience should provide some highly interesting scrimmages for the varsity in the near future, and after a season under Curtiss should provide Coach Bachman with a gratifying array of material from which to supply faulty or missing cogs in the Wildcat gridiron machine next fall.

Varsity Getting Stiff Practice

Three hours of hitting, tackling, and blocking dummy, running down punts, signal practice and scrimmage each evening is the daily routine drill Coach Bachman is giving his Aggie aspirants for the valley football championship this fall. In the first scrimmage Saturday by the contenders, the first string easily scored several touchdowns on the second team, passes working well in spite of the wet ball. In a short scrimmage Tuesday the second string showed up better, holding the varsity to a single counter.

Prospects Point to Light Line

The line this year will probably be slightly lighter than last year, with the backfield about the same in weight. Captain "Shifty" Cleland in the line is showing his old fight at the pivot position, with Murphy of last year, and Weber and Patterson of last year's freshman squad as promising understudies. Hahn and Lasswell are showing strong at guard, with Schindler, Steiner, and Franz doing good work also. Hahn weighs 180 and Lasswell a trifle more; both are big, aggressive, and fast on their feet, and Hahn has two years experience on the varsity. Schmitz and Stauffer of last year's eleven, are showing mid-season form at tackle with Stabe and Nichols giving them a run for their positions. Sebring, Benny Owen's selection for the all-valley last season, is holding down right wing with his usual snap and Burr Smith is working like a veteran at the other flank. Both are performing well on the receiving end of passes. Linn, Evans, and Hollister are other likely competitors for end jobs.

In the backfield, Cowell and Stark have been working at half, and Harris Brandlee, Porter, and Mueller are also lugging the ball creditably. "Ding" Burton, member of the 1919 Aggie eleven, has reported for practice and is out for a backfield berth. Sears is looking better than ever at full. At the pilot position, Burr Schwartz is showing form with Bryan and Burton crowding him closely.

Ticket Sale Going Fairly Well

"Get your season football ticket" is the challenge that greets the Aggie student as he passes through Anderson these days. And the real Aggie and the students who recognize a good thing when they see it, are responding fairly well so that the sale of the season pasteboards is progressing nicely, according to Harold Sebring, "K" man, who is directing the sales campaign with the same characteristic snap that he displayed as guardian of the Aggie right wing on last year's football eleven.

Number Season Tickets Limited

But there are some who aren't coming through as they should, and these same ones will very likely regret it later. Only 2,000 of the season books have been printed, and a large block of these will be sold to the Manhattan people through the Chamber of Commerce and Aggieville stores. Almost that many were disposed of last year with a gridiron schedule far inferior to that offered this year. For $4—the price of a few movie dates, a good road show, or a few dances—is an opportunity to witness in action with your team, five of the best football elevens in the middle west. Also, the student will not need to hide in his room or sneak away on Saturdays while pangs of disloyalty assail his conscience.

About $2,500 worth of badly needed athletic equipment has been purchased by the athletic department this fall and at least $500 worth more is needed. The sale of the 2,000 season tickets will provide this and insure a financially successful season.

PICK SEATS AT HOME THIS YEAR

WILL TRY NEW PLAN SELLING ARTISTS SERIES TICKETS

Students to Be Sent Booklets Showing Auditorium Plan—May Phone in Seat Orders

Ira Pratt, head of the music department, announces the adoption of a new method of seat sale for the Artist Series.

Folders containing the plan of the auditorium will be sent to every student and resident of Manhattan. In this way, everyone who cannot call in person, can select the seat he wants and telephone the order. Tickets ordered by telephone will be delivered direct to the address.

Seats may be reserved at the box office in the college auditorium, beginning Monday, September 26 at seven o'clock in the morning. The telephone number of the music department is 614.

The price of season tickets has been reduced from $3.00 and $2.50 to $2.50 and $2.00. Single admission to the first two numbers will be $1.50 each and to the third number $1.25.

W. A. A. PLANS MANY ACTIVITIES

COSTUME PARTY TO BE GIVEN SEPTEMBER 30

Fill Vacant Offices at Meeting of Association Monday—First Hike Last Tuesday

A short meeting of the Woman's Athletic association, at which officers were elected to fill the places left vacant by the failure of several of last year's members to return, was held Monday evening at 5 o'clock.

The officers elected were as follows: publicity manager, Bertha Gwin; baseball manager, Lenore Russell; swimming manager, Julia Caton; tennis manager, Lucia Betz.

Plans are already in progress for various W. A. A. events, the annual costume party, which is to be given September 30, and a vodvil which will be given sometime in October. The first W. A. A. hike was held Tuesday afternoon. These hikes are taken by those interested in earning W. A. A. points. Hockey practice will start soon and new girls as well as old are urged to sign up for the game.

Senior Meeting Tuesday

A meeting of the senior class will be held in F2 next Tuesday at 7:30 p. m., according to J. Wheeler Barger, senior president. Nominations of class officers for the fall semester will be made, and other important matters will be taken up.

Begin Varsity Basketball Practice

Coach Curtiss will hold varsity basketball practice every Tuesday and Thursday evening in the gym between 7 and 8 o'clock, starting next Tuesday. All men eligible for varsity should turn out and start the ball to falling in the basket early in the season.

OVER 100 MORE ENROLLED IN K. S. A. C. CHORUS WORK

Any Student in College May Enroll—Need Tenor, Bass, and Alto Singers

More than 100 students met at the auditorium Monday evening for the first rehearsal of the chorus. The chorus is directed by Prof. Ira Pratt, head of the department of music.

Work was begun on the "M. S. A. C." which is to be presented just before Christmas. Next semester, "Saint Paul" will be studied, and it will be given during Festival week. This number is more difficult than anything previously attempted at K. S. A. C., but with the cooperation of the members of the chorus, Professor Pratt looks forward to an excellent presentation.

The chorus is not confined to music students, but is open to any one in the college. Those who sing tenor, bass, or alto are specially urged to enroll.

KAMMEYER INVESTIGATES EASTERN INDUSTRIAL LIFE

Studies Business Organizations First Hand While on Chautauqua Tour

Dr. J. E. Kammeier has recently returned from a tour with the Swarthmore chautauqua company of Pennsylvania. He held the position of superintendent and lecturer for a seven day chautauqua. Doctor Kammeier's work took him into all the Middle Atlantic and New England states except Rhode Island and into the maritime provinces of Canada including Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.

Doctor Kammeier states that enroute he had an opportunity to study first hand the business organizations in many industries and to confer with working men concerning their problems. He feels that he has been able to bring home many things which will be of value in his class work for the coming year.

BULL FIGHT SPECTATORS MISTAKE AGGIE TEACHER FOR FOLLIES GIRL

"I wanted to do something different," said Miss Grace Hesse, modern language instructor, in speaking of her trip into Mexico and her stay of several weeks in Mexico City last summer. She admitted that the vacation was a trifle expensive as she arrived back in Manhattan with but $3.00.

Miss Hesse left here soon after summer school closed. She lived with a Spanish speaking family during the whole time, and studied conversation, phonetics, and literature at the University of Mexico. She made the journey entirely by rail, going from San Antonio to Laredo, Tex., on the border, and thence to Mexico City.

"Mexico as a whole," stated Miss Hesse, "is just as safe as America."

The exception to the present rule is a long stretch of barren, almost uninhabited territory just to the other side of the border, and practically every train going across this stretch is heavily guarded by Mexican soldiers, who, Miss Hesse says, are fully as ferocious looking as any bandits.

"The Mexicans," she states, "are the most hospitable of peoples. They delight in entertaining, and besides being very courteous they are accommodating in every way. Especially in regard to language is this noticed. Practically every conductor, waiter, and porter on the Mexican trains can speak a certain amount of English. Even the keepers of the smallest shops are familiar enough with the language to do business with Americans. In all the hotels such is the case. An American can go almost anywhere in Mexico without any trouble and not know a word of Spanish. The same thing certainly cannot be said of Mexicans in America. Of course, much of this knowledge is due to its being commercially advantageous, and every firm em-

FIFTEEN FIRST AWARDS WON BY LIVESTOCK

COMPETITION IS KEEN IN MANY CLASSES ENTERED

GET LONG STRING SHEEP PRIZES

No Swine Were Exhibited—Dr. C. W. McCampbell's Work Highly Praised by Drover's Telegram

K. S. A. C. won over fifteen first prizes in the livestock exhibits at the Topeka free fair. Competition was very keen in many of the classes in which K. S. A. C. won, competitors in the fat steer class being especially well qualified.

As K. S. A. C. exhibited no swine, Prof. F. W. Bell judged the Berkshire and the Chester White swine exhibited at the fair. E. L. McIntosh judged the Polled Shorthorns, and Prof. B. M. Anderson had charge of the horse exhibits. The supervisor of the cattle was Prof. A. M. Patterson, and Prof. F. W. Bell was supervisor of the Chester White hogs.

Praise for McCampbell

Dr. C. W. McCampbell was general supervisor of the livestock exhibits and a great deal of credit is due him for the success of this division. The Drover's Telegram says: "The baby beef section of the fat cattle brought out 16 exceptionally good calves, 11 of them being from Atchison county. Dr. C. W. McCampbell, head of the animal husbandry department of the Kansas State Agricultural college, saw his dreams come true in this case, as he had put a great deal into this work."

Many of the cattle which were at the Topeka fair are now at the Hutchinson state fair. Dr. C. W. McCampbell, and Professors F. W. Bell, A. M. Patterson, and B. M. Anderson are at Hutchinson this week.

The list of prizes won by K. S. A. C. at the Topeka free fair is:

ISSUE CALL FOR BAND MATERIAL

PROFESSOR WHEELER, DIRECTOR, WANTS ALL TALENT OUT

Fifty Candidates for Band Already in Sight—35 Old Members Are Back

Harold P. Wheeler, director of the college band and orchestra, has issued a call for volunteers. Every student who can cut up on a cornet, sob on saxophone or wiggle a wicked drumstick is strongly urged to try out for a place.

It will be an unusual honor to be a member of the K. S. A. C. band this year. The college has always had a pretty fair band and last year our musicians achieved quite a reputation. This year, however, the band promises to eclipse by far all previous Aggie outfits.

According to Mr. Wheeler there are already fifty aspirants out and everyone is as good or better than the Aggie band director has ever worked with before. Several musicians of extraordinary talent have entered school this fall and in addition most of the 35 members of last year's band are back. There are 20 first class clarinet players out whereas last year there were never more than eight.

Then why is a call for volunteers made? Mr. Wheeler explains, "I have by far the best prospects for a band that I have ever had. As it is, we should have one of the best college bands in this part of the country. But I can't be satisfied with that. I believe there are more students on the hill who can play, and if they will come out I hope to have one of the best bands in the whole country."

Mr. Wheeler plans to have the band take a more prominent part at all pep meetings and athletic games than ever before. He is already planning stunts to pull off at football games. He wants to make the band the life of the party here on the hill.

There will be a band concert in the auditorium on December 11, and in addition Mr. Wheeler is planning to hold several open air concerts before that time.

Tryouts For Life Saving Corps

Tryouts for Red Cross life saving corps commence in about a month. All girls who can swim and those who are interested in the Red Cross life saving corps should be getting in shape for the tryouts by coming regularly to practice every Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 4 to 5.

Members of the corps and an instructor will usually be there. Instructions will be given to any girl desiring to try out.

A new concrete bench has been made for the college green house, at a cost of about $175. The department hopes to be able to conduct some experiments to show whether or not wood or concrete benches are most suitable. The greenhouse has also a new soil sterilizer, one of the first to be used in any greenhouse in the state.

STAGE FIRST BIG MIXER IN GYM TONIGHT

LITERARY SOCIETIES WILL HOLD OPEN HOUSE DURING EVENING

PROVIDE ENTERTAINMENT FOR ALL

Program and Dancing Will Furnish Amusement in the Gym—Humphrey in Charge of Party

The first all Aggie party of the year is to be held this evening in Nichols gymnasium. The program is divided into three parts—an introductory program from 8:00 to 8:30, dancing from 9:00 to 12:00 with open house at the literary society hall at the same time. This program, aside from affording an opportunity to become acquainted, provides a particular amusement for each student.

The word "mixer" brings out the main, and almost the whole idea of the entertainment. Without these get acquainted parties it would be much more difficult for such a body of students to become acquainted and for the individual classes to function efficiently.

Captain G. R. Humphrey, head of the student committee on social affairs has charge of the preparations for the program.

The first half hour of the evening will be made up of important announcements, and the management asks that everybody come early. Those who do not dance will be directed to rooms on the second floor of the gymnasium where the various literary societies will hold open house, conduct various forms of entertainment, and do some individual advertising at the same time. Refreshments will be served during the entire evening.

"We are putting forth a great deal of effort to make this party one of the best of the year, and with the cooperation of the students it should be very successful," states Captain Humphrey.

DEBATE TRYOUTS ARE NEXT WEEK

DR. HOWARD T. HILL AND O. H. BURNS ARE JUDGES

Students Urged to Try Out—All Having Debated Once Eligible for Squad

Tryouts for places on the fall debate squads will be held September 29 and 30. Persons successful in these tryouts will work for places on the men's teams which meet the Ames debaters in November or for places on the women's teams which debate the Emporia Normal girls, probably in November.

Dr. Howard T. Hill, professor of public speaking, and O. H. Burns, debate coach, will judge the debate tryouts, which will be held in a 60. Contestants are required to deliver a five minute constructive speech on either side of the question, "Resolved, that the leading nations should reduce armaments to a strictly defensive basis." Each speaker will also be required to give a two minute rebuttal speech on points of the opposing side which will be handed him at the tryout.

Persons who have participated in one intercollegiate debate will not be required to work for places on the squad, but immediately placed on equal footing with inexperienced persons in competing for places on the teams.

Professor Burns, who has charge of debating says, "I hope that every college student who has had experience in high school debates or who is interested in debating will see me in my office for an appointment to try out. A large squad will be chosen as several debaters are needed."

Mrs. Wieble of Topeka, who was killed in a automobile accident Sunday, was the mother of two K. S. A. C. graduates, Miss Anita Wieble and Mrs. Joe Sweet.

WHERE WAS THE SLIP?

Last spring shortly before the close of the second semester each of the four college classes got together and indorsed the special athletic fee which was to be assessed all students at the time of enrolment. The athletic department was in sore need of funds. Lack of finances had compelled the baseball team to go without bats and had enabled them to take no substitutes on the baseball trips. Students who were in college last year realized the stern necessity for an athletic fee which would be sufficient to place this college on an equal footing with other institutions of its size and standing in the Missouri valley, and it was because they realized the urgent need for action that the move was indorsed, almost without a dissenting opinion. No one doubted that the fee would be included in the cost of registration, since all of the college classes had approved of the move.

Accordingly, as student after student came out of the registration hall they asked concerning the athletic fee. They were not only prepared to pay the fee but they wanted the opportunity to pay the one fee which, they believed above all others, would bring about that vital, throbbing, and enduring college spirit which for some time has been conspicuously lacking in this institution.

Somewhere between the students and the state board of administration there has been a slip. Sometime during the summer it was decided to charge the fees for the whole year at the beginning of the first semester instead of charging for them a semester at a time as heretofore. The wheels of administration were too slow to install the athletic fee which had been contemplated for some time and which the students had every reason to expect but they were sufficiently swift to put across the year fee idea which had never been discussed and which was entirely unexpected by students either new or old.

The result is that the athletic department is again or rather is still in its straightened financial condition and the majority of the students are justly vexed at the administrative move which unexpectedly charged them double fees at the beginning of the fall semester. In many instances the heavy enrolment fees have helped compel new students to drop out and return home with consequent vital loss to themselves and, only in a lesser degree, the institution.

VOTE BEFORE YOU KICK

Class elections, and the election of officers for the Students' Self Governing association are drawing near. The officers of each class should be chosen by every class member, and every member of the S. S. G. A.—and this last should automatically include every student of the college—should vote in the S. S. G. A. election.

Aggie students in the past have had a tendency to leave the voting to an interested minority while they yawned at the bore of going to class meetings. This is all right provided the student cares not what happens to his class or to the governing body of the school. If a student has no choice and has no interest in the ability or lack of ability of his classmate's choice, let him peacefully drink cokes during class meeting hour.

But too often the fellow who had no choice waits but a few hours after class meeting to decide that his neighbor's candidate is all wrong and that the class administration is speedily going to the bowwows under the administration of the interested few. He wakes up then, but only in time to kick.

Last year one class at least made some little progress toward arousing interest in class affairs among the class as a whole. The interest which this class had aroused in its affairs might well serve as an example of the interest that class elections are capable of provoking. True, clashing interests and opposing factions are bound to result from a class where each member feels a personal responsibility. But any class member is bound to prefer a live organization divided than a dead organization united.

Make it a point to vote before you feel you have the right to kick. Unless you helped make the decision you have no right to criticize. And since it is the majority, at least a majority of those voting, who make the decision, it is usually a better plan to keep still—even if it didn't all come out your way.

JUST HANG ON A WHILE YET

Students of K. S. A. C. take courage. It stands to reason that all week ends cannot be gloomy nor all Mondays rainy. To be sure this weather test of our perseverance is pretty severe but think of the endurance we will have gained at the end of these few weeks of excessive warmth.

With some of Kansas' typical autumn days—yes and nights too—in store for us should we not accept cheerfully the scanty supply of hot days yet left?

You wish you had that $33 back, do you? Yes then you could take the first train for home; get away from all the perplexities, assignments, and duties confronting you. But just hang on. Why soon you'll be able to find G56 with a blindfold on, and your college profs will assume an amazing number of likeable qualities when preliminaries are over. On the whole you will surprise yourself by soon coming to know K. S. A. C.—buildings, books, campus, and people—as a very likeable institution.

Miss Effie M. Carp, '15, who is the new director of the college cafeteria, and is teaching the classes in institutional management, has had experience as extension lecturer during the war, and for the last two years has been at the university of Chicago, where she received her M. A. degree. Miss Carp, while in Chicago, was connected with a commercial tea room in the city.

PLAN FACULTY CONCERT SERIES

FIRST NUMBER IS OCTOBER 23—CONCLUDING ONE DECEMBER 4

College Chorus Assisted by Out of Town Chorus Will Give Messiah December 18

The music department is getting a running start on what promises to be by far the biggest year in its history.

The enrolment is much greater than ever before and the students are still coming in. Prof. Ira Pratt says that the class work has almost doubled this year. Instructors have been so rushed they have had no time to compile the number of students but figures will be out in a few days.

A committee of the music faculty is now working on plans for a series of faculty concerts. The first one will be given on Sunday, October 23. The concerts will be continued every Sunday until December 14.

The students of the college and choruses of surrounding towns will present the Messiah on December 18. The united chorus will be much larger this year than that of any previous year.

Dr. C. J. Masseck, director of sales for the Capper Farm Press, will speak to the students in industrial journalism at 4 o'clock next Monday afternoon.

Three poems written by Prof. N. A. Crawford appeared in the September number of The Measure. The names of the poems are "The Sweeper," "Creed," and "On Main Street." A number of Professor Crawford's poems have been printed recently and he is recognized as a writer of merit in other countries as well as in the United States.

The Manhattan Rotary club, about one third of the members of which are on the K. S. A. C. faculty, held its first country meeting with the farmers in the vicinity of Zeandale Thursday night. B. H. Hull, who is a graduate of the college, was the principal speaker.

The posters being displayed in the advertising and promoting of the United States Grain Growers, Inc., were all prepared by L. C. Moser, who is a graduate of the journalism course here. He is now director of information for the United States Grain Growers.

Miss Gertrude Ramsey visited in Manhattan last week end. Miss Ramsey, who was formerly a K. S. A. C. student, is now teaching in the Enterprise high school.

Miss Ivy Barker, a former journalism student and editor of the Collegian, has charge of the high school paper and the work in English in the Pratt high school.

President W. M. Jardine spoke yesterday at Sedan before the American legion of that place.

Prof. E. L. McIntosh left Thursday for Miles City where he will judge livestock at the county fair.

In response to an invitation from the Kansas state fair association Dr. J. J. Kammeyer, head of the department of economics, gave an address on "National Ideals" at the Topeka free fair September 15 in honor of "Old Settlers' day."

MIX PSYCHOLOGY AND BRAUN NOW

ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT TO SECURE RIGHT FRAME OF MIND

Locker Room Has Been Enlarged and Redecorated and Lounging Room Will Be Fitted Up

K. S. A. C. athletic coaches are now teaching practical psychology to the Aggie athletes.

During the summer the athletic department had the partition between the two rooms in the basement of Nichols gymnasium taken out. New and up to date lockers have been installed and the room newly finished and decorated. Standing out in bold relief on the wall is the motto "I will," so placed that an athlete cannot help seeing it before going out to the field.

The hospital room is twice as large as it formerly was and is better able to take care of the injured.

An upstairs lecture and lounging room is being fitted up for all of the athletes. All of the best psychology books will be placed on the library shelves. The coaches are determined to leave no stone unturned in getting the Aggie athletes in the proper frame of mind as well as in perfect physical condition.

To Assist With Fashion Show

Miss Louise Glanton, professor of clothing and textiles will spend the second week of October in Pratt county, where she will assist the county home demonstration agent in putting on a fashion show. Local club women, high school students, and stores will furnish the costumes for the display. Correct clothes for all occasions will be shown on living models. Miss Glanton assisted with similar clothing demonstrations in a number of Kansas towns last year.

Prof. C. E. Aubel of the animal husbandry department is judging livestock at the Coffey county fair.

Miss Mary Worcester, assistant in clothing and textiles, will go to Clay Center October 6 to judge the exhibits in sewing and kitchen products, at the Clay county fair.

And Lived Happily Ever After

"The matrimonial bureau of Kansas" folks sometime called K. S. A. C. and the number of weddings which have taken place since Commencement time bears out the belief that Cupid is fond of the Aggie school. Since the first of June some 50 weddings of former Aggie students or in some cases Aggie faculty members have taken place.

Miss Helen Bales, who graduated from K. S. A. C. in 1920, and Mr. Arthur Brewer, who finished his course in civil engineering during summer school, were married June 2 and will live at Lafayette, Ind., where Mr. Brewer will attend Purdue university.

WHY?

do so many people wear glasses

Because modern efficiency demands better eyesight. We do more near, work, more intricate, more exacting hand, and machine work than ever before.

We turn night into day with bright lights, and use our eyes when nature intended them to be at rest.

Children are using their eyes more strenuously in school and home.

The person who suffers from EYE STRAIN and neglecting to have their eyes examined is wasting his nerve energy.

COLLEGE HEROES ARE SENT HOME

WELLS AND COMFORT BURIED IN KANSAS THIS SUMMER

Wells Was Killed in St. Mihiel Drive —Comfort Died Near Soissons

The body of Lieut. Eddie Wells, one of the greatest athletes who ever attended K. S. A. C. was sent to this country this summer and burial was made at Downs. Wells was killed in the St. Mihiel drive.

Eddie Wells while in college won places on both the all valley football, and the all valley basketball teams. He was known as the greatest backfield man in the valley. His prowess has become a legend on the hill and the highest praise that can be given an Aggie football man is to say that he performs on the gridiron as Wells did. Wells was prominent in other school activities besides athletics, and was a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity.

The body of another Aggie hero, Captain W. E. Comfort was buried at Manhattan July 24. Captain Comfort, who graduated from the college in 1914, was in command of the first company of American soldiers to enter into actual fighting with the Germans. In this battle the first American casualties resulted although Captain Comfort was unhurt. He was killed in action near Soissons, July 18, 1919. After his death the Distinguished Service Cross was awarded him. Although severely injured in the battle he led his company forward to the objective which he maintained until mortally wounded.

VINALL OF U. S. D. A. LOOKS OVER EXPERIMENTS HERE

Is Especially Interested in Sunflowers as a Forage Crop

H. N. Vinall, agronomist in the office of forage crops investigations of the United States department of agriculture at Washington, spent Friday at the college with members of the agronomy department. Mr. Vinall is especially interested in sorghums and spent the morning looking over the experimental work on this crop with Prof. S. C. Salmon and Prof. J. H. Parker at the agronomy farm and in the crop improvement nursery. In the afternoon Prof. R. L. Hensel, in charge of pasture management, took Mr. Vinall to the Casement pastures where extensive grazing experiments are in progress. Mr. Vinall is a native of Kansas and graduated from K. S. A. C. in 1903. He has been in charge of forage sorghum experiments for the United States department of agriculture for a number of years. More recently he has become interested in sunflowers as a forage crop and is now preparing a bulletin giving the results of trials with this new forage crops in several states.

DISTINGUISHED AGGIE GRAD TO VISIT K. S. A. C. SOON

Dr. D. F. Jones, '11, Is Now One of Leading Geneticists in the United States

Doctor D. F. Jones, plant breeder of the Connecticut agricultural experiment station is expected at the college in a few days. Doctor Jones is making a tour through the corn belt under the auspices of the office of cereal investigations of the United States department of agriculture for the purpose of studying experiment station work in corn breeding. Doctor Jones is a graduate of K. S. A. C. class of 1911, and is now one of the leading geneticists in the United States, having carried on very extensive work in corn breeding with special reference to hybrid vigor and the increased yields secured from first generation hybrids.

LAUDE AND PARKER VISIT WESTERN KANSAS STATIONS

Conduct Corn and Sorghum Experiments at Garden City, Tribune, and Colby

Professors H. H. Laude and J. H. Parker of the agronomy department, returned Friday from a week's trip in western Kansas. They visited the substations at Garden City, Tribune, and Colby, in the interest of sorghum and corn experiments conducted at these stations in cooperation with the main station at Manhattan. At the Tribune substation selection experiments with Freeds Sorghum are in progress and give promise of the production of a new sorghum variety with the early maturity of Freeds Sorgo but with a head more like Pink kafir and capable of returning a higher yield of grain.

At the Colby station ear-to-row breeding work is in progress with Colby Bloody Butcher corn and an effort is being made to purify the type of the kernel color and other characters. Sorghum crops at Garden City are fair. Milo will probably make a yield of about 20 bushels to the acre. At Tribune prolonged drouth has severely injured the sorghum crops and yields of forage and grain will be low. The sorghum at the Colby branch station had to be replanted and for this reason will be late in maturing but forage yields will be good. Corn has made an excellent crop in northwestern Kansas and some of the yields will be as high as 50 bushels to the acre.

MANHATTAN POSTMASTER OFFERS SUGGESTIONS TO AGGIES

Average of 60 Letters Are Sent Dead Letter Office Weekly

"Want your mail?" If you do the Manhattan post office has made several suggestions that students who will be here this winter might do well to follow.

Have all mail addressed to street residence, K. S. A. C. post office box, or postoffice box. When you move notify postal authorities. Your mail will be delayed awaiting directory service unless properly addressed. Help us give you the service you should have." Such is the suggestion that the postal authorities have made.

Other suggestions that have been made are that students have return addresses written plainly on the outside, and use laundry bag labels but once, as there is often much confusion when too many addresses are on one bag.

When students realize that an average of 60 letters are sent to the dead letter office weekly they will see the importance of careful direction, believes F. D. Lamb, Manhattan postmaster.

CHURCHES HOLD ANNUAL MIXERS

MAJORITY GAVE ENTERTAINMENTS FOR STUDENTS MONDAY EVENING

Methodist Church Devoted Three Buildings to Mixer—Lutheran Party Saturday

The churches of Manhattan started the "get together" movement among the students and faculty by holding student mixers Monday night. On that date the Presbyterian, United Presbyterian, Christian, Baptist, Congregational, and Methodist churches held mixers for the students.

The Methodist church, which always has a large percentage of college students, devoted the three church buildings to the entertainment of the guests. In each building was a different form of entertainment. One building was devoted to contests, another to parlor games, and a third to miscellaneous games. The guests changed buildings every thirty minutes, thus enabling participation in all forms of amusement offered during the evening.

The Lutheran church did not hold its mixer Monday night but will hold an entertainment Saturday evening in the home economics rest room. This mixer will be similar to the ones given by the other churches.

The mixers given by the churches for the new college students are annual affairs at K. S. A. C.

FRESHMAN CAP DEMAND HEAVY

UP TO DATE ABOUT 400 HAVE SECURED HEADGEAR

"K" Men in Charge of Sale Will Check Slackers Through Dean's Office

Freshmen are securing their caps more rapidly this year than last. So far about 400 caps have been sold by "K" men, and only about 200 freshmen have not yet purchased the headgear. The name of each freshman who bought a cap has been taken and a check through the dean's office will be made. Those who have not purchased a cap will be given the usual penalty, say those in charge of the sale of caps.

Freshmen must wear their caps every day from now on until the time specified for discarding them. The first football game is October 1, and every freshman is required to wear his cap for that occasion. These caps must be purchased the "K" men declare and they say there is to be no second warning.

Her trip into Mexico and her stay of several weeks in Mexico City, last summer. She admitted that the summer school coiled. She lived athletic office in the gymnasium.

Caps may be purchased at the window opposite the post office or at the athletic office in the gymnasium.

Miss Roop is at the head of the household utilities department and is assisting with the market buying.

The course in salesmanship is being offered again this year and is taught by Miss Glanton.

Big Demand For Fair Judges

There has been such a demand for judges of home economics exhibits at various fairs in Kansas that the extension division has been unable to supply judges and has called on the division of home economics for help.

Professors Martha S. Pittman and Araminta Holman judged at the fair which was recently held at Hutchinson. Miss Mary Polson, assistant in the department of clothing and textiles, is to judge, October 5, at the Morris county fair, which is to be held at Council Grove. Miss Mildred Kaucher, assistant in household economics, is to judge at the Wabawsee county fair, at Alta Vista, September 30.

S. A. C. During his stay in the United States he visited four agricultural colleges, K. S. A. C., the Massachusetts Agricultural college, and the colleges of agriculture at the universities of California and Wisconsin.

"Cliff" Gallagher at Stafford

Already he has aroused the enthusiasm of the football boys in practice work during the first week of school. Several Letter men are back this year and with "Cliff" as coach Stafford hopes for a splendid athletic record.

ORGANIZE FROSH ON WEDNESDAY

O. H. BURNS IS "BIG BROTHER" OF FRESHMAN CLASS

College Traditions Will Be Explained and Plans for Organization Outlined

A meeting of the freshman class has been called for next Wednesday evening by Prof. O. H. Burns, freshman class sponsor. The class will meet for the first time at 7:30 p. m. in the auditorium, and Professor Burns will explain some of the college traditions and outline plans for the permanent organization of the class.

Professor Burns, who has been appointed "Big Brother" of the freshmen by President W. M. Jardine, hopes that every member of the class will be present so that the class can become organized and get behind all worth-while college activities.

MISS WORRALL IS TEACHER OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Miss Edith Bond Is Instructor in Illinois Teachers' College

Did you know that K. S. A. C. has a world champion in her midst? The new assistant in the women's physical education department, Miss Mary Elizabeth Worrall, holds the world's record for women's high hurdles, making the 65 yards in 11 seconds. Miss Worrall created this new record at the Sargent camp at Peterboro, N. H., in September, 1920.

Miss Worrall, who takes the place of Miss Edith Bond who is teaching in the Teachers' college at DeKalb, Ill., is a graduate of the Sargent school for physical education at Cambridge, Mass. She was an instructor at Sargent camp in New Hampshire, during the June and September sessions of the camp last year. Miss Worrall, with her bobbed hair and youthful appearance might easily be mistaken for a freshman, claims Philadelphia, Pa., as her home.

AGGIES FROM OTHER LANDS MAKE SUMMER SPEECHES

Stahl and Saunders Talk at Emporia—Solomon and Kamal at Denver

Foreign students at K. S. A. C. are coming to the front as speakers. Four Aggie students from other lands addressed large audiences during the summer.

George Stahl and A. R. Saunders, of British South Africa, spoke at the chapel exercises of the summer school students at the Kansas State normal at Emporia this summer.

Mr. Saunders discussed the early history of the South African colonies and Mr. Stahl spoke of the present industrial, social, and economic conditions of South Africa.

Labib Solomon and Mohammed Kamal of Cairo, Egypt, spoke at an Epworth League meeting and a Sunday evening service of the Trinity Methodist church at Denver, Col., during August. "The talks were indeed very instructive and interesting," says Dr. J. E. Edwards, the pastor of the Denver church where the Egyptian students spoke. "The congregation was delighted with the speeches. Foreign students in this country can do a great deal toward overcoming provincialism and bringing about a better understanding between this country and theirs."

Propose W. A. A. Amendments

Two amendments were brought up before the W. A. A. meeting held last Monday. A limit of 350 points to apply on a sweater was set as the number of points a girl can make in swimming. The other amendment provides that after a girl has earned her sweater, she shall receive a service bar for every additional 200 points earned, on condition that she has first obtained the consent of the athletic board.

Miss Sue Carmody visited at the home of Prof. and Mrs. H. H. Haymaker Monday and Tuesday. Miss Carmody, who is editor of the woman's page on the Topeka Daily Capital, went from here to Russell where she attended the meeting of the sixth district federation of clubs.

Edward Shaffer and King Cady, both students at K. S. A. C. last semester, are attending the Medill school of journalism at Northwestern university this year.

Prof. N. A. Crawford spoke Wednesday evening at a meeting of DeMolay. His subject was, "Education For Human Freedom."

EXPECT FIGHT WITH EMPORIA OVAL TOTERS

QWINN HENRY'S WARRIORS GET IN EARLY PRACTICE

FRESHMEN ARE CREW OF GIANTS

Varsity Humbles Second String Squad Regularly—Forty Working for K. U. Aggie Cross Country

The Aggie football mentors are not expecting to turn back the pigskin toters from down Emporia way in an easy manner next Saturday. The contest with Coach Gwinn Henry's helmeted warriors may permit some experimentation with shifts and substitutions in the Aggie line—and again, it may not. Head Coach Bachman is not underestimating the probable strength of a team that won the Kansas conference championship twice in succession in 1918 and 1919, and finished third among the 14 conference elevens last season with a record of six victories, one tie, and only one game lost. The Emporia college last year had a speedy, spectacular aggregation of ball jugglers, piling up a total of 201 points to their opponents' 28 points.

Emporians Trained Early

Persistent rumors floating into the Wildcat rendezvous from William Allen White's famous burg hint that the Emporia athletes have slipped up on the football training season by quietly taking up the training grind long before Mike Ahearn's Aggies had discarded their summer pitchforks and checked their drouth-warped suitcases in the general direction of Manhattan. How long Coach Henry's gang has been officially worrying the oval around the field is problematical, but it is known that they have been training for the fight with Bachman's proteges for several weeks—to them it is the big game—and the optimistic tone of the dope from down that way indicates that they are hopeful of carrying away a respectable percentage of the total score when they trot off Ahearn field Saturday night.

Bachman Giving Stiff Workouts

Although ideal baseball weather has featured through the week end Bachman has been putting his charges through stiff workouts every night and each night's practice session finds the team working a bit better together. Goerke, last year's fullback, may be in this week. Thursday night the varsity first string engaged in short scrimmage with Coach Curtiss' yearlings. It was the froshes' first scrim and they were somewhat bewildered at first by the varsity attack which, in a succession of passes, line smashes and off tackle plays, carried the leather over for two touchdowns before the first year men rallied and held the varsity for the rest of the period.

Varsity Fumbles Goal

Saturday afternoon, on a soggy field the frosh were given another opportunity but were again humbled by the regulars 27 to 0. The yearlings fought gamely but the Aggie backs followed their interference through the frosh defence, circled the ends, and pulled off, forward passes for good gains despite the slippery ball. Cowell, Sears, and Stark carried the oval over for the varsity counters, and Hollister added another when the yearlings fumbled a snap back and Hollister fell on the ball behind the goal line. Hollister has been working at end due to a minor injury to Burr Smith, and is handling the wing nicely.

Swartz worked at quarter throughout the fracas and looks like a worthy successor to Axline for the marshaling job. Cowell and Stark worked at half, with Sears at the plunging position hitting the Green-Jerseyed line like a ton of brick. Sebring and Hollister guarded the flanks, with Stauffer and "Big" Schmitz at tackle and Hahn and Schindler flanking "Shifty" at the pivot. At the half, Bachman sent in several substitutes to get a taste of the freshman meat.

Freshmen A Likely Crew

Coach Curtiss has a likely crew of freshman giants and with a little more experience together they will make the first string exert themselves. A few who are looming strong are Ballard, a 205 pound tackle from Almena; Ewing, a 190 pound lineman, and Perkharn, 195, a promising pivot man, both from Hays. Doolen, Champaign, Ill., and Neitzert, a Manhattan end, have track records and each has had three years of football. Curtiss hopes to develop an accurate forward passer in Brown, Blue Rapids, and regards Ward and Stewart as promising pilot material. Other men showing up well are Wood, Balderston, Neibling, Miller, and Manker, all from Manhattan.

Forty Out For Track

Aggie track prospects are starting off auspiciously. Approximately 40 track men are working out under Ray Watson for cross country. Not all of these are distance men, a number of dash and field men taking advantage of Watson's conditioning work to get into trim, but from this material Watson expects to develop some 10 or 12 with the combination of speed and endurance necessary for a winning cross country team. The first cross country meet will be with K. U. on October 29, just before the annual Aggie-Jayhawker football classic is called. The Aggie tracksters are returning the K. U. visit of last year when the University speedsters were decisively beaten in a cross country run held before the game.

W. A. A. Selling Tickets

To push the sale of season football tickets this week, athletic director Ahearn has enlisted the aid of the Women's Athletic Association. The "K" men are finding it difficult to attend to their studies, sell freshman headgear, play football, and still find time to button-hole the elusive students and sell them the season books. The W. A. A. will not take over the selling campaign but will assist in "K" athletes.

SADDLE AND SIRLOIN CLUB ANNOUNCES ESSAY CONTEST

"Livestock As a Factor in Eliminating Waste in American Agriculture," Subject

An essay contest planned by the Saddle and Sirloin club of Chicago is open only to undergraduates in agricultural colleges. The subject for the contest is "Livestock as a Factor in Eliminating Waste in American Agriculture."

The Saddle and Sirloin club is an organization of leading livestock men. Its object in opening the contest is to aid in the development of agricultural writers.

The prizes offered are for first place, the famous $100 "Ruth" medal; second, $50 in money; third, $25 in money; and fourth, $15. Additional information concerning the contest can be obtained by writing to Charles E. Snyder, 836 Exchange avenue, Chicago. The contest will close November 1.

Most Beautiful Grand Opera Star Will Sing to Aggies

The first number of the Artist Series will bring to K. S. A. C. the youngest and most beautiful woman in grand opera.

Miss Cyreena Van Gordon has been known by this title ever since her performance last January as "Brunhilde" in Wagner's "Valkyrie." This performance also brought her recognition as the greatest mezzo contralto of the present day.

Miss Van Gordon, who is only 24 years old, has had a remarkable rise to stardom. Five years ago she was singing in the church choir in Morning Sun, Ohio. At the age of 19 she entered the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music where she was soon discovered by Campenani, impresario of the Chicago Grand Opera company.

She began singing important roles at the start but it was not until last January that father and mother and other good citizens of Morning Sun, who journeyed to Chicago to see her perform as Brunhilde, had to admit with the rest of the world that Cyreena was the real stuff.

Miss Van Gordon is fond of athletics and is quite an athlete herself. She is an accomplished horsewoman and a devotee of tennis and golf.

Her pet hobby is aviation. She has made many flights over land and sea and is quite an authority on flying. She hopes some day to keep all of her engagements by aeroplane but so far her manager has been able to prevent it.

MISS PEARL RUBY SUCCEEDS MISS ELIZABETH ROTHERMEL

Has Rank of Assistant Professor in Food Economics and Nutrition

Miss Pearl E. Ruby has been appointed to fill the vacancy left in the food economics and nutrition department by the resignation of Miss Elizabeth Rothermel. Miss Ruby will have the rank of assistant professor. She is a graduate of Drake university and has a master of arts degree from the University of Chicago. She has had teaching experience at Drake and last year was in charge of the Red Cross work at the Kansas headquarters at Wichita.

Miss Rothermel will be in charge of the home economics work at Mills college at Oakland, Cal., next year.

Paul Fetzner, '20, spent the week end at the Sigma Phi Epsilon house. Mr. Fetzner is on his way to Pittsburgh, Pa., where he will renew his work with the Westinghouse Electric company.

DOCTOR ACKERT HOPES TO SPOIL HOOKWORM'S TRIP AROUND WORLD

"And the hook worms will get you if you don't watch out!" This is what Dr. J. E. Ackert, professor of zoology at the college, and a number of other scientists, have been telling the natives of an island in the West Indies for the past four months.

Doctor Ackert and his wife returned September 23 from the island of Trinidad, a British possession six miles off the coast of Venezuela, after braving fever and pestilence for many weeks in an effort to track the wily hookworm to his lair.

This malicious nematode is an ever present menace to the minds, morals, and physiques of any community in which it is allowed to run wild, as is more or less the case throughout a belt around the earth 66 degrees wide from 36 degrees north to 30 degrees south latitude. Doctor Ackert and his associates were sent to the island of Trinidad by the International Board of Health to study the life and habits of the parasite in order to find the time in its life when it is most of its guard, and therefore more susceptible to extermination.

The party left for home on September 10, and after an uneventful voyage arrived in the United States with a great amount of important information.

"The work was very successful," said Doctor Ackert, but stated further that until the publication of the expedition's official reports he could not comment further upon the discoveries made.

The Union Bank Note company of Kansas City, one of the largest and best equipped printing and binding establishments west of the Mississippi river, will print and bind the '22 book. This company has a special annual department which needs no introduction at K. S. A. C., since the Union Bank Note company has printed and bound nine of the 13 volumes of the Royal Purple.

Miss Edith Willman of New York City, who was an instructor in the zoology department here in 1919-'20, received the master of arts degree from Columbia university last spring.

EARL MEANS PRESIDENT INTERSOCIETY COUNCIL

At the first meeting of the intersociety council held in Forum hall last Wednesday, the following officers were elected: president, Earl Means; vice president, J. W. Farmer; secretary, Raymond Stover; treasurer, Marguerite Dubbs; representative to S. S. G. A. council, Charles Howard and Luella Sherman; chairman of committee on debate, J. W. Farmer; chairman committee on dramatics, Rowena Thornburg; chairman committee on intersociety relations, W. W. Weaver; chairman of oratorical committee, Harold Howe.

HOLD S. S. G. A. MEETING TODAY

WILL ELECT THE REGULAR OFFICERS

Meeting Was Advertised for Wednesday—To Nominate Officers of Association

Due to the fact that it was impossible to hold the first meeting of the S. S. G. A. on Wednesday, the date previously announced, it is to be held at the regular assembly period this morning. As Bill Knostman, president of the association last year, has graduated the meeting will be called to order by Mike Ptacek, last year's vice president. Nominations will be made for president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer. Members of the executive council and different committee members will be elected by the different classes and by various other organizations.

The fact that after the election had been advertised for Wednesday the date was changed unexpectedly to today, is expected to occasion the absence of some members. The reason given for the change of date was that the college authorities thought it better to hold the election at the regular assembly period than to break into the week's schedule.

Officers of the S. S. G. A. who are now holding office are Bill Knostman, president; Mike Ptacek, vice president; Ruth Willis, secretary; and Louise Manglesdorf, treasurer.

SEMINAR FOR AG FROSH THURSDAY

OF 110 FRESHMEN IN DIVISION 108 ARE PRESENT

Talks Will Be Given During Year by Heads of Departments of Experiment Station

Dean F. D. Farrell addressed the freshmen of the division of agriculture at their regular weekly lecture hour, 4 o'clock Thursday. In the course of his talk he stressed the purpose and value of the required courses in the divisional curriculum.

Mr. Hugh Durham bases his statement that the present freshman class is a live bunch on the fact that 108 out of the 110 students enrolled in this course were present for the first meeting.

The series of lectures given the freshmen in agriculture will stress opportunities in agriculture and closely related lines, and will provide information along lines of vocational guidance. Heads of departments of the agricultural experiment station will be the chief speakers.

The talks given by each speaker will deal especially with the needs, advantages, and opportunities of the major lines of work in his department. This course of lectures is designed to assist the student in making a wise choice of the department in which he will specialize.

BROWN BULL WILL APPEAR NOVEMBER 19

HOMEcoming DAY CHOSEN FOR FIRST ISSUE

IS THIRD YEAR OF PUBLICATION

Cartoons and Other Contributions from Entire Student Body Wanted by Editors

The first Brown Bull, the K. S. A. C. magazine of college humor, will be published this year at the time of the homecoming game, which will be played with Oklahoma on November 19. The date was set last night at a joint meeting of the Sigma Delta Chi and Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalistic fraternities which have charge of the publication of the magazine.

R. L. Palmer Is Editor

R. L. Palmer was elected editor and Edith Abbott assistant editor. H. G. Bryson will be business manager and Lula May Zellar, assistant business manager. Donald Hallou will be art editor. An excellent opportunity is offered anyone who does cartoon work because in each issue an increasing amount of cartoons is used and there are relatively few cartoonists in the college.

This is the third year for the Brown Bull. To quote from a statement made by Mr. Palmer, the editor, "Each year the magazine has received more support and more contributions from the entire student body. This speaks well of the interest shown by students for the magazine. The two fraternities earnestly hope that in the coming issue the students will fully realize that the Brown Bull is published for them, and will portray the humorous side of their college life in K. S. A. C."

Want Contributions From Students

The editor of the Brown Bull is asking that students take an active part in writing the magazine by submitting to him, through the college post office, humorous material, cartoons, and jokes or by offering suggestions for the coming issue or criticisms of past issues.

HAVE OUTDOOR CONCERT TODAY

BAND WILL PLAY WEST OF AUDITORIUM AT 5 O'CLOCK

This Year's Band Has 56 Pieces—Will Use 80 Pieces at Football Games

The largest band that K. S. A. C. has ever had will give a campus concert Tuesday evening at 5 o'clock.

H. P. Wheeler, Aggie band director, announces that there are 56 pieces in the first band. The talent is far superior to any he has ever worked with. He prophesies that he will have one of the best college bands in America within a few months.

For football games, pep meetings, and like gatherings, Mr. Wheeler will also use his second band of 24 pieces, making a total of 80, over twice as many as were in the band last year.

The Tuesday concert will be held in the space west of the auditorium, and Mr. Wheeler invites every student to come out and hear this remarkable Aggie band.

School of Agriculture Meeting

A meeting of all school of agriculture students will be held in C26, at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Election of officers, plans for a school of agriculture mixer, and for football will be discussed.

Hockey Practice Schedule

Freshman girls hockey practice will be held Monday and Tuesday afternoons at 5 o'clock. Sophomore practice will be held Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, junior practice Thursday afternoon, and senior practice Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

"THE ROAD TO PERDITION"

We do it, call it backsliding, the professors call it second hand bluffing, and the final recorder puts it down in symbols of P and F.

Perhaps it's because we are just back from a lovely vacation and feel so rested that we think our studies won't be so complicated this semester as last, or perhaps we have had time to reflect on those P's we received last term—or, as the professors say, maybe we are trying to create a good first impression—anyhow we are back in school with all the good intentions in the world. We intend to astonish our friends and incidentally ourselves by really making good grades this time. And we do make pretty decent grades for the first month or so, and the profs begin to believe that maybe we will amount to something sometime after all. Then Blooey!—along about Thanksgiving time, dates and parties and football games begin to interfere with our earnest endeavors and things start to slide—and they usually make the down hill grade with brakes off, too. Let's don't backslide this year,—remember the warning of the sages that "Verily the road to perdition is paved with good intentions."

PICK THE RIGHT MAN

Today is the day for the nomination of S. S. G. A. officers for the coming year, a year which will see that organization profiting by the mistakes and the misapprehensions which characterized the time of its babyhood. Practically every student body in the country has an organization of some similar kind although these organizations vary in power from a mere organized expression of opinion to the complete control of student affairs. We are fortunate enough in this college to have a student organization which has an exceptionally wide range of power and authority. It is ours, either to make us or to break us. Through it we may be made a unified student body, not always agreeing, but presenting a united front to the outside world, or we may become a snarling bunch of political factions aiming at anything before the common good.

The president of the S. S. G. A. should be a man who has had opportunity to observe the college as a whole and not as a division or a particular department. He should be a man who, during his college career has mingled with all classes of students. He should be a man who is a leader, because nowhere is the necessity for a leader in college affairs more needed than in the position of president of the S. S. G. A. He should not be a tea hound or a self centered stude, but rather a middle-of-the-road man. And lastly he should be a man who has always put the interests of his college above the interests of the particular group or faction to which he belongs.

CAMPUS ECHOES

Who is responsible for the statement that the noise the cow makes is "moo"?

This college, as one of the champions of the bovine, should attempt to find out just who perpetrated such a gross and unauthorized assumption of authority.

Why were last year's freshmen discriminated against? The buttons on their purple caps weren't nearly as pretty as the one on the headgear of this year's frosh.

The Sorority Pledge

If one could have that little head of hers
Removed, and weighed as weigh the Nipponese their tea,
Each ounce being given the credit it deserves,
Perhaps 'twould count two pounds, may-be, may-be—
And if 'twere emptied of its brains and once more Balanced, no doubt the pounds would be two as before, before——Absinthe.

All That I Know

About a certain individual
Is that she shimmies when she laughs.
That's enough for me. —Joe.

Old graveyards hold a certain charm for me, remarks some newspaper writer. He evidently spends most of his time in erstwhile breweries, or the alleys behind old saloons.

Say, Hannibal, who spilled the mush?

In spite of the fact that the poet said, "What is so rare as a day in June," personally we have always had lurking in the background a suspicion that he used that particular month merely because it would rhyme. Our more wicked self brazenly suggests that it must have been windy March that he really meant.

But then you know we can hardly hold the poets responsible for their actions—being on starvation rations that way all the time.

Being of a highly literary nature ourselves, however, it was with a great deal of pain that we wrote the preceding paragraph, but in this, like all businesses, you've got to give the public what it wants.

In obliging response to the public demand for more of the truly great in verse, we unreservedly submit to our readers the following little gems. They have been condemned one and all by the office force, and it is upon that recommendation that we so gladly submit them for our readers' inevitable approval.

"I wisht I was a daffy dill.
Or else a baby vamp.
I wouldn't have to think so much,"
She said, the little scamp.

I dare not ask her for a kiss,
I dare not ask for but a coke;
Oh Lord! How can I get out of this
I've promised to treat her, but I'm broke.

After a two-hour struggle with our lyre in the moonlight in which the foregoing were produced, we, like all heroes who have reached the highest pinnacle of success but do not realize it, slumped down before our typewriter and emitted the following little ditty which we have so cleverly entitled, "Hopelessness."

Hopelessness

With keys before me, bright and white,
I know not what to do;
Perchance if they were pecked just right,
They might produce a verse or two.

Miss Gretchen Volland returned Monday from Topeka where she spent the week-end.

Miss Ann Eulrich spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in Wamego.

Miss Mary Wooster was a dinner guest at the Chi Omega house Sunday.

Miss Doris Riddell spent Sunday at her home in Salina.

College Y. M. Man
Once Cooked for Carnegie and Goulds

Everybody knows Dr. A. A. Holtz, the popular "Y" secretary, though few know that "Doc" turns a mean rolling pin and sticks a wicked fork. But others, no less than Teddy Roosevelt, Helen Gould, and Andrew Carnegie have had cause to be aware of the fact.

Perhaps the Y. M. secretary's ability would have remained unguessed had it not been for the boys' Y. M. C. A. camp this summer, at which Doctor Holtz consented to act as chef. So great was the "Y" man's success with the viands dear to every hungry boy's heart that some explanation seemed necessary as to where he acquired his proficiency in cooking.

It seems that at the school which Doctor Holtz attended back in 1903, the Mount Hermon Boys' school in Massachusetts, every boy is required to put in at least two hours of actual labor every day, as the school is practically self supporting and runs a farm which is worked by the boys. To Doctor Holtz's lot fell the K. P. duty and it was not long before his colleagues noted that "the Holtz boy" had real culinary skill—the making of a great chef in fact.

Since a life in chefdom played no part in Doctor Holtz's youthful scheme of things the new turn of affairs did not greatly appeal to him, but he soon saw that through his talent for the kitchen he might achieve what he really wanted, a college education with the opportunity to study philosophy and education. It was then that he hit upon the scheme of cooking his way through college.

Summers, during his college years, Doctor Holtz cooked and not at just any hotel either for he was at various times chef at the Hotel Northfield in Massachusetts, the Racquet Lake House on Racquet Lake, and at the Retlaw House at Oquaga, N. Y. It was at the Northfield Hotel that Doctor Holtz cooked several meals which were served to the late Theodore Roosevelt and it was at the Racquet Lake House that he cooked on various occasions for Helen Gould, the Vanderbilts, and one time for Andrew Carnegie.

Miss Margaret Ansdell spent the week end in Wichita visiting relatives and friends.

OUTLINE Y. W. C. A. VESPERS

PLAN MEETINGS FOR SEVERAL WEEKS AHEAD

Dean Van Zile Yesterday's Speaker—Industrial Workers from Denver To Talk Soon

The program for the Y. W. C. A. vesper services for this year has been outlined and the meetings are planned so that they will cover all the different phases of the work in which the Y. W. is interested.

The next meeting, September 29, is to be a part of the committee training conference, and the first cabinet of the Y. W. C. A. is in charge of the program. Immediately following the vesper service supper is to be served for all committee members. Then a group meeting of the four divisions is to be held and plans for the year's work discussed. A general meeting will follow this discussion.

On October 6 the subject is to be "Industrial Conditions," and this meeting is to be conducted by three girls who worked in Denver this summer in order to get the knowledge of industrial life first hand. Miss Eva Travis, junior in home economics at K. S. A. C. will be one of the speakers and she will tell of her experiences in an overall factory. One girl from K. U. and one from Washburn have been asked to come up for this meeting and assist with the program.

Dr. Helen B. Thompson is to be the speaker for the October 27 meeting. The report of the members who were at Estes Park is to be given November 3. The meeting November 10 will be in charge of the publicity committee, and the November 17 meeting will be given by the fellowship committee.

At the first vesper service of the year, held yesterday afternoon, Dean Mary P. Van Zile gave a talk to the girls. Since the opening of college the Y. W. C. A. and its work has been brought before the girls of the school by a number of interesting posters.

OFFER A NEW SUBJECT IN AGRICULTURAL ECONOMICS

Conservation of Agricultural Resources to be Taught

Young men who are preparing themselves for agricultural leadership and for public service in positions involving direct relations to agriculture will be interested in a course to be offered for the first time this year by the department of agricultural economics.

The course, called conservation of agricultural resources, will deal with several of the world's more important natural resources, particularly those directly concerned with agriculture and the agricultural community. Special attention will be given, from the natural resources point of view, to such things as soil resources, plant food, water supplies, forest resources, the public domain, cut-over lands, swamp lands, wild life of economic value, and fertilizer resources.

The course will be open to junior, senior, and graduate students. It will be of value not only to agricultural students, but to those who are studying industrial journalism or to any others who expect to deal actively with matters of widespread public concern. The course will be given during the second semester, and will be taught by F. D. Farrell, dean of agriculture and director of the agricultural experiment station.

DAIRY SALES PROVE AGGIES DRINK MILK AS WELL AS COKE

Daily Amount is 50 Quarts Butter-milk and 150 Quarts Milk

Are all Aggies coke fiends?

You would hardly think so had you presided over the cash sales counter in the basement of the dairy building last year as did Mr. C. G. Logsdon. During the school year more than 150 quarts of sweet milk and more than 50 quarts of butter-milk were drunk daily by the Aggie students.

Not a few of the students drink as much as a gallon a day but most of the habitual consumers only take one or two pints daily. Although most of the "bar files" are men many coeds are also among the most regular customers. Evidently the Aggie cow is an almost indispensable part of many an Aggie's college life.

ROSES WILL GROW AGAIN IN COLLEGE GREENHOUSE

Place Order with Eastern Firm for Three Thousand Plants

Roses are to blossom in the college greenhouse this winter if the plans of the department of horticulture meet with the success expected.

It has been four years since roses were grown by the department, their omission being due for the most part to a lack of the necessary heating facilities. Assistant Instructor Quinn says, "Roses require a greater amount of heat and are more sensitive to variations in the atmosphere than most plants. They are also very susceptible to plant diseases, especially when confined."

Now, however, with the necessary facilities for heating at hand, 300 plants, including 10 varieties, have been ordered from a firm in Philadelphia and a half of one of the greenhouses will soon be crowded with rose bushes.

NEW COOPERATIVE CLUB HAS ALL MEMBERS FROM TOPEKA

Is First All City Men's Club at K. S. A. C.—Live at 1404 Fairchild

Fifteen Topeka men students of the college have organized a Co-op club, and are now occupying the house at 1404 Fairchild, which was occupied last year by the Omega Tau Epsilon fraternity. The club has elected F. L. Haggard as their president; L. Griswold, vice president; H. Retler, secretary-treasurer; and C. C. Button, manager.

The members of the club are T. Griest, J. Junry, H. Frisbie, A. V. Ritts, O. C. Wood, R. L. Stover, R. W. Baird, L. E. Covert.

The club has the distinction of being the only student club in the college in which all members are of one city.

OFFERING NEW H. E. SUBJECT

PRACTICE IN FOOD DEMONSTRATION TAUGHT BY MISS PITTMAN

Course Is Excellent For Prospective Teachers or Extension Workers——Carries One Credit

A new course, practice in food demonstration, is being given this semester in the department of food economics and nutrition. Miss Martha S. Pittman is in charge of the course and the class, which carries a semester credit, is held Tuesday afternoons, fifth to seventh hour.

A number of students have shown real interest in the instruction and practical experience in food demonstration work," said Dr. Jean Bogart, professor of the department. "The course appeals to those interested in the teaching of home economics, extension work, and commercial food demonstrating. In addition to the general instruction, each student will have opportunities to give practice demonstrations in the class, and it is hoped that the students may be able to give demonstrations away from the college. Several class periods will be given over to demonstrations by specially trained workers from the extension service, or large commercial concerns. It is believed that this course will be of great value in training teachers of home economics as well as students interested in extension work."

All students who wish to take the course are urged to see Miss Pittman at once, as only a few more students can be accommodated and the course will not be taught next semester.

ISMAIL BAKE OF ALLEPPO, SYRIA IS NEW AGGIE STUDENT

Mr. Bake Is Special in Agricultural Engineering

Mr. Ismail Bake of Aleppo, Syria, is a student at K. S. A. C. this semester. He enters as a special student in agricultural engineering and will make a particular study of internal combustion engines, field, and power machinery, and irrigation pumping equipment. Mr. Bake holds a certificate showing three years of work at the Constantinople engineering high school. During the war he was an army engineer in the operation of railways of his country.

Before deciding to enter K. S. A. C. Mr. Bake visited a number of the colleges of agriculture in the middle west for the purpose of determining where he could secure college instruction most helpful to him in developing the agricultural lands near Aleppo near where Mr. Bake owns a 3,500 acre ranch. The rainfall in the district where his ranch is located is about 16 inches but the land is underlaid with water bearing material which yields water in sufficient quantity for irrigation by pumping.

Ira N. Vowel, junior in agriculture, left for his home at Anness, 20 miles from Wichita, last Friday. He expects to help with the wheat seeding during his two week's stay.

Floyd Cole has returned to Ellis after spending a week at the S. A. E. House.

Unique Criticisms Throw Sidelight on College's Dark Side

Although the majority of reasons given for not returning to K. S. A. C. last year were financial ones, letters sent out by President W. M. Jardine this summer disclosed a number of unique and rather interesting objections.

The letter was sent to each student who did not return to school and contained questions which he was asked to answer frankly. Many of them did. The question relating to unsatisfactory conditions at school gave the one time Aggies the greatest latitude in the matter of interesting responses.

Perhaps the most distressingly frank statement came from a young man who gave as his reason for not returning the fact that his clothes were taken from his gym locker. He was evidently opposed to carrying the simple life idea too far. Another perfectly good reason for not returning was lack of funds and a wife. Whether he meant lack of a wife or superfluity of wives he did not say. Probably the latter.

What is perhaps the first recorded failure of the moonlit campus to aid a love lorn young Romeo was brought out in one of the answers. The young man did not like the college because it did not have a course in expression. Evidently love did not find a way and he left without expressing himself. One student declared that no attention was paid to shy ones. Perhaps a sign on the back: "I am shy" would help that.

Most of them liked their classes and admitted it altho a few college careers were terminated by C's and F's. Saturday classes failed to receive a vote of confidence.

Chapel was mentioned once and then in a complimentary manner. The student after heartily endorsing assembly added the observation that considering the low standard of morals of the students more chapels were desirable.

Dean F. D. Farrell was called to Logan, Utah, last Thursday to attend the funeral of his father, who was 93 years old at the time of his death.

Will Green, a former Nebraska football star and a member of S. A. E., visited the local chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon this week. He is now chief engineer for the United Telephone company, which operates 55 exchanges in central Kansas.

Duke Reynolds of St. Louis, has returned home after spending a week at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house.

Fred Fisher, Charles Cordts, and Keith Estes of Overbrook were week end visitors of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

ENGINEERS HOLD FIRST SEMINAR

WILL CONTINUE PUBLICATION OF MAGAZINE

Seminars for Whole Division Are Held Once a Month—Departmental Seminars Each Week

The first general engineering seminar of the year was held in the college auditorium Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Nearly 700 men were present. Each man was assigned a seat and students were selected to make a careful check of all seats not occupied.

A general get-together meeting of this kind, in which all the students enrolled in the various departments of the engineering division meet in a single body, is held each month. Departmental seminars are held weekly. At these general meetings the freshmen are seated in the pit.

At Thursday's meeting Ira Taylor, graduate of the college, gave a short talk about some steam shovel work he has been engaged in recently.

Gail Lynch was elected vice president of the engineering association. H. C. Jennings, secretary-treasurer, and Silver Fuller was elected assistant editor of the engineering publication formerly known as the K. S. C. Engineer. Upon recommendation of Dean R. A. Seaton, who said the name used last year caused considerable embarrassment, the publication was christened the Kansas State Engineer. In making the recommendation, Dean Seaton said, "We can accomplish results better by adopting methods which do not arouse antagonism."

C. C. McPherson is president of the engineering association this year and Frank Nordeen is editor of the Kansas State Engineer.

Reports were made by the business manager and the circulation manager of the magazine and subscription blanks were distributed. The business manager explained that the magazine is a member of the Association of College Engineering Magazines which has for its membership only publications from the leading engineering schools in this country. By maintaining membership in this organization the K. S. A. C. engineering department not only benefits by receiving exchanges from other leading college engineering publications, but also gains publicity by having its own magazine circulate among the other schools. In order to encourage students to write for the next issue, a slide rule is being offered to the student handing in the best engineering article to the editor before October 1.

The question as to whether or not the engineering freshmen should be required to clean and paint the "K" on Mount Prospect was also discussed, and a temporary vote of the freshmen taken. The freshmen voted unanimously to do the job.

Alpha Betas Elect

OLD TIME AGGIE HIKING GROUND IS ALMOST A CAMPUS TRADITION

The institutions of K. S. A. C. are many in number, varied in scope and purpose, and distinctive in character. The upperclassmen know them all and love them—most of them. And the freshmen will know them soon enough.

There is recreation hall, for instance. It is the center of K. S. A. C. Around it whirls an endless circle of teachers, flunk slips, societies, dues, dates, and first hour classes that come 30 minutes too soon.

Then there is the cafeteria. It brings the choicest, most delicious viands of the world, and the best beans of Missouri to grace our trays, and enable the cashier to add in large numbers. On some mornings, at 7:55, the cafeteria is more than an institution; it is a riot.

And there are the deans' offices. How high is our esteem for them when we are tendered an invitation to drop in and explain those nine unexcused absences.

But there is, however, one place, distinctly academic in character, and permeated through and through with the Aggie spirit, that has not come in for its just share of recognition as a K. S. A. C. institution. Perhaps this is because it is not situated on the campus. To get to it you have to climb the hill west of town, pass through the cemetery, go over, under, or through two fences, and follow the path till you get there. That's right; you've guessed it. It is Wildcat.

If it could only talk how many stories Wildcat would tell of Aggie students who have sat on its banks, swam in it, fished in it, been ducked in it, and under the combined spell of it and the moon, grown sentimental and said things they regretted the next morning.

One party is like another, and Wildcat does not have to change its program in playing host to all of them.

The chaperon and the food arrive by auto. The chaperon is tactfully offered the job of getting the meal ready while everybody else goes off to have a good time.

In an hour or so a weary cry from the chaperon announces that dinner is ready. So is everybody else and things begin to happen immediately to the sardines, sandwiches, coffee, and oranges. The chaperon is tendered several compliments on the meal and is supposed to be satisfied with that.

The sad remains of the meal are dumped in the fire and then everybody gathers together for the real time of the evening. A student who is studying debate "pulls off" three or four jokes that he heard at the Orpheum in Kansas City, and then somebody suggests a song. Edward, who would like to spell culture with a capital and who reads Longfellow from a sense of patriotism, suggests that they try the Quartette from Rigoletto, but Sue, who has bobbed hair, much prefers "Ain't We Got Fun." They finally compromise on "Let the Rest of the World Go By."

Along about 10 o'clock someone who has a first hour in the morning and who has collected more than his rightful share of chiggers, suggests home. He is extremely unpopular at first but persists until he has the bunch coming his way. The knives, forks, coffee pot, cups, and chaperon are piled in the car, and the rest start back the way they came. At least one couple sneak ahead and hide behind a tombstone until the rest get there, and then jump out with a wild whoop.

Everybody has a good time, everybody is tired out, and they are all planning another trip in the near future to the same place—Wildcat, an Aggie institution.

Ella Kahoa, the new Phi Kappa chaperon, Tuesday afternoon from 3 o'clock until 5 at the chapter house 1031 Bluemont.

Omega Tau Epsilon announces the pledging of Mr. Jasper D. Adams of Darlington, Mo., junior in agricultural economics; Mr. Ivon Grimes of Woodston, freshman in electrical engineering; and Mr. E. E. Hodson of Harveyville, senior in animal husbandry.

Announcements have been received of the marriage of Miss Ursula McNelly and Mr. Harry W. Tyrell, September 19 at Topeka. Mr. Tyrell was graduated from the civil engineering course at K. S. A. C. last spring. He is resident engineer of Cherokee county.

Announcing The New MODEL "F" Cletrac $845

TANK-TYPE TRACTOR
COMPLETE
FOR Cleveland

Cletrac F pulls any standard 2-bottom 12-inch plow under ordinary soil conditions at rate of 3 miles per hour

Cletrac Two-Row Cultivator cultivates corn, cotton or other row crops, 10 to 20 acres a day. Price, $135 f.o.b. Cleveland

CLETRAC F is the tractor that farmers everywhere have been waiting for since the beginning of the tractor industry. It handles all farm jobs including cultivating of corn, cotton and other row crops. Plows 6 to 8 acres a day, discs or harrows 20 to 25 and cultivates 10 to 20. Unlike every other tractor, in cultivating with the Cletrac Two-Row Cultivator, Cletrac F travels between the rows—applies power from behind. The operator sits comfortably in the tractor seat looking ahead at his work instead of straight down. Cletrac Cultivator can be attached in two minutes—sells for $135 f.o.b. Cleveland—accommodates any type of shovel, sweep or weeder—works in any corn up to 60 inches high.

The unusually low price of Cletrac F is possible because it embodies unique engineering principles. It is made to last. Parts subject to wear are constructed of Chrome Steel—the toughest material obtainable. Automatically lubricated. The 4-cylinder, kerosene burning motor gives a plowing speed of 3 miles an hour, with variable speeds from 1 to 3 1/2 miles. ## M. S. COLLINS LEAVES AGGIES

METHODIST STUDENT PASTOR TO STUDY AT NORTHWESTERN

Mrs. Collins Will Be Director of Religious Education in Chicago
Y. W. C. A.

Sunday morning the Rev. Myron S. Collins, student pastor of the Methodist church, preached his farewell sermon to Manhattan people.

The Reverend Collins attended school here from 1908 until 1911, and was president of the Y. M. C. A. for one year during that time. It was here, too, that he met Helen Huse, who later became his wife.

After finishing his college work Mr. Collins was in Y. M. C. A. work for two years, after which he entered the ministry. During the war he spent two years in the army as chaplain. He was cited for bravery in the battle of Argonne, and recently received a medal from the Federal Church Council of America for his service.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins came to Manhattan in March, 1920, to take up their work with the students. Since he has been here, Mr. Collins has emphasized personal interviews with students along the lines of vocational guidance. During the last year, he talked with nearly 800 students in regard to their life work, and for a while he interviewed on an average of 12 a day. About 50 of these people have decided on some form of Christian service, and most of these belong to the Life Service league. Mrs. Collins organized Kappa Phi, which is a club of Methodist girls, and was sponsor for the club until she left. She also organized a chapter in Oklahoma, and was sponsor for the whole area in the middle west.

Mrs. Collins is now director of religious education in the central branch of the Y. W. C. A. of Chicago. This branch is in the business district of Chicago, and there are about 78,000 girls in the area that the central branch reaches. Mr. Collins expects to take up his studies in Northwestern university and in the Garrett theological school. He will also have a charge in Chicago. The address of the Reverend and Mrs. Collins will be 2149 Sherman avenue, Evanston.

BOYS FREQUENT LIBRARY MOST

MEN ARE BEST READERS SAYS MISS DERBY, LIBRARIAN

Browsing Shelf Is Popular Feature of Library—Is Conducted by Miss Clay

Boys read more than girls. At least they did last year at K. S. A. C. Such is the observation of Miss Grace Derby of the library, who is in a position to know. Some rather curious facts develop in and about the library. Things seem to have a way of developing along certain lines and running true to form.

Take for instance the reading done in the periodical room which include magazines, and dailies, including the home town papers. The boys far outnumber the girls in current event consumption. There are seldom any girls at all in the room in the morning. One wonders why this is. Perhaps the eyes of the fair ones are not open so early in the morning as are those of the boys. Or perhaps they are unable to stir up any interest in the world until after luncheon. Whatever the reason, Miss Derby vouches for the truth of the phenomenon.

Now as to what is read. The works of Kipling and O. Henry are most in demand by fiction readers. Of course there is no accounting for what is read in the reserve room. Remember students are not responsible for any book they are found associating with there. The reserve shelves are filled with "Professors' Favorites" and the books are aids to grades as well as to information.

Poetry and essays judging from the names on the permit cards, seem to be about equally patronized. Even the new poetry volumes have not been neglected, as is evidenced by the signatures of borrowers.

An interesting feature of the reference room is the browsing shelf. This shelf conducted by Miss Miriam Clay, contains about 30 volumes of representative books. It is a convenient display of worth while reading for the reader who does not know just what he wants to read but has the "reading feeling." The books are chosen by Miss Clay for their representative worth in the particular field they happen to typify. An interesting feature of the browsing shelf is the fact that the books are read quite as much by professors as by students although the latter are not expected to have a very definite aim in their choice of reading matter. The shelf is completely checked out about once a week.

The browsing shelf is doing much to cultivate a taste for better reading as it is a convenient and effective representative of practically every phase of literature. The uncertain reader can choose from the shelf and be sure that he has chosen something worth while, for only the proven ever get to the browsing shelf. The work need not be high brow to attain the shelf but it must, to use a phrase that would make some of the staid old volumes in the library turn over in their covers, "know its stuff." And they do, from Tolstol's essays, through the biographies and history, to the humble Garden Bulletin.

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, MANHATTAN, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1921

MIKE EXPECTS TIGHT BATTLE WITH EMPORIA

PRESBYTERIANS STAND HIGH IN KANSAS CONFERENCE

C. OF E. PLAYERS ARE HEAVIEST

Aggies Are in Good Condition for Contest—Average Weight is About 150 Pounds—Game Called Three O'clock

"We are expecting a tight battle with the Emporia team," is the sum of the dope Mike Ahern, Aggie athletic director, puts out concerning the outcome of the initial football battle on Ahern field tomorrow afternoon.

During the last three years the Presbyterians have had a football team that has cut a wide swath in Kansas conference circles. In that period they have lost one game. Whether they are still as formidable a scoring machine as in the past remains to be seen tomorrow. The Emporia aggregation does not intend merely to serve as "cannon fodder" in preparing the Aggie "Big Gun" for Missouri valley battles. The eleven has been training intensively for the fray with Bachman's Wildcats and when the Emporia gridiron machine takes the field tomorrow it will be to fight the Aggie team with every weapon of offense and defense in their repertoire. To win from the Kansas Aggies would be a feather in their leatheren headgear that would attach more than ordinary prestige to Coach Henry's Kansas conference contenders.

Emporia Line Averages 200

The Emporians boast a speedy set of backs in Captain Grant and Smith, who reel off the 100 yards in around 10 seconds flat, and men at full and quarter who have sprinting records. Because of the ability of the Emporia quarter to heave the ball, three fast men in the backfield, and two speedy ends so go down under the aerial shoots, the invaders will perhaps depend heavily on the overhead game. The Emporia coaches have had an abundance of line material this fall and are said to have a line that averages close to the 200 pound mark from tackle to tackle. If Coach Henry uses all of his heavyweights in tomorrow's battle, the Emporia line will average more than 20 pounds heavier than the Aggie forward wall.

Have Three All-Kansas Men

"Rosy" Harr, end, Grant, half-back, and Ring, guard, were members of the all-Kansas conference eleven last year. Harr was the unanimous choice of every man who selected a team. He is touted as a great kicker and tackler, a remarkable pass receiver, and a hard-to-stop ball lugger, an all round defensive and offensive player.

The Probable Line Up

Coach Bachman has not been pointing for this contest, but the Aggie squad is in good condition with no cripples on the hospital list, and the men are eager to take a fall out of the Presbyterians. It is likely that Swartz will pilot the Aggies, with Cowell and Stark starting at half and the hard hitting Sears at full. Goerke is back in the Aggie fold but is not yet in condition. In the line Sebring will probably oppose the redoubtable Harr with Smith or Hollister holding down the other wing. Stauffer and Schmitz will start at tackle with Hahn and Schindler probably flanking Cleland at center.

Forwards Average 178 Pounds

The Aggie forward wall will average around 178 pounds from end to end, with Sebring, 159 pounds, the lightest man in the line. Among the backs, with Swartz tipping the scales at 138, the average will be cut to about 150 pounds with possible changes in the backfield personnel not greatly changing the average. The Emporia backs are said to average around 148 pounds.

Bachman has been using Coach Curtiss' yearlings to stop the Aggie plays this week, and the first year men have been forcing the varsity to fight every foot of the way to none-too-frequent touchdowns. After scrimmage Wednesday night the rest of the week will be devoted to light workouts and signals.

No Seats Are Reserved

The game tomorrow will be called at 3 o'clock sharp. There will be no reserved seats, and the strategic positions in the grandstand and bleachers will be held by those who first occupy them. C. E. McBride of the the Kansas City Star will officiate as referee, Pixley, M. U., former coach of Oklahoma A. and M. college, as umpire; and Jess Harper, Chicago university, head linesman. The frosh have moved the bleacher sections from their post season quarters north of the freshman field into position on Ahern field, and the field has been mowed and otherwise put in condition for tomorrow's battle.

MCPHERSON TO HEAD S. S. G. A.

TIM FOLEY IS VICE PRESIDENT OF ASSOCIATION

Election Is by Acclamation—McPherson Urges Student and Organization Cooperation

Without opposition C. C. McPherson of Iola, and Tim Foley of Chapman, were elected president and vice president of the Students' Self Governing association, Tuesday morning in the auditorium. The voting was done by acclamation.

McPherson has been active in many forms of student activities. He gained prominence two years ago when he headed the delegation of Aggie coal miners which worked in the fields at Pittsburg during the strike. Last year he was in charge of the "Go to College" campaign which was put on among high schools over the state by the Y. M. C. A.

McPherson is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, the Athenian literary society, the Forum, Scabbard and Blade, and the Electrical Engineering association. He is president of the All-Engineers association, head officer in the R. O. T. C., a member of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet, and of the Royal Purple staff.

Tim Foley is one of the leading men in the veterinary division. Before coming here two years ago, he had taken three semesters work in medicine at Kansas university. He enlisted in the army and won his commission as lieutenant, and was wounded in action at the front. He is a member of the Phi Kappa fraternity and the Veterinary Medical association.

The newly elected president of the S. S. G. A. says: "The greatest need for the success of student government is cooperation. If every organization and individual will take an active interest in the association, success is assured."

W. A. A. GIRLS PLAN BIG FROLIC

MEMBERS COMING IN WICKED ARRAY OF COSTUMES

Will Have Minstrel Show—Men Are Not Invited to Girl Fest

The W. A. A. costume party is to be given in recreation hall, Friday evening, October 7, at 7:30. This party is an annual event of W. A. A. to which all college girls are invited. Prizes are offered for the best costumes. The girls are expected to bring out "ye costumes of olden days," or the most futuristic creation human mind can devise. Even gym suits will not be out of place. Clever, tacky, beautiful, artistic, and original costumes will all be there. Prizes will be announced later.

A program, games, eats, and dancing will be features of the evening. There will be a minstrel show containing shining little "blackfaces," who read, sing, and dance to speed the merry moments on their way.

All girls who are coming must sign up before Wednesday noon on the bulletin board in the girls' gymnasium.

Royal Purple Picture Schedule

Charles Howard, editor of the 1922 Royal Purple announce dates for the class pictures. Senior pictures will be taken from October 3 to 15; juniors from October 17 to 29; sophomores from October 31 to November 12; and freshmen from November 14 to December 3.

The Royal Purple class assessment must be paid by each individual at the window across from the post office, and the receipt issued should be preserved and presented at the Studio Royal when the picture is taken.

All seniors should pay their dues at once and make an appointment with the photographer at the Studio Royal to have their pictures taken.

Gallant Frosh Rids the Campus of Two Rattlered Reptiles

A rattle snake on the campus. Can you believe it?

Nevertheless the tale is true. The reptile was killed by a daring freshman, evidently from the "Short Grass country," who knew that rattle snakes are not a part of the general inhabitants on the Wildcat campus, and who brought a sudden end to the snake's life, much after the fashion of "Tarzan the Terrible."

This little rattler was not very well trained in the art of taking care of himself, for he wore only two rattles and could not make enough noise to clear the track of the fearless frosh.

Perhaps Mr. Rattler was a pet of the zoology department or was hunting bugs for the entomology laboratories, but at any rate his life was not desirable to Aggie good will or so at least considered the gallant freshman.

American Legion Announcement

All members of the American Legion contemplating going to the Kansas City convention, October 31 to November 4, are asked to meet at the community house Monday evening, October 3. A railroad fare of one cent a mile will be offered and accommodations will be obtained at a reasonable rate. A large delegation from Manhattan is expected to go.

Quill Elects Officers

At a meeting of the Quill club Monday evening the following officers were elected: Osceola Burr, chancellor; Prof. H. W. Davis, vice-chancellor; Orville Bourassa, keeper of parchments; H. G. Bryson, treasurer; Walter Law, scribe. C. J. Massee of the sales department of the Capper publications gave an informal talk to the members of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Combs were dinner guests of the Delta Delta Delta sorority, Sunday, September 25.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Coons were dinner guests of the Pi Beta Phi sorority, Sunday, September 25.

ALUMNI WILL TAKE CAMPUS NOVEMBER 19

HOME COMING THIS YEAR TO BE GALA DAY

PUBLICITY TO PUT DAY OVER BIG

"Personal Work" Through Mails Expected to Aid Revival of Aggie Loyalty—McClung Heads Publicity Work

Aggieville is scheduled to undergo a metamorphosis and become Alumnitown on November 19, the date fixed this year for homecoming, if the plans detailed at a meeting of the Manhattan alumni last Monday evening are carried out faithfully.

The lure of the gridiron game with the University of Oklahoma on homecoming day is expected to bring many of the old grads back, but if that attraction has lost its potency with the passing of the years since the old sheepskin was framed and hung on the parlor wall other events calculated to draw loyal Aggies will be awaiting the home comer.

Probably the most important of the happenings of the day—including even the Aggie-Sooner grid contest—is the dedication of the central and west wings of the engineering building which has been tentatively fixed for homecoming day. The two wings were completed but last spring, and this fall the division is occupying its new quarters for the first time during a collegiate year. Dean R. A. Seaton's plans for the dedication ceremonies have not yet been completed, and can be changed to suit the convenience of the alumni, particularly the engineers, who are expected in large numbers for the event.

L. A. Fitz, professor of milling engineering, was made chairman of the program committee at the Monday night gathering. His aides will be announced later. The committee will have charge of the preparations for a special program to be presented at the assembly on Saturday morning before the game, an alumni "mixer" at Nichols gymnasium, either Friday or Saturday evening, and perhaps some special stunts for the delectation of the student body assembled at the game.

Extensive publicity among the alumni will help put over the homecoming this year in the greatest fashion ever attempted. Each Manhattan alumnus present Monday night pledged himself to write at least 10 letters to alumni friends. A letter or a series of letters from the general association will be sent out to its members by Cliff Stratton, secretary, but "personal work" of the type that has made revival campaigns in this great commonwealth successful is counted upon to convert holders of diplomas and of flunk-out records alike to the homecoming attendance idea. John McClung, '16, is chairman of the publicity committee.

Cliff Stratton and Mike Ahern will see that the needs of the alumni are well taken care of in the matter of reservations for the battle with the Sooners. A choice block of seats commanding the best view of the field will be reserved for the Aggie patriarchs.

Students who have alumni or former student friends can aid Cliff and his association greatly in making the 1921 homecoming a memorable one in Aggie annals by writing them, not once, but twice or three times, urging attendance at the November 19 festivities.

ENGINEERS LEAD ALL IN NUMBERS

HAVE ENROLMENT OF 779 THIS YEAR—AGS 484

General Science Division Has Most Graduate Students—Men Outnumber Women Two to One

A complete classification of K. S. A. C.'s 2,654 students has just been completed by the office of the registrar. The analysis shows that although the college is generally considered to be fundamentally an agricultural school the enrolment this year in the agricultural division is but 55.5 per cent of that in the engineering division.

There are 434 ags and 779 engineers. However, 69 of those included in the engineering enrolment are short course and trade students. Each of these divisions has one woman student. The engineering freshman enrolment is 306 as compared with a sophomore class of 188, while the ag frosh number 108 as compared with an ag sophomore enrolment of 122. When it comes to the senior classes, however, the ags have the edge on the slide rule experts by a margin of three men. There are 75 senior ags and 72 senior engineers.

The general science division, with 23 men and 11 women enrolled for advanced work, has a majority of the graduate students on the hill. Another peculiar thing about the advanced students is that there is a large excess of men over women who are taking the advanced courses.

From the standpoint of the proportion of men and women students the classification is also interesting. Of the total enrolment 1,781 are men and 864 are women, making— for those who are matrimonially inclined—a ratio of approximately two to one. Of the 276 who expect to receive the official sheep skins next spring, 183 are men and 93 are women. In other words, get your date for the junior-senior now.

The enrolment in the school of agriculture also offers an interesting bit of information. There are 229 students enrolled this semester, but 32 of whom are women.

OIL IS COLLEGE FUEL THIS YEAR

COLLEGE INSTALLS 20 OIL BURN-ERS AND 16 NEW BOILERS

Authorities Believe Oil Will Increase Efficiency and Capacity and Reduce Cost

"The burners which we are putting in are the last word in oil burning," says Prof. G. R. Pauling, who has charge of installing the new college heating system. Coal is to be replaced by oil, at the college plant, as this will not only increase the plant's efficiency at least 25 per cent and the capacity about six per cent, but it will be much cheaper, taking into consideration present prices of coal at the mines, and freight rates.

Sixteen new boilers and 20 oil burners are being installed. The first oil burner was tested out Tuesday. The materials for an oil tank with a capacity of 120,000 gallons has arrived and construction of the tank will commence at once.

It is expected, by Mr. Pauling that there will be no complaint of cold class rooms this year as the new plant will be entirely adequate to furnish heat, and also light for all college buildings.

ELECTION OF CLASSES NOW ARE IN ORDER

SENIOR AND JUNIORS NOMINATE OFFICERS TUESDAY EVENING

FROSH MEETING IS WEDNESDAY

Seniors Vote To Pay Fifteen Dollar
Royal Purple Assessment—Juniors Will Pay Five Dollars

That "old time pep" in the various classes is evidenced by the enthusiasm shown in the various class meetings held this week.

The senior and junior class meetings were held Tuesday evening. The seniors had a large turnout and the following nominations for officers were made: Paul Phillips and J. J. Seright, president; Claramary Smith and Ruth Cunningham, vice president; Rowena Thornburgh and Eva Leland, secretary; H. I. Richards and Hess Wingfield, treasurer; V. I. Whan, marshal; Marian Brookover, H. G. Bryson and Gladys Hartley, historian; Clara Evans, C. C. Garringer, and Morse Salisbury, S. S. G. A. representative.

The senior class voted $500 both to C. W. Howard, editor of the Royal Purple, and E. H. Coles, business manager, in payment for their services during the year. The Royal Purple assessment for seniors was levied at $15. Pictures for the annual are to be taken and assessments to be paid within the next two weeks. The senior election is to be held next Tuesday.

The nominations for junior officers were as follows: Alice DeWitt, president; Don Wilson, vice president; Lillian Rommell, secretary; Willis Farmer, treasurer; Dora Dakin, historian; Opal Seiber and R. C. Spratt, S. S. G. A. representatives; T. Foley, sergeant at arms; Cecil Paine and R. L. Fleming, athletic directors. The juniors voted to pay a $5 Royal Purple assessment.

Freshman Meeting Exciting

Freshmen educated in the workings of parliamentary laws came into prominence at the class meeting at the college auditorium Wednesday evening. Hot discussions and close voting which almost ended in a few fistful bouts were much in evidence.

Prof. O. H. Burns, who was recently appointed by President W. M. Jardine as advisor to the class of '25, gave a talk at the opening of the meeting, advising that the freshman boys wear the cap and suggesting that the girls adopt some sort of an insignia. The meeting was then turned over to the class.

Elect Nash Temporary Chairman

Dean Nash was elected temporary chairman, and George Moses, temporary secretary. After a great deal of discussion it was decided that the class divide into divisions and each select a man for a committee to draw up a constitution. The constitution will be submitted by this committee at the next class meeting which may be held next week.

MILDRED RIEGEL, CHEMISTRY STUDENT, BURNED BY ACID

Too Violent Action of Nitric Acid on Magnesium Causes Accident

While working on an experiment in chemistry Tuesday afternoon, Miss Mildred Riegel, a freshman in the home economics division was badly burned. She had put some nitric acid on magnesium and the action was too strong. The combination blew up burning Miss Riegel badly about the face, hands, and chest. Dr. C. M. Seiver, college physician, who dressed the burns thinks that Miss Riegel, while burned rather severely, will have no scars from the accident. Miss Riegel's home is in Great Bend, and her Manhattan address is 610 Vattier.

J. J. Moxley, senior in animal husbandry, has just enrolled. Mr. Moxley has been attending the fairs, looking after cattle belonging to different breeders.

AGGIES SIXTH AT DAIRY CONGRESS

COPELAND, STARKEY, AND MOORE TEAM MEMBERS

Compete at National Dairy Show at St. Paul, Minn., October 8-15

At the Dairy Cattle congress held at Waterloo, Ia., last week the Aggies placed sixth in the grand total. This, while not quite as brilliant a showing as the judging team had hoped to make, is considered a creditable performance. The team members do not feel discouraged, as last year at the same place the Aggie team did not do so well as did this year's team although at the National Dairy show at Chicago the following week the Aggies placed among the highest.

The members of the Kansas judging team are: Lynn Copeland, Atchison; George Starkey, Syracuse; and J. M. Moore, Stockton. The team placed third on Ayreshires, third on Guernseys, sixth on Jerseys, and seventh on Holsteins. In the individual scoring George Starkey was high man for the Aggies with sixth place. Lynn Copeland placed ninth.

The team members are now on their way to St. Paul, Minn., where the National Dairy show is to be held October 8-15. They intend to judge the dairy cows around St. Paul the week before the show in order to gain added experience before the contest begins.

CAMPUS ECHOES

By Homer and Harold

Once upon a time there was a student who went through Anderson hall because he had some business there.

Should there still be any lingering doubt in anyone's mind regarding just who it was who put the man in Manhattan, he should spend his vacation in that village some summer when the students are away.

Students are of two kinds, those who disobey the traffic rules in Anderson hall, and those who have corns.

Neither can you be sure a man is a highbrow just because he wears a white shirt. Maybe his other one is in the wash.

Speaking of shirts and things tempts us to disclose one of man's most secret of secrets. During these several eons through which the world has so recently passed, woman—with her rolled hose, her vote, her husband, and her nasty cigarette—with all these she has come to believe herself pretty well informed about men and their deceitful ways. However, during all these ages, in whatever clime, and under all circumstances, man has invariably withheld this fact. His shirt—really, folks, we don't have the heart.

Thanks, awfully, girls, for your kind attention.

All of which brings us abruptly to the subject of coeds. They are all looking anxiously ahead to the first game of the season tomorrow with the College of Emporia. Not that they give a darn about football, but it is a keen chance to display those new fall togs.

Andre Brule, champion kisser of the world, won his title after a close race with 80 other contestants at a meet witnessed by the Queen of Spain and members of the Spanish and British royal families. The title may be technically something of a misnomer, however, as American college students were not allowed to enter the osculatory contest.

Oh the artist who sketches for hostelry ads,

His life isn't all that they say;

For besides drawing pictures—

Undergoes lots of changes and such,

Besides being nature detailed and complex—

But I don't think he minds it so much.

HOLCOMBE IS BIG ASSET TO AGGIES

PROBABLY WILL COACH ALL PURPLE MASQUE PLAYS

New Member of Public Speaking Department Is Officer National Dramatic Fraternity

Dramatic work at K. S. A. C. has been given a big boost this year with the coming of Prof. Ray E. Holcombe who takes Mrs. Grace Bowman's place in the public speaking department.

Professor Holcombe comes here highly recommended as a coach of dramatics. He is a graduate of the Wisconsin University school of drama, one of the biggest and most widely known schools of its kind in the country. While a student there, Mr. Holcombe took a leading part in dramatic work and produced several plays of his own. He also achieved quite a reputation as an amateur actor.

Professor Holcombe is an officer of Pi Epsilon Delta, national dramatic fraternity. He is known throughout the country as an authority on dramatics. For the past year, Professor Holcombe has been professor of public speaking and coach of dramatics at the University of Iowa. He will probably be in charge of all Purple Masque plays and other Aggie productions.

Elect School of Agriculture Officers

The following officers were elected at the meeting of the school of agriculture last Tuesday: Corwin Spencer, president; W. C. Boller, vice president; Fay Wickham, secretary; H. A. Kihman, treasurer; R. J. Wisner, marshal; M. C. Wallace, S. S. G. A. representative; N. P. Olson, athletic manager; C. Rowe, Collegian reporter.

Westinghouse Teachers' Conference

J. L. Brennenman of the electrical engineering department, who was with the Westinghouse Electric company this summer, attended the annual teachers' conference which is held by the Westinghouse people every summer. The purpose of this conference is to acquaint teachers with the Westinghouse apparatus.

The daily program consisted of lectures and inspection trips, on which important manufacturing plants were visited for the purpose of getting a general idea of the apparatus used.

Behind Their Backs

He is the college politician. The last few days have been gloriously happy ones for him—the classes have been holding nominations and elections for their new officers.

He spent the summer on a soap box in front of Al Ruger's feed store across from the court house listening to the martyrs to public interest toss the buncombe. If it hadn't been for dirty work on the part of their enemies, and their own self denial and magnanimity, they would be running the government. Thus they have a twofold right to swear at everything the administration does.

By close attention the politician managed to pick up during the time two phrases, one of mush and one of mud, which he will splash or sling according to the occasion. He believes they are perfectly original with him, and have never been used before. They are, "sterling worth," and "hopeless incompetency." He is a man of quick judgement, and quick action. He draws no halfway lines. A candidate is either of sterling worth or hopelessly incompetent. In his own words:

"They can't put any hopelessly incompetent men by me. They've all got to be of sterling worth to get my approval."

He has been running about all week shouting blatantly or whispering mysteriously (depending upon the impression he wished to make) for a bunch of candidates nobody wants. If the majority did begin to favor them, of course he could no longer give his support, for the public usually exercises bad judgement. Accordingly he opposes everything his fellow students want, just on general principles. It is stated by good authorities, he himself being the chief one, that he could have any position he wants. He is a servant of his fellow students, however, and as he can better serve them without the confines and restrictions of an office he steadfastly refuses all favors.

Does he vote at the elections? Does he? Well not much! Everybody's rotten, everybody's crooked. He's not going to be contaminated. Wait until the officers are elected, however. He may then condescend to point out the mistakes and outrages in the way they are running things.

I Want Every Student to Read This—

The Artists' Series exists for the students of the college and the citizens of Manhattan. It is an educational—not a commercial—institution. If any money is cleared it must be reinvested in artists.

A price reduction on season tickets has been made in spite of an increase of $500 in artists' fees. The price has been lowered in order that every student in college can, by denying himself a VERY FEW SMALL PLEASURES, hear four of the greatest musical artists in America and be no worse off financially. Figure it up yourself.

I want to see the auditorium filled at each concert of the series. A course supported by 100 per cent of the students is the ideal we want to reach. The present series is, I am sure, going to please you above your highest expectations. Miss Van Gordon and Louis Gravuere are each worth the price of the whole series.

Let's put up the S. R. O. sign next Thursday night.

Y. W. COMMITTEE MEMBERS MEET

HOLD ANNUAL CONFERENCE
THURSDAY

Plans for Association's Work During Year Outlined During Technical Hour

The annual committee conference of the Y. W. C. A. was held Thursday evening, following the regular vespers service which was held at 4 o'clock. At this committee conference all members of the different Y. W. C. A. committees met together with the members of the advisory board, to make plans for the year's work.

After the vespers, supper was served to the committee and to the advisory board members and a short program was given consisting of devotions by Mrs. H. H. King, a member of the advisory board, a talk on the subject "The Purpose of Our Committee Conference" by Ruth Peck, president of the Y. W. C. A. and a song "Lead On O King Eternal."

After the supper a technical hour during which each group met together was held. The chairmen of the committees which come under the head of religious education are: Louisa Meyers, chairman of the vespers committee; Lucille Gramse, chairman of the music committee; Lavina Waugh, chairman of the world fellowship committee; and Marie Correll, chairman of the publicity committee. Under the general head of finance, Luella Sherman is chairman of the finance committee; Lillian Ayers is chairman of the second cabinet committee; and Louise Manglesdorf is chairman of the conference committee.

Under the head of social committees, Ila Knight is chairman of the social committee proper, while Rowena Thornberg is chairman of the social service committee, Opal Seiber of the younger girls committee, and Marian Brookover of the Big Sister committee. Under the general head of membership Miss Clara Evans is chairman of the freshman commission and Miss Alice DeWitt of membership.

Following the technical hour, a short program closing the evening was given. This program consisted of a song, a report of the industrial experiment by Miss Eva Travis, intercession by Miss Jessie Machir, a talk on "Our Committee Responsibility" by Miss Ora Lee Risk, and a closing prayer by Miss Irene Dean, secretary of the Y. W. C. A.

PRINT STUDENT HANDBOOKS SOON

DIRECTORIES TO BE OUT IN ABOUT THREE WEEKS

Will Include Home Addresses as Well as Street and Phone Numbers

The student directories will be out in about three weeks. It is the aim of the registrar's office to get the handbooks to the students by the end of the first month, but because of late registration, and neglect in making corrections on the bulletin board the directory has been somewhat delayed. Miss Jessie Machir, registrar, urges that every student and faculty member make the corrections as soon as possible.

In order to get the maximum amount of utility from the directories the pocket editions are to be used again this year but they will be increased one fourth inch in width due to the addition of the students' home addresses. The names, addresses and telephone numbers of the students are included in the directories.

TICKET SELLING METHOD WORKING

BY NEW SYSTEM SEATS ARE SOLD BY TELEPHONE

Demand for Artist Series Tickets Unprecedented for So Early in Season

The new method of seat sale adopted by the Artist Series management is proving to be a great success. The system of receiving and delivering orders by telephone has seemingly made a big hit with both the students and residents of Manhattan. The townspeople especially are taking advantage of this new convenience and according to Glenn Case, business manager, they are keeping him on the run all of the time.

Mr. Case says, "In spite of the fact that the first number is almost a week off, there has been an unprecedented demand for season tickets. Many of the choice seats are gone and the remainder are selling rapidly."

The students are doing their part also. The reduction in the price of tickets and the desire to see and hear great musicians is causing many of them to trade off a few movies and morning cokes for an Artist Series ticket.

Allan Hartman Injured in Accident
Allan Hartman, a sophomore in industrial journalism department was severely injured in a motor car accident Sunday, September 25, near Frankfort, when a car in which he and five others were riding skidded into a ditch and turned over. One member of the party was killed and the other five were injured. Hartman received a slight concussion of the brain and his back was badly wrenched. However, he is recovering rapidly and is expected to return to school in another week.

Elect Aggie Press Club Officers
At the regular journalism seminar Monday afternoon the Aggie Press club, an organization of all journalism students, elected these officers for the ensuing year, Victor Blackledge, president; R. L. Palmer, vice-president; M. D. Laine, secretary-treasurer.

PLAN MEETINGS FOR SEVERAL WEEKS AHEAD

The program for the Y. W. C. A. vesper services for this year has been outlined and the meetings are planned so that they will cover all the different phases of the work in which the Y. W. is interested.

The next meeting, September 29, is to be a part of the committee training conference, and the first cabinet of the Y. W. C. A. is in charge of the program. Immediately following the vesper service supper is to be served for all committee members. Then a group meeting of the four divisions is to be held and plans for the year's work discussed. A general meeting will follow this discussion.

On October 6 the subject is to be "Industrial Conditions," and this meeting is to be conducted by three girls who worked in Denver this summer in order to get the knowledge of industrial life first hand. Miss Eva Travis, junior in home economics at K. S. A. C. will be one of the speakers and she will tell of her experiences in an overall factory. One girl from K. U. and one from Washburn have been asked to come up for this meeting and assist with the program.

Dr. Helen B. Thompson is to be the speaker for the October 27 meeting. The report of the members who were at Estes Park is to be given November 3. The meeting November 10 will be in charge of the publicity committee, and the November 17 meeting will be given by the fellowship committee.

At the first vesper service of the year, held yesterday afternoon, Dean Mary P. Van Zile gave a talk to the girls. Since the opening of college the Y. W. C. A. and its work has been brought before the girls of the school by a number of interesting posters.

Conservation of Agricultural Resources to be Taught

Young men who are preparing themselves for agricultural leadership and for public service in positions involving direct relations to agriculture will be interested in a course to be offered for the first time this year by the department of agricultural economics.

The course, called conservation of agricultural resources, will deal with several of the world's more important natural resources, particularly those directly concerned with agriculture and the agricultural community. Special attention will be given, from the natural resources point of view, to such things as soil resources, plant food, water supplies, forest resources, the public domain, cut-over lands, swamp lands, wild life of economic value, and fertilizer resources.

The course will be open to junior, senior, and graduate students. It will be of value not only to agricultural students, but to those who are studying industrial journalism or to any others who expect to deal actively with matters of widespread public concern. The course will be given during the second semester, and will be taught by F. D. Farrell, dean of agriculture and director of the agricultural experiment station.

DAIRY SALES PROVE AGGIES DRINK MILK AS WELL AS COKE

Daily Amount is 50 Quarts Butter-milk and 150 Quarts Milk

Are all Aggies coke fiends?

You would hardly think so had you presided over the cash sales counter in the basement of the dairy building last year as did Mr. C. G. Logsdon. During the school year more than 150 quarts of sweet milk and more than 50 quarts of butter-milk were drunk daily by the Aggie students.

Not a few of the students drink as much as a gallon a day but most of the habitual consumers only take one or two pints daily. Although most of the "bar files" are men many coeds are also among the most regular customers. Evidently the Aggie cow is an almost indispensable part of many an Aggie's college life.

ROSES WILL GROW AGAIN IN COLLEGE GREENHOUSE

Place Order with Eastern Firm for Three Thousand Plants

Roses are to blossom in the college greenhouse this winter if the plans of the department of horticulture meet with the success expected.

It has been four years since roses were grown by the department, their omission being due for the most part to a lack of the necessary heating facilities. Assistant Instructor Quinn says, "Roses require a greater amount of heat and are more sensitive to variations in the atmosphere than most plants. They are also very susceptible to plant diseases, especially when confined."

Now, however, with the necessary facilities for heating at hand, 300 plants, including 10 varieties, have been ordered from a firm in Philadelphia and a half of one of the greenhouses will soon be crowded with rose bushes.

NEW COOPERATIVE CLUB HAS ALL MEMBERS FROM TOPEKA

Is First All City Men's Club at K. S. A. C.—Live at 1404 Fairchild

Fifteen Topeka men students of the college have organized a Co-op club, and are now occupying the house at 1404 Fairchild, which was occupied last year by the Omega Tau Epsilon fraternity. The club has elected F. L. Haggard as their president; L. Griswold, vice president; H. Retler, secretary-treasurer; and C. C. Button, manager.

The members of the club are T. Griest, J. Junry, H. Frisbie, A. V. Ritts, O. C. Wood, R. L. Stover, R. W. Baird, L. E. Covert.

The club has the distinction of being the only student club in the college in which all members are of one city.

ANNUAL MASONIC MIXER IS HELD

FACULTY, STUDENTS, AND TOWN MEN ARE GUESTS

Completion of New Masonic Temple Will Provide for Larger Affairs in Future

If the statements made by several of the men present at the Masonic social and smoker Monday, September 26, can be taken as a consensus of opinion, those in attendance were favored with as delightful an evening as has ever been known at their annual Masonic mixer. The affair was given by the Lafayette chapter number 16, and was attended by over 200 students, faculty, and downtown Masons.

The social commenced at 8 o'clock and for nearly an hour a real mixer ensued, in which the new men became acquainted with the members of the local lodge. An informal program was prepared for the occasion consisting of short speeches interspersed with music. The speakers of the evening were Prof. J. E. Kammerer, George S. Murphy, Z. R. Hook, secretary of the Masonic temple building association, Dr. W. F. Elade and Dr. H. T. Hill. John El-Hott, pianist, Prof. Ira Pratt, Prof. William Lindquist, and R. L. Clute rendered the musical numbers.

Similar mixers will be held in the new temple on its completion in the near future.

A. I. E. E. PUTS UP SCORE BOARD

GIFT OF ELECTRICALS READY FOR USE NEXT WEEK

Make Phone Connection Between Board and Field—List Downs and Yards to Go

The A. I. E. E. is making an effort to increase the enjoyment of those attending the football games this fall.

This organization, made up of the students in the electrical engineering department, is erecting a new score board which will be ready for use next week. It is a novelty for K. S. A. C., and is more elaborate than any score board used before. The board is to be placed on the hill a short distance from the field, and in plain view of the grandstand. Letters large enough to be visible even to poor eyes will be used. There will be a phone connection between the board and the field and men will be stationed at the board and near the head lineman on the field. The board will be divided into sections, with space for visitors' score, Aggie score, and information as to which team has possession of the ball, number of downs, and number of yards to go.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT GETS THREE NEW INSTRUCTORS

Come Here from Three Different Colleges

Prof. N. W. Rokey, Miss Nellie Aberle, and Miss Clara Bogue are new teachers in the English department this year. Mr. Rokey, before coming to K. S. A. C., was head of the English department at Oklahoma A. and M. He has taught in colleges in Pennsylvania and Ohio, and has worked for a year in schools in Porto Rico.

Miss Nellie Aberle comes here direct from Fairbury, Nebr., where she has had highly successful experience in high school work. Miss Aberle has also taught in the high school at Lewistown, Ida. Miss Clara Bogue who also has been doing public school work, is a graduate of the Kansas State normal, and this summer she received her A. M. degree from Chicago university.

AGGIE SHOOTERS BACK AT SCHOOL

WIN SIXTH PLACE AMONG COLLEGES AT CAMP PERRY

Aggie Team Ranked Highest at Army Seventh Corps Area Meet

The K. S. A. C. rifle team has just returned from Camp Perry where it represented the seventh corps area of collegiate competitors in the national meet there from August 22 to September 22. The team took sixth place among the national inter-collegiate teams, competing with teams and expert marksmen from all parts of the world. Members of the team are: E. E. Hodgson, Burton Colburn, B. A. Howell, Everett Willis, G. E. Stutz, H. S. Radcliffe, and Wallace Clapp.

The men on the K. S. A. C. team represented the college in the seventh corps area meet, and won first place for this college, thereby gaining the right to represent this corps at the national meet. The ranking of the winning teams was: three naval teams winning first, second and third places, Citadel, a naval school winning fourth, Texas A. and M. college, fifth and K. S. A. C. sixth.

All the members of the team entered individual events and every man won some event in these shoots. Most of the boys took a trip to Niagara Falls on Labor day and were allowed to visit Chicago and a number of other cities on the return trip.

Install DeMolay Officers

The Manhattan chapter of DeMolay held its third installation of officers Wednesday, at the Masonic hall.

DeMolay, because of its rapid growth, is attracting attention all over the country. The organization originated in Kansas City less than two and one half years ago with a membership of eight boys, while today the total membership is approaching 100,000. The Manhattan chapter installed last November was Any boy between the ages of 16 and 21 may petition for a degree. It is not necessary that he have any Masonic connection, as DeMolay has no Masonic relation except that it is strongly sponsored by the Masons.

Cooperative Clubs Elect Officers

The federation of cooperative clubs held its first meeting at the Edgerton club Monday evening and elected officers for the current year. The officers are: A. R. Paden, president; Opal Seiber, vice president; Floyd Ratts, secretary-treasurer; Floyd Tucker, marshal; and C. W. Howe, representative to the executive council of S. S. G. A. ## LOVE TO SPEAK TO STATION MEN

CORNELL PROFESSOR WILL SPEND WEEK HERE

Plant Breeding Expert To Address
Members of Aggie Experiment Station Staff

Dr. H. H. Love, professor of plant breeding in Cornell university, will spend the week of October 31 at the college and will deliver a series of lectures on biometrical subjects. Dean Farrell has arranged to secure the services of Doctor Love for the benefit of the members of the staff of the experiment station and any others who may be interested.

Doctor Love's talks will show the importance of the knowledge of statistical methods with special reference to their use in collecting, tabulating, and interpreting experimental data. He will lay special emphasis on the subject of experimental error and improved methods of improving the accuracy and reliability of experimental results.

It is believed that all men of the experimental station staff will profit by attending these lectures. They will be given either at 3 or 4 o'clock in the afternoon of each day of the week of October 31 in Waters hall. Details as to the time and place of the meetings will be announced later. Those desiring information as to this work can secure it from Dr. R. K. Nabours of the zoology department, or Prof. John H. Parker of the agronomy department, committee on arrangements.

CAPTAIN ROBERT WILKIE IS MILLING STUDENT HERE

Commissary Department Expects Student Officers to Effect Saving

Captain Robert Wilkie, of the United States commissary department, has arrived here from Washington, D. C., to take work in milling and allied branches. Captain Wilkie replaces Captain E. L. P. Treuthardt, who was here last year. As the commissary department sends men to many of the colleges in the United States to study lines related to the work of the department, it is a distinct compliment to the college and to Prof. L. A. Fitz, head of the department of milling industry, that this institution has been chosen. The commissary department expects the increased knowledge gained by its officers, to effect considerable saving, in the immense quantity of material bought by the department.

AGGIE FEED INSPECTOR
HOME FROM RIFLE MEET

Received Expert's Medal—Many Records Are Broken at Shoot

Frank M. Alman, feeds inspector, has returned from Camp Perry with the civilian rifle team of which he was captain. The Kansas civilian team, which is chosen from members of rifle clubs, did not win prizes but the members do not consider this fact surprising, since every branch of the army, navy, the cadet corps of various colleges, and various civilian teams competed. About 1,500 men participated in this meet.

Conditions were in every way perfect and many records were broken. Mr. G. F. Farr, of Seattle, Wash., broke the record of 39 consecutive bull's eyes at 1,000 yards. Mr. Farr, who is 62 years old, shot 71 consecutive bull's eyes and was stopped only by darkness. The Kansas civilian team instigated giving to Mr. Farr the gun he used in the shoot and Mr. Alman presented the gun.

All the contestants strived to qualify as marksmen, sharpshooters or expert riflemen. Of 1,500, 901 qualified. Mr. Alman received an expert rifleman's medal, which is the highest rank given.

MAY ORGANIZE AQUATIC TEAM

SWIMMERS PLAN INTERMURAL
MEET NEXT SEMESTER

Efforts Will Be Made To Have Swimming Matches with Conference Teams

Plans are underway to form a swimming team which will represent K. S. A. C. in matches with other schools, and an effort will be made to get other conference swimming teams to compete with the Aggie swimmers. The college pool makes an ideal place for practice as it is 70 feet long, 28 feet wide, and 10 feet deep.

The department is fortunate in having two expert life savers, "Shorty" Foltz, who for years has been playing saver at Galveston, Tex., and Burton Colburn, who formerly taught swimming at Ames and who have volunteered to help the athletic department.

It is planned to hold an intermural swimming meet sometime this semester. The interest in the sport is increasing rapidly and Doctor Slevyer's office is kept busy issuing swimming permits.

RECORD AMOUNT OF REPAIRING IS DONE THIS SUMMER

Work Is Not All Completed—Repair
Department Is Installing Oil Tank

"More work has been done this summer by the building and repair department than has been done at any other time in the history of the department," says G. R. Pauling, who is in charge of the building and repair work. "The summer rush began before college closed last spring and is not yet over."

The work that has been done includes redecorating, painting, remodeling, adding additional fixtures, and refinishing. The exterior of Anderson was painted and the stone work was pointed up. Room 56 has been made into five rooms which will be used in connection with the course in psychology, and rooms on the first and third floors have been redecorated.

Two new laboratories and two new work rooms have been built in the attic of the horticulture building, and in that building a new drinking fountain has been installed.

The varsity men's dressing room and locker room has been enlarged and remodeled. Additional showers have been installed in the women's dressing room, and the women's gym has been redecorated.

Three corridors were cut in order to join the old engineering building to the new addition, and new lighting fixtures were added to the new addition.

Studios in the front of the auditorium have been refinished and redecorated and a box office has been built in Prof. H. P. Wheeler's office.

The total cost of the work cannot be given as the work has not yet been completed but the repair department was allowed $500,000 for the general upkeep of the college for this year. At present the work that is being done by the department is the installing of a tank for the oil which will be used for fuel this winter.

Trainees Make Membership Drive

The Federal Board trainees met Tuesday evening at the Community house for the further perfection of the local organization of the Disabled Veterans of the World War. It is the third anniversary of the drive in the Argonne forest and the boys say they have not forgotten their old time methods of pushing their way to the front. The drive for members started this week and will last until October 12. The membership at present is 150.

The local alumni association held a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce Monday evening to make plans for Homecoming day.

TO MAKE ANDERSON MORE HUMANLY INTERESTING

To relieve the ennui of Aggie students who have nothing for diversion but a week end dance or two, a few classes during the week, and, prospect—ho, hum!—of watching five football games this fall, and a chance to knock the S. S. G. A., a public spirited student has formulated a few suggestions for the governing of oneself in the Anderson hall corridor. The suggestions may be utilized with best effect during the periods between classes and especially during that lull which comes just before 1 o'clock classes begin.

In going down the hall, always walk irregularly and with frequent changes of pace, so that none of those behind you can determine on which side to pass. When going into recreation center from the main corridor, an abrupt right angle, turn frequently to bring good results.

Expert listeners hearing the footsteps of another student coming from the rear with intentions to pass can determine on which side they will attempt to file by. A sudden swerve in the direction just determined by the listener has often been known to result in the hugging of otherwise undeserving coeds by one of the campus Apollos.

When one sees another approaching, by shifting to the left just as the other takes to the right, a pleasant little game of see-saw may be played, sometimes of considerable duration. The more haste the other is in, the better the game it will be.

Bevies of girls should walk abreast, as far as the width of the hall permits. This brings them to the notice of many who might otherwise have paid them no attention.

By keeping the elbows well out from the sides and moving them rapidly it is possible to poke a perfect stranger in the ribs. Dramatic (low, or comedy) situations may be secured by stopping suddenly, whirling about, and starting swiftly off in the opposite direction.

MEN FOR JOBS PROBLEM NOW

APPLICANTS DO NOT APPEAR FOR PART TIME WORK

"Y" Keeps Tab on Irregular Workers—Give Regular Jobs to Faithful

There is one department at K. S. A. C. which is receiving very little credit for a great deal of work. This is the employment agency of the Y. M. C. A. Doctor Holtz and his assistants have been working hard since before school began, placing boys in regular and odd jobs. So far there have been 61 placed in regular part time jobs.

"One way you look at the proposition it seems to be working fine, but look at the other side, my side," says "Doc" Holtz. Doctor Holtz has the names of 152 men who want work of one sort or another. "Of these men there are those who have been tried and have 'turned up missing,'" says Holtz. "These men have placed their names 'for work, but at the time when they could have the work they do not arrive."

"Last Saturday, and also the week before, there were eight men assigned to a certain job, one of which had three dollars a day and your dinner attached to it. Of this number of men there was only one who showed up on each occasion. This same condition has been repeated until it is no longer even amusing. Other examples of the same condition are over plentiful. The agricultural division wanted seven men to help with an experiment, and of the number desired only one man appeared. A woman wanted some rugs beaten recently, but the department could scarcely get anyone to take the job. Perhaps the men had memories of such days, holidays, when they were out of the beloved teacher's protecting eyes, and had had this same occupation, and so they just had to refuse and go fishing."

"Doc" Holtz says, "We have no trouble in getting jobs for the fellows but we have had a time in getting the men for the jobs. We find that there are some who come and sign the cards and then when we find a job for them they will not have it. We give the fellows three chances to make good and we have a report on every job they are given so that when a regular job comes along we can go right to the files and get the man we want, and be sure that he is the man for the place."

SHEEP FIRST AT HUTCHINSON FAIR

LIVESTOCK SHOWN AT HUTCHINSON WIN 28 FIRST PRIZES

College Shows Only Steers and Sheep at State Fair This Year

Livestock displayed at the Hutchinson state fair last week won 28 first prizes, and four championships. Only steers and sheep were shown.

Prof. A. M. Paterson had charge of the sheep which were shown. Dr. C. W. McCampbell, the steers, and Prof. F. W. Bell, was superintendent of the horse department. Doctor McCampbell judged certain classes of the cattle, and Professor Anderson judged the light horses and ponies.

The following prizes were won: senior yearling Shorthorn, first; junior yearling Shorthorn, first; senior Shorthorn calf, second; senior yearling Hereford, first; junior yearling Hereford, first; senior Angus calf, second. The prizes won by the sheep shown consisted of 16 first prizes and four championships. The championships were: Shropshire ram, Dorset ram, Southdown ram, and Southdown ewe.

BEYOND THE HILL

More than 7,000 students are expected to enrol at the University of Wisconsin this year. More than 350 professors and 600 instructors and assistants arrived several weeks early to prepare for the coming of the students. The enrolment at the university was 7,004 last September.

A book exchange is being operated down at the University of Kansas. Students bring old texts there and exchange them for others that they will need. More than $650 worth of books have been sold since the exchange opened. Books that are not taken by students will be sold by the pound. The university authorities have arranged with the University of Texas to exchange text books that either of the schools is using and more universities will be asked to join the exchange.

Ohio State university has a new model of freshman caps this year. The new cap is of the jockey type, having a long scarlet visor and a close fitting crown of alternating triangular areas of scarlet and gray.

Is cheering at a football game wasted breath? According to a new machine at the University of Pennsylvania it is decidedly not. Cheering, say psychologists there, brings out a last, almost superhuman effort on the part of the cheered. The machine consists of a little drum to which a marker is attached to record breath and energy. This is attached to the subject as is also a 1800 gram weight. The weight is tied on the subject's finger and he is instructed to lift the weight up and down until he can lift no longer, when he is loosened. Then if the weight is again attached and the subject urged to "buck up, old boy, and show some pep!" or "just hold out for a little while longer!" The markings on the drum show that the subject has been able to lift the weight many times more in the second trial.

A cash prize is being offered at the University of Indiana for an appropriate name for Indiana's athletic teams. Such names as "Hoosier Bull dogs," "Rail-splitters," "Woodcutters," "Bear Cats," and the like are being suggested.

Technical fraternities and sororities at the Colorado State College have been barred from having any social functions this year. The nature of these societies does not warrant any social functions, the college authorities believe.

A new cafeteria capable of handling 1,000 people at each meal is being equipped at the University of Kansas and will open the last of the month. No profit will be made outside of running expenses.

Figures made public at the registrar's office at the University of Colorado show that the football men as a whole average higher in scholarship than the men who are not out for athletics. The men of the entire school averaged 74.87, while the average of letter men was 77.32 for the year 1920-21.

"Students' Kodak Inn" is the latest thing on the Grinnell campus this year. The "Inn" provides a means by which students may mark their films with their names and drop them in a certain door and 24 hours later can get the proofs.

INITIATE EIGHT LETTER MEN INTO K FRATERNITY

Hold Banquet at Pines—Fraternity Has 18 Members Now

The K fraternity held initiation services Monday evening in the Nichols gymnasium for men who won K's last year. The new initiates are "Rocky" Bryan and Faval Foval, letter men in basket ball; Tom Sebring, letter in football; Sinderon and Captain Evan Griffith, letters in baseball; and Captain "Bull" Mathias, Ivan Riley and Hollis Hope, letters in track.

After the initiation services the K men went to the Pines, where a banquet was served in honor of the new members. At present there 18 K men in school all members of the K fraternity. Marion Stauffer, president of the fraternity was toastmaster at the banquet. Short speeches were made by head coach Charles Bachman, Dr. A. A. Holtz, Dr. W. E. Muldoon, Prof. H. H. Haymaker and Major F. B. Terrill.

The other members of the K fraternity now in school are, "Shifty" Cleland, Marion Stauffer, Ray Hahn, Luke Gullfoyle, "Ding" Burton, Dewey Goerke, Maurice Sears, Schmidt, Wallace Clapp, Brady Cowell, and Fred Williams.

Zeta Kappa Psi Elects Officers

The Alpha chapter of Zeta Kappa Psi, national forensic fraternity for women, has elected the following officers for this semester: Maude E. Lahr, president; Opal Seiber, vice president; Penelope Burtis, treasurer; Marie Correll, secretary; Lucille Whan, historian; Leona Thurlow, marshal.

SOCIETY

Kappa Sigma announces the pledging of Mr. Elmer Fatz of Falsburg and Mr. William McCracken of Alma.

The Shawnee county club is giving a mixer this evening in the girls' gymnasium. The club had several meetings last year which were very successful.

Last Thursday evening the Kappa Sigma fraternity held open house for the new members of the Chi Omega sorority at the chapter house on North Eleventh. Mrs. Jennie Baseler and Mrs. Grey, house mothers, were chaperones for the evening.

Mrs. J. D. Arnold entertained the members of Bethany Circle, the advisory board and 20 guests, Thursday, September 22. The features of the evening were a short program, consisting of several musical numbers, and a series of readings, and informal games. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Iota chapter of Kappa Phi, an organization of Methodist college girls, was at home to all freshman girls Friday evening in recreation hall. The program included: violin solo, Merle Thornberg; vocal solo, Anita Jolley; reading, Olive Hering; talk, Luella Sherman; talk, Mrs. George Parkinson; vocal solo, Agnes Ayers.

The Alpha Beta literary society entertained September 24, with an informal party, in honor of freshman students. The program for the afternoon was: piano solo, Annette Kauzer; reading, Bertha Givins; vocal solo, Eva Platt; reading, Anna Best; "The Gleamer," Marjorie Ault. Ice cream and cake was served at the close of the program.

The Browning literary society held open house for new girls Saturday afternoon. The regular society program was followed by a social hour. There was a large attendance of freshman girls, and upper class girls newly enrolled here. Miss Helen Elcock has been chosen as sponsor for the society, taking the place of Miss Elizabeth Rothermel.

Miss Dorothy Settle and Mr. Tom Hampson were married at Wynnewood, Okla., September 11. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hampson attended college here last year. Mrs. Hampson is a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, and Mr. Hampson is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. They are making their home in Pretty Prairie.

The big and little sisters of Belle Hagan's group met at the home of their advisor, Mrs. H. W. Brubaker, Tuesday morning at six o'clock.

From there they proceeded to the park, where they ate breakfast and played games. A reading was given by Miss Florence Johnson. The invited guests were, Miss Irene Dean, Miss Ruth Peck, and Miss Marian Brookover.

RUN OFF THIRD EDITION OF LIPPINCOTT'S BOOK

"Poultry Production" Is Both Text and Book for Farmers

The third edition of "Poultry Production", by Dr. W. A. Lippincott, who is head of the department of poultry husbandry of K. S. A. C., has just come off the press of Lee and Febinger, Philadelphia, in a revised and enlarged form.

That this book is the most authoritative one published in the United States, is shown by the fact that it is used in more colleges than all its competitors put together. Before the first edition was off the press, in 1916, about 30 colleges had adopted it. During the war it was used in the A. E. F. university in France.

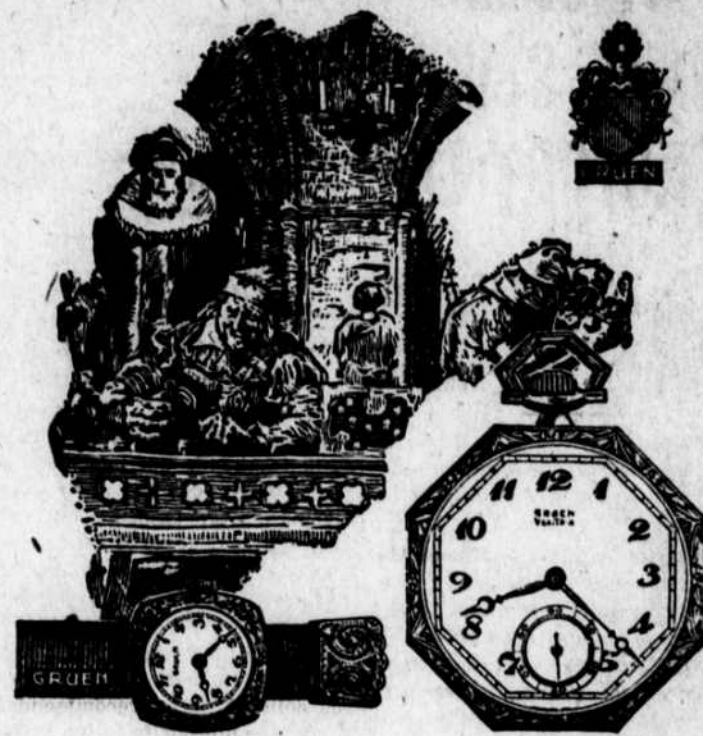

The book is intended for use by those studying poultry in general agriculture. Although it is a systematic report of experimental work, it is not too technical to be understood by, and useful to, the farmer who wishes to engage in poultry raising as a business.

New developments in the field of poultry production called for additions to the book which have caused the third edition to be almost 100 pages longer than the first. The discovery of the importance of vitamins, the new methods of culling, and developments in feeding and lighting for increased egg production, have been dealt with fully.

Use Same Chaperon System

The same rules for securing dance chaperons that were used last year are to be used again this semester. If the dance is a house dance of a sorority, fraternity, or any other organized group the house mother is the chaperon, while if the dance is given in a public hall either Prof. Hugh Durham or G. F. Humphreys, of the S. S. G. A., the paid chaperons, must be present besides the honorary chaperons of the party.

Mark Upson of Sabinal, Tex., and "Brick" Williams of Siloam Springs, Ark., who have been at the Kappa Sigma house for rush week, left Tuesday morning for their homes. Mr. Upson graduated from K. S. A. C. in 1920. Mr. Williams will return for school the second semester.

Y. W. COEDS MAKE STUDY FACTORY LIFE

Y. W. C. A. CONDUCTS INDUSTRIAL EXPERIMENT

EVA TRAVIS IS AGGIE DELEGATE

Kansas Coeds Live Life of P. W. G. This Summer To Gain Understanding of Working Conditions

Setting out to see the life of the P. W. G. as it is lived, Miss Eva Travis, senior in home economics, spent six weeks this summer working in the Bayly Underhill Overall factory in Denver, Col. Miss Travis was one of seven Kansas girls who took part in the industrial experiment made by the Y. W. C. A. for the purpose of obtaining data on the life of the working classes in the cities.

Miss Travis feels that the experiment was a great success and she believes that this investigation should be continued and branched out, so that comparative figures from different cities and states may be secured. She reports that she and the six other girls, one of whom was from the state normal, one from Washburn, one from Friends, and one from K. U., met at Denver and went out to seek their own work.

Ask For Jobs Personally

"Asking a restaurant owner or factory manager for a job was a rather embarrassing thing for us to do, at first," says Miss Travis.

The work of the Aggie girl was in the Bayly Underhill overall factory and her compensation was $30 for six weeks. The pay was entirely by piece work and the majority of the regular factory girls received about $11 a week. Often these girls, many of whom are only 18 years old, are the sole support of their home. The majority of the girls receive no vacation and they work eight hours a day, six days a week the year around. One girl Miss Travis met "simply loved the mountains," but because she was 20 miles distant she did not have the money to visit them.

Working Girls' Standards High

Although it was hard to get the factory girls to become friendly with one whom they believed above them, when they did become friends it was a lifelong and a thoughtful friendship. The type of girls was very high in the factory and Miss Travis believes that the unions have much to do with this standard. Although Miss Travis did not join a union, she found that unions would not allow a girl to work, unless she lived up to the highest standards. Most of the girls swore, says Miss Travis, but the faults were greatly overshadowed by their thoughtfulness and kindness. Often a girl would lay aside her work in order to help a beginner who was having a hard time to make a living.

Public Dance Halls Popular

The public dance is the main place of recreation for the factory girls. Paid chaperons were always at the dances and if those on the floor did not dance correctly, they were ordered off. "The dances which we attended," says Miss Travis, "were conducted in a better manner than the majority of the college dances." She said that dances were the only means of recreation for the girls had no games such as tennis or basketball.

Girls Hear Judge Lindsay

The Y. W. girls heard Judge Ben Lindsay and several other good speakers, as a three days' conference was held before they started to work and at this meeting instructions were given as to how the girls were expected to conduct their investigation, and as to what they should expect from the factory girls.

They were told that they should lend their sympathies and not try to reform.

Tips Helped Waitresses

Several of the Y. W. C. A. girls, especially the waitresses, were able to earn enough to pay their expenses for the tips helped out a great deal. Miss Travis was handicapped by the fact that in the garment factory wages were paid by the piece and experience was necessary in order to turn out the finished product rapidly. Miss Travis had to learn to run the machines and much of her time was spent in learning.

Report at Estes Park

The many girls who spent the summer at Denver went on to Estes Park to the Y. W. C. A. convention where they reported their work to members from associations from all over the central west field. Two of the girls who were in domestic service drew up a set of recommendations which will be published soon and which may be studied by the home economics students in the various colleges. The recommendations instruct the housewife in the treatment of her servants.

Will Give Schick Diptheria Test

Students wishing to learn whether or not they are immune to diptheria will be given the Schick test by Dr. C. M. Seiver, college physician. This test is a harmless injection between the layers of skin. If the patient is artificially protected or has a natural antitoxin against the disease no reaction will appear. If he is susceptible, a slight inflammation at the point of injection will become evident. All students desiring this test should see Doctor Seiver.

The Problem That Jones Worked

$10,000.00 × .05 = $500.00
$ 500.00 ÷ 50 = $ 10.00

Jones carried $10,000.00 life insurance

Jones thought he had enough

Jones then worked the problem—

$10,000.00 invested to net 5 per cent (above taxes) would yield approximately $10.00 per week for his widow and children.

"Well I'll be darned" said Jones—"no family can live on $10.00 a week"—and he called up the "MACS" and ordered more life insurance.

Jones isn't the only fellow in Manhattan who

WILD KITTENS BEAT EMPORIA IN FIRST GAME

BACHMAN'S CHILDREN GROW
WILDER LAST QUARTER

BURTON SPEEDS GRIDIRON COMBAT

Preachers Exhibit Good Football but Are Outclassed—Farmers Complete
Seven Passes to Presbyterians' Four

The Aggies did it. Coach Bachman's fighting football disciples turned back Gwynn Henry's vaunted steam roller from the College of Emporia Saturday with the small end of a 7 to 3 score. Approximately 2,500 enthusiastic spectators witnessed the Aggie victory in the gridiron curtain raiser for the 1921 season.

Aggies Outplay Opponents

The Aggie score was not overwhelming. By all rights it should have been a larger margin. The Wildcat eleven outplayed, outgained, and outpassed the Presbyterians, and during most of the battle kept the pigskin in the enemy's territory. The Aggies made 22 first downs to the Emporians' four. Only once—in the early part of the final quarter on an Aggie fumble—did the visitors really threaten the Aggie goal line. Bachman's men were within striking distance of their opponent's goal several times, but only once succeeded in pushing the ball over. The Wildcat win casts no reflections on the Emporia warriors. They had a strong eleven, but the Aggies had a superior team, and the best team won.

Last Part Is Best

Both elevens scored their points in the third quarter. Early in the period with fourth down and five to go, Harr of Emporia booted a goal from placement on the 30 yard line. Following the Emporia counter the Aggies received the kickoff and in a series of brilliant broken field runs by Burton, accurate passes from Swartz and Stark to Burton, and line smashes by Stark and Sears, put the oval over for the Aggie touchdown.

The expected aerial offensive of the Emporians failed to materialize, the Presbyterians completing only one pass out of four attempts. The Aggies completed seven of the aerial shoots, and the overhead attack opened by the Aggies in the third period was largely responsible for the Aggie counter. The swift succession of passes and plays called by Swartz in this period seemed to demoralize the Emporia defensive, and Burton's spearing of passes and spectacular broken field dashes repeatedly brought the cheering spectators to their feet.

First Quarter

The Aggies kicked off. Emporia took three downs and punted to Stark. Two Aggie penalties put the ball on the 35 yard line. Sebring's try at a field goal went low and it was Emporia's ball on their five yard line. Reid punted and the Aggies worked the ball to the 18 yard line where Emporia took the ball on downs. Reid kicked again, and again Cowell, Sears, and Stark lugged the oval back to the enemy's 20 yard zone. The Emporia line held, and the quarter ended with the Aggies' ball on the 9-yard line.

Second Quarter

In the second period, Shankland, Emporia end, scooped an Aggie fumble with a clear field ahead, but was downed by Cowell from behind on the 40 yard line. The visitors completed a pass for 10, but Swartz ruined their chance to score when he intercepted a pass on the 15 yard line.

Third Quarter

In the third quarter Emporia had pushed the ball to the Aggie 22 yard line. On the fourth down with five to go, Harr dropped back to the 30 yard line. The ball was snapped to Reid and Harr booted it squarely over the cross bar. The Aggies returned the kickoff to their 35 yard line. Burton replaced Cowell at half. A pass, Swartz to Burton, netted 15 yards. Two passes were incomplete. Burton reeled off another 10 yards in a spectacular run around left end. Another pass, Stark to Burton added 10. Sears smashed through for three yards. Burton added one, a third pass, Stark to Burton, and the leather was on the Presbyterians' 10 yard line. Two line bucks gave the Aggies six yards, Stark plunged for three, and Sears plowed through for touchdown. Sebring kicked goal.

Fourth Quarter

In the final quarter, McNair recovered Stark's fumble on the Emporia 55 yard line and raced to the Aggie 15 yard line before being downed. Cleland broke up an attempted pass by Reid, and it was the Aggies' ball on their 15 yard line. A bewildering succession of cross plays, a flashy 20 yard by Stark, and a successful Aggie pass put the ball on the Emporia 15 yard line. Two short passes, Stark to Burton and Swartz to Sebring, added seven yards. Swartz made a yard, but Burton was thrown for a loss on the next play. The game ended with the Aggies' ball on the Emporia nine yard line.

Next Saturday the Aggies take on the fast Washington university eleven at Ahearn field.

"Y" TO ORGANIZE FRESHMEN SOON

FRESHMAN COMMISSION IS Y. M. C. A. TRAINING SCHOOL

Commission Smaller This Year—
Fresh May Apply Personally for Membership

The freshman commission, Y. M. C. A. organization, made up of men from the freshman class who are now interested or wish to become interested as leaders in "Y" work, will be organized within the next two weeks, according to C. R. Smith, Y. M. C. A. cabinet member in charge of the organization of the commission.

The freshman commission is organized for the express purpose of training leaders for "Y" work. The men who are on the commission should be interested in Y. M. C. A. work or should at least show a willingness to become interested. Furthermore they should be willing to work.

Heretofore the commission has consisted of 25 to 30 men who are chosen from recommendations from college professors, prominent students, and well informed men not only in the college but from out over the state. This year the membership is going to be limited to a smaller number of men who will be chosen several months earlier than last year and the choosing is to be more on a competitive basis. Any freshman in school who is interested in Y. M. C. A. work, and in getting into college activities may be considered for the freshman commission by sending to C. R. Smith through the college post office an application stating the particular phase of work in which he is interested. Applications should be in before the last of the week.

A glance at the list of men who have been in freshman commission for the past few years will reveal many of the most outstanding men in college. The men who get into college activities early are those who make the leaders in college activities, the officers of the Y. M. C. A. believe, and the commission affords an easy way for freshmen to get acquainted with all phases of college life.

Close Aggieville Stores During Games

Cyrena Van Gordon Has Musical Protege From Little Italy

An interesting sidelight on the private life and activities of great artists shown in this story of Cyrena Van Gordon, prima donna contralto of the Chicago Grand Opera company.

Miss Van Gordon's home is on the Gold Coast, a narrow strip of land on the north Chicago lake front inhabited exclusively by millionaires. Little Italy is only a few blocks distant, and the opera star often visits there and entertains the children. One day while strolling through Little Italy Miss Van Gordon happened upon a small girl dancing to a tune from a hand organ and singing at the top of her voice.

Struck by the clearness and sweetness of the girl's tones, the prima donna placed her under the tutelage of Mme. Dotti, Miss Van Gordon's own instructor. The child, Angela Pellegrina, is making great progress and musical critics are predicting she will some day equal her fairy godmother's achievements in grand opera.

Paul L. Mann, '17, has arrived to take over the duties of assistant professor of milling industry and flour mill engineering. Professor Mann has done advanced work at George Washington university, and has spent one year in the bureau of chemistry at Washington, D. ## AGS TO ISSUE A PAPER FOR THEMSELVES

MEANS IS EDITOR, STEWART
BUSINESS MANAGER

PUBLISH MAGAZINE QUARTERLY

First Issue To Be Out Before Christmas—Print at Least 500 Copies
—Only Three Issues This Year

"We're going to have the best publication of any division on the hill," was the sentiment expressed by the students in agriculture when they voted to put out a quarterly magazine. This decision was reached at the meeting of the Agricultural association last Thursday evening.

Three Issues This Year

The magazine will make its initial appearance shortly before the Christmas holidays, the second issue will be sold at the time of the Ag fair, and another near the close of school next spring. Since the decision to publish the magazine was just made, but three issues will be published this year. The committee which was appointed by the executive council of the Agricultural association to investigate the advisability of putting out the magazine, believes that little difficulty will be experienced in financing the publication. Magazines of a similar nature find it easy to solicit advertising from leading livestock concerns, farm machinery companies, fertilized manufacturing firms, and seed houses.

Board To Manage Paper

Earl Means was elected editor of the new magazine; J. W. Farmer, assistant editor; and J. Scott Stewart, business manager. These three men, the president of the Agricultural association, and another member to be chosen by these four, will constitute a board to supervise the publication. Mr. Hugh Durham, assistant to the dean of agriculture, has volunteered his services in helping the staff in any way possible.

Ag Faculty Support Enterprise

At least 500 copies will be issued. Many alumni who graduated in agriculture are expected to subscribe, and nearly a 100 per cent subscription is anticipated from the students in agriculture. The ags have the support of the faculty of the division in the new enterprise. All cuts owned by the college will be available for use by the staff, and the department of illustrations has offered to furnish prints for making pictures needed for the magazine.

Make Magazine Student Publication

It has been decided to make the magazine a student publication. Faculty members will seldom be asked to contribute, for, as one Ag expressed it, "They write their ideas in farm bulletins." Students' viewpoints on agriculture's greatest needs, and the way in which one may relate himself to these current problems of rural life, will be given a prominent place in the magazine. Students in agricultural journalism will help in furnishing copy. Few jokes and little humorous material will be published, as an attempt will be made to set forth the serious viewpoints of students.

THETA SIGMA PHI INITIATES
WOMEN HIGH IN PROFESSION

Neil B. Nichols and Lelia Cooper Are New Members

Initiation services were held recently by Theta Sigma Phi, woman's honorary and professional journalistic fraternity, for Mrs. Neil B. Nichols and Miss Lelia Cooper of Topeka.

She is now the corresponding household editor for Farm and Fireside, and is connected with the Capper Farm Press. Woman's Home Companion and Pictorial Review.

Miss Cooper, formerly of Michigan, is on the advertising staff of the Capper Farm Press. Miss Cooper has had wide experience in advertising work and her work takes her over the eastern and southern parts of the United States.

School of Agriculture Officers

The school of agriculture held a meeting last Tuesday and elected their officers for the coming year as follows: Corwin Spencer, president; Miss Fay Wickham, secretary; H. A. Kinman, treasurer; Ray Wismer, marshal; M. C. Wallace, S. S. G. A. representative; N. P. Olson, athletic manager; Clarence Rowe, Collegian reporter.

Y. W. Advisory Board Meets

The advisory board members of the Y. W. C. A. will hold their first regular meeting of the year Monday evening at the home of the president, Mrs. A. H. King. The board is composed of twelve women elected from the faculty and town women. The officers this year are Mrs. A. H. King, president; Mrs. J. P. Calderwood, secretary; Miss Mary Worcester, treasurer. Other members are Mrs. A. H. Bressler, Mrs. Hugh Durham, Miss Grace Hesse, Mrs. H. C. Walker, Mrs. W. M. Jardine, Dean Mary P. Van Zile, and two members who will be elected this fall.

ROOMING HOUSE CODE GIVEN OUT

STANDARDIZES RULES FOR STUDENT ROOMS AND CONDUCT

Students Must Observe College Regulations—Rules Help Avoid Spats with Landlady

In order to simplify the business arrangements in getting student rooms and to provide for the proper conduct of the students and the proper management of the rooming houses, the following list of rules has been given out by the college authorities. These regulations should be referred to in case of any difficulties arising.

Students who are not residents of Manhattan are expected to live in rooming houses that have been inspected and approved by the college administration. All changes of residence during the semester shall be reported to the registrar.

All social regulations of the college are to be observed in the rooming houses.

Room rent is to be charged by the calendar month, payable two weeks in advance.

There shall be no refund for the Christmas vacation, if the occupant returns after the vacation. Rooms shall not be occupied while the student is away unless previous arrangements have been made.

The equivalent of a 60 watt light shall be furnished in each room.

Students may share their room with guests for a period of four days without extra charge. Terms for a longer period must be agreed upon by the student and landlady.

Landlady will not furnish meals to relatives or to nurse while caring for students who are ill, but will furnish simple nourishment to the patient if other arrangements cannot be made. When this is done a reasonable charge may be made.

Twelve and one-half cents per hour may be charged for the use of electric current or for a gas burner.

Quiet hours shall be observed after 8:30 in the evening, except on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday nights. The temperature of the rooms shall be within 68-72 degrees.

A notice of at least two weeks shall be given to landlady by student before vacating room. The same rule shall apply to notices given by landladies.

Aggie Men Inspect Salina Mills

Several Aggie men spent Saturday in Salina, inspecting the Robinson, Weber, Lee, Shellenbarger, and Western Star mills. Prof. C. E. Pierce, Captain Robert T. Willkie, C. W. Oakes, Walter J. Rogers, J. B. Lough, E. B. Johnson, and J. N. H. Pfeleger, went on the trip. These men got many new ideas of use to them in their milling and flour mill design classes.

VAN GORDON DOESN'T SCORN POPULAR MUSIC

CATERS TO COLLEGE STUDENTS

Townpeople Are Buying More Tickets Than Any Previous Year—College People Wait Till Last Minute

Popular numbers will be the feature of the program offered by Miss Cyrena Van Gordon in the opening number of the Artists' Series, Thursday evening, October 6.

The prima donna has especially adapted her program to college students and practically every number will be sung in English. The encores probably all will be popular selections as Miss Van Gordon's chief delight is in singing to young people.

Sings Number by Request

Several numbers were added to her program by special request and among them is the "Cry of the Valkyri." This is the song that made her famous as an opera star of the first magnitude. It represents the type of music in which she is at her best.

The ticket sale, which started with a rush, has slowed down somewhat, probably on account of so many competing attractions. The townspeople are buying more tickets than in any previous year, but the students are not responding as they might. Many of the choice seats are still left however, and from all indications they will go with a rush in the few remaining days of the sale.

Miss Van Gordon will be accompanied by Miss Alma Putnam. The program as announced by Mr. Ira Pratt follows:

The Program

HOBBART MAY IS SERIOUSLY INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Received Broken Leg and Mangled Shoulder—Is Improving Now

Hobart May, student at the college for three years, was seriously injured in an automobile accident near Goodland last Friday. His leg was broken, his shoulder badly mangled, and he received a bad gash on his head. At present he is improving and it is believed that he can be brought home within a few days. Until yesterday he has been unconscious most of the time.

May and Harold Hancock, who graduated from K. S. A. C. in '19, were speeding to St. Francis after a demonstration car when they came to an unexpected turn in the road. Ahead was a 10 foot embankment and rather than go over it Hancock tried to make the turn. May was thrown 20 feet. Hancock was not seriously injured. May and Hancock are both members of the Kappa Sigma fraternity.

K Girls Get Higher Honors

Even the K sweater girls are going to have higher honors awarded them. The W. A. A. has decided to give diagonal stripes of purple felt to be worn above the K on the sleeve. These are to be awarded for an additional two hundred points, and are primarily to keep the K girls interested in athletics. There will be several new K's awarded after hockey season. W. A. A. will meet next Thursday at 5 o'clock in the gym.

QUIZ WEEK MAY YET BE BRIGHTER

The examination, the written review, the quiz, the test—call it what you please—since its first beginnings, has been looked upon by educational people as a necessary evil. The average student's attitude toward this spasmodic ceremony is current and needs no further elaboration. To him, final week means one mad panorama of note books, midnight oil, belated resolutions, and black coffee. The instructors, too, have been known to register a meek disapproval. This has always reminded us of the old fashioned mother who whipped her son and told him it hurt her just as bad as it did him. 'Twas ever thus.

But still there is hope. The faculty committee on assignments, prompted by the S. S. G. A., has recommended a solution which it hopes will, in a manner at least, alleviate some of the traditional quiz week horrors. The committee's plan embraces a seven day period during which all regular classes will be discontinued and the entire time devoted to examinations. Heretofore examinations have been held on the last meeting of the class. This arrangement has often resulted in students having the major part of their finals on the same day. Regular recitations were formerly sandwiched in between finals, resulting in the students cutting class or attending with out preparation.

The new plan sets aside the last week of the semester solely for examinations, to be held according to a definite schedule. This will allow more time for preparation and will distribute the work more evenly throughout the week. True, the new plan will not totally eliminate the necessity of knowing something, but it gives evidence of being a step forward in our examination system, and is therefore worthy of a trial.

AGGIEVILLE TEACHES A LESSON IN COOPERATION

For the first time in several years every business house in Aggieville was closed during the time of the first football game of the season. Aggieville business men unanimously signed a petition to close up for every football game during the entire football season. It is cooperation like this which gains student support and which receives student appreciation.

The season has started off well. There was nothing particularly sensational in Saturday's game but it was a good exhibition of sound consistent football, the kind of football which gets continually better as the season progresses. The Aggieville merchants have given their assistance unanimously and if the students will now get down to business and give the team their support both in finance and the howls from their lusty lungs we may hope to dedicate the stadium down the Kaw in a manner which is befitting to our highest ambitions.

The Rejection Slip

As learned professors are telling us now

From contact with culture comes polish.

Just stand by a poet or sophist a while—

Every crudeness of yours they'll abolish.

So being possessed of a mind of great scope

We have seen the real worth of the thesis,

And before a month's up, if the theory holds true,

We'll give Aggies the finesse that's Greece's.

Every week, or the like, we will put on this page

Some deep poem, with charm like the lily.

Nobody will read it, we're sure of that fact,

But it's there just the same—see now Willy.

OVER 250 GIRLS
OUT FOR HOCKEY

PRACTICE HOUR IS FROM FIVE TO SIX

Enough Juniors and Seniors Sign Up To Assure Two Teams

Over 250 girls have signed up for hockey and the freshman class alone has 130 girls out for practice. There are 57 sophomores, and 28 juniors signed up and the seniors are represented by 14 girls, enough for a team. In previous years the juniors and seniors have had to combine forces in order to get enough upperclassmen for a match.

It is hoped by those in charge of the sport that more girls will come out for practice, especially girls in the upper classes. The practice hour is from 5 until 6 o'clock in the afternoon and the schedule is as follows: Monday, freshmen, A to J; Tuesday, freshman, K to Z; Wednesday, sophomores; Thursday, juniors; Friday, seniors.

V. L. Strickland, director of the home study service has been relieved of some of his duties in that field in order that the department of education might secure more of his time. Mr. Strickland will have charge of work in psychology and methods of teaching.

I Want Every Student to Read This—

The Artists' Series exists for the students of the college and the citizens of Manhattan. It is an educational—not a commercial—institution. If any money is cleared it must be reinvested in artists.

A price reduction on season tickets has been made in spite of an increase of $500 in artists' fees. The price has been lowered in order that every student in college can, by denying himself a VERY FEW SMALL PLEASURES, hear four of the greatest musical artists in America and be no worse off financially. Figure it up yourself.

I want to see the auditorium filled at each concert of the series. A course supported by 100 per cent of the students is the ideal we want to reach. The present series is, I am sure, going to please you above your highest expectations. Miss Van Gordon and Louis Gravuere are each worth the price of the whole series.

Let's put up the S. R. O. sign next Thursday night.

WILL DEVELOP RELIGIOUS WORK

FORM ORGANIZATION TO FURTHER TEACHING IN STATE SCHOOLS

Dean Van Zile and Dr. Holtz Attend Conference at Estes—K. S. A. C. Ahead of Other Schools

The need of more uniform and unified courses in religious subjects in schools and colleges led to a conference being called last spring by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. in the seven states composing the Rocky Mountain district. The states which make up this district are Kansas, Nebraska, Texas, Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, and Oklahoma.

On account of its central location Estes Park, Col., was chosen as the place for the conference. Each college in this district was asked to send either the president or a dean as its representative. K. S. A. C. was represented by Dean Mary Pierce Van Zile and Dr. A. A. Holtz, secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

The conference consisted mainly of daily lectures by Professor Rugh, head of religious and moral education at Berkeley, Cal., and papers by several of the delegates. Dean Van Zile read a paper "The College Woman of Today as She Is."

An organization was created for the Rocky Mountain district which is headed by a regional director or leader. To assist him the regional director has the power of appointing a leader in each of the states of the district. Dean Johnson of Fort Collins, was chosen as regional director and Dean Van Zile as secretary for the council. The state leaders as yet have not been appointed.

The council grouped the students who will take courses along religious educational lines into two divisions. First, those who are seeking certification as teachers of religious education, and second, those who are not seeking such certification but who merely enrol in the course for college credit. It is under the latter division that this college will probably come. The organization of this second group will consist of the securing of a directing body composed of representatives of the faculty, of the ministry of Manhattan, of the college Christian associations, of the student pastor and of other religious interests. In this way competent leadership for instruction along religious lines will be secured and the organization of non credit classes on the campus made possible.

At the conference it was found that the college here was already far ahead of other state schools in religious work even surpassing some denominational schools.

ROTHGEB, GRAIN SORGHUM EXPERT VISITS COLLEGE

Has Had Charge Grain Sorghum Experiments For Ten Years

R. E. Rothgeb, who is in charge of investigational work on grain sorghum hybrids in the United States department of agriculture, was a college visitor Monday. For the last ten years Mr. Rothgeb has been in charge of grain sorghum experiments for the office of cereal investigations in the bureau of plant industry and about a year ago was transferred to the bureau of markets for the purpose of making a study of grain sorghum grading and marketing.

The investigational work in this project has been completed and the federal grades for grain sorghums have been prepared and are now being tried out by grain graders in all of the important markets. These federal graders have not yet been officially established for the area in that Congress did not provide funds for the enforcement of the grain standards act with reference to grain sorghums. However, the federal standards have been officially adopted by the Kansas state grain inspection department and have been used in this state since August 1. While at the college Mr. Rothgeb looked over the sorghum experiments being conducted by the agronomy department. He will visit the Federal grain supervision office and grain men in Wichita, Woodward, Okla., Amarillo, Tex., and other important grain sorghum markets before returning to Washington.

NEW FACES ARE SEEN IN HOME STUDY THIS YEAR

Nitcher Succeeds Gulick—Ada Billings Succeeds Reita Diehlman

A number of important changes have occurred in the teaching force of the home study division. Miss Reita Diehlman, formerly in charge of history, has been granted a year's leave of absence, during which time she is taking graduate work at Bryn-Mawr. Miss Ada Billings of Benton is filling the position. Mrs. Edith Howarth has been appointed to the position of instructor of English.

Frank H. Gulick, formerly with the division, has taken a position with the rehabilitation service in Des Moines, and Charles Nitcher is filling the place vacated by Mr. Gulick. Mr. Nitcher is a graduate of last year's class, having been a member of several stock judging teams.

Miss Margaret Ansdall spent Saturday in Topeka.

Davy Davis was a dinner guest at the Phi Delta Theta house Friday evening.

TWO VOCATIONAL GIRLS ARE HERE

BOTH WERE DISABLED IN GOVERNMENT SERVICE

Probably Only Women Vocational Students in State—Take Poultry Husbandry and Home Economics

In all of the state of Kansas, Miss Cora May Conner of Winfield, and Miss Jennie Harner of Wichita, probably have the distinction of being the only women who are attending state educational institutions at the expense of the Federal board for vocational education.

Miss Conner served the United States government as a nurse for fourteen months at Camp Travis, Tex., where she became disabled as a result of a sickness and is now taking a course in poultry husbandry at the expense of the Federal board.

Miss Harner was a student nurse in Georgia and from there went to Camp Grant, Ill., where she had a severe sickness and as a result of which she is now enrolled in a course in home economics under the auspices of the Federal board.

Although hundreds of men are being given vocational training by the government there are comparatively few women who were in such positions of service as would entitle them to this training in case of disabilities sustained.

A rather interesting coincidence is the fact that these two girls sent by the Federal board arranged for rooms in the same house at 900 Vattier and are rooming there at the present time, neither of them knowing before that the other was to be in K. S. A. C.

Cletrac Two-Row Cultivator cultivates corn, cotton or other row crops, 10 to 20 acres a day. Price, $1335 f.o.b. Cleveland

CLETRAC F is the tractor that farmers everywhere have been waiting for since the beginning of the tractor industry. It handles all farm jobs including cultivating of corn, cotton and other row crops. Plows 6 to 8 acres a day, discs or harrows 20 to 25 and cultivates 10 to 20. Unlike every other tractor, in cultivating with the Cletrac Two-Row Cultivator, Cletrac F travels between the rows—applies power from behind. The operator sits comfortably in the tractor seat looking ahead at his work instead of straight down. Cletrac Cultivator can be attached in two minutes—sells for $1335 f.o.b. Cleveland—accommodates any type of shovel, sweep or weeder—works in any corn up to 60 inches high.

The unusually low price of Cletrac F is possible because it embodies unique engineering principles. It is made to last. Parts subject to wear are constructed of Chrome Steel—the toughest material obtainable. Automatically lubricated. The 4-cylinder, kerosene burning motor gives a plowing speed of 3 miles an hour, with variable speeds from 1 to 3 1/4 miles. Yet Cletrac F is so thrifty and compactly designed that it weighs only 1820 pounds and measures only 83 inches in length, 50 inches in height, and 32 inches in width. A few minutes practice and you have mastered its operation.

ABOUT 200 HAVE NOT FROSH CAPS

TREATMENT TARDY FIRST YEARS INTERESTS UPERCLASSMEN

Last Year's Frosh Wore Caps and Aggieville Paddling Line Did Not Form

"Will we have to treat 'em rough this year?" This is the significant question that is going the rounds of the upperclassmen concerning the male freshmen. Contrary to first advice it has been stated by those in charge of the freshman cap sales that the headgears have not been selling as fast as they should. They estimate that probably 150 or 200 boys have not purchased the purple designations.

It is the more or less emphatic statement of one of the salesmen that drastic measures may have to be taken to inform the frosh of their full duty. So the near future, some believe, may see the long line form down in Aggieville.

Not so many years ago the K. S. A. C. freshman was a hunted individual, and the first few weeks and often months of his college life were ones of heat. For a time he bore his punishment more or less uncomplainingly and without organized retaliation. Freshman paddling was seemingly a necessary though irritating institution and rebellion but increased the punishment.

At length, however, the awe of the first year men for their collegiate superiors began to wane, and very suddenly, almost during a summer the worm turned. Then came pitched battles between the two factions, and as often as not the freshmen won out.

About this time President Jardine decided that the civil strife was needlessly increasing the sum total of wars in the world, and called for a cessation of hostilities. Accordingly, not only the fights, but the paddling became more and more sporadic until year before last only a little intermittent ducking and paddling broke the collegiate calm. Last year complete calm reigned, and the freshmen dutifully wore their caps.

But this year the old question is springing up again. "Will we have to treat 'em rough?"

MISS GLANTON COLLECTS UNIQUE ART MATERIALS

Use Design and Prints in Design, Clothing, and Textile Classes

Miss Louise Glanton, professor of clothing and textiles collected some interesting materials and art products for use in design, clothing and textile classes, while visiting western coast cities this summer.

Bazaars which Miss Glanton visited in San Francisco were branch houses of exclusive shops in Pekin and Shanghai, China. Here Miss Glanton found unusual designs in cut and uncut velvet combined in one fabric. Handwoven materials in pleasing color combinations will be studied by the costume design classes. Original Japanese prints, the work of Kumsada, a Japanese artist of 150 years ago are part of her collection. Among the Chinook Indians in Washington, Miss Glanton found baskets interesting for their design, and color combinations.

HOME STUDY CENTERS TO BE ESTABLISHED IN KANSAS

Division Is Unable to Meet Requests for Classes

The home study division is undertaking a new movement this winter in the establishment of home study centers in various localities in Kansas. The plan was tried out in Kansas City last winter, with a class enrollment of 42.

"The course proved so popular," states V. L. Strickland, director of home study, "that the department is unable to meet the requests for classes which have come in this year."

Some of the courses being requested are those in business English, elementary French, and mental tests and measurements. The requirements for enrollment are the same as for regular college entrance, and college credit is given for the work.

Dean F. D. Farrell was in Hays last Tuesday conferring with L. C. Aicher, '10, the newly elected superintendent of the Fort Hays branch station. Mr. Aicher, who has been in Aberdeen, Ida., reported for duty September 26.

L. C. Moser, a graduate of the journalism department, and at present director of information for the United States Grain Growers, Incorporated, spoke to classes in journalism Saturday, discussing his work in publicity and promotion.

YALE PROFESSOR TO VISIT HERE

NOTED LECTURER, AUTHOR, AND THEOLOGIAN COMING

Doctor Kent Is Student of Modern Problems—Making Tour of State Universities This Semester

Dr. Charles S. Kent, head of the department of Biblical literature in Yale university, will be at K. S. A. C. October 11 and 12, and will speak on various phases of Bible study and appreciation.

Doctor Kent is known to thousands in the United States, not only through his books, more than a hundred editions of which have been exhausted, but through his lectures and conferences. While on the faculty of the University of Chicago in its opening years he lectured widely in the middle western and Pacific states. During the present semester he has been released by Yale to hold conferences under the auspices of the state universities of Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, and Ohio. He will be in Kansas a week, lecturing at K. U., K. S. A. C., and Washburn. At these conferences he will deal simply and directly with certain vital questions that are in the minds of every thoughtful person today.

Doctor Kent is generally recognized as one of the leading Biblical interpreters in the world, but he is more than that. He is a keen and enthusiastic student of modern problems, and is actively identified with many organizations which aim to apply the principles of the prophets and of Jesus to the solution of the political and social problems of the present day. However, by training and instinct Doctor Kent is not a theologian, but a historian and an interpreter of literature and life.

Doctor Kent was one of the founders and first presidents of the New Haven Civic Federation, and of the New Haven religious education federation. He is now vice president of the New Haven chamber of commerce, and is in charge of its civic work.

Forum Elects Officers

GET NEW AUTO EQUIPMENT IN ENGINEERING DIVISION

New Engineering Building Gives Automobile Section Chance to Expand

The electrical work of the automobile section of the engineering division moved into new and larger quarters this summer, giving much better facilities for handling this work.

A large amount of new equipment has been added, such as up-to-date starters and generators, switches, battery equipment of all kinds, apparatus for testing breaker points, magnetos, and distributors.

The laboratory is divided into various sections, one section having test stands which show the electrical parts of the cars in simple form. From these stands the students can see plainly and understand just what is the function of each part. In the battery section batteries are taken apart and rebuilt and then charged and tested for service.

The chassis section which deals entirely with the construction and care of the mechanical portion of the automobile has also been moved into better quarters enabling the work to be handled much more efficiently.

The automobile shop has added to its equipment a Packard touring car and two sleeve valve cars. An air compressor and an overhead system of piping which will carry off the exhaust from the cars while running, is being installed.

MAKE SCHEDULE FOR QUIZ WEEK

FACULTY COMMITTEE ANNOUNCES TENTATIVE PLAN

To Follow Out Suggestion of S. S. G. A. Would Require Three Weeks for Finals

In response to the request which the S. S. G. A. made of the college faculty for an examination schedule which would not require more than one quiz each half day, the faculty committee appointed to prepare this schedule has finally given their report to the rest of the college faculty.

The committee on examination, which is composed of Prof. Hildegrade Kneeland, Prof. W. A. Lippincott, Dean R. A. Seaton, Prof. C. W. Colver, and Prof. A. E. White, has just made public its recommendations. In this report the committee says that the plan suggested by the S. S. G. A. would require three weeks for the finals.

However, the committee suggested a general plan to be considered. This plan sets aside seven days in the fall semester and six days in the spring semester devoted exclusively to the final examinations. During this period no regular classes will be held. Classes have been arranged into six groups according to the days on which they meet. All classes which meet on Thursday or on a series of days including Thursdays are in group one, those meeting on Wednesday or on a schedule including Wednesday are in group two, those meeting Monday are in group three, and so on. The committee has arranged these groups into a schedule from which the time of examination in any subject may be easily determined.

Special arrangements are made in the schedule for senior examinations and for irregular classes. At least a one hour examination period is provided for all classes carrying one hour credit, and a two hour examination for classes with more credits. It should be understood that as yet these plans are tentative, having merely been recommended by the committee.

Manufacture Lathes for Schools
Wood turning lathes designed and manufactured by the engineering division are being sent to various high schools throughout the state. The Alton, Clyde, and Chapman high schools are using these lathes and the Tonganoxie high school has ordered two which will be sent as soon as possible.

Exhibitions of these lathes were given at the Topeka and Hutchinson fairs this fall. With the special machinery received from the war department these machines are now being turned out on a commercial basis.

To Address Librarians' Meeting
The state library association is to meet at Hutchinson, October 17 to 20, and Miss Miriam Clay of the loan department at the college library will be on the program, discussing the subject "Selection of Children's Books." Miss Clay has had a great deal of experience along this line as she was in the public library work for some time before coming here.

Library Gets New Books
So far only a small shipment of new books have been received by the college library this year, but more are expected later. The library now has Margaret Sinn's latest book, "Tree Sails," dealing with early Kansas history. Other books of interest are Smith's "Agriculture Meteorology and a revised edition of the "American Men of Science."

Science Club Meeting
A program of unusual interest was presented at the science club meeting held in the home economics rest room. Moving pictures giving the history and development of land transportation in America, beginning with the Indian trail and ending with the latest and biggest of the electrically driven railway locomotives were shown.

Mrs. G. W. Collins of Winfield was a guest at the Alpha Delta Pi house this week end.

SENIORS IN H. E. TEACH CLASSES

WORK IS UNDER SUPERVISION MISS MARGARET EDWARDS

Use Manhattan High School as Practice Field—Teach Foods and Sewing

Vocational home making classes are being taught by seniors in home economics, under the supervision of Miss Margaret Edwards, associate professor in the department of education. The Manhattan high school is the field of practice for the college students receiving this training.

In addition to the course in teaching foods, which was instituted last year, with freshman classes to teach, a second course, involving the teaching of sophomore sewing classes in the high school has been launched. Aside from dressmaking, these sophomore girls are studying the designing of costumes, textiles, and now making tams in new fall styles. The classes visit local stores to examine clothing and materials.

The freshman foods classes plan and serve meals under the direction of the college girls. Since school opened the students have studied various methods of food preservation, doing some canning for Manhattan housewives. Field trips, including trips to homes to inspect ventilating and cooking facilities are being planned.

The senior college girls teaching are Carol Knostman, Leslie Burger, Katherine Adams, Gertrude Flowers, Margaret Dubbs, and Grace Gardner.

Prof. F. W. Bell is to judge the student judging contest at the National Swine show, at Peoria, Ill., which is to be held soon. Due to the lack of funds, the department of animal husbandry sent no team to Peoria, but will send teams to Denver and Chicago, instead.

The installation of the Quill club at Washburn which was to take place Saturday, October 8, has been postponed until October 15.

AGGIE-PIKER GAME OPENS VALLEY RACE

WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY OVAL
BOOTERS COME SATURDAY

WILDCAT VETERANS IN HOSPITAL

Cleland and Stauffer Slightly Marred in Last Week's Game—St. Louis
Gridders Are Smooth
Passers

Tomorrow the Ahearn-Bachman Aggie football team will get the starter's flag in the Missouri Valley championship race when they clash with the heavy Washington university eleven from St. Louis, on Ahearn field at 2:30.

The Wildcats this week have been given some highly efficient claw-sharpening exercises and Coach Bachman has fed them a concentrated diet of football lore that should put a wicked kink in their several tails when they take the arena against Coach Rider's Pikers from the Near Beer City tomorrow. In order that inquisitive strangers may not become too familiar with the Wildcat training menu, Coach Bachman is following the K. U. precedent of chasing the fans off the field during signal practice.

The Aggie line-up looked pretty good in Saturday's opener. Still, a few loose burrs were apparent in the Aggie gridiron machine and the coaching staff has been tightening these and polishing off other rough spots this week. The Aggie hospital list may necessitate a few changes in the line that will oppose the St. Louis team. Stauffer has a game leg and will be unable to go in against the Washington crew. Staib or Nichols will probably work in "Stauffer's" place at tackle. Cleland stopped a number 10 shoe with his side in the Emporia contest and may be unable to start, in which case Weber will likely be given a chance at the pivot.

"Ship" Winter has finally arrived in the Aggie camp and Bachman has been using him at left end. His height, reach, and jumping ability make him a strong forward pass receiver. He may be used to bolster the Aggie left flank tomorrow. At half, "Ding" Burton will probably team up with Stark when the opening whistle sounds. Burton showed his ability to gather in the aerial flips last Saturday. With Sebring and Winter as receivers also, and with Swartz and Stark to heave the passes, there is a hint that the Aggies may develop a dangerous passing attack in the future. Stark and Swartz made their debut against the Presbyterians and looked mighty promising. Swartz is out to make good as pilot and seems to be well on the way.

A great deal of dope on the strength of the Washington eleven is not available. The Pikers defeated the Rolla School of Mines 10 to 0 and a witness characterized the Piker line-up as heavy, not exceptionally speedy but a good blocking team with a variety of plays, and a splendid passing team. Coach Rider has 12 veterans this year. Shanley, All-Valley end, last year scored more touchdowns than any other player in the Missouri valley. His ability as a forward pass receiver last year is said to have eclipsed anything ever seen on a St. Louis field, and Thompson can be depended on to hurl the oval to Shanley.

In another, Thompson, Washington has a dangerous drop kicker who would probably crowd the famous Aggie toe artist, Dewey Huston for premier valley honors. He is consistently accurate inside the 40 yard line and will loom as a formidable menace to the Aggie goal any time the St. Louis athletes get 10 yards into Aggie territory.

The St. Louis eleven, with a new coach, got away to a poor start last year but at the close of the season had developed a powerful driving attack and only a miracle saved the Missouri Tigers from defeat at their hands in their closing valley contest. A field goal by Thompson had put Washington ahead. With only two minutes to play, a lucky broken field dash put the ball over for a Missouri touchdown. Several Washington stars who were absent from the line-up last season are said to be back in the Pike uniform this year.

Mike Ahearn, athletic director, predicts a stiff battle in tomorrow's opening act of the four-act football drama that will be staged on the K. S. A. C. field within the next six weeks. Incidentally, tomorrow will be the last opportunity to buy season tickets, as no more will be sold after that time. The purchaser of the season books at the gate tomorrow will still have a chance to save $2 on the four valley games with Washington, Grinnell, Missouri, and Oklahoma.

CROSS COUNTRY TRYOUTS ARE ON

TEAM WILL ACCOMPANY FOOT-BALL SQUAD TO K. U.

Forty Candidates Out—Will Meet
Nebraska at Lincoln
November 5

Tryouts for the cross country team that will accompany the Aggie football squad to Lawrence October 29 to compete with the Jayhawk five-mile sprinters before the Aggie-K. U. game, will be held this week by Ray Watson. The team selected from the 40 odd candidates will probably compete in a Nebraska university invitation cross country meet to be held at Lincoln November 5. If the team shows up well in these two meets it will be entered in the valley conference meet that will be held later, probably at Missouri university.

Coach Curtiss' call for basketball candidates has resulted in a veritable deluge of prospective basket tossers. Approximately 50 prospects are jamming the gymnasium courts for practice on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, and the athletic department will probably be compelled to divide the squad into two sections as soon as someone can be secured to assist Curtiss by taking over the coaching of part of the men.

START CUSTOM AT PIKER GAME

CROWD ASKED TO REMAIN AND SING ALMA MATER

First Verse and Chorus Will Be Sung —Is Customary at Many Schools

Sponsored by the Glee club and the Wampus Cats a new custom will be inaugurated at K. S. A. C. next Saturday afternoon at the close of the game between Washington university and the Aggies. All those in the bleachers and the grandstand are asked to remain in their seats and sing one verse and the chorus of Alma Mater while the football team leaves the field. No one will be expected to leave until the team has left the field.

Heretofore there has been a mad rush for the gate the minute the final whistle has blown and the football men have been nearly run over by the rush of spectators. The custom of waiting for the team to leave the field is one which is in vogue in many of the largest colleges of the country and is a custom which shows respect for the men who are defending the college colors. It is a custom which makes a very favorable impression on any visitors or strangers who happen to be in the crowd.

In case of a victory the singing of the first verse of Alma Mater is an ovation, and in case of a defeat singing the song shows the truest college spirit.

YALE HONORS DIRECTOR OF "THE FOUR HORSEMEN"

Conferring Degree First Recognition of Screen by University

For his artistic achievement in translating "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" into motion pictures for Metro, Yale university has conferred upon Rex Ingram, motion picture director, the degree of Bachelor of Fine Arts. This is the first official recognition of the screen as an art that any university or college has ever given.

Mr. Ingram formerly was a student at Yale, matriculated in the class of 1914. The director so honored by Yale is young—just 29. The son of a university professor in Dublin, Ireland, he came to this country in 1911. Before going to Yale he worked for some time at Belle Dock, New Haven as track man and tally man.

Hooton To Study in Washington
D. R. Hooton, '21, has been in San Antonio, Tex., working for the federal department of agriculture since commencement last year. In a letter to Prof. R. J. Barnett, of the horticulture department, Mr. Hooton describes the recent floods in San Antonio. Mr. Hooton, who states that he recently took the civil service and passed, confirming his appointment, will spend a month studying in Washington, D. C. this winter.

PICK NINETEEN MEMBERS FOR DEBATE SQUAD

FIRST DEBATE SCHEDULED FOR

URGE MORE GIRLS TO TRY OUT

"Number of Girls Chosen Is Fewest in History of K. S. A. C. Debating," Says Burns
Aggie Coach

Fourteen men and five girls were chosen for the fall debate squads in the tryouts last Thursday and Friday. This is the smallest number of girls ever chosen, and tryouts are to continue until a sufficient number for the squad have been selected.

Prof. O. H. Burns, debate coach, says, "I have never known so few girls to come out for debate as this fall. I cannot account for it unless it is due to the fact that the boys usually take more part in high school debates, and are more interested when they enter college. I want to emphasize that we have some debate contests with leading colleges of this state that are for 'women only,' and any girl in college is eligible to compete for a place on the squad."

Nearly 30 men tried for places on the squad. Decision-winning teams can be produced from these men, together with the K men who were already on the squad, according to Professor Burns and Dr. H. T. Hill, who judged the tryouts. The men who were successful in the tryouts are as follows: Ernest Hartman, Vorin Whan, V. L. Beyer, T. O. Garinger, W. W. Weaver, T. M. Stratton, F. A. Swanson, L. E. Jennings, Captain Humphries, G. M. Allen, Joe Thackery, W. E. McKibben, R. W. Wolnick, and R. D. Mayden.

The girls who made places on the squads are, Anna Best, Georgia Newcombe, Lois Clarke, Ethel Johnson, and Queenie Hart. Tryouts are still open and any girl wishing to debate is urged to see Professor Burns. Few experienced debaters are working for places on the team.

The first debate of the season will occur the latter part of November when a dual contest is held with Iowa State college. The first girls' debates will be held early in February with the Emporia normal teams. More interest was shown in debating last year than had been exhibited the past 10 years according to several members of the faculty. Nearly 500 persons heard the Ames debate, and of these about 70 had to stand during the entire contest.

MORROW MAKES CHAPEL SPEECH

IS ASSISTANT PUBLISHER OF CAPPER FARM PRESS

"Economically We Are Not Very Far Removed from the Cave-man," Says Speaker

"We all talk too much about our rights instead of what is right," said Marco Morrow, assistant publisher of the Capper Farm Press, in a short talk in chapel last Tuesday.

Mr. Morrow's address had to do with the economic and social conditions and relations of mankind today. He said "Economically we are not very far removed from the cave-man," stating, in elaboration, that nowadays just as in the time of prehistoric man we take what we want. "The test of our civilization is our foresight," he maintained.

During his whole talk he stressed the fact that all our actions should be measured by the rule of public service. He preached a practical bit of gospel when he said in effect: "No man should howl about the outrages of the other fellow unless he looks upon himself as a public servant."

In ending he read a poem of his own composition which embodied much of his own personal creed. Some of the maxims from his poem and his talk are: "A comfortable error is like an old shoe." "An empty stomach is a poor passport to Heaven." "One must live unless one has a good excuse for dying."

Kenneth Dinklage Injured

Kenneth Dinklage, sophomore in civil engineering, suffered a serious accident in the roads material laboratory Saturday. The compression head of a Riehle testing machine fell on Dinklage's left hand, while he was attempting to make a change in the apparatus. Two fingers were so badly cut that seven stitches in each were necessary. It will be several weeks before Mr. Dinklage will be able to use the injured hand.

Select Furniture for Practice House
Prof. Hildegrade Kneeland and Prof. Amy Jane Leazenby of the household economics department spent Monday, October 3, in Kansas City selecting additional furnishings for the practice house. The first group of girls in the household management laboratory began work Tuesday, October 4.

For advancing knowledge of K. S. A. C. among high school students of the state the extension division is compiling a 26 page edition containing information of interest to students. Copies are to be placed in the hands of extension workers.

Nominate for Collegian Board
Nominations are now open for members of the Kansas State Collegian Board. Twenty signatures to a petition for the nomination of any person automatically nominates that person. These petitions may be originated and circulated by any student, and any student in college may be elected to membership on the board. All petitions must be handed or mailed in to the office of N. A. Crawford, on or before Monday, October 17.

BRING LITTLE THEATRE IDEA TO K. S. A. C.

DATE OF PLAYS NOVEMBER 5-6

Madame Borgny Hammer To Appear in "Ghosts"—Prices Are
To Be Lower Than Pre War Rates

The Little Theatre, first developed in Greenwich Village and later carried to art centers of the larger cities of America is to be brought to K. S. A. C.

The department of public speaking under the direction of Dr. Howard T. Hill has secured a contract with the Traveling Theatre of Chicago for three plays to be given on November 4 and 5. The dramas to be presented are "The Climax," "Chains," and Ibsen's "Ghosts."

"Chains" is an American play by Elizabeth Baker. It is heralded as a distinct contribution to American literature. The plot is alive with action and the play is full of humorous situations.

"The Climax" and "Ghosts" both of which are well known to followers of drama are two plays that Manhattan audiences are fortunate in having the opportunity to see. Madame Borgny-Hammer, the celebrated Norwegian actress who appeared, in three Ibsen plays here two years ago, is carrying the leading role in "Ghosts."

Other prominent actors cast for important roles in the three plays are Jasper Deeter and Arthur Stanhope. Mr. Deeter, until recently has been playing with John Giffin in "The Emperor Jones," which is now playing to capacity houses in Chicago. He is to play the part of Pietro, the pianist in "The Climax."

Mr. Stanhope had a leading part in the New York production of "Abraham Lincoln" but left that play to join the Traveling Theatre. Donna Loup and David Fuller, both young American actors who have been thrilling metropolitan audiences with their unusual talent are also with the Traveling Theatre.

The students of K. S. A. C. and the citizens of Manhattan will undoubtedly rejoice to know of their opportunity to see these three plays. Doctor Hill has promised lower than pre-war prices for these numbers. Further details will be announced within a few days.

HELP START A NEW TRADITION

Tradition in the making is an interesting thing to observe—or would be if we could know when we are observing it. There will be no doubt Saturday afternoon, however, that Aggie students at the Piker-Aggie gridiron contest will participate in the inauguration of a new and a worthy tradition of the Aggie gridiron.

The custom which is to be started Saturday is that of remaining in the stands and singing "Alma Mater" after the final whistle is blown instead of making a precipitate rush for the field exits as soon as the game is over.

Dignity will be lent to the exit of the contending teams by the new custom. Realization of the pride Aggie students take in them will come to the squad members. Appreciation of the sportsmanship of K. S. A. C. crowds will go with the visiting teams to their own schools.

Aggie traditions are few at present. Their constantly increasing number is gratifying to those who keep the interests of the school foremost, for they realize that through the development of school customs that that esprit de corps in the student body which is the mark of the truly great and successful school will arise.

Probably a little preparation on the part of the average student will be necessary if he is to do his full part in the inauguration of the new custom Saturday. We doubt if as many students know all three verses of "Alma Mater" as are familiar with the four stanzas of "The Star Spangled Banner." Below are the three verses and the chorus of the college song. Learn them and learn to sing them before Saturday. You'll like them when you get the swing of the tune and the lilt of the words.

I know a spot that I love full well,
'Tis not in forest nor yet in dell;
Ever it holds me with magic spell—
I think of thee Alma Mater.

Chorus:—
K. S. A. C., Carry thy banner high!
K. S. A. C. Long may thy colors fly,
Loyal to thee thy children will swell the cry,
Hail, hail, hail, Alma Mater.

There is a song that my heart would sing,
Telling of homage that love can bring;
Clear and impassioned its tones shall ring—
I sing of thee Alma Mater.

Chorus:—
Bright gleams a beacon across life's sea,
Guiding my bark wheresoe'er it be;
Emblem of truth and of constancy—
I turn to thee Alma Mater.

Chorus:—

Behind Their Backs

To quote her, "It's awful deep stuff, it does take quite a lot of brains to comprehend it."

It may or it may not—her remarks are no criterion. She would tell one that Einstein is the name given a species of German dog, that the disarmament conference is a meeting to be held in Berlin for the purpose of making Germany give back the rifles she took from Belgium, and Japan is mad because the Allies won't let Belgium divide with her.

No matter where she is she whistles constantly while she is studying (if that term can be applied to her method of preparation.) She hasn't passed more than six hours of work a semester since she slipped one over on her sorority sisters and her professors and got her pin. Every week she goes the rounds of her instructors and with tears in her eyes and a well cultivated choke in her throat says, "Oh I just can't concentrate. I just try—and try. Why every night I spend just h-o-u-r-s—and h-o-u-r-s trying to concentrate. Won't you help me. Oh I fairly weep when I think that the folks back home are thinking of me, and thinking that I'm concentrating, when I'm not concentrating at all. I can hardly bear to think—to think of it at all—"

She leaves the room struggling valiantly to hold back the big, hot, burning tears of grief and mortification, meets a "mean date" by appointment outside the door, and over her coke tells about the perfectly screaming way she is handing her instructors the goo.

She has an immense repertoire of stock wit, such as "You Tell the World," "Quit yer kiddin'," "Aw g'wan, at's all stuff," etc. When she is at a loss to think of more repartee, and merciful silence threatens to reign, she shows that she is still in command of the situation by musing up the boy's hair, untying his tie, snatching his cap and running a short distance away—Oh she knows any number of ways to avoid the reputation of being dull.

If she chances to get a dude some evening and has to make a show of possessing intelligence she is always equal to the occasion. How? Why she has picked up two phrases from Cecil DeMille's movies and is able to use them at a moments notice. They are, "Oh you cynic," and "One often wonders what will be the end of it all, doesn't one?"

When she has enough credits to be a sophomore she will leave school, marry a garage owner or a veterinarian, and spend every Monday afternoon gossiping about the women who didn't come to club meeting.

VAVILOV OF PETROGRAD DISCUSSES RUSSIAN CONDITIONS

Teachers in Petrograd Get Equivalent of Four Dollars Monthly

Dr. N. Vavilov, professor in the agricultural college of Petrograd, Russia, speaking informally to a group of K. S. A. C. professors Friday gave some interesting sidelights on the Russia of today. Doctor Vavilov is an authority on the subject of immunity, especially immunity from disease in plants, and has written a book on the general subject. His work with plants led to his breeding disease resisting plants. While at K. S. A. C. Thursday and Friday, he paid particular attention to the work done by the experiment station in genetics, including the work being done with wheat, oats, grains, sorghums, and also chickens, and various other animals.

Friday noon a luncheon was given for Doctor Vavilov at the cafeteria, and at this luncheon the Russian professor gave a great deal of interesting information, in response to the questions asked him. President W. M. Jardine and several members of the faculty were present.

Doctor Vavilov stated that it took 212 official documents to enable him to leave Russia, and intimated that it took almost as many to get into the United States. He stated that the maximum salary which an expert in his line of work can receive is 800,000 rubbles per month—at the present rate of exchange, four dollars.

The Russian people were interested in education prior to the revolution of 1917, but the privilege of attending a college was granted to the members of but a few classes. However, when the Bolshevik government gained control a proclamation was issued stating that any person, male or female, sixteen years old, could enter college regardless of his previous education, without entrance examinations. This ruling resulted in great congestion, but to quote Doctor Vavilov, "It incidentally relieved the professors of reading examination papers." The absurdity of this system of education was soon demonstrated and now the entrance standards are back to approximately pre war standards.

In spite of all the troubles of Russia, Doctor Vavilov looks forward hopefully to the future of his country.

All those who met Doctor Vavilov speak of his delightful sense of humor, and his engaging personality. He has been in the United States about seven weeks and expects to remain several more. He went from here to the Botanical Gardens in St. Louis, Mo.

R. O. T. C. HAS RECORD NUMBER

TOTAL ENROLLMENT IN MILITARY SCIENCE IS 800

Three New Officers Are Added to Department Staff This Year

According to figures recently given out by the military department the enrollment in the R. O. T. C. this year surpasses that of any previous year. At present there is a total enrollment of over 800 students in the department. Over 550 of these men are freshmen.

The rookies make up 12 companies, with approximately 65 in each company. Ten of the companies are in the infantry and the other two are made up of coast artillery men. There is no machine gun company. There are 88 taking the advanced course in military science, 46 in the infantry, 28 in the coast artillery, and 14 in the veterinary unit.

Capt. C. Jackson is the instructor in all the classes of freshmen. Major L. C. Davidson has the instruction of all those in the infantry taking military science III. Major F. B. Terrell is in charge of the advanced classes in the infantry, Major C. A. Chapman of the advanced coast artillery, and Lieutenant G. W. Brower of the advanced veterinary unit.

All branches of the military science department take up the same work in the drill period their first year but in their sophomore year the coast artillery and the veterinary unit take up different work than the infantry. The coast artillery unit is made up from students taking engineering and it is in the charge of Major Chapman. The veterinary unit includes only students taking veterinary medicine. Lieutenant Bower has charge of the instruction of this unit.

Several new officers have been added to the military department this year. Capt. D. R. Norris will be with the coast artillery and Lieut. J. V. Cole has been assigned to the infantry. Sergt. William Illingworth who was retired from Fort Williams, near Portland, Me., early this year, has been assigned to K. S. A. C. to take charge of the military band. He is a band leader of many years experience having been in army bands for 25 years. 15 of these years as a leader. He was a commissioned officer during the war. He is very much pleased with the talent at hand and thinks that both the college and military bands of K. S. A. C. will be the foremost in the country. The military band now has over 30 pieces, Sergeant Illingworth will assist Professor Wheeler with the college band, and the two intend to unite the military band with the college band for pep meetings and football games.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Spillman, Miss Winifred Woods, Miss Bethel Barrett, Miss Francis Batdorf, and Miss Velma Rader were dinner guests at the Phi Delta Theta house Sunday.

A. H. Piggies Learn Quickly and Fool Human Psychologist

And the fifth little pig said: "We-we-we, I want some, too."

In his hurry Mr. Piggy started into the wrong stall only to see one of his little brothers looking angrily at him. With drooping ears and uncurled tail, "We-we" backed out and went on down the line to his own little place for he knew—yes he did know—that one trough had food meant for him and no other, and that he shouldn't try to claim the food that belonged to a brother piglet.

It took only three days for "We-we" and his fifteen little brothers to learn which stall belonged to which pig.

How each piglet knew his own stall it would take a pig psychologist to deduce, but judging by the way human beings learn, the human psychologist had estimated that it would take the little pigs four to six weeks to understand what they actually learned in three days.

"We-we" and his clan are no common pigs. They came to college and are now at home in the barns of the animal husbandry department, where they are serving the whole race of swine and swine growers by trying to answer the question, "Will alfalfa add the necessary vitamins to a diet of corn, or kafir and tankage?"

University Women Meet

The American Association of University Women is a national organization of women college graduates whose object is the betterment of education and the broadening of opportunities for women. ## EMERSON TO BE AWAY THIS YEAR

PUBLIC SPEAKING HEAD GETS ANOTHER LEAVE

Dr. Emerson Will Coach Debate at Leland Stanford Junior University
During Absence

Dr. J. G. Emerson, head of the K. S. A. C. public speaking department, has been granted a year's addition to his leave of absence, and will coach debate in the Leland Stanford junior university, at Palo Alto, Cal. Dr. Emerson left the college last September to enter the United States public health hospital at Ft. Bayard, N. M., where he took treatment for infirmities acquired overseas. He was discharged from the hospital as being fully recovered during August, and has been visiting friends in New York City. To insure permanent recovery, however, the board of administration has extended his leave until September 1, 1922, that he might spend a year in the healthful climate of California.

After finishing his work at Iowa state College, Dr. Emerson entered the school of law at Leland Stanford junior university from which he received the degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence in 1915. While in college he gained prominence as an orator and debater, and when the vacancy in the public speaking department at latter school occurred, the position was offered him.

Dr. Emerson will teach a course in argumentation, and two courses in extempore speaking in addition to coaching debate. The Stanford debate teams are noted on the Pacific coast, and they meet only leading universities and colleges.

All students and faculty members regret that "Mike," as Doctor Emerson is familiarly known on the hill, will not be here this year, as he is one of the most popular faculty members. He expects to assume his duties as head of the public speaking department here next fall.

Rain May Spoil That Hike-- You Can Tell If You Know the Flags

What wouldn't you give to know just whether or not the rain would spoil that hike tomorrow? Why don't you quit vainly wondering and take a tip from the weather flag floating from the heights or Anderson hall?

Perhaps you haven't the habit of observing such things. Why run the risk of merely guessing at the weather when right before you is registered the expert opinion of the best authority in the United States?

Can't tell a thing about it if you do look, you say? Surely with very little effort any person of collegiate rank may look at these forecasts with intelligence. Try it.

That plain white flag means fair weather, hikes and car rides. If, however, you find yourself gazing at a square of blue you'd better keep that umbrella handy, for that's Uncle Sam's way of telling you it's going to rain or snow.

Perchance you behold two flags. Do not become alarmed. We haven't proved traitors to the one flag. That little triangle flag of blue is merely a temperature indicator. If it appears above one of the aforementioned flags it indicates rising temperature and if below, a drop in temperature.

But you see a flag half blue and half white. That means local rain or snow. If it's a white flag with black center then plan that skating party quick—for a cold wave's coming sure.

These five flags tell the whole story. Don't you see that it's not complex, but a very simple thing to interpret these weather signs, and don't you think that ever intelligent person should notice and take advantage of this bit of information posted for his convenience?

HATS NOW MARK THE ENGINEERS

ALL MEN OF DIVISION WEAR GREY STETSONS

Distinguishing Hat Bands Are Adapted for Civils, Mechanicals, and Electricals

The division of engineering has struck the keynote of fashion at last! The critics who claim that all the women do is look for style will pause here to notice that the sterner sex has fallen for fashion's wiles at last. The men of K. S. A. C. enrolled in the division of engineering have declared what it means to be in vogue in their division.

The last word in fashion for the seniors who are enrolled in the division of engineering is hats. The new sort of hat consists of a Stetson model of light grey shade with wide straight brim. The hat band is the distinguishing feature for the various departments in engineering. So bands for the men in engineering are as much in vogue as Jenny sleeves for the women. Just the proper color note for each department has been adopted, too, and the selection has been made after much careful study. Now the civils wear white hat bands. The reason is—well they are civil—why shouldn't they wear white? The mechanicals have a mohawk brown band and the electricals black.

Last year the engineers had a different mode of distinction, that of the swagger stick of red, white, and blue but was found to be passe this year and hence the hat with the distinguishing bands has been adopted.

DEAN HOLTON SEES FORMER STUDENTS IN NEW YORK

Spends August Working with Rural School Survey

After summer school was out last summer Dean E. L. Holton went to New York where he worked with the New York rural school survey. During August, and the first week in September, he worked in three lines of work, the supervision and administration of rural schools, vocational agriculture, and junior extension work, which is similar to the boys and girls club work in Kansas. Dean Holton traveled over the whole state of New York making investigations along these lines.

During his stay he had occasion to see Sam Van Scholck of the class of 1911 who is working with the Dairyman's league at Utica. He also saw John May of the class of 1910, who was doing graduate work at Cornell university. Mr. May is professor of agriculture at the state normal school at River Falls, Wis.

ESTABLISH NEW "Y" DEPARTMENT

TO DO EXTENSION WORK IN RURAL COMMUNITIES

Earl Means in Charge of Work—Will Organize Religious Enterprises and Sunday Schools

A new department, known as the religious extension, has been added to the Y. M. C. A. by the president, J. Wheeler Barger. Earl Means of Everest has been appointed on the cabinet and will be in charge of the work.

The purpose of the department is to send out groups of foreign students, quartettes, song leaders, and student speakers to churches in towns within easy reach of Manhattan. Men will also be sent out to organize Sunday schools, young people's societies, and other religious enterprises in rural communities and churches without a pastor.

Prof. Walter Burr, formerly director of rural service states, "This is a fine work for the Y. M. C. A. here to take up. In many communities in which the churches are temporarily without pastors, these young men will provide or aid in the religious and social life. An audience is always interested in hearing a speaker from a foreign country, and our foreign students will be appreciated wherever they speak."

The work will be self supporting as a fee sufficient to cover the expenses of the extension men will be charged. Mr. Means' committee will also try to keep in touch with the missionaries who have gone out from K. S. A. C. to provide information about conditions and opportunities for leadership in foreign fields.

BURR USES OWN TEXT IN RURAL ORGANIZATION CLASS

Material for Book Was Gathered in This Vicinity

Walter Burr, professor of sociology, is conducting a graduate class in rural organization this semester. The class is using Professor Burr's textbook "Rural Organization," lately published by the MacMillan company. The research work is based on the rural and town people of Manhattan and community. A number of faculty members of the extension division are enrolled in the class.

Prof. R. J. Barnett's class in systematic pomology has for use in its class work some apples that won first prize at the Colorado State fair. The apples were sent to Professor Barnett, who was one of the judges at the fair.

Prof. W. S. Wiedorn was in Topeka Monday and Tuesday attending to landscape gardening work being done on the state house grounds.

SERIGHT HEADS SENIOR CLASS

RUTH CUNNINGHAM IS ELECTED VICE PRESIDENT

Seniors Required To Pay S. S. G. A.
Dues Before Voting for Officer

At the senior class meeting Tuesday, J. J. Seright was elected president; Ruth Cunningham, vice president; Eva Leland, secretary; H. I. Richards, treasurer; Homer Bryson, historian; and T. O. Garringer, S. S. G. A. representative.

In the election 199 votes were cast, the greatest number of votes ever cast in any election of the class, with the exception of the Royal Purple contest last spring. Every person who voted was required to pay his S. S. G. A. dues, and urged to pay his class and Royal Purple assessments.

The newly elected class president has been active in class affairs, and was class treasurer last semester. He won prominence in debate last year, and is a member of the Athenian literary society and Pi Kappa Delta forensic fraternity.

KANSAS STATE ENGINEER OUT ON SATURDAY

DEDICATE MAGAZINE TO MEN WHO BUILT THE "K"

PUBLISH FOUR ISSUES THIS YEAR

Copies Not To Be Placed on Sale—Magazine Has Circulation of 1,000—Member National Organization

The first edition of the Kansas State Engineer for the school year of 1921-1922 is to appear on the campus Saturday, October 15. This publication is in magazine form and has a circulation of 1,000 copies among the engineering students of K. S. A. C., alumni, and state engineers.

The frontispiece will be a photographic reproduction of a distant view of the "K" emblem which the engineers erected on Prospect hill last spring. This issue is to be dedicated to the engineers engaged in the construction of this emblem. It is to be divided into six general sections which are: technical articles, editorials, alumni notes, exchanges, humor, and advertisements.

The Kansas State Engineer is to be issued four times during the school year. The four numbers will appear on the fifteenth of October, December, February, and May.

The Kansas State Engineer has recently become a member of a national engineering association of the colleges of the United States. Among the prominent school members of this association are Wisconsin and Kansas universities, Sibley Tech., and Ames.

One of the feature articles of this issue will be the plan submitted for the reorganization and coordination of the engineering seminars.

A slide rule is to be awarded to the engineering student who has written the best article for publication in this issue. The winner of this contest will be announced and the article printed in this issue of the magazine. The prize will be awarded at the first general seminar after the date of publication.

This magazine is the official organ of the engineering division of K. S. A. C. and is supported by subscriptions among the engineers of the school. It is not thought that any copies will be placed on sale as was the custom last year. The subscription price is $1 for the four issues. Free copies are furnished the libraries of all Kansas high schools and the exchanges of other engineering schools.

FIRST CONCERT PROVES POPULAR

CYRENA VAN GORDON MAKES HIT WITH AUDIENCE

Program Was Especially Adapted for College Students—Singer Repeatedly Encored

If a singer's popularity is to be judged by the enthusiasm of the audience, Cyrena Van Gordon stands as high in popular favor as any artist who ever appeared at K. S. A. C.

Miss Van Gordon, who appeared Thursday evening in the first number of the Artists' Series, was given an ovation each time she appeared on the stage and was repeatedly encored. She fully lived up to all advance promises and the audience, although small, was very appreciative. Cyrena Van Gordon has a rare combination of voice, beauty, and personality, that holds an audience spellbound. An extremely large woman, she makes a very imposing appearance and this adds much to her personal magnetism without detracting from her charm.

Her program was arranged especially for a student audience and the arrangement was a good one. The group of French songs in the first part of the program were well received, but more popular songs in the latter part were uproariously applauded. The hit of the evening, however, was reserved until the last number, "The Cry of the Valkyrie." This is the song which made Miss Van Gordon famous and everyone in the audience Thursday night added their amen to the approval of Chicago and New York. It was the most wonderful performance heard in Manhattan for a long time and one that will never be forgotten by those who heard it.

Hockey Color Tournament Starts
The hockey color tournament starts this week. All girls who went out once to class hockey practice were chosen for color teams. From the color teams will be chosen the girls for the class teams. The games start at 5 o'clock, and two games will be played each evening.

HILL IS POPULAR AS ENTERTAINER

FILLS SIXTEEN ENGAGEMENTS WITHIN TWO WEEKS

Is Teaching Class of Public School Teachers and Group of Business Men

Dr. Howard T. Hill, head of the public speaking department, is living up to his belief that each person has an obligation of citizenship—that of rendering service in every way he can. He has given 16 addresses or series of entertaining reading during the past two weeks, and will start two classes for downtown people next week.

Some of the meetings which Doctor Hill has addressed are the Riley County Teachers' association, the College Hill Farmers' Union, American Legion mixer, De Molay installation, College club reception, and Masonic mixer.

Doctor Hill met a class of high school and grade teachers at the community house Thursday for the first time and will give them weekly instruction in public speaking. Doctor Hill hopes his instruction will make the members of his class better teachers of reading, which subject he feels is too much neglected in the public schools. The class, which was organized by Mary Dudley, a K. S. A. C. graduate, has an enrollment of 12.

The chamber of commerce has also secured Doctor Hill's service in teaching public speaking to a group of 20 business men. The class which is being formed by F. W. Jensen, chamber of commerce secretary, will be composed largely of the same business men who took a course in advertising last spring under H. W. Davis, head of the English department.

MAY SOWERS AND ALVA MESENEIMER HIT BY CAR

Miss Sowers Slightly Bruised—Meseneimer More Seriously Hurt

In an auto accident on Bertrand street at 10 o'clock Friday evening Miss May Sowers was slightly bruised and Mr. Alva Meseneimer was seriously injured. Both are college students.

The couple was walking west on Bertrand between Sixth and Seventh when they were met by a large car coming from the west. The car had bright lights and was being driven at a high rate of speed. As Miss Sowers and Mr. Meseneimer turned out for the large car they were struck by a Ford which approached from the east. It is claimed that the Ford had poor lights and was being driven fast.

Immediately following the accident the victims were taken to the Parkview hospital. Miss Sowers was only slightly bruised and is expected to be out soon. Meseneimer's condition, however, is more serious as he was seriously injured about the back, and in one place suffered a severe cut requiring five stitches.

Block and Bridle Meeting
The Block and Bridle club will hold a short but very important business meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday evening at 7:30.

Webster Meeting Wednesday
There will be an important Webster business meeting at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening in the society hall. All Webs are urged to attend.

BEGIN Y. W. MEMBERSHIP DRIVE TODAY

TRY NEW ALTERNATE PLAN THIS YEAR

DO NOT ASK FOR MONEY NOW

Campaign Lasts Two Weeks—Senior, Junior, and Sophomore Members Must Be Re-Pledged

The membership campaign of the Y. W. C. A. begins today and will continue until October 22. It is the plan of the association to ask every girl enrolled in K. S. A. C. to sign the membership pledge of the association. Alice DeWitt, who is chairman of the membership committee of the Y. W. C. A. will have charge of the drive and committees of girls working under her direction, will visit the college girls to obtain their pledge.

Ask No Money Now
The financial campaign of the Y. W. C. A. will not be made until later in the year and no promise as to the amount of dues to be paid is made in the membership pledge. At the time of the finance campaign the association will follow its usual custom of allowing the girls to pay just whatever they feel they can afford.

Use New Plan
This year the new alternate plan, which was approved at the Cleveland conference held two years ago, is to be used. The local use of this alternate plan, or the old plan by which a girl must be a member of a Protestant-Evangelical church to vote in the Y. W. C. A. is left optional with the association. By the new plan all that a girl need do to have voting membership in the association is to sign the Y. W. C. A. pledge. It is asked by those in charge of the membership drive that the pledges be signed thoughtfully, as otherwise the new alternate plan cannot succeed.

Re-Pledge Old Members
The new alternate basis will require that all old members be re-pledged. The first week of the campaign will be devoted to repledging senior, junior, and sophomore girls, while the second week will be devoted to pledging freshman girls.

W. A. A. PARTY IS BIG SUCCESS

PRIZE FOR BEST COSTUME AWARDED HELEN LARSON

Negro Minstrel, Grand March, and Dance Are Features of Evening

If the reports of the girls that were present, are taken as a criterion, the costume party given by the W. A. A., Friday evening was a success in every way. The party was scheduled for 7:30, but as the pep meeting was also called for that time the girls went to the pep meeting first.

One entertaining feature of the party was a negro minstrel in which Anna Best, president of the W. A. A. and Julia Caton, swimming manager, had the leading parts. Others taking part were Betty McCain, Ella Knight, Florence Johnson, Mary Nuttle, Laura Fayman, Madge Locke, Ella Wilson, and Anita Jolley.

During the evening a grand march and dance was staged for the purpose of showing off the costumes to better advantage.

The judges of the costumes were Dean Mary Pearce Van Zile, Miss Irene Dean, Miss Louise Tauche, Miss Mary E. Worrall, Miss Helen Elcock, and Miss Grace Hesse. The first prize, a box of chocolates, was awarded to Helen Larson, who was dressed as a little boy. Booby prize, a tin cup and rolly-polly, was awarded to Alice Marston. The Rogers' clothing store of Aggieville offered a prize to the girl whose costume was the best. Those receiving honorable mention were: Lucille Whan, who was dressed as a grandmother, Ruby Cottrell, who was dressed as a cowboy, and Marie Adams, who was dressed as a football star.

Refreshments of ice cream cones were served during the evening. The committee in charge of the party was, Anna Best, Betty McCain, Alice Marston, Bertha Gwin, Dorothy Lukert, and Julia Rummel.

W. A. A. Installs Officers

W. A. A. held a meeting Thursday evening at 5 o'clock and installed the following officers: marshal, Grace Headrick; basketball manager, Belle Hagans; tennis manager, Ruth Kittell; swimming manager, Julia Caton; baseball manager, Lenore Russel; publicity manager, Bertha Gwin.

H. E. DEAN GOES TO CALIFORNIA

WILL TEACH IN SUMMER SCHOOL AT UNIVERSITY

Is Granted Leave of Absence For Work—Will Teach Two Subjects

Dr. Helen Bishop Thompson, dean of the division of home economics, has been granted a leave of absence for next summer, so that she may teach in the summer school of the University of California. For some time Walter M. Hart, dean of the summer session of the University of California, has invited some of the foremost women from the various colleges and universities of the United States to present courses at the California summer session.

Dean Hart invited Doctor Thompson to teach in California last summer but as she had already made her arrangements for her vacation work she could not accept.

In the summer session, which lasts from June 26 to August 6, Doctor Thompson expects to teach two subjects, human nutrition, and household science organization and administration.

The first is similar to the nutrition course given here. The second is described as a study of the development of household sciences as subject matter, with discussion of plans of organization from the standpoint of teaching and administration in secondary schools, colleges and extension fields.

"K" ON PROSPECT TO BE PAINTED

FRESHMEN IN ENGINEERING WILL DO WORK

Paint Emblem White with Border of Luminous Paint—Put on Fresh Coat Annually

A new custom. A new tradition for K. S. A. C. The "K" emblem on Prospect hill is to be dressed for the winter season by the freshmen engineers. The new clothes will consist of a coat of white paint for the body of the letter and a narrow border of luminous paint around the edges. The "K" will then advertise the Aggies' glory for 24 hours of each day.

The pilgrimage to Prospect, to paint the Aggie "K," will be the duty of each freshman engineer who enters K. S. A. C. in the years to come.

AGGIES WIN FIRST CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

BACHMAN'S MACHINE ROLLS PIKERS FOR A 21 TO 0 SCORE

AGGIES OPEN UP ON PASSES

Swartz, Sebring, Stark, and Burton Handle Aeronautics—Staib Gets Fractured Ankle—Many Substitutes in Last Quarter

Bachman's fighting Aggies won the first lap in the Missouri valley championship race Saturday. Twenty-one to 0 was the final score in the Aggie-Washington dispute, and the score graphically tells the story. A brilliant passing game opened by the Aggies at the start of the second quarter was the downfall of the Piker aggression. During the second and third periods the air was dark with footballs. The St. Louis warriors with the guttural names milled around wildly and glared helplessly at the Aggie backs and ends who fox-trotted around in their midst and grabbed footballs out of the air with suspicious regularity. But they have the referee's word that only one pigskin at a time was used by the Swartz-Stark-Sebring-Burton aerial neocomancers.

Complete Fourteen Passes

The Aggies were hurling the leather as if it were a baseball, and the stubborn blocking Aggie linemen gave the Near Beer City athletes no chance to break up the Aggie aerial offensive. Bachman's men completed 14 out of 19 attempts for a total of 13½ yards. Not content with this they intercepted five of the Pikers' tries and returned them for good gains. The Washington tribe launched 17 passes and completed six for 113 yards.

Two Touchdowns in Second Quarter

The Pikers started aggressively, keeping the oval in Aggie territory most of the first quarter. But it was only a flash in the pan. Shortly after the second period opened, Swartz suddenly changed to the overheard attack. Four of the flights in succession and a final flip, Swartz to Stark, placed the ball over for the first touchdown. The next Aggie score came just before the end of the period. Thompson, Piker quarter, fumbled a snapback, Staib fell on the ball, and two passes by Swartz to Burton and Sebring for 20 yards put the oval on the Piker 12 yard line and Sears smashed through for touchdown.

Sebring Kicks Goals

The final Aggie counter also resulted from passes in the third quarter, Stark to Burton, a line buck by Sears, and a pass from Swartz to Sebring behind the goal line. Sebring kicked all three goals.

Bachman sent in practically all substitutes in the last quarter. But even they handled the disconcerted visitors roughly, Brandley charging through the line repeatedly, and Sebring and Swartz still breaking up the long aerial flights attempted by the Pikers. Stark's punting showed much improvement, while Shanley's and Thompson's kicking was weak after the first quarter. The Aggies managed 12 first and tens to the visitors five, and the former made 190 yards from scrimmage compared with 111 made by Washington.

First Quarter

Schindler kicked off and Mathias was downed on Piker 30 yard line. Thompson punted. Burton negotiated five and a pass, Stark to Burton counted five. Burton was injured but stayed in. Stark kicked and Thompson hurled a 35 yard pass to Thumser. Swartz caught Thompson's feeble attempt at drop kick. An exchange of punts placed Aggie ball in shadow of goal posts. Stark punted out of danger to Shanley and Hahn downed him in his tracks. Visitor's ball in middle of field at end of quarter.

Second Quarter

Shanley and Swartz exchanged punts and Stark passed to Sebring for 18 yards. Stark skirted end for 12, and a Stark to Burton flip added 8. Burton caught Swartz's pass lying on his back but an Aggie was off side. Stark placed a pretty punt out of bounds on Piker one yard line. They kicked and Stark returned to enemy 16 yard line. Stark passed to Burton for five, Sears hit the line for two, and a pass, Swartz to Stark put the oval over. Sebring kicked goal.

The next counter came just before the end of the quarter. Thompson fumbled and Staib fell on the ball. 9 Swartz to Sebring pass for 15, another Stark to Burton, five, and Sears lugged it over in two charges. Sebring kicked goal. Aggies 14, Washington 0.

Third Quarter

Aggies returned Piker kick off to 28 yard line. Stark's pass went over Burton's head. Stark kicked and Winters downed Shanley for no gain. Shanley punted into the bleachers from his 12 yard line for 20 yards. Stark passed to Sebring for five, and Sears made it first and 10. A 12 yard flip, Stark to Burton placed Aggie ball on Washington 1 yard line. Sears made one and Swartz twirled the fall to Sebring back of the line for touchdown. Sebring kicked goal, the ball to Sebring back of the line ball on Aggies' 35 yard line. Then Sebring hooked Thompson's pass and darted through to visitors' 20 yard line, but the ball was brought back by the referee. Sebring intercepted another aerial heave on his 20 yard line. Cowell made six and Swartz punted to middle of field. Thumser passed to Schanus for six, and repeated. Swartz rescued a long pass by Thompson on Aggie 30 yard line. A 10 yard pass, Swartz to Cowell left the ball on Aggie 45 yard line. Aggie 21, Washington 0.

Last Quarter

A practically new line up faced the Pikers. Clements cluttered up Thompson's second pass of the period and Washington recovered the ball in the scramble. Swartz intercepted another of Thompson's aerial tries and two more by the Piker quarter went wild. During the rest of the period the ball remained in Washington territory. The end of the game found the Aggies' ball on Washington's 30 yard line.

Staib, Aggie tackle, received a fractured ankle, and Burton, Cleland, and Sebring were battered somewhat in the battle. The Aggie line performed valiantly in stopping the Piker rushes and opening paths for the Aggie backs.

The Line Up

Aggies	Washington
Winter	L. E. Schanus
Schmitz	L. T. Krahe
Hahn	L. G. Singleton
Cleland	C. Hafner
Schindler	R. G. Kurris
Staib	R. T. Denny
Sebring	R. E. Shanley
Swartz	Q. Thompson
Stark	L. H. Mathias
Burton	R. H. Thumser
Sears	F. Young

Substitutions—Steiner for Schindler, Cowell for Burton, Yandal for Stark, Murphy for Cleland, Nichols for Staib, Clements for Sears, Brandley for Cowell, Linn for Sebring, Stark for Yandal, Bryan for Stark, Harris for Swartz, Franz for Schmitz, Quinn for Hahn, Smith for Winter.

Washington—Dougdale for Shanley, Weiner for Hafner.

Penalties—Aggies, 6 for 60 yards; Washington 2 for 10 yards.

SIDE LINE COMMENT

Can you imagine a K. U. scout hurrying home from Saturday's game to Coach "Potsy" Clark of the Jayhawks, with the fearful news of that Aggie passing combination?

Staib's ankle was badly injured in the second half and he may not get back into the game again this season. Staib was making himself popular with the fans by his work during the game.

IT'S TIME TO SIGN UP GIRLS

The campaign for membership in the Young Women's Christian association starts today. The drive is a yearly affair, put on, not because the organization is afraid of becoming defunct for lack of supporters, but because it can, by holding an organized campaign, offer the new girls a better opportunity of becoming connected with it.

It can truthfully be said that when the organization invites a girl to enter, it is not asking, but conferring a favor. Membership in the Y. W. C. A. gives a girl almost the best chance she can avail herself of to become actively interested in college life.

The scope of the body's activities is broad. Its members are engaged in every form of activity. There is interesting work for every one.

And in return for work, the association's members are repaid many times over in every form of benefit, from fun and enjoyment of all kinds, to sane counsel and advice, and beneficial guidance.

The Y. W. C. A. is among the most representative organizations on the hill. Everybody is welcome to join, everybody works, and everybody enjoys the fruits of the labor.

MEOW A LITTLE LOUDER PLEASE

The Wampus Cats—K. S. A. C.'s official pepstir organization—is with us, and has come to stay. At the game Saturday, the chaps with the purple trousers conclusively demonstrated their right to a permanent place in the Aggie athletic traditions of the future.

The work of these reticence-killers fills a need which has long existed in Aggie athletic circles. The wonders performed by this little nucleus of enthusiasm at the beginning of the Washington game and during the half were appreciated by everyone, and the organization is to be commended—much more so, in fact, than was indicated by the applause of the crowd. What is needed is more cooperation between the Cats and the gang on the other side of the fence. When the Wampus Cats do a good bit, let's applaud them. It will not make them mad.

But there is another angle to it. There should also be cooperation between the Wampus Cats and the cheer leaders. The Cats have asked for student support and have received it. Now the students feel that they should receive more for their money. To be more specific, they feel that the Wampus Cats should do a little more wampusing throughout the game. Last time the Cats rested peacefully on their stomachs during the most brilliant playing. This was indeed a poor example to be set by a group hailed as a pep organization. Why can't the Wampus Cats meow more?

Iowa State claims to be the collegiate pioneer in the promotion of the grand old game of horseshoes. Several weeks ago a story was published to the effect that Ames and Drake were to meet in a horseshoe contest. Since that time athletic director Maysor of Ames has had to hire a special stenographer to take care of the correspondence on the subject.

AG PROFS TELL ABOUT ALFALFA

CALL AND THROCKMORTON ISSUE NEW BULLETIN

Results of Ten Years of Experimental Work Are Given in Publication

Prof. L. E. Call and Prof. R. I. Throckmorton are the authors of a bulletin entitled "Fertilizers for Alfalfa in Eastern Kansas," recently published by the Agricultural experiment station, of K. S. A. S.

Alfalfa acreage in Kansas has decreased during the last five years, and the purpose of this bulletin is to give publication to the most advanced methods of fertilizing alfalfa land so that this crop can compete successfully with the weeds which are among its worst enemies.

The authors of the bulletin, ten years ago, began work on experimental plots on the agronomy farm of the station, and later on farms located in various sections of the state.

Each piece of land was divided into plots, each plot receiving different treatment. It was found that when acid phosphate was used the increase in yield was greatest and in spite of the expense of this fertilizer, the profit varied from 200 to over 500 per cent.

The bulletin also points out that great care in preparing the seed bed is essential to a proper growth of alfalfa. Anyone who is interested, can obtain this publication by writing to the director of the agricultural experiment station for Bulletin 226.

Sunday dinner guests at the Chi Omega house were Miss Florence Helzer; and Miss Joyce Haskell of Garden City.

The class in agricultural journalism, taught by Mr. Rogers, is only about half as large as that class usually is. The class has an enrollment of 20 this semester. Some of these boys will write for the "Agricultural Student," the publication to be published by the Ag. division.

Mrs. C. E. Rogers, Mrs. Carl Butler, and Mrs. Meade Hargiss motored to Topeka Wednesday.

A New Aggie Dance Organization

The Orchestra with the Stuff

"Dick" Fox is a pianist of six years experience, and pounds a mean "keyboard." He has played for many Aggie dances and those who know him will tell you that he is an orchestra by himself.

Junior Layton plays his "fiddle" like a professional and the way to appreciate him is to hear him play.

"Scrub" Fisher is a real cornet player. He has had years of experience and his playing shows it. You all know of his ability as a bandman, and his jazz is far better, so watch your chance and hear him.

"Dick" Hartigan is another well known dance man in Manhattan. He "toots" his saxophone in that old "peppy way that makes your feet say—come on here brother—let's horn in on this gang and get some jazzy-gyration out of our system."

MUSIC PROFS DO WORK IN TOWN

NEARLY ALL STAFF ENGAGE IN COMMUNITY WORK

Direct Church Choirs and Orchestras
—Miss Colburn Is Organist
—Miss Ellis, Soloist

If service rendered is the true measure of a department's strength the K. S. A. C. music department takes all honors.

In addition to their duties on the hill practically all the members of the department are engaged in community work. The Manhattan churches, Sunday schools, and the community at large are the chief beneficiaries of these activities.

Prof. Ira Pratt, head of the department, is giving a great deal of his time to this outside work. Besides directing the choir at the Methodist church he has organized a men's community chorus, a new thing in Manhattan.

Three other church choirs are under the leadership of members of the music faculty. Mr. William Lindquist is the director at the Baptist church, Miss Katherine Kimmel at the Congregational, and Mr. O. I. Gruber at the United Presbyterian. Miss Edna Ellis is the representative at the Presbyterian church where she is the soprano soloist.

The instructors of instrumental music are doing their bit also. Miss Helen Colburn is the organist at the Methodist church, and Harold P. Wheeler directs the orchestra at the Congregational Sunday school. This orchestra is composed wholly of Aggies who are also members of the college orchestra.

The Sunday school orchestra at the Methodist church is directed by Miss Helen Hennen. Miss Hennen is also in charge of the orchestra at the Manhattan high school.

Dean and Mrs. R. A. Seaton were dinner guests of the Delta Delta Delta sorority Sunday, October 9.

Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Hull and Mr. and Mrs. James Rannels were dinner guests of the Pi Beta Phi house Sunday, October 9.

Miss Geraldine Hull and Miss Corrine Smith spent the week end at Topeka.

CHORUS OF 300 WILL GIVE MESSIAH HERE IN DECEMBER

Church Choirs of Manhattan Will Assist College Students

A student chorus of over 200 members has been organized by Prof. Ira Pratt, head of the music department.

Professor Pratt is directing the chorus himself and is already preparing them for the production of the Messiah on December 18. With this large student chorus and with the cooperation of the church choirs he hopes to give an unusually successful performance.

The choirs of all the Manhattan churches have voted to assist the college chorus in the Messiah. The choirs will swell the total number to something over 300. Choirs from surrounding towns may also take part.

Cowell Is Successful Coach

As a coach, Everett Cowell is still playing a good game through the success of his Norton high school team. The team won a victory over the Lucas high school, September 23, with a score of 13-3. H. G. Gentry and Ivy Case are also teaching in the Norton high school.

Miss Dorothy Neely spent the week end at her home in Abilene.

Miss Leah McIntyre, '20, who has been spending a month's vacation at her home in Topeka, spent the week end visiting at the Delta Zeta house. Miss McIntyre is dietitian at a hospital in San Francisco, Cal.

Miss Ada Robertson, who is teaching in Courtland, and Miss Gertrude Ramsey, who is teaching at Enterprise, spent the week end at the Delta Zeta house.

Miss Rachel Jacobs spent the week end at her home in Council Grove.

Miss Dorothy Dodge spent the week end at her home in Abilene.

Miss Bethel Barrett and Miss Eleanor Dempsey motored to Frankfort Saturday, October 8.

Sunday dinner guests at the Sigma Phi Epsilon house were Prof. and Mrs. Ira Pratt and Miss Irma Nevins.

The following were Sunday dinner guests at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, Mrs. W. A. Layton, Miss Pauline Layton, Robert and Billie Layton of Salina, Clarence Freeto and Charles Allen of Topeka, Giles Sullivan of Wamego and Walter Hampson of Fredonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Springer and children were dinner guests at the Delta Zeta house Sunday.

Miss Norine Weddle and Miss Susie Kyle were guests at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house this week end.

A drum and bugle corps is to be organized in the second battalion Monday afternoon. The corps will help the military band in marches.

SIDE LINE COMMENT

ington" read a banner in the Wampus Cat parade. The Aggies did. They also took the starch out of the Pikers.

Stark's punt out of bounds on the Piker one yard line was accurately placed and was a contributing factor in the Aggie's first counter.

Winter got down under punts with surprising swiftness. He tackled several of the St. Louis backs almost before they had caught the ball.

Hahn, big right guard, doesn't look fast. But in the first quarter he skimmed half the length of the field and downed Shanley before the latter could get under way with Stark's punt.

That program by Wheeler's Aggie band would have put pep into an undertaker's convention.

Thompson, star passer of the Pikers, hurled a 35-yard pass to Shanley right off the reel. But Swartz and Sebring discouraged the Piker quarter when they camped on the receiving end of five of his long flips.

The way Alma Mater rang out over the field of victory after the battle shows that the fans also have the right spirit this year.

Cleland, Schmitz, and Schindler were stopping the enemy assaults in their usual consistent manner. "Shifty" is pretty sore from the battering and may not get in the Creighton game.

Brandley, substituting at half, smashes through the line a good deal like the hard hitting Sears. His spectacular charge to the Washington goal line was lost by an Aggie penalty.

And Bryan's toe is not to be despised. "Rocky" made several pretty punts in the last period.

A total of 24 Aggies were given a chance under fire in the battle, and convinced the coaches that some mighty good gridiron material is lying in reserve.

Mike and "Bach" were as tickled as two kids Saturday night. Shouldn't wonder if they celebrated by taking aboard a little Near Beer with a St. Louis label.

BATTLE WITH CREIGHTON U. IS TOMORROW

MANY VETERANS OUT OF GAME BECAUSE OF INJURIES

CATHOLICS HAVE A HUSKY CREW

Three Conference Games To Be Played This Week—Should Give Some Valley Dope—Creighton Undefeated

This week end the Aggies are playing in foreign territory. Mike Ahearn and Coach Bachman have gone forth to Omaha with 24 of their football charges to conquer the gridiron gladiators of Creighton university at that place Saturday.

The contest with the Omaha eleven is a non-conference game and will not affect the Aggie standing in the Missouri Valley race. Nevertheless, the Aggie men are going after the Catholics' scalps just to keep in the habit of winning. But with four Aggie stars in liniments and bandages, neither Mike Ahearn nor Bachman are boastful regarding the conflict with the Nebraskans. Stauffer has not fully recovered from the terrific battering by the elephantine Emporia linemen. Staib, who suffered a fractured ankle in the Piker game, will be out the rest of the season. Cleland will watch from the sidelines. And "Ding" Burton, sensational Aggie pass receiver, may deprive the spectators of a few thrills by being out of the lineup. Yandall is also on the hospital list.

Catholics Not Yet Scored On

Creighton has always put out a strong scrappy eleven. Only Huston's cultured toe saved the Aggies from a scoreless tie last year, and Creighton held Drake to a lone touchdown. The Catholics have played two games this year and have not been scored on. Last season Des Moines won over them 21 to 0. This year Creighton reversed the tables, winning from the Iowa school 23 to 0, which would indicate that they have a stronger team than last year. In the first game of the season they buried South Dakota Wesleyan 37 to 0.

Team Possesses Toe Artists

The Omaha World Journal refers to the "rock-ribbed" line of the Catholics and asserts that the Blue and White have the best team they have had in years. Coach Curtiss, who scouted the Creighton-Des Moines game reports a backfield with plenty of speed and punch. Conlow, full-back, excels at drop kicking and punting. They also have two other versatile toe artists. A curious fact is that all three are portside kickers, using the left foot to drive the oval through the air. Lane, right half, was the bright star of the St. Mary's Kansas conference team last year and has twice made the All-Kansas eleven. Kelley, another St. Mary's All-Kansas man, is also on the Creighton squad.

Aggie Fans Are Optimistic

Despite the fact that the Aggie mentors are not elated over tomorrow's game, Aggie fans are optimistic. They have beheld the smoothest working and most aggressive machine seen on the college field for a long, long time. The team's fighting spirit is infectious. The enthusiastic followers of the Purple are looking ahead a bit, and already they are convinced that when the 1921 season has become history and the padded uniforms packed away for another year, that among the vanquished colors will be one of Crimson and Blue, late of Lawrence, Kan. The yawning holes in the Aggie line at the start of the season seem to be satisfactorily filled. And Bachman is coaching, that is enough for the fans.

Aggies Head Valley Race

The Aggies are credited with heading the valley race. Ames also won its opening battle with Grinnell but by a smaller score. Tomorrow will see six of the nine valley eleven locking horns. Missouri meets Ames, K. U. plays Drake, and Grinnell opposes Washington. The Missouri-Drake and Grinnell-Washington engagements will be of most interest to Aggie followers. Grinnell's showing against a team that the Aggies have already humbled should give the fans a basis for comparing the Wildcats and the Pioneers. The Missouri-Drake outcome will also be carefully noted, as the Wildcats tangle with the Tigers here a week from tomorrow.

The Aggie team will return from Omaha shortly after noon Sunday.

Prof. Learns Sport Vernacular

The stuff an English professor usually writes is too dry to suit Prof. H. W. Davis, so he has decided to broaden his field a little. That is why he can be seen with pencil and notebook, in the press box at Ahearn field, watching with eager eyes the plays made by the Aggies and their opponents, any time a game is in progress. Hereafter, when you want to read a good, full account of a football game, turn to your copy of the Collegian, and read Professor Davis' description.

START COLLEGE SPANISH SOCIETY

LA SOCIEDAD HISPANICA HOLDS FIRST MEETING

Members Read Spanish Magazines and Newspapers—May Give Play

La Sociedad Hispanica, the new Spanish club, held its first meeting Tuesday afternoon in A74, elected officers, and held some discussion as to the purpose and policy of the society, and something as to the plans for the year. The officers are: Paul McConnell, president; Clara Evans, vice president; and Rowena Thornburg, secretary-treasurer.

The club was formed at the suggestion of Miss Grace Hesse, modern language instructor, and is intended to enable those who are especially interested in Spanish to gain the basis for a more practical use of the language.

All conversation at the meetings will be held in Spanish, and the minutes of the meetings, reports, etc., will be given in the same manner. Spanish newspapers and magazines will be read and discussed and some short Spanish play will probably be produced.

All those students who have had either two high school years or one college year of Spanish may be members. Meetings will be held every Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in A74.

ASSOCIATION LAND GRANT COLLEGES MEETS NOVEMBER 8-11

President Jardine and Other Executive Officers Will Probably Attend

The 35th annual meeting of the association of land grant colleges is to be held at New Orleans, November 8-11. This organization is, as its name suggests, an association of administrative officials of the various land grant colleges of the United States.

More than 200 representatives of the various colleges meet to discuss their mutual problems. Special meetings are held for the divisions of agriculture, home economics, and engineering, at which committee reports and papers dealing with subjects of particular interest to each group are presented.

It has not been decided definitely who is to go from this college, but President W. M. Jardine and some of the other executive officers will probably attend.

Collegian Board Petitions in Monday

All petitions for the nominations of members for the Collegian board, must be in the hands of Prof. N. A. Crawford not later than Monday, October 17. In order to be nominated for the board it is necessary to get the signature of 20 students.

"Y" CAMPAIGN BRINGS FROSH TO K. S. A. C.

ATTENDANCE FROM SCHOOLS VISITED SHOW INCREASE

CARRY ON WORK AGAIN THIS YEAR

McPherson and Howe In Charge "Go to College" Campaign—Limited by Finances in Work To Be Done

Data from the registrar's office shows that the "Go to College" campaign put on by the Y. M. C. A. last spring was no doubt the means of interesting many students in coming to K. S. A. C. The number of freshmen here this year, as compared with last, shows an increase in attendance from every high school visited by the college teams.

Some of the Results

Last year not a single freshman was enrolled from Alma. This year the Alma high school is represented by seven freshmen. Only two freshmen were here from Junction City last year, while 13 are in attendance this semester. The number of freshmen from Abilene this year is nine as compared with only one last year. The number of freshmen from Clay Center and Herington has been doubled, and the representation from Topeka and Salina, as well as from many smaller schools has greatly increased. Several small schools which were visited by Aggie teams are represented by freshmen this year, although no graduates from the class of '20 were in attendance here last year. Marysville, Westmoreland, and Oldsburg are included in this list.

Programs Influenced Students

Replies to questionnaires and conversations with students from schools formerly not well represented at K. S. A. C. indicate that the programs which the extension teams put on in chapel were the means of influencing many students in coming to college. One student from Topeka said, "The program which was put on in our chapel last spring sure did a lot of good. The music by the glee club quartette was a treat, and the speakers gave us a birdseye view of the courses and activities at K. S. A. C. The program set me to thinking, and caused me to decide to come here."

Another freshman from Junction City said, "That the program put on in our high school did much good cannot be denied. I had not intended to go to college until the last of August when my father said he could send me. When I was given the opportunity of going, the school which I naturally thought of was K. S. A. C." All of the freshmen interviewed from schools which were visited feel that the work was worth while and should be continued.

McPherson Campaign Manager

The "Go to College" campaign last year was managed by C. C. McPherson of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet. The alumni association, the Y. W. C. A., and several of the county clubs helped in financing the work. Much credit for the success of the work is due the Y. W. C. A., as not only did they assist financially, but the girls always helped on the programs.

Continue Work This Year

The extension work will be continued this year under the leadership of C. C. McPherson and Charles H. Howe, of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet. The only limitation on the project is finances, according to J. Wheeler Barger, president of the "Y," who says, "We hope to have teams visit the larger high schools in the state, and those within easy reach of Manhattan. The work is interesting and worth while. Many high school principals and city school superintendents have already asked that teams visit their high schools. The importance of the work is appreciated by everyone who knows about it and who has seen its results. The cooperation of many organizations in putting the work across is expected."

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Holsinger and Mrs. D. I. Plankford of Kansas City, Mo., visited at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house over the week end.

Poetry Publishes Crawford's Verse

In the October number of Poetry appears a series of poems entitled "Fragilities," by Prof. N. A. Crawford. The magazine also contains individual poems called "Song," "A Lake," "Companionship," "Impotence," and "Branches."

Two of Mr. Crawford's reviews were published also. One was on "Essays by Lowell and Erskine," and the other is a review of a book of poems by Philipotts.

Photograph Engineering Students

A photograph of the engineering student body was taken on Thursday, October 13. The students gathered in front of the engineering building where bleachers were erected for the occasion.

No seminar was held as most of the hour was spent in taking the picture.

BEGIN WORK ON NEW CAFETERIA

CONTRACTOR EXPECTS TO HAVE BUILDING FINISHED JULY 15

If Winter Is Open Completion in Spring Is Possibility—W. F. Scott, Contractor

Work on the new cafeteria building which is to be located near the south campus gate east of the walk, started Monday morning. Scott Brothers of Peabody and Wichita are the contractors. The building is to be two stories high, built of native limestone and trimmed with cararra. All the floors are tile. The main entrances are on the north, with an east and a west entrance, and a basement entrance on the south.

The contractor, W. F. Scott, expects to have the building done by July 15. The excavation will be completed by next week, and the work on the foundations will begin. It is expected that only the concrete work on the first floor can be finished before winter, and during the cold months the workmen will quarry the stone, in order to have it ready for use next spring. However, if the winter is open, the work will continue and the building will be ready for occupancy in the spring. This, however, is very improbable.

The cafeteria on the main floor will serve 330 people at one time. There will be a director's and an assistant director's office on this floor, and the kitchen will be located in the south wing.

The second floor has a large tea room, with three dining alcoves for private dinners. These three alcoves may be thrown together to make one large banquet room. There is also a tea room kitchen on this floor.

The basement contains a dish-washing room, to which the dishes are sent from the dining room by sub-voyers, a sort of "endless chain" arrangement, which will greatly hasten the handling of used dishes. There also will be storage and refrigerating rooms, and an issuing room connected with the kitchen by dumb waiters. A garbage room at the south basement entrance provides a place for the unsightly garbage cans which usually decorate the back of Kedzie hall.

This building will also contain class and laboratory rooms on the second floor, to be used by Miss Hildegard Kneeland's classes in household management.

TO GIVE CARMEN HERE TUESDAY

Lovejoy and Bess Curry Are Also with Ralph Dunbar Company

The Ralph Dunbar production of Bigot's Carman which shows at the Marshall theater Tuesday evening, October 18, is directed by A. E. Westbrook, former head of the K. S. A. C. music department.

Mr. Westbrook is now director of the Dunbar school of opera in Chicago, the largest school of its kind in the country. It has long been known for the quantity and the fine quality

DAIRY TEAM AGAIN FIRST AT NATIONAL

CARRY OFF HIGHEST HONORS THIRD CONSECUTIVE TIME

"AGGIES' RECORD UNEQUALLED

J. M. Moore, Lynn Copeland, and George Starkey Are Prize Winning Judges—Two Trophies Come Here Permanently

In the face of keen competition from teams representing 15 of the largest institutions in the country the Aggie dairy judging team again carried off first honors at the National Dairy show held this week in St. Paul, Minn.

In winning first place the team members brought a number of honors to their alma mater that have never been won by any other college in the United States. This is the third time in as many years that an Aggie team has captured first place in the National, a record which will probably stand for many years if not for all time. K. S. A. C. is also the first institution in the country to win permanently either the National Dairy show cup or Hoard's Dairyman's cup and the Aggie team, by winning the trophies for three successive years, has brought both of these coveted cups here for good.

Face Strong Competition

Against the strongest competition in the history of the show the Aggie team, composed of J. M. Moore, Lynn Copeland, and George Starkey, won the following team prizes: first on Guernseys, second on Holsteins, third on Ayrshires, and third on Jerseys. They also captured the Guernsey cup and have the distinction of being the first Kansas team to win it. Each member of the team also placed high in individual scoring although the exact individual standings were not given in the dispatch received yesterday from Prof. H. W. Cave, coach of the team. Moore took first on Guernseys, Copeland captured second place on both Holsteins and Guernseys and Starkey took a third place on Ayrshires.

Win Two Cups Permanently

This splendid showing and the equally good showings made in the past two years put K. S. A. C. on the map as producing the best dairy judging teams in the country. Three successive wins at the National, which is the biggest event of the year in dairy circles, is a wonderful record. The National Dairy show cup which, along with Hoard's Dairyman's cup, is now the permanent property of K. S. A. C., was on display in Anderson hall last winter. It was the most coveted prize offered at any dairy show in the country.

Much Credit Due Cave

A great deal of the credit for this record is due to Prof. H. W. Cave, the team's coach. Since coming to this college he has produced a winning team each year and has established the K. S. A. C. dairy department as the best in the United States.

B. B. Bayles, senior in agriculture and assistant in the department of agronomy is in Minneapolis, Minn., this week attending the national convocation of the Alpha Zeta, national honorary agricultural fraternity.

THE AGGIE SCHEDULE

October 1—College of Emporia 3; Aggies 7.
October 8—Washington 0; Aggies 21.
October 15—Creighton university at Omaha, Nebr.
October 22—Missouri at Manhattan.
October 29—Kansas university at Lawrence.
November 5—Grinnell college at Manhattan.
November 11—Iowa State college at Ames, Iowa.
November 19—Oklahoma university at Manhattan (Homecoming).

of its productions, and Mr. Dunbar is often referred to as the Belasco of grand opera.

Several other Aggies are taking an active part in this school. Mr. Arnold Lovejoy is director of ensemble, and Miss Bess Curry is one of the leading sopranos. Many of last year's Aggie graduates are studying for parts in the various operas.

The production of Carmen which Manhattan audiences are to have the opportunity to see is probably the largest and best of Dunbar's productions. The cast is composed of some of the greatest stars in grand opera, and the costuming and scenery are elaborate. Dunbar is noted for his extravagance in securing the exact effect he wants.

Miss Lorna Doone Jackson, who plays the role of Carmen, is hailed by numerous musical and dramatic critics as a second Calve in vocal ability and without a peer in beauty and dramatic talent. Her eyes and hair are raven black and with her vivid coloring and beautiful features she makes an ideal Carmen.

CHRIST TAUGHT OF SOCIAL ILLS

JESUS HAD DEFINITE PLACE IN HIS SOCIETY

Doctor Kent Believes in Cooperation With Divine Purpose

"Jesus Christ did have a definite social plan," stated Dr. C. F. Kent of Yale university in his address upon "Jesus' Way of Remaking Men" at assembly Tuesday morning. "Medieval arts have done much to overshadow the work of Christ," continued Doctor Kent, "but the fact that one-third of His teachings deal with social problems is positive evidence that he did occupy a definite place in society."

"Unlike Paul, Jesus went to those he wished to see instead of calling them to him. Going to Capernaum in Palestine, he began little by little to build up a social community based on the laws of life and the laws of the universe. Knowing that to develop a social community social citizens must first be developed, he set about doing this by forming a common basis of friendship with the citizens. By his faith in men and in what they could be and do, Jesus made men and in making men, made citizens. By binding citizens together in common ties he laid the foundation for our present social order."

Doctor Kent then went on to show that healing men's bodies was also one of the primary ways by which that Christ remade men. And today health is a law of God and with health man has the foundation for a larger life.

"The task of man is to cooperate with divine purpose," said the speaker. "Fraternal communities were crystallized by Jesus and in him we have the true heart of democracy. The solution of all modern problems is found in his teachings."

Stafford Club Initiates and Elects

The Stafford county club met Tuesday evening to elect officers and initiate the new members. The officers elected were as follows: Leona Thurow, president; June Harter, vice president; Irene Maughlin, secretary and treasurer; Esther Russell, corresponding secretary. New members initiated were, Lella Martin, Genevieve Martin, Margaret Martin, Esther Russell, Cecil Prose, Ralph Thurow, and Milton Thurow.

Frank M. Aiman did some feed inspection work at Sharon Springs.

MEET THEM—WHETHER THEY WIN OR LOSE

Shortly after noon Sunday the Fighting Aggie football team is to return to us after a hard battle at Creighton. It is not for us to prophesy as to the outcome of the game but all the dope favors a stiff battle. Whether the Aggies win or lose will make no difference in the Valley standing but whatever the outcome the game will serve as a pep raiser for other Valley games.

There are no classes Sunday afternoon and church will be over, therefore why not have a 1,000 or so of lusty lunged, raspy voiced rooters down at the train to meet the battle scarred gridders when they return home? And perhaps the band can be there or at least such portions of it that would add volume to a noisy welcome. It might throw Sunday dinner a little late but it would mean a lot to the men who wish to dedicate the K. U. stadium in Aggie fashion.

FOLKS WHO MAKE THE WHEELS GO ROUND

Out in the world the people who do the real work—the ones who actually make the wheels go round—are the ones least heard of by the public. In the papers we are not lacking information of the murderers, the divorce cases, the baseball heroes, and the freaks. We have diagrams showing us exactly where the victim fell, and halftones galore of his bloody wounds. But what about the man or woman who doesn't kill anyone? Who hears of the person who minds his own business and in his silent way does all he can towards the uplift of his own community?

At K. S. A. C. the stock judging team members afford an excellent example of the folks who mind their own business. Students making up these teams are hard working, earnest, sacrificing, and steady. They know what they are here for and they are going after it in a way that means results. But these are not the kind of students who toot their own horns. They are content to do their best and let it go at that, and unless we watch them pretty closely their work is likely to go unnoticed, their sacrifices unappreciated.

These are the students who uphold the name of the school as an agricultural institution and justify the implicit confidence placed in it by the tax payers of the state. The judging teams are working hard, and are accomplishing things. We want them to know that we appreciate it.

WHY NOT A NEW POST OFFICE?

"Special training on how to act in mobs or riots" might well be a new course added to the curriculum of the college. In the congestion in front of the college post office in Anderson hall every day it would seem that any aspiring student might get excellent laboratory practice in the subject.

There is only one way in which to remedy the crowded conditions around the post office and that is to have a new place for it. For over 20 years the present post office has been handling the students' mail. When the conditions in the old engineering and agricultural buildings became too crowded new ones were planned and built. Likewise the old chapel which used to be where recreation center now is, was done away with. But, while the enrolment has increased greatly since 1900, the college post office has not been enlarged to meet the demands of a larger student body.

It is now almost impossible to pass through by the post office between classes. Why can't we start now and "talk it up" so that in the next legislature an appropriation can be made for a regular post office department which can properly take care of the student mail.

All That I Know

It is too late to check woman's invasion of man's dominion, but at least man can retaliate. This column will buy a cooking apron for

A movie described as being a stirring drama of the great American desert was allowed to play in Manhattan a few days ago. Probably it was shown in New York, and no doubt St. Louis. Why were the prohibitionists continually allowed to flaunt their victory before a thirst maddened people?

Forethought

"Leave lost articles here." Sign on post office bulletin board.

And now we are wondering how a nothing-at-all week would do for a change.

Flunk, and the class flunks with you; study, and you pass alone.

How times do change. It used to be that when a man wore a red nose it was an automatic announcement that he drank things besides water and coffee. Nowadays such a condition merely evidences the fact that his girl is addicted to the use of rouge.

From this we are prompted to remind our readers of that famous remark of Browning, which, although different, was very much along the same line.

Oh, yes, we forgot to tell what it was. Here the golden thing is, right from his silvery tongue: "It all comes out in the wash."

They're Not To Blame

"He was very cruel to me. He

"She vamped me," was the come back of the 82 year old bride groom.

Oh well, children will be children.

Dear Sirs:

Some buddy is jipped us. We went to the first artist Searys and didn't see no pictures. It's a dirty trick. We dare you to publish this.

Two hearts that beat as wune.

Fear

Well sir,
While we were in the Cafeteria the other day

We got to thinking—
As we often do, and the Thought suddenly struck us,
Yes sir, hit us right between
The eyes—suppose while you
Are carrying a loaded tray
In here someday, you should Spill some gravy or some Blackberries down some girl's Neck! What then?
And we've been afraid to Go back since.

—Sillyus.

Is the flapper disappearing?

Heavens, we hope not. If she is, all the columnists and professional wags in the country will have to take to politics or plumbing until some other freak springs into prominence.

The good work being done by the

COLLEGE DRAWS MANY FOREIGNERS

LARGE NUMBER ENROLLING CLAIM U. S. AS HOME

Foreign Students Are Attracted to College Largely by Specialized Courses

Many foreign students are being attracted to K. S. A. C. this year by the various specialized courses offered. The large majority of these students are men, and they come here from their respective countries to get new ideas for better and more systematic methods of carrying on numerous occupations such as those concerned with milling, agriculture, engineering, veterinary medicine, animal husbandry, horticulture, and various other courses. Many of the foreign students expect to carry their education back to their foreign homes and use it in bettering these countries.

The majority of the foreign students, who have been in this school for several years have given as their addresses on their enrolment cards, some recent address in the United States, and this makes it impossible to get the actual enrolment of foreign students at this time. However indications are that there are more foreign students here at the present time than there have been in previous years.

Following is a list of the students who have enrolled giving their real home addresses and their classification in the college.

From Mexico are A. V. De La Garza, Montenegro, Mexico, freshman; and Jose Angel Mier from Agroscolientes, Mexico, sophomore. Two students from Africa are J. F. T. Mostert from Balfour, South Africa, sophomore; and A. R. Saunders from Boshoph, Orange, South Africa, sophomore. Two students from Egypt are Mohammed Kammal of Cairo, Egypt, a senior; and Mu Monir Bahgot of Tanta, Garich, Egypt. Two students from China are C. S. Lo of Canton, China, a junior; and W. K. Lan also from Canton, a senior. Imai Baki of Aleppo, Syria, is enrolled as a special. Simeon B. Rambac of Solano, Philippine Islands is a sophomore, and Manuel Valdez of Santiago, Chile, is a sophomore.

EGYPTIAN AGGIES DISLIKE HURRY

ARE AVERSE TO RUSH APPLIED TO EDUCATIONAL METHODS

Kamal and Solomon Came From Cairo to Study Agriculture—Are Specializing in Entomology

They came direct from Cairo, Egypt, to K. S. A. C. because they knew what they wanted and they knew that K. S. A. C. had it.

Mohammed Kamal and Peter Solomon, Egyptian students, whose address is Cairo are special students in entomology. Both Kamal, whose father is chief justice in the superior court at Cairo, and Solomon entered school the spring semester of last year.

The men are intensely interested in agriculture and in American methods. They are specializing in entomology with the intention of returning to Egypt to engage in research work in the government bureau. Egypt is troubled with small grain insects similar to those of the American species and the work is practical.

The men, who speak English fluently, are graduates of the College of Agriculture at Griza, situated just outside Cairo. They share, with the European, the aversion to the American rush and bluster. Life, they think is amply long enough to permit of more leisure and painstaking. Especially do they regard rush as injurious when extended to educational activities. Education, they think, is something that should be sipped and enjoyed rather than gulped down at a few swallows. They do not favor the one hour final, as there is not time, they think, to permit a comprehensive treatment of a subject about to be left forever. When the professor talks too fast they take notes in Sanscrit.

Mr. Kamal and Mr. Solomon are devotedly interested in Egypt and are anxious for America to know more of the economic activities of the country. Egypt is an agricultural country that makes use of modern American labor saving machinery in many instances. They do not, however advise the ambitious young farmer to consider taking out a claim in Egypt as land sells for two and three thousand dollars an acre and rents for $150 annually. Cotton is the principal crop and the land yields two and sometimes three crops a year. An acre of cotton is worth normally about $400.

They like America and they like K. S. A. C. but they were, perhaps diplomatically, noncommittal when questioned as to what they thought of American girls. Conditions in Egypt point to an emancipation of the women from the veil. Such a step they think will precede a change in the economic system, that will provide a place for the Egyptian women.

Mr. Kamal and Mr. Solomon attended K. S. A. C. through the recommendation of Doctor Freeman, who is teaching at the College of Agriculture at Griza. Mr. Kamal made a statement that should be of much interest to American educators. "Egypt is much interested in American agriculture and agricultural methods. Every year we send out many students to foreign countries.

Many of them would come to the United States if they knew anything about American schools. They are not advertised. So they go to England or the continent to the schools that they know something about."

H. W. Davis Teaches in Kansas City
Prof. H. W. Davis, head of the English department, is teaching a class in business English in Kansas City, Kan. The course is a two hour university extension course and consists of business women and school teachers. The class meets every Wednesday evening from 7:30 until 9:30.

Clean College Well
The well at the Bluemont entrance of the campus has been cleaned and repaired recently. The well has a 24 inch casing, and the screen had become clogged so that the supply was only 100 gallons per minute. Since the well has been cleaned the supply is 160 gallons per minute. The building and repair department has also repainted the pump and put in all new wearing parts.

Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Whitehead of Abilene visited over Sunday with their daughter, Maude Irene.

Alarm Envelopes Frosh Whose Cap Reposes in P. O.

The Aggies are good losers, from freshman caps to frat pins, and one by one the lost articles find a temporary resting place at the post office until the disheartened owners come in search of them.

One freshman minus his cap tore down main hall, rushed up to the post office window and inquired in an excited voice if a purple cap with a green button on the top had been found. Miss May had the cap in captivity but the frosh's joy was not complete. He anxiously questioned her further, "Do you suppose that they will paddle me now? I saw a bunch of boys down the hall, do you suppose they have paddles?" Not waiting for an answer he started down the hall, the cap held tight in his hand, and up in plain view where it could not fail to be seen by the upperclassmen.

Miss Susie Kyle of Abilene, a former student of the college, spent the week end at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house.

PURPLE MASQUE HOLDS TRYOUTS

FRATERNITY FILES NAMES AND QUALIFICATIONS

Give 20 One Act Plays This Year—
All Who Tried Out May Take Part

Dramatics at K. S. A. C. was given a marked impetus by the large number of promising players who tried out last Thursday and Friday afternoons. The tryouts, which were held to determine the ability of the contestants to act, and the type of character parts for which each were best suited, were judged by members of Purple Masque.

The name of each person who appeared has been filed in a card catalogue, with information concerning the kind of part for which he is best adapted to play, and this material will be used in selecting persons to compete for parts in college plays. Each person who tried out will also be given an opportunity to take part in a one act play coached by some member of Purple Masque. The fraternity plans to put on about 20 one act plays in its chapter room in the tower of Anderson hall. Some of the best of these will probably be put on in towns near Manhattan before high school chapels.

The officers of Purple Masque this year are, Rowena Thornburg, president; T. O. Carringer, vice president; Queenie Hart, secretary; Vorin Whan, treasurer; C. C. Wilson, marshal; and Lucille Whan, historian.

There are three degrees in the fraternity, green masque, purple masque, and star masque. Green masque is made up of persons who have made good in one act plays; purple masque of persons who have shown proficiency in taking heavy parts in college plays, and star masque of those who have won special distinction in dramatics.

The following persons have won membership to star masque: Rowena Thornburg, Vorin Whan, T. O. Carringer, H. W. Bachelor, and Renna Rosenthal.

Hapless Victims of Aggies Suffer Fate Akin to Guillotine

Did you know that in one course offered here on the hill you learn the principles of hunting and trapping?

There is such a course, and the students took their first lesson not long ago. They scouted around the campus, along the walks, and in the park. They set no traps nor do they dig pit falls. That is not in accordance with the latest methods. Guns are not used either as that is also old fashioned. The students go without weapons of any kind but walk along and wait for their victims to come by. Then a sudden lunge, a wild grab, and the victim is captured.

However the methods used after the captives are safe in the class room are not new but date back for hundreds of years.

"The guillotines have nothing on this," said one young frogshette as she deftly cut off the head of her prisoner. Heads were falling to the floor all around. Students were shuddering and turning pale. Some were leaving the room, unable to witness the awful deeds. The victims going to their death made no noise whatever but struggled silently and valiantly.

The students in zoology lab had had to bring three grasshoppers to class in order to study about a certain parasite that is found in the grasshoppers.

SOCIETY DEBATES ARE NEXT MONTH

TO ARGUE BENEFITS OF LABOR UNIONS

Each Literary Society Has Two Teams—Best Members Make College Squad

The annual intersociety debate tournament will be held the latter part of November, according to the debate committee of the intersociety council. The question which will be discussed is, "Resolved: That Labor Unions, as They Now Exist, Are Beneficial to Society."

Each of the eight literary societies will have a negative and an affirmative team. These 16 teams will compete with each other to determine the intersociety championship. A silver loving cup will be awarded to the winners. Last year the trophy was won by the Athenians, but the cup does not become permanent property of the society unless it is won three consecutive times.

Each literary society has a student coach who will train its teams. Most of the coaches selected are persons who have taken part in college debates. The purpose of the debates is to develop material for the college debate squads, and the best debaters in the intersociety contests will place on the squads without competing. Of the six members of the teams which competed in the final last year, four won letters in college contests later in the season.

No person who has received credit in debating is eligible to enter the intersociety contests. Each society encourages its most promising material to try for places on its teams.

MAKE MORE LIBRARY SPACE FOR STACK ROOM BOOKS

Number of Volumes Doubles in Ten

The library has doubled in size, number of volumes, and working staff in the past 10 years. Ten years ago the library boasted of 35,000 volumes, as compared with 71,000 volumes at the present time. Many new volumes could doubtlessly be added if the necessary floor space were available.

What Optical Science is doing to develop better vision

Just two pieces of glass! And yet those lenses which correct so effectively the defects of vision are possible only because of the highly-trained skill of the optical specialist, aided by scientific instruments of perfect precision. The conditions of modern life constantly increase the number of people whose efficiency or health is lowered by some impairment of eyesight—for which the remedy is glasses prescribed and fitted after a thorough examination.

To this examination the optical specialist brings knowledge and training of the highest order. He also utilizes the latest equipment and apparatus which have been perfected for precise scientific work. Science has stepped in and brought its aid to personal skill.

Most people do not know when eyesight trouble really begins; usually it starts so gradually that for a long while it may not even be noticeable. Imperfect vision, if not rectified, grows worse with the years. The surest way of preserving your eyesight at maximum efficiency throughout life is to go to an optical specialist for an examination once a year.

AGGIES TAKE DEFEAT FROM CREIGHTON U.

FINAL SCORE 14-7 TELLS BUT HALF THE STORY

WILDCATS OUTCLASS CATHOLICS

Sears and Schmitz Added to Hospital List—Farmers Get Heavy Penalties—Press Reports Favor Aggies

It sometimes happens—even to the best of football teams. The Aggies lost to Creighton Saturday 14 to 7, in a wild, chuk-a-luck sort of football battle with a whole chapter of accidents—accidents breaking always to the advantage of the Nebraskans.

Press Reports Favor Aggies

The Aggies outplayed the Catholics in every stage of the game. All the press reports admit it. The Aggie backfield made costly fumbles, and their attack was ragged—not the vigorous, consistent offensive displayed in the Washington game. Still the Omaha contingent had no license to win. The Ahearn-Bachman warriors scored only one touchdown, and that should have been sufficient to register an Aggie win. But the capricious goddess of luck was holding high carnival before the 6,000 spectators on Creighton field. Neither of the Creighton counters was earned, they were simply handed to the Nebraskans on a golden gift platter.

Creighton Wins on Fumbles

The Catholics received their gift touchdowns in the second and third periods. The first resulted when Clement's fumble bounded into the arms of the Husky Nemejek. Creighton guard, who lumbered 30 yards through a clear field across the Aggie goal line.

The second had still more the earmarks of a pure fluke. Just before the end of the third quarter, Burton booted to the Creighton 20 yard line. Long, Omaha quarter, permitted the oval to roll to a stop, and Murphy, Aggie center, accidentally touched the ball. Hahn, thinking the ball declared dead, placed his hand on it. A few seconds later, Long scooped up the oval and trotted the length of the field for touchdown and referee Schulte ruled the play legal.

Taking the ball on Creighton's 25 yard line in the last quarter, the Aggies staged a belated rally and swept the Nebraskans off their feet in an aerial attack interspersed with trick plays and end runs. A pass, Stark to Burton, pushed Creighton to the 20 yard line. An end run, and Stark fed another toss to Sebring who carried it over the line. Sebring kicked goal.

Aggie Aerials Slow to Come

The Aggies did not resort to the aerial attack with any success until the last half. They completed 12 out of 20 attempts. The Catholics completed one pass and intercepted one. "Ding" Burton, Aggie pass-snatching phenom, was the outstanding star of the Aggies, playing a brilliant game at half, making spectacular broken field runs and unerringly snatching passes by Stark and Swartz. Brady Cowell, replacing Burton in the last quarter, made a spectacular catch of Swartz's long pass and dodged through the Creighton tacklers for 30 yards. Wnter, Sebring, and Murphy also performed well for the Aggies.

The Wildcats outgained the Catholics from scrimmage, but took a total of 70 yards in penalties. In punting duels between Stark and Condon, the latter had the best of it, the kicking of the Aggie left half being considerably below that of previous games.

Sears and Schmitz Injured

While the outcome was disappointing to Aggie mentors, they have the solace that it was a non-conference game; that the Aggie eleven will benefit by the events of the Creighton battle and will wipe out the smirch on their slate by trouncing the Missouri Tigers when they invade the Wildcat camp Saturday. However, "Susie" Sears, Aggie fullback, was carried off the field unconscious, and Schmitz, tackle, received a wrenched knee at Omaha, giving Ahearn and Bachman considerable worry over the possibility that neither of these two regulars may be able to face the Tigers. "Shifty" Cleland and Stauffer, giant tackle, are also still on the hospital list.

While the Aggies were taking the bitter pill at Omaha, Drake trounced K. U. 15 to 7, Washington won over Grinnell 14 to 13, and Missouri edged out Ames 17 to 14.

One of the Reds, Perhaps?

The carelessness of a student nearly caused the downfall of President W. M. Jardine, one morning, recently. As Prexy's car came to a stop in front of Anderson he stepped out and started to the door. To his surprise and chagrin, however, his pace was accelerated by the "enter Mr. Banana Peel" of the play. If K.S.A.C.'s president were not agile the school might now have none at all. And probably President Jardine just as soon "Mr. Banana Peel" would be thrown in the garbage can hereafter.

A distinguished Russian scientist, Prof. A. Jaczewski, a director of the Institute of Thylopathology in Petrograd, Russia, will visit the college October 20, according to word received by Prof. L. E. Melchers.

Professor Jaczewski and Prof. N. Vavilov, another distinguished Russian scientist, who recently stopped at the college, came from Russia at the invitation of the American cereal pathologists, who recently held their annual meeting at St. Paul, Minn., and Fargo, S. D. Professor Melchers was one of the committee who invited the scientists to the meetings. Other noted scientists were invited from New South Wales, England, Canada, Australia, India, and Japan. The countries were all represented with the exception of Russia. There was so much red tape necessary before the men could leave that they were two months late for the meeting. Vavilov and Jaczewski are now crossing the United States, Manhattan being one of the few places that they are to visit. Both of these scientists are engaged in the studying of plant diseases and particularly in breeding for resistance to rust.

The experiment with Kanred has attracted attention in many countries. Professor Melchers has sent seed of Kanred and two other rust resisting varieties of seed to many countries including Australia, Scotland, England, Denmark, New South Wales, France, India, Japan, and Italy.

ENTERTAIN Y. W. LITTLE SISTERS

FRESHMAN FROLIC PROVES A GREAT SUCCESS

Y. W. C. A. Plans To Make Custom of Big and Little Sister Mixer

Each of the 17 groups of big sisters in the Y. W. C. A. entertained Thursday night with a hike or original party for the little sisters. Some of the groups chose to entertain together in a more elaborate fashion, with dinners or Hallowe'en parties.

The plans for all the parties were original. Invitations for a "big and little sister frolic" were sent to two of the groups while others enjoyed a dinner party in the parlors of the United Presbyterian church. Little yellow cards with black cat decorations invited some of the girls to a Hallowe'en party at the home of their patroness.

This is the second time that this idea has been tried with great success and it is the plan of the Y. W. C. A. to make it a custom to entertain the freshman girls each year.

Wampus Cat Number of the Brown Bull Clears Up Mystery

Why is a wampus Kitten? What is its mission at K. S. A. C.? When will it attain its growth and become a Wampus Cat? Perhaps you have asked these questions and have not found the answer.

The answer is easy for those who are on the inside. Do you want to get on the inside? Do you want to be informed about Wampus Cats and Kittens? Their actions are very strange and there could be histories written about them.

Homecoming day will give you full information concerning them. For on homecoming day the "Wampus Cat" number of the Brown Bull is to appear on the hill. As the press agent says, "A magazine that will make you laugh every minute. It is new and better than ever before."

NATIONAL EXPERT ON SWEET SPUD DISEASES VISITS HERE

Doctor Harther Comes to Make Fight on Potato Ailments

Dr. L. S. Harther, national expert on sweet potato diseases, recently visited the college in connection with a week's survey in the state made in connection with the work in the departments of botany and pathology. In his work against the sweet potato diseases in Kansas, Doctor Harther said that the meetings held in Topeka, Lawrence, Wellington, Wichita, and Hutchinson, were best attended.

The losses caused by the sweet potato diseases runs into thousands of dollars each year. This loss could be prevented to a great extent, the expert believes. E. A. Stodyke of the pathology extension is now outlining definite projects which show how more and better sweet potatoes can be grown. Doctor Harther pronounced his visit to Kansas one of the most profitable and inspiring of any he has made, and said he believed some real results could be obtained here.

This year's appropriation for farm bureau work in the state averages about $95 dollars more per county than last year.

C. G. Steinsmeyer, '16, who graduated in agronomy, is at present director of vocational agriculture in the consolidated schools at Maynard, Iowa.

PROF. PROVES CIGAR BOXES NEED NOT WRONG AN AGGIE TRADITION

When the signs were posted in the college buildings, bearing the request to be loyal to Aggie traditions and refrain from smoking on the campus, the engineering building was not neglected, and a copy of the plea occupies a conspicuous place near the first entrance. It is true one occasionally catches a whiff of fragrant smoke when in the vicinity of the building, but that might be attributed to a number of causes.

In the first place, the smoke might come from a new brand of coal being used in an experiment. Then too, there have been numerous transient workmen employed in the new building who probably came in by the back way and didn't see the sign, or at least were not properly impressed with Aggie traditions.

But if one should pause before the door of one of the first floor offices, these plausible alibis would come tumbling down. On top of a high desk, right in the middle of the room, with the light of the windows falling directly upon them, is a pile of cigar boxes, so fresh looking that the contents are involuntarily visualized.

If one of the passersby should happen to be a member of the S. S. G. A., he might feel it incumbent upon himself to call to task the professor who thus blatantly defies the traditions and destroys the morale of K. S. A. C.

Boldly stepping into the room, and drawing up before the desk being used for so offensive a function, he would face, over the top of it, a pair of mildly blue eyes, surmounted by a pate with slightly thinning hair, all surmounting a rather portly figure—not at all the type of the deep-dyed villain one would be prepared to see.

"Ah," is the S. S. G. A. member's

START PLANS FOR AG WING AND ANNEXES

DEPARTMENT OF ARCHITECTURE IS DOING WORK

APPROPRIATION IS $275,000

Dairy Department, Meat Laboratory, and Poultry Department Will Help Occupy New Quarters

As soon as plans for the new wing of the agriculture building and two annexes are prepared by the department of architecture the contract will be let and work started. An appropriation of $275,000 was made by the legislature for the erection of these three buildings.

The new wing will be practically like the present building and is to be located west of it. A one story annex which is to serve as a creamery will be placed north of the new wing and another annex, a meat laboratory, will be built back of the old wing. These annexes are to be only one story high because of the ease in ventilation. In the meat laboratory there will be facilities for demonstrations and practice in butchering and meat cutting. Cold storage space for meats will be provided.

Two rooms on the third floor of the main building are to be fitted up for the use of agricultural students' organizations. These rooms will provide places for committee meetings, desk room, and storage space.

The ground floor and part of the second will be occupied by the department of dairy husbandry. The building now occupied by that department was built about 17 years ago and at that time was the best in the country. Of late progress in that line of work has been so rapid that the present dairy building is one of the least satisfactory at any of the leading agricultural colleges. The accommodations in the new wing will place the department on an equal basis with any others. Besides the offices and classrooms the department will have a creamery, ice cream laboratory, market milk laboratory, cheese laboratory, and three other laboratories for the use of the advanced students and members of the staff.

The new wing will provide extensive accommodations for the department of poultry husbandry. Almost one entire floor will be taken by this department. The poultry judging and incubation practice class will be moved from the poultry farm to this new wing. This change will save the students the necessity of going to the farm for these classes.

Most of the fourth story will be given over to the department of agricultural economics. This department was organized in 1918 and has found it necessary to use space here and there over the campus. It has about 300 students enrolled in 21 classes for which the new building will provide ample space.

AGS CELEBRATE FOR DAIRY TEAM

GIVE DIVISIONAL PARADE FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Four Hundred Students Carry Banners Across Campus and Down Poyntz

The demonstration staged by the students in the agricultural division Friday afternoon was a fitting tribute to the dairy judging team which won first place at the national dairy judging contest held in St. Paul last week. Over 400 students with flying banners and lots of pep marched across the campus and down Poyntz in celebration of the victory which brought two much coveted loving cups to K. S. A. C. as permanent property of the college.

The Ags were given from one until 3 o'clock by their dean in which to put on the parade. They assembled at the stock pavilion and after some spirited yelling formed themselves into lines, with the freshmen leading. The members of the victorious team, Lynn Copeland, J. M. Moore, and George Starkey, holding the loving cups won in the contest, rode on a truck which the students in the division had decorated for them.

The celebration, which was the first of its kind held in recent years, was to show the appreciation of the Ags for the honor which the team had brought to the agricultural division and to the college. No college in the United States has the honor of winning three National contests in succession, and the victory of this team in winning the third contest has brought an enviable record to the dairy department of K. S. A. C.

Contributions amounting to over $60 toward the expenses of the team were made by the agricultural students. No fund is available out of which to pay the expenses of the teams and popular subscriptions are resorted to in meeting the expenses.

SOPH ELECTION LACKS RIVALRY

WEDNESDAY'S CONTEST REVEALS CLASS SPIRIT ABSENT

Frank Barnheisel To Be President—Emmett Graham and L. W. Grehusen S. S. G. A. Representatives

The sophomore election seemed to hold little interest for the majority of the class last Wednesday. Although there were several candidates for some of the offices there was not much rivalry.

The following officers were elected: Frank Barnheisel, president; Doris Riddell, vice president; Julia Caton, secretary; William Pendleton, treasurer; Ralph Nichols, marshal; Emmett Graham and L. W. Grehusen, S. S. G. A. representatives; Arthur Stark, athletic director; Morris Williamson, parliamentarian; Jennie McCond, historian; Coletta Mayden, devotional leader.

A. F. Turner of the extension division begins a series of district conferences this week for the purpose of discussing fall organization with representatives of the farm bureaus of the state. He will hold meetings in Dodge City, Wichita, Parsons, Ottawa, Emporia, Holton, Clifton, and Hays.

BOTH Y'S TO HAVE SPOOK PARTY FRIDAY

BIG FROLIC TO BE HELD IN GYM

PROVIDE FUN FOR EVERYBODY

Ila Knight and Kenneth Muse Are Chairmen of Committees in Charge of Entertainment—Decorate Gym

A real spooky Hallowe'en party will be given in the gym on the evening of October 21. It is one of the four big social affairs which will be put on by the Y. M. and Y. W. this year. Kenneth Muse and Ila Knight, who are chairmen of the committees arranging for the party, promise something in which everyone will be able to take part and enjoy.

This entertainment is an all college affair to which every student and faculty member is invited. The attendance at similar parties last year averaged more than 1,000 persons, and plans are being made to entertain even a larger number this year. No admission is charged and nothing is sold.

The gym will be decorated with fodder, jack o' lanterns, and pumpkins. Some of the special features of the party will be the ghost room which everyone will be required to pass through, fortune tellers, games, and a program. The games, which will occupy the first part of the evening, will be directed by experienced persons, and no group will play the same game more than a few minutes. The program will be unusual, consisting of story telling, some funny readings, and surprises which cannot be explained.

The committees are planning to make the social interesting to everyone who comes. Games, stunts, and other special features in which everyone can take part have been planned.

"CHAINS" NOT TO BE GIVEN HERE

TRAVELING THEATRE MANAGEMENT CANCELS MATINEE

"The Climax" and "Ghosts" Will Be Presented as Announced, November 5-6

Word has just been received by Prof. Howard T. Hill of the public speaking department that the "Traveling Theatre" which comes to K. S. A. C. on November 4 and 5, will not present the play "Chains," as was previously announced.

Laurence Clark, founder and manager of the Traveling Theatre, has telegraphed cancelling the play. He expressed himself as dissatisfied with the progress of the rehearsals which did not show the quality he demands in all of his productions.

The two plays that are to be presented, however, promise to be a real treat. "The Climax" and "Ghosts" are known to followers of drama throughout the world as examples of the highest type of dramatic achievement.

The cast of the two plays, as announced by Mr. Clark is composed of brilliant actors. Madame Borgny-Hammer, the great Swedish actress who appeared here three years ago, carries the leading role in "Ghosts." Jasper Deeter, Arthur Stanope, and Rolf Fjell are other well known actors who play important roles.

Due to the fact that "Chains" was to be a matinee performance and that a football game was scheduled for the same afternoon, the cancellation of this part of the performance is not deeply regretted. "The Climax" and "Ghosts" are of a much higher grade and have been more popular with the public.

Guy S. Lowman who was coach here until 1917 is now coaching football at the University of Wisconsin. He holds the position of physical director there and last spring coached baseball at the university.

AESOP'S SPIRIT SPEAKS

A bird and a frog were having a heated argument as I passed through the park on my way to climb the "hill of knowledge" this morning. It proceeded thus: "I know I have the right of way," croaked the frog, "I was here first."

"You're mistaken, the way is mine. I am on the main traffic way and you are on a bypath," chirped the bird.

How very foolish, I thought as I passed along. That question could be easily settled in two ways—the frog could jump over the bird or the bird could fly over the frog. How useless all this argument.

Now I see why the birds call "Cheap cheap," and why the squirrels scold, and the trees shake their heads and sigh, when they look upon us humans with all our wisdom—scrapping and fighting unnecessarily over our "rights."

But the bird and the frog go on fighting and quarreling—even as you and I.

HELP KEEP THE CAMPUS CLEAN

Time was when the campus of the Kansas State Agricultural college inspired visiting chapel speakers to tell us that it was one of the most beautiful of the land. Although less sweeping than the assembly speakers were wont to make us believe, this reputation still exists. In the good old days when this name was in the making we must have had a more careful student body or a custodian department which looked after keeping the grounds clean. Then loose papers about the grounds were picked up, fallen leaves burned and things in general were kept tidy.

Now campus conditions are different. Papers that go astray remain so. Our reputation regarding the tidy campus dwindles.

Part of this condition is due to the carelessness of the students, while part is due to the ineffectiveness of the custodian department. At any rate, if this debris is not to be cleaned up, we, as students, can lessen its amount by dumping our waste paper and flunk slips in the waste baskets.

The Rejection Slip

Ernie Roseblush went to college
But it left his mind a blank
And he came out thinking all he read was true.

"I'm going to write for movies,"
Said the empty headed hunk,
"And I guess I'll cut a goodly figure, too."

He turned out a dud at writing,
But the seed of romance grew,
And he said, "I'm going to live the tales I tell,
Of intrigue, love, and murder
Like I have my heroes do,
And I'll outthrill any thriller others sell."

So he whacked a charming maiden
On the bean a fearful blow,
And then dragged her to the wilds to be his bride.
But the maiden and her lawyers
Weren't a bit romantic—so
They hung him—but he never knew he died.

L'Envoi
And his spirit roams; a sample
Of the curse of modern schools.
(Oh indeed he is a ghostly, ghostly sight.)

Let the chant he's always chanting
Be a warning to all fools;
"Let the rope out folks, I haven't room to write."

HOLD SCHOOL OF AG MIXER FRIDAY

GAMES AND PROGRAM MAKE UP INTERESTING EVENING

H. H. Kimman, Chairman of Committee—Party Given in Recreation Hall

The school of agriculture mixer held at recreation center Friday evening was a real mixer in every sense of the word. The committee had a splendid program arranged. The students were divided into four different groups, each group selecting one member to enter each of the various contests.

Probably the game that created the most excitement was an automobile game. It was announced that the winner of this game would receive a diamond ring. Ray Wisner, the winner, was given a dime and a small bell.

The following program was given during the evening: piano number, Mr. Bruce Whitney; reading, Mrs. Glen Squires; music, Christian church quartet; talk on debating, Paul Briggs; talk on basketball, John Brooks.

The members of the committee in charge of the entertainment were H. H. Kimman, chairman, Faye Wickham, Mrs. Martin, George Stutz, Clarence Sprout.

PROSPECTS FOR GLEE CLUB GOOD

PERSONNEL RECENTLY ANNOUNCED BY PROF. IRA PRATT

Pratt's Statement Has Weight—Is Experienced in Glee Club Coaching

"The best material for a glee club that I have ever worked with," is the statement of Prof. Ira Pratt, head of the music department, in announcing the personnel of the men's glee club.

"The prospects are mighty good this year for one of the finest glee clubs in this part of the country. Most of the members of last year's club are back and some extra fine talent has come in this year. I have had no experience with previous Aggie glee clubs but I believe I can safely say that the one this year will be one of the best that K. S. A. C. has produced."

Coming from Professor Pratt this statement means a great deal for he has had wide experience in coaching glee clubs, both at Depauw university and at Simpson college, Iowa. In Aggie parlance he "knows his stuff."

The personnel of the glee club is as follows: first tenor, F. C. Lewis, J. P. Clark, L. H. Griswold, A. A. Goering, Donald Diefendorf, H. A. Goering, Frank A. Swanson, Jos. E. Thackrey; second tenor, G. M. Case, V. L. Kirk, H. S. Van Blarcom, H. Lee Kemmeyer, William Hornish, G. H. Bush; first bass, H. P. Gaston, F. N. Erwin, Charles H. Cloud, M. A. Smith, E. W. Merrill, B. A. Howell, W. A. Johnson, G. C. Charles, L. S. Hulshizer, Alfred L. Evans; second bass, F. L. Meyers, W. J. Mathias, J. D. Buchman, George S. Davis, L. H. Means, Fred F. Lampton, Bruce D. Whitney. J. B. Elliot is the accompanist.

Rifle Team Practice Begins

Practice for the rifle team will begin this week. Last year the K. S. A. C. had one of the best rifle teams in the United States and as many of the same members are back this year a still better team is expected to represent K. S. A. C. next year.

START RELIGIOUS INSTITUTE HERE

ADDRESSES TO BE GIVEN AT HIGH SCHOOL

Religious Educational Institute Tuesday—Give Lectures Weekly for Six Weeks

For the benefit of those interested in religious education an educational institute has been arranged, under the auspices of the Riley County Sunday School association, and the Manhattan ministerial union. The meetings will begin this Tuesday in the high school building, and continue for six consecutive Tuesdays. The general public is invited.

Each Tuesday evening there will be addresses by interesting speakers on the fundamentals of religious education. At the same time, there will be group councils for those specializing as teachers in different departments.

A committee of college and city people is working on the institute to make it a big thing. The members of the committee are, Rev. A. M. Reed, director; Dr. William F. Slade, June G. Carrothers, Prof. L. A. Fitz, Rev. A. MacMullen, and T. W. Wood.

FORMER MANHATTAN GIRL TO APPEAR IN CARMEN HERE

Agnes Hutto Attended K. S. A. C. In 1918 and 1919

Miss Agnes Hutto, a Manhattan girl and former Aggie student will appear with Ralph Dunbar's production of Carmen which is showing at the Marshall theatre tonight.

Miss Hutto is understudying a part in Carmen but will appear in the chorus here. Dunbar is using his older and more brilliant stars for the Manhattan engagement.

Miss Hutto was a student at K. S. A. C. in 1918 and 1919, and received her musical training from Professor Westbrook and from her mother, Mrs. Maude Hutto.

She has been with the Dunbar company since last June and has done very creditable work in that short time. Previous to joining the company she sang for the Edison talking machine people in Topeka, where she created quite a name for herself. Besides her regular work she gave several concerts in the city with Paul Lawrence and attracted much attention in musical circles.

The Dunbar company will appear in Lincoln, Neb., and in Lawrence before coming here. They are playing only the college towns in Kansas.

Big Pep Rally Thursday
Thursday evening a big rally and bonfire, a pep raiser for the Aggie-Missouri game Saturday, will be staged. The time and date will be announced later on the bulletin boards. Friday evening there will be a pep meeting in the auditorium followed by a free show at the Wareham theater. Everybody out!

Prof. R. W. Conover of the English department, is opening a class in Bible study Tuesday evening for the Daughters of the King of the Episcopal church. The class was conducted two years ago by Dr. J. R. McArthur.

Walter T. Swingle of the class of 1890 was in Manhattan Thursday en route to California. Mr. Swingle, a scientist in the employ of the United States department of agriculture, has achieved a world wide reputation as a breeder of semi-tropical plants.

P. P. Brainard of the extension division will address the Butler County Teachers' association at Eldorado Saturday. His subject is "The Experimental Attitude."

THE KANSAS STATE COLLEGLIAN

VOL. XXVIII

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, MANHATTAN, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1921

NO. 12

Y. M. DRIVE IS TO START THIS MONDAY

COMBINE MEMBERSHIP AND FINANCE IN ONE

TO SEE EVERY MAN IN COLLEGE

Y. M. Is Service Organization of Entire School—Members Get Privileges in Any Association

The annual financial and membership campaign of the Y. M. C. A. will be put on next week. The canvassing will begin Monday and last until Friday noon. Plans are being made to see every Aggie man, and give him an opportunity to become a member of the Y and to support it financially.

An educational campaign giving information about the work which is being done by the Aggie Y, is being conducted this week. In this, students giving five minute speeches in their respective organizations and seminars are telling why the Y should receive their support. The purpose of these speeches is to give information to the freshmen and others who are not familiar with the work of the organization, so they will be able to judge more intelligently the amount of support it should receive from them.

This is the only campaign that the Y will put on this year. The membership and finance drive has been combined, and any person who contributes, no matter how large or small the contribution, will be given membership in the Y. These membership certificates are accepted in any city association or other Y in the United States, and entitles the holder to physical privileges in any city Y building.

The slogan of the campaign is, "Help the Y, so it can continue to serve the students and boost the college." It is generally felt that great service is being rendered the college students by this organization, and that it does a great deal to boost for the college.

An important feature of the canvass will be the securing of information about the kind of Y work students would like to do. And for every person who expresses a desire to work will be found a task in which he can help carry on the work of the organization.

ELECT COLLEGLIAN BOARD MONDAY

ALL SUBSCRIBERS TO COLLEGLIAN
MAY VOTE FOR MEMBERS

Four Persons Are To Be Elected—
Six Applications Are Already Submitted

The election for members of the Collegian board, the governing body of the Kansas State Collegian, is to be held Monday, October 24. Any subscriber to the Collegian is entitled to cast a ballot for the board members. Four members are elected from the student body, and Prof. N. A. Crawford, head of the Journalism department, is a standing member of the board. Balloting will be in Anderson hall, opposite the post office.

Six students have been nominated for places on the board. To be nominated for the board one must have a petition signed by 20 subscribers to the Collegian presented to the Collegian board. Those who have been nominated are: C. W. Howard, senior in journalism; Maurice Laine, senior in journalism; C. W. Pratt, senior in journalism; Lulu May Zeller, senior in journalism; Alden B. Woody, junior in journalism, and J. Wheeler Barger, senior in agriculture.

EIGHT AGGIE COEDS ENROL
IN MANUAL TRAINING CLASSES

Girls Have Fine Eye for Details, Instructor Says

Eight girls are enrolled in manual training this semester, and, according to the instructor, there probably will be more enrolled the second semester.

Seven of the girls enrolled are from the division of home economics, the other being from the school of agriculture.

They do the same work as the boys and although they require a little more assistance perhaps, it is found they have a finer eye for details. The girls usually make such articles as cedar chests, dressing tables, flower stands, and porch swings.

Science Club Elects Officers

The Science club elected the following officers for the coming year: vice president, C. E. Reid; secretary, Dr. L. Jean Bogert; treasurer, Dr. J. S. Hughes. Members of the executive committee are Dean F. D. Farrell and T. J. Talbert.

FRENCH CLUB IS NEWEST SOCIETY

MEMBERS SPEAK LANGUAGE WITH NATIVE OF FRANCE

Club Organized by Prof. L. H. Limper—Vida Ayers, President—Meet Tuesday

A French club has recently been organized with Vida Ayers as president, Mildred Halstead as vice president, and Mrs. F. B. Porrester as secretary-treasurer. The club was organized at the suggestion of Prof. L. H. Limper, so that French students could have the advantage of speaking French with Mrs. Amos Payne, who is a native of France.

The club has a short business meeting at the beginning of each session, followed by songs or games conducted by Mrs. Payne and Professor Limper, in French. So far the business has been conducted in English, but it is hoped that in the near future French will be the only language used at the meetings.

All students or faculty members who have taken some French and who are interested, are invited to join the society. The club meets at the eighth hour Tuesday in N58.

LEITE OF BRAZIL ENROLS
IN DIVISION OF AGRICULTURE

Is Interested in Production of Meat and Milk

A. C. Leite of Anparo, state of Sao Paulo, Brazil, has just enrolled in the division of agriculture as a special student. Mr. Leite is a graduate of the Sao Paulo Agricultural college and beginning next semester he expects to take up post graduate in the division of agriculture. As he was reared on a large cattle ranch in the state of Sao Paulo, he is interested primarily in meat and milk production, and his major work will be in animal husbandry. Mr. Leite plans to remain at K. S. A. C. for two years.

Prexy Outlines a Simple Plan for Making K. U. Trip

Here's a way, figured out by President Jardine, whereby a student can almost save money by seeing the K. U. game at Lawrence a week from next Saturday.

It all depends upon how much a student ordinarily eats in a day.

Prexy reasons as follows:

The special train will leave too early in the morning for anybody to eat breakfast before departing.

At noon everybody will be too excited to eat luncheon.

The game will not be finished in time for dinner.

So three meals are saved.

Of course the average student does not eat quite as much as the price of a ticket to Lawrence, at a fare and a third, will cost. But it will be quite an item.

And if the student stays in Manhattan he will have to get his own dinner anyway, for everything will be closed. Saturday, October 29, has been officially declared a college holiday.

If enough students buy tickets the fare may be reduced to less than a fare and a third. It is practically certain not to be more.

"Better be cutting out a few unnecessary expenses and saving for the trip to Lawrence," is the word which comes from Prexy's office.

More details are promised later.

ALL OUT FOR PEP MEETING, JAZZERS URGE

PREXY, BRADY, AND SLADE
SPEAKERS BILLED

WANT GIRLS TO BE THERE TOO

Parade Downtown After Pep Meeting—Free Show at Wareham Theater Is Promised—Follow the Ball

The big Aggie-Missouri pep ball finally has been jarred loose from its moorings. Tonight at 7:30 in the auditorium, it will start rolling down the hill of victory at a speed which will send the show-me gridders back to their mamas with one of those uncoveted talleys which may be multiplied by 100 without appreciably increasing its magnitude.

Tonight's meeting is without precedent for years past. It is going to be one of those rousing, peppy, jazzy blowouts which take place once in a life time. According to Bob Spratt, chairman of the pep committee, everyone except the sick and dying are going to be present—and everyone bubbling over with stuff that makes the difference between the crutch and the saxophone.

Program a Snappy One

The program for the evening is a big one—and just as snappy as it is inclusive. Here is what is going to happen. The pep committee and the Girls' Loyalty league are uniting to make the celebration tonight one which will not soon be forgotten. Special arrangements are being made for the girls. Miss Louise Mangelsdorf, president of the Loyalty league, and Bob Spratt, chairman of the pep committee, both urge every girl in college to come out and do her share toward making the rally tonight the biggest ever. At 7 o'clock the girls are all going to meet at the Woman's gym for a 30 minute pow wow, in charge of the Loyalty league. Following this they will rush frantically to the auditorium where they will occupy sections J and K which have been reserved for them. Men will meet at the auditorium at 7:30.

Introduce Colonel Brady to Frosh

Just what will happen at the meeting tonight is being kept in the dark, but is rather authentically rumored that Spratt has a number of pranks up his sleeve which will be released at this evening's round up. The Collegian did, however, get a peep at the speech list. Among the prominent ones slated are Prexy Jardine, Dr. William Franklin Slade, and Colonel Brady. Colonel Brady is universally recognized as the man who has helped put more "wild" in the Wildcats than any other man in the world. No freshman should miss hearing him.

Band and Wampus Cats Out

But there are to be other things there besides the gang and the speakers. Every member of the band will be there tooting his horn for K. S. A. C. The Wampus Cats, with their pretty purple pants, will wampus about the building assisting Corby with the yelling. Mike, the Wildcats themselves, and probably the Aggie mentor will all be on display. Possibly "Ding" Burton will reveal the mystery of how he overcame the incumbency of his number 13—who knows what might happen.

Free Show at Wareham

After the voices are properly tuned up for the morrow in the auditorium, everybody will assemble outside and parade behind the band to a free show at the Wareham. The pep committee has made arrangements with the Wareham theater for the show, and Dean Mary P. Van Zile has given her consent for the girls to go along.

Spratt jazziily urges every man to bring his pink pajamas and other midnight accessories so that he may join with zeal into the flashiest shirt tail parade ever staged in the history of K. S. A. C.

It's tonight at 7:30. Coming?

SWIMMING MEET IS NOVEMBER 10

FIRST INTRAMURAL EVENT OF KIND HELD HERE

If Interest Is Sufficient Tournament With Nebraska May Be Arranged

For the first time in the history of K. S. A. C. an intramural swimming meet will be held at the college this year. November 10 has been set as the date for the aquatic performance.

The event, which will be held at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, is open to everybody and valuable prizes are to be given the winners in the contest.

It is hoped by E. A. Knott, who is in charge of the meet, that many will turn out. Mr. Knott states that if enough interest is shown at the event to warrant a swimming tournament with the University of Nebraska, such a meet will be arranged. All participants should write their names on a chart at the gym. The tournament will include the following: 40 yards free style, 40 yards breast stroke, 40 yards back stroke, plunge for distance, 20 yards swim, and diving and plunging for objects.

Want More Girls To Debate

Although the regular tryouts for debate have been held, Prof. O. H. Burns, debate coach, has arranged to hold special tryouts for those who have not yet tried out and wish to do so. Six or eight more girls are wanted on the squad and any who are interested in this work should see Professor Burns at once.

The cross country run will start tomorrow afternoon at 1:40 and will finish, probably just before the Aggie-M. U. game.

EVERYBODY OUT!

The hardest game of the season, tomorrow. The biggest pep meeting of the year, tonight? That question mark can be erased only by a cheering, thundering mob of 2,500 loyal Aggie rooters in the auditorium at 7:30.

So far, the spirit and fire at the pep meetings have been O. K. The only trouble lies in the fact that there have been too few out. If we are going to have a winning team the Aggie rooters must back the members 100 per cent and the only way to be 100 per cent strong is for everybody to be out.

The Missouri Tigers come here tomorrow backed by the entire student body of Missouri. They've got real spirit down there this year. A sample of this spirit was seen last Saturday when the Ames team left, the losers. Five hundred Missouri students went to the station at Columbia and cheered the Iowans as they left. That's spirit.

A big meeting is planned for tonight. The Wampus Cats will be at the meeting in force. There will be rousing speeches, some good yells, and then a big "shirt tail" parade down town to a free show at the Wareham. Let's have everybody out and produce pep in such ponderous portions that when the final whistle blows Saturday afternoon the Missouri Tiger, with his tail well twisted, will be seen slinking down the Kaw valley.

On the eve of the annual Aggie-Missouri football classic, three elevens, each with one game won, have perfect scores in the Missouri Valley championship race. But when the strains of Alma Mater float over Ahearn field from the hoarse throats of several thousand spectators tomorrow night as the victors and the vanquished leave the field, either the Aggies or the Tigers will be indisputably in first place. And the team that won will be painfully aware that it has been in a gridiron battle. Perhaps there is some significance in the press report that athletic director Z. G. Clevenger of M. U. has purchased $200 worth of adhesive tape—who knows.

Farmers Put in Strenuous Week

With the fluke defeat by Creighton last week still galling them, the Wildcats have been going into scrimmage against freshman formations this week with a grim relentlessness that hints of a Tiger tail twisting and vicious assaults on other prominent parts of the Columbia animal's anatomy. Under the driving of Coach Backman and his staff the first string men have been plowing through the first year line in a way that must have been highly discouraging to the yearling eleven. Even "Mike" himself has been out on the field putting the fight into the Aggie warriors.

Staib and Schmitz Out

Indications are that all the regulars expect Staib and Schmitz, who wrenched his knee at Omaha, will be in condition to face the Tigers Saturday. Nichols, who performed well as tackle in the Creighton game, will probably substitute for Schmitz. Sears, carried off the Creighton field unconscious, has been out for scrimmage apparently little worse from the terrific jolt received. Cleland and Stauffer have seemingly recovered from earlier injuries and perhaps will be back in the line Saturday. The probable line up is as follows: Winter and Sebring, ends; Stauffer and Nichols, tackles; Hahn and Schindler, guards; Cleland, center; Swartz, quarter; Burton and Stark, halfbacks; Sears, fullback.

Tigers Have Powerful Backfield

Missouri is conceded to be one of the strongest teams in the valley. The Tigers came from behind in the second half in the battle with Ames and won over the Iowans 17 to 14. The Columbia eleven is a team of veterans. In the backfield, Coach Phelan has seven last year regulars to choose from. "Chuck" Lewis, Missouri pilot, was chosen captain of the All-Valley eleven last year, and is generally conceded to have everything that a football player needs to rank among the stars. Lewis' drop kick in the Ames game gave the Missourians a lead which they never lost. Allan Lincoln, Tiger fullback, is purported to be one of the best men at the plunging position in the valley this year. Kershaw and Humes, veteran halfbacks, are the other two members of what is declared by Ted Curtiss, Aggie freshman coach, who scouted the Ames-Missouri game, to be a wonderful backfield—a backfield with powerful running strength in off tackle and end plays.

In the Tiger line, captain Blumer at tackle, played a stellar game against the Iowans. "Ham" Hamilton, international track star, will oppose Sebring at end, with Hardin, another veteran, facing Winter on the other flank. Bunker and Hill are other Tiger veterans in the forward line.

Clev's Men Slow on Aerials

A letter from Z. G. Clevenger, formerly Aggie athletic director, now with Missouri, states that every Missouri man came through the Ames battle without a scratch. An encouraging phase of the Ames-Tigers contest is that Ames, in the final quarter, opened up with an aerial attack that swept the Tigers off their feet, scoring one touchdown and working the oval to the Tiger 5-yard line again before the whistle blew. The Aggie counters this year have been closely associated with forward passes, and if the Aggie aerial combination is working right, the going for the Missourians is likely to prove rough tomorrow.

The Aggies have won two of the last four gridiron battles with the Tigers. Both in 1916 and in 1917, the Aggies won by one point, 7 to 6. In 1918 no game was played because of the flu epidemic, but in 1919 the Wildcats tied the Old Gold and Black, 6-6. Last year, in a hard fought game the Tigers won 10 to 7.

Backman and Phelan Teammates

An interesting sidelight on tomorrow's game is that Charles Bachman of the Aggies and Jimmy Phelan of the Tigers, coaches of the two elevens that will battle for supremacy on the college field, played on the same football team at Notre Dame and were also roommates. However, there is no fear that the friendship of the two mentors will detract from the determination of each to emerge victorious from the contest.

Predict Record Crowd

The predictions are that a record crowd will witness the game. An unusual number of out-of-town reservations have been received by athletic director, Mike Ahearn. Several new bleacher sections have been added on the west side of the field. The Girls' Loyalty league has reserved a section of the bleachers and 400 reserve seats will be inside the fence on the sidelines. These are the only seats reserved. In anticipation of a large number of cars and to save the track around the field, motor cars will be permitted to enter from the northeast as well as at the south gate and will be allowed to park north and east of the field outside of the bleachers.

Three Valley Games Saturday

Other clashes between valley conference teams tomorrow are Oklahoma with Washington at Norman, and K. U. with Ames, at Ames. These and the Aggie-Missouri contest are the only valley games scheduled for this week end.

The Players and Their Numbers

Members of the Aggie eleven will carry into battle tomorrow the following numerals on their purple jerseys:

"Ship" Winter ..... L. E. 24
R. M. Nichols ..... L. T. 11
Ray Hahn ..... L. G. 17
"Shifty" Cleland ..... C. 18
Ira Schindler ..... R. G. 16
M. Stauffer ..... R. T. 14

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1921

THE ALUMNI MUST KNOW THE NEW K. S. A. C.

Aggies students can help in making the Homecoming this year reach a degree of significance never attained before by the annual inpouring of old grads and former students.

The events of the Homecoming week end this year, rank among the most important that have been scheduled for the K. S. A. C. campus.

The dedication of the new engineering building symbolizes more than the fact that the division of mechanic arts at this college is growing by leaps and bounds. It seals forever the place of such a division at K. S. A. C. The last decade saw an attempt to take the engineering division from this campus and transplant it to that of another state school, but no future time will ever witness such an attempt. Hood, McCormick, Potter, former deans of engineering at the college, have done as good work as any executives in their line in America, and Seaton, present dean, is carrying on.

The Aggie-Oklahoma football game promises to become a Missouri Valley classic. The rivalry between the two schools is intense, but the clean, square, good sportsmanship of the directors, players, and rooters of the two schools is not impaired thereby.

K. S. A. C. is coming into her own this year. Those who have been on the campus for the past three or four years are feeling the surge of school spirit that is going higher and higher with each week in spite of outward evidences of dissatisfaction, rivalry, and cliques within the student body. They realize the difference between the spirit of today and of, say three years ago.

Let's get those alumni back this year to see the new K. S. A. C.—the Aggie school with a half-million dollar building program to be completed within two years, with the best football team since 1916, with a new and more unified fighting spirit among the largest number of students ever registered.

You know, each of you, at least one old grad or former student to whom you would like to show the new K. S. A. C. Write him now about that November 19 excursion to Manhattan.

If we get the alumni to believing in the Purple's renaissance, that new stadium will be built!

Beyond the Hill

Cigarette smoking is a forbidden pleasure for all freshmen at Carleton college, since a decree issued by the sophomores. Only 10 cent corn cob pipes can be used by the young admirers of Lady Nicotine.

A girls' rifle class has been organized at the University of Washington.

Faculty members of the dairy department at Ames are offering a gold watch to the athlete who proves of the most service to the varsity team.

Rules for the freshman girls at Colorado college have been adopted. False hair and ear bobs were especially condemned by the mighty sophs and the first year ladies now appear with their locks suspended in pig-tails.

A senior coed at the Ohio State university received a letter from the Ku Klux Klan stating that women there must put on long dresses or put on a coat of tar and feathers.

One hundred forty miles of features and educational moving picture films are now available for distribution to civic and religious organizations in Indiana, through the extension division of Indiana university.

Miss Louise Hamburger, of Cornell university, has filed a suit to recover $100,000 damages against the school. While conducting a laboratory experiment in the chemistry department, an explosion occurred which injured the plaintiff. Authorities of the university deny responsibility over the accident and hope to defeat the suit. They claim that thousands of similar suits against colleges and universities throughout the country will result if the decision is granted Miss Hamburger.

The "K" club members of Kansas university have decided to attend all football games in a body. They are also to have special seats at convocation.

The fad of horseback riding at Indiana university has resulted in five girls being injured. Accidents have been caused by horses running away, saddle girths coming loose, and inability to ride.

The student commission at the New Mexico State college has invited six students there to be present and act as victims in a general free bathing exercise. The reason given is that they were absent from a road building party put on by the students to help build roads at the college.

Law students at K. U. devised a roulette wheel out of the locked steering wheel of a car standing near the law building recently, and had a little Monte Carlo of their own for awhile. The spokes of the wheel were labeled 1, 2, 3, and 4. Then a mark was made on the windshield and the wheel was spun.

The "Holcad" publication of the Michigan Agricultural college contained an article in a recent issue concerning the paper to be published by the K. S. A. C. agricultural students. The Michigan Aggies have a similar publication.

A. L. Clapp of the extension division will conduct a membership campaign for the Rice county farm bureau next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swingle from Oakdale, Cal., are visiting in Manhattan this week. Mrs. (Mildred Berry) Swingle graduated with the class of '20 and Mr. Swingle with that of '21.

Mrs. Stella Phillips announces the opening of the Aggieville Beauty Parlor at 1305 Anderson avenue, room 2, over the College book store.

Lost: A pair of shell rimmed glasses in case. Finder leave at post office and receive reward.

Kansas City has petitioned the home study service for a study center class in educational sociology. The class is to be composed of 35 or 40 manual training teachers. Dean E. L. Holton and V. L. Strickland will have charge of the work.

Karl Knaus, G. W. Salisbury, and F. A. Dawley of the extension division are beginning a campaign to promote community organization. They expect to cover 20 counties this week.

Prof. C. W. Mathews of the English department, will address the Norton County Teachers' association at Lenora, October 22. His subject is "Better English."

Courses in stenography and typewriting at Sacred Heart academy. Phone 391. 412.

Sewing machines for rent. Kipp's. Dominoes, checkers, and chess. Harrison hall afternoon and night. tf.

MEMBERSHIP IN G. L. L. BROAD

HOLD MEETING TUESDAY IN RECREATION HALL AT 4

All Aggie Girls Belong—Dues 25 Cents—Hold Freshman Spread December 3

Every girl in college is a member of the Girls' Loyalty League. This fact is not understood generally among the girls this year, and the Girls' Loyalty League wishes to correct the erroneous idea that girls must be voted in to membership. The next meeting of the league will be next Tuesday at 4 o'clock in recreation hall, and everyone is urged to be present.

The members of the governing board state that to make the organization mean more and to be able to do more toward acquiring Aggie spirit among the girls, for which purpose the league was organized, they have voted dues of 25 cents a year.

Last year during the second semester, the league gave a freshman spread. At this spread the sophomores are the hostesses and all girls in school are invited to attend. The upperclassmen make dates with the freshmen and bring them to the party.

The freshmen spread this year will be given December 3 and all upperclassmen are urged to make their dates early.

G. W. Turner of the extension division, will address the farmers' institute at Goodland on October 27.

A. L. Clapp of the extension division, is attending the executive board meeting in Miami county this week. Phonographs for rent. Kipp's. tf.

TEST OUT POTATOES FOR USE IN STATE INSTITUTIONS

Business Manager Buys Forty Car Loads Wyoming Spuds

Potatoes for the cafeteria and barracks are being chosen for their cooking and storage qualities now. Six varieties from Wyoming were tried at the cafeteria last Monday, and there was a marked difference in the quality of the different potatoes. The "Mountain King" variety was chosen.

Heretofore the potatoes have been purchased through the business office from Colorado, and considerable loss has resulted from the various decays caused by fungi diseases. Prof. L. E. Melchers, professor of botany and plant pathology, thinks that at least 25 per cent of the loss can be saved by careful storage. Mr. Kimble, state business manager, is buying the "Mountain King" variety for all the institutions in Kansas. He has purchased nearly 40 carloads.

AGGIE ROOKIES ENJOY SUMMER

K. S. A. C. WELL REPRESENTED AT R. O. T. C. CAMPS

Fort Snelling, San Francisco, and Carlisle Camps Where Training Was Taken

Summer camps for the Reserve Officers Training corps were better attended last summer by K. S. A. C. "rookies" than ever before, there being in all about 90 students in the various camps.

Those in the coast artillery, which is composed of engineering students only, went to San Francisco. Forty members attended this camp. Fort Snelling, near St. Paul, was the attraction for those taking infantry and 40 went to this camp. At the Carlisle Medical school, 12 students of the veterinary medicine division spent the camp period. The camps lasted six weeks beginning the middle of June.

Various methods were used by the Aggie rookies of reaching their destination. Probably every railroad in Kansas was patronized. Some of the embryo soldiers went in side door pullmans, others in real style, and still others motored to camp.

At San Francisco the students were trained in the use of the big guns in the harbor forts. Targets at sea were used for the rookies to practice on.

At Fort Snelling the Aggies led in most of the campus life activities. They won both the athletic and shooting honors. Clapp, Karns, and Irwin were the track stars while the rifle team composed of Clapp, Colburn, Willis, Hodgson, Rateliff, and Stutz carried off the collegiate championship of the seventh district. Regnier won the welter weight championship in boxing.

Saturday night was very popular with the fellows, those at Ft. Snelling making trips down the Mississippi river at that time. At all of the camps bathing, boating, and fishing were participated in.

The camps were extremely successful from the war department's point of view. The interest taken by the students, and their willingness and pep was very gratifying to the instructors who had charge of the camps. Many of the boys expect to be back next summer because of the valuable training and the pleasant times they experienced last summer.

Now Wasn't That a Nice Way To Treat a Nice Freshman

"What are these things?" asked one innocent looking frosh of another as she extracted several thin yellow envelopes from her box at the post office.

"I'm sure I don't know, everybody's getting them—even the upperclassmen. I'll open mine and see."

So saying he opened it with gusto, poor little innocent Freshie! and what did he find? But have you yourself visited the post office since Saturday noon?

This model freshie did as the little slip within the yellow envelope told him to do, and talked it over with his instructor. Heartless man! He told that overworked, downhearted, much-paddled, much-rushed freshman to study.

"The main trouble with you is that you sleep in class, dance instead of study and expect to jazz your way through chem. Can't be done! Get to work!"

So the model child kept right on jazzing.

FORMER CITY SCHOOL MAN HAS MATHEMATICS POSITION

J. E. Edgerton Was Manhattan Superintendent

J. E. Edgerton, who for the past four years has been superintendent of the Concordia schools, and who prior to that time, was superintendent of Manhattan schools, has been appointed to a teaching position in the mathematics department of K. S. A. C.

Mr. Edgerton was graduated from the Kansas Wesleyan university and ranks high as a class room and institute instructor.

SKOURUP LEAVES AGGIE FACULTY

CHEMISTRY INSTRUCTOR GOES INTO BUSINESS

G. B. Watkins Will Take Skourup's Place—J. E. Sellars Is Another New Instructor

When the resignation of instructor W. N. Skourup took effect the eighth of this month, the chemistry department lost a man that will be rather difficult to replace. He has been at K. S. A. C. for two years. In withdrawing from the department here, he is giving up college work altogether and will hereafter be in business in Kansas City.

G. B. Watkins, graduate of the University of Michigan, will succeed Mr. Skourup as instructor. J. E. Sellars, graduate of the University of Colorado, will also be added to the chemistry department as an instructor soon.

LINCOLN FIRM EXAMINES AGGIE PROF'S INVENTION

Furrow Drill Designed by S. C. Salmon Proves Successful

A representative of the Chase-Tinsman Implement company has been visiting the college this week investigating the furrow drill designed by Prof. S. C. Salmon of the agronomy department.

This drill which Professor Salmon designed several years ago has been very successful in the more arid wheat growing sections. It plants the wheat in furrows while the ordinary drill does not. The furrows present soil blowing and holds the winter snows thereby preventing winter killing.

COUNTY AGENTS SHOW EXHIBIT OF PRODUCTION LEAKAGE

Stopping Leaks Will Reduce Crop Production Cost by Half

The department of county agents of the extension division, has prepared an exhibit which shows the leaks in the production of farm crops. The exhibit is at present in the main corridor of Anderson hall. Thirty four million bushels of wheat are lost by late seed production, 36,000,000 through depleted soil fertility, 15,000,000 through insect pests, 3,000,000 because of plant diseases, and 35,000,000 are lost by the use of low yielding varieties, leaving 120,000,000 bushels for the farmer.

Stopping these leaks will reduce the cost of production by one-half.

Cliff Stratton's Mother Dies
Cliff Stratton, '11, alumni secretary, and J. W. Stratton, '16, of Leavenworth, were called to Kansas City, Kan., last Sunday on account of the unexpected death of their mother, Mrs. J. L. Stratton, 1908 North Fourteenth street. Mrs. Stratton has been in ill health for a number of years, but her condition had not been considered serious.

Reports have been received that men are going around the southwest part of the state selling patent medicines and claiming that they are sent out by the state poultry association, while in reality the association and the college know nothing of the matter, and do not recommend any proprietary medicines. F. M. Aiman, feed inspector, has gone to this part of the state to investigate the matter.

Charles Nitcher of the extension division went to Mankato this week to judge the livestock at the Jewell county fair.

Mrs. W. Bennet of Concordia and Miss Alverita Heaton were dinner guests at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house Thursday evening.

Dean and Mrs. E. L. Holton drove to Holton last Saturday returning Sunday.

BEGIN FACULTY Y. M. CANVASS

GIVE COLLEGE WOMEN OPPORTUNITY TO CONTRIBUTE

Expect Women to Give $100 of $1,000 To Be Raised by Faculty

The college Y. M. C. A. has started its annual canvass for funds from members of the college faculty. As some of the women have in past years expressed a desire to have part in this canvass as well as the men, they are being given an opportunity this year to contribute. Although the needs of the Y. M. C. A. have not been presented to the women before, they are responding willingly with contributions.

The needs of the Y. M. C. A. are being presented by letters this year as a means of saving time for the committee in charge of the canvass and for the individual members of the faculty. When no reply is received a second letter is sent and that is followed by a personal canvass, but only the first letter is to be sent to the women of the faculty, the plan being simply to give them an opportunity to make contributions.

Present indications are that the women will supply about $100 of the $1,000 to be raised by the faculty.

Sergeant McGarry of the military department, who has been acting as drum major, has been transferred to Fort Riley.

SHIPPING CENTERS TO GET DAILY WIRELESS REPORTS

E. L. Rhoades Establishes New Station in Greenwood

A new livestock shipping center has been established in Greenwood county through the efforts of E. L. Rhoades of the extension division. This station will be equipped with wireless, and daily market reports will be received by the county agent and telephoned to the leading banks of the county.

Forty such shipping centers have been organized through the division in the last year and with but one exception all are active. Lyons and Cherokee counties expect to organize within the next few weeks.

It Takes a Soph To Learn To Get Collegian Early

Last year he was a freshman. Like all good freshmen he was a subscriber to the Collegian. In those days his name began with "W", for then he was uninitiated into the mysteries of the college community. As a result, on each Tuesday and Friday he was the last one to receive his copy of the college paper.

This year he is a sophomore. Like all good sophomores he is a subscriber to the Collegian. Today his name begins with "A", as far as his subscription is concerned, and he has been initiated into everything that his papa's pocket book will permit. Now he is wise to everything. No longer do Tuesdays and Fridays bother him, for now now he gets the first paper off the press.

Miss Clara Numbers, a stenographer in the county agent's office, returned last week from her vacation, which she spent in Kansas City.

Dr. C. W. McCampbell, head of the department of animal husbandry, went to Emporia Friday to attend a meeting of the executive board of the Kansas Livestock association.

Prof. Rolland Waters, who is superintendent of schools at Lovewell, visited friends in Manhattan last week end. Mr. Waters attended summer school here last summer.

Dinner guests at the Alpha Delta Pi house Thursday evening were Mr. Frank Roark, Mr. Dick Fox, and Miss Josephine Powers.

The week end guests at the Kappa Sigma house were, Lyle D. Leach and Wallace Shaw of Eskridge, Dorsey Denniston, L. W. Urie and Erwin A. Shockley of Lucas, Harry E. Newton and Vernon Black of Overbrook. Other guests for Sunday dinner were, Vida Ayres, Henry D. Carns and Roy Young of Alabama university.

W. A. Wheeler, specialist in charge of the marketing information bureau at Washington, D. C., will visit the college this month to confer with Dean Harry Umberger and others relative to the distribution of market reports and weather forecasts by wireless.

HAVE FORENSIC CENTER IN F10

FOUR SOCIETIES OF DEBATE TO HAVE SAME MEETING PLACE

Room Was Formerly Used by Forum—Refinished at Cost of $600

Forensic hall is the name which has been given to room 10 of the Fairchild hall. This room was formerly known as the Forum room, and used by the honor society for debaters and orators, but three other organizations which sponsor forensics were without a room of their own, and these united with the Forum in fixing up the room as permanent quarters.

The room has been completely refinished and will soon be refurnished. It has been replastered, the walls tinted, the floor covered with rubberoid, and new lights installed. Only the presidents and marshals of the Forum, Zeta Kappa Psi, Pi Kappa Delta, and the intersociety council will be given keys, and the room will be kept locked when not in use by members of one of these organizations.

The forensic hall will be the center of debate, oratory, and literary society work. It will serve as a meeting place for each of the organizations and their committees. Debate squad meetings will also be held in the room, and orators and debaters will find it a convenient place to work on the preparation and delivery of speeches.

The need for such a room has long been felt by the leaders in forensic activities and debate coaches, and much credit is due Prof. J. W. Searson, formerly head of the English department, for bringing about the cooperation of the four organizations. The work was done by the general repair department at a cost of nearly $600.

HOLD SPEAKING CLASS FOR ALL

PROFESSOR HOLCOMBE TO HELP STUDENTS WITH SPEECH

Stress Proper Use of Rising and Falling Inflections and Pitch Variation

"The difficulty with many students' inflections may appropriately be termed the 'trombone slur' because the upward inflections at the end of sentences sounds somewhat like the slide of a trombone playing jazz music," says Prof. Ray Holcombe of the public speaking department. It is to overcome difficulties such as these that special classes for instruction in overcoming speech difficulties will be opened this week by the public speaking department.

The proper use of rising and falling inflections, and the appreciation of differences and variation in pitch will receive special emphasis in the course. No credit is offered for the work, but a large number of students who are taking public speaking and extempore speech have already enrolled.

Prof. Ray Holcombe, who will teach the classes, says, "At least 25 per cent of the freshmen who are enrolled in this department can not end a sentence properly. This is not only the case at K. S. A. C., but at every institution in which the students come directly from high schools. The most common trouble with the students is the use of rising inflections at the end of a declarative sentence. A rising inflection leaves the subject in mid-air and the audience soon tires and becomes bored, because the speaker ends a sentence punctuated with a period as though it were a question mark."

"In a few cases speech difficulties may be attributed to tone deafness in which a person is unable to detect variations in pitch and is unable to give the correct inflection. But, by far the greatest cause is habit which the student formed in the grade school. Most grade teachers allow their students to answer questions in recitations in a questioning manner rather than insisting upon a firm, declarative response."

Although the course is primarily for students enrolled in the department of public speaking, anyone desiring the instruction may enroll in the class. The instruction will be given at times to suit the convenience of the persons desiring the work.

Alpha Psi held formal initiation at the chapter house Saturday, October 15, for Russell Spencer Beaver.

Dr. C. W. McCampbell went to Arkansas City, Wednesday evening to judge livestock and to judge and supervise the high school judging contest for southern Kansas, at the Cowle county fair.

START MINIATURE MUSIC STORE IN AGGIE AUDITORIUM

Shop is Ultra Union—Open Only Four Hours

Tucked away in the little room under the stage in the auditorium is Manhattan's newest shop, the musical book store. For several years a number of teaching pieces have been on sale in the office of the music department secretary. But this year a regular store has been established with a complete stock of music, and all the books, notebooks, etc., used in harmony, ear training, or any subject in the department, are in stock.

The music department does not believe in over working its employees, and has gone the unions one better in its scale of hours, for the music store is open only four hours a day—from nine to ten, twelve to one, and four to six.

Credit for the new enterprise is given to Prof. Ira Pratt, head of the music department.

START COURSE IN ECONOMIC ENTOMOLOGY FOR FARM BOYS

Nineteen Vocational Ag. Teachers Put Work in Schools

A new course in economic entomology is being prepared by the home study service in cooperation with E. G. Kelly, extension specialist in entomology. Nineteen teachers of vocational agriculture have volunteered to enroll in the work and carry it out in their schools.

Mr. Kelly plans, with the aid of the teachers, to organize in each community center an insect control team. The course, which includes practical study of all common insects such as the Hessian fly, the codling moth, and the wheat weevil, will give the student sufficient knowledge of entomology to enable him to lead in pest control work in his community.

There are 32 lessons in the course, and one lesson will be given each week. Reports will be made and filed with the home study department. It is estimated that 350 farm boys of the state will get the benefit of this training.

ADD MAP SKETCHING COURSE TO MILITARY DEPARTMENT

Sophomores in Infantry Corps Take Subject—Davidson Instructor

A new course in map sketching under the direction of Maj. A. P. Davidson for all sophomores in the infantry corps has been added to the military department at K. S. A. C. The work includes practice in the sketching of military maps, giving the student knowledge concerning the charting of an accurate military map as well as training in the proper way to read maps. Besides the military aim of the course, it is of great practical good because of the accuracy, observation, and calculations it requires.

Students in the course have already charted maps of the college campus and a little of the surrounding country.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Gallagher of Stafford, spent the week end with friends here.

START HOME STUDY CLASSES IN K. C. AND CLAY CENTER

Davis Teaches in Kansas City—Limper in Clay Center

Two home study courses, under the leadership of the home study department, are now organized and ready to begin work this week. Kansas City has a class in business English, with an enrolment of 20. Prof. H. W. Davis will conduct this course. Clay Center is to have a class in elementary French, under the direction of Prof. L. H. Limper.

These classes meet with their instructors for two hours every week. Regular college requirements are necessary for enrolment in the classes and two hours credit is given in the course.

Baptists Have Citizenship Program

A citizenship program will be given at the young peoples' meeting of the First Baptist church, Sunday evening at 6:30. This special program which is in charge of Miss Anna Starmer of the English department, is in observation of a day set aside by the national Christian Endeavor society for increasing interest in good government.

FIRST FACULTY CONCERT SUNDAY

RECITAL SERIES WILL CONTINUE
WEEKLY UNTIL CHRISTMAS

Gladys Warren, William Lindquist, and Helen Colburn Are on Program

The first of this season's faculty recitals will be presented at the auditorium, Sunday, October 23, at 4 o'clock. Gladys E. Warren, pianist, William Lindquist, baritone, and Helen Colburn accompanist, will give the opening number.

Miss Warren has spent the past summer in study and comes back prepared to add to her already large circle of friends who are always interested in her fine work. As an accompanist, Miss Colburn needs no introduction to the students and the people of Manhattan. She has more than a local reputation and is one of the best accompanists the music department has ever had.

Mr. Lindquist is a new member of the department and one of the most illustrious in regard to past record. He has had a great deal of dramatic experience and appeared at K. S. A. C. several years ago in Owen's "Servant in the House." He has already won many friends by his singing and the fine spirit of friendliness he has shown on the hill.

The recitals this year promise to be a real treat to music lovers of Manhattan and the college. The faculty roll of the Aggie music department contains several musicians of wide experience in concert and operatic work. Every effort is being made to make the performances successful and well attended.

Prof. Ira Pratt, head of the department, urges everyone to come out, and he adds, "These faculty recitals are being given with the object of presenting the best things in music to the students and people of the community. Music requires three persons, the composer, the interpreter, and the listener. The listener is just as necessary as the former, and for him the work and training of the composer and the interpreter are given. Manhattan is fast gaining a reputation as a community that knows and enjoys good music and I hope to see the auditorium filled at each number of the series."

The concerts will be held at 4 o'clock on every Sunday afternoon until Christmas.

BLUES ARE FIRST IN TOURNAMENT

GREEN TEAM IS SECOND IN HOCKEY GAMES

Color Tournament Is Held As Preliminary Practice for Class Games

The last games of the hockey color tournament were played Thursday evening, between the Reds and Blacks, the Purples and Yellows, and the winners. The Blue team first, and the Green team second, have been announced. The Blues won every game played. Miss Helen Priestly is the captain of the team. The Green team, second in the tournament, lost but one game. The Green captain is Hattie Betz.

The hockey color tournament is the preliminary practice for class games. The girls on the color teams were chosen from those who went out once to class practice. From the girls on the color teams the members of the class teams will be chosen. The class teams will be chosen next week.

Why Do Men Spend Cold Gray Hours in Recreation Hall?

Boys, page Dr. Watson! Sherlock Holmes is about to make another deduction.

Has it ever struck you as queer, my dear Watson, that early in the morning—about the first hour, to be exact—there is an overwhelming majority of men in recreation center? This is apparently an unimportant matter, and yet it is the key to a whole chapter in the temperaments of men and women.

Women, or rather girls, do not rise at an early hour unless urged by the immediacy of class recitations, but prefer to lie abed and subsist upon crackers and apples for their morning meal. But men, regardless of whether or not their attendance is required at first hour classes, will bestir themselves in time to procure a warm, palatable breakfast.

How Many of These Aggie Opportunities Have You Accepted?

Do you know that our college campus is said to be one of the three best in the country? That last year the student body had representatives from 35 states and from seven foreign countries? Did you ever stop to think that in order to keep things going this institution regularly employs 850 persons? Do you realize that this college is prepared to train you for any one of 450 different vocations?

These and many more interesting facts are contained in the folder, "K. S. A. C., an Institution of Opportunity," recently compiled by the extension division. Every extension worker and every faculty member will receive a supply of the folders for distribution to K. S. A. C. and high school students.

Is There a Scandal at Bachelor Club? Wampus Cat Knows

Is there a scandal at the College club? Mysterious happenings going on about the campus have caused a spy to be secured to give the students first hand information concerning the home life of the college profs.

Here is the joke. None of the college instructors knows who this spy is and he has sworn a secret oath that he will not reveal his mission among the elect.

You may read the report that this spy is going to make. But every spy must have his price. The way that you may gain this valuable information is to buy a copy of the Wampus Cat number of the Brown Bull. It is to appear on the campus on Homecoming day. You may save your pennies until that time. The price is only "two bits."

BAND INDICATES MORE ACTIVITY

COLLEGE ORCHESTRA TO GIVE CHAPEL CONCERTS

Aggie Musicians Will Play for Messiah—Wheeler Announces Personnel

Wheeler's Aggie band, one of the largest in the history of the college, which has done so much to create pep at the football games this season, is only a general indication of the activity in that phase of musical work in the college.

Speaking of the 25 piece college orchestra, in outlining his plans for the year, Prof. H. P. Wheeler said, "We expect to do some real work this year. Most of our time is, of course, spent in preparing the numbers which we play at each chapel hour. In addition to this we are to play for the presentation of the Messiah which will be given by the chorus just before Christmas, and practice on this will begin in the near future."

The orchestra will also play at the performances of the Swedish players who will visit Manhattan during the winter. For these plays the "Lyric Suite" by Grieg, and music by other Scandinavian composers will be used, so that the music will be thoroughly in accordance with the subject matter of the plays.

The first orchestra concert will be at the chapel hour, October 26. The program as outlined by Professor Wheeler is as follows: Kammerlei Ostrow (Cello Scene), Rubinstein; Ballet of the Flowers (6 parts), Hadley; March and Procession of Bacchus from the ballet "Sylvia," Delibes.

The personnel of the orchestra is as follows: conductor, Prof. H. P. Wheeler; violins, H. Hannen, E. Hassinger, M. Brooks, W. Altamayer; D. Knittle, R. Black, N. Kammeyer; viola, R. Scott; cello, R. Gordon, D. Knittle, R. Black, N. Kammeyer, R. Hensel, P. Schwartz; basses, Doctor Smith, E. Van Blarckom; flutes, V. Maupin, H. Hemker, L. Woodman; oboe, M. Russell; trumpets, O. Fisher, R. Love; French horns, E. Huff, R. Welton; Trombone, A. Riley; percussion, M. Rust, C. Moorman; piano, J. Elliott.

ZETA KAPPA PSI ENTERTAINS WOMEN INTERESTED IN DEBATE

H. T. Hill, Mary Polson, and Maude Lahr Give Talks

Zeta Kappa Psi, the women's debating fraternity, held an informal meeting for women interested in forensic activities, in Forum hall, Monday evening.

Short talks were given by Professor H. T. Hill of the public speaking department, Miss Mary Polson of the clothing and textiles department, and Miss Maude Lahr, a member of the fraternity.

The purpose of the Zeta Kappa Psi is to increase the interest in debate and oratory among college women. An interesting contest was held during the evening concerning the number of reasons why girls should debate. Some worthwhile answers were given, among them being, to learn to reason logically, to develop a convincing voice, to put important thoughts in a few words, and to develop self-poise.

AGGIES LEAD VALLEY CONFERENCE

TRYOUT FOR POP STUNTS NOVEMBER 1

COMMITTEE OF SEVEN TO JUDGE IDEAS

POP NIGHT TICKETS ARE 25 CENTS

Applied Art Department Puts on Contest for Best Posters Advertising Stunts—Lillian Ayers in Charge

The date of the preliminary tryouts for Aggie Pop Night December 2, has been set for November 1 by Lillian Ayers, chairman of the Y. W. C. A. second cabinet, who is in charge of this year's Pop Night. November 1, a committee of seven faculty members will judge the stunts on cleverness.

Every college organization is urged by those in charge of Pop Night, to begin working on stunts at once. The committee in charge is making every effort to put on an Aggie Pop Night unequalled in the history of K. S. A. C. The second cabinet of the Y. W. C. A. has charge this year, and the members are expecting the cooperation of the rest of the student body in making the affair a success.

A contest is now being put on by the applied arts department for posters advertising Aggie Pop Night, and the tickets, in form of tags, will be on sale in a short time. The admission price will be 25 cents, and the proceeds will go to the Y. W. C. A.

The chairmen of the various committees in charge of Aggie Pop Night are, Lillian Ayers, chairman of second cabinet of Y. W. C. A.; Marjorie O'Neil, chairman of publicity committee; Polly Hedges, chairman of advance ticket sales committee; Florence Johnson, chairman of program committee; Esther McStay, chairman of decoration committee.

The rules for Aggie Pop Night follow:

All organizations wishing to take part in Pop Night must submit stunts on November 1 to a faculty committee of seven members. This committee shall judge the stunts on cleverness and originality, by three out of town judges.

On December 2, stunts will be judged on presentation of cleverness and originality, by three out of town judges.

All plans and costumes are to be submitted for approval to Dean Mary P. Van Zile and Miss Jessie Machir 10 days before the final date.

The maximum expense shall be $10, and 25 will be considered the maximum number of people in each stunt. Complimentary tickets will be given to those appearing in the stunts, ushers, judges, orchestra members, and others helping in the performance.

The price of admission will be 25 cents. The tickets will be in the form of tags.

Stunts are to be 12 minutes in length with intermission of five minutes.

The faculty will be asked to present a stunt during the obtaining of the decision of the judges.

Each of the seven organizations whose stunts are accepted must conform with the Y. W. C. A. committee concerning properties, lights, etc., for December 2 through a chosen representative.

Y. M.-Y. W. ISSUE HELPFUL BOOKS

PUBLISH 2,800 COPIES OF KANSAS Y AGGIE

Prexy Urged All New Students to Read Handbooks Through

More than 2,800 copies of the Kansas Y Aggie, the official publication of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., were sent to prospective Aggie students last summer.

This publication contained information regarding the courses and activities at K. S. A. C. calculated to appeal to prospective students. It contained information concerning the method of registration, and explained the Big Sister plan of caring for the coed students.

This paper is only a part of the work of the publicity departments of the Y. W. and Y. M. The publicity departments prepared and printed the handbooks that were distributed among the new students. That the books were invaluable to the new students was shown by the fact that President Jardine urged every freshman to read a copy from cover to cover, before starting on his college career.

Y. HELPS MEN TO FIND WORK

FINDS TEMPORARY POSITIONS FOR ONE TO TEN DAILY

Recently 80 Men Were Temporarily Placed in One Day

One of the most useful services of the Y. M. C. A. is that rendered by the employment bureau of the association. This year 68 students have been secured permanent positions, and the number which have been helped into part time employment is large. The number helped to find temporary work averages from one to ten each day.

The employment bureau, which is in charge of Dr. A. A. Holtz, does not designate to the job seeker just what his compensation will be, but it is generally understood that the applicant will receive the current wage for his class of work. Anyone in college is at liberty to make use of the employment service. Recently 80 men were placed for part time employment in one day.

Y. M. CABINET STAYS AT WHEEL

FOURTEEN MEN MAKE UP GOVERNING BODY

Barger Is President Cabinet—Woody Secretary—Stauffer Vice President

In any organization which fills a real need in college life, there must always be some governing body—some central organization always at the wheel to see that theories and suggestions are carried out in practice.

In the case of the Y. M. C. A. at K. S. A. C. this body is a cabinet of 14 men. J. Wheeler Barger, president of the Y has chosen each of these men because of his special ability in the particular line of work to which he has been assigned. A complete list of the men composing the cabinet, with their particular jobs follows: Lawrence Whearty, meeting committee; Alvan R. Ritts, school of agriculture commission; Sanky Kelley, boys' work; A. B. Woody, publicity; Marion Stauffer, new students; C. R. Smith, freshman commission; A. R. Saunders, foreign students; Charles Hadley, S. S. G. A. representative; B. D. Hixon, special work; Kenneth Muse, social; Harold Howe, extension work; J. J. Seright, industrial relations; H. I. Richards, membership and finance; Earl Means, world fellowship.

Within the cabinet, J. Wheeler Barger is president, A. B. Woody is secretary, and Marion Stauffer is vice president. The cabinet holds a meeting each month.

Bethany circle girls sold tags Saturday for the state Salvation Army drive which was observed throughout Kansas last week. They met with a splendid response both from college students and town people, taking in $167 for the Salvation Army.

Y. W. FINANCE CAMPAIGN TO BEGIN TODAY

ONE HUNDRED GIRLS HELPING WITH DRIVE

NO DEFINITE AMOUNT IS ASKED

Luella Sherman Is Chairman of Canvass for Funds—Year's Budget Is $3,300, Part of Which Is Raised

The annual financial campaign of the Y. W. C. A. started this morning and will continue until Saturday. The finance committee, of which Luella Sherman is chairman, will conduct the drive.

Each member of the finance committee has selected eight helpers to assist in the canvass among the students, which means that about 100 students will help secure pledges. The advisory board, assisted by faculty and town women, has charge of the campaign for support among the faculty members and town friends. Miss Grace Hesse is chairman of the faculty committee, and Mrs. A. H. King of the townspeople. All the workers met yesterday afternoon in the home economics rest room for final instructions.

No definite amount is asked of anyone, although in many schools a membership fee of $1 is required and then a supplementary financial drive is put on. In order that the necessary amount be subscribed and average of $2.50 per member must be secured.

The budget for this year is $3,300 but only $2,200 has to be raised, as approximately $1,000 is raised by Collegian sales, by special events through the year, and by appropriations from the state. An itemized account of the budget is on every pledge card so that the donor can tell just where her money is to be spent. Both the cabinet and the advisory board approved the budget before it was adopted. The budget is larger this year than it was last, but several new items have been added. The bulletins and handbooks put out by the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. meant an additional expense of $150. The money for the extension work is another new item. The appropriations for committees and office expenses have been cut.

Liberal support has always been given the Y. W. C. A. by students, faculty members, and townspeople. It is interesting to note in this connection, that the girls who are most interested in the work of the Y. W. C. A. have contributed most liberally to the organization. Last year the cabinet members averaged $10 apiece. The faculty was more liberal last year in the number pledging and in the total amount given than ever before and the indications are that they will be equally generous this fall. Last year over 65 townspeople who were not connected with the faculty in any way subscribed.

Miss Gertrude Conrey, '21, who is teaching in Kansas City, Mo., spent the week end at Manhattan visiting her parents and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ackert were dinner guests at the Delta Delta Delta sorority Sunday, October 22.

The special Aggie train will take all those going to the clean up at Lawrence at one and one-third fare. The cost of the return trip ticket is $4.55. Tickets may be purchased in Anderson at an early date. Seat reservations for the game should be bought at the athletic office in Nichols gym. The tickets at $1.50 include reservation in the Wildcat section. Announcement of the exact time that the train will leave will be made later.

Y. W. GETS JOBS FOR MANY GIRLS

135 WOMEN EARNING WAY THROUGH COLLEGE

Number Partially Self Supporting Is 201—Demand for Jobs Heavy

Every day several girls find employment at the Y.W.C.A. bureau. As soon as the college catalogs were sent out last year girls began writing in or calling at the Y. W. office for employment. Some of the girls want to work their way through school, while others need only to pay part of their expenses. According to the records of the bureau there are 135 girls in college wholly self supporting, and 201 girls who are partially self supporting. Many found employment through the Y. W.

The demand for jobs is greater than can be supplied. There are, however, some chances for housework still open for applicants.

The same bureau maintained a room registry for girls before school began and the lists are frequently revised and kept up to date. The general secretary, Miss Irene Dean, is in charge of this work.

KNOTH PREPARES FOR INTRAMURAL

ORGANIZATION CAGERS START PRACTICE SOON

New Clubs Wishing To Enter Teams in Tournament Should Notify Knott

Annual intramural basketball games between the various fraternities and student clubs will begin in about three weeks. E. A. Knott, physical director, states that the same system will be used this year as before.

Two separate contests will be staged—one the Pan-Hellenic division, including the fraternities and the other, the independent division of clubs and organizations. The winners of each division will then fight it out for the college championship. The divisional winners will be given an engraved loving cup.

Any new clubs or organizations wishing to compete should hand in their name to Coach Knott at an early date, as the schedule of games is to be made out and posted soon. Further announcement will be made later.

Since the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. financial campaigns are being held this week extra space is being devoted to news about these organizations. The Collegian recognizes the work of these associations as being essential to student welfare.

AGGIES WHIP TIGERS IN THRILLING FRAY

WILDCATS SCORE TOUCHDOWN IN LAST TWO MINUTES

VISITORS BATTER VALIANTLY

Bachman-Ahearn Men Play Till Final Whistle—Long Pass, Stark to Sebring, Nets 45 Yards—Sears Puts it Over

It was the sort of football thriller that has made the gridiron pastime the greatest American collegiate sport. With two minutes left to play in the final quarter, the fighting Aggie Wildcats, battling pluckily in the face of what seemed certain defeat, out-generaled the Missouri Tigers and scored a touchdown, winning over the Gold and Black 7 to 5 Saturday.

"SUSIE" SEARS

And the Aggies are at the top of the valley race.

Pep Meeting Predictions Came True

The predictions made by President Jardine, Mike, Colonel Brady, and others at the last pep meeting came into fulfillment. Incidentally, it was just the kind of battle "Shifty" Cleland said it would be. Like their namesake the Wildcat, Bachman's warriors fought, doggedly, relentlessly, always with something in reserve; and like the Wildcat, they refused to stay beaten.

Score in Last Two Minutes

It looked as if the Tigers had the battle won. The count stood 5 to 0 in their favor. Swartz had fumbled a pass back but recovered and hurled the leather towards his goal line, it counting an incomplete forward pass. It was the Aggies' third down near the 50 yard line, with 23 to go. Swartz called a punt formation. Stark dropped back, Cleland snapped the oval back, Stark passed it 25 yards down the field to Sebring and the Aggie end dodged, stiff-armed, and shook off the Tiger tacklers for a brilliant 23 yard run to the Tiger 2-yard line. Two minutes, and the final whistle would sound. The Tiger line massed for a desperate resistance. Swartz gave the ball to "Susie" Sears and the Aggie fullback catapulted into the Missouri defensive wall behind the battering ram drive of the Aggie forwards. Eleven Tigers and eleven Wildcats went down, one fighting, scrambling heap. The pile untangled, and 3,000 spectators went cheering mad; the ball was over. The Tiger tail had been efficiently twisted. Sebring lifted the oval over the cross bar for another point and it was Aggies 7, Missouri 5.

Aggies Lose on Fumble

Once in the opening quarter it looked bad for the Tigers. The Aggies had worked the ball into Missouri territory. Burton skirted around end for 18 yards and Sears tore into the enemy line for gains. With the ball on the Tiger 30-yard line, Hamilton blocked Stark's kick from placement but Stauffer recovered the ball. A 15-yard pass, Stark to Sebring, two end runs and another pass put the leather on the Tiger's five yard line. But Sears fumbled and Lewis kicked out of danger.

In the second, luck evened it up for the Aggies. The only pass completed by the Columbia team, a 40-yard heave from Lewis to Hamilton placed the ball on the Aggie 20-yard line. On their 15 yard line the Aggies line held and forced Lewis to kick. Taking Stark's punt on their 30 yard line the Tigers with Lincoln, massive fullback, lugging the ball in irresistible line plunges, alternating occasionally with Lewis and Packwood—marched down the field to the Aggies five yard line. A Missouri touchdown seemed inevitable. Then the whistle sounded for the half, and a vast sigh of relief swept through the stands.

Tigers Score in Third Quarter

Missouri's points came in the third. Bunker nabbed Swartz's pass and Lincoln and Lewis again alternated in terrific line plunges. Hamilton criss-crossed for 10 yards. Cleland called a short council of war, and on the next play "Shifty" spiked Lincoln in his tracks, and "Chuck" Lewis dropped back to the 20 yard line and booted a drop kick over the goal posts for 3 points. A punting duel after the kickoff left the Aggie ball on their own 2-yard line. Bryan, going in for Stark, attempted to punt, fumbled and recovered, but was downed by the speedy Hamilton behind the Aggie goal line for a safety, counting 2 points more for Missouri.

Although the brilliant work of Swartz, Stark, Sears, and Burton was more noticeable, the Aggie forward line played a gilt-edged game. The playing of Sebring, Cleland, and Nichols was perhaps the most outstanding.

First Quarter

Lewis kicked off, Stark punted to Tiger 30 yard line. Missouri made a first and 10, were held, and punted. Burton skirted end for 14. Stark's pass failed. Sears made first down. Hardin blocked Stark's place kick.

Second Quarter

Stauffer recovered the ball. Stark passed 15 yards to Sebring, Sears and Burton added seven, and another aerial put the ball on the Tiger five yard line. Missouri held a frantic conference. Sears fumbled and Lewis kicked out of danger. Kershaw intercepted Stark's pass and returned it 10 to Tiger 20 yard line. Lewis punted and the ball was on the Aggie 45 yard line.

Third Quarter

Lincoln took Stark's punt on Tiger 30 yard line. Kershaw made 11 and Lewis passed 40 yards to Hamilton. (Concluded on page six)

THE MISSOURI GAME AS PER SCHEDULE

Last Saturday was one of those perfect days for the Aggie Wildcats. It was a red letter day for K. S. A. C., and was well deserving of the bonfire ending which was so enthusiastically accorded it.

Everything went off according to schedule. The cheering, the demonstration by the Wampus Cats between halves, the music, and the game itself surpassed by several notches all the extravagant predictions of the pep meeting speakers. It was a victorious day for those on the bleachers as well as for those on the field. Everyone worth mentioning was present and did his full share in the noise making. If never before, it may be said unreservedly that the cheering Saturday was done in unity, was bountiful, and was consistent through thick and thin. Regardless of the direction in which the ball was going, the crowd was always there.

After three quarters of increasing darkness the Aggies came from behind. We believe that the cheering had something to do with it. If it didn't, cheering at football games is foolishness. Saturday's victory demonstrated without a doubt that the game is never won until the final whistle blows.

"BECOME A MEMBER NOW"

Are you going to help pay for the things that you have yourself enjoyed and been benefitted by? Are you going to make it possible to carry on the work of the two biggest service organizations of the college? Because they are public service organizations they handle a volume of work which enables them to do for $5 what you yourself could not do for $25.

In addition to being a party to the support of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A., when you contribute this year, you will be given a card which will be honored at any city Y in the United States. As a worth while citizen of this college community you cannot do otherwise than contribute during the finance campaign which is to be held October 24-28.

The Aggie Y has been instrumental in bringing new students to K. S. A. C. through its advertising campaign. It has prepared the way for these new students through the room inspection and employment bureaus, the issuing of handbooks, and the big sister plan. It sponsors the securing of noted lecturers to speak to the Aggie students. It helps students to become acquainted by giving social affairs. It supplements the work of the Cosmopolitan club in securing and caring for foreign students.

The budget of the Y will not cover the expenses of all of these activities. It costs money to attract students to K. S. A. C., to prepare for their coming, and to entertain and provide for them after they have arrived.

It is your Y, an integral part of your college. Surely it deserves your support. Will you answer favorably to the slogan "Become a member now?"

MATHIAS WINS HANDICAP RACE

TIME 24:30 FOR FOUR AND THREE-FOURTHS MILES

Henre Finishes Second—Mathias, Henre, Ibach, and Clapp Are "Scratch" Men

In the cross country handicap race finished on the athletic field just before the Missouri game last Saturday, Bill Mathias took first place, covering the four and three-fourths miles in 24 minutes and 30 seconds. Merle Henre came in for second 150 yards behind.

There was a great deal of misunderstanding among the spectators, many of whom thought the race was a contest between the Aggie demons of the cinder path and those of the Missouri institution. This idea was erroneous, however, for the contest was merely a try out run to determine who is to be on the Aggie cross country roll. The 18 men taking part in the race were divided into three classes, the first starting at 1:45 o'clock, the second class a half minute later, and the "scratch" men three-quarters of a minute after the second squad. The "scratch" men are those who have been showing up best in the training, and for that reason are started last in the handicap. They were Bill Mathias, Wallace Clapp, Donald Ibach, and Merle Henre.

The time made by Mathias ranks well with the 24:4 record that Ray Watson made in the handicap over the same course last year. Watson is coaching the crew this year, and says that although his team may not be so fast as some they are showing up well and are especially well balanced. Watson won the K. U. cross country race last year over this same course in 24 minutes and three seconds. The men placing among the first six will be eligible for varsity, and will probably compose the cross country team which will compete at K. U. next Saturday, at Nebraska November 5, and at the valley meet at Lincoln.

FIRST CONCERT WELL ATTENDED

COMPETES SUCCESSFULLY WITH FINE HIKING WEATHER

William Lindquist, Gladys Warren, and Helen Colburn Give Program

Despite the fine hiking weather an unusually large crowd attended the first number of the faculty concert series Sunday afternoon.

The members of the audience were well repaid for their interest and they showed their appreciation in no uncertain manner. Every number was vigorously applauded. The performers, Mr. William Lindquist, baritone; Miss Gladys Warren, pianist; and Miss Helen Colburn, accompanist, were warmly greeted at every appearance.

Mr. Lindquist, making his first appearance as a member of the K. S. A. C. music faculty made a deep and lasting impression on his audience. As an accompanist Miss Colburn is so well known to K. S. A. C. audiences that it is needless to remark on her work. She is undoubtedly the best accompanist the music department has ever had.

The concert as a whole was a great success and deserving of an even larger crowd than was present.

CLASS HOCKEY SQUADS CHOSEN

GAMES WILL BEGIN FIRST OF NOVEMBER

From the Squads of 25 or 30 Teams Will Be Chosen To Represent Classes

From the girls making the best showing on the color teams, the class hockey squads have been chosen. From 25 to 30 girls have been called out from each class. These squads will meet for practice this week, sophomores, Monday; freshmen, Tuesday; juniors and seniors, Wednesday; and the girls making the best showing at these practices will be chosen for class teams.

In previous years the class teams have been chosen directly from the color teams, but this year there is such a wealth of good material that it was decided to call out class squads, and from these to choose the class teams. Class practice will begin Thursday, October 27, when the freshmen and juniors will practice. Monday evening the sophomores and seniors will practice. Class games will begin Tuesday, November 1.

The final results of the color tournament have been announced. The Blue team members were champions, coming through the fight without losing a game. The Green team was second with one game lost. Black ranks third, Red, Fourth; Purple, fifth; and Yellow, sixth.

Miss Dean

The biggest Big Sister, and a sincere friend to every Aggie girl is Miss Irene Dean, secretary of the Y. W. C. A. Miss Dean was experienced in Y. W. C. A. work before coming to K. S. A. C. She graduated from Washburn where she was actively connected with the Y. W. She then became a high school teacher.

She is not only a leader in the Y. W. C. A. work, advising committees, arranging meetings and planning social events, but she is a personal advisor of every college girl. She helps in finding rooms for new girls and secures work for many of them. It has been said that Miss Dean has advised students on everything from securing rooms to securing divorces.

The remarkable success of the Y. W. C. A. here is largely due to the wise and sincere guidance of Miss Dean.

Rolf Fjell Also Starred in Plays—His Real Name Hammer

Madame Borgny Hammer, the great Norwegian actress from the National Theater of Christiania, Norway, who appeared at K. S. A. C. two years ago, will make her second appearance here with the Traveling Theater which appears at the auditorium November 4.

Since Madame Hammer was here last, she has played over most of the eastern half of the United States where she has scored big successes. Last fall she played Hedda Gabler at Winthrop Ames' Little Theater in New York. At the expressed wish of the critics she is to appear on Broadway next year.

Madame Hammer will be seen here in "Ghosts." As Mrs. Alving she is said to more than equal her remarkable interpretation of Rebecca West in "Roemerholm" which played to capacity houses in Chicago for six weeks.

Rolf Fjell, one of the great actors of Norway, will also be starred in these plays. Until recently Mr. Fjell acted under his own name of Hammer, but owing to the confusion caused by having two stars with the same name he was persuaded to change it to Fjell. He won so much recognition under his adopted name that he has been known as Rolf Fjell ever since.

Madame Hammer and Mr. Fjell will take the leading roles in "Ghosts." "The Climax" is a second notable production to be offered on November 5. Laurence Clark has assembled a distinguished cast to present this special performance.

Prof. Walter Burr, of the sociology department, attended a state Y. W. C. A. board meeting at Hutchinson, Thursday, October 20.

POPULAR AGGIE PROFS ARE MEMBERS OF Y. M. BOARD

King, Hill, Seaton, Durham, and Fitz Back Association

Some of the best and most popular professors of the Aggie faculty are on the Y. M. C. A. board.

Professor H. H. King, who is head of the board, has been voted the most popular professor on the hill. The fight and pep of Professor King is so well known that it is needless to say anything further about him. Prof. H. T. Hill, head of the public speaking department and the most popular speaker that K. S. A. C. possesses, is a member of the board.

R. A. Seaton, dean of the engineers, and Hugh Durham, known as "Father of the Ags," are two other well known members of this board. Prof. L. A. Fitz, is treasurer.

The Rev. A. M. Reed and H. D. Hayden of the Chamber of Commerce are the representatives from Manhattan.

Week end guests at the Pi Kappa Alpha house were Harold Dennis, Curve Glenn, "Swede" Swenson, "Betty" Womer, and E. C. McKinney, all from K. U. Other week end guests were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Lee, Leo Cavanaugh, H. C. Gaden, John Hepler, Merton Otto, and H. G. Hillix. Professor Englund and Evans Ditmar were guests at Sunday dinner.

A home study class in college rhetoric is to be organized at Wamego soon. Prof. C. W. Mathews will conduct the class.

Taps are sounded every Wednesday morning just before 11 o'clock at Ohio State in honor of the men who lost their lives in the war. Everyone on the campus halts, faces toward the bugler, and uncovers his head. This small tribute has become a custom at many schools, thought it originated at Ohio State.

AGGIE GIRL FINDS FACTORY LIVABLE

WORKERS AVERAGE EIGHTH GRADE EDUCATION

Miss Travis Believes Working Woman Too Tired to Study

Hunting a job as a factory girl was one of the interesting experiences of Miss Eva Travis last summer. Miss Travis attended the annual Y. W. C. A. conference at Estes Park, and was one of the K. S. A. C. girls in a group of twelve representatives of various colleges, chosen to investigate the conditions under which the women of the industrial world work.

In the Denver garment factory where Miss Travis worked she found conditions quite livable. The most noticeable thing needed was a rest room for the women. A cafeteria is maintained by the factory and meals may be obtained at a very reasonable price. The factory was a union ship, and due to this fact, conditions were better than in many other factories. The women work eight hours with only one half hour off at noon.

The first week in the factory Miss Travis spent in learning how to operate the machines. As a first assignment she was sent to make overall backs. She received 90 cents for 24 backs, and averaged about $5.00 a week. Most of the experienced employees averaged from $16 to $30 a week.

With continually changing work Miss Travis found it impossible to acquire any speed or perfection in making garments. As soon as she attained some degree of efficiency in her work she was given a new sort of work.

Upon careful investigation Miss Travis found that the girls in the factory, in practically all cases, have no more than an eighth grade education. The ages of the girls vary, some of them being as young as sixteen.

The group of college girls in Denver met each evening to discuss industrial problems and the conditions of the women with whom they worked. "We found," said Miss Travis, "that often we were too tired to think. The noise of the machines was nerve racking and almost unbearable at times. This is the reason that the factory girls do not finish their education in night school or by outside work. They are worn out mentally and physically."

STUDENTS LACK DEFINITE AIMS

HOME STUDY DEPARTMENT TO GIVE NEW COURSE

Brainard Believes Many Young People
Are Square Pegs Digging
Round Holes

"Teach in a high school school—perhaps—be a missionary." Not a very definite aim for a young person, is it? And yet according to P. P. Brainard of the home study service this is typical of the hundreds of answers, which his department receives in reply to the question, "What would you like to do, if you had the opportunity?" This question is asked of all home study students on a personal acquaintance blank, sent them with their first lessons.

In order to train teachers to help young people to realize an objective and attain their ambition, Mr. Brainard is preparing a correspondence course in vocational guidance. The course, which will be available after November 1, will include eight lessons and will give one hour credit. It is designed largely for superintendents and principals of high schools, and for students in the educational department.

It is the judgment of Mr. Brainard that fully 50 per cent of the young people today are not fitted for the work they are preparing to do, but are square pegs digging round holes for themselves.

Mr. Brainard states, "There are two things we aim to accomplish by a course of this kind. First, we want to suggest a plan by which teachers can help students to discover their own talent and second, to indicate how such talents can best be put to work. This can and is being done in many of the larger schools in the country by a system of vocational tests and try outs which help the student to find the thing which he wants to do and can do best."

"Doc" Holtz

Who is the busiest man on the hill? We declare nominations open and believe we can answer this question to the satisfaction of all.

We wish to nominate for that position a man who without question does all in his power, and then some, for the good of his fellow beings. He is a man whom everyone knows and to whom everyone goes in time of trouble or need. He has many and varied jobs and he performs them all with a snap and vigor that puts them over with a rush. He asks no compensation for many of his activities but does them in a spirit of helpfulness and friendliness. He is a "regular feller" and a real honest-to-goodness man, the Y. M. members assert.

This man is secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and helps coach the freshman football team. He gets jobs for the students and is always ready to listen to troubles and to give helpful advice. He inspects all rooming houses and helps students to secure rooms.

And finally his own stenographer says this, "He does more work himself than any man I ever worked for." Could anything be more convincing? In view of all of these facts we wish to place before the student body the name of Dr. A. A. Holtz.

A. L. Clapp of the extension division is attending a general farm bureau meeting in Crawford county this week at which the question of joining the state farm bureau will be decided.

Y. W. SERVES WHOLE COLLEGE

MEMBERS FIND MANY WAYS TO HELP

Last Year Social Service Girls Taught
Classes at I. O. O. F.
Home

To serve the whole college community is an aim of the Y. W. C. A. Part of this aim is carried out in the work of the social service committee, but at all times the secretary, the girls' octette and the entire organization is glad of opportunities to serve others.

The many ways in which the social service committee serves the community can be shown by a short sketch of the undertakings accomplished last year and their plans for the coming year.

The members of the committee conducted a class in sewing for the older girls at the I. O. O. F. home, and a story hour for the younger children during the year. This year work is also being done at the county poor farm.

Farm and Home week the girls supplied lists of the rooms for rent, plotted the town, and canvassed for the available rooms. Each noon they had a forty-five minute story hour for the children here.

The social service committee helped in getting rooms for the high school Y. W. delegates here for the state conference last year. They co-operated with the clothing and textiles department in giving the style show. The octette is often called on to aid in programs.

With the assistance of some of the college colored girls, a club for the younger colored girls of Manhattan was organized last year.

The religious education work of the association is carried on in two ways, through the religious meetings, the regular Y. W. C. A. veepers, and by encouraging Bible study in some one of the Sunday school classes of the various churches.

Last year more Aggie girls were enrolled in Bible classes than were enrolled from any other state school in the Missouri Valley.

The American Association of Teachers of Journalism will meet in Madison, Wis., December 28, 29, and 30. Prof. N. A. Crawford is secretary of the association. The program at the meeting will include addresses by writers and editors, and round table discussions of the different phases of journalism instruction.

EXTENSION WORKERS FIND RILEY HAS MODERN PREACHERS

The Rev. H. W. Apel Connects Religion with Farming

A preacher who can connect the idea of giving food for the soul and the business of gaining food for the body is seldom seen, but according to T. J. Talbert of the extension division such a man has been discovered near Riley. He is the Rev. H. W. Apel, a young man recently graduated from an eastern college.

The Reverend Apel, last spring, arranged through the extension division to have two speakers from representative departments of the college present at the farmers' union meeting held in his community every month. The Reverend Apel not only drives to Manhattan to get these speakers but he also makes provision to have them entertained in the homes of the community.

Mr. Talbert spoke at the meeting at Riley last Monday evening on "Some Secrets of Success in Farming." He reports that as a result of young Apel's activity a progressive community spirit has developed. The farmers agree that the improvement they have made in poultry work alone has saved them thousands of dollars.

Y. BRINGS NOTED SPEAKERS HERE

JOHN DYER COMES FIRST, NOVEMBER 3

Searson, Butcher, and Ray Anderson To Talk During Year

Authorities on religious and vocational guidance, secured by the meetings committee of the Y. M. C. A., are to deliver lectures to the students of K. S. A. C. this semester. According to the plans, formulated there will be two speakers at the college each month.

The first of these speakers is John Dyer, dean of men at the University of Kansas, who will speak at the college November 3. His long experience as advisor and friend of the K. U. students has established his reputation as an authority on student activities and vocations.

J. W. Searson, former head of the department of English at K. S. A. C., who is now connected with the extension department of the University of Nebraska will return to the college on November 17 to speak on the subject, "Journalism and Advertising as a Vocation."

T. W. Butcher, president of the Kansas State normal will speak on the subject, "Teaching as a Profession." The date of his speech has not been definitely decided but it is probable that it will be about December 7.

H. Ray Anderson, pastor of the College Hill Presbyterian church at Wichita is one of the speakers on religious guidance best known to Aggie students. He is a graduate of K. S. A. C. He was a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity, Hamilton literary society, and the Y. M. C. A. cabinet. He served overseas as Chaplain of the 103rd Infantry. The subject of his address on December 15 will be "A Modern Man's Religion."

This program of lectures is a continuation of the work of the Y in preceding years. Last year the Y brought several prominent men to lecture at K. S. A. C., among them, Prof. H. L. Kent and Charles F. Horner, president of the Horner Institute of Fine Arts who spoke on the subject, "Music as a Vocation."

The members of the committee on meetings who are responsible for securing these men are, Lawrence Whearty, chairman, Lester Means, A. L. Bridestine, Austin Stover, and Norris Thomason.

The speakers for this year will talk at the Y meetings held in recreation center. They will begin at 7:30 and will be open to all students who desire to attend.

A "GIT UP FORDSON" LOOK AFFECTS A COW MOST, DAIRY JUDGES LEARN

According to the dairy score book, a dairy cow is a wedge-shaped creature that ought to look like a barrel from the immediate back of her front legs to the immediate front of her back legs. More than that, she should possess such unusual things as a dew-lap, quality, pin bones and temperament. If she doesn't possess them her score is low, her financial rating below par, her reputation shady. Thenceforward she is looked upon with scorn by all men, who point to her deficiencies and measure her eccentricities on the basis of one hundred.

So far so good. According to a theory a student in dairy judging is supposed to walk boldly up to a cow, look at her so severely that her courage breaks and she, in deep humility, discloses every fault of her being. For the student with callouses on his hands and a "Git up there, Fordson" look in his eye this system sometimes works. But for the youth who has been born in an apartment house and reared by school teachers and traffic cops, it never works.

Such a person, when called upon to judge a cow, edges carefully and quietly up to the most harmless side of bossy and, with the aid of the score book, tries to discover just how greatly she is where she ought not to be and isn't where she ought to be. Perhaps he finds that bossy's form is about as wedge-shaped as a basketball or an auto tire. Down goes her batting average. In turning her ear inside out to ascertain her quality he learns that she has temper as well as temperament. That lowers her score still more.

Then her critic screws up his courage and stoops over to learn whether her mammary vias are "large, long tortuous, branched, with double extension; large and numerous milk wells." About the same time bossy's tail starts out after an ambitious fly and the student's score book is scattered far and wide. According to regulations he can take off only one point for her tail so he makes it up by marking down on quality. For isn't it true that nobody or no thing with quality would stoop so low as to knock a book from the hand of a hard-working student?

So it goes. The student works on, trying to determine whether or not bossy's tail is long and slim, whether her legs are straight and fine, whether her eyes are large and mild, whether her shoulders are light and oblique, and whether her chest is deep and low.

And when bossy has finally been completely reconnoitered, contemplated, surveyed, inspected and inventoried; after her faults, deceptions, errors, loose screws, blemishes, and shortcomings, have been thoroughly noted and recorded; then the student straightens up with a sigh of relief, wipes the sweat from his brow, adjusts his disarranged clothes, and offers up a prayer of thankfulness that he has only three more cows to judge.

Y. W. SOCIAL COMMITTEE MEMBERS HAVE BUSY TIME

Plan Entertainment for All Branches of Association

The social committee of the Y. W. C. A. has a two fold duty, to plan good times for the organization, and to promote a high standard of social activities. The members of this committee take office in the spring and begin at once to plan for the big all-girls' party given the next fall. The committee members plan the entertainment for all branches of the association. Last year they planned the social activities for the state cabinet training conference and they always plan the local cabinet training conference.

In cooperation with the Y. M. C. A. social committee, they plan the four big parties given every winter by the two associations.

HOLD CREAMERY SHORT COURSE

THIRD ANNUAL MEETING IS NOW IN SESSION

Prominent Speakers on Programs—Expect Increase over Last Year's Attendance

The third annual creamery short course for field superintendents is being held here this week. Eighty men engaged in the creamery business in Kansas and other states attended this course last year and as many or more are expected this year. The short course began Monday and ends Friday.

Several out of town men will speak during the session. Professor Mitchell of the American Association of Creamery Butter manufacturing of Chicago, and K. L. Murray of the Lincoln Pure Butter company, at Lincoln, Nebr., will give addresses on October 27. I. D. Graham assistant secretary of the Kansas board of agriculture will also speak on that day. Besides these men, members of the K. S. A. C. faculty will give talks on subjects connected with dairying and creamery work.

Wednesday will be field men's day and Thursday will be manager's day. A get together supper was held for the members on Monday evening at the Pines and a banquet will be given at the Christian church on Thursday evening.

Y. M. PROGRAMS AID ENROLMENT

TEAMS SENT OUT IN MAY MOST SUCCESSFUL

Carry "Go to College" Campaign to 19 High Schools This
Year

Among the outstanding accomplishments of the Y in the past year was the "Go to College" campaign conducted in 19 Kansas high schools. Figures taken from the registrar's office show that the average increase in enrolment from these high schools, in comparison with last year, is 65 per cent.

The "Go to College" idea originated with the Y two years ago and C. C. McPherson was set to work organizing the movement. Shortly after Christmas last year the first teams were sent out between semesters. One of these teams visited Alma, a town from which there were no freshmen in the fall of '20. This year there are seven freshmen. The other schools visited showed substantial increases in the quota of freshmen attending K. S. A. C. this year.

The teams that had the most consistent success were those sent out during the latter part of May. These teams consisted of two or three speakers, musicians, and readers. At Junction City, where one of these groups visited, the proportion of freshmen at K. S. A. C. was increased from two in '21, to 13 in '21.

C. H. Howe succeeds McPherson this year in conducting this branch of the Y. He is a senior in general science and has been prominently connected with Y work in the past, having organized the intramural basketball tournament last year. He is also prominent in literary society circles.

BIG SISTERS ARE A BUSY BUNCH

HELP NEW GIRLS UNTIL WELL ESTABLISHED

Aggie Big Sisters Number 289—"Always Ready; Always Faithful" Is Motto

The biggest and one of the liveliest committees in the Y. W. C. A. is the Big Sister committee, of which Marian Brookover is chairman. To be a captain of this committee is considered as much an honor as a cabinet position. There are 17 captains in the committee, each in charge of about 18 Big Sisters. There are 289 big sisters, each having one or more little sisters among the new girls.

With the motto, "Always ready; always faithful," the Big Sisters serve a real purpose in K. S. A. C. from the time the new girls enrol until they are well established and entirely acquainted with their surroundings here.

At the first of the year the girls on the committee meet all the trains, taking the girls to their rooms in cars. Many of the girls who came to college for the first time had not arranged for rooms, and the Big Sisters helped them find rooms and to become comfortably settled there. Enrolment day the Big Sisters were everywhere, giving much needed advice to both boys and girls concerning enrolment.

Throughout the year the Big Sister committee will have charge of vespers. These meetings will help to hold the Big and Little Sisters together.

Y. W. C. A. IS A TRAINING SCHOOL

ASSOCIATION TEACHES PRINCIPLES OF LEADERSHIP

Freshman Commission, Cabinet, and Vespers Have Part in Training

The Y. W. C. A. is a training school for the college girl. The organization teaches the girl by giving her the actual experience of being a leader or executive, that which she does not or could not get in the class room.

The girl gets her first training for leadership in the freshman commission. Fifty or 75 girls who are chosen each year from those freshman girls who have shown themselves interested in the organization and willing to work, comprise this commission. The group is organized and instructed in the work and functions of the Y. W. C. A.

The first cabinet, which is composed of four Y. W. C. A. officers, and the 11 committee chairmen, trains girls to be executives. This group, as the administrative body, discusses committee problems and plans the work of the organization.

Vespers, the weekly inspirational meeting of the organization, through meetings of open discussion, gives girls the chance to appear in public and express their ideas. Besides the value the girls get from the programs, they learn to be good mixers in the social time after the meeting.

Girls learn to be hostesses and good managers by taking charge of the many social functions that are given under the auspices of the Y. W.

From the ranks of the girls who have been leaders at college may be found, the Y. W. authorities believe, the girls who are the most active leaders in their home communities. The Y. W. secretary cites any number of instances where girls have been asked to take charge of clubs, summer camps, membership drives and numerous other enterprises as a result of lessons in leadership learned in the Y. W. C. A.

COMMISSION IS HELP TO FROSH

ORGANIZATION OF Y. M. TRAINS PROMISING FRESHMEN

Commission Work Is Starting Much Earlier This Year Than Last

In every freshman class there are certain freshmen who have the elements of character and leadership which give them the possibilities of development into future leaders in college activities. The Y. M. C. A. has added to its work that of the freshman commission, which is an organization of leading freshmen. The purpose of the commission is to develop competence and leadership in these chosen men.

If the list of men who have been on this commission in times past could be compared with a list of the leading men in the sophomore class of this year it will be found that many of the men are on both lists. The latent qualities in any man can be developed only through training, and because freshmen as a rule have smaller chances for this training the Y. M. freshman commission supplies this deficiency.

The organization of the commission is starting much earlier this year than last in order to give the first year men training earlier in the year instead of waiting until the last of the year to choose the members.

By being a member of the commission a man gets a chance to meet and come in contact with many of the leaders both among the faculty and the students.

Y. W. DRIVE FOR MEMBERS ENDS

OVER 500 PLEDGE CARDS ARE ALREADY IN

Believe Membership in Association Will Exceed That of Last Year

The Y. W. C. A. membership campaign closed Saturday with excellent results. It was probably the biggest Y. W. membership drive ever put on at K. S. A. C., since not only new girls were asked to join but owing to the new plan in use here the old members had to join again. The new ruling passed last spring by the Y. W. conference, changes the church membership basis to a personal basis. Formerly members were required to belong to a Protestant Evangelical church, but this year any girl who takes the Y. W. C. A. pledge becomes a member.

About 500 pledge cards have been turned in and there are many still out. However this number includes about two-thirds of the women students in the college. Last year the membership was 550 but according to Alice DeWitt, chairman of the campaign committee, the membership this year will probably exceed that of last year, when the pledges are all in.

GIRLS HELP IN FOREIGN FIELDS

WORKERS IN TOUCH WITH AGGIE MISSIONS

Lavina Waugh Is Chairman of the World Fellowship Committee

Keeping in touch with former Aggies in missionary service in foreign fields is a feature of the work being done by the world fellowship committee of the Y. W. C. A., this year, under Miss Lavina Waugh, chairman.

Miss Lois Witham, who is at the Methodist women's college in Foochow, China, has been asked by the school to establish a home economics department. The world fellowship committee has obtained a list of books recommended by the home economics division of K. S. A. C. as part of the equipment for carrying on the work. The committee, in attempting to collect these books, found that some publishers were willing to send them without cost, and Miss Waugh's committee will raise money to pay for other books.

Through the alumni association, the committee has located other missionaries from among K. S. A. C. graduates, and the girls will send Thanksgiving and Christmas letters to them. In this way the girls hope not only to give these former students K. S. A. C. news, but to obtain from them facts of the work of their districts.

The "World Week of Prayer" program, November 13 to 20, will be taken care of at the college by the world fellowship committee. A special Y. W. C. A. vespers will be in charge of this group of girls during this week.

Bachman Donates in Police Court—Judge Is Loyal Aggie Fan

Tackled and downed for a $10 loss in the city police court, was the result of a fast ride taken Wednesday morning by Coach Charles W. Bachman, Kansas Aggie football mentor. The coach was arrested on a charge of speeding and running his "Lizzie" with an open cutout down Poyntz avenue. The judge told the coach that it had been whispered to his honor to assess a $25 fine and remit $15 to football fund. The remaining $10 was to revert to the city officers.

The big Aggie coach was evidently concentrated on some important football problem, for he passed through the entire squad of officers on a short end buck and was not brought to ground until he had reached his goal. The bumpers of his "whoopie" displayed ideal interference for none of the opposition cared to spike it and he followed it closely for a good gain. "Bach" at first, may not have thought the penalty just, but he paid up without taking out his Spaulding rule book to look up the play.

AG LEADERS ON INSPECTION TOUR

UNDERWOOD AND FARRELL VISIT FOUR STATIONS

Spend Week Studying Sectional Conditions at Branch Experiment Stations

E. N. Underwood, of the board of administration, and F. D. Farrell, dean of the division of agriculture, left Saturday to spend a week inspecting the four branch agricultural experiment stations at Colby, Hays, Tribune, and Garden City.

Mr. Underwood, who has a particular interest in the work of the experiment stations, has spent considerable time familiarizing himself with the function and methods of the station here.

Branch experiment stations are needed because of the varying agricultural conditions in the different parts of the state. For instance the altitude varies from 1,031 feet at Manhattan to 3,600 at Tribune. The average rainfall at Manhattan is 31 inches while it is only 16 at Colby and Tribune. At Garden City 29 inches is the maximum rainfall, but it is 51 at Manhattan. The minimum rainfall at Manhattan is 15 inches and 7 at Colby. The average acreage per farm in the counties where the stations are located varies from 904 near Tribune to 216 around Manhattan, but the greatest average of improved acreage is near Colby, where it is 657 acres. The smallest, 115 is near Manhattan.

Other reasons for branch stations are that new discoveries made or developed at the main station can be tested under regional conditions and experiments can be run to give answers to specific rather than general problems.

Sideline Comment

Wonder how Colonel Brady feels about that K. U. game now?

Those Tigers must have heard about Burton. They were watching him like a flock of hawks.

"My," gushed a young lady spectator, "that Missouri team looks like a lot of hornets, all striped up that way."

Cleland played a wonderful game. Referee J. C. Grover declared "Shifty" was the best center he had seen in action in the valley this year.

And Grover refereed the Ames-Missouri game last week in which "Polly" Wallace, All-American center, played a stellar part.

Swartz combines nerve and headwork. Once when he missed a snapback, he raced after it and when tackled, hurled it towards his goal line. It counted an incomplete pass with no loss.

A few minutes later he outwitted the Missourians by calling a pass on a fake punt on third down with 21 to go. It resulted in the Aggie touchdown.

No one has yet gone through that Aggie line for a touchdown, nor has "Tom" Sebring missed a goal from touchdown.

Sears made Hamilton, fleet Tiger end look foolish. In the last minute of play Hamilton took a long pass from Lewis, and "Susie" picked it out of his hands.

Nichols, substituting for Schmitz at tackle, repeatedly broke through and spiked Phelan's men behind the line of scrimmage. He is a little light but makes it up in speed.

Two charging backs met when Lincoln tackled Stark after an 8 yard run in the third period. Both were injured but both stayed in.

Between halves a Wildcat and a Tiger tangled on the field. The Tiger lost his tail in the fray and took refuge on a goal crossbar. A Farmer spotted him and shot him down, and stretcher bearers bore the tailless victim off the field.

CAPTAIN CLELAND

The Jayhawkers have fixed up electric lights out in a pasture and painted the football white so they can practice after dark. And still the Daily Kansan refers loftily to the "Cow Pasture Crew" from Manhattan.

ton. Winter blocked Lewis' pass and Missouri was held for downs on Aggie 12 yard line. Lewis kicked. Stark made 12 and Swartz and Sears made it first and 10 again. Stark punted to Missouri 25 yard line, and Lincoln, Packwood, and Kershaw in five straight downs put the ball on the Aggie five yard line for the end of the half.

Third Quarter

Packwood took the kickoff and was downed on the 25 yard line. An exchange of punts and an intercepted Aggie pass put the oval on the Aggie 40 yard line. Lincoln made six, Lewis 12, Lincoln five, and Hamilton seven to the Aggie 10 yard line. Lewis' drop kick was perfect. Score; Aggies 0, Missouri 3. After the kickoff Missouri kicked to the Aggie 3 yard line, Bryan, punting from behind the line, dropped the ball, recovered, and was thrown for a safety. Score; Aggies 0, Missouri 5.

Fourth Quarter

Stark punted 35 and Lewis returned 10. The Tiger backs made two first and 10s, Lewis' drop kicked from the 20 yard line was low, Stark punted. Bunker's pass back went wild but Packwood ran back and fell on the ball. Lewis made a 11 yard punt out of bounds to Aggie 45 yard line. Swartz fumbled but recovered and made an incomplete pass. Stark passed 15 yards to Sebring who lugged it to the Tiger 2 yard line. Sears carried it over and Sebring booted goal. Aggies 7, Missouri 5. During the next two minutes Stark intercepted Lewis' 35 yard pass and Sears took a pass out of the hands of Hamilton. The whistle sounded as Sebring was preparing for a kick from the Tiger 25 yard line.

SPECIAL GOES AT 8:30; PEP MEET TONIGHT

PREXY AND SLADE ARE SPEAKERS BILLED

AGGIE PLANE WILL VISIT K. U.

Tickets for Game on Sale Athletic Office Going Fast—Sell Railroad Tickets at Canteen—Price Is $4.55

Want to know the dope on the K. U. trip? Here it is. The Union Pacific special train—carrying those who prefer the cushions and those who are unable to find old clothes—is billed to leave Manhattan at 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

Arrive at 11:45

All decked out in a wonderful galaxy of purple and white bunting, and resonant with the strains of "Alma Mater," the special is scheduled to check in at the Jayhawk camp at 11:45. Those who have made the trip before strongly advise taking a snack along or else ordering your hamburgers by wire immediately. Tradition has it that there are usually a few out of town visitors that day and the restaurant keepers are unable to cope with the increased volume of business.

Pep Meeting Tonight

In order that all voices may be in proper tune, there will be another of those rousing old times in the auditorium Friday evening. President Jardine and Dr. William Franklin Slade are the headliners. Bob Spratt, chairman of the pep committee, says he was more than gratified at the showing the girls made at the meeting before the Aggie-Tiger conflict and hopes that they will not fail him Friday before the most decisive game of the season. "I am certainly pleased with the way the girls are backing us up in this pep work," said Spratt Thursday morning.

Stop at Topeka En Route

On the way down, the excursionists will stop at Topeka and pay a visit to the Capital office, the Journal office, and to the governor of the state. Immediately after arriving at Lawrence there will be a grand reunion of all Aggie enthusiasts. The riders of the rods as well as those who rode the cushions and in cars will all meet at the station when the special pulls in. Then will come the grand parade up town.

Plane to K. U.

One of the features of the day will be an exhibition put on by Mac Short with his airplane. With the plane decorated with purple and white, Short will fly about Lawrence during the K. U. pep meeting which will be held from 11 to 12 o'clock. Purple and white confetti and posters will be dropped from the plane.

Tickets have been selling fast. Mike Ahearn, of the athletic department, received 500 reserved tickets for the game Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock and before noon all were gone. He immediately wired for another 500 and these may be had at the athletic office now. The price of $1.50 includes the reservation in the Aggie section. The railroad tickets at the reduced rate of $4.55 for the return trip may be purchased at the College canteen.

Band All Going

The band is going down 82 strong. These ardent disciples of Prof. H. P. Wheeler have been marching about the campus these evenings far after quitting time in an effort that they might make an especially fine appearance on the Jayhawk field tomorrow. Major L. C. Davidson has issued the ultimatum that only those members of the band who wear regulation uniforms to K. U. will have their way paid. Perfect harmony of dress in the band may be expected.

After the feathers have been properly picked the special will leave for Manhattan at 7:45 o'clock, so that everyone may get back to town in time for Sunday school.

Dean R. A. Seaton will leave for New Orleans November 6 to attend an executive meeting of the Association of Land Grant colleges, which holds session from November 8 to 11.

HOW IT HAPPENED IN '06

This is the way Mike's Aggie team stripped the Jayhawk in 1906. Three minutes after play started, "Lefty" Porter, at that time the best toe artist in the valley, scored a place kick from the 40-yard line, counting four points for the university. About the middle of the first half, the Jayhawk toe wizard again attempted a place kick, this time from the 45-yard line. The Aggie center broke through and blocked it. The oval rolled to one side and Captain Mallon, Aggie halfback, scooped the ball on the run and without slacking speed, carried it over for a touchdown, counting four points. The Aggies kicked goal and the score was 6 to 4. The Aggies were not yet in the valley conference, but they whipped the valley champions.

MUSICIANS MAKE HIT AT CHAPEL

MISS GERALDINE SHANE MAKES INITIAL APPEARANCE

Orchestra Under Wheeler's Direction Compares with Professional Organizations

A full house greeted the Aggie musicians Wednesday morning at chapel. The program was put on by the music department and the college orchestra did the greater part of the entertaining.

Miss Geraldine Shane, a newcomer to K. S. A. C., delighted her audience by her rendition of "Longing" by Buzzio-Pecca, and Springs Singing by Masfadyen. She was warmly applauded and sang "Pirate Dreams" as an encore.

The Rev. W. U. Guerrant of the Presbyterian church made one of his usual peppy talks and gave a short prayer.

The feature of the program was the performance of the Aggie orchestra. They played three selections: Rubenstein Kamenoi Ostrow, March and Procession of Bacchus, by Delibes and Hadleys Ballet of the Flowers. All three were exceptionally well rendered but the latter was especially good.

FROSH ELECTION FINALLY SETTLED

REVOTE TAKEN—TOTAL NUMBER BALLOTS CAST 223

Charles Is Elected President—Official Announcement of Results Made Thursday

The ballots just wouldn't stay straight so the freshmen had to re-vote. Those freshmen who voted Wednesday, October 19 had to do the work all over again Friday, October 21. And then they couldn't seem to get the count made, so they had an awful time. The official announcement of the returns was not made until Thursday, October 27, a week after the election.

Even after all the commotion exhibited, only 223 of the 1,000 frosh voted.

The following officers were elected: G. E. Charles, president, 141 votes; L. N. Circle, vice president, 131; Beatrice Humbert, secretary, 129; Grace Justin, treasurer, 115; H. E. Monroe, marshal, 105; Myrl Barnhisel, S. S. G. A., 176; Ione Aspey, S. S. G. A., 85; K. R. Bunker, athletic director, 125; Alice Paddleford, devotional leader, 121; D. A. Shields, yell leader, 103.

In a recent issue of the Collegian it was stated erroneously that the date of the Collegian Board election was Monday, October 24. The election will be held Monday, October 31, opposite the post office. All subscribers to the Collegian may vote.

EX-DEANS OF ENGINEERS TO HELP DEDICATE

POTTER, MCCORMICK, AND HOOD INVITED TO SPEAK

GOVERNOR ASKED TO PRESIDE

Formal Dedication Exercises Saturday, November 19—Engineers To Hold Open House

Former heads of the engineering division will be the chief speakers, and guests of the engineers on Homecoming day if present plans mature.

A. A. Potter, dean of engineering during 1914-20, who now holds the same position at Purdue university, has been asked to be here for the dedication Saturday morning. Effort is being made to have present Dean E. B. McCormick, of the bureau of public roads at Washington, who was head of the division from 1901 to 1913. O. P. Hood, who superintended, and did much to develop the shops here, previous to 1898, will also be a guest. He is now chief mechanical engineer of the U. S. bureau of mines.

Invite Governor Allen

Governor Allen has been asked to preside at the dedication of the engineering building. Other speakers besides the two former deans of Aggie engineering, who have been asked to be here for the dedication are: Ernest Fox Nichols, '88, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, George W. Wildin, '92, general manager of the Westinghouse Airbrake company.

Dedication Saturday Morning

Formal dedication exercises for the new wing of the engineering building will be held Saturday morning, November 19, in the auditorium.

Samuel Sophocles Saphead Has Unraveled An Ancient Mystery

It was the esthetic, perspicacious, enigmatic year of 2021. Professor Samuel Sophocles Saphead was seated in his paleontological laboratory, intently engaged in studying an assortment of articles lying before him on a desk. There were bits of cardboard that looked like they might have served as either railroad or football tickets, pieces of cloth, leather and hair that gave the impression of being torn violently from their original places, and pieces of stone or concrete that appeared as if they might have been wrenched from a new building of some sort.

The professor was deeply puzzled. He studied the articles before him with minute care, working slowly and systematically. At last, after hours and hours of weary labor, he straightened up. There was a look of fierce exultant triumph in his eye. "Eureka," he cried soulfully. Then he turned to his stenographer and commanded her to prepare for dictation.

"It is with the greatest pleasure," commenced Samuel Sophocles Saphead, "that I announce one of the most vital discoveries of my long and eventful career. I have at last succeeded in clearing up the darkness and obscurity that has heretofore completely surrounded a certain phase of ancient history.

"I will explain. For many years my colleagues and I have been studying a certain curious exodus or pilgrimage that took place on one certain day and night of each year between two adjacent points that we have but recently learned were known as Manhattan and Lawrence, situated in the state or province of Kansas. One of the most unusual features of this exodus was the fact that, in one year, the direction of the movement was from Manhattan to Lawrence, and on the next year it was in the opposite direction. There was no established, definite trend of movement, as can be seen.

"This phenomenon occurred regularly for about 14 years. In fact it occurred with such regularity and similarity that definite characteristics can be assigned to it. On the

if the weather permits, there will be a procession from there to the engineering building, where the engineers will hold open house for town people, alumni, and guests, until time for the game. Plans are being made for a dinner to be given in the evening by the engineering students to alumni from their division, and visiting guests of the department.

Homecoming Program

The program for the Friday and Saturday of Homecoming week end includes the engineers' parade which will start at 6:30 Friday evening, the mixer at 9:30 Friday evening, the dedication of the engineering building at 9:45 Saturday morning, the football game with Oklahoma at 2:30 Saturday afternoon, and organization reunions, dinners, and dances, Saturday evening.

The committee in charge of the program is composed of Dean R. A. Seaton, chairman; Dr. J. E. Kammerer, and Prof. L. E. Conrad, representing the faculty; L. A. Fitz and Cliff Stratton, representing the alumni.

C. E. Reid, J. P. Calderwood, and G. R. Pauling are attending a conference at Lawrence in regard to a power plant which is being designed by the engineers of K. S. A. C. and K. U. for the penitentiary at Lansing.

The price of tickets for the two plays to be presented by the Traveling Theater on November 4 and 5 have been set at $1.00 and $1.50. Prof. Howard T. Hill of the public speaking department announces that the tickets will be placed on sale Monday in Anderson hall and reserved seats can be had at the Co-op after Wednesday.

Professor Hill is offering these two plays at surprisingly low prices. The top price, $1.50 is less than either play could be seen for at any commercial theater. He is expecting a large turnout.

WILDCATS DEDICATE STADIUM TOMORROW

AGGIES TO UPSET BOTH JINX AND JAYBIRD AT K. U. GAME

2,000 ROOTERS ESCORT TEAM

Band of 82 Pieces Is Going—Backman's Warriors All in Game Except Schmitz—K. U. Team in Fighting Trim

By S. C. Swenson

Tonight the loud squawking, vain-glorious Jayhawk is cawing boastfully on top of Mount Oread down the Kaw, as he has cawed for 14 years. But in the early darkness tomorrow night the noisy fowl will hop his way back to his nest on the university hill in disgrace, denuded of everything but his pin feathers, soliloquizing sadly on the uncertainty of things. For tomorrow Charles Bachman's and Mike Ahearn's fighting Wildcats will worry that homely bird up and down within the white line of the new stadium football field until the Lawrence atmosphere is filled with feathers, Jaybird squawks, and Aggie yells.

Aggies To Upset Old Traditions

Year after year for 14 years, the Wildcat has tried unsuccessfully to tear the feathers from the bird's ungainly anatomy, and each year the fowl has croaked triumphantly as the Wildcat loped defeated from the arena. But all observers agree that this is a different sort of a Wildcat from those of other years. He is full of fight, surer of himself, and better groomed for the struggle. Having thrice tasted meat this year, he is acquiring a more fastidious appetite. Never a vegetarian, the succulent meat of the Jayfowl has ever made his mouth water and caused his stubby tail to lash in a frenzy of desire. And he expects to feast on it tomorrow afternoon.

Tomorrow morning K. S. A. C. will move down en masse to Lawrence. When the Aggie special pulls out there will be aboard some 2,000 of the wildest, wild-eyed rooters that ever rooted, besides an 82-piece band decked out in new uniforms, prepared to play a dirge for the Jaybird. The Wampus Cats will be along to eat stray feathers scattered beyond the sidelines. And the train will also carry the hardest fighting Aggie eleven that ever faced a Jayhawk football team. The special will leave here at 8:30 in the morning and will return sometime—no one cares when—that night.

Jayhawkers Work at Night

Word comes from the Lawrence camp that the Crimson and Blue have imbibed a profound respect for the Wildcats since the defeat administered to the Tigers Saturday. Coach "Potsy" Clark has been putting his men through the heaviest training of the season behind closed gates, in preparation for the Aggie invasion. Out in the cow pasture where they are frantically training for the struggle, an electric lighting system has been rigged up and darkness does not stop practice. And the footballs have been painted white, probably with luminous paint. It is not stated whether the university mentors get time and a half for overtime, or whether they divide into day and night shifts. Neither has Coach Clark announced whether he expects to use the white footballs in tomorrow's conflict.

The Kansas team came through the Ames battle without injuries. Practically the same line-up as defeated the powerful Ames team will oppose the Aggies, except that Saunders will replace "Tarzan" Weidline at center and Griffin will probably replace Kreuger at left half.

Opponents Are Good Passers

Drake conquered the Jayhawkers 15 to 7 by the aerial route and Kansas scored the winning touchdown against Ames by a pass, Spurgeon to Black, over the line. Captain Jones, guard, and Black, left end, starred in the line in the Ames game. "Tris" Spurgeon, massive fullback, is touted as a terrific plunger, while McAdams at half, and Black at end are probably the most adept at pass nabbing of the Oread crew. Wilson, Kansas pilot, and Spurgeon hurl the oval with remarkable accuracy. Coach Curtis, who scouted the K. U.-Ames contest reports that the Jayhawkers have a dangerous passing combination and a heavier line than the Aggies.

Freese, 190 pound tackle, is said to be a real find. An awful wall is going up from the Lawrence camp because "Hungry" Hale, veteran center, is out of the game with an operation, since the Drake game. Now the K. U. mentors are giving out that the lanky center was as good as "Polly" Wallace, All-American center of Ames.

Look for Hard Battle

The wearers of the Crimson and Blue are not overconfident since their scout took back information from Manhattan Saturday that the Wildcats have a firmly welded line and a backfield that steps out somewhat. But the Lawrence team has a world of pep and fight. It is peculiarly fitting that the first contest on the new $1,000,000 McCook field stadium should be between the Aggies and the Jayhawkers. It is certain

JAYHAWK TEAM WORKS OVERTIME

K. U. MEN CONSIDER AGGIES MOST DANGEROUS VALLEY TEAM

Line-up Virtually Same as That in Ames-K. U. Game—Hale Out

By Joe Turner, Sport Editor, University Daily Kansan.

Lawrence, Kan., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—Flushed by a gratifying victory over the heavy Ames eleven, and spurred on by the knowledge that they face in the Kansas Aggies what is probably the most dangerous football team in the Valley, the Kansas football team is working overtime this week in preparation for next Saturday's battle.

Coach "Potsy" Clark has impressed his squad with the fact that the Aggie team this year is one of the most powerful ever turned out by the Manhattan school, and is equally good in both defense and offense. The Aggie victory over the Missouri Tiger, although it came in the last few minutes of play, is not discounted by the Kansas squad or coaching staff. That the Manhattan eleven should have been able to prevent the acknowledgedly powerful Tiger from scoring via the touchdown route throughout the four periods of the game is indication enough that the Aggies have defensive ability, while their successful passing and lugging of the ball speaks for itself in summaries of recent games.

The Kansas team that starts the Aggie game will be virtually the same that played in the Ames struggle, so far as present indications can be trusted. The loss of George "Hungry" Hale, star center who is laid up following an operation for appendicitis, will be greatly felt in the Jayhawk line, as it was in the Iowa battle, but Hale's place will be filled by Gordon Saunders, a good man both defensively and offensively, whose only failing is lack of weight.

The probable Kansas line-up for Saturday's game is as follows: ends, McDonald and Black; tackles, Higgins and Freese; guards, Captain Jones and Reedy; center, Saunders; quarterback, Wilson; halfbacks, McAdams and Griffin; fullback, Spurgeon. Possible substitutions in this line-up are Davidson for Freese at one of the tackles, and Kreuger for Griffin at half.

A PEPSTIR AND A GENTLEMAN

"In the midst of the excitement and breathlessness which always accompanies a football jaunt into enemy territory the caution of the Boost Ohio committee to the student body, asking everyone who wears Ohio State colors at Ann Arbor to remember that Ohio State students are gentlemen, stands out like a beacon on a stormy night."—Ohio State Lantern.

This warning issued to the students in Ohio State university just before leaving on a football trip may well apply to Kansas Aggies as they go en masse to Lawrence for the game Saturday. The school playing the part of host does not soon forget the actions of its guests. The memory of that group of 300 students from Kansas university who came down here last year, forced aside the gatekeepers, and mobbed their way into the game without paying a cent, is not an impression which helps our opinion of our brother students down the Kaw. Had the K. U. men acted the part of gentlemen and clean sportsmen their victory would have been complete. It was a case in which the student body detracted from the victory of their team.

Now it is our turn and the most outstanding thing we can do is to excel by contrast. They will be looking for a return favor. Let us give them the treatment which one good sportsman accords another and may our part as guests be nothing we would not be proud to see written up in the public press.

The Wampus Cats, official pep organization, have taken a commendable stand in refusing to countenance any campus painting expeditions down to Lawrence prior to the time of the game. It is for us to stand behind them in their effort to keep the conduct of the student body up to the standards of good sportsmanship.

SHOW HOW TO FURNISH HOMES

COLLEGE DEPARTMENTS COOPERATE WITH CLUB

Put on Demonstration of Furnishings and Proper Costuming at Local Stores

The clothing and the applied art departments of the college cooperated recently with the Woman's club and the merchants in giving a demonstration of house furnishing and the application of the principles of costume design.

The first program was given at the Spot Cash Store. Here three rooms were arranged, a living room, a dining room, and a bed room.

In furnishing the living room, a warm color scheme was carried out. The rug was an Axminster of a rich warm color. The wall paper used was also of a warm tone. The over drapes in the windows were a repetition of one of the greyed red tones of the rug. Two different kinds of furniture, the oak and wicker were represented in this room.

The dining room was furnished in cooler tones, a grey and blue color scheme being carried out. A Brussels rug of grey background and figures of greyed blue and red was used. The wall paper was grey and the over drapes at the windows were blue, repeating the blue of the rug.

In the bed room a plain grey Clearfax rug was used with brilliant colored cretonne for the over drapes of the windows. Oak furniture and a metal bed were displayed in this room.

Miss Holman of the college had samples of the different kinds of woodwork combined with the different over drapes and furniture to show discord and she explained during her talk the cause of the discord. She then displayed a harmonious combination and explained why it was harmonious. After the lecture the women present asked questions concerning the furnishing and redecoration problems of their own homes.

On Friday afternoon a program was given in the ready to wear department of the Coles dry goods store. Miss Holman, Miss Louise Glanton, Miss Mary Schell, and Miss Mary Polson of the college, and Miss Tillie Cordts, head of the ready to wear department at Coles gave a demonstration.

Costumes for different occasions were displayed on living models. Miss Glanton gave a talk on the economics of clothing. The appropriateness of costumes for various occasions, color combinations, and proportion were discussed and demonstrations given. Miss Cordts discussed the salesman's side of ready to wear clothing and showed some of the fall models in street, suit, and evening dresses.

Delta Tau Delta entertained at dinner Sunday for the married members and alumni of the chapter. The guest list included, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Montague of Cuba, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Burtis, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Knaus, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Givin, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pollem, and Mr. C. J. Stratton, of Manhattan.

Ralph Ewing and Farmer were chosen cheer leaders for the organization and the pit has been reserved for it at the pep meeting Friday night. ## DEETER PLACES HIS ART FIRST

LITTLE THEATER ACTOR REFUSES COMMERCIAL OFFERS

Deeter Plays Role of Pietro in "The Climax" Here November 5

One of those rare individuals who place art above everything else—even money—is coming to K. S. A. C. with the Traveling Theater in the person of Jasper Deeter.

Deeter has long been a well known and much sought actor. The commercial stage has tried many times to press him into its service, but has tried in vain.

Two years ago he was persuaded to join the ranks of commercial actors but the artist in him rebelled against the emphasis laid upon the cheap, sensational, and superficial. He coolly and deliberately rejected several promising and substantial offers and became one of the Provincetown players at a salary barely large enough to subsist on.

The critics, however, could ignore him and his group no longer. Susan Glaspell's one act plays became famous and Eugene O'Neill presented "Beyond the Horizon" to Broadway. But neither of these compared with "The Emperor Jones." All New York flocked to the Provincetown playhouse to see this play. Two actors were especially cited by critics for doing work of extraordinary merit. These actors were Charles Gilpin and Jasper Deeter.

Mr. Deeter carries the role of Pietro, the pianist, in "The Climax" which is to be presented on November 5.

that one of the hardest fought grid-iron battles ever fought in the valley will dedicate the big stadium.

Bachman has had the Aggie squad going through the K. U. formation of the freshman eleven this week. Barring last minute injuries every regular except Schmitz will be in prime shape for the struggle. The line-up will be the same as that which turned back the Tigers, with Winter and Sebring, ends; Stauffer and Nichols, tackles; Schindler and Hahn, guards; and Cleland, center. Swartz, Stark, Burton, and Sears will again take care of the backfield.

Reserve Seats for Visitors

According to a communication from Lawrence, 7,500 seats will be ready for the game and temporary bleachers will be erected if fair weather promises tomorrow. One thousand seats have been reserved for the Aggie rooters' delegation.

Captain "Shifty" Cleland predicts another win. Athletic director, Mike Ahearn, who back in 1906 coached the only Aggie team that has ever humbled the proud Jayhawk, declares that the Aggie spirit is more like the spirit of that year than ever before. In that year they not only whipped K. U., but in so doing whipped the valley champs. Says Mike: "We are going down to Lawrence with a good team to play a good team. I have waited 15 years for another victory over those Jayhawkers, and I feel that we have a team this year that will deliver."

Positions in Y. W. and Other

Forty freshman girls have been chosen by the Y. W. C. A. upon the recommendation of the faculty, to comprise the freshman commission. The girls who exhibited unusual initiative or ability for leadership, were selected.

This commission will meet regularly for six weeks to take a course for the development of their ability. The object is to prepare the girls for responsible positions in the Y. W. C. The names of the girls who are members of the commission, follow: Vida Butler, Phyllis Burtis, Myrtle Barnhisel, Hilda Black, Iva Butts, Elizabeth Bressler, Edna Chapin, Gertrude Cate, Evelyn Colburn, Helen Dealy, Dorothy DeWolf, Iva Davidson, Melda Dobie, Eileen Davis, Mary Dey, Vivian Hall, Alice Hannen, Bernice Humbert, Erma J. ## JUDGE POP NIGHT STUNTS TONIGHT

ELEVEN COLLEGE ORGANIZA-TIONS ARE TRYNG OUT

Two Men's, Two Mixed, and Seven Girls' Groups Sign Up

Aggie Pop night tryouts will be held today in Kedzie hall, from 4 to 6 o'clock. Eleven organizations have signed up to present stunts, two men's organizations, two mixed societies and seven girls' societies and sororities. The first prize has always been awarded a girl's organization, with the exception of two years ago, when the Aggie Press club carried the decision. There is more interest now because of the unusual competition from the men.

The organizations trying out are: Ionian, Eurodelphian, Browning, Webster, Franklin, Alpha Beta, Pi Kappa Alpha, Chi Omega, Kappa Delta, and Pi Beta Phi.

Judges of the tryouts are: Dr. J. E. Kammeyer, Dean Mary Van Zile, Miss Florence Heizer, Miss Jessie Machir, Miss Mary Worrall, Prof. William Lindquist, and Dr. H. T. Hill.

'22 ANNUAL WILL FEATURE HISTORY

PLAY UP HUMAN INTEREST OF COLLEGE

Idea Is New to Middle Western Class
Books—Give Organization
History

The Royal Purple of '22 will be a historical number. This will be accomplished by featuring the points of human interest in the development of the college. Each division, department, organization, and activity will arrange its copy so as to give a concise, interesting history from its beginning, with emphasis on the present organization.

This idea is a new feature in the construction of college annuals, and the Royal Purple is the first year book in the middle west to formulate the plan. Before definitely deciding upon the scheme, C. W. Howard, the editor, interviewed scores of leading students and faculty members, and in every case was advised to work it out.

The historical annual will answer some of the time worn questions, of how, when, where, and why of KSM; of the appearance of certain trees on the campus; of class flags that have been floated from the smokestack; and other similar questions.

Correction to Library List

When the report of the new library books was made some time ago, there was a book by Margaret Lind, well known Kansas author, which should have appeared on the list as, "Free Soil." This book and author's name were twisted into, "Tree Sall" by Margaret Sind, in the former report.

DYER TO SPEAK TO Y. THURSDAY

LECTURE FIRST OF VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE SERIES

Dean of Men at K. U. Was Formerly on Y. M. International Committee

The first of the series of vocational guidance lectures which the Y. M. C. A. is putting on here this year will be given Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Y. building. John Dyer, dean of men at the Kansas university, will speak on the subject, "The Principles Which Should Govern the Choice of a Vocation."

Dean Dyer has the reputation of dealing successfully with young men. His work with college students on the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A. for several years, won prominence for him, and caused his selection as dean of men at Kansas university last fall. He is an interesting and effective speaker, and a specialist on the subject upon which he will speak Thursday evening.

Prof. Ira Pratt, who is faculty advisor to the meetings committee of the Y. of which Lawrence Whearty is chairman, will open the meeting with a brief talk on the purpose of the vocational lectures. Special music has been provided. No admission will be charged to the lecture.

Mr. Gomez held the rank of lieutenant colonel in the army. While in school Mr. Gomez was a member of the Lincoln literary society and was on the school of agriculture football team.

If Purgatory Has Any More Thrills Frosh Are Immune

The handcuffed freshman was led out of his padded cell. By his guard through a maze of bewildering corridors to the psychological laboratory.

In this room, the walls, of which were lined with ponderous machines for measuring, analyzing, even synthesizing the human mind, stood dark-robed psychologists, alienists, surgeons, and attendants.

The freshman was clamped in an iron chair. A stethoscope was placed on his head to determine whether his mind was subject to lesions of functional mprmers. A device for measuring his thought impulse was next held tightly in place while a chorus of wampus cats meowed "Are we discouraged?" A high power X-ray machine was next focused on the cranial cavity and several exposures were made.

The freshman was taken back to his cell to await the outcome. Half an hour later the learned group gathered about the desk of the head psychologist. The physician who had used the stethoscope reported, "His mind made no sounds, indeed the examination did not indicate that he had a mind."

The assistant in charge of the thought impulse machine spoke up. "The line on the drum is straight. No thought vibrations recorded."

At this point the X-ray photographer rushed from his dark room waving two glass plates. "They are blank," he shouted.

"Enough" announced the head psychologist. "The freshman's mind makes no sound. He has no thought vibrations. The X-ray can find no traces of a mind. The freshman has nothing in his head. He is perfectly normal. Release him."

Two Brothers and Three Hogs Cut the High Cost of College

Bringing all of their personal possessions in a truck—the possessions including three hogs, a phonograph, a typewriter, and a dog—Leslie and Eugene Duddy of Conway Springs, came to Manhattan two weeks before the opening of school, determined to go through college at least $2,000 cheaper than the average students. Upon arriving in Manhattan they bought an acre of land adjoining the campus on the west, unloaded the animals, and pitched a tent to live in until a contractor could build them a cottage.

The attractive little cottage which they had built is 14 by 20 feet and has two rooms. One is used for a kitchen and dining room and the other as a study and bed room. The two husky farmer lads do their own cooking, washing, ironing, and pressing. "To cut the over head" they dug a 20 foot well with a posthole auger, and this provides ample water for the boys and hogs.

This is the way the brothers figure: The ground cost $600 and the house $500, making a total of $1,100. The place will be worth at least that much or perhaps more four years hence when they expect to sell it. So they figure that they will

SELL TICKETS TO PLAYS FOR $1 AND $1.50

LITTLE THEATER COMING TO K.
S. A. C. NOVEMBER 4-5

GIVE "THE CLIMAX" AND "GHOSTS"

Jasper Deeter, Madame Borgny Hammer, Rolf Fjell, and David Fuller To Star

Extremely low prices, a brilliant array of stars, and two high grade dramas are the features making the coming of the Little Theater to K. S. A. C. next Friday and Saturday, November 4 and 5.

Dr. Howard T. Hill, in announcing the prices of tickets for the two plays said, "I want to make the price so low that no student will have an excuse to stay away. It is an educational—not a money making venture. I am very glad to have the opportunity of presenting such plays and players to a K. S. A. C. audience. They will be a liberal education to all who attend."

Doctor Hill, true to his word, has set the prices at $1 and $1.50. At any commercial theater neither of the plays could be seen for the top price $1.50.

It is a characteristic of devotees of the Little Theater idea that they place their art above everything else. Consequently they excel in it, although they do not draw the salaries or press notices that many of the lesser actors get.

But, in spite of their refusals to come out into the lime light, they have been rewarded for their faith in their ideas. The Provincetown Playhouse, in New York is drawing larger crowds than any other theater in the city. It is the chief "Little Theater" in America.

Jasper Deeter, who appears in prominent roles in both plays, was the star in "The Emperor Jones" which drew record breaking crowds to the Provincetown Playhouse. He only recently resigned to become a member of the Traveling Theater. David Fuller is another noted American appearing with the company. He has been playing a leading part in "Abraham Lincoln," which has created such an international sensation.

The Norwegian stars, Madame Borgny Hammer and Rolf Fjell, are so well known both nationally and internationally that everyone has heard of their work and it is useless to add anything further.

The two plays, "Ghosts" by Ibsen and "The Climax" by William J. Locke represent the best in their respective classes. "Ghosts" is a portrayal of the modern marriage relations and at the same time is a discussion and judgment of them.

The "Climax" is an American play. It was written by Locke as a popular success for the stage and he never dreamed it would play a part in American dramatic history. But he put into it "that something," so that it lived before the footlights, whereas other popular plays, not possessing "that something," have succumbed like so many weeds in the struggle for existence.

These plays combine the elements of the popular and the classical and have had big successes all over the world. They have proved to be especially popular with audiences in the smaller cities.

MANY OUT FOR FACULTY RECITAL

APPROXIMATELY 1,500 ATTEND
SECOND NUMBER SERIES

Program Given by Miss Kimmel,
Miss Foristall, and Miss
Smith

The second number of the faculty concert series was attended by an unusually large crowd. Probably 1,500 people were in the audience.

The program was given by Miss Katherine Kimmel, contralto; Miss Ruth Foristall, pianist, and Miss Elsie Smith, pianist. All of the numbers were enthusiastically applauded and the audience was attentive throughout.

Rubenstein's "The Asra," by Miss Kimmel, and Schumann's "Concerto in A Minor," played by Miss Foristall were probably the most popular numbers. The feature of the program was the special string quartet which accompanied Miss Kimmel in "Ridondani la Calma" by Tosti.

CORNELL DOCTOR HERE THIS WEEK

H. T. LOVE WILL TALK EVERY AFTERNOON THIS WEEK

H. T. Love Is Recognized Geneticist and Bio-metrician—Came at Invitation of Dean Farrell

Dr. H. T. Love, professor of plant breeding at Cornell university, will spend next week at the college. He has been invited to the college by Dean F. D. Farrell, dean of the agricultural division, to give a number of lectures on the statistical treatment of agricultural experimental data.

Doctor Love is a geneticist and bio-metrician of recognized authority. He will lecture in Waters hall, room 39, every afternoon during the coming week at four o'clock. Although these lectures will be of particular interest to the members of the staff of the experiment station, everyone is invited to attend.

While here Doctor Love will also speak before the Kiod and Kernel Klub and the Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity.

Frivol Date Is November 10

Don't forget the W. A. A. Frivol, Thursday, November 10, in Nichols gymnasium. There will be booths where eats will be sold, and there will be clever vaudeville acts, among them, one by the Red Devils, which no one will want to miss. Between acts those who wish to may dance.

Dr. W. A. Lippincott addressed the freshmen of the division of agriculture at their regular weekly lecture on Tuesday. Doctor Lippincott discussed the different lines that a man who had majored in poultry might go into after graduation.

It was announced in a recent Collegian that any new teams wishing to enter the intramural basketball tournament should give their names to E. A. Knott at once. The schedule for the games must be made out before November 12. This announcement refers to all teams wishing to enter the tournament.

JAYHAWK BIRD GETS ANOTHER VICTORY 21-7

AGGIES SHOW OLD FIGHT IN SEC-OND HALF

SUMMARY SHOWS TEAMS EVEN

Aggies Still Have Chance at Valley—
Nebraska Now in First Place—
Aggies, K. U., and M. U.
Second

Are we downhearted? 'ell no! Despite the 21 to 7 defeat handed the Aggies by the Jayhawkers Saturday, the indomitable Aggie war cry issued from every one of the 15 coaches as the Aggie special pulled out of the enemy camp down the Kaw Saturday night.

For it was the old fighting Aggie eleven that played that last half in the new K. U. stadium. The first half was undeniably the Jayhawkers, but the last two quarters were just as emphatically the Aggies'. Had the game ended at the half, Wildcat football stock might have dropped, for something seemed missing from that Aggie line-up in the first two quarters. It may have been over-confidence, or it may have been lack of confidence. At any rate Bachman's warriors seemed unable to break up effectively the vicious line-piercing and aerial offensive launched by Coach Clark's men from the jump.

Have Old Fight Second Half

But in the last two periods the same fighting team that whipped Washington, Emporia, and Missouri, brought the fight home to K. U. in her own territory. But the Lawrence eleven had piled up a 21 point lead in the first two and it was too big a handicap for the purple-jerseyed men.

That K. U. did not have the better team is shown by the summary of 12 first downs for Kansas to 13 for the Aggies, 111 yards from scrimmage for the Jayhawks to 116 for the Aggies, while the Aggies forward passed for 68 yards to Kansas' 58 yards. The explanation of the score is in that disastrous first half when the Jayhawkers bunched their plunges and passes more effectively, making capital of every break against the Wildcats, while the Aggie gains were scattered.

First Quarter

Early in the first quarter Stark muffed a bad pass back and K. U. had the ball on the 28 yard line. Wilson passed to Griffin for 13 yards, McAdams and Surgeon bucked the line and Wilson passed to McDonald for three. Wilson made three off tackle and Spurgeon lunged through for a touchdown. Stark and Saunders exchanged punts and Saunders nabbed a pass from Stark, putting the ball on the Aggie 38-yard line at the quarter.

Second Quarter

Early in the second K. U. again crossed the Aggie goal. On a cross play Wilson made eight, and two line smashes and a Wilson to Griffin pass put it over for the second counter. Stark punted to the 42 yard line, and Spurgeon cleaved the line for first and 10 in three tries. Kansas worked a double pass, Wilson to McAdams to Spurgeon, but were penalized 10. An Aggie fumbled McAdams' punt and K. U. had the ball on the Aggie 20-yard line. A Wilson to McAdams heave advanced it 10. Two short plunges by Spurgeon, and a pass Wilson to Griffin, put the oval over for the last K. U. touchdown. Swartz returned Spurgeon's kickoff 15 yards to the 30 yard line and three successful passes and a pretty end run by Burton advanced the ball well into K. U. territory but McAdams broke it up by grabbing Swartz's long pass. McAdams punted. An Aggie fumbled but Nichols spoiled a K. U. pass. Wilson passed to McAdams and the ball was on the Aggie 15 yard line at the half. Wilson kicked all three goals for Kansas.

Third Quarter

After Winter's kickoff, the first quarter, Wilson ~~was~~ but recovered

AGGIE SPIRIT VICTORIOUS

After all it was only the fifteenth consecutive time for the K. U. team and human machines are not forever infallible. Even tradition is upset sometimes. It took 40 years for the children of Israel to get out of the wilderness but they finally made it and apparently have never gone back. A mere defeat means nothing if the defeated rise defiantly to their feet and start plugging away for another try. We have done it once. We can do it again—and we will.

Never did the Aggie spirit show up as persistently and as strongly as it did in Saturday's game. The rooters in the Aggie section the new stadium split their several lungs until the end of the game and when the disastrous finish finally came the Aggie rooters held to their places for several minutes, while with uncovered heads they sang Alma Mater to their beaten warriors. Then followed a long Jay Rah and more yelling as the Aggie section slowly emptied.

There is small consolation in the fact that we might have won the game or that we should have won it. The score remains and it shows that we did not win it. Until we do win there is no reason for us to crow over our Kaw valley brethren. Nor does the summary of the game excuse us. The millennium is not yet come and the age of mortal man continues. We are going to try again. Beat K. U. we can—and some day we will. At 'em again.

THE SPORTS OF THE MANY

Intramural athletics are putting on full steam, says a news story in the Lantern. Soon every variety of exercise will be mustering out its corps of devotees and there will be running and yelling hurried breathing—and after it's over with, sore muscles.

Intramural athletics can never develop to a scale that is too broad. They are the sports of the many. Varsity athletics, renowned from coast to coast, are the pastime of a few—simply because it takes experts to stand the gaff. But the good old interfraternity, interclub, and intergym class leagues are the places where exist the "days of real sport."

No financial project rests on the excellence of an intramural team. If it loses, the worry lasts about five minutes. If it wins, there is mental compensation for the wobbly knees and charley-horses.

The ambition of every physical-culture expert is to get every man to take the exercise that he needs. Most men do not. Intramural, the activity of thousands, fills the bill. There a man can wrestle, swim, play tennis, baseball, indoor baseball, soccer—do almost anything that takes strength and skill, except piano moving and dancing with a fat girl.—Ohio State Lantern.

GAMBLERS DO NOT PAY THEIR OWN BILLS

Rumors that gambling is rife among K. S. A. C. men students have been flying thick and fast on the hill for the past two weeks. Some of the rumors have been well substantiated. There is enough evidence to warrant the statement that games of chance are gaining a strong foothold among the students.

The college gambler is an unlovely personage. More often than not he is, in addition to being a gambler, a petty thief. He is a spendthrift, for he is rich one day and broke the next night. In these qualities the college gambler is, of course, exactly like the town gambler whom most of the readers of the Collegian know by hearsay at least in their home towns.

There exist in every student body of the size of that at K. S. A. C. a few sharpers who make a considerable portion of their expenses by trimming inexperienced students who have a penchant for a whirl at the "sporting life" which appeals to the addle-pated few. These college sharpers go hand in hand with the town gamblers, and the outsider has small chance to break even, let alone to win.

Leaving out of consideration the moral angle of the gambling question, then, the fact remains that it doesn't pay. In addition to the losses sustained in the gambling, some of the students who are under suspicion of taking part in games of chance will lose still more heavily should an expose be necessary. These men are vocational students whose compensation might be discontinued if it were to become known that they have engaged in gambling.

The S. S. G. A. is preparing for a campaign against gambling in an effort to prevent any stigma from attaching itself to the name of the college. If common sense will not dictate that students refrain from gambling, and if consideration for the good name of the school will not deter them, the S. S. G. A. proposes to use more strenuous measures.

FINANCE DRIVE COMING STRONG

FIVE HUNDRED MEN CONTRIBUTE $1,000 TO Y

Ninety Per Cent of Men Contribute—Very Few Criticize Organization

Of 500 men seen since the Y. M. C. A. drive started, about 90 per cent had contributed a total amount of $1,050 at the time of the last report. A number of teams had not yet reported and it is believed at the Y. M. C. A. headquarters that they will be able higher. For membership and finance is getting under way splendidly and the students are responding in a very gratifying manner. Practically all of the students visited by the canvassing teams are making pledges and the attitude in general is excellent. Although more or less criticism of the Y. M. C. A. was expected from those canvassed, there was but little heard. Instead all students seem to be in sympathy with the work the Y. M. is doing for the student body.

The drive is merely a problem of seeing the men. Practically all of those seen have contributed and every man student will be given a chance as soon as one of the canvassing teams can get to him.

Prof. L. F. Payne spent Sunday in Lincoln, Nebr., where he attended a meeting of western poultrymen.

FITZ CONFERS WITH WALLACE

AGGIE MILLING PROFESSOR IS IN WASHINGTON, D. C.

Fitz Attends Meeting of Feed Control
Officials While in Capital City

Prof. L. A. Fitz, head of the department of milling industry, is at present in Washington, D. C., conferring with Henry Wallace, secretary of agriculture, and Dr. H. C. Taylor, chief of the bureau of markets. He is also attending the meeting of the American Society of Milling and Baking Technology, and the meetings of the Association of Feed Control Officials of the United States.

Professor Fitz is chairman of the executive committee which has charge of the program of the Association of Feed Control officials and he also has charge of the business of the association. The principal business is continuing the work on the official definitions of feeds, and of these the most important is the consideration of chemical standards for wheat mill feeds.

Professor Fitz's conference with Secretary Wallace and Doctor Taylor will concern the grades for hard red spring wheat and durum wheat. Secretary Wallace has appointed Professor Fitz and Dr. John Lee Coulter, formerly dean of agriculture at West Virginia, and now president of the North Dakota Agricultural college, as a committee to investigate the matter of grades for these two classes of wheat.

GEO. SCHEU, Proprietor

peka Daily Capital, talked before the journalism seminar October 24.

Miss Carmody was well known as an active worker when a student here, and she is now making a success of her work on the Capital. In her talk, she told of the difficulties she encountered when she first started her work. In what she termed a "confession of her sins" she advised all journalism students to learn to use the typewriter, to use short sentences, to abolish the "which" sentence, and not to be afraid of taking college subjects not directly connected with newspaper work. "Work in the sciences is of value in newspaper work," said Miss Carmody, "because it gives a background for judging news value."

Prof. L. F. Payne and the members of the class in market poultry spent Monday, October 24, in Topeka inspecting the Seymour packing plant, the Central mills, and the Beatrice creamery company.

E. L. Rhoades of the extension division will hold meetings in three counties, Harvey, Lyon, and Osage this week for the purpose of organizing live stock shipping centers.

Miss Nina B. Crigler and Miss Ellen Batchelor of the extension division attended a district conference for extension workers at Holton, Tuesday.

F. A. Dawley and E. W. Salisbury of the extension division are holding community organization meetings in nine counties this week. At these meetings problems of the particular vicinity are discussed.

N. E. Dale, assistant professor of agronomy returned Tuesday from Coldwater where he spent a two weeks' vacation.

Beta Theta Pi has contributed $1 per member to the Block and Bridle club to help defray the expenses of the stock judging team.

Nevels Pearson of the extension division, returned this week from Atlanta, Ga., where the International Boys' Stock Judging contest was held. Mr. Pearson coached the four boys who represented Kansas in the contest. The boys brought back $200 in cash, having won third place. The team from Maryland won first place.

New Oil Tank Nearly Done

The new steel storage tank for oil is nearing completion. Sixteen ton loads have been ordered delivered within two weeks to insure adequate supply in case the threatened railroad strike should occur. The installation of the oil burners is also nearing completion. This new heating equipment will increase the present capacity at least 25 per cent, and will save thousands of dollars besides completely paying for itself in the first year of its operation.

Mr. A. Sanford Salkeld, electrical engineer, '09, was a visitor at the engineering building Tuesday and Wednesday on his way to Detroit to take a position in the Detroit Engineering school. Mr. Salkeld was formerly with the Westinghouse Electric company with headquarters in Philadelphia. While in Kansas City last spring he was struck by an auto and has just recovered sufficiently to return to work.

The New Model "F"

Cletrac

TANK TYPE TRACTOR

$845 COMPLETE
F.O.B. Cleveland

Gets Immediate Approval

THE new Cletrac Model F had no sooner been announced and shown at the leading Fairs than letters of approval began arriving at The Cleveland Tractor Company—letters of congratulation and inquiry from agricultural experts, from automotive engineers, from farm machinery dealers and from farmers—in addition to favorable articles in the trade press.

Some of these men had seen the new Cletrac in action, some had read descriptions of it—but all were enthusiastic over its mechanical construction and its many features that mark a new era in power farming achievement.

And why shouldn't they be enthusiastic? Has there ever before been a tractor that runs between the rows in cultivating? Has there ever been a tractor so simple in construction, with all its working parts so easily accessible? Has there ever been a tractor with no lubrication worries—no grease cups to fill? Has there ever before been a tractor that will do every farm job from January to December including cultivation—a kerosene burning tractor of the toughest chrome steel construction? Has there ever before been such a tractor at any price—has there?

A letter or post card will bring you all the details of Cletrac F—exactly this kind of a tractor. In addition, you are invited to attend our free school for agricultural students which teaches the care and operation of Cletracs. Write for details and registration blanks.

DUAL DEBATE TO BE DECEMBER 3

AGGIE-AMES ANNUAL CONFLICT
AT IOWA STATE

Try To Meet Other Colleges—Nineteen Men Working To Make the Squad

Whether or not universal disarmament is practicable is the question which will be debated with Iowa State college, and perhaps other schools in Iowa and Missouri the first week in December. The annual dual debate with Ames will be held December 3 at Ames. An attempt is being made to secure debates with other colleges and universities, so that the men who go to Ames may also compete with several other teams on the trip.

Nineteen men are working on the men's debate squad, three of whom have had previous experience in intercollegiate forensics. They are Verne Stanbaugh, J. Wheeler Barger, and Hubert Collins. The squad has been divided into two divisions, the affirmative and negative, with Hubert Collins and J. Wheeler Barger as captains of the two groups. The teams will be chosen at least a week before the contest by Prof. O. H. Burns, debate coach.

The men who are working for places on the teams are Verne Stanbaugh, Vorin Whan, Hubert Collins, J. Wheeler Barger, Frank Swanson, T. O. Garringer, T. L. Bayer, Captain Humphrey, W. W. Weaver, T. M. Stratton, Joe Thackrey, Ernest Hartman, Joseph Allen, R. W. Wolnick, W. E. McKibbin, L. E. Jennings, Austin Stover, Thornton Manry, and Norris Tomasson.

Squad meetings for practice are held Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 4 to 5:30 o'clock under the direction of the coach. The groups meet one evening each week under the leadership of the captains to work on various issues of the question.

PURPLE MASQUE STUDIES DRAMA

FRATERNITY TO GIVE TWENTY PLAYS THIS YEAR

Professor Holcombe is Coach and Director of the Coming Productions

The work which the members in the Purple Masque dramatic fraternity are doing this semester is comparable to that in a school of drama. Prof. Ray Holcombe is directing the work and strict attendance at practice is required, although the members receive no college credit for this extra curricula activity.

Instruction and practice are given in several different phases of direction and production of plays. The work in direction consists of lectures on the theory and practice in directing one act plays. Professor Holcombe will supervise the coaching of the production of twenty of these plays this year, to be given by the Purple Masque fraternity.

Instruction and practice in the art of making up, the business management of plays, theatrical advertising, and the interpretation of character will be given special emphasis in the course.

Twenty one act plays will be produced by Purple Masque this year. They will be staged in groups of three in recreation center, and the meetings will be open to the public. The cast for these plays will be selected from the persons who tried out before Purple Masque. Any person who has not tried out but wishes to take part in one of these plays may make an appointment to try out with Professor Holcombe.

McAdams and Stark traded punts, Stark passed to Winter for nine yards. Sears and Swartz made a first and 10 and Stark rammed the K. U. line for another 10. The Jayhawk line held and Saunders gathered in Stark's pass. Surgeon spilled the ball in a line buck and Cleland recovered. Three Aggie aerials put the ball on the K. U. 20 yard line and an Aggie score loomed promisingly. The Aggie passes seemed to have the Jayhawkers on the run. Again Swartz passed to Stark, but Stark couldn't get it. It would have been a touchdown. Once more Swartz called a pass and Stark heaved to Burton alone near the line. "Ding" had his fingers on it but couldn't hold it and it was K. U.'s ball on downs.

The Last Quarter
The Aggies were fighting with the old fight now. McAdams punted to Swartz and the slippery Aggie pilot returned 25 yards. Stark penetrated center for five and a Swartz to Burton toss made it first and 10. Sears and Stark, and another Stark-to-Burton toss made it first and 10. Sears and Stark, and another Stark-to-Burton put the ball on K. U.'s 18 yard line. K. U. took a five yard penalty. Swartz called a "pass" but every man eligible was covered, so he went around end for eight yards instead, and was downed on the enemy three yard line. Stark plowed around end for touchdown and Sebring kicked goal.

After taking McAdams' punt on the Aggie 30 yard line, Swartz passed 10 to Burton. Burton made a brilliant catch of Stark's pass but was out of bounds by inches. Stark punted to Griffin and Schindler and Hahn clipped him where he stood on the 22 yard line. K. U. made 2 yards in three downs and kicked. Stark bowled over a string of university tacklers for 10 yards and almost got away for a clear field. Sears charged through for 10 more. Stark passed to Burton for eight and the Jayhawk fans prayed for something to stop the Aggie drive. Their prayers were answered when McAdams intercepted Stark's next pass on the 24 yard line and kicked out of danger.

But after all, the Aggie-Jayhawk game counts no more or less than any other game in the valley race. Nebraska is leading by virtue of a 44 to 0 win over Oklahoma in the Cornhuskers' first conference game. The Aggies, Kansas, and Missouri are now sharing second place, each with two games won and one lost. The Aggie chance of annexing the valley title is by no means blasted yet. The results of the week end games look favorable for the Wildcats in the next three contests. Washington, soundly trounced by the Aggies, won over Ames 2 to 0. The Grinnell eleven that engages the Aggies here next Saturday, has been whipped by both Ames and Washington, and were handed a 10 to 0 defeat by Coe college Saturday. And the avalanche of points by which Nebraska buried Oklahoma would indicate that the Sooners are not too formidable a scoring machine.

SIDELINE COMMENT

That first half was hard on the nerves.

There was one thing in which we had K. U. beaten, that was in the way of bands.

A storm of applause swept the stands when the Aggie musicians marched on the field between halves, in perfect order and formed a huge "K".

The Aggie rooters delivered. They stayed on the job until the final whistle and then rendered Alma Mater before leaving the stands.

Reedy, Kansas guard, was a sort of underslung model. He looked like a young hippo, but he played good football.

Stark must have been mad in the last quarter. He bowled over a half dozen university warriors in a 10 yard smash.

The Jayhawkers were wearing crimson jerseys in place of blue because of the purple sweaters worn by the Aggies.

"Watch that curly headed devil," yelled a gray haired Jayhawker enthusiast after "Ding" Burton had nabbed a hard pass.

Nichols was clipping 'em behind the line and Hahn was opening holes in the Jayhawk defense.

When the Aggies threatened the K. U. goal line the university rooters stopped yelling and began to sing.

In the last period Swartz intended to pass but every Aggie pass snatcher was covered so he snaked around end for eight yards to the K. U. three yard line.

The Ku Klux Klan, the K. U. pep organization, hoisted a "Jinx" pennant over the Aggie section. It was a total loss with no insurance.

The weather was chilly, but the K. U. freshmen without caps and with dates had a chance to warm up—in spots. The University Paddle club wielded a vicious paddle as the yearlings shattered speed records between two lines.

That big stadium will be a real tribute to the enterprise and push of our sister school down the Kaw. And K. S. A. C. needs one worse than they did.

SEVEN PLACE IN AGGIE POP AT TRYOUTS

FOURTEEN ORGANIZATIONS TAKE STUNTS TO COMMITTEE

MEN CRAVE AMATEUR DRAMATICS

Webster Literary Society and Horticulture Club on Program—Seven Faculty Members Pick Best Ones

The try-outs for Aggie Pop night were held Tuesday evening in K56. Those who placed are Alpha Beta literary society, Alpha Delta Pi, Pi Beta Phi, Ionian literary society, Webster literary society, the Aggie Press club, and the Horticulture club.

The judges were, Dean Mary Van Zile, Miss Jessie Machir, Miss Mary Worrall, Prof. J. E. Kammeyer, Prof. Ray Holcombe, Prof. O. I. Grueber, and Miss Florence Heizer. The following organizations presented stunts: Kappa Delta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Pi Beta Phi, Alpha Delta Pi, Chi Omega, and Delta Delta Delta sororities; Alpha Beta, Browning, Eurodelphian, Ionian, Franklin, and Webster literary societies, and the Horticulture club and the Aggie Press club.

The Alpha Beta stunt was presented by Anna Best, Alpha Delta Pi by Mildred Wright, Aggie Press club by Orille Bourassa, Horticulture club by William Martin, Pi Beta Phi by Hortense Caton, Ionian by Marie Correll, and Webster by Thornton Manry.

This is the first year any men's organizations have placed. There are three women's, two men's, and two mixed organizations represented. Last year six women's and one mixed organization placed. This is the third year that both the Aggie Press club, and the Ionian literary society have placed on the Aggie Pop night program and each of these organizations has won first place at some time during the three years.

AGS HOLD THEIR ANNUAL MIXER

AFFAIR GIVEN AT COMMUNITY HOUSE WEDNESDAY

Farrell, Loye, and Jardine Speakers—Departmental Societies Outline Plans

The third annual mixer and smoker of the agricultural division was held at the community house Wednesday evening. More than 200 students and faculty members in the division attended the meeting which consisted of a program of short talks, smokes, and eats.

The first talk was given by Dean F. D. Farrell, who complimented the ags on the rapid growth of the agricultural association and the work it is accomplishing in putting on the Ag fair and publishing the divisional magazine. Dr. H. T. Love of Cornell university, who is visiting the college this week, spoke on the activities of the agricultural students at Cornell, and his talk was followed by one by President W. M. Jardine, formerly dean of the agricultural division. President Jardine praised the development of spirit and pride which is manifested in departmental organizations and pointed out several ways in which students could boost agriculture.

Short reports were given by the presidents of each departmental club in the agricultural division, outlining accomplishments of the past year and their present program of work. Merline Wilhoite, vice president of Block and Bridle and manager of the Ag fair, spoke of the victories which K. S. A. C. stockjudging teams have won during the past three years, and told of plans for the Ag fair. Walter Harder, president of the Tri K club, assured the audience that it was not the Ku Klux Klan, but the Kiod and Kernel Klub which promotes good fellowship between students and faculty members of the agronomy department.

William Martin, president of the Horticulture club, told of the work of the newest organization in the agricultural division and of its recently placing on the Aggie pop night program. H. L. Baker spoke in behalf of the agricultural economists, who have adopted a portfolio as their departmental emblem. George Starkey, president of the Dairy club, told of the winning of the past three National dairy judging contests.

The committee in charge of the mixer was composed of Ross Silket and Carl Dethloff.

IBSEN'S 'GHOSTS' TO SHOW FRIDAY

MADAME HAMMER HAS LEADING ROLE IN CAST

Play Not Allowed in United States for a Time—Has Had Stormy Career

An interesting thing about the play "Ghosts," which is to be presented at the auditorium Friday evening is that it was not allowed to play in the United States for sometime. In fact it has had a stormy career from the beginning and has been the subject of many heated arguments among dramatic critics. In its present form, however, no question has been raised as to its propriety.

"Ghosts" is probably the most striking modern drama based on heredity. As in the case in all of Ibsen's plays it contains some social satire but the basic appeal of the play lies in its dramatic situations.

The principal characters are Mrs. Alving, her son Oswald, Pastor Manders, and Regina Engstrand. Mrs. Alving is portrayed as a wife of the dutiful and conventional type. In the beginning she does everything society demands of her. She marries a man whom she does not love and remains true to him in spite of his ceaseless debauchery. When at last she can no longer endure the enormity of his excesses she flees from him, and goes to Pastor Manders, her former lover. But he, hopelessly conservative, urges her to return to her husband and seek happiness in following her duty.

Mrs. Alving's following of this conventional idea was, according to Ibsen, a fatal mistake and the tragedy of the play resulted from it, because she was forced to live a lie. The play begins a few years after her husband's death, when her son Oswald returns home from school. It is at this point that Mrs. Alving begins to learn the mistake she made in marrying and living with a man whom she did not, and could not love. Oswald has the same expressions as his father and begins acting in the same way. Moreover a disease that has been lying in his blood since birth has sprung upon him and is destroying his mind. Mrs. Alving tries in vain to shut out ghosts of the past that stalk upon her household. But the ghosts will not be stopped; she must bear the bitter burden of her mistakes.

Madame Borgny Hammer will play the part of Mrs. Alving.

KISER SUFFERS INJURED EYE IN AUTO WRECK SATURDAY

Aggie Sophomore Was on Way to K. U. Game

Walter Kiser of Udall, a sophomore in K. S. A. C., had his eye badly cut in an auto wreck which occurred two miles south of Lawrence Saturday afternoon about 2 o'clock. The eyeball and lid were cut and it is not known whether or not Kiser will regain his sight.

Kiser and Harold Hopkins were driving over to Lawrence for the K. U.-Aggie game. One of the tires of the car blew out just as they were rounding a corner, and the machine turned over. Hopkins was not injured and the car was not much damaged, but some article, probably a piece of glass, cut Kiser's eye.

The boys went on to the game and arrived in time to see the last half. Monday morning Kiser was able to tell light from darkness with the injured eye.

On account of the W. A. A. Frivol, the Y. W. C. A. recognition service will be held on Tuesday, November 8, from 7 until 8 o'clock, in recreation hall.

AGGIES WILL VENT SPLEEN ON GRINNELL

SATURDAY'S DEFEAT RANKLES WILDCAT SPIRIT

VISITORS HAVE CELLAR POSITION

Yearling Gridders Punish Varsity Squad—Stark Out With Blood Poison—Bryan Probable Substitute

Really, it seems a pity that the Aggies must take it out on such a well-behaved football aggregation as the Grinnell eleven has been this year. But the Wildcats are out to get revenge on some one for the way that Jayhawk sank his talons into them in the late unpleasantness down at Lawrence.

During the last few evenings Coach Curtiss' yearlings have done themselves proud in standing up against a hammering, determined varsity crew that would have trampled all over the same K. U. eleven that faced them at Lawrence. The Aggies have been trying to vent their spleen in part on the yearlings in scrimmage this week. But they have been only partly successful. For those scrappy first year men have apparently decided to mete out punishment to the regulars for the failure to maul up the Jayhawk plumage; to exact a tooth for a tooth and an eye for an eye, so to speak. The result has been the fiercest scrimmage of the year.

Can't Forget K. U. Game

The Aggies were chastened Saturday, but they have since had time to meditate at length on their sins, and every time their minds revert back to that first 30 minute sista on McCook field they get a little madder. It is hardly good judgment for anyone else to remind them, but in case it shouldn't be deeply engraved in their conscience, head coach Bachman has been reminding them at regular intervals. And every time he mentions the affair, that freshman line sags back a few yards.

Why an eleven that was not any better, and by many was declared to be inferior to the Aggies, should have rubbed their noses in the dirt with a decisive score, has puzzled a number of valley sport critics. Whatever it was; stage fright, psychology, or staleness in those first 30 minutes, it is a fairly safe bet that it will not happen again, soon.

Dope Favors Aggies on Paper

The fact that Grinnell is holding down the cellar position is no basis for predicting that tomorrow's battle should be a practice event. On paper the Aggies are several touchdowns stronger than the Pioneers, but we have just been forcefully reminded that football games can not be decided on paper. While K. U. was whipping its weight in Wildcats, the Iowans suffered a 10 to 0 defeat by Coe college. Ames trounced Grinnell early in the season, and Washington won over the Pioneers by a 14 to 13 margin two weeks ago.

Coach Curtiss scouted the Coe-Grinnell conflict and reports that it merely proved that the Cedar Rapids crew had the better mud hens. Markley, quarter, and Whitehill, fullbacks, were out of the game with injuries. It was hardly a fair test of the strength of the Pioneers. Grinnell has a persistent habit of finishing the season strong.

Stark's Absence Weakens Team

The Aggie backfield will be severely weakened by the absence of Stark, who is at a local hospital with an infected arm as the result of a boil. Stark, playing his first varsity year, has consistently shown All-Valley caliber. He is a terrific line plunger, and with "Susie" Sears has borne the brunt of opposing teams with telling effect. He is a dangerous man at either end of a forward pass, and has done most of the punting for Bachman's men. Stark is expected to be back in the lineup for the Ames game.

Cowell, Yandell, and Bryan are possibilities for Stark's position with Bryan having the best chance of going in tomorrow because of his punting ability. Otherwise the lineup will be virtually the same as that which faced K. U. The game will be called at 2:30. The officials are Reed, Michigan university, referee; Carrithers, Coe college, umpire; and Wyatts, Missouri, head linesman.

Four Conference Games Saturday

Although eight of the Valley eleven play conference games Saturday, it is not likely that the week end results will show any important changes in the valley pennant race. Missouri and Kansas, who are tied with the Aggies for second place, should emerge victorious tomorrow according to Old Man Dope. The Tigers play Washington, and K. U. meets Oklahoma at Norman. Ames and Drake clash at Des Moines, and the Nebraska Cornhuskers take on Pittsburgh.

To Organize Boxing Classes

Major F. B. Terrell has announced that the R. O. T. C. department is anxious to organize boxing classes open to all members of the K. S. A. C. cadet corps. The classes will begin immediately after football season. Major L. C. Davidson and his assistants in the military department will give the instruction free to all wishing to avail themselves of this opportunity to learn something of the manly art. Boxing is considered one of the best methods of developing personal courage, initiative, and leadership.

UPPERCLASSMEN GET MORE TIME

MAY HAVE ROYAL PURPLE PICTURES TAKEN THIS WEEK

Next Week Reserved for Sophomores—Time for Freshmen is November 14-26

"A large number of seniors and juniors seem to be of the opinion that there is plenty of time to pay their assessments and have their pictures taken," says C. W. Howard, editor of the Royal Purple. "So far only 75 per cent of the seniors and 30 percent of the juniors have paid their Royal Purple assessments. The staff does not want to work a hardship on anyone but it is necessary that this part of the annual be taken care of as scheduled if the book is to be successful."

This week is being reserved for the juniors and seniors to catch up. The week of November 7 to 12 will be open to sophomores only, and is the only time given for the sophomores so it is necessary for juniors and seniors to have their pictures taken this week.

Freshmen will be given two weeks beginning November 14 and closing November 26. The sophomore Royal Purple assessment will be $4 and the freshman assessment $3. The assessment in each case pays for the photograph and space in the annual for the class picture.

Purple Masque, Electrical Engineers, and Music Department To Assist in Putting on Program

On November 19, Aggie Homecoming day, K. S. A. C. journalists will greet their kind. At the time of the Homecoming game the members of the Topeka Press club and newspaper men of the state will be the guests of President W. M. Jardine, and Aggie writers will entertain them Saturday evening. Invitations have been issued to nearly 700 Kansas editors.

The program is to be thoroughly journalistic and quite unique. An attempt will be made to picture the methods of journalism and the life of a hundred years hence through the medium of interviews with prominent persons.

What Cliff Stratton, secretary of the alumni association and director of the program, wants is lots of action, but he is compelled to admit the inability of journalists to supply all of it and is going outside the department for a few additional program kicks.

The Purple Masque has been asked to furnish a one act play, the music department, some vocal numbers, and the electrical engineering division will be asked to help with some electrical display to be used in the stunt to be presented by the journalism students.

"I believe it will make a hit," said Cliff Stratton in speaking of the stunt, "Just the least little mechanical contrivance will awe a journalist."

The chairmen of the several committees are: Lulu May Zeller, Walter Law, Cliff Stratton, Mrs. F. B. Forrester, Edith Abbott, and Kenneth Carter.

GIVE PRIZE FOR PLAY CRITICISM

HILL OFFERS TEN DOLLARS FOR BEST STUDENT EFFORT

Criticism To Be Based on Presentation Rather Than on Play Itself

To stimulate intelligent interest in the drama among students Dr. Howard T. Hill of the public speaking department has announced that a cash prize for the best student criticism of "Ghosts," which is to be presented in the auditorium Friday evening by the Traveling Theater, will be given.

Professor Hill announces that the criticism is to be based on the presentation of the play rather than on the play itself. The manuscripts are to be graded by the members of the English department.

The seat sale, although starting slowly, has picked up speed and the management is expecting a full house Friday. The low price of tickets and the unquestionable quality of the plays and players has caused both students and towns people to buy liberally.

S. S. G. A. Passes Exam Schedule

The S. S. G. A. executive council has passed favorably on the examination schedule as recommended by the faculty. The council favors trying the plan for one semester to determine whether it will work out more successfully than the present system. A form letter will be sent to each faculty member, urging him to use the schedule. The plan of the schedule is not to give more and longer examinations, but to have a unified time of giving the quizzes.

Louis Ritter, 19, of Marked Tree, Ark., is visiting at the Beta house this week.

GO AWAY WITH M. E. SEMINAR

MEETINGS OF ENGINEERING SOCIETY TAKE PLACE

National Organization Has Branches in Prominent Schools—Meet in Evenings

Much to the joy and relief of the mechanical engineers seminar has passed into history. For seminar was not very exciting. In place of seminar, a branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers has been installed, the meetings of which will be held at night.

The purpose of this change was to create an active interest in mechanical engineering affairs. This society which is one of the strongest engineering organizations in the world, installs student branches in all technical schools of recognized standing. It is expected that every upperclassman in mechanical engineering will become a member of the Kansas State student branch.

A program which will be interesting as well as educational is being worked out for the present year. Prominent men in all branches of industry will be secured to address the meetings. Moving pictures of technical nature will be features of the meetings. One of the outstanding faults of the young engineer is his inability to think and speak well on his feet. To overcome this defect, it is planned to have the student engineers give talks on engineering subjects at the meetings.

FIELD SUPERINTENDENTS OF CREAMERIES MEET HERE

Registration is 71—Four States Are Represented

The creamery field superintendents' short course opened here a week ago Monday, with a registration of 71. The purpose of this course is not only to benefit the men engaged in dairy and creamery work but to serve as a "get together" meeting for men interested in the same work.

While a majority of the men enrolled in this course were from Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Colorado, and Texas, were also represented. The course closed Friday.

K. S. A. C. IS REPRESENTED IN PAGEANT AT WICHITA

Only State School Honored—Henrietta Jones Takes Part

K. S. A. C. was the only state school represented in the pageant presented at Wichita Saturday, as a feature of students' day at the convention of the National Woman's Foreign Missionary society. Miss Henrietta Jones, was the Aggie girl to represent the college in the pageant. Miss Jones was the delegate sent by the Manhattan Methodist church. Miss Luella Sherman, Miss Mildred Bobb, and Miss Belle Hagan represented Kappa Phi. Miss Esther Russell also attended the conference.

JOHN BENNETT OF PRATT IS EXTENSION JOURNALIST

An Experienced Newspaper Man and Cornell Graduate

An important addition to the extension force was made recently in the appointment of John B. Bennett of Pratt as extension journalist.

Mr. Bennett, who received his degree in agriculture from Cornell last June, has had several years experience in newspaper work in Kansas.

Hold Aggie Reunion at Holton

A reunion of K. S. A. C. graduates was held in connection with a district conference for extension workers at Holton a week ago Tuesday. Those present were: A. F. Turner, Manhattan; Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McIntosh, Seneca; Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Blecha, Topeka; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Dillenback, Troy; Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Tagge, Effingham; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Goodwin, Oskaloosa; Mrs. Julia Klene, Topeka; Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Chapman, Leavenworth; and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Patterson, Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Reid of Deer River, Minn., have come to Manhattan to escape the rigors of a Minnesota winter and to enjoy a Manhattan winter with their son Prof. C. E. Reid of the electrical engineering department. At their home in northern Minnesota the temperature sometimes falls to 100 degrees below freezing, and every winter there are a number of days during which the temperature is at least 40 or 50 degrees below freezing.

STUDENTS WANT IMMEDIATE GAIN

CHAPEL SPEAKER SEES NEED OF FARSIGHTEDNESS

Telescopic View Eventually Brings Worth While Things Says Speaker

"A Microscopical Telescopic View of Life," was the title of the address of Dr. Robert A. MacMullen, pastor of the Baptist church of Manhattan, who spoke in chapel last Wednesday.

He began with the statement that the "nearness or remoteness of reward has an influence on the investment of capital," and showed its application to the careers of the young men and women of today by citing instances of how the lure of immediate returns and immediate realization upon the investment in an education had led many young people to leave school just as soon as they were able to earn money with the aid of the education that they already possessed.

He showed how this point of view was the microscopic view of life, which in the end yielded the smaller returns. He showed how, on the other hand, the telescopic view of life, which took the future into account, eventually netted the worth while gains. During the whole of his talk he stressed the value of farsightedness.

"Sooner or later," he said, "the time comes when every boy must make the choice that will be the turning point of his career." He cited Bible events to show the importance of the great decisions of life.

WORK ON PLAN OF ARMISTICE DAY PROGRAM

NO COLLEGE CLASSES ARE TO BE HELD ALL DAY

PARADE AND PROGRAM IN MORNING

All Whistles in City To Blow at 11 O'clock—Parkinson Is Speaker at Program—Band To Furnish Music

No classes will be held on Friday, November 11, Armistice day, and Prof. J. E. Kammeyer of the college and a committee from the Chamber of Commerce are working on arrangements for a program for the day in which both college and town will cooperate.

A parade will start at 9:30 o'clock from Second street and Poyntz avenue and go west to Juliette, then north to Moro, then west on Moro to the college auditorium where the program will be given.

The program is not yet complete but these details have been arranged. Dr. George R. Parkinson, pastor of the Methodist church of Manhattan will deliver the address. There will be music by the college band, also vocal numbers, and a short play given under the direction of Miss Ivy Fuller.

Just at 11 o'clock all whistles in town will be blown and all bells rung. This is to continue for five minutes and then all is expected to be quiet for the program.

In the afternoon a drill by a troop of cavalry from Fort Riley will be held in the city park. There is to be an open air dance on Poyntz avenue in the evening.

Y. W. INITIATION SERVICE TONIGHT

ASSOCIATION HAS 275 NEW MEMBERS THIS YEAR

Initiation at Seven O'clock—Candle-Light Service Will Be Used

The annual candlelight initiation service for the new members of the Y. W. C. A. will be held tonight at 7 o'clock in recreation center. A program similar to the candle service of last year, will be used.

The new members will meet in the main corridor, and will be led into the room by the octette, singing, "The Hymn of Lights." Each girl will carry a lighted candle. The rest of program is as follows: violin solo, Marguerite Brooks; scripture reading, Opal Seiber; special music, octette; recognition, Ruth Peck; violin solo, Miss Helen Hansen; responsive reading, Alice DeWitt; vocal solo, Geraldine Share.

Recreation hall will be lighted throughout by candles, and the girls as they enter will carry lighted candles. After the program the newly recognized members will go out led by the octette singing the recessional, "Lead on O King Eternal."

Invitations have been issued to 275 new girls, who have signed membership cards. All the girls are urged to be present for the service.

"TRANSLATE CALORIES INTO POUNDS," SAYS NINA CRIGLER

Home Demonstration Agent Shows Potato Growers Comparative Values

"It may gratify our scientific instinct to talk about food value in calories but if its our business to get the idea over, then we must translate this caloric talk into common everyday pounds." This was the idea of Miss Nina B. Crigler, home demonstration agent, in preparing her part of the exhibit for the recent potato show in Kansas City.

One part of the exhibit showed the chemical constituents of a pound of potatoes. Another demonstrated the quantities of food in energy content equal to a pound of potatoes, and their comparative prices. A third exhibit, illustrating variation in cost, was labelled, "Do you know you can buy for a nickel?"

Instead of talking to the potato growers about calories Miss Crigler distributed charts which she had compiled from "The Quantity Standard" by Emma Winslow. This chart showed them at a glance whether or not their families had been eating the proper amount of potatoes.

Miss Crigler states, "In almost every case the man was able to tell approximately the number of pounds of potatoes consumed by his family and many were surprised to learn of such a standard. The interest which men are taking in matters of this kind are remarkable."

HOLD FRIVOL IN GYM THURSDAY

ADMISSION TO W. A. A. ENTERTAINMENT IS 25 CENTS

Dancing and Program To Feature Festivities—Dates Permissible but Not Necessary

Do you know the meaning of the signs bearing the word "Frivol" which have been decorating the bulletin boards the past month? Some significance has been attached to this word with the announcement by the Women's Athletic association that the mysterious event will come off in the big gymnasium Thursday evening.

The girls say that the gym is to be the scene of great festivity in this occasion. The "Red Devils," inmates from the lower world, will make their appearance, together with the Dangerous Blue chorus from another unknown region. Frivol is going to be something new in the way of entertainment, yet it will include the tried and proved features of recreation such as dancing, sucking lollypops, and sailing balloons.

Over 75 girls have been working hard the past month to make the affair a success. They will appear in costumes which have been designed by Miss Mary Schell of the design department. The admission for the performance is 25 cents and the proceeds will be used to advertise and buy equipment for the W. A. A.

Frivol is not merely a girl's affair. Every man is expected to take his best girl, the W. A. A. members assert, but dates are not necessary.

ENGINEERS GET GIFT OF LIGHTS

MAY BE HERE IN TIME FOR DEDICATION

Two Ornamental Lighting Standards Are Gifts of King Manufacturing Company

The King manufacturing company of St. Louis, has promised Prof. C. E. Reid of the electrical engineering department two ornamental lighting standards for the stone pedestals at the main entrance of the new engineering building.

These light posts will be about seven feet high and will have a cluster of five lights on each post. They are octagon in form and will harmonize with the lines of the new building.

The company is making every effort to get these standards here in time for the dedication of the new building. This company is one of the largest companies in the west, manufacturing white way standards.

Vet Division Starts New Feature

Dean R. R. Dykstra of the veterinary division has started a new feature in his division by framing the photos of each graduating class since the year 1907 and arranging them in their order in the main hall of the building. Now that the dean has started this custom it will become a permanent practice for each graduating class to leave its group photo behind. The first class picture contained seven while last year the number was 25.

Concordia has organized a class of 20 which is to study child psychology under P. P. Brainard. This class is unusual in that it will bring together both parents and teachers in the study of a common interest.

Hallowe'en Pranks of Old Days Give Way to Modern Pep

This year Hallowe'en passed without the slightest evidence of the effect of any former precedents. Does this signify a decline of the old time spirit? It does not. There was too thriving a start for that. If the old time boys were back again we believe they, too, would be willing to apply their former Hallowe'en enthusiasm on the modern pep meeting. We even venture to assert that they'd yell "Hell, No," louder than the rest of us.

Gone are the days when the dawn light of November 1 reveals chaotic effects wrought by student Hallowe'eners. No, last Tuesday morning the chapel bell rang as lustily as ever, for the modern student found no time to steal the clapper. Neither did he turn the bell upside down, fill it with water and allow it to freeze as did his father in the old days.

Nor were the stuffed animals uprooted from their fixed habitat in Fairchild hall and transplanted to the auditorium, there to fill the accustomed place of faculty members. No, no grinning glass-eyed coyote leaned over the pulpit to greet the chapel speaker this year as it did on a similar occasion long ago.

Last Monday night found no group of students fired with the misguided enthusiasm which sent a company of the old time boys to the top of Blue-mont hill dragging Prof. J. D. Walters' brand new surrey. Of course they didn't know that Professor Walters, the supposed victim of the joke, was concealed inside, and that for all their trouble they had only to replace the stolen person and property. But were they discouraged? No.

Those were great days and great boys. Those were the makers of K. S. A. C. history. Those are the forefathers of the students here today.

FROSH SPREAD IS DECEMBER 4

BETTY MCCOIN IS IN CHARGE OF ENTERTAINMENT

Party Is Given by Upperclass Girls Under Direction of Girls' Loyalty League

The annual freshman spread will be on December 4, Betty McCoin, chairman of the freshman spread committee of the Girls' Loyalty league, announces.

Last year was the first year that the upperclass girls have entertained the freshman girls and it is the aim of the committee to make the entertainment a tradition at K. S. A. C. Every Aggie freshman girl is urged to come to the spread and get acquainted with every other Aggie girl.

Hugo Outopolik was a guest at the Beta house last week end.

By a recent ruling of the faculty at New York university the sophomores will be allowed to haze the freshmen for a period of one month in order to enforce college rules. After one month further infractions are to be reported to the faculty.

AGGIES BEAT NEBRASKA IN DISTANCE RUN

WIN CROSS COUNTRY VICTORY AT LINCOLN SATURDAY

TRIO OF AGGIES FINISHES FIRST

Mathias, Henre, and Clapp Take Top Places—Missouri Valley Cross Country Meet Next Saturday

The Kansas Aggies defeated Nebraska in the dual cross country run held at Lincoln last Saturday, the score being 38 to 17. Mathias, Clapp, and Henre of the Aggies tied for first place, running the distance in 28 minutes and 45 seconds. Bowman, the first Nebraska man to finish placed fourth. The Aggies took the lead after the first mile and were never headed. The showing of the Aggie runners at Lincoln makes them loom up as strong contenders for the Missouri Valley cross country run next Saturday.

The runners finished as follows: Mathias, Aggies, first, 28.45; Clapp, Aggies, first, 28.45; Henre, Aggies, first, 28.45; Bowman, Nebraska, fourth, 28.49; Chapman, Aggies, fifth, 29.41; Bradley, Aggies, sixth, 29.50; Weir, Nebraska, seventh, 30.15; Hyde, Nebraska, eighth, 30.26; Bryan, Nebraska, ninth, 30.37; Hartman, Nebraska, tenth, 30.45; Neilson, Nebraska, eleventh, 30.55; Coats, Nebraska, twelfth, 33.59.

BASKETBALL IS THE GAME NOW

PRACTICE STARTS THIS WEEK—WANT ALL GIRLS OUT

Will Hold Color Tournament—100 Points to Those Making Class Teams

The girls who failed to make the hockey teams still have a chance to win 100 points, enough for membership to W. A. A.

Basketball practice will start next week. Practice will be held each day at 5 o'clock, and everyone who comes out at least once will be put on the color teams. A color tournament will then be held as it was in hockey, and those who show up well in the tournament will be chosen for the class teams.

"We want every girl who is taking physical education to come out for basketball," Miss Worrall said. "We would like to have twice as many as came out for hockey."

Those who make the class teams receive 100 points for W. A. A. A number of girls can attain membership in this way. After the class teams have been chosen inter-class games will be played as they were in hockey.

FIRST INTRAMURAL SWIM TO BE HELD NOVEMBER 10

Silver Cup Will Be Given High Point Winner

The first men's intramural swimming meet will be held at 4 o'clock on November 10. A great deal of interest is being shown in the coming event. Good material has been coming out for practice every afternoon.

A silver cup will be given to the high point winner in the meet and appropriate prizes will be awarded the winners of the several events.

Those expected to go are, President W. M. Jardine, Dean R. A. Seaton, Dean F. D. Farrell, Dean Helen B. Thompson, Dean Harry Umberger, and Prof. L. E. Call of the agronomy department. The association includes as members all land grant colleges and experiment stations, consequently this college is sending a large representation.

EXAMS DO NOT REQUIRE STUDY

SLADE ASSUMES HOWEVER THAT STUDENTS DO PREPARE

Psychologist Tells Class Lack of Confidence Causes Most Failures at Quiz Time

"One ought to be able to pass an examination over the work covered in the recitation, even if he had never studied the textbook," said Dr. William Franklin Slade, pastor of the Congregational church, to a group of students in his "Conquest of Boats" class. The class meets Wednesday afternoons from 5 to 5:30 in A62, and consists of a series of short talks on psychology as related to efficiency in college work.

"I have nothing to tell you which will work like magic, and make it unnecessary for you to study," said Doctor Slade. "It is assumed that one has thoroughly studied the text, reference, and notes before reporting for an examination. One should 'absorb' enough however to pass a test over the material covered in the class room even if he has not studied any, provided he has been attentive."

"The trouble with most persons who fail to pass examinations is that they lack confidence. Even though they are thoroughly prepared, they are filled with fear when they sit down to write, and are unable to recall what they actually know. One should have confidence as well as knowledge when he takes an examination."

"A good way to overcome this lack of confidence is by auto-suggestion. In the moments between waking and sleeping relax while you are lying on the bed, breath deeply, and picture yourself taking the examination with all the confidence in the world. Say to yourself over and over again: 'I will take that test without the slightest fear.' Several students here in college will testify as to the helpful results from this mental preparation."

"Barn warming dances" will be put on by the Block and Bridle club on the evening of November 19. Harrison's hall, recreation center, and the gymnasium all have been secured by the arrangement committee and the dances will be run simultaneously at all places.

The proceeds from the dances will be used to defray the expenses of the stock judging team at the International stock judging contest which will be held in Chicago this month. Tickets may be procured from any student taking animal husbandry, at a cost of $1 each.

Probably the first rooster auction ever held in Kansas is to take place in Coffey county on November 12 under the supervision of county agent, J. H. McAdams, '16.

AGGIES TAKE AN EASY ONE IN GRINNELL

PIONEER RALLY IN THIRD PERIODS A SHUTOUT

FINAL COUNT STANDS 21 TO 7

Bachman Used Second String Freely—Bryan in Limelight—Wildcats Lack Punch in Beginning of Fourth

Coach "Bud" Saunders and his gridmen from Grinnell, Iowa, managed to keep from being completely blanked by the Aggies Saturday by making a mighty splurge in the third quarter, slipping the oval over the line and kicking goal, making the final score Aggies 21, Grinnell 7. Bachman's Braves Treat 'Em Gently

Coach Bachman and his proteges treated the guests generously, during most of the contest using an entirely new backfield that had never played together, and later introducing most of the second string men to the Iowa boys. Schmitz, Hahn, Sebring, Stauffer, Schindler, and Smith were the most polite men of the Aggie eleven, repeatedly letting the Grinnell punter kick the oval into their faces, and several times picking up the pigskin for the visitors when the Pioneer backs fumbled it. Not to be outdone the Aggies also made several fumbles. The only possible kick the visitors can have is that the Aggies were a bit selfish in the first half and would not let them have a single first down nor complete a forward pass. The Iowans made five first downs during the game to the Aggies' 15, and completed three out of eleven attempted passes, while the Aggies completed five out of 10 aeriels.

In the third period the Aggies became a little too sociable for a minute and the Iowans took advantage of it. Datesman taking a 30 yard pass to the Aggie 3-yard line. Walters went through center for Grinnell's only touchdown and Barnes booted goal.

Bryan Proves Himself a Hero

"Rocky" Bryan, playing the mystic number 13 on the back of his purple jersey, proved to be the particular nemesis of the Pioneer eleven. "Rocky" picked his holes well and yanked through the Grinnell defensive for good gains and his punts were effectively placed. The work of the Aggie linemen in opening holes in the enemy line, blocking kicks and going down under punts, together with Sebring's pretty catch of Swartz's pass for the final Aggie touchdown, were the illuminating features in a game otherwise lacking in sensational plays.

Aggies Make Quick Start

The Aggies scored first shortly after the play started. An exchange of punts had left the ball on Grinnell's 40 yard line. Bryan twisted through for eight and then for 31 yards. Bryan passed to Winter for 10. Bryan registered five more, and Winter placed it on the 3-yard line. Swartz forged over and Sebring lifted it over the crossbar for another point.

Game Lags in Second

Neither goal was threatened in the second quarter and the play seemed slow and listless with the ball in the middle of the field most of the time. Newell went in for Winter and Harris at quarterback. Hahn blocked McLain's punt at the end of the half.

Grinnell Scores in Third

Swartz was back at quarter in the third. Sebring kicked off 50 yards to Rafferty who returned to the 20 yard line. An Aggie linesman again blocked a kick and Schmitz secured the ball on the 6-yard line. Bryan skirted right end for a touchdown and Sebring again kicked goal. A 25 yard crisscross run by Slinker of Grinnell, and an exchange of punts gave Grinnell the ball on the Aggie 35 yard line. Datesman took Pearing's 30 yard pass to the 2-yard line and Walters shoved it over for the only Grinnell counter.

Wildcats Finish in Proper Style

At the beginning of the final quarter, the Aggies, on a Swartz to Sebring pass and off tackle charges, (Concluded on page four)

THE BLEACHERS PLAY FOOTBALL AGAIN

The north side bleachers played football again last Saturday even as they played football the week before down the Kaw. Speaking of the spirit with which the Aggie rooters stood behind their team at the K. U.-Aggie game Coach Bachman told the crowd at the pep meeting last Friday that he had never seen such an exhibition of college spirit. "They fought throughout the whole game."

Defeat at Lawrence was a bitter pill especially in view of the fact that the chances seemed so much in our favor. On top of that, the game with Grinnell was far from being one of the sensational variety which stirs up any great amount of pep. But the bleachers began their work at the entrance of the team on the field and they stayed by the job through the dreariest and most listless part of the battle. They showed that they could stand the hardest test of all for real college spirit, which is to come out of defeat with a grin and then keep on backing the team just as strong as ever.

With women, just like it is with automobiles, the first cost is the lowest. It's the upkeep that counts.

Then, too, as soon as the new wears off, the depreciation comes a lot faster, and a fellow wishes he had got a different style.

Then he looks for a chance to trade.

Verdant Goof, of the class of '25, notes scientifically that the congestion at the south end of Anderson varies directly with the velocity of the wind.

Verdant always was an observing boy. He wrote an interesting paper for his teacher this fall entitled, "The View from My Window."

He is now collecting data for another article which he plans to call, "My First Impressions of College."

And now I suppose it is up to us to state that it is only 48 days till Christmas. Do your impression-making on dad early.

Which reminds us. Let this be a warning to you young sprouts. If you don't want to buy a present for that girl you've been bothering, better knock off before it's forever too late.

The Shame of America

"Twenty five per cent of the American people don't speak good," says a public speaking expert.

Demosthenes, you old rascal, we've almost come to the conclusion that you're at the bottom of this modern slang craze. Who, upon reading the words, "As a vessel is known by the sound whether it be cracked or not" can help finishing the quotation thusly: so men are proved by their speeches whether or not they be cracked, also?

Yes, that is your quotation, you puny little Greek, you know it is. The New Revised, Corrected, and Enlarged Edition of Hoyt's Cyclopaedia of Practical Quotations says so.

Alexander Pope may have been the father of polished verse; nevertheless, there were times when he was off his guard. The following shamefully modern arrangement of words was made in a toast he gave at a hackwriters' ball one night. Just a few hours after having received a rejection slip from the London Mail:

Places Book Reviews and Stories While Studying

Miss Clementine Paddleford, '21, who is studying advanced journalism in New York, finds time in addition to her studies to do some very interesting newspaper work. Just now she is doing research work for the head of the department of journalism on a book which he is preparing on the history of the newspaper.

She has also written a number of book reviews and feature stories which have appeared in eastern magazines and newspapers. Miss Paddleford was very prominent in student activities when she was on the hill. She is a member of the Alpha Delta Pi.

The idea of a combination of breed school and cockeral sale originated and was developed by W. A. Boyse of Sumner county and N. L. Harris, poultry specialist of the college.

DEAN VAN ZILE PUTS O. K. ON SENSIBLE HIKING CLOTHES

Costumes Suggested Durable and Modest Says Dean

"Sensible hiking costumes," according to Dean Mary P. Van Zile, "consist of khaki bloomers or petticoaters, khaki knee-length skirt, middie or flannel shirt, puttees or roll-leggings, heavy shoes, and hat." This outfit, according to the Aggie dean of women, makes a suit which is not only modest and becoming, but durable, and ample protection against thorny bushes and other joy-killers of the hiker.

These uniforms, if adopted by the Aggie coeds, would save lots of good clothes, good dispositions, and good times, Dean Van Zile believes.

'CHOOSE YOUR OWN JOB'--DYER

UNIVERSITY DEAN OF MEN SPEAKS TO Y THURSDAY

Speaker Outlines Questions To Be Asked in Selecting a Vocation

"Don't let anyone bequeath a vocation to you," advised John Dyer, dean of men at the University of Kansas in speaking before a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening. "It is the fundamental right and duty of every person to choose his own life's work, and this right should not be interfered with by parental or other influence."

"One's choice of a vocation should be based upon straight thinking. He should ask himself: 'What sort of a person am I mentally, physically, and morally; how do I impress others; what has my previous experience and training fitted me for; and finally what sort of a girl is going to be my wife?'"

Dean Dyer urged the men of his audience to spend their vacations intelligently, not to force themselves into a line of work for which they were not adapted because of the monetary returns.

McCLEAF OF QUAKER OATS COMPANY TALKS ON DAIRYING

Shows Movies of Uses of Milk as Food—Explains Breed Types

Under the direction of the dairy department of K. S. A. C., Prof. J. A. McLean, representing the livestock service department of the Quaker Oats company gave a short talk on the subject of dairy cattle last Thursday evening in the horticulture building. A large group of students and faculty who are interested in dairying were present.

The principal part of the program consisted of a two reel moving picture showing the uses of milk as a food. The introduction to the films was devoted to the value of milk as a human food. A portion was devoted to explaining breed types and finally an argument was made for better sires.

The Quaker Oats company spent six months time, and visited 90 herds in 23 states to produce these films.

CALDERWOOD IS CO-AUTHOR OF BOOK ON ENGINEERING

A. A. Potter and Moyer of Massachusetts Other Authors

Prof. J. P. Calderwood of the mechanical engineering department of this college is an associate author of a book on engineering which has recently been published by Chapman and Hall of London. The other two joint authors of this book, Elements of Engineering Thermodynamics, are Mr. Moyer, director of the Massachusetts department of university extension, and Dean A. A. Potter of the engineering division of Purdue university, who was formerly dean of engineering at K. S. A. C.

The work is an extension of a brief on which Messrs. Moyer and Calderwood collaborated. It is especially adapted to meet the practical requirements of technical colleges where courses in steam turbines, internal, and other types of combustion engines, and refrigerating, are available.

The Beardmore News says of this book, "The industrious student who will go to the trouble of following out in detail the carefully reasoned theorems set forth, will find the book of considerable value."

Prof. N. A. Crawford has gone to Salina, where he will talk to the students of the Kansas Wesleyan college. He will also address a women's club on the subject "New Poetry."

Barbed Wire Helps Combat the Lure of Cafeteria Short Cut

Barbed wire, 156 feet of it, is being used on the campus to check hungry Aggies from taking short cuts to lunch. According to Prof. R. J. Barnett, of the department of horticulture, the attraction of the cafeteria was drawing the students from the library entrance by the most direct route across several yards of the campus green. A path was fast being beaten between the two points two strands of barbed wire were used. The general opinion seems to be that the authorities that signs and admonitions are useless in such cases, found necessary.

The members of Prof. C. E. Rogers' class in feature writing have been writing feature articles on the dedication of the new engineering building and the homecoming game to take place November 19. A number of these articles will be published in Sunday papers in Kansas City, Topeka, Wichita, and Hutchinson.

Miss Julia Keller of Herdon and Miss Grace Fairleigh of Independence were guests at the Kappa Delta house last week end.

Miss Mary Frances Davis and Miss Gladys Ross were guests at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house last week end.

William Carlisle of Gamesville, Ga.; G. R. Skelly of Kansas City, J. L. Woodhouse of Sharon Springs, and Roger Day, of Salina, were week end guests at the S. A. E. house last week.

'CLARENCE' TO BE PRESENTED IN DECEMBER

PURPLE MASQUE TO PRODUCE TARKINGTON COMEDY

TEN PEOPLE ARE IN PLAY CAST

Those Who Have Tried Out Before Purple Masque To Be Called To Try for Play—Need Business Manager

"Clarence," a comedy by Booth Tarkington, has been chosen for production by the Purple Masque fraternity. The play, which will be produced the second week in December, will be directed by Prof. Ray E. Holcombe of the public speaking department.

This play by Booth Tarkington, the noted novelist and playwright, is the most recent one to be released for amateur production. It has had a long run in New York and Chicago, and has been produced by stock companies in all parts of the country, but not until the last of September was it available for local talent performances. The comedy is full of amusing situations, is rich in the versatility of characters, and is particularly adapted to college audiences.

The cast consists of 10 characters, five men and five women, and will be chosen from persons who have tried out before Purple Masque. Several persons who may be adapted to a part will be notified to appear again before the director and the one best suited for the part will be selected. Unusual opportunity for character work will be afforded in the play.

A business manager for the production has not been chosen. "Shorty" Whan, who has managed Purple Masque plays for the past three years is too busy to handle the work, and anyone wishing the position should apply to Purple Masque.

AGGIES TAKE AN EASY ONE IN GRINNELL

took the ball from Grinnell's 30 yard line to within one yard of the goal. The Grinnell line surprised themselves and the spectators by holding the Aggies for downs and booting out of danger. Bryan and Fearing exchanged kicks. Grinnell fumbled again and it was the Aggies' ball. Swartz passed to Sebring for 15 yards, and repeated, Sebring crossing over from right to left end, snagging the toss and racing over for the third touchdown a few minutes before the end of the game. The whistle sounded after Butcher had intercepted a Grinnell pass and returned it to the Pioneer 25 yard line.

The unexpected defeat of Kansas by Oklahoma leaves the Aggies and Missouri still tied for second place, with a percentage of .750, and indicates that the Aggies will have the hardest battle of the season in the final game with Oklahoma here a week from Saturday. Friday the Aggies meet the dangerous Ames Cyclones, who won over Drake 7 to 0 Saturday. This game will be at Ames.

SIDE LINE COMMENT

It was better baseball than football weather and the effect was noticeable on both teams.

That mystic number 13 worn by "Rocky" Bryan lived up to its reputation of being disastrous—to the Pioneers.

McLain, Grinnell left half, punted almost the length of the field in the second quarter.

A rabbit broke away for a 90 yard run along the sidelines in the first half and was downed behind the goal line by an Aggie enthusiast.

"Shorty" Corby's announcement of the decisive Aggie victory in the cross country against Nebraska, put the rooters in the proper frame of mind.

With neither Sears, Burton, nor Stark in the lineup, about the only information the Ames scout could take back was that Bachman has two complete backfield combinations.

"Ship" Winter worked at left half with Smith taking "Ship's" place at end. Smith played a good game. The effective work of Datesman, fleet Grinnell end, kept Winter from getting away for any substantial gains.

"We'll wipe off the 'Grin' and knock the 'ell' out of Grinnell," read a Wampus Cat banner.

Mike and Bach should be able to draft some fighting football material from those two girls' hockey teams that staged a flashy game between halves.

The K. U.-Oklahoma score seemed to be pleasant news to the Aggie fans. But it means a terrific battle here on Homecoming day.

Hahn, Schmitz, and Schindler made it hard for the Pioneers to handle Bryan's punts. They would be down the field almost ahead of the ball.

Stauffer was throwing his old form. The giant tackle was going through and clipping 'em where they stood. He blocked a punt by McLain in the second.

LIFE SAVERS TO GIVE INSTRUCTION

WOMAN'S POOL OPEN TUESDAYS AND THURSDAYS

Give 100 Points for Membership—K. S. A. C. Only College Having Corps

The Red Cross Life Saving corps is giving instruction on Tuesday and Thursday, of each week, from 4 until 5 o'clock at the woman's swimming pool. One hundred W. A. A. points will be given to every girl who passes the life saving tests as prescribed by the corps. Miss Julia Caton and Miss Ruth Kittell, members of the corps, have charge of the pool this month.

K. S. A. C. has the distinction of being the first and only college to have a Red Cross Life Saving corps. It was only through the efforts of Miss Louise Tausche, head of the physical education department, who was also a member of this organization at Boston, that K. S. A. C. was able to secure the corps.

The Red Cross officials at St. Louis are interested in the progress of the Aggie corps. If they are satisfied with the results, plans are being made to establish corps in other colleges.

PRATT PRAISES SUPPORT GIVEN

THINKS COOPERATION WITH DEPARTMENT EXCELLENT

Help Given by Horticultural and Printing Departments Especially. Fine Says Music Head

The third number of the faculty concert series was given last Sunday by Miss Ethel Hassinger, violinist, and Miss Fanny M. Keller, pianist. It was one of the most successful and pleasing numbers that has been presented.

"The department of horticulture and Mr. Walter B. Balch deserve much credit for the decorating of the stage," said Prof. Ira Pratt in speaking of the concert. "It was a fine piece of work and added much to the success of the concert. With this background the musicians seemed to perform unusually well."

The audience although not as large as on the Sunday previous applauded enthusiastically and the performers were repeatedly encored. Professor Pratt, head of the music department, is eager that the students and townspeople know how much the department appreciates their fine support.

"A great deal of the credit for the success of the various entertainments put on by the music department, is due to the fine spirit of cooperation shown by the students, the townspeople and the faculty," says Professor Pratt. "Especially credit is due the horticultural and printing departments for their assistance in putting on the faculty concerts. In all my experience I have never received such support and in behalf of the music department I wish to thank everyone for the splendid support accorded us in all of our activities."

Speak Up Teacher, Were You Ever the Circus Wild Man?

It is a large wire mesh cage about four feet square, firmly reinforced at the corners by thick boards. One entire end is a door. Inside it are a tin cup, a corn cob, and a pile of grass hay. It has stood in the basement of the library building all fall. Why should there be an empty cage—and such a strong one too—in such a location?

Can it be that some outwardly sedate professor has been touring the country with a circus and has left his animal cage in the library basement? Is it possible that the brain of some poor student has given way under the strain of quizzes, that the heartless college authorities bundled him in there until he could be sent to the asylum? It is an awful thought to picture him sobbing and moaning wildly all through the night, crying to the unsympathetic walls:

"I tried! I studied, and I know I wrote it down right—H<sub>2</sub>SO<sub>4</sub> and HNO<sub>3</sub> give HCl. But they flunked me for it."

But a more cheerful thought comes to mind. Perhaps some jovial prof. has been making whiskey on the sly and as been throwing his used corn cobs in the cage. And yet, there is only one cob. Perhaps the cage is dedicated to more cheerful ends—perhaps the Wampus cats are kept there when they are tired.

EXPECT STIFF BATTLE WITH AMES FRIDAY

TEAM LEAVES FOR CYCLONE CAMP WEDNESDAY

TWENTY-FIVE AGGIES MAKE TRIP

Stark Will Not Be in Game—Bryan To Play at Left Half—"Polly" Wallace Will Be in Iowa Lineup

Early Wednesday afternoon, Bachman's Kansas Aggies took a final pep workout before leaving at 5:30 on the Union Pacific for Ames to do battle with the powerful Cyclone eleven of Iowa State college Friday afternoon.

The biting chill of the weather Tuesday night put an additional scrappiness into both the regulars and the yearlings, and the varsity received a good stiff workout before leaving to measure their own strategy against the formidable Iowa aggregation. Engaging in snappy scrimmage Monday and Tuesday evenings, the regulars tore into the Ames formations of the freshmen eleven with good results. The whole team has been displaying the old fight, and will give the Cyclones some real entertainment for an hour tomorrow.

Twenty-five Aggie players will make the trip, including Stark, who has not been in uniform since the K. U. game. It was hoped that the Aggie star would be recovered from the infected arm from which he has suffered since the contest at Lawrence, but the plunging halfback will be unable to get into the fray. It now seems rather doubtful that he will be in shape to get into the Homecoming game with Oklahoma November 19.

Bryan Takes Stark's Place

"Rocky" Bryan, who performed valiantly against Grinnell, will again work in Stark's place at left half, "Ding" Burton and "Susie" Sears, right half and fullback, are not in the best of condition, but it is thought they will be able to start against the Cyclones. If not, the same backfield that was used against Grinnell, with Winters at right and Clements or Butcher at full, will go in. Swartz will again call the signals at quarter. If "Ship" Winter is transferred to the backfield, Smith will take Ship's place at left end and the ever dependable Sebring will fill his regular position at the other wing. Schmitz and Stauffer or Nichols will start at tackle, and Hahn and Shindler will flank Cleland at center.

Consider Cyclones Dangerous

Mike Ahearn, the Aggie mentor, considers the Ames eleven as one of the most dangerous football teams in the Valley. Even though the Cyclones stand sixth in the Valley race, a glance at their record this year is far from reassuring to their opponents. Ames won over Grinnell 21 to 3, was barely edged out by Missouri in the last part of a hard fought struggle 17 to 14; lost to K. U. by one touchdown, 14 to 7; and lost again to Washington by a measly two points on a safety. It is significant that in both the K. U. and Washington games that "Polly" Wallace, All-American center, was out of the Ames lineup. With the redoubtable "Polly" back at center, though still suffering from an injured leg, Ames came back and handed the same Drake eleven that had trounced K. U. 15 to 7, a 7 to 0 defeat.

Treat Freshman "Polly" Rough

The pseudo "Polly" who has been impersonating the famous Wallace at center in the Cyclone formations of the freshmen, has enjoyed a flattering amount of attention—and battering—during scrimmage. If the real Wallace is treated as courteously Friday, the wonder man of the Cyclones will be a weary warrior before the final whistle. It must be remembered that in "Shifty" Cleland the Aggies also have a center who will make the Iowa star look to his laurels.

Curtiss Scouted Drake-Ames Game
Coach Curtiss, who scouted the Drake-Ames contest and also saw Wallace in action against Missouri, is emphatic in his praise of the Ames phenom. The Aggies will have to contend not only with Wallace, but also with the rejuvenated morale which the presence of the star center in the lineup always inspires among his team mates.

The Ames Farmers usually play their best game against the Wildcats. Last year, after a comparatively unsuccessful season, the Cyclones invaded the Aggie camp and handed the Wildcats the worst defeat of the season in a 17 to 0 score. Practically the whole Iowa eleven is a team of veterans. The Aggies who played last year will likely again find opposed to them, besides Wallace, Higgins, Lingenfelter, Church, Morrison, Young, Riggs, and Currie.

Rooters Gave Team Sendoff

The Aggie rooters gave the squad a sendoff Wednesday night and are planning to meet the players on their return, probably Saturday afternoon.

The men who made the trip are Cleland, Sebring, Smith, Linn, Winter, Swartz, Schmitz, Harris, Nichols, Bryan, Stauffer, Randall, Hahn, Sears, Quinn, Clements, Weber, Butcher, Murphy, Burton, Schindler, Cowell, Steiner, Brandley, and Stark.

ARMISTICE DAY PLANS COMPLETE

STAGE PARADE AND CHAPEL PROGRAM FRIDAY MORNING

Three Bands To Take Part—War Veterans To March in Parade

The program for Armistice Day, November 11, has been completed and everything is in readiness. The college will cooperate with the townspeople in a big parade which is to start from the downtown districts at 9:30 o'clock in the morning. School children will march, each child carrying a small flag. Veterans of the Civil war will follow in cars and veterans of the Spanish and World wars will march. Three bands will in all probability take part. The college band will be divided into two parts and the town band is expected to be out.

The parade will go to the auditorium where exercises have been arranged. The chapel program is as follows: bugle call, after which three minutes will be spent in silent reverence; invocation; solo—"The Recessional" by Prof. Ira Pratt; tableau; singing of "America" by audience; Greetings, Reverend Father Lucky; music by college band; address, George H. Parkinson; "Flag of the Free," "Star Spangled Banner," band; benediction.

GRAVEUR HERE NOVEMBER 28

PHI MU ALPHA MEMBERS HAVE CHARGE OF SEAT SALE

Sell Tickets for Remaining Numbers of Artists' Series at Two Dollars

The second number of the Artists' Series is to be given on November 28 by Louis Graveur, the famous Belgian baritone.

A special price has been made on the last two numbers of the series. Mr. Pratt announces that students will have an opportunity to hear both for two dollars, whereas the individual concerts would cost $3.25.

The seat sale has been turned over to the members of Phi Mu Alpha, national music fraternity. They expect to begin their ticket selling campaign in the near future, probably the latter part of this week. Louis Graveur is a very popular singer and the management is expecting to sell out the house.

Miss Gladys Warren of the department of music leaves Thursday for Lawrence, where she will spend the week end with Miss Mabel Leffler. Miss Leffler was formerly a teacher of piano at K. S. A. C.

Bill Lindquist Is Already a Most Enthusiastic Aggie

Have you met Bill Lindquist?

If you have not you had better be getting acquainted. Bill is a regular fellow as well as a fine musician and he wants to make friends with everybody. And from the way he has been doing it he will soon be one of the most popular and well known professors on the hill. He made a lot of friends at the faculty concert but Lindquist doesn't count you a real friend until he knows you personally.

As all good Aggies like to know something about a person before they make advances we offer a brief sketch of the high spots in Bill's musical career. And by the way this is not Mr. Lindquist's first appearance at K. S. A. C. He appeared at the auditorium on December 13, 1915, as Manson in the William Owen production of "The Servant in the House." So he is not a total stranger after all.

Lindquist was a member of the William Owen company for three years during which time he toured the United States from coast to coast, playing important roles in many plays. The following are the best known roles in which he appeared: Sir Peter Teague in Sheridan's "The School for Scandal," both Chrysis and Pygmalion in Gilbert's "Pygmalion and Galatea," Algernon in Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest," Manson in Charles Rann Kennedy's "The Servant in the House," and Touchstone in Shakespeare's "As You Like It." Cassio in "Othello," and Gratiano, Bassanio and Shylock in "The Merchant of Venice."

Mr. Lindquist has also had great success in concert and recital work. He taught privately in Chicago for several years and was conducting a private school when he decided to come here.

Bill has been very active in religious work. He has sung in the largest churches in Chicago and has been very prominent in musical work in the church. He was for three years soloist at the First United Presbyterian church; two years at Fullerton Avenue Presbyterian; one year at Woodlawn Park Presbyterian; and one year at the First Methodist Episcopal church at Oak Park, Ill. He is a graduate of the Cosmopolitan School of Music and Dramatic Art of Chicago.

And above all Bill Lindquist already has acquired the real old Aggie fight.

SOCIETY DEBATES ARE THIS MONTH

TEAMS COMPETE TO DETERMINE INTERSOCIETY CHAMPIONSHIP

Subject Is Whether or Not Labor Unions as They Are Now Are Beneficial

Whether or not labor unions as they now exist are beneficial to society, is the question which will be debated by the teams representing the literary societies in the intersociety debate tournament which will be held December 6 to 17.

Each of the societies has chosen a debate coach, and is holding squad practice regularly each week. More interest is being shown in the debates this year than heretofore, and hard fought contests are expected. The persons who are coaching the squads are: Leona Thurrow, Alpha Beta; Joe E. Thacker, Franklin; Opal Seiber, Eurodelphian; Lucile Whan, Ionian; Ruby Ricklefs, Browning; Lawrence Wheatly, Webster; J. J. Seright, Athenian; and Donald Ibach, Hamilton.

The first series of the contests will be held December 6, the second December 8, the semifinals December 10, and the finals December 17. The preliminary debates will be held in the society halls, but the final debate will be held in recreation hall before a joint meeting of the eight literary societies of the college.

The Athenian literary society was victorious in both of the semi-final contests last year, and won the silver loving cup which is kept by the winners until defeated, or until it is won three consecutive years.

RECORD AGGIE HOMECOMING IS INDICATED

GOVERNOR ALLEN MAY PRESIDE AT ENGINEERING DEDICATION

POTTER AND MCCORMICK COMING

Program Begins with Engineers' Parade Friday Evening—Many Entertainments Planned for Alumni and Other Visitors

The annual homecoming this year, November 19, is, according to all indications, to be the greatest reunion in the history of the institution. The big features are the formal dedication ceremonies of Engineering hall and the Aggie-Oklahoma football game.

In attendance at the dedication of the engineering building will prominent men from all parts of the United States. In response to invitations from President Jardine, former Dean A. A. Potter, now head of the engineering division at Purdue university will be present and deliver the address in the auditorium at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Former Dean E. B. McCormick will be in charge of the dedication services at the engineering building in the formal opening of its doors at 11 o'clock giving the principal address at this ceremony. The Topeka Press club members are to be guests of President Jardine at this time and the club members will be given an informal entertainment by the journalism organizations of the college.

It is hoped that Governor Henry Allen can arrange to be present and preside but as yet it is not definitely known whether or not he will be here, as he has an engagement in New York City November 15. The governor has expressed the hope that he can be at K. S. A. C. at that time.

The program will be set in motion at 6:30 Friday evening, the time of the engineers' big parade. There will be a brilliant display of electric and pyrotechnic effects. The parade will be over just in time for everyone to attend the pep meeting in the auditorium. Then the crowd will go to the gymnasium for the annual mixer for students and alumni, some to the class reunions in the society halls, and to the dance in the big gym.

On Saturday morning the dedication ceremonies proper for the new Engineering hall will be staged, and in the afternoon the Aggie-Oklahoma game is to be played. Saturday evening the entertainment given by the journalism organizations for the Topeka Press club guests and the newspaper men of the state who will be here for the game will be held in the home economics hall, and the Block and Bridle club will stage dances at Harrison's, recreation center, and the big gym, for the benefit of the Aggie stock judging team. Practically every organization on the hill is planning some sort of entertainment for alumni members who will be here for the day.

'THE CLIMAX' AND 'GHOSTS' PLEASE

MADAME HAMMER IS SUPERB AS MRS. ALVING IN "GHOSTS"

David Fuller as Oswald Does Wonderful Acting in Difficult Role

The two plays presented by the Traveling Theater last Friday and Saturday evenings were high grade productions pleasing to the audience. "Ghosts" the drama presented on Friday evening is a drama of intense emotions. Madame Hammer as Mrs. Alving was superb in her role. The great love of a mother for her son was acted with a restrained intensity that was almost overwhelming at times.

David Fuller as Oswald, her son, did some wonderful acting in a difficult role. Rolf Fjell as Jacob Engstrand, and Joseph Stanhope as Pastor Manders presented their parts in a consistent and pleasing manner and were heartily applauded by the audience. Miss Jeanne Deloup, in the minor part of Regina Engstrand, was also good.

"The Climax" was a modern play that proved very entertaining to the audience. Joseph Stanhope, David Fuller, played the masculine roles in a pleasing manner and Miss Dorothy Peterson starred as Adeline Von Hagan, the temperamental young singer, singer.

Ottawa Club Elects Officers

Austin Heywood, sophomore in agronomy, was elected president of the Ottawa club at the first meeting of the year which was held at the Pines cafeteria Thursday evening, October 27. Lois Clark was elected vice president, Allen Boyce, treasurer; and Don D. Ballou, publicity secretary.

The Ottawa County club is composed of nearly 40 students and employees of the college whose homes are or have been in Ottawa county.

SALMON AND CALL IN NEW ORLEANS WITH AGRONOMISTS

Both Professors on Program of National Society

Prof. L. E. Call and Prof. S. C. Salmon of the agronomy department left on November 5 for New Orleans, La., where they will attend the annual meeting of the American Society of Agronomy held in connection with the American Association of Land Grant colleges. Professor Call is chairman of the committee on teaching farm crops. One of the sessions of the society will be devoted to a discussion of this subject under the leadership of Professor Call. Professor Salmon has been a member for several years of the committee on standardization of field experiments and will present the report for this committee at the New Orleans meeting since the chairman and the other member of the committee will not be able to attend. On the way back to Kansas Professor Call and Professor Salmon will visit one or two of the southern experiment stations, probably those of Louisiana and Mississippi.

File Y. W. Pledge Cards

The pledge cards signed in the recent Y. W. C. A. financial campaign are being filed this week. In filing the cards the committee will be able to check up on the girls who were missed in the campaign. A follow-up campaign will be conducted at the end of the week so that every girl in college may be given an opportunity to pledge.

WILL PUBLISH AG MAGAZINE NOVEMBER 21

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE TO BE SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS

THREE ISSUES OUT THIS YEAR

Magazine To Contain Twenty Articles and Many Illustrations—Earl Means Is Editor—Stewart Business Manager

The Kansas Agricultural Student, divisional publication of the Ags, will make its initial appearance November 21. Five hundred copies will be printed, and will be distributed among students, alumni, and faculty members of the division.

The subscription price of the new publication will be 75 cents. Over 100 students have taken out two subscriptions, one of which they will send to a prominent farmer or some high school student whom they wish to interest in K. S. A. C. Only three issues of the magazine will be published this year, since it was not decided to publish it until after college started. The second issue will appear at the end of the semester, and the last issue the first of April.

The magazine will contain 20 articles and many illustrations. "Agriculture in Serbia" by Sylvester J. Coe is the title of an interesting account of Mr. Coe's observations during his six months stay in that country. A few of the articles are technical in nature, some are feature stories, while most of them are of a general informative nature of persons interested in agriculture. A page of interest to graduates is the one devoted to alumni notes, telling of the work of former agricultural students.

The board of publication consists of Earl Means, editor; J. W. Farmer, assistant editor; J. Scott Stewart, business manager; E. M. Coles, president of the agricultural association; and Sylvester J. Coe. Some of the leading contributors of the magazine are H. I. Richards, "Red" Roberts, J. Wheeler Barger, Arnold Englund, Percy Depuy, and E. R. Ausmus.

"THE FEROCIOUS AGGIES"

For instance, did you figure up how many ushers and guards it took to get everybody settled and keep the ferocious Aggies from rushing the gates. The number on the ushering job was around 125, and there were 30 national guardsmen packing "gats" around outside of the field.—University Daily Kansan.

This little comment on the K. U.-Aggie contest appeared shortly after the game. It was a case in which the hosts reckoned without their guests. However, if they could expect to judge the Aggie student behavior by the K. U. student behavior at the game here last fall, they had every reason to be prepared for a mob of roughnecks who cared for nothing better than to rush the gate.

As for the ushers they were a valuable asset in handling the crowd and facilitating the seating of strangers. But when it comes to the national guardsmen it was shown conclusively that there was no necessity for their presence as far as the Aggies were concerned.

The crowd that went to Lawrence was an orderly crowd, and a crowd which reflected favorably on the institution it represented. This is the kind of a reputation we need to maintain. Wild parties, mob action, hazing, and so on, all bring publicity for the college but it is not the kind of publicity which brings new students to a college. Fond parents out over the state note carefully these things before sending their young hopefuls up here to be educated.

FOODS STUDENTS LEARN TO CAN

USE OPEN KETTLE AND COLD PACK METHODS

100 Girls Enrolled in Foods Can 700
Jars—Only Half Dozen Failed To Keep

The various methods of food preservation have been the subjects for study in the classes in foods I this semester. The girls have canned by the open kettle and the cold pack methods, tomatoes, beets, peaches, plums, and pears. Jellies, butters, jams, conserves, and marmalades were made as well as pickles, relishes, and preserves. About 100 girls are enrolled in the five sections of the classes this semester.

One of the most unusual methods of food preservation was that used in canning rhubarb. The rhubarb was cut into small pieces and packed tightly in the jars, then the jars were filled with cold water from the tap and sealed. The reason given for the material keeping without danger of spoiling was that rhubarb is a strongly acid fruit. All the food preserved by the classes has been kept long enough to determine whether or not it will spoil, and from over 700 jars scarcely one-half dozen have failed to keep. These jars were believed to have bad rubbers.

The girls in the foods classes are allowed to buy their own products and the remainder is put on sale at cost. It has been difficult to obtain fruit for canning so late in the season. The object of the lessons in canning was to show the general principles of food preservation rather than to acquire skill in canning.

ARREST LAW VIOLATORS WHO PEDDLE POULTRY REMEDIES

Sluething of F. M. Aiman, Feed Inspector, Proves Successful

Two of the three men who violated the law which requires all livestock remedies to be registered, have been arrested in Plainville, due to investigations made by F. M. Aiman, feed inspector of this college. One, who gave his name as Ted Farley, was fined $50 and the other, J. M. Miller, was fined $100.

These three men have been working an ingenious plan to induce farmers to buy their medicine. The name of the company whose agents they were, is the State Poultry association and has its headquarters in Denver, Col. The Standard Chemical company, also of Denver, supplies the remedies which were sold.

The agents of the company go to the farmers and make this statement: "I am sent out by the State Poultry association to cull the chickens of this section and it will cost you nothing as the State Poultry association pays us." After culling the chickens they persuade the farmer that some disease is attacking his flock and proceed to sell him some Standard Poultry Spray or Standard Gem Fluid. Sometimes, it is said, a farmer buys as much as $100 worth of these medicines.

A. H. MEN JUDGE AT STATE FAIRS

INSTRUCT BREEDERS IN ESSENTIALS IN STOCK JUDGING

Serve Livestock Men of State as Well as Students at College Is Belief

The members of the animal husbandry department are living up to their belief that they owe a service to the livestock breeders of the state as well as to the students who come under their instruction.

Each member of the staff has been called upon to judge livestock at one or more county fairs this summer and fall, and two served as judges at fairs in states other than Kansas. Not only do they judge the livestock at the county fairs, but they give reasons for their placings, point out the essential points to consider in selecting livestock, and answer any questions on which the livestock men need help.

Dr. C. W. McCampbell judged at the Minnesota state fair, the Kansas State fair at Hutchinson, the Oklahoma Free fair at Muskogee, and the International Wheat show at Wichita. He also judged the livestock at the county fairs held in Belleville, Overbrook, Arkansas City, Winfield, and Harper.

Prof. A. M. Paterson was sent as official representative of the Kansas Free fair association to the Iowa State fair the last week in August to get exhibitors for the Topeka fair. He also acted as superintendent of cattle at the Kansas Free fair at Topeka, and judged at the Missouri State fair, the Oklahoma State fair at Oklahoma City, the Oklahoma Free fair in Muskogee.

Prof. F. W. Bell judged livestock at the county fairs held in Iola and Newton; Prof. D. L. Mackintosh at Iola, Mound City, and Valley Falls;

B. M. Anderson at Council Grove, Emporia, and Hays, and Prof. C. E. Aubel at Burlington and Lebo.

Y. W. HOLDS RECOGNITION SERVICES FOR 200 GIRLS

Candlelight Is Used Throughout Initiation for New Members

The Y. W. C. A. held its annual recognition services Tuesday evening for about 200 new members. The beautiful and impressive candlelight service, similar to the one of last year, was used.

The new girls met in the corridor of Anderson hall, and marched into recreation center two by two, led by the Y. W. C. A. octette. Each girl carried a candle.

The room was lighted by candles. The program was as follows: scripture reading, Opal Seebler; music, octette; responsive reading, Alice DeWitt; vocal solo, Geraldine Shane.

After the recognition by Ruth Peck, president of the Y. W. C. A., the new girls lighted their candles and marched out, led by the octette singing the recessional.

Phi Mu Alpha Initiates

Phi Mu Alpha, national music fraternity, held initiation services for seven new members last Monday evening, November 1, at the home economics hall. The new members are: C. E. Cloud, O. I. Gruber, E. E. Huff, R. G. Scott, Howard T. Hill, J. Paul Clark, and Donald M. Diefendorf.

After the initiation, a light luncheon was served at the Pines, and short talks were made by the new members. A short business meeting concluded the program.

At the present time there are 27 active and 13 alumni members in the Tau chapter of Phi Mu Alpha. The fraternity is becoming very active in the work of the music department, and the members take charge of the seat sale for the last two numbers of the Artists' Series. They will start their ticket selling drive at once.

SIEVER MEETS MANY STUDENTS

COLLEGE PHYSICIAN TREATS 1,874 IN 19 DAYS

Only Two Contagious Cases Reported—Both Are Chicken Pox

Dr. C. M. Siever, more than most of the professors on the hill, has the opportunity to see and talk to the majority of the students. During the first 19 days of October, 1,874 students visited his office, a big increase over the 1,291 who visited the doctor during September.

So far this school year only two contagious diseases have been reported and both of these cases were chicken pox. The majority of the ailments reported have been colds and other minor troubles, but an average of 98 men and women had visited the doctor each day up to October 19.

A detailed report from the doctor as to the nature of his cases for the first half of October is as follows: house calls, 22; boils and abscesses, 22; colds, 152; skin disorders, 27; feet, 20; eyes, 23; ears, 10; stomach, 10; intestinal, 10; sprain, 12; burns, 10; cuts, 18; return cards to class 315; tonsillitis, 3; laryngitis, 22; nose, 2. The number of vocational men treated was 271.

The college hospital is now undergoing repairs. The building is being repaired and repainted, new furniture has been installed. A keeper has been hired to manage the hospital.

FOREIGN AGGIES HAVE ORGANIZED

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB DISCUSSES CURRENT HOME ISSUES

Meetings Open to Public—Membership 21—Petition National Organization

Do you know that you can listen to programs devoted to current conditions in some foreign country, led by K. S. A. C. students from the country under discussion? The Cosmopolitan club, for Aggies from other lands, holds meetings the second and fourth Mondays of each month, at 7 o'clock in the evening. The meetings are held in the Y building, and the members are glad to have any one who is interested attend.

The programs consist of music, interpretations in native costumes, and talks by the Aggies from foreign lands. The speeches are followed by discussions in which the speakers answer questions. At the meeting next Monday evening W. K. Lau will speak on "The New China."

The Cosmopolitan club was reorganized last spring and has a membership of 21 persons. A. R. Saunders, who represents the foreign students in the Y. M. C. A. cabinet, is president of the club. The organization has recently petitioned for membership in the national Cosmopolitan club, and several of its members are considering the practicability of renting a house and living together.

The members of the Cosmopolitan club are: N. J. Albino of Serbia; R. Javier, S. B. Rambe, and E. A. Cabacungam of the Philippine Islands; M. Kamal, L. B. Solomon and M. M. Bahgat of Egypt; J. A. Mer, A. V. de la Garza, and J. Herrera of Mexico; M. C. Valdes of Chile; W. K. Lau and C. S. Lo of China; J. F. T. Mostert and A. R. Saunders of Africa; A. Liote of Brazil; Miss A. Jennings; Miss M. Danheim; Miss F. Knorr, and E. Hartman.

Chemistry Students Work Overtime

Have you been wondering why so many coeds and boys with purple caps can be seen rushing madly toward the chemistry building about 4 o'clock on Tuesday afternoons? They are seekers after knowledge enrolled from the classes in Chemistry I, who have not been able to absorb enough knowledge in regular classes to satisfy insistent professors, or to make themselves immune from the persistent sunk slips.

Each Tuesday, some member of the chemistry department conducts the class. An opportunity is given any who have questions to have them answered. A great number of students are glad to take advantage of this chance to have the mysteries explained.

Cap Sanders Holds Record for Buying No. 1. Season Ticket

Every one connected with the engineering division, all taking the agricultural course, and most of the students of other courses know Prof. W. H. Sanders of the department of agricultural engineering. "Cap" is a graduate of K. S. A. C. and is a loyal booster for all kinds of Aggie activities. He is known to the athletic department as the purchaser of football ticket number one.

Every year Cap gives the athletic department instructions to save him football ticket number one until pay day rolls around. He has never yet failed to redeem his pledge. Should the people in Nichols gymnasium fail to deliver the number one ticket to "Cap" they surely would be visited by his black vengeance.

TESTING LAB ADOPTS NEW METHOD TESTING CONCRETE

Hollow Drill Which Removes Core of Material Is Used

The road materials testing laboratory of the applied mechanics department has adopted a method by which the thickness and character of the concrete on the public road can be determined. The testing is done by a hollow drill which is driven into the concrete and which removes a four and one half inch core from which can be determined the thickness and strength of the concrete, its wearing qualities and the density.

SOCIOLOGY CLASSES TO READ LEWIS' "MAIN STREET"

Will Discuss Small Town Problems as Presented by Book

Walter Burr, professor of sociology, is asking all his classes in sociology and allied subjects to read Sinclair Lewis' "Main Street." The classes will then meet in joint session, some time shortly before the end of the semester, to discuss the small town problems, as presented by Lewis.

If this form of study proves beneficial, Professor Burr plans to assign each semester works of fiction that will carry a social message. Various books such as Churchill's "Inside the Cup" will be used.

These discussions on books of fiction will take up only the social problems presented in the book, and Professor Burr states that he hopes to present these ideas more interestingly and effectively than would be possible through other methods of reports.

PRACTICE HOUSE GETS EQUIPMENT

HAVE LAUNDRY IN BASEMENT OF NEW HOME

Shows Model Washing Appliances—Will Heat Water in Machines

The practice house at 1641 Laramie, which is maintained in connection with the department of household economics, has had laundry equipment installed in the basement. This laundry may be considered a model in many respects. The arrangement of the equipment is such that the entire process is routed thus eliminating unnecessary steps.

From the sorting table the clothes are put into the electric washer, the water in which is heated with gas. Then, it is thought necessary to boil the clothes by means of the swinging wringer they are wrung into the copper boiler which rests on a gas plate; if not the clothes are wrung into the stationary tubs for rinsing. Every piece of the equipment from the washer and the boiler to the stationary tubs is fitted with hot and cold water for filling. Thus all lifting and carrying of water is eliminated. The sorting table, the shelf on which the starch is mixed, and the ironing board are of a comfortable working height so the worker is never required to stoop in any part of the work.

The laundry is also fitted with a laundry closet having two compartments, one for the ironing board and the other with shelves for holding the electric iron and laundry supplies.

It is planned in the future to add a mangle for all the flat pieces. The girls living in the house are required to do the laundry for the house and may do their own too if they wish. This method of laundering shows a great improvement, in efficiency as well as in economy of time and physical strength.

In addition to use in the practice course in household management, the laundry will be used in making scientific tests of various types of washers, mangles, etc. This work will be under the direction and supervision of Miss Hildegard Kneeland, head of the department of household economics.

MEMBERS OF STOCK JUDGING SQUAD CHOSEN

WILL MAKE TWO WEEKS' TRIP BEFORE INTERNATIONAL

INTERNATIONAL BEGINS NOV. 26

Seven Men Picked for Squad Are Weber, Moxley, Wilhoite, Roberts, Quigley, Hemphill, and Stewart

Announcement of the personnel of the stock judging squad was made Friday by Coach F. W. Bell. The seven men who won places on the squad which will make the two weeks' trip previous to the international contest are A. D. Weber, J. J. Moxley, Merlin Wilhoite, C. B. Roberts, C. B. Quigley, Clyde Hemphill, and J. Scott Stewart. The five persons who make the best showing between now and November 26 will represent the college in the international judging meet.

Competition for Squad Keen

Competition for places on the squad was keener this year than ever before. Eighteen men have worked two afternoons a week, and from 4 to 6 o'clock every other afternoon during the past six weeks. The contestants judged hogs, horses, sheep, and cattle, not only at the college, but also at leading livestock farms near Manhattan. The seven men whose placing of animals was most accurate during the six week period were selected for the squad.

Compete at International at Chicago

The team will compete in the International Livestock exposition which will be held in Chicago November 26 to December 3. Teams from 24 leading agricultural colleges of the United States and three colleges of Canada will be entered in this judging tournament. Before going to Chicago, the team accompanied by the coach, will make a two weeks' trip of inspection to some stock shows, breeder's farms, and college herds in the midwest to get more practice in scoring purebred animals. The itinerary includes a visit to the American Hereford Royal Cattle show at Kansas City, November 14 to 21; the Freeman Pioneer Stud farm at Bushnell, Ill.; the Good Belgian farm, the Wattmeyer Durro Jersey Swine herd, and the Singmaster Percheron farm at Ogden, Ia.; and the livestock herds at the University of Illinois and the Iowa State college.

Aggies Place for Three Years

The International exposition is the greatest annual livestock event in the world. The students judging contest was made a feature in 1900, and since that time interest has increased until competition is keen. The Kansas Aggie team has won a second, a third, and a fourth place in the past three years. The trophy offered for first place is a 500 pound bronze image of a bull. Several breeders associations offer prizes for teams which score the highest in given breeds.

Bell Coach of International Winners

Prof. F. W. Bell, who coaches the Aggie judging team, is a graduate of Cornell university. Before coming to K. S. A. C. three years ago, he was a member of the animal husbandry faculty at the Texas Agricultural college, where he coached a team which won first place at the International in 1918. He is popular among the students of the agricultural division, has high standing among livestock men, and is a member of the Alpha Zeta and Farm House fraternities.

STATION MEN FROM KANSAS AND COLORADO VISIT COLLEGE

Remain to Make Annual Reports and Tabulate Data

A. F. Swanson, who is in charge of cereal experiments at the Fort Hays branch station, came to Manhattan on October 31 to attend the lectures on experimental methods given by Dr. H. H. Love of Cornell university. Mr. Swanson, who will remain at Manhattan during a part of the winter, will prepare his annual report while here, and tabulate data on sorghum breeding experiments conducted at the Fort Hays station in cooperation with the central station.

F. A. Coffman, who is in charge of cereal experiments at the Akron, Col., experiment station, also came in to Manhattan to attend the lectures by Doctor Love, will remain at Manhattan for a time. While here he will prepare his annual report and tabulate data from the selection experiment with Burt oats which is being conducted in cooperation with the Kansas stations.

OBSERVE THIRD ARMISTICE DAY

GIVE PROGRAM IN AUDITORIUM FRIDAY MORNING

Parkinson Is Speaker—Father Lucky Presents Legion's Greetings—Reproduce Trench on Stage

The third anniversary of the Armistice has instituted a decided change in the observance of Armistice day. The great jubilation which has prevailed on the former anniversaries has been supplanted by a more thoughtful observance of the day.

Those in attendance at the program given at the college auditorium last Friday seemed to bear this in mind. After the bugle call of assembly, the college band played "Over There." This was followed by the entrance of the veterans of '62 and '98 and the Pearce-Kellar Post of the American Legion. The Rev. J. David Arnold delivered the invocation.

The bugle call of "Attention" brought every one to his feet and two minutes were spent in silence for at the time the body of the Unknown Soldier was laid to rest in Arlington cemetery. Following this Prof. Ira Pratt sang the "Recessional" by Kipling. A tableau, November 11, in which John F. Gibbons, Nathan R. Bickford, Earl F. Hoover, Jack O'Connor, Ellis Grayson, P. F. Jacobson, and John C. Schultz took part, portrayed the spirit of the men in the trenches at the hour the Armistice was signed. An exact reproduction of a trench with its sand bags and barbed wire entanglements and a reading, "November 11" by J. Wheeler Barger gave the audience such an insight into the situation of that day.

Reverend Father Lucky presented the Legion's greeting and after reading the Legion constitution, emphasized the fact that America must not break its faith with its dead. Rev. G. H. Parkinson who delivered the address of the morning pointed out the need of a League of Nations.

The presentation of "The Flag of the Free," concluded the program. Ellen Batchelor personified the spirit of the flag. Mary Rathiff and Charlotte Remick were the heralds who received the tokens of W. B. Rhodes, veteran of the war of '61, W. B. McCord, veteran of the war of '98, and Vernon Bates, veteran of the World War.

The Rev. A. M. Reed pronounced the benediction, and the band played "The Stars and Stripes Forever" as the auditorium emptied at the close of the program.

AG FAIR PLANS ARE UNDER WAY

MERLIN WILHOITE IS MANAGER OF EVENT

Proceeds Last Year Were $1,000—Follies a Feature This Year

"Plans are already under way to make the Ag. fair an even bigger event than it was last year," according to Merlin Wilhoite who will manage the fair this year. One of the leading attractions which the ags will put on is the "Follies."

The proceeds from the fair amounted to more than $1,000 last year. A system of advertising will be carried out to induce persons from nearby towns to attend the event this year.

The officers of the fair are: Merlin Wilhoite, manager; Fred Irwin, assistant manager; and Sylvester J. Coe, secretary-treasurer.

J. H. PARKER RETURNS FROM CONCLAVE OF ALPHA ZETA

On Return Trip Ag Prof. Inspects Experimental Work

Professor J. H. Parker of the agronomy department returned recently from a three weeks' trip during which he attended the conclave of the Alpha Zeta fraternity at Minneapolis, Minn. Professor Parker has been high scribe of Alpha Zeta for the past seven years.

While in Minnesota Professor Parker visited the new state-owned experimental flour mill which has just been completed and is now in operation. This mill is directed by Dr. C. H. Bailey of the Minnesota experiment station, and has very complete and modern equipment for experimental as well as commercial milling and baking work. Professor Parker also spent some time with the members of the experiment station staff of the University of Minnesota, with Minneapolis grain men and in the Minnesota grain inspection department.

On his return trip Professor Parker visited the agricultural experiment station of Purdue university, at Lafayette, Ind., where he conferred with members of the experiment station staff who are working on the problems of cereal rusts and corn disease investigations. At the University of Illinois, at Urbana, he visited Dr. C. M. Woodworth, plant breeder of the Illinois experiment station and looked over the genetics experiments in progress in other departments of the university.

DISPLAY SHOES OF OTHER LANDS

Shoes Were Placed on Exhibit by Miss Glanton Through Courtesy of K. M. Stone Company

Miss Louise P. Glanton, head of the department of clothing and textiles, through the courtesy of the K. M. Stone importing company of New York, recently placed on exhibition in the home economics building a very interesting display of ancient footwear styles. These styles were collections from Asia, Asia Minor, and Europe valued at $2,000.

Among the footwear from China shown were the Chinese royal street shoes, the Mikado street shoes, and the tiny cloth shoes which the Chinese women wore in the fifteenth century. These were elaborately embroidered in the oriental colors. From Europe were shown the richly carved wooden bridal clogs of the Hollanders, Roumanian peasant shoes, and the Roman sandals of the fifth century. From Asia Minor and middle Asia were on display Afghan-istan tribal boots, Persian nalan pearl inlaid shoes, Turkish mules, Armenian peasant bridal shoes and Turkish Minorities. Other footwear shown included the Chili bridal clogs and the Algerian street shoes.

The Disarmament Conference Pales Before This Lab. Class

An international problem at K. S. A. C. Impossible! And yet—listen. In one laboratory class there are, at one desk, Mr. Julian Herrera of Mexico; at the next desk, Mr. W. K. Lau, of China; across the aisle, Mr. A. R. Saunders of South Africa; and a little farther off a gentleman named Jose Angel Mier, of Mexico.

Do they get along sweetly and peacefully? Well, not exactly. Soon after the class starts Mr. Herrera will appoint himself a committee of one to inform Mr. Lau that he—Mr. Herrera—considers Mr. Lau to be but three degrees removed from an insect. In all calmness and placidity of spirit Mr. Lau will reply that in his opinion Mr. Herrera is a down right—well, you know. Thereupon Mr. Herrera will return to his seat, quite undecided as to who has won the argument.

After a brief lull, Mr. Mier will wander over to the desk of Mr. Saunders and breathe gently into the ear of Mr. Saunders that he is a soporific saphead. The latter gentleman will weigh the matter well and then inform Mr. Mier that it really isn't any of his business if he, Mr.

AGGIES LOSE AMES GAME LAST FRIDAY

SNOWSTORM AND SOGGY FIELD MAKE RAGGED CONTEST

AMES MAKES 7-0 SCORE IN THIRD

Cyclones Made Good One Opportunity Wildcats Lacked Punch to Use Their Chances for Goals—Rally After Counter

Playing part of the time in a blinding snowstorm, on a soggy, snow, and water covered field at Ames Friday, the Aggies lost 7 to 0 to Iowa State college by a single touchdown slipped across the Aggie goal line in the third quarter.

Cyclones Score in Third Quarter

It was the only time the Cyclones blew across the Aggie goal, and only a heady surprise attack by the Ames warriors—a forward pass over right end after the Aggie backs had been sucked in by a series of line plunges that failed to gain—made possible the only score of the game. The Cyclones had received the ball on the Aggies' 45-yard line. Currie and Young earned six yards, and the first successful Ames pass, Young to Currie, had placed the ball on the Wildcats' 27-yard line. Gaylord's end run lost two yards, and a line buck netted no gain. Young flipped a pass to Higgins, who was uncovered, and the Ames right end munched five yards more across the line. Young kicked the goal.

Weather Raw and Cold

The weather was raw and chilling cold. Owing to the fact that snowshoes and anti-skid chains had been overlooked in equipping the players, and because the two coaches, Messrs Bachman and Kent, did not permit the warriors to wear mittens, fumbles were frequent both from frozen hands and from the wet, slippery ball. The large Armistice day crowd thrashed their arms and shivered as they tried to follow the plays through a barrage of mud and snow out on the field.

Muddy Ball Prevented Overhead Work

The slippery, mud-covered ball kept the Aggies from working their trump card, the overhead offensive, to consistent advantage, and made forward passing difficult for both teams. The uncertain footing underneath was responsible for both eleven resorting to an unusual amount of punting. The heavy field and disagreeable weather conditions combined to make the play slow and to detract from the spectators' interest in the contest.

Aggies Lacked Final Punch

True to reputation, the Aggies came back after the Ames counter and (Concluded on page four.)

Sophomore Class Meets
The sophomore class met Tuesday, November 8, at 7 o'clock. Because of the change in the constitution, the regular meetings will be on the second Thursday of each month at 4 o'clock. Pictures for the Royal Purple must be taken by the middle of next week.

Organize New Vet. Class
A large number of veterinary medicine students are taking advantage of a course being offered by Lieutenant G. W. Bower of the R. O. T. C. The course is advanced work in veterinary medicine, especially in its pertinence to the army needs. The class is being organized as a R. O. T. C. unit.

AGGIES THIRD IN CROSS COUNTRY

IOWA STATE FIRST IN VALLEY MEET AT AMES

Ames, Kansas, K. S. A. C., Nebraska, Grinnell, and Washington Enter Long Distance Run

Iowa, State college of Ames won the annual Missouri Valley cross-country run at Nebraska university Saturday, while the Aggie team placed third. Six valley teams entered the meet. The points scored by the various teams were: Ames 31, Kansas 50, K. S. A. C. 76, Nebraska 80, Grinnell 88, Washington 144.

A new record was established by Rathburn of Ames who made the record time of 26 minutes, 13.2 seconds. The cross country course was changed on account of the crowds so that it was shortened to 200 yards less than five miles.

The Aggies took the following places: Mathias eighth, Henre eleventh, Clapp seventeenth, Bradley twentieth, and Chapman twenty-first.

The handicap race cups will be presented at the pep meeting at the auditorium Friday evening.

PRESENT FOURTH FACULTY CONCERT

USUAL LARGE CROWD PRESENT—PROGRAM WELL PRESENTED

Concert Given by Helen Colburn, Pianist, and Edna Ellis, Soprano

The fourth number of the faculty concert series was presented last Sunday by Miss Edna M. Ellis, soprano, and Miss Helen M. Colburn, pianist. The program was well selected and proved pleasing to the large audience.

Miss Colburn's playing was marked by her easy control of her instrument. She seemed to feel at home and rather imparted the same feeling to the audience. Her numbers were varied and exceptionally well selected. Her rendition of "Lotus Land" by Scott and "Rondo in G major" by Beethoven were the most popular with the audience. The singing of Miss Ellis was featured by her remarkable soft tones. She has fine control of her voice and possesses a good stage presence. Her first number, "Aria—On 'Mighty Pens' by Haydn, was probably her best and was enthusiastically received by the audience. "Air of Salome" by Massenet was also liked by the audience.

The performance was again featured by the fine work in decorating the stage. It added a great deal to the success of the concert.

Miss Lois Edgerton, Miss Maud Powell, and Miss Vivienne Babb spent the week end at Miss Edgerton's home in Randolph.

SEND HARDING DISARMAMENT RESOLUTIONS

FACULTY AND STUDENT REPRESENTATIVES FAVOR IT

FAVOR DISARMAMENT POLICY

Resolutions Sent Thursday Were Signed by President Jardine and Presidents of S. S. G. A., Y. W. C. A., and Y. M. C. A.

Resolutions pledging the support of the faculty and the student body to the policy of reduction of armaments were signed by President Jardine and the presidents of the S. S. G. A., the Y. W. C. A., and the Y. M. C. A. and sent last Thursday to President Harding, members of the United States Disarmament conference delegation, and the Kansas senators and representatives. These resolutions which were intended to express the sentiments of persons connected with the college on the question of armaments, were similar to those passed by the majority of colleges throughout the United States. They read as follows:

Whereas, the people of the United States have been peaceful, seeking by uprightness and generosity to gain the good will of the world, and aiming, not conquest, but by thrift and industry, to advance our happiness and well-being, and

Whereas, the United States, while it has recognized the heroic services of its gallant soldiers and gloried in their sacrifices and achievements, has never glorified war for its own sake, and has never lost sight of the terrible ravages wrought by war upon civilization, robbing periodically in a few short years the stored up fruits of generations of progress, and

Whereas, the American people have oft times expressed the Christian hope that wars might be no more, and have furnished abundant evidence, through treaties, congresses, arbitrations, and the Hague conferences, of our willingness to cooperate freely with other nations in avoiding war and achieving permanent peace, and

Whereas, both great parties have heard the mandate of the people of this republic, and have promised to exert every effort in human power to further the cause of world peace by appropriate means, and

Whereas, President Harding has called a conference on Limitations of Armaments to convene in Washington on Armistice day, November 11, 1921, thus taking the first significant step in carrying out his promises to the American people,

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the students and faculty of the Kansas State Agricultural college:

1. That we hereby express our deep appreciation for the action of President Harding in calling this conference, and we especially thank him for his pledge that the proceedings of this conference shall be above suspicion or secrecy, and urging its deliberations be constantly open to public knowledge and public criticism.

2. That we urge organizations and churches to participate in an intensified campaign to the end that when this epoch-making conference which may control the destinies of the world for centuries to come meets in Washington that the whole nation shall be aflame with zeal for reduction of armaments and world peace.

3. That we pledge ourselves as individuals and representatives of organizations to support the policy of reduction of armaments by every means in our power, and

4. That since this conference has set about to consider a few of the problems of peace we will not relax our efforts to use the achievements of this conference as the foundation for a structure which will insure a permanent and lasting peace.

5. That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to President Harding and each of the American delegates to the conference.

Hon. Warren G. Harding, President of the United States, Washington, D. C.
Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Washington, D. C.
Senator Oscar W. Underwood, Washington, D. C.
Honorable Elihu Root, New York City.

We further recommend that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the senators representing this state and to the members of Congress representing this community.
Adopted by the students and faculty at the Kansas State Agricultural college.

W. M. Jardine, President of college.
Chas. C. McPherson, Student Self Governing association.
J. Wheeler Barger, President Y. M. C. A.
Ruth Peck, President Y. W. C. A.
Note—Original with signatures sent to President Harding.

HISTORY IN THE MAKING—UNNOTICED

There is now taking place in Washington the most momentous conference of recent years and before this same conference has been made by the secretary of state of the United States the most astounding proposal of the age. Students have the opportunity of getting first hand information which will be relayed to the historians of oncoming generations. With the usual irresponsibility of students, however, it is doubtful if one fourth of the students could name the American representatives to the disarmament conference. History is again in the making. Read the daily papers.

DOWN THE HILL AND BACK AGAIN—AD INFINITUM

Since the year 1863 when the Kansas State Agricultural college began its career there has been an ever increasing supply of thousands of tons of necessities which have been hauled by wagon or by truck from the railroad down town and up the long campus hill. Again is the transportation problem faced this year with the beginning of the large building program of the college. And still do we use the most expensive means of transportation available.

For years the state officials have considered the advisability of building a railroad spur up to the college, thus eliminating the thousands of dollars of extra expense in hauling all supplies from the depots down town. If there were a spur, the coal and oil used by the college could all be delivered with one transfer while now it takes one transfer and a long haul by truck.

It is almost incredible that a state which prides itself on being up-to-date should use for half a century transportation methods which a modern business corporation would not tolerate for five years. The state has paid for the spur many times and is paying for it again with the new building program now in progress.

FRIVOL PROVES A GAY AFFAIR

GYMNASIUM IS DECORATED TO REPRESENT CABARET

Red Devils, Hoo, Dangerous Blues, and Bubble Dancers Make Evening Interesting

The Frivol, Thursday evening, was a gorgeous affair. The gymnasium was decorated and furnished to represent a cabaret, and Red Devils scooted through the crowd selling balloons, chewing gum, and other things suitable to the occasion.

The first number on the program was a dance by 12 Red Devils. This was followed by an oriental dance, Hoo, by Renna Rosenthal and a chorus. The costumes, the burning incense, and the song they sang were all oriental in effect. The interpretative dance was charming and in "The Dangerous Blues," perhaps the most popular number on the program. The costumes were quite professional. Bubbles by Josephine Bussey and Ruth Kittell was as light and airy as the bubbles they represented. The finale with the entire cast was a colorful combination of dances. During intermission the crowd danced.

This elaborate program put on by the W. A. A. girls was for the benefit of women's athletics. The Frivol was directed by Anna Best, president of W. A. A. The business managers were Lillian Rommel, Alice Marston, and Grace Schwandt. The costumes were designed by Miss Mary Schell of the applied arts department.

Life of Belgian Baritone a Series of Varied Accidents

Louis Graveure, the eminent baritone who will sing here in the second number of the Artist's Series on November 28, is said to be by all odds the most versatile singer ever known to the concert stage. He is a jack of all trades and a master of at least one.

Graveure's career has been a series of accidents, both lucky and unlucky. He was born in Belgium but was taken to England when only a baby and received all of his early education there. He was given a thorough education and was preparing for his life work in sculpture when the first accident occurred—his voice changed. As he approached early manhood, his friends began to insist that this was more wonderful than any of his gifts and that he must drop all of his other ambitions to cultivate the art of singing.

Following this advice he went to France and Germany to study. On two occasions overstudy led to a near breakdown and he had to rest. Instead of loafing Graveure got himself hired on fishing smacks out of Plymouth and in summer, winter, in clear weather and foul he did his work like a true fisherman.

He was just about to make his splurge as a bass-baritone when he had an attack of diphtheria. After a long convalescence he found his voice completely gone. He could not sing and sculpture, architecture, and building he had already thrown overboard. So he sailed for foreign parts and eventually landed in South Africa.

In South Africa Graveure invested in an expedition to discover the sources of certain streams which wash down small diamonds in their river beds.

He lost all his money, then recovered enough to start home again and decided to come to Canada. It was on his way back that his voice slowly returned. He discovered that he could sing a note without hurting himself if he sang in a certain way, not the way he had been taught. His voice grew stronger. He worked out a system of health for himself. And when he felt certain he came to the United States and began his extraordinarily successful career.

LOVE CONCLUDES COLLEGE VISIT

WHILE HERE CORNELL DOCTOR DISCUSSES BIOMETRY

Noted Plant Breeder Helps Aggie Ex- periment Station Men with Problems

Dr. H. H. Love, professor of plant breeding at Cornell university spent last week at the college and gave a lecture each day on biometry or the application of statistical methods to experimental work. In these talks Doctor Love emphasized the need of accuracy and the use of sufficient numbers of plants, animals, or plats used in experimental work to make the results reliable and safe as a basis for recommendations to farmers. Special emphasis was laid on the use of the probable error in experimental work.

On Monday evening Doctor Love spoke to the members of the Kansas chapter of the Alpha Zeta fraternity and on Tuesday evening before the members of the Kiod and Kernel Klub on "Practical Plant Breeding or Crop Improvement Work at the Agricultural Experiment Station at Cornell University." On Wednesday evening he attended the meeting of the Agricultural association and gave a talk on the work of the agricultural students at Cornell and on the students' paper the "Cornell Countryman" published by the Cornell agricultural students.

Doctor Love left Saturday noon for Tennessee and will spend the week of November 14 in giving a series of lectures at the Iowa State college at Ames.

Doctor Love is one of the well known plant breeders of this country and has done work with the small grains which is of immense value to the farmers of New York state, and has published a number of papers of technical interest and scientific value. He is ranked as one of the three or four persons in this country best informed on the application of mathematics and statistical methods to biological experimentation and has made the study of biometry his specialty for a number of years.

While at K. S. A. C. Doctor Love was able through conferences with members of the different departments to be of direct service to members of the experiment station staff who had special problems to present in connection with the tabulation and analysis of experimental data.

Miss Jeannette Stitts, Miss Case, and Mr. William Martin were dinner guests at the Pi Phi house, Thursday evening.

O. H. BURNS LEAVES AGGIE FACULTY ROLL

TAKES POSITION WITH KANSAS CITY TRUST COMPANY

BURNS AT K. S. A. C. SINCE 1916

Was Aggie Debate Coach and "Big Brother" of Freshman Class—Has Increased Interest in Debate

Prof. O. H. Burns, who has been a member of the college faculty for the past three years, resigned last week and left Saturday for Kansas City to accept a position with the Great Northern Savings Trust company.

Professor Burns came to K. S. A. C. in the fall of 1918 as acting head of the public speaking department during the leave of Dr. J. G. Emerson. Upon Doctor Emerson's return the following year, he was made associate professor of English and coach of debate. He has taught classes in oral English, argumentation and debate, in addition to coaching the men's and women's debate teams.

Starting his college work by attending Pittsburg normal school for two years, Professor Burns won prominence as a pitcher on the varsity baseball team. He taught in the Caney high school the next year, then entered the University of Kansas from which he graduated in 1916. His success in debate at the university won for him the selection as debate coach upon graduation, which position he held for two years before coming to K. S. A. C.

Since coming here Professor Burns has greatly increased interest in debating, and has coached a large number of victorious teams. He instituted the extemporaneous system of debate last year, and its success attracted the attention of leading debate coaches in the midwest.

The offer made by the Great Northern Savings Trust company to Professor Burns was an unusual business opportunity both financially and because of his chance for advancement. He was made director of sales for the state of Missouri. According to the secretary of the company, the selection was made because of his being a good organizer, and having the ability to choose good men, make them enthusiastic over their work, and to secure their cooperation.

Dr. Howard T. Hill, head of the public speaking department, who coached debate at the University of Kansas when Professor Burns was a student, states, "Burns was one of the two best intercollegiate debaters I coached during my four years at the university."

Professor Burns is a member of the College club, Acacia, Delta Sigma Rho, honorary forensic fraternity, and was an associate member of Pi Kappa Delta forensic fraternity here, since the two latter organizations have an exchange relationship between them. He was appointed by President Jardine this fall as advisor or "big brother" to the freshman class.

The debate work will be temporarily in charge of Mr. C. W. Matthews of the department of English.

Captain Don R. Norris, coast artillery corps has reported for duty and will be an instructor with the K. S. A. C. cadet corps. He was formerly with the 44th heavy-artillery at Newark, N. J.

An alumni chapter has been organized in Barton county, to help promote the interests of K. S. A. C. The officers of the organization are: H. L. Poponoe, president; Harry Bird, vice president; Ward Miles, secretary; Charles Slentz, treasurer. The club hopes to have a large delegation here at homecoming day.

Mrs. S. A. (Daisy Day) McDowell, '25, and her little daughter, Alice, recently spent a few days at the home of Mrs. R. J. Barnett, Mrs. McDowell's sister. Mrs. McDowell is now living in Billings, Mont.

SOPHOMORES ARE HOCKEY CHAMPS

WINNERS DID NOT LOSE GAME
DURING ENTIRE TOURNAMENT

Junior Team Places Second—Freshmen Are Third and Seniors Fourth

The hockey season ended last week with the sophomore team the champions of the tournament. They did not lose a single game. The junior team was second with one game lost, and the freshman and seniors ranked third and fourth, respectively. The season this year has been unusually good. Many girls came out to the class practices and there was a wealth of material from which to choose the teams.

The weather was perfect until the last game, last Tuesday evening. The sophomores met the juniors on this occasion, and played under great difficulty as it was extremely cold. There were few casualties this season, and altogether everyone is pleased with the results of the games. Those chosen for varsity hockey will be announced at the hockey banquet.

AGGIES LOSE AMES GAME LAST FRIDAY

twice carried the oval almost to the Ames' goal line, but lacked the final punch to negotiate the last few yards for a touchdown in each case.

Neither Goal Threatened First Half
Neither goal was threatened in the first half. The Aggie line held firm when the Cyclones worked the ball into Aggie territory, and forward passing proved unproductive for both sides. All five of the aerial passes initiated by Young, of Ames, during the first half failed, while the Aggies completed two out of five. Every Ames pass during the game was hurled by Young, right halfback.

Aggies Near Touchdown in Third
The first Aggie bid for a score followed the kickoff after the Ames counter. Bryan returned it 17 yards, and Winter made a first and 10. Then on an off tackle play, Winter broke away for a 38 yard run to the Ames 14-yard line where he was tackled by Walters, the last man between the Aggie runner and the goal. Three Aggie passes failed and Bryan was forced to kick. After an exchange of punts, the Aggies took the ball on downs on their own 20-yard line and again punted.

In the fourth the Wildcats again threatened to register a touchdown. Young completed a 38-yard pass to Currie on the Aggie 25-yard line. Gaylord fumbled and Bryan passed to Winter for 36 yards. Bryan and Young exchanged punts. Swartz passed to Smith for eight, Walters was the only hurdle before the goal, but the Ames quarterback made a brilliant tackle and clipped Smith. Bryan made four, Butcher two, and then Currie put a crimp in the Aggie goal march by snagging a pass on the Ames 10-yard-line. Young punted, and Bryan passed to Smith for 12 and Swartz to Bryan for 13 yards at the end of the game.

"Shifty" Held Own Against Wallace

"Shifty" Cleland is said to have held his own valorously against the mighty "Polly" Wallace, and Winter, Nichols, and Smith are also credited with starring for the Aggies. The passing of Bryan received favorable comment. Wallace, Gaylord, and Morrison played a great game for the Cyclones.

Next Saturday will wind up the season for the Aggies, when they meet Benny Owen's Oklahoma Sooners in the biggest drawing card of the season scheduled for Ahearn field. The mighty Sooners eleven disappointed its followers by going down to defeat before the Missouri Tigers Saturday 14 to 24, after trouncing K. U. the week before.

CEREMONIES OF DEDICATION BEGIN TONIGHT

ENGINEERS' PARADE IS BEFORE PEP MEETING

DEDICATORY SERVICES IN MORNING

Allen and Hood Cannot Be Here—Otherwise Program as Previously Announced—Engineers' Banquet at 12:30

The Homecoming dedication program stage is set, the actors are chosen, their parts rehearsed, and all are waiting for the curtain to rise this evening on the big engineers' parade. The parade is scheduled to start this evening at 6:30 from the east gate of the campus and proceed downtown arriving there shortly after 7 o'clock.

The parade will be led by a group composed of representatives from each department of the division. They will be dressed in typical engineering costume. They will be followed by a section of coast artillery, then an all engineers' band and then the floats.

Floats To Be Unique

The floats that promise to be most interesting are those of the architects, mechanicals, and civils. The architects have centered their efforts upon beauty. All the members of their department will be dressed in special costumes and each will have a specific task to perform as the architects' section of the parade is to be locomoted entirely by human power.

The display of the civils represents the development of roads from the time when trails were made by prairie schooners down to the modern methods of surveying parties, construction gangs, and road testing apparatus. The big feature of the mechanicals is a display of the development of two wheel locomotion. They represent this by the use of a collection of velocipedes, bicycles, motorcycles, and airplanes.

Change Time Engineers' Banquet

The Saturday morning program will go forward as announced except that Governor Henry Allen and Professor Hood will not be here. The time of the dedication address has been changed to 10 o'clock, and the engineers' banquet will be held at 12:30 instead of in the evening as formerly planned.

The Revised Program

The revised program for Friday, November 18, is as follows: 6:30 engineers' parade, 8:15 pep meeting auditorium, 9 o'clock reception, gymnasium; 9:45 dancing, class reunions, and general mixer at the gymnasium. Saturday, November 19, 10 a. m. dedicatory address by Dean A. A. Potter, with President W. M. Jardine presiding, at the auditorium; 11 o'clock formal opening of the new engineering hall by Dean E. B. McCormick and Doctor J. D. Walters.

The all engineers' banquet, to be held at the barracks mess hall at 12:30, is given by the engineering students in honor of the visiting alumni. Tickets for the affair may be secured at the office of Dean R. A. Seaton and Prof. L. E. Conrad. Tickets may be also secured from members of the student committee of which P. J. Phillips is chairman.

Governor Allen has been detained in Washington and wired his regrets at not being able to attend. Professor Hood was prevented coming by the serious illness of his mother, who is suffering from an attack of pneumonia.

Walters To Open Engineering Doors

The dedication program is to be held in front of the new engineering hall, the speakers will use the main entrance steps as a platform from which to deliver their addresses. After this service which is scheduled to take about 15 minutes, Dr. J. D. Walters who has been a member of the engineering faculty for 45 years will formally unlock the doors and open the building to the public.

All departments of the division of engineering have arranged attractive displays which include specimens of their work and novelties. In many ways this feature will resemble last year's open house except that last year's plans have been perfected.

Hamilton Society Initiates

The Hamilton literary society held initiation services at its regular meeting Saturday evening for the following new members: B. W. Wright, Claude R. Butcher, Austin F. Heywood, Elbridge Symms, John Post, Charles O. Dicks, Lawrence H. Stricklin, and Luther Circle.

Report on Alpha Zeta Conclave

Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity, held its monthly cafeteria dinner at the Pines last Monday evening. Bert B. Bayles, the president reported on the national conclave held in Minneapolis, Minn., the second week in October. He attended the conclave as delegate from the Kansas chapter. Prof. John H. Parker also gave a short report. Professor Parker has been high scribe of the grand council for the past nine years.

AGGIE POP NIGHT STUNTERS DRILL

PEOPLE PRESENTING NUMBERS DECEMBER 2 PRACTICE HARD

Vorin Whan Has Job of Dealing Out Rehearsal Hours—May Have Five Judges

Members of the seven organizations which will present stunts on Aggie Pop night, December 2, are learning the price of fame. Success in the presentation of a Pop night stunt means long, conscientious drill on staging and action, and the people in the casts of the different stunts are spending time formerly devoted to loafing in perfecting their parts.

Vorin Whan is acting as manager for the big event and all the organizations which placed in the tryouts should get their appointments for practices from Mr. Whan as soon as possible. Polly Hedges has charge of the ticket sales. This year the sales will be made through the various organizations on the hill.

This year there will be three out-of-town judges and probably two local judges. Always before there have been only the three judges but on account of many suggestions to that effect, there will probably be two extra judges for the winners to convince before the cup is their own. This will make very little difference, however, as the judging is done as in debates. No judge knows the verdict of the others for sealed decisions are given in.

At a meeting held the first of this week it was decided that the stunts to be given Aggie Pop night should be presented but once, the evening of December 2.

ENGINEER COMES OUT SATURDAY

PRINT 1,250 ISSUES OF DEDICATION NUMBER MAGAZINE

Norden Is Editor, Manry Business Manager—Print Biographies Engineering Deans

The dedication number of the Kansas State Engineer is to be one of the college publications that will greet the visitors on Homecoming day. This is the second issue of the magazine this year, the first having been published October 15.

The cover page of the Engineer is to be a photographic reproduction of the new engineering building and a group picture of all students of the engineering division. The circulation of the magazine has been increased from 800, the number of the last issue printed, to 1,250.

The subscribers to the magazine are the students in the engineering department; all first class high schools of the state; county, state, and alumni engineers; and an exchange list of college and technical publications.

This issue of the Kansas State Engineer is to contain biographies of the present dean of the department and of the two former deans who are to be present at the dedication ceremonies of the new engineering building. Ten feature articles, telling of the growth of the engineering department and its future aims, are to form the feature department of the publication. The other departments including alumni notes, campus notes, editorials, and engineering reviews are of sufficient strength to have caused the editors to enlarge the magazine from a 26 page publication to a 32 page issue.

The staff members are as follows: Frank Nordeen, editor; J. Silver Fuller, associate editor; Walter Rogers, alumni editor; Thornton J. Manry, business manager; J. J. Seright, circulation manager; Lawrence Whearty, treasurer; and Dean R. A. Seaton, advisory editor.

The departmental and organization editors are as follows: Walter Rolfe, architects; K. O. Houser, electrical engineering; Amos Payne, American Association Engineers; K. O. Houser, American Institute of Electrical Engineers; A. C. DePuy, mechanical engineering; and N. D. Lund, civil engineering.

The Kansas State Engineer is issued four times during the school year. The subscription price is $1.00 per year.

HOCKEY BANQUET TO BE HELD IN GYM TUESDAY

All Girls Interested in Game May Attend

The hockey banquet will be held in the girls' gym next Tuesday evening. All the girls who are interested in hockey may come, whether they were on a hockey team or not. All those who intend to be present must pay in advance. Posters will announce the details.

This hockey banquet is an annual affair, which all the hockey girls attend. They suit up, and play games in the gym, where they have their spread. At this spread, the varsity hockey team is announced.

BROWN BULL IS OUT SATURDAY

FIFTH ISSUE TO GO ON SALE AT OKLAHOMA-AGGIE GAME

Unusually Large Number of Contributors to This Issue—Price 25 Cents

The fifth issue of the Brown Bull, college magazine of wit and humor, will make its appearance Saturday. More than 2,000 copies have been printed and will be sold to the old grads as well as students and faculty members.

The Brown Bull will be sold on the campus and at the football game at 25 cents a copy, by the members of Sigma Delta Chi and Theta Sigma Phi, professional journalistic fraternities, by whom it is issued. The first two issues of the publication were put out by the men of the former organization, but the women journalists have cooperated in issuing the magazine since that time.

More contributors are furnishing material for this issue than for any one previous. Several of last year's graduates have sent in copy, a few members of the faculty have contributed, as well as most of the students in journalism and a few in other divisions. A feature of the magazine will be the large number of cartoons, drawings, and illustrations. The Aggie Primer, which has been so greatly appreciated by readers of the magazine, will again appear. Something which will perhaps surpass it in interest in this issue is the story of the "Flapper Who Flops."

The staff of the Brown Bull consists of R. L. Palmer, editor; Edith Abbott, assistant editor; Homer G. Bryson, business manager; and Lulu May Zeller, assistant business manager.

Prof. and Mrs. C. W. Colver were dinner guests at the Delta Zeta house Monday evening.

In order that all students may attend the exercises on Saturday, classes will be held only the first two hours. The periods will probably be 50 minutes in length.

OLD GRADS TO SEE BRILLIANT GRID CONTEST

INTENSE RIVALRY PREVAILS BETWEEN AGGIES AND SOONERS

GRAND OL' DOPE IS SCRAMBLED

Previous Record of Both Wildcats and Owen Men Is Confusing to Prophets of Game—Aggies Outweighed

It should be a whale of a gridiron battle.

According to that much quoted, yet most unreliable of prophets, Old Dope, you can figure this Aggie-Oklahoma football classic that comes off on Ahearn field Saturday, almost any way you have a mind to. For instance, K. U. won over us 21 to 7. Along comes Oklahoma and slaps K. U.'s ears down with a 24 to 7 defeat. That gives the Sooners a four touchdown margin over us, doesn't it? But hold on—the Aggies beat Missouri 7 to 5, and that same Missouri gang walloped the Oklahoma eleven 24 to 14 Saturday. Washington crossed Oklahoma's outposts twice; they failed to cross the Aggie goal line. According to that we ought to hand those chesty Sooners a sound drubbing.

The Old Grads May Marvel

Which aforesaid dope only presages that when the final act in the Ahearn-Bachman 1921 football drama is presented out there to some 4,000 spectators tomorrow, previous scores, dope, and other comparisons will mean—nothing. The Aggies want this game, badly; they are keyed up to win. The Sooners feel that they must have this final game. The spirit of intense rivalry between the elevens should result in some scintillating football that will send the old grads home marvelling at the unflagging fight and uncanny skill of the present day footballers.

That the gridders from Soonerland will receive an interesting reception is predicted by those who have watched the Bachman gang in scrimmage this week. Tuesday the regulars went through Coach Curtiss' wards for five touchdowns in some 35 minutes.

Sooners Are Experienced

The Sooners have not forgotten that gruelling battle last year when the Aggies held the valley champions to a 7 to 7 tie, and with a little luck would have beaten them. Benny Owen's heavyweights have lost two games this season, one to Nebraska, and the other to Missouri. But four All-Valley selections, "Tarzan" Marsh, and Harry "Dutch" Hill, half-back, "Sol" Swatek, fullback, and McKinley, guard, are wearing Sooner uniforms again this year. Captain Haskell, Hamm, and Johnson were honorable mention men, and "Ram" Morrison, Cullen, and Edmondson are veterans. "Yeine" Hendricks, Sooner pilot, like Swartz of the Aggies, is playing his first year of valley football.

In the backfield combination, Morrison, Swatek, and Hill, the Sooners boast a powerful line-smashing trio that is hard to stop. Swatek, playing at half, was the particular star against Missouri, his long gains through the Tiger line almost giving the Missourians apoplexy time after time. Hill, speedy right half, is a brilliant open field runner, making a 70 yard run in the Missouri contest. The Sooner line is inclined to beefiness, averaging 190 pounds from end to end. Coach Owen has two giant tackles in Bowles and Edmondson, the former tipping the beam at 205 and the latter at 206 pounds.

Aggie Backfield Outweighed

So much for the Sooners. The backfield Bachman will use is problematical as yet. Burr Smith is limping from the Ames game and Winter will likely go into action in his old berth at the left flank, "Ding" Burton, exponent of sensational aerial football, at right half, will demonstrate to the alumni the possibilities of the overhead game. Stark still feels the effects of an infected arm and although the plunging halfback has been getting into scrimmage with disastrous results to the yearling eleven, it may be deemed inadvisable to expose his arm in battering the heavy Sooner line. In that case "Rocky" Bryan will work at left half and do the punting for the Aggies. With Swartz, Burton, and Sears, the Aggie backfield will average 13 pounds lighter than the Oklahoma backs. Butcher has been running at fullback at scrimmage with demoralizing effect on the first year line. The stocky, sorrel-topped lad played a slashing game against Ames in the last half, and it is not entirely improbable that he will start at the plunging station tomorrow.

The Aggie line with Winter and Sebring, ends, Nichols and Schmitz, tackles, Hahn and Schindler, guards, and "Shifty" Cleland at the pivot, will average 173 pounds, or 17 pounds below the average of the Oklahoma forward wall. But with Winter, Sebring, Burton, and Swartz the Aggies will have the old passing combination that humbled Missouri and Washington.

The Oklahoma squad will arrive some time Friday. Indications are that the capacity of Ahearn field will be taxed to the limit in accommodating the record crowd that is confidently expected. The alumni will occupy the seats inside the fence next to the sidelines, and alumni reservations may be secured from Cliff Stratton, alumni secretary. To avoid congestion at the gate and in the street outside, special arrangements have been made to park part of the motor cars just west of the home economics building and north of the athletic field. The game starts at 2:30.

ALUMNI SEATS ALMOST GONE

OF 400 RESERVED ALL BUT 40 HAVE BEEN SPOKEN FOR

Hold Class Reunions Friday Evening in Literary Society Halls

Of the 400 side line seats reserved for the alumni only 40 are left, according to Cliff Stratton, alumni secretary. Alumni are expected back from all parts of the country. J. W. Westgate, '97, from Washington, D. C., and Major S. M. Adams, '98, of Chicago, and other alumni from Oklahoma and Missouri have written that they are coming.

The reunions of the different classes will be held Friday evening in the rooms of the literary societies, and are as follows:

- 1867-1890 reunions in the Alpha Beta hall.
- 1891-1900 reunion in the Brown hall.
- 1901-1910 reunion in the Hamp-hall.
- 1911-1916 reunion in the Web-Euro hall.
- 1917-1921 reunion in the Franklin hall.

GIRL BEBATES WORKING HARD

TWENTY ARE ON SQUAD TRYING FOR PLACES ON TEAMS

Debate Unicameral System of Kansas Legislature with Emporia January 13

Twenty Aggie girls are working hard on the debate squad, each trying to make one of the teams which will meet the girls of Emporia normal January 13 in the annual dual contest.

The question which will be discussed is, "Resolved: that Kansas should adopt a unicameral form of legislature." A form of this question is being used in several college debates this year.

Girls working on the squad are Lois Clark, Penelope Burtis, Mrs. Lasswell, Queenie Hart, Anna Best, Collette Mayden, Georgia Newcombe, Ethel Johnson, Madeline Avery, Florence Johnson, Bertha Summers, Oaccola Burr, Bernice Fleming, Lola Gudge, Mary Ellen Collins, Florence Stebbins, Marjorie Collins, Margaret Gillette, Myrtle Timbrel, and Opal Seebor.

MYSTERY HAS LEADING ROLE IN NEXT PLAY

PURPLE MASQUE TO PRESENT POPULAR COMEDY SOON

HOLCOMBE NAMES CHARACTERS

Clarence, Leading Character, Practices in Secret—Booth Tarkington Production Ran Year and Half in New York

We have a mystery with us. Seldom is our peaceful college life disturbed by anything so unconventional and obsolete as mystery, but it is here once again. Mystery is the keynote in the announcement of the cast of "Clarence," the four act comedy by Booth Tarkington which is to be given soon.

It was here that "mystery" voluntarily accepted the leading part in "Clarence." In response to a Collegian reporter's request Mr. Ray E. Holcombe, dramatic coach, announced the cast of the play. He spoke so rapidly that the reporter's pencil was fast exceeding the speed limit for pen pushers when Mr. Holcombe said "Now the leading character, Clarence, is—and it was then the reporter's pencil took a spill, as he deliberately replied, "Just leave that a blank, that's a secret."

Character Has Been Chosen

Mr. Holcombe upon further inquiry admitted that the character had been chosen. He does not practice with the cast, however, so if anyone wants to find out who Clarence is the best way is to use his imagination. Peeking in the windows during practise hour won't reveal him.

Clarence Is Mysterious Hero

The character of Clarence in the play is mysterious because he is mistaken and in many cases misrepresented. He is easy going, of medium complexion, tall, good looking, slightly stooped, and in all a charming young man. He has a light musical talent and is seen playing the saxophone, and he has that romantic quality that makes him attractive to the weaker sex. Who at K. S. A. C. is Clarence? That's the Chinese puzzle which everyone is attempting to solve.

The play "Clarence" had a professional run of one and a half years in New York and Chicago and it has only recently been released. The Purple Masque fraternity is one of the first amateur dramatic organizations in the country to present the play. The date has not been definitely set but will be announced later.

The Cast Members

The cast is as follows: Mrs. Martyn, Claramary Smith; Mr. Wheeler, Maurice Laine; Mrs. Wheeler, Margaret Ansdel; Bobby, James Albright; Cora, Louise Mowry; Violet Pinney, Renna Rosenthal; Della, Queenie Hart; Mr. Norman, Hubert Fleming; Dinwiddle, Vorin Whan; Mr. Stem, Eugene Huff, and Clarence, ?????

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS INSTALLED WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Class Passes Royal Purple Assessment of Three Dollars

The freshman class meeting was held Wednesday, November 16, and officers were installed. Kenneth Chappell was elected chairman of the social committee which is to consist of five members. A committee for choosing the class song, colors, and flower, was appointed.

A Royal Purple assessment of $3 was passed. Freshman pictures are to be taken at the earliest possible date.

Engineers Distribute Flour in Parade

Tomorrow in the engineers' parade, the department of milling industry will distribute 1,000 small sacks of Aggie's Best Flour to the spectators. Each sack will contain a coupon which, with $1.75, will purchase a 48 pound sack of flour at the college mill.

A. E. Langworthy, feed inspector, made a trip to Junction City last week.

WELCOME HOME—HOMECOMERS

Welcome, Homecomers!
Seems like old times, doesn't it?
Of course, there are some new buildings on the campus, and new faces in the class rooms and offices, but so many of the old gang are back that it's a real homecoming this time.
This homecoming is a foretaste of the homecomings that are in store for future grads, for K. S. A. C. is assuming more and more the customs and institutions of a real alma mater. Her sons and daughters have reason each year to be prouder than they were the year before, that they are graduates of this school.
Take a turn around the campus while you are here and note the improvements that have been completed or are in the process of completion. Watch closely the new Aggie fighting spirit that is manifested by the rooters at the game Saturday afternoon. It will be a revelation to you.
After you have had time to appraise the new spirit of the school and catch its true significance its a sure three to one shot that you'll resolve to answer "Yes!" when the 1922 Homecoming roll is called.

BEHIND THEIR BACKS

He is the yokel. When he was three years old his papa and mama took him to Sam Early's photo shop across the street from the postoffice and had a picture taken of him in the nude, grasping his left foot firmly by the big toe, and looking west by north west with an expression like an apoplectic calf. That picture is now a priceless possession. It has created the only family diversion since it was taken. Every evening when mama had finished the dishes, papa had separated the milk, and the yokel had turned out the cows the delightful family would gather about the picture and laugh until bed time. Mama has never any trouble entertaining friends. All she has to do is to give them the yokel's baby picture and they will amuse themselves until time to go home.

After the yokel had existed for 20 years his papa made him go to college because Ep Dugan's boy came. College professors, their methods, and their assignments still bewilder him, and he walks about in a half daze. Now and then he is able to grasp some statement or fact, but as a rule he is hopelessly muddled.

His personal appearance is his distinguishing characteristic. Conventions mean nothing. In that respect he is a pupil of the new school of thought. Whenever his locks get so long that they impede his movements in putting on his collar, he has them shorn. These periods vary between 10 weeks and three months.

The pastoral, the bucolic influence is shown in his garb. His whole suit has a very evident fit, and shows a commendable desire for economy in material on the part of the buyer. On the contrary, in buying his collars the yokel has been, perhaps, a little too extravagant; or his choice has been caused by a lack of information. He should wear a No. 13½ collar, but he evidently does not realize that collars are made in smaller sizes than 16's.

When college becomes too much for him the yokel will go home, marry his female counterpart, and educate the little yokels on the picture his papa and mama had made of him when they took him to Sam Early's photo shop across the street from the post office, and had him pose in the nude, grasping his left foot by the big toe, and looking west north west with an expression like an apoplectic calf.

Rolland Waters, who is teaching in Lovewell, spent the weekend with friends in Manhattan.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Riddlebarger were dinner guests at the Delta Zeta house Sunday.

Miss Nina B. Criggler of the home demonstration department, spoke before a meeting of the women of Nemaha county at Seneca this week. Her subject was, "How the Farm Woman Can Function in the Farm Bureau Organization."

HOLD MEETING TO FORMULATE PLANS WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

Girls Will Attend Pep Meeting and Football Game in Body

A meeting of the Girls' Loyalty league was held in recreation center at 5 o'clock Wednesday evening and definite plans were made for the coming year, and more explicit plans were formulated for the pep meeting Friday evening and for the Homecoming game Saturday.

The girls will meet in the girls' gymnasium at 7 o'clock this evening and go to the pep meeting in a body. Ruth Kittell has been named as chairman of the committee to present a stunt the night of the pep meeting. Saturday afternoon the girls are to meet at 2 o'clock at the gymnasium, and all the girls will go together to the game and sit in the section reserved for them there. All girls are asked to wear the college color. A stunt, the nature of which is a secret will be put on at the game by the Girls' Loyalty league.

The Girls' Loyalty league was organized two years ago and the purpose of it was to further better spirit and increase the pep and loyalty among the girls. At the meeting Wednesday a definite constitution was adopted embodying these principles.

The chairmen and committees for the year are as follows: social committee: chairman, Betty McColin, members, Carol Knostman, Osceola Burr, Florence Barnhisel, and Frances Batdorf; publicity committee: chairman, Clara Evans, members, Myrtle Dubbs, Alice Marston, and Lulu May Zeiler; membership: chairman, Alice DeWitt, members, Esther McStay, Frances Johnstone, and Alma Hollowell; finance: chairman, Lillian Rommel, members, Gretchen Ruh, Julia Caton, and Alice Paddelford.

The dates for freshman spread will be given out this week and it is urged that all juniors and seniors see their dates early and make final plans for the evening of December 3.

Hamp-Lo Joint Meeting

The Hamilton and Ionian literary societies will hold a joint meeting at 7:30 o'clock the evening of Homecoming day. All alumni members are invited. After the regular program refreshments will be served.

In preparation for the International Stock show to be held at Chicago November 26, the stock judging team of the Texas A. and M. college has been at the college here judging the different classes of livestock of the animal husbandry department.

Miss Arria Neal of Clay Center, will spend the week end at the Chi Omega house.

Miss Nina B. Criggler, home demonstration agent, gave a talk before the women of the Shawnee county farm bureau Thursday on the subject "Possibilities of Home Demonstration Work in the Community."

Dr. J. W. Fields, '03, of McPherson, writes that he expects to come to K. S. A. C. on Homecoming day with a party of 65 representing McPherson college and McPherson high school. The football teams of both institutions will be included in the group which expects to come by automobile if the weather is good.

MEMBERS OF STOCK JUDGING SQUAD ON TWO WEEKS' TRIP

Spend Time Prior to International Ranking Stock

The stock judging squad left Monday morning on a two weeks' trip prior to the International Livestock show at Chicago, held November 26 to December 3. The members of the squad, A. D. Weber, J. J. ## MAKE CHANGES IN JUDGING ORATORY

GENERAL EFFECTIVENESS TO BE BASIS THIS YEAR

Date of Inter-Society Contest Is February 25—Harold Howe in Charge

Beginning with this year, several important changes governing the judging of oratorical contests will be in effect. These changes which were made last spring are the outcome of suggestions offered by those prominent in debate and oratory at K. S. A. C.

During the last few years it has become very evident that a different arrangement should be made concerning the judging of points in oratory. Last year, the literary societies decided that each orator should be judged on the general effectiveness of his oration, taking into consideration thought, composition, and delivery.

In considering thought, the oration will, in the future, be judged solely on the merits of the treatment, without regard to its subject except as to its suitability for orator. In the delivery, the judges will consider bearing, platform behavior, gestures, modulations, inflection, rate, smoothness, and articulation.

The date of the annual inter-society oratorical contest has been set for Saturday, February 25, 1922. It will be recalled that Miss Maude Lahr, of the Ionia literary society, won first place in the contest last year. Harold Howe, chairman of oratory, is in charge of the contest this year and the indications are that rivalry for first honors will be keen.

NASON CUP ON DISPLAY AT CO-OP

SALES CAMPAIGN FOR ROYAL PURPLE DECEMBER 1-10

Cover of Book Brown with Gold Lettering—Cover Features Engineering Hall

The Nason loving cup offered by the Royal Purple staff to the organization selling the most Royal Purples during the contest to be held early in December is on display at the Cooperative book store in Aggieville.

The Royal Purple sales campaign will start December 1 and close December 10. Every organization is asked to enter the contest for the loving cup. Besides organizations selling the book, individuals may sell and prizes will be awarded to the three best salesmen. For every organization or individual selling 25 books one book will be given as a reward.

The cover of the Royal Purple is being designed by the Union Bank Note company of Kansas City, printers of the book. The embossing on the cover will be of the Engineering hall. The staff is planning to have a sample cover on display during the sales campaign. The cover will be in brown with gold lettering.

The opening pages, views, and popularity section will be printed on soft brown paper in sepia ink and the division pages will be of heavy deep brown paper with gold border and lettering with the art work in four color process tipin. Neal Bruce, art editor, is designing the division pages.

PICK 38 GIRLS FOR GLEE CLUB

THIRTY TRIED OUT FOR PLACES IN MUSICAL ORGANIZATION

Prof. William Lindquist Will Direct Club—Will Not Put on Operetta This Year

That interest in musical activities is steadily growing at K. S. A. C. was proved last week when 80 girls responded to the call for glee club tryouts.

"So many good voices tried out that it was almost impossible to narrow it down to the required number," Prof. William Lindquist said, "so we really have a girl's chorus this year instead of a glee club." Thirty-eight girls have been selected for the glee club.

"We will not give an operetta this year," said Professor Lindquist, "but by next fall we should be able to give an opera that has some real singing in it. The work this year is not intended as a means of getting an extra credit, but will be so planned that it will be of real benefit. If it is at all possible," Professor Lindquist stated, "we will take up music by some of the old masters, studying compositions that are sung by only two or three choirs in America."

Professor Lindquist is to be the director of the glee club. His wide experience, splendid voice, and dramatic ability make him particularly well fitted for this kind of work. The personnel of the club is as follows:

First sopranos: Ramona Abrams, Agnes Ayers, Josephine Boggs, Georgianna Bush, Fern Case, Georgia May Daniels, Clara Howard, Laurene Kuns, Roxie Meyer, Bernice Myers, Ruth Rathbone, Ruth Scott, Geraldine Shane, Leola Wallace.

Second sopranos: Eunice Anderson, Evelyn Fairbanks, Helen Howell, Elsie Knox, Avis Miller, Lucille Newby, Ruth Pasley, Orpha Russell, Marie Willis.

First altos: Anna Emms, Beluah Hendrickson, Eunice Hobson, Margorie Hubner, Ernestine Pinkerton, Mary Russell, Gretchen Volland.

Second altos: Marguerite Brooks, Jessie Burgwin, Margaret Corby, Ruth Floyd, Clara Higdon, Maude Laehr, Luella Sherman, Arrila Wadsworth.

INDOOR RIFLE PRACTICE IS ON

SCHEDULE FOR SHOOTING IS ANNOUNCED BY MAJOR TERRILL

Pick 25 Highest Candidates for Squad—Aggies Corps Area Champs Last Year

K. S. A. C. can boast of another championship indoor rifle squad if R. O. T. C. students will report for practice and give B. E. Colburn, present team captain, and staff sergeant Cumiskey, non-commissioned officer in charge of the indoor range, sufficient material from which to select a team. Hours for practice have been arranged, and the officers in charge are ready to give instruction during those hours.

Last year the rifle team from K. S. A. C. won the corps area championship in the indoor gallery matches, from such schools as Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska and other schools in the seventh corps area. The silver cup is on exhibition in the cup case in Nichols gymnasium and it will be there for another year if K. S. A. C. wins the match again this year.

Major Terrill has issued the following notice to all military science students:

"From this date until November 24, 1921, any student of the military department who desires to try out for the indoor rifle team squad may fire on the indoor range by reporting to the non-commissioned officer in charge of the range during the following hours: Monday, 4 p. m. to 6 p. m. and 6:30 to 8 p. m.; Tuesday, 2 p. m. to 5:30 p. m.; Wednesday, 2 p. m. to 5:30 p. m.; Thursday, 4:30 p. m. to 8 p. m.; Friday, 2 p. m. to 5:30 p. m.

"During this time candidates will fire at least three complete scores. As many more may be fired as desired, consistent with the use of the range by other candidates. From these scores made by candidates the three high scores of each candidate will be averaged. The 25 high men so determined will be designated as the indoor rifle squad.

"After November 30, the use of the indoor range will be restricted to members of the indoor rifle squad. "Teams to represent the college in intercollegiate matches will from time to time be selected from the indoor rifle squad."

Homecoming Day Is Brown Bull Day Too for Aggie Students

Homecoming day is to be a grand and glorious occasion in more ways than one. Besides being the day set for the reunion of the old grads, the day for the Oklahoma game, and the time for this and that, generally, the day will stand out from the ordinary days for another reason. It's to be Brown Bull day.

More than 2,000 Brown Bulls are to be turned loose on Ahearn field and about the campus. What will be the result can only be guessed, but considerable commotion in the region of the diaphragm is predicted.

The Bull, you know, is the college humor magazine and the Wampus Cat number, which is to be sold November 19, is full of new and side splitting features. There is to be a page for men, an Aggie primer, a tale about the Flapper Who Flopped, all the dope on the Wampus Cats, oodles of cartoons, and fodder galore for your laughing machine.

The list of contributors this time exceeds that of any previous issue. The magazine is an all college sheet and accepts contributions from any student or professor in school. Not being limited to any single group, the Brown Bull prevents any of the native wit of the K. S. A. C. from going to waste. If the Bull is not funny, students and profs of K. S. A. C. are not funny. If you doubt this, look at them.

Prof. J. E. Kammeyer addressed the dentists of the Golden Belt Dental association of western Kansas at a banquet Monday evening. The association was in session in Manhattan this week.

Miss Gertrude Ramsey, who is teaching at Enterprise, spent the week end at the Delta Zeta house.

Dinner guests at the Kappa Phi Alpha house Sunday were Mrs. G. H. Long and Mrs. Martha Long of Kansas City, Kan., Miss Martha Boggs, and Mr. Kenneth Muse.

Earl Darby, who attended K. S. A. C. last year, visited in Manhattan last week. He is teaching manual training in Toronto this year.

CALL ELEVATED TO HIGH OFFICE

PRESIDENT NATIONAL SOCIETY OF AGRONOMY

Is Prominent for Work in Experimental Agronomy—Well Known as Teacher

The American Society of Agronomy at its annual meeting at New Orleans, La., elected Prof. L. E. Call, as president, thus honoring him and again proving that the Kansas college has on its staff a number of the leading agriculturalists of the country.

Professor Call, head of the agronomy department of the Kansas State Agricultural college, is a graduate of the Ohio State university and came to Manhattan in 1907 as instructor in soils. He became assistant professor in 1908, was promoted to the rank of associate professor in 1911, and in 1913 was made professor and head of the department of agronomy.

Professor Call is well known as a teacher of agronomy and has taken a prominent part in the work of the Society of Agronomy for a number of years. He is perhaps best known among experimental agronomists for his work on seed-bed preparation for winter wheat. The experiments now in progress at the agronomy farm were started about 10 years ago and have been conducted without interruption since that time. The results of these experiments, proving as they do the great value of early preparation for wheat, have been of immense value to the Kansas wheat growers and of distinct interest to agronomists.

Miss Helen B. Elcock of the department of English, was re-elected as secretary of the round table of English at the recent meeting of the state teachers association held at Topeka.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bebb will leave next week for Pittsburgh, Pa., where Mr. Bebb has a position with the Westinghouse Electric company. Mr. Bebb graduated last June from the Electrical engineering course. Mrs. Bebb (Nellie Yantis) graduated in '19 and has been teaching in the public schools in Holton the past two years.

PURPLE MASQUE PRESENTS SERIES

"Noble Lord," "Where But in America," and "Overtones" To Be Given Tonight—Second Series in Preparation

The first series of one act plays which the Purple Masque dramatic fraternity will give this year, will be presented this evening in the auditorium at 7 o'clock. No admission will be charged to these three productions which are directed by students under the supervision of Prof. Ray Holcombe of the public speaking department. The program will consist of three plays, "Noble Lord," "Where But in America," and "Overtones." The college orchestra will furnish special music.

"Noble Lord," a humorous, quiet, satirical farce, by Percival Wilde has been directed by "Shorty" Whan. The cast consists of Scott Pfeutze who plays the role of a "typical Englishman," Lord Brookfield; and Bethyl Barrett, the girl in the case.

"Where But in America" is a comedy by Oscar Wolf, dealing with the servant problem. The cast which is composed of Beulah Helstrom, E. O. Stevens, and Helen Larson, is being directed by Renna Rosenthal.

"Overtones" is the third play which will be given. Its author, Alice Gerstenberg, has cleverly depicted two sides of woman's nature—the elemental and the superficial. The four characters will be represented by Myrl Barnhiel, Ione Aspey, Vivian Hall, and Ruth Stewart. Claramary Smith has directed the production.

The second series of one act plays will consist of "Happiness" by J. Hartley Manners, "The Bracelet" by Alfred Sutro, and "The Dear Departed," by Stanhope Houghton. Five other similar programs will be given by Purple Masque this year.

DANIELS SPEAKS AT AGGIE CHAPEL

SHOWS ALLEGIANCE TO CAUSES OF WORLD PEACE

Ex-Secretary of Navy Points Out Growing Spirit of Internationalism

"Tokio is nearer Manhattan than Washington was to Jefferson on the day of his election," said Josephus Daniels, former secretary of the navy, in illustrating the modern international spirit of all countries in his talk in chapel last Friday.

He greeted the audience as "shipmates," stating that in the navy the term was used almost as one of endearment. He praised the K. S. A. C. "Jay Rah," and said: "I always love to talk to the young people. Whenever I get too old to appreciate college yells and to feel as young as my youngest boy I will resign from this world."

The ex-secretary of the navy mentioned with satisfaction the growing spirit of internationalism among all nations. "Men who live in this generation are thinking about China as well as Kansas," he said.

"Some say that the Versailles treaty has failed, but its spirit broods over the world," he said in speaking of the pessimistic accounts of that treaty, and of present world affairs in general.

Such expressions as the following showed Daniels' whole hearted allegiance to causes of disarmament and world peace.

"When I speak of a naval reduction I do not mean a vacation. Mr. President, if we could save human lives I would to God that the spirit of sacrifice might dominate the world. There must be some tribunal where reason shall dominate the world. I believe that William Allen White is right when he says that the hope of the world is in coming to something like a league of nations. World chaos will not end until the United States takes its place in wise leadership and obligation."

Publish "Extension Workers Code" "The Extension Worker's Code," is the name of a pocket bulletin which will be issued soon by T. J. Talbert of the extension division. The pamphlet sets forth pertinent facts about extension work. A few copies of these suggestions were distributed throughout the state a short time ago, and since, requests for copies have come in from all over the country. It is to satisfy this demand that the work is being revised and published in pamphlet form.

GRADS TAKE IN FACULTY RECITAL

LARGEST CROWD OF SEASON AT CONCERT SUNDAY

Ira Pratt and Trio, Wheeler, Miss Hannen and Miss Smith, Give Program

Many old grads and former students enjoyed the faculty concert at the auditorium Sunday. The recital was one of the most pleasing and best received recitals of the series.

The largest crowd of the season turned out and they were amply rewarded for their interest.

The program was presented by Prof. Ira Pratt, head of the department, and a trio composed of Helen M. Hannen, violinist, Harold P. Wheeler, flutist, and Elsie H. Smith, pianist. Mr. Pratt was accompanied by Miss Helen Colburn.

The wide variety of his numbers was the feature of Professor Pratt's program. The program was exceptionally well chosen and Professor Pratt has the ability to sing any type of song. His rendering of "Vittoria mia core" by Carissimi was superb and "Snow" by Lie and Carpenter's "Don't Care" were also especially good.

The trio was a special feature of the program and their playing was delightful. The members of the audience enjoyed the program and showed their appreciation in no uncertain manner. "Box of Toys" by De Bussey and Mozart's "Minuetto" were most enthusiastically applauded.

NEW BUILDING LANDMARK OF ENGINEERING

POTTER AND MCCORMICK BACK FOR DEDICATION

ENGINEERS HOLD OPEN HOUSE

Potter Speaker at Auditorium—McCormick, Seaton, and Walters Conduct Ceremonies Before Engineering Hall

The dedication of the new engineering hall was pronounced the greatest landmark in the history of the division by Dean A. A. Potter speaking at the exercises in the college auditorium Saturday morning. Dean Potter, formerly head of the K. S. A. C. engineers and now dean of the Purdue engineering division reviewed the K. S. A. C. engineers' rapid ascent to popular recognition.

At the exercises held in the auditorium, Dean Potter spoke on "The Function of Land Grant Colleges," advocating many new ideas in engineering education, among them the teaching of freshmen and sophomores by highly trained faculty and giving the first year students an opportunity to study engineering problems under this expert supervision.

"These must be real problems," asserted Dean Potter, "preferably those having to do with community welfare, and must give the student an opportunity to use the analytical powers which are a distinguishing characteristic of the engineering student."

"The engineer is a director of men. He deals not only with materials and machinery, but his main province is dealing with and supervising men."

Potter declared that the technical engineer is in greater demand than in former years and is rapidly replacing the man educated in a trade school. For this reason, he said, there has come to the land grant colleges an opportunity to perfect men to supply this demand. The dean pleaded that more pay for instructors be afforded to improve the standards of engineering training.

At the exercises in front of the engineering hall, following those held in the auditorium, speeches were made by E. B. McCormick, former dean of the division and by the present dean R. A. Seaton. After these two short addresses J. D. Walters, professor emeritus of architecture, opened the doors of the building.

Dean E. B. McCormick gave a short history of the growth of the division since it was first established in 1893 and stated that it was a gratification to him to be with his old associates at the occasion of the celebration of the division's progress.

Dean R. A. Seaton told of the further progress to follow. Although the new addition was planned to comply with all needs of the enrollment for some time it is becoming inadequate for even the present, and plans are being discussed for another addition to the main building.

The open house was elaborate in every detail and comprised the demonstration of all the equipment of the division. Guides were assigned to all those going through the building. In the electrical demonstration the electric welder was shown in action and welded a K from small strips of metal for each visitor.

DEAN THOMPSON IS CHAIRMAN OF IMPORTANT COMMITTEE

Returns from Association of Land Grant Colleges

Dean Helen B. Thompson returned Friday, November 11, from the meeting of the Association of Land Grant colleges which was held at New Orleans November 8 to 10. Dean Thompson was appointed chairman of the committee to set the standards of training and the general qualifications for research workers in this science. The home economics divisions are looking forward to federal aid in research work under the provisions of a new bill which is to be brought before Congress soon.

Dr. Fred Hartwig of Goodland was a dinner guest at the Alpha Psi house Friday.

Home Town Papers Keep Aggies Close to Old Home Burg

"Lucile Green gave a group of her schoolmates a jolly Hallowe'en party Wednesday evening, the time being spent with appropriate games and completed with the luncheon of pumpkin pie, doughnuts, and cocoa. (A vote of appreciation may also be extended to the boys who swiped a pie off the kitchen table, but had the grace to leave a note of thanks for the same.)"

If you had read this your first year away from home with only the weekly letter to give you all the town gossip, wouldn't you enjoy figuring out who the culprits were? There is many a lonesome student at K. S. A. C. who finds consolation in his home town newspaper which is sent to the library. More than three fourths of the counties of Kansas are represented with either town or county papers.

Monday morning finds more than 100 student readers anxious to know the latest news from their parts of the state. The crowd shifts, and during the week the librarian says every student in school reads his home town paper.

Most of the papers start coming in on Friday and all are in by Monday. This means that in two or three days' time after publication the newspaper has brought the community and the student at college closer together.

Often something that the family fails to write is of great interest to the one who is away from home.

"At a regular meeting of the mayor and the city council Monday night, by unanimous vote of the council, a contract for the paving on South Walnut was awarded to the A. R. Young construction company of Kansas City, Mo."

Thoughts of the rainy evenings when the Ford can be driven all over the town, cheer the rainy atmosphere even of examination time.

Then there is the lad who has heard some fellow talk of the room where he reads his home town paper and decides on a very lonesome occasion to find it. He finds the room but that is all for his home town is one of the towns which does not send a paper to the college. He is one of the probably 50 students who would read the paper. The student who doesn't have a paper at the college misses something and the community misses his prolonged interest.

BROWN BULL OUT HOMECOMING DAY

SALE OF MAGAZINE IS UNUSUALLY SUCCESSFUL

Copies Left May Be Obtained at Book Stores, Canteen, and Collegian Office

"Buy your Brown Bulls now," was the sound which met the ear of every old grad as he came back for homecoming Saturday morning. The first Brown Bull of the year came out Saturday and although the number of sales has not been finally checked, the sale was unusually successful.

There are still a few magazines left and a copy may be obtained from the business manager, Homer G. Bryson, at the Collegian office. The magazines are on sale at the book stores and at the Canteen.

Besides the members of Theta Sigma Phi and Sigma Delta Chi who are responsible for the magazine the following persons were contributors to this issue: E. M. Amos, Marguerite Kellerstrass, Myrna Pilley, Ruth L. Webb, Margaret Watson, Olive Hering, Alice Paddleford, A. B. Woody, Mildred Swenson, Malcolm J. Clark, Edwin J. Frick, Rowena Thornburg, Renna Rosenthal and Harold Hobbs. The art contributors were Don Ballou, E. F. Graves, and J. S. Fuller.

The tryouts for the Quill membership contest will close December 1. All manuscripts to be submitted should be in the hands of Prof. Walter Burr on or before this date. Any form of literary work may be submitted and more than one manuscript may be submitted. The minimum number of words which may be submitted is 800.

WIN OVER SOONERS ENDS AGGIE SEASON

WILDCATS TAKE EVERY COMBAT ON HOME GRIDIRON

14-7 CHEERS HOMECOMERS

Heavy Oklahoma Team Bewildered by Kansas Speed—Cleland Performs Valiantly in His Final Game

With a hint of approaching winter in the air and flocks of wild geese honking overhead, it was perfect football weather. And the fighting Aggie Wildcats celebrated Homecoming day and wound up the 1921 football season with a flourish, by presenting Benny Owen's beefy Oklahoma eleven with a 14 to 7 defeat.

Incidentally, the Aggie victory demonstrated to the old grads the superiority of speed and cleverness as pitted against the old style attack characterized by straight line smashing. It demonstrated that a lighter team with a versatile offensive such as Coach Bachman has built up in the Aggie backfield and ends—a team that can change with bewildering speed from straight football and line piercing formation to a dazzling overhead attack of the Stark-Swartz-Burton-Sebring-Winter combination type—is the most formidable sort of gridiron machine.

Aggies Held Against Heavy Battering

The Sooners fairly outdid themselves in the initial part of the battle, twice really threatening the Aggie goal line, but after that there was no question of the superiority of the two elevens. Led by "Ram" Morrison, the heavy Sooner backs were able to gain no massed formations in the middle of the field, but when the oval invaded the Aggie danger zone that invincible Aggie line held as though set in concrete, against the heavy battering of Hill, Morrison, and Tyler, forcing Morrison to punt and once taking the ball on downs on the 8-yard line.

Burton Outstanding Star of Game

Captain "Shifty" Cleland, playing his last game for the Aggies, performed brilliantly in the forward wall along with Hahn and Nichols, while Schmitz and Schindler crowded them closely for premier honors in glit-edged playing. Reinforcing that impregnable Aggie center section, Winter and Sebring played a whirlwind game at the flank positions. Hahn, Nichols, Cleland, Winter, in fact, every Aggie lineman repeatedly broke through and smeared Oklahoma plays behind the line of scrimmage before they could get under way. The Aggie backs seemed to anticipate the intentions of the Sooners in forward passing, and discouraged the Oklahomaans from making consistent gains by the aerial route. Burton was the outstanding backfield star, the elusive passing phenom doing a large share of the ball lugging.

Aggies Register First

The Aggies registered first in the second quarter. Burton took a 10 yard pass from Stark, and the slippery halfback played tag with the Sooner tacklers for 15 yards more, placing the ball on the visitors' 15 yard line. "Ding" went over the top for six more. Oklahoma took a five yard penalty, Sears and Burton made nine in three tries, and on the fourth down with one to go, Stark smashed over. Sebring kicked his usual goal.

Sooners Even Up in Third

The Sooners evened it up in the third, a 15 yard penalty and a weak punt being contributing factors. The penalty left the ball on the Aggie five yard line, and Stark kicked back to the 30 yard line. Hendricks passed 15 yards to Tyler, a line buck failed, and Hill initiated another pass with a mixed delegation of Aggies and Sooners waiting for it. Hendricks leaped into the air and nabbed it for the Sooners' only touchdown, and Bowles kicked goal. Following the Oklahoma score, Bowles kicked off 55 yards to Sebring who returned to the 30-yard line, and the Aggies opened a diversified attack that the slower Oklahomaans were unable to break up. The Aggie assault went straight down the field to the winning touchdown in a four minute march. Burton squirmed through for 6, Stark smashed through right for 10, and a pass failed. Stark hit for three and Swartz flipped 28 yards to Winter to the Sooner 28-yard line. Stark passed to Swartz to the 15 yard line. The Sooner line held on an off tackle charge. Sebring took Swartz's pass on the three yard line, and Swartz followed "Shifty" Cleland over the line. The quarter ended as the Aggies were preparing to kick off again.

In Oklahoma Territory Last Quarter

In the final quarter it was the Aggies' ball in Oklahoma's territory most of the time, and Morrison was twice forced to kick from under his own goal posts. The Sooners fought doggedly to even the count, and during the few minutes they had possession of the ball, tried to shift from line-ramming attack to forward passing with poor success. Sebring in-

THE BROTHERHOOD OF A COMMON ALMA MATER

The old Aggie grad had grown sluggish. The nimble feet which bore the oval over many an enemy goal line in the days of yore, now had corns and bunions for their chief diversion. Pushing the family perambulator now furnished the recreation formerly afforded by an evening at Johnnie's. But the old grad had come back once more to his alma mater in response to the urgent invitation of Cliff Stratton, alumni secretary. Upon his arrival in Manhattan he had stoutly averred that football wasn't what it used to be and that furthermore he had put behind him with his active college days the happiest years of his life.

But Saturday evening came with the Homecoming game a victory. The old grad with the added weight and slackened speed of added years had placed beneath his belt the Homecoming turkey banquet of his own organization. The attention of the group had turned to smokes and talks. It came the turn of the old grad. With the conviction of one who has seen the ups and downs of life and seen them through he rose to his feet. "This morning I said that college days were the happiest of a man's life and I honestly believed it. But I was mistaken. I have just had the happiest day of my life. I'm coming back every year."

We get out of Homecoming just about what we expect and sometimes more. Whether old grad or stude it works the same way. Homecoming fulfills the fellowship of an institution, and unites the brotherhood of a common alma mater.

VETS OFFER THREE ANNUAL CASH PRIZES OF $25 DOLLARS

A. T. Kinsley, E. A. Schmoker, and Vet Faculty Offer Awards

Annual cash prizes as an added inducement for careful study in veterinary science are being offered by old grads and faculty of this institution. These added prizes are open to veterinary students taking the required assignment in their division. At the present time there are three cash prizes of $25 each offered and it is probable that other interested alumni will offer more.

Dr. A. T. Kinsley, a graduate of this institution, is the first to offer an annual prize of $25 to the student attaining the best average in veterinary pathology. The faculty prize of $25, donated by members of the veterinary faculty, is offered for the student attaining the highest general average of all veterinary students. Dr. E. A. Schmoker, of the class of '17 and at the present time veterinarian for the western farm of the Carnation stock farms at Tolt, Wash., offers a cash prize of $25 annually for the vet student doing the best work in clinics.

Agri Adopt Divisional Emblem
Another emblem has made its appearance on the campus. Although each department in the division of agriculture has a departmental emblem, all of the seniors of the entire division have united on a common badge of distinction, namely a hickory walking stick. It is now possible to tell the division and the department of the men taking ag. For example, a man wearing a "five gallon" gray stetson hat and carrying a hickory walking cane is a senior in animal husbandry.

Miss Esther Fayman, private secretary to President W. M. Jardine, returned last week from Kansas City, where she underwent an operation for appendicitis. She has been absent for seven weeks.

The booklets contain everything about everyone connected with the college. The frosh who wants a date with Susie Smith, can look in his K. S. A. C. directory, find her phone number, her house address, almost everything, in fact, except her age.

And Susie, in turn can find out whether or not her favorite prof. is married or makes his home with the bachelors of the College club.

PROFS DISCUSS TEACHING PLANS

SHOULD THEY GIVE KNOWLEDGE OR TEACH 'EM TO THINK?

Psychologist Peterson Thinks Mental Tests of Value in Exact Science

"Shall we use our subject as a means of imparting knowledge to students or as a means of teaching them to think?" This subject was discussed at a meeting of the faculty in the division of general science last Tuesday evening.

Professor Floyd and Dean Holton each read papers which encouraged teaching from both standpoints. This was accepted as the better course of instruction by all of the faculty.

This discussion was followed by a general discussion of the use and value of mental tests.

"A general factor of intelligence which when measured by one type of tests or study furnishes a good basis for prediction of success or failure in other types of study," was the statement made by Professor Peterson. He also states that grades in chemistry, mathematics, English, history and other such subjects can be rated with a high degree of accuracy while grades in woodwork, forging, physical education, and subjects of such physical character cannot be rated so accurately.

The faculty of the general science division hopes to find a plan whereby they can guide the student in the study of subjects which will prove the most successful to him.

AG ECONOMISTS ADOPT PORTFOLIOS AS EMBLEMS

Twelve Seniors in Department Profit by Utilitarian Selection

The seniors in agricultural economics ran true to form as economists in the selection of a departmental emblem last week. They adopted something which has utility and which will have value in the future.

"In keeping with the custom of ag seniors in other departments, we should have something by which we might be recognized as seniors in ag economics," said H. L. Baker, president of the Agricultural Economics club. "so we adopted the portfolio. We did not choose a hat 'to satisfy our masculine vanity,' but made the selection on the basis of utility."

As a result of the action taken by the club, 12 seniors in agricultural economics are carrying their books and papers this week in chocolate brown portfolios. The men are: Roy E. Clegg, A. Lynn Austin, C. F. Hadley, J. Wheeler Barger, H. L. Baker, Frank Hoath, N. H. Anderson, Glen E. Findley, and H. I. Richards.

HANDKERCHIEFS NOT ALWAYS SQUARE HISTORY DISCLOSES

Marie Antoinette Dictates Fashion for All Time

James McCreery and company in a recent advertisement described the origin of the square handkerchiefs. The history of handkerchiefs, which every one takes for granted in a matter of fact manner is reviewed with a new light on the prevalent shape. A paragraph is quoted here:

"Handkerchiefs were in use, of course, from the earliest days of civilization, but were of any shape that individual fancy dictated until one day at Trianon Marie Antoinette chanced to remark that it bored her to take note of the various shapes of handkerchiefs and she wished they were all one form. The king, always ready to satisfy the merest whim of Antoinette's immediately decreed that the length of the handkerchiefs should equal their width throughout the kingdom thereby standardizing the shape of the handkerchiefs apparently for all time."

Melchers Has Article Published

Prof. L. E. Melchers of the botany department has written an article on wheat diseases in Kansas which will come out in the publication of the Kansas state board of agriculture publications.

The title of the article is "Wheat in Kansas." It will have 22 illustrations. The article illustrates all the different diseases to which wheat is subject to, emphasizing the ones most common in Kansas. It is on the press now and will be out in a few days.

VET CONFERENCE FEBRUARY 7-10

PART OF FARM AND HOME WEEK PROGRAM

Prominent Men Will Take Part in Tubercular Discussions

A new feature to be added at the annual Farm and Home week will be the holding of a veterinary conference February 7 to 10 inclusive in the interest of livestock over the state. At this conference the entire time will be devoted to papers, discussions, and experiments pertaining to tuberculosis in animals. Arrangements have been practically completed with the men most prominent on this subject throughout the country to take part in the conference.

Dr. J. A. Kierman, chief of the tuberculosis eradication division of the U. S. department of agriculture, will attend and deliver a series of lectures on the subject of "Accredited Herd Testing." Doctor Kierman is the most important figure in the United States on research work in the eradication of tuberculosis as an animal disease.

A motion picture "Out of the Shadows" which illustrates the danger of contracting tuberculosis from animals infected with the disease, will also be shown. Stockmen over the state will be interested in this new feature given by the veterinary division.

BUSINESS MEN LEARN TO SPEAK

HILL TEACHES CLASS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Members Meet Thursday Evening—
Mayor and Postmaster Both Enrolled

The mayor, the postmaster, the president and secretary of both the Rotary club and the Chamber of Commerce, and 14 other leading professional and business men of Manhattan are all receiving instruction in extempore speech from Dr. Howard T. Hill of the public speaking department. The class, which meets on Thursday evening from 7 to 9:30 o'clock, was organized by Fred Jensen, secretary of the chamber of commerce.

The instruction given consists of lectures, text assignments, and practice work under the direction of Doctor Hill, who says, "The members of the class hope to become as proficient in public speech as they are in conversation. Most of the men are quite fluent in conversation, being able to talk with ease and conviction to an individual, but they are a little shaky when speaking before an audience. They are frequently called upon to give speeches, however, in the organizations to which they belong as well as before other groups.

The men experience the same difficulties in public speaking that college students do, but to a lesser extent. Slight embarrassment or "stage fright," and poor articulation are the chief troubles. Due to maturity in age and wide experience, their speeches far excel those of college students in the amount of material they contain and its arrangement.

The members of the class are as follows: V. V. Akin, H. W. Brewer, George Clammer, L. Roy Engle, Arthur Groesbeck, B. R. Hull, Frank Imes, F. W. Jensen, A. H. King, Fred Lamb, J. R. Matthews, John McClung, Tom McClung, C. M. Paddock, B. S. Ruddick, Philip Heartburg, Fred Romig, James Ryan, M. S. Spencer, and Don Wagaman.

ESTHER WRIGHT MAKES GOOD IN BALTIMORE HOSPITAL WORK

Would Not Trade Her College Preparation with Any Girl

Miss Derby has received a letter from Miss Esther Wright telling of her work in the John Hopkins hospital in Baltimore, Md. Miss Wright graduated last year from the home economics course, specializing in institutional management. Last summer she took the training for dietitian work at John Hopkins hospital in Baltimore. After completing this work she was given a position as assistant dietitian. The hospital is putting in a new department called social service, of which Miss Wright is in charge. She will organize classes where the proper method of preparing foods will be taught.

Miss Wright concluded her letter with these words: "I am sure I wouldn't swap colleges with any girl here. I know we had the best home economics course of any college represented."

The Dewey Decimal System Might Help To Untwist Tongues

Many of the names of Aggie students are simply beyond pronunciation, to say nothing of being past all human memories. Some are not so bad, but they just look that way. For these the best way to do is to throw your tongue to the top of your mouth, twist it around a few dozen times and then sneeze. There is only one objection to this, usually at least six answer.

How do the instructors ever get the names all straight? But then, the students do not have to have a monopoly on the wild names. Look at those that the faculty have attached to them, for life, or otherwise. Faculty, if you only knew how much trouble we have to keep from saying, "Hey, you!" when we can not possibly remember your names you would all change them to Smith instead of Stoddyk, Anesmus, and Lieden, and a lot of others just as bad.

Wouldn't it be easier if we all had numbers and had them hooked to us? We might try the Dewey decimal plan—beg pardon, Miss Derby—and even though not authors, we could at least be classified, and our "call numbers" would be an ever present asset.

Then perhaps we would cease to be pestered with, "Your name is Jones?" J-o-n-e-s? Well, I had a friend whose name was Jones who came from Kansas City, too, did you know him?"

When we proceed to tell the friendly individual that even though our name is Jones that we do not know John Jones of Kansas City, and are not related to him, that curious person becomes rather disgusted and—well, you all know. Numbers would make it easier to take the census, too, don't you think so?

So, whether your name be Smith, Smythe, Atzenwelter, Elmandorf, Honeywell, Hadiger, or Barnhisel, why not ask the S. S. G. A. for a rule of numbers instead of names?

MANY STUDENTS EARN THEIR WAY

APPROXIMATELY 60 PER CENT
COLLEGE MEN WORK

Of Girls 135 Are Wholly and 221
Partly Self Supporting

A large percentage of students enrolled at K. S. A. C. are self supporting although the general depression throughout the country has not increased the number for this year. According to information obtained from Miss Irene Dean, secretary of the Y. W. C. A. and Dr. A. A. Holtz, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., no more students than usual have applied for work this year although a much greater number of students are cutting the corners on expenses both great and small.

Of the 1,800 men enrolled Doctor Holtz believes that approximately 60 per cent are self supporting, while even more work at part time employment. Of the girls about 900 are enrolled with 135 wholly self supporting and 221 partly so. As far as is known no students have been forced to drop school because of failure to find work. Doctor Holtz states that on several occasions there have been more odd jobs than he could find men for. Both Miss Dean and Doctor Holtz are constantly in touch with opportunities for employment and have been of great service in locating work for students.

Y. W. TO DO SOCIAL WORK WITH COLORED CHILDREN

Start Clubs of Manhattan Youngsters —Work Began Last Year

A new phase of social work is being undertaken by the social service committee of the Y. W. C. A., of which Opal Seeber is chairman.

With the cooperation of the 16 colored girls in college, the committee plans to organize clubs among the colored children of the town, from the ages of 8 to 14. The program of these clubs, based on the three fold purpose of association work; work, play, and worship, will include handicrafts, games and song service. An honor system similar to the one used by the Girl Scouts will be adopted.

A start was made in this work last year, but the increase in interest in this branch of social service has made possible the adoption of a much more extensive program this year.

FOODS DEMONSTRATION GIRLS
LEARN OF PRESSURE COOKER

Miss Schnemayer Cooks Entire Meal
in Less than One Hour

An interesting demonstration was given before the class in food demonstrations recently by Miss Suzanna Schnemayer, a home economics specialist in the extension division. Miss Schnemayer demonstrated some of the uses of the pressure cooker and cooked a complete meal in less than one hour.

A cheap and fibrous cut of meat which would ordinarily have required three hours, was cooked in 45 minutes. Rice was cooked with the meat, and carrots and dried peaches were cooked in separate containers in the same cooker, the separate containers serving to retain individual flavor. The carrots were old, and the dried peaches had had no previous soaking but both were tender when cooked by this method.

The students of the class in food demonstrations give demonstrations each week and occasionally an experienced specialist gives an exhibition for their benefit.

RECORDS BROKEN BY HOMECOMERS

CROWD IS LARGEST IN HISTORY OF K. S. A. C.

Big Attendance Due Largely to Efforts of Cliff Stratton, Alumni Secretary

Some of them came on the railroad, some walked, some drove their high powered motor cars, and some rode the Rock Island—but Cliff Stratton, '11, alumni secretary, had extended them the glad hand and they could not resist the temptation to return and see what their alma mater had been doing since it graduated the best class in the history of K. S. A. C.

The homecoming crowd Saturday was by far the largest in the history of the college. More than 500 old grads attended the game and roamed about the campus checking up on the recent changes that have been made since the "good old days" when they themselves used to paddle freshmen, cut class, get flunk slips, and burn the midnight oil. Over 400 seats were reserved for the visitors at the game, and long before the pig skin had started on its jaggy trip up and down the gridiron, these had been filled with howling alumni and little alumnae.

Distance had little voice in deciding whether or not they should make the trip. They came from most everywhere in North America, and J. M. Westgate, '97, broke the record in journeying from Honolulu. Those who came more than 30 miles were admitted to the game free.

All ages and from all walks of life, they came. Many former Aggie stars were back. Some of the members of that football team of 1906—the one that beat K. U.—were back and were carefully examined by the frosh in order that they might more closely emulate their historical example.

The record breaking attendance is due largely to the work of the alumni secretary, Cliff Stratton, '11. This is the second year that the alumni association has had a paid secretary, and already he has become an invaluable booster for the college, besides being a potent factor in holding the alumni together and keeping them in touch with the college. Stratton's duties are multifarious. He writes the alumni section of the Kansas Industrialist, collects and disseminates information about the graduates, boosts the college, and along with a lot of other things conducts a trouble shop for students on the hill.

CLASS IN SOCIAL PROBLEMS VISITS STATE INSTITUTIONS

Members Making Trip Will Give Report to Class

The accusation that college gives a student nothing but "book-learning" certainly does not hold good in the case of Prof. Walter Burr's class in social problems. After lecturing to his class on how the state cares for its wards, he took a group of his students on a trip last week to visit the state penal, charitable, and corrective institutions, that they might get first hand information on the subject.

A half day was spent at the public welfare building at Kansas City, Mo. After listening to a talk on the work of the board of public welfare by the superintendent, the students visited its six departments and also the farms it operates for juvenile delinquents and for the aged dependent upon the city for support. Monday afternoon was spent in inspecting the state school for the blind.

The group spent Tuesday visiting the state school for the deaf at Olathe, and the state penitentiary at Lansing. Wednesday was spent in going through the state hospital for the insane and the boys' industrial school at Topeka.

The members of the group which made the trip were: Hazel Graves, Mary Nuttle, Mildred Kaucher, Caroline Perkins, Helen Norton, W. E. Wareham, J. Wheeler Barger, and Prof. Walter Burr. These students will give reports to the entire class on their observations.

D. C. Lewis, '10, of Kansas City, Mo., was here for the Homecoming game. Lewis was an assistant in the horticulture department for several years. He is now president of an orcharding company in Kansas City, Mo.

Week end guests at the Kappa Delta house were Mrs. Max Noble of Wichita, Miss Anne Lorimer of Olathe, Miss Irene Graham and Miss Alice Carter.

TOPEKANS LOUD IN AGGIE PRAISES

THIRTY MEMBERS OF PRESS
CLUB ARE HOMECOMING GUESTS

Journalism Students Put On Stunt for Visitors Saturday Evening

Thirty members of the Topeka Press club were guests of the college at the Homecoming celebration Saturday. The following story from the Topeka Daily Capital gives an account of the day from the Press club members' viewpoint.

"Sounding the praises of Kansas State Agricultural college from its football team to its campus beauties, 30 tired, but happy, Black Devils of the Topeka Press club returned to Topeka in their special Pullman yesterday morning. The Press club trip was a success, from every angle of vision. The Aggies defeated Oklahoma; the homecoming day brought on the largest crowd that ever attended an Aggie game; the stunt by the journalism students was one of the best yet; the one act play of the Purple Masque dramatic club a delight, and the evening business meeting of the club financially profitable.

"The party left Saturday morning and was received at Manhattan by Cliff Stratton, formerly of Topeka, and a delegation of prominent citizens, including the police judge, C. A. Kimball, editor of the Manhattan Tribune, E. C. Quigley, of St. Mary's, and Edward W. Cochrane, of Kansas City, officials of the game, were in the club's special car. Luncheon was served at the college cafeteria.

"Sideline seats to the big game were distributed and the club went on the field behind the Aggie band. After the band had finished its march, the club gave fifteen "rahs" for the Aggies, and were cheered in turn by the Wampus Cats, the pep organization of the Aggies, who further delighted the Topeka delegation by paddling the most prominent part of Charlie Mitchell as he ran the gauntlet. Dinner at the cafeteria was served after the game.

"The journalism show was a clever feature. Reporting as it will be done in 2021, when men are merely men and women are the bosses of all creation, was illustrated for the Topekans. Shades of the past were called for and the laughter became hilarious as face after face of prominent politicians and newspaper men, summoned from their home with the devil, were thrown on a screen to the accompaniment of the crackling of high voltage wires.

"Clyde Reed, the 'bulldog' of the Allen administration; Charles Sessions, who 'had only to walk to the state house to learn enough to print all the political secrets next day; Harry Wright, whose chief nightmare was a campaign in which Harry Wright had not been engaged to do gumshoe work; A. L. Schultz and W. G. Clugston, who 'had no souls fit for public exhibition,' and Joe Nickell, who is alleged to have 'lost his K, of C. connections because they found out he had become a Shriner,' were a few of those made famous.

"The purple Masque play, 'Suppressed Desires,' was well conceived. Offerings of cider and doughnuts completed the entertainment, after which the entire party returned to their special car to sleep."—Topeka Daily Capital.

tercepted a long pass, and Burton muffed up another. Taking the ball at the 45 yard line on Hendrick's fumble, the Aggies by end runs and two passes, placed it on Oklahoma's 20 yard line, but Hill intercepted Bryan's third pass and returned it 20 yards. Two Sooner passes netted 11 yards and then the irrepressible Sebring again intercepted Morrison's pass just before the end of the game.

Aggies Have Third Place Clinched

Saturday's victory was the fifth consecutive win on the home field, and places the Aggies in undisputed possession of third place among the nine Missouri valley conference rivals. Should Kansas defeat Missouri on Thanksgiving day, the Aggies and Tigers would be tied for second place.

And should the Tigers win, the Aggies will still have the satisfaction of having defeated the team that stands between them and second place. Nebraska's overwhelming defeat of Ames makes Nebraska lead horse in the valley, with a clean slate in the only three conference contests they have played.

SIDE LINE COMMENT

Here and there among the alumni were noticeable "K" sweaters worn by Aggie gridiron heroes of other days.

The freshman eleven put on a snappy practice between halves. To them and to Coach Curtiss belongs much of the credit for developing the best Aggie eleven seen in years.

"Shifty" Cleland played his last game in Aggie moleskins, and closed his brilliant football career in a fitting manner.

His teammates seemed to realize it, and their remarkable playing in the last battle under his leadership was a sort of tribute to "Shifty."

Mike and Bach were receiving congratulations from the alumni with a beatific grin on their fighting maps. Their show had made a real hit with the old grads.

Hahn's work at guard has not been surpassed by anyone on Ahearn field this season. Wonder what's going to keep him from a berth on the All-Valley?

"Ding" Burton almost gave those Sooners nervous prostration. Once, after taking a 15-yard pass, he had the whole Oklahoma team wildly pawing the air for 15 yards, trying to find something to tackle.

Winter and Sebring looked as good as any two ends in the valley. "Ship" follows that ball with uncanny ability, and "Seb" is steady as an eight-day clock.

Stark and Sears performed gamely, despite their being handicapped by previous injuries. Schindler, at guard, was also playing with a bad knee.

"Big" Schmitz uses those long arms to advantage. More than one Oklahoma lineman rubbed his head reflectively after getting the impact of the big fellow's hand.

Swartz played his usual heady game at quarter. The Hiawatha lad should make a great pilot for the Aggies next year.

When the Wampus Cats turned the collection of "Wildcats" loose on the field, an enthusiastic spectator gathered an armful of the animals. But like the men from Soonerland, he also got scratched by the "Wildcats."

That 82-piece Aggie band in new uniforms made the old grads open their eyes also. And that two-foot sky piece on the drum-major—Oh Boy!

B. W. Conrad, '95, was among the alumni back for Homecoming. Conrad was the football star who made the six touchdowns in the game with St. Marys. Quigley was coaching the St. Marys team then, and the team was one of the Aggies' strongest opponents. In the game of '94 Conrad made the six touchdowns that were the only ones made during the game. Toward the last part of the game whenever Conrad got the ball the men would get aside and let him go by.

SWEATERS TO BE PRESENTED IN

24 YEARLING MEN GET EMBLEMS

Honorary Letters to Muldoon, Holtz, and Jackson—Aggie Stand
Second in Valley—Bachman Responsible

Eighteen members of the fighting Aggie football squad of 1921 will wear the purple football K as a reward of merit for valiant service on the gridiron against valley conference eleven this season. The letters were awarded at a meeting of the athletic board Wednesday evening. In accordance with a ruling carried into effect last year by the S. S. G. A., the sweaters will be presented to the Aggie honor men at a general assembly. The presentation will occur within the next two weeks if the

Tie for Second Place in Valley

Thus ends one of the most successful seasons in the history of Aggie football. The Kansas victory over Missouri on Turkey day gives the Aggies and the Tigers each a percentage of 667 in second place among the nine conference eleven, with the Wildcats topping the Missourians by virtue of a defeat over the Tigers. Following close on two seasons where in not a valley game was won, this record looms as a remarkable achievement in football circles. When Mike Ahearn took over the K. S. A. C. athletic helm in 1920, football and football spirit at the college was at low ebb. Then came Charles W. Bachman from Notre Dame as coach, and truly has he proved himself the "miracle man" of Aggie football. To Bachman belongs most of the credit for the splendid showing of the Aggie eleven this year. With him has been the directing influence of this genial Mike Ahearn, the fighting spirit of every Aggie gridder, and the solid and unflinching support of the student body, as powerful contributing factors in turning out a

Mother's Pies and Cakes Tasted Good to the Aggie Bunch

Although many stayed in Manhattan during the Thanksgiving vacation the greater part of the Aggie aggregation went home or at least exchanged the campus scenery for something different for the period they were allotted for the time out.

Among the men it was a sport rather popular to spend at least a part of the time hunting, regardless of the fact that they knew that mother would have all sorts of goodies fixed for them anyway.

Everyone saw several football games, only little ones of course, but they saw them anyway. Then there were all sorts of dances, dinners, dates, and the rest of the things that go to make up a vacation.

The main attraction, however, was the Thanksgiving dinner. It did not make a bit of difference whether the big feature was turkey, duck, goose, or chicken. It was different from the meals that have been eaten for the past three months. For there were cakes, jellies, pies, candies, and—well, you all know very well what the usual process is at this time. And anyway it makes us too weary. We, at least, are not over the effects. Are you?

AGGIE JUDGING TEAM FIFTH AT CHICAGO SHOW

WEBER IS HIGHEST MAN IN UNITED STATES

CANADIAN IS HIGH INDIVIDUAL

Twenty-one Agricultural College
Teams Entered—International Is Promoted by Union Stockyards Company

The Aggie stock judging team representing K. S. A. C. in the International Livestock Judging contest at Chicago last Saturday won fifth place. The team was probably composed of J. J. Moxley, A. J. D. Weber, C. L. Hemphill, C. R. Roberts, and C. B. Quigley. Weber was second highest individual man in the contest, and his placing was most accurate of any student from the United States, a member of a Canadian team winning first in the individual placing.

Greatest Livestock Show

The International Livestock exposition is the greatest stock show in the world. It was attended by leading livestock men of the United States, Canada, and many foreign countries. It is promoted by the Union Stockyards company of Chicago to encourage the production of better livestock. The Collegiate Judging contest was made a feature of the exposition in 1900. Since that time competition has become keener each year, until this year 21 teams representing the strongest agricultural colleges in the United States and Canada were entered in the judging meet.

Ten Thousand Attend Exposition

The students' judging contest was held the first day of the exposition and was attended by more than 10,000 people. The teams judged three classes of cattle, hogs, sheep, and horses. One market class and two classes of breeding types of horses were judged, while the judging of cattle, hogs, and sheep was limited to two classes of breeding animals and one class of fat animals. The teams were graded upon their placings of the animals in each class, and were required to give oral reasons to the judges for their placings.

Separate Judges for Each Class

Each class of livestock had a separate set of judges, which consisted of one college man and two practical breeders. These were selected from the leading men of the livestock world by a committee of which Dean Shepard of the North Dakota Agricultural college was chairman, and had the viewpoints of the practical breeder and the college man.

Competition for Team Keen

Competition for places on the stockjudging team was keener this year than ever before. The first week of school about 25 men reported for judging practice and worked from 4 to 6 every afternoon and all afternoon on Wednesdays and Saturdays until the squad was selected two weeks ago. The squad, which was composed of A. D. Weber, "Speedy" Wilhoite, J. J. Moxley, C. B. Quigley, C. B. Roberts, C. R. Hemphill, and J. Scott Stewart, made a 10 days trip of inspection before the contest to the leading stock farms in the mid-west.

Squad Made Ten Days Trip

On the inspection trip the last ten days, the squad, accompanied by Coach F. W. Bell, visited the Hereford cattle show at Kansas City, and several Shorthorn cattle herds at Grandview, Mo. From Kansas City they went to the Iowa State college to work on the livestock herds there, and then went to Keota, Iowa, to visit the Belgian horse farm owned by G. E. Good; and the Percheron horse farm owned by George Singmaster. The squad also spent a day scoring animals at the University of Illinois livestock farm. Among the noted animals which the squad scored were Fashion Girl, the $18,000 Poland China sow; Parcour, the $50,000 Belgian stallion; and Lagos, the Percheron stallion which has never been defeated in the show ring.

The members of the squad represented the Kansas chapter of Block and Bridle at its National convention held in the Stock Yards Inn at Chicago Monday.

Give Play in Chapel Thursday

The Eurodelphian and Webster literary societies will give a one act play in chapel Thursday. "My Turn Next" is a comedy dealing with the problems of marrying a widow. The cast is composed of J. F. Mostert, Austin Stover, Ralph Peters, Penelope Burtis, Olive Hering, Mable Vincent, and Earl Means. The play is being directed by Paul McConnel, a member of the Purple Masque dramatic fraternity.

FRENCH VISITOR IS HERE TODAY

MADEMOISELLE BIDGRAIN SENT BY STUDENT FEDERATION

Will Talk in Recreation Hall This Afternoon at Four O'clock

Mademoiselle Bidgrain of the World's Student Christian federation who is visiting typical American colleges is at K. S. A. C. today. She will lecture in recreation hall at 4 o'clock to all who wish to attend, on the subject "Present Conditions in Europe." The Y. W. and Y. M. cabinets have arranged a busy program for Mademoiselle Bidgrain so that she can make the most of her short visit. She had a campus trip around the college in the morning and talked to the French classes.

After the lecture in recreation hall a tea will be held in the French visitor's honor. The advisory boards of the Christian associations will entertain with a banquet in honor of Mademoiselle Bidgrain at the Gillette this evening.

The advisory boards of the two associations, the Y. M. and Y. W. cabinets, and the Cosmopolitan club will meet at 7:30 with Mademoiselle Bidgrain. She will talk on "Latent Power of the Students of the World."

The World Christian federation has sent Mademoiselle Bidgrain here to study American colleges and universities, and report to them for their use in the study of world educational problems and student welfare. In selecting representative American colleges for her visit, the federation chose only two Kansas colleges, K. S. A. C. and Haskell, as distinctive and individual types of institutions.

Mademoiselle Bidgrain is a French woman, a graduate of Marburg university in Germany, and the University of Glasgow. She is now traveling secretary for the World's Student Christian federation. She knows every phase of student life and her lecture promises to be of interest to the whole student body. A telegram from Lawrence yesterday stated that her talk was very interesting and greatly appreciated by the students of Haskell.

AGGIES NEXT NEBRASKA IN M. V. RATING

FIVE WILDCATS ON THREE ALL VALLEY ELEVEN

NO AGGIES MAKE FIRST TEAM

Nebraska Draws Ten Berths on Three Elevens—Burton, Hahn, and Swartz Make Second
Team

The three all-valley football elevens compiled by the Kansas City Star in the Sunday issue of November 27, contain the names of five Kansas Aggies. Because of the clock-like team work displayed by the Aggie eleven, rather than scintillating work of individual players, and also because the powerful Nebraska eleven drew a large number of berths on the first team selection, the Aggies did not place on the first eleven, but placed three men on the second team and two on the third. Five Aggie stars were mentioned on the Missouri valley honor roll.

Selection of Mythical Eleven Difficult

The Star admits that the choosing of the mythical teams from the selections of valley coaches, athletic directors, and officials, was a ticklish proposition, and gives it as its opinion that the difference in the actual playing ability of the three teams chosen is very small. There does not seem to be any opposition to Nebraska's landing 10 men on the three elevens. Some of the coaches who have faced Nebraska would not raise much of a howl if the Huskers were given 11 places on the first according to the Star. As is was, Nebraska drew four places on the first team, four on the second, and two on the third. The Aggies, with five players on the three elevens, were next to Nebraska. The other teams who placed men on the first selection were Oklahoma and Missouri two each, and Kansas, Ames, and Washington, one each.

Three Aggies On Second Team

The second eleven is composed of four Nebraskans, three Aggies, and one each from Missouri, Kansas, Grinnell, and Drake. Ray Hahn of the Aggies, teams up with Berquist of Nebraska at guard, and "Ding" Burton pairs with Noble of the Cornhuskers at halfback. Burr Swartz of the Aggies was chosen as pilot of the second team, with Bunker of Missouri as captain and center.

On the third selection, the Aggies, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Washington, and Drake placed two men each, and Ames one man. Sebring of the Aggies and Schaus of Washington are the ends, and Schmitz of K. S. A. C. and Weller of Nebraska are given the tackle positions.

Five Aggies Get Honorable Mention

Five Aggies are given honorable mention for outstanding work that has merited praise from coaches and officials during the season. The Aggies honored are Cleland, Stark, Schindler, Nichols, and Sears.

Post Does Not Compile Team

The Kansas City Post did not compile an all-valley team, merely printing the selections of the valley coaches. Hahn, Sebring, and Schmitz each received one vote for the first eleven on the Post list, and Sebring and Stark each received two votes for positions on the second eleven. Cleland, Hahn, Swartz, and Nichols each received one vote for second team positions.

Faculty Wallop Extensionists

The faculty of the college met the extension division in football last Saturday afternoon and mopped them up in inglorious defeat to the rhythm of 41-0.

The game was featured by long runs at the feet of Haymaker, Marston, and Cave, each of whom made a touchdown without being tagged by any of the extension division defense. A spiral fall, twist and roll by Kelley of the extension team featured the work of the vanquished.

sweaters can be secured by that time, according to Mike Ahearn, athletic director.

Eleven Linemen on List

Eleven linemen and seven backfield warriors comprise the Aggie gridiron honor roll for this year. In the forward wall Captain R. E. "Shifty" Cleland, center; Ray Hahn, Ira Schindler, John Steiner, and Don D. Murphy, guards; Marion Stauffer, H. W. Schmitz, and R. M. Nichols, tackles; M. S. "Ship" Winter, H. L. Sebring, and Burr Smith, ends will receive the white sweaters with the purple insignia. The backfield athletes who were awarded the emblem are A. R. Stark, "Ding" Burton, L. J. Bryan, and "Brady" Cowell, halfbacks; M. B. Swartz and H. L. Brown, quarterbacks; and R. M. "Susie" Sears, fullback.

Captain Cleland, Burton, Winter, and Cowell, are all three-stripe men, having received their third football letter this fall, and Cleland, Winter, and Cowell will be lost from the Aggie fold through graduation before next year. "Ding" Burton played one year on the S. A. T. C. team and is therefore eligible to play another year in Aggie uniform. Sebring, Schmitz, Stauffer, Hahn, and Sears are two letter men in football. There is a possibility that Schmitz has played his last game for the Aggies as the hefty tackle has voiced his intention of graduating in summer school next year. The other nine players were awarded their first letter in this fall's pigskin campaign.

Honor Faithful Freshmen

First year sweaters were also awarded to 24 of Ted Curtiss' faithful freshman squad who have served as "meat" for the varsity through a grueling season. Coach Curtiss has had under his tutelage one of the best yearling squads boasted by K. S. A. C. for some time. Their determination, fighting qualities, and general football ability, has been no small factor in putting the fight into the regulars. The freshman gridgers who were given the 1925 jerseys are Ballard, Beck, Britt, Brown, Doolan, Ewing, Harter, Hutton, Henry, Kiefer, McCue, Munner, Munn, Manker, Nitzer, Phillips, Terban, Portner, Rheberg, Stewart, Thurrow, Ward, team second only to one in the Missouri valley.

Lose Cleland, Cowell, and Winter

Although the team will miss the excellent leadership of Captain Cleland, and the consistent work of Winter and Cowell next year, the prospects for an equally successful season in 1922 are exceedingly rosy. There is wonderful freshman material, many second string men whom were kept off the regular string only by intense competition this year, a whole squad of veterans, and there is Mike Ahearn's word for it that we have the best football coach in the Missouri valley.

KLOEFFLER ISSUES BULLETIN ON HEATING WITH WATER

Engineering Experiment Station Publishes Information for Consumers

Water heating in the home, a new bulletin issued by the engineering experiment station of K. S. A. C. has just been published.

The bulletin was prepared by Prof. R. G. Kloeffler, of the electrical engineering department, with the view of giving helpful information to the consumer of hot water.

"The question of hot water is a universal one, and little, if any, reliable information is available on the subject," says Professor Kloeffler. "While there is a separate problem for each home, the questions in general are those of cost, convenience, and efficiency. The investigational work covered in this bulletin lays special stress upon these three factors as secured in tests of coal, kerosene, gasoline, gas, and electrical water heaters. "The results of the work done show conclusively that the cost of operation is lowest with the use of coal heaters and highest with those of the electrical type. In speed of water heating, coal heaters rank first. In order of convenience, the electrical water heater is far in the lead while coal water heaters are last. In efficiency, the electrical water heater has the highest percentage."

LOVING CUP FOR LARGEST SALES

TROPHY GOES TO ORGANIZATION
SELLING MOST ROYAL PURPLES

Vice President Burger Engraving Company Presents "Nason Cup"—
Plan Used at M. U.

Everyone loves the thrill of competing for a prize and everyone will have a chance this year to work for the silver loving cup which is to be given for the largest sale of Royal Purples by any one organization.

The cup arrived last week. It is a large loving cup which stands 18 inches high with a base of black ebony about four inches in height. This cup is known as the "Nason Cup" and is given to the Royal Purple by Harold Nason, the vice president of the Burger Engraving company of Kansas City, Mo. Any organization may compete for the cup and when one organization wins the cup three years it will be the permanent property of that organization.

This plan has been used at Missouri university and it has been found that this competition greatly enlarges the sale of the annuals.

THE WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP

Over in Washington a group of men are sitting around a table and discussing various topics much in the manner that the village prophets sit on cracker barrels and discuss preventives of radiator freezing.

Upon this handful of men rest the hopes of millions in various parts of the world. Upon the result of their discussions rests the fulfillment of the wistful prayers of widows in many "Main Streets" who lost only sons in the great war, together with hopes of Kid Lavinski, the gashouse pugilist, who prefers to fight in a padded ring for $500 a minute than in a trench for $30 a month. The decisions of this body are likely to affect the bushmen, who in blithe ignorance are stalking their prey through the African jungles. It may tell whether the Chinese who cultivate rice on the banks of the Yang-tse Kiang will come to America and cultivate hand-laundries. It will vitally affect the life of every person on the globe.

Many who have read American history have wished they could have lived during the stirring days of '76, when the nation's life was hanging in the balance. Right now, if we are to believe predictions, the future of the human race is hanging in the balance. A battle is on between "Knockout Mars" and "Kid Civilization" for the championship of the world. Of course it will not arouse as much interest as the recent championship on Boyle's Thirty Acres, but it may be almost as important.—Ohio State Lantern.

IT WAS WORTH WHILE

The football season is over. Prince Basketball will soon have old King Football backed off the arena, and the wild-eyed fans will be directing their noise making toward the men in the abbreviated togs. Just now we have a breathing spell—a time for deliberation and consideration.

In the absence of the cheering, pep speeches, Wampus cats, and jazzy band music, let's stop and consider what we have accomplished by it all. In the Kansas City Star last Sunday, the all-valley teams were named. Although we failed to place a man on the first all-valley team, our record was unique in that we placed a total of ten men on the second and third teams and on the honor roll, being second only to Nebraska in the number of men mentioned. Besides this we tied for second in the race for the Valley pennant. This is a significant fact. We have no stars. We have a team. Our men have learned the one great lesson of athletics—to work together. They have worked for the good of the team, often sacrificing a chance to star, in order that the team might make the best possible showing for the school. Nor has this sacrificing been in vain. We as students have noted it and appreciated it. Our placing in the Valley race is evidence enough that it was worth while.

MISS HARRISON WRITES FOR JOURNAL OF HOME ECONOMICS

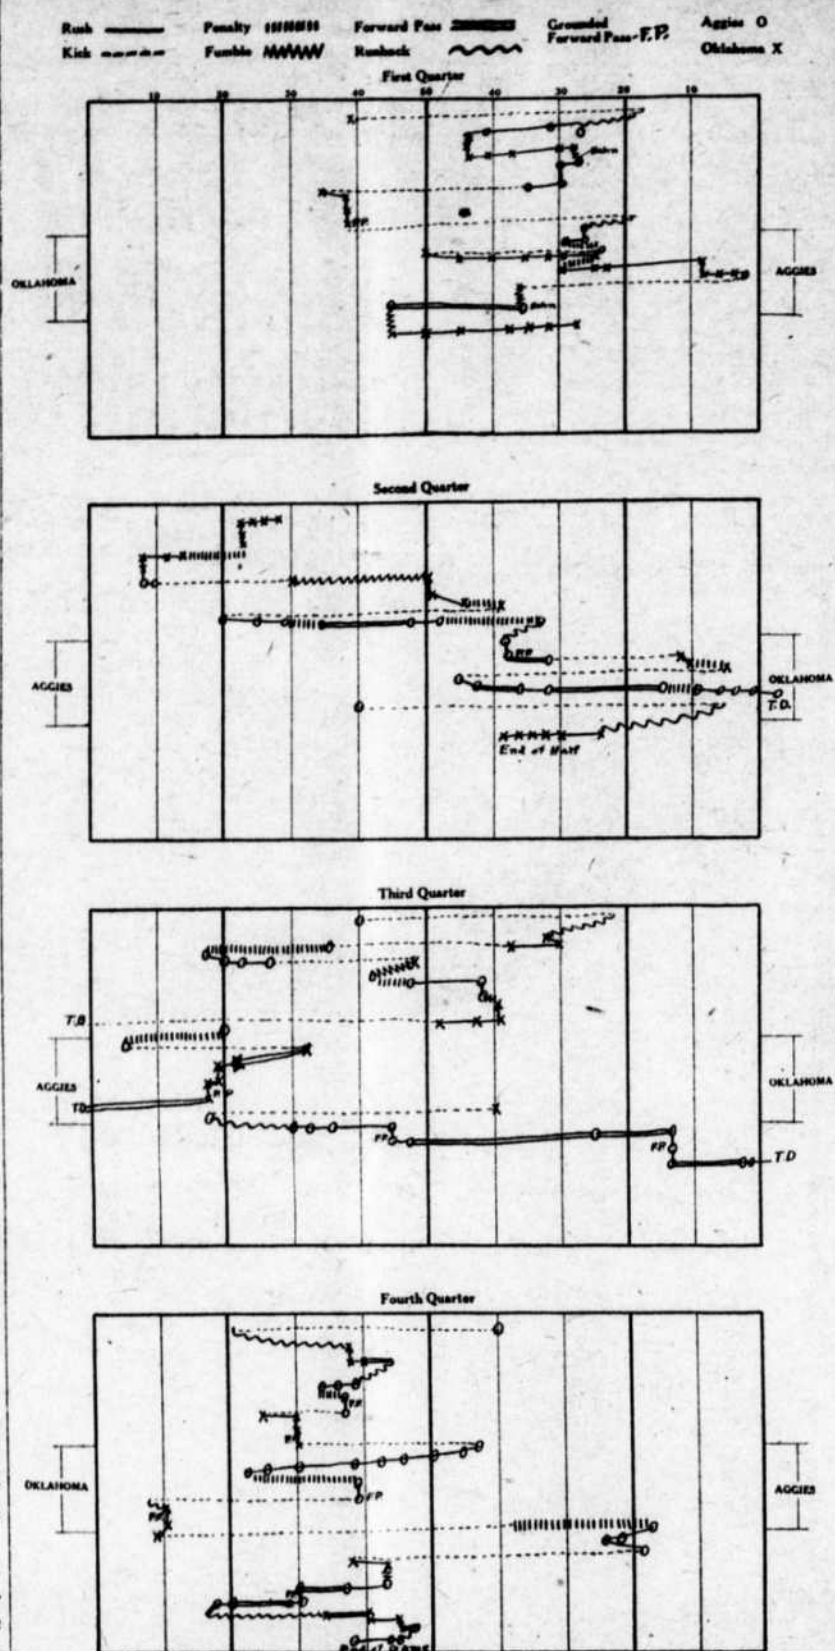

Is Making Study of Tensile Strength of Textiles

A detailed study of the tensile strength of cotton fabrics, muslins, sheeting, and tubing is being made by Miss Ruth Harrison, a student in home economics. The article giving the results will be published in the Journal of Home Economics.

Miss Harrison has undertaken careful experiments with three grades each of sheeting and tubing to determine the actual value of the fabrics as shown by the varying tensile strength in connection with the constant factors, yarn count, weight, and price.

There has been very little scientific investigation in the field of textiles except by people directly or indirectly concerned with the production and marketing of these goods and these experiments will be of much interest.

GRAPHIC ACCOUNT OF AGGIE-SOONER GAME

And Then a Lone Insignificant Fly Jimmed Your Work

The chemistry instructor tells you to weigh out approximately five tenths of a gram of aluminum. To weigh it out exactly would make the mathematical part of the calculation come out too easy. Not knowing your mathematics any too well, however, you prefer to weigh out the exact amount so that you may figure according to the amount given in the book. You boldly forget the directions given you by the instructor.

First, you place the small crucible on the scales and weigh it. Then follows a wild time between you and your conscience. You know that you should not try to measure the aluminum out exactly but it takes so long to figure it if you do the other way. Finally you win out and you remark in a polite but very convincing manner that your conscience knew nothing about it in the first place. You set the scales for five tenths of a gram and then for about three-fourths of an hour you try in vain to make the pretty little things balance. Then just as the one instructor that you simply can not fool, no matter what you do, comes in and tells you very kindly that you are not supposed to weigh it that way your conscience begins to get the upper hand again. When she retires from that little room once more you decide that your way is not really wrong after all so you continue the painful process.

The next time that you have the thing about balanced, some one comes in and slams the door, making you feel once more that you would like to do or say something that is not usually considered proper. So pass the weary hours of the morning and just as the bell rings for the end of the third hour you give a sigh of relief, but the next second you find that a little fly was resting on top of the aluminum and that you have weighed him too. Will you ever get through chemistry? Not if you ever lastingly use up the time for weighing aluminum. Next time, you firmly resolve, Well, there will be no next time if you can help it.

The hockey spread, an annual event following the hockey season, was held in the girls' gymnasium Monday, November 21, and was attended by 60 girls.

Stunts put on by the various classes and the announcement of the varsity hockey team, featured the entertainment. The stunts included a representation of the Oklahoma-Aggie football game, put on by the seniors, a murder scene, put on by the juniors, a hockey game as seen by the boys and by the girls, by the sophomores, and the enactment of a Mother Goose rhyme by the freshmen.

The members of the varsity hockey team, an honorary team chosen from the four class teams on the basis of both good sportsmanship and ability in playing the game, are: Grace Johnston, Dorothy Frost, Phyllis Burtis, Eunice Hobson, Lenore Doll, Alice Marston, Mary Nuttle, Eleanor Davis, Mary Rosener, Lillian Rommel, Hattie Betz, and Bertha Gwin.

RESOLUTIONS GET MANY RESPONSES

FIVE REPLIES RECEIVED FROM DISARMAMENT RESOLUTIONS

Answers Are from Lodge, Underwood, Root, Capper, and Curtis

In response to the resolutions sent to the American members of the disarmament conference and the senators from Kansas representing the attitude of the faculty and student body on the question of armaments, five replies have been received.

The first reply received was from Senator Henry Cabot Lodge who expressed his appreciation for the interest taken by college students generally in the current questions before the peoples of the world, and pledged his help toward bringing about a general limitation of armaments. Senator O. W. Underwood, another member of the commission stated that he was "quite optimistic that the conference can work out great results that we all desire," and that he would certainly do his best in that regard. Senator Elihu Root expressed his appreciation of the resolutions as this enables representatives to ascertain public sentiment.

Senator Arthur Capper wrote in reply: "There is a world-wide yearning for an end to war. The advancement of civilization demands it. I am very earnest in hope, therefore, that out of this conference shall come immediately steps toward decided reduction in military and naval armaments and a movement which will lead ultimately to world peace. I believe substantial progress will be made in that direction and it is most fitting, it seems to me, that our nation, the greatest and most powerful of all, should lead the way in such a splendid movement."

Senator Charles Curtis expressed the hope that "the results of the conference will be to the entire satisfaction of the American people and that we shall have everlasting peace."

ENTERTAIN MEMBERS OF PI KAPPA DELTA AT BANQUET

Kammeyer Tells of Early Work in "Oratory and Elocution"

Members of Pi Kappa Delta, honorary forensic fraternity, were entertained with a banquet at the Pines recently by two of the members of the fraternity, Walter Rolfe and Harold Howe. Special guests were Dr. J. E. Kammeyer, Prof. Eric Englund, and Mr. Chas. W. Matthews.

In an after dinner speech Doctor Kammeyer told of the work in "oratory and elocution" which was given in the college a quarter of a century ago. Doctor Kammeyer, who established the department of public speaking and coached college orators for eight years, gave many interesting reminiscences of former forensic contests. Professor Englund, acting head of the department of agricultural economics, who was for three years a member of debate teams at the Oregon State university, spoke of debating in the western conference.

PUBLIC DEMONSTRATIONS GIVE STUDENTS POINTERS

Visitors Welcome to Class in Foods Demonstrations

A public demonstrator for the H. D. Lee Mercantile company of Kansas City recently gave a demonstration of the Lee products before the class in food demonstrations of the home economics division. The demonstrator offered some valuable points in demonstrating gained from her own experience, which will be of use to the girls who expect to follow demonstrating as a profession.

Miss Velma Shumard will demonstrate the uses of corn oil and corn syrup before the same class on Tuesday, December 13. Miss Shumard represents the Corn Products Refining company. The class in food demonstrations meets from 1 to 4 o'clock in the home economics hall, room 2. Visitors will be welcome at this demonstration. Anyone interested in the demonstration work is invited to attend either special demonstrations or the regular class demonstrations which are given by the class every Tuesday.

Students With Kid Brothers or Sisters Will Like "Clarence"

Have you a kid sister or brother with whom you've had many a wordy quarrel? If you have you will appreciate "Clarence," with Louise Mowry and Jimmie Albright as Cora and Bobby.

Everyone in "Clarence" is in love with Clarence but the last card in the love game is played by Renna Rosenthal who takes the part of Violet Pinney. Her card is the lucky one and draws Clarence.

Clarence has been discharged from the army after the war with no greater casualty than a defective liver, and he comes into the life of the Wheeler family amid a series of domestic troubles, and then the fun begins. You will enjoy Margaret Ansdell as Mrs. Wheeler, watchful and insanely jealous of Mr. Wheeler, whose part is taken by Maurice Laine.

Monday's rehearsal of "Clarence" found the cast to be working hard under the direction of Ray Holcombe. Although the date of the play has not been definitely set it is believed that the date will be sometime early in December.

Collection Is Result of Work of Brooklyn Botanical Gardens

Valuable and interesting pictures of noted botanists and biologists are on display in the hallway of the department of botany and plant pathology.

Arrangements for getting these pictures were made last winter by Prof. L. E. Melchers when he visited the Brooklyn Botanical Gardens in New York where a set was on display.

This group consists of 49 prints, 8 by 10 inches in size with sepia finish. This college is the first to receive permission to have this set.

The Brooklyn Botanical Garden has been working for a number of years getting this collection together. Photographs of these distinguished men have been made from old records, books, and other sources. In many cases it required magnifying and in others a reduction of old wood cuts to get a set of pictures of uniform size.

The pictures have been framed in a uniform style and are now hanging in the hallway where students and visitors can see them at any time. A short history goes with each picture, telling who the scientist was, when he lived and died, and what his contributions to botanical and biological sciences were. The collection includes such men as Pasteur, Mendel, and Asa Gray.

These pictures are the property of the department of botany and plant pathology. They will remain permanently in the building. They are hanging on either side of the stairway leading from the first to the second floor of the building.

POST SCHEDULE OF INTRAMURALS

THIRTY SQUADS TO PLAY IN BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

Teams Divided Into Three Divisions, National Frats, Locals, and Independent Clubs

Announcement of the intramural basketball schedule for fraternities and clubs has been made. The schedule consists of 30 different squads which are divided into three divisions: the Pan-Hellenic division including all national fraternities, and division A and B which includes all local fraternities and independent clubs.

The schedule which is posted at the main gym entrance gives the date of every game that is to be played in every division. Each squad will meet with every one in its division and so by elimination the championship will be decided. The schedule of the first games, the date and time at which they are played, follow:

November 28—Whiz Bangs vs. Tre-go club, 6 to 7 o'clock; Alpha Psi vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 6 to 7 o'clock; T. N. K. vs. Omega Tau Epsilon, 7 to 8 o'clock; Phi Delta Theta vs. Acacia, 7 to 8 o'clock; Boomerang club vs. Phi Delta Tau, 8 to 9 o'clock; Pi Kappa Alpha vs. Kappa Sigma, 8 to 9 o'clock.

November 29—Alpha Tau Omega vs. Beta Theta Pi, 6 to 7 o'clock; Kappa Phi Alpha vs. Architectural club, 6 to 7 o'clock; Sigma Phi Epsilon vs. Delta Tau Delta, 7 to 8 o'clock; Triangles vs. Whiz Bangs, 7 to 8 o'clock; Edgerton club vs. Canary Birds, 8 to 9 o'clock; Elkhart club vs. Barbs, 8 to 9 o'clock.

November 30—Acacia vs. Pi Kappa Alpha, 6 to 7 o'clock; Pratt county vs. College club, 6 to 7 o'clock; Kappa Sigma vs. Alpha Psi, 7 to 8 o'clock; Phi Kappa vs. Sigma Nu, 7 to 8 o'clock; Erwin Independents vs. Tre-go county, 8 to 9 o'clock; Phi Delta Tau vs. T. N. K. club, 8 to 9 o'clock.

E. H. Knott of the physical education department states that unusual interest is being shown in the tournament this year and he predicts a hot contest for the championship of each division.

AG MAGAZINE TO BE ISSUED SOON

ALL BUT ONE ARTICLE WRITTEN BY STUDENTS

Feature Story of Agricultural Conditions in Serbia Is by S. J. Coe

The Kansas Agricultural Student, a magazine published by the students in the division of agriculture, will make its initial appearance, probably the latter part of this week. The publication contains 32 pages, and has more than 20 articles, and several illustrations.

As was intended, the magazine is a student publication. Only one article, that entitled "Principles That Should Govern the Planting of Forest Trees," by Albert Dickens, head of the department of horticulture, is by a faculty member. Students in the various departments of the division furnished nearly all of the copy. The feature article of the issue is by S. J. Coe, on agricultural conditions in Serbia. In a most interesting manner the story of primitive agricultural practices still used by Serbian peasants is related. An idea of the economic position of women is conveyed in the statement, "Serbian girls do not play dolls. Before they reach the age of sweet sixteen, their hands are calloused, and their backs bowed. The women do as much work in the field as do the men." Another story on agriculture in a foreign country is that written by J. F. T. Mostert on beef production in South Africa.

Two articles which will appeal to high school boys, many of whom will receive copies of the magazine, are entitled "Coming Kansas Stockmen" by J. Wheeler Barger, and "The Kansas Boys' Stock Judging Team" by Arnold J. Englund. The first tells of boys who won prizes on baby beef calves at the Kansas Free fair this fall, and the other is about the boys' judging team which was coached by Nevels Pearson and won third place in the Boys' International contest at Atlanta last month.

Three articles are of a technical nature, yet written in an interesting style. "Selection as a Method of Improving Self-fertilized Plants" by Bert B. Bayles contains some recent discoveries of plant breeders; and "Cost of Production Studies" and "Farm Storage Problems in Marketing Kansas Wheat," both written by H. Irving Richards, give results of recent investigations of agricultural economics at the Kansas agricultural experiment station.

A human interest story "The Silver Lining" by C. B. Roberts is an interesting account of the bright side of working one's way through college. The Ag fair, the Agricultural association, the judging teams, Matchless Dale, the experimental work carried on at the greenhouses, and notes about alumni are also written up in the magazine.

The ags give Earl Means, the editor, a great deal of credit for the success of the publication. Having no precedent to go by, he made an intensive study of similar publications of leading agricultural colleges to get the best features from them. J. Scott Stewart was business manager of the magazine; J. W. Farmer, assistant editor; Prof. Hugh Durham, advisory editor; and S. J. Coe, and E. M. Coles, members of the publication board.

OHIO STATE DAY OBSERVED BY ALUMNI IN MANHATTAN

Radio Stunt Is Feature in Big Day of Ohio Alumni

The alumni of the Ohio State university living in Manhattan observed Ohio State day on November 25. This day was selected by the alumni association of the university for the gathering of the clans all over the country.

A nation-wide radio stunt was one of the chief features. President W. G. Harding addressed the various gatherings through the use of the Arlington navy department station. Immediately after President Harding's message, President W. O. Thompson of the Ohio State university, addressed the alumni from the university station at Columbus. These messages were picked up by powerful relay stations.

After an informal supper held at the residence of Prof. L. E. Call, the gathering of Ohio State alumni convened at the physics building to receive the radio reports.

Aggie faculty members who have degrees from Ohio State include: L. E. Call, J. P. Calderwood, L. E. Melchers, F. F. Frazier, Malcolm Sewell, Ralph Kennedy, J. S. Hughes, and R. C. Smith.

PUBLISH FIRST EXTENSION NEWS

MIMEOGRAPHED TEN PAGE PAPER TO BE ISSUED MONTHLY

Circulation Is Among Extension Employees of Kansas and Other States

The first number of the Kansas Extension News, the official publication of the division of extension, appeared on November 15. It is designed as a house organ for circulation among extension employees of this and other states.

The News is a 10 page, mimeographed paper, published monthly and is in charge of J. B. Bennett, extension editor, under the direction of Dean H. Umberger. The paper will cover the various projects of the extension division, including county agent, home demonstration agent and county club work, as well as the activities of the central office staff.

The November issue contains, among other features, write-ups of the wireless telephone plant to be installed next year at K. S. A. C., by which the extension division will send the daily market reports out to the various county offices over the state, and an announcement of Farm and Home Week February 6 to 11. A review of the successful experiments conducted by the plant pathology department in acclimating the Porto Rico sweet potato, a disease resisting variety, and an account of the campaign for the extermination of the prairie dog, which is being undertaken in the western group of counties are included in the News. Other features are an account of successful organization work in Crawford county and an announcement of recent publications of the division, including Professor T. J. Talbert's "Extension Worker's Code," and a catalog covering the work of the Home Study Service department.

Already, numerous letters have been received, from extension workers in Kansas and other states commending the division upon the initial appearance of the Extension News.

SPEECH DEFECT HOSPITAL TURNS OUT MANY CURES

Holcombe Holds Class Monday, Thursday, and Friday

The disease of ending declarative sentences with rising inflections has been partially stamped out by special classes in speech defect which meet Monday, Thursday, and Friday afternoons from 4 to 5 o'clock in G56. Nearly 50 patients have been in attendance at the speech defect hospital, and more than half of these have been dismissed as permanent cures by Prof. Ray E. Holcombe.

The classes were organized a month ago to assist students in overcoming the use of rising inflections at the end of declarative sentences. Attendance is voluntary, but the number present has averaged more than 15 since the classes were opened. Some of the students overcome their difficulty in one period, while others find it necessary to report two or three times. One student who is badly afflicted has attended every session of the class and has not completely overcome his difficulty, but with perseverance says: "I'm going to fight it out along this line if it takes 'till Christmas."

COLLEGE COLORED GIRLS ORGANIZE BIBLE CLASS

To Assist Y. W. C. A. in Work with Younger Children

The colored girls of K. S. A. C. have organized a Bible class which meets each Monday noon in the Y. W. C. A. rest room. "Students' Standards of Action" has been chosen as the book for study at the meetings. The girls have chosen a club president and committees, who will work in cooperation with the social service committee of the Y. W. C. A., with the younger colored girls of Manhattan.

A club of the children was started last year and the work will be extended this year through this new organization of college girls. The little girls meet regularly and are enthusiastic club workers.

A musical program may be given at vespers later in the year by the colored girls of the college and the little girls with whom they are working.

Returns From Southeastern Kansas

Prof. H. H. Laude of the department of agronomy has returned from a trip in southeastern Kansas, where he harvested cooperative experiments with corn. In Cherokee county, O. A. Rhoades has a corn fertilizer test that is combined with tile drainage experiments. Mr. Rhoades is also cooperating with the agronomy department to obtain a better strain of Midland Yellow Dent corn, a variety which he originated a number of years ago.

In Allen county, A. M. Dunlap is cooperating with the department in conducting rotation and fertilizer experiments. This work was started in 1914 and has been continued in a systematic way since that time, thus giving reliable information for that locality.

Y. SENDS EXHIBIT TO HI-Y CONFERENCE AT EMPORIA

More Than 1,000 High School Students See Aggie Views

An exhibit depicting student life at K. S. A. C. was prepared by John Post, member of the special work committee of the Y. M. C. A., and displayed at the conference of Hi-Y boys held at Emporia last week end.

The exhibit contained large panoramic scenes of the campus; action views of the Washington, Missouri, Grinnell, and Oklahoma games, with the scores below the pictures; and a large number of views of interesting events such as May Fete, Roughneck day, and the Ag fair.

More than 1,000 high school boys from over the state saw the exhibit, which was artistically displayed and surrounded by Aggie pennants.

BASKETEERS GET IN TRIM FOR SEASON

FIVE FORMER BACHMANITES ARE SHOOTING BASKETS

Bryan, Foval, Williams, and Cowell
Are Letter Men Back—Kuykendall
Is Expected After Christmas

With the successful football season just closed leaving a pleasant lingering flavor in the sporting tastes of Aggie fans, attention is turning gradually to basketball. After performing a few final gastronomical feats at banquet tables and enjoying the flesh pots following a severe gridiron training season, several of the erstwhile pigskin warriors are taking up the caging sport to work off surplus energy.

Among the former Bachmanites who now aspire to shoot at the basket are "Brady" Cowell, captain of this year's basketball squad, L. J. Bryan, "Hank" Webber, A. R. Stark, Ray Hahn, and V. O. Clements.

Intramural Contests Fill In

While the intramural contests are filling in the interim before the opening of the regular caging season, varsity basketball practice is well under way under Coach Curtiss, and about 50 prospective cagers are reporting on the courts every evening. All the mainstays of last year's quintet excepting "Brady" Cowell were lost by graduation. However, four letter men, "Rocky" Bryan, F. Foval, Fred Williams, and Cowell, are back, and C. Kuykendall, another letter man is expected to return to school after the holidays. The lanky trackster alternated at center last season and his reach and experience should make him a valuable asset to the Aggie squad.

Curtiss Says Prospects Are Promising

With these veterans as a nucleus around which to build a team, Coach Curtiss regards the prospects as promising, and it is not unlikely that a team will be developed that will make the Aggies strong championship contenders for the sixth consecutive season. The Wildcat five placed third in the valley race last year and had the honor of spoiling the all-victorious record of the championship Missouri team by trouncing them in the final game of the season at Columbia.

Candidates Showing Form

Among the candidates who are showing form are Bryan, F. Williams, Foval, Dobson, Hadley, Wann, Grothusen, Rader, Anderson, and "Shorty" Williams, forwards; Helea, Webber, and Pate, centers; and Cowell, Hahn, Harris, Lane, Robb, and Jenkins, guards. It is likely that the intramurals now in progress will also uncover some good material.

A "round robin" arrangement of the valley basketball schedule as fixed at a recent meeting of the valley athletic directors at Kansas City, provides that every valley team shall meet every other conference quintet twice, once on the home court and once on the opponents'. Thus the Aggies will play a total of 16 games, eight at home and eight on foreign courts. The curtain raiser will be Manhattan vs. Grinnell at K. S. A. C. on January 5.

The complete schedule is as follows:

The Basketball Schedule
January 5—Grinnell at Manhattan.
January 14—Washington at Manhattan.
January 16—Ames at Manhattan.
January 20—Oklahoma at Norman.
February 4—Washington at St. Louis.
February 3—Missouri at Columbia.
February 8—Kansas at Manhattan.
February 10—Oklahoma at Manhattan.
February 14—Nebraska at Manhattan.
February 22—Grinnell at Grinnell.
February 23—Drake at Des Moines.
February 24—Ames at Ames.
February 28—Kansas at Lawrence.
March 1—Drake at Manhattan.
March 3—Nebraska at Lincoln.
March 6—Missouri at Manhattan.

EISENHOWER TO TRY FOR OXFORD

PROMINENT STUDENT MAY GET RHODES SCHOLARSHIP

Committee of Selection Meets in Lawrence December
2 and 3

When the committee of selection meets in Lawrence Friday and Saturday, December 2 and 3, to select a Rhodes scholar for Oxford university, England, K. S. A. C. will be represented by Milton S. Eisenhower. This is the first time in the history of the college that a Kansas State man has received an appointment for the scholarship to Oxford university.

Eisenhower received his appointment through President W. M. Jardine the past summer when he was managing one of the Redpath-Horner chautauquas. Some of the most prominent business men and educators in Kansas are backing and boosting the Aggie candidate. It is assured that his scholastic standing, college activities, character, leadership, and other requirements will warrant a favorable consideration by the judges this week end.

Thirty-two men are sent to Oxford from the United States each year. Kansas selected a man last year who went on October 2 of this year. The successful candidate from Kansas this year will go in October 1922. The following year no election is held in this state.

There is one candidate, William Carey of Hutchinson, who received his appointment through Cornell university, who is expected to be a formidable candidate. O'Leary and Cochran, both of Kansas university, are spoken of favorably. Three other candidates from K. U. and several other men from large institutions comprise the list of prospects for Kansas.

While persons of influence in the college are backing Eisenhower and hoping that he will be the successful candidate, it is a distinct honor to the institution to be represented whether he is selected as the one to go to Oxford or not. His record in securing the appointment has set a precedent that will be easy for other Aggies to follow.

Eisenhower won the Missouri valley oratorical contest last year, both the college extempo and oratorical contests, and won the short story contest the year before. He has edited the Collegian, the Brown Bull, and has worked on several publications in the state. A number of his stories have run in prominent magazines. Eisenhower is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Delta Chi, Journalistic fraternity, Kansas Authors' club, American College Quill club, Forum, Pi Kappa Delta, Purple Masque, and several other organizations. He has been student assistant in the public speaking and journalism departments.

If selected for Oxford, the Aggie candidate will continue his training in magazine writing.

ORGANIZE NEW CHAPTER HERE

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN ESTABLISHED

Graduates of This College Not Eligible at Present—May Be Soon

A chapter of the National Association of University Women recently has been established at K. S. A. C. The local chapter is composed of women teaching here and of graduates of state universities, women's colleges, and of other institutions.

The graduates of colleges primarily for technical education have been eligible only to associate membership. However, a short time ago a number of these technical institutions raised their requirements for granting degrees to the standards of state universities and upon the request of a large number of the alumnae the graduates were admitted into full membership in the association. The Iowa State college is an example of a technical institution whose graduates have been made regular members of the organization. Since K. S. A. C. has been granting a standard degree for over three years, it only remains for the women graduates to join as associate members in large numbers and to make a request for admittance as regular members.

The Association of University Women is an organization of women trained in universities and colleges in this country and in foreign lands who are engaged in every profession and occupation. The principal purpose of the organization is to encourage other and younger women in the appreciation of higher education.

Mrs. C. F. Baker is president of the local chapter and those on the membership committee are: Miss Bess McKittrick, Miss Grace Derby, and Miss Louise P. Glanton. Any of these women will be glad to give information regarding the organization and its purposes.

The Christian Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church will initiate new members Sunday, December 4, at 6 o'clock. Other important business is to be considered.

Dr. C. M. Siever, the college physician, is emphasizing again the necessity for all students receiving the vaccination for small pox. Not only for prevention, which is, of course the prime reason, but so that in case any of those who have received vaccination should contract the disease they may receive medical attention at the college's contagious hospital. Those who have not been vaccinated and take the disease must go to the pest house.

HAHN TO LEAD AGGIE ELEVEN NEXT SEASON

THREE-LETTER VETERAN IS ELECTED AT BANQUET

IS STAR THROUGHOUT SEASON

Ahearn, Bachman, Curtiss, and King
Attend Conference on Missouri Valley Matters Held at Kansas City

Ray D. Hahn, of Clay Center, three-letter veteran of the Aggie football eleven, was elected captain of the 1922 gridiron squad, at a banquet given to members of this year's squad by Mr. Fred Boone at the Gillette hotel Wednesday evening.

Captain Hahn has played two years on the varsity eleven and one season on the S. A. T. C. team. He is regarded as one of the greatest guards ever developed at K. S. A. C. During the season just closed he played practically from the beginning to the final whistle in every contest, and starred consistently in the work of the Aggie line. Although weighing close to 190 pounds he is exceptionally fast, besides being powerfully aggressive, and possessing unusual ability to diagnose plays. He was placed on the first All-Valley team selected by the Kansas City Journal, and given a guard position on the second team selected by the Kansas City Star.

The Football Men at Banquet

The football men present at the banquet were Captain R. E. Cleland, H. L. Sebring, Frank Linn, H. J. Counsell, V. D. Gilpin, R. M. Nichols, Marion Stauffer, K. I. Church, H. W. Schmitz, C. C. Griffin, John Franz, Ira Schindler, D. D. Murphy, R. M. Steiner, Perry Betz, H. Webber, C. J. Canary, Ray Hahn, J. Quinn, E. J. Mueller, H. J. Staib, Burr Smith, Paul Evans, S. P. Gatz, Hartzell Burton, W. Cowell, C. A. Brandley, R. M. Sears, V. O. Clements, A. W. Butcher, A. R. Stark, L. J. Bryan, D. Randall, H. L. Brown, Burr Swartz, and Hector Harris. Athletic director Mike Ahearn, head coach Charles W. Bachman, freshman coach Ted Curtiss, assistant coaches Jackson, Muldoon, and Holtz, and Dr. H. H. King also got into the final big scrimmage with the men and are said to have gotten away for good gains against the menu. Prof. C. E. Rogers and Cliff Stratton were also guests.

Ahearn and Bachman Speak

Short speeches were made by Ahearn and Bachman, the latter making special reference to the leadership and ability of captain "Shifty" Cleland. Cleland responded by thanking his teammates for their spirit and unflagging efforts during the season, and expressed sincere regret at leaving the Aggie fold. Captain-elect Hahn made a brief speech acknowledging the confidence his men had placed in him, and pledged his best efforts towards making the 1922 football season as successful as the one just finished.

Following the banquet director Ahearn, head coach Bachman, basketball coach Ted Curtiss, and Doctor King of the athletic board left for Kansas City to attend a three days' conference at the Hotel Baltimore that will serve as a clearing house for a number of questions in the field of valley intercollegiate sports.

Attend Meeting of Valley Directors

On December 1, director Ahearn, and Coach Curtiss attended a meeting for the purpose of interpreting and standardizing basketball playing rules. Friday, director Ahearn will participate in a meeting of the valley directors at which the football, baseball and track schedules for 1922 will be worked out. Coach Bachman will confer with other valley coaches on arrangements for an indoor track meet to be held in Convention hall. Doctor King will represent the K. S. A. C. faculty at a gathering of faculty representatives, this body composing the governing body of Missouri Valley athletics.

A. C. Leite, special in agriculture, and Julian Herrera, freshman in agriculture, attended the International stock show in Chicago. They are both foreign students.

CHILDREN GIVE RECITAL SATURDAY—INVITE PUBLIC

Four Classes for Children Are Now
Offered at K. S. A. C.

The first recital by the children's piano department will be given Saturday, December 3, at 2:30 o'clock at the auditorium. About 30 children will play.

These recitals of children given last year under the direction of Miss Helen M. Colburn were among the most interesting of all the activities of the music department.

These classes are conducted along the lines found successful by the leading teachers of children in America and four classes are now offered here, kindergarten, and first, second, and third years.

The public is invited to attend these recitals.

GRAVEURE'S ART IS OUTSTANDING

GREAT BARITONE PROVES VER-SATILE SONG INTERPRETER

Scarcity of Students Is Noticeable—Faculty and Townspeople Compose Audience

If Louis Graveure ever returns to Manhattan, and it is to be hoped that he will, he will be assured of a packed house.

The great baritone who appeared in the second number of the Artists' Series in the auditorium Monday evening, satisfactorily demonstrated that he is the most versatile, most intelligent, and most enterprising interpreter of song before the public today.

One of the secrets of Graveure's success is that he understands human nature and knows how to please people. This was reflected in his program. It was varied and he seemed to have studied how best to turn from grave to gay, contrasting the dramatic and lyric qualities of a voice of wonderful sweetness, wide range and great flexibility.

The famous "Toreador Song" from Carmen was so superbly done as to draw a burst of applause that has rarely been equalled in the auditorium. The "Toreador Song" and "Shipmate o' Mine" were probably the best and most popular numbers.

Although small the audience was one of the most enthusiastic that ever greeted a distinguished visitor to Manhattan. An outstanding feature was the absence of students. Townspeople and faculty members composed the greater part of the audience.

Mr. Graveure was sympathetically accompanied by Mr. Roger Demming, who also delighted the audience with two selections "Aufschwung" by Schuman and "Etude de Concert" by MacDowell.

DO THINGS UP BROWN IN POP NIGHT OPENER

SEVEN STUNTS WILL BE PRE-SENTED BY ORGANIZATIONS

PERFORMANCE BEGINS AT EIGHT

Between Act Stunts Will Be Given—Dope Says 87 Persons Will Have to Stand at Entertainment
This Evening

There are 2,167 seats in the auditorium. The Y. W. C. A. committee has had printed and sold 2,254 tickets to the annual Pop Night stunts which are to be given in the auditorium tonight. Eighty-seven people will be obliged to stand during the performance—not as a mark of respect to the quality of the stunting done, but because every seat will be taken when they arrive. The 87 will be the last ones to arrive at the auditorium.

"Get There Early" Is Advice

"Get there early," says Polly Hedges, chairman of the Y. W. C. A. Pop Night committee.

"The overcrowded condition of the auditorium last year when 2,700 tickets were sold led the committee in charge of Pop Night this year to count the seats in the auditorium, and to print but a few more than the capacity of the hall. We plan to sell every ticket before the doors open Friday night, and to prevent a recurrence of last year's conditions when many townspeople and students who journeyed to the auditorium for the performance were forced to journey back again without seeing the stunts. My advice to students is to buy your tickets early."

"In Between's" a la Orpheum

Seven organizations will present original skits in the competition for the Pop Night cup. In addition seven other stunts will be put on between the headline acts of the Y. W. C. A. vaudeville. The "in between's" are not to be given a place on the program this year, but are to be announced by stage panels a la Orpheum.

Titles Seem Topsy Turvy

The coed who arranged the program for the stunts got things a trifle topsy-turvy putting "Do It Up Brown," the Pi Beta Phi stunt, at the top of the list, when its name would entitle it to presentation as a finale. "Falling Stars," presented by the Ionian literary society, follows "Do It Up Brown" on the Pop Night schedule, and the Websters come next with "In Memoriam." Whether the Webbs conduct services for the fallen stars or for those who have been done up brown is not stated by the Y. W. program committee.

"Inner Harmony" is the offering of the Aggie Press club to the K. S. A. C. vaudeville goers. The printer's devils have done an about face since they promoted discord among the members of the Topeka Press club by revealing some inside dope concerning prominent Topekan in the profession, and have gone into the business of promoting that brotherly spirit, if the title of their stunt is any criterion.

Following after "Inner Harmony" comes the Alpha Beta literary society with "The Paper Star." The juxtaposition of the press club and A. B. stunts may indicate that the literary society is to take a "poke" at the journalists—and it may not. The title sounds suspicious, though.

"Nobody's Hour," Alpha Delta Pi's bid for the Pop Night cup draws sixth place on the card: The title expert for the Alpha Delta's has the mystery habit, and it's impossible to discern from its name the manner of stunt theirs is. The closing number demonstrates again the topsy-turviness of the program. "The Awakening" staged by the Horticultural club is the curtain stunt.

Five Experts to Judge Stunts

The stunts will be judged by three foreign and two local experts in matters of stage presentation, skit construction, and originality.

The Pop night stunts begin at 8 o'clock. The doors of the auditorium open at 7.

THE ROYAL PURPLE—AN AGGIE TRADITION

The Royal Purple is the college year book. Even more than that it is one of the oldest of Aggie traditions. The addition of a historic feature to the annual makes it even more valuable to Aggies. In the Royal Purple the student has the entire history of his institution and particularly of the years in which he is in college. The management of this year's book has made a reduction in price which is especially commendable. Students should order their books now and give the members of the staff assurance of their support for the 1922 Royal Purple.

YOUTH IS THE TIME FOR EXPERIMENTATION

A fair estimate of the number of students who attended the Louis Graveure concert last Monday night would be in the neighborhood of 150. The rest of the audience was composed of faculty and townspeople. When we consider that Graveure is one of the highest paid baritone singers in the United States the surprisingly small number of students in attendance presents a rather serious problem.

Lack of money as an excuse is eliminated at the start when note is taken of the number of students who attend dances and movies each week. Money will be spent for the things which students actually desire to attend. Lack of time as an excuse is eliminated almost as easily for substantially the same reasons. The average student's life is never so full but that he may find time to attend those things which he really wishes to attend.

The proposition therefore simmers down to this. The majority of students at this college have weighed their desires in the balance and have decided that their amusements shall consist of pleasures which have little or no educational value. They taboo anything which has even the suggestion of being for intellectual development when it comes to spending their spare moments.

Youth is the time for experimentation. Old age is the time we naturally expect a person to fall into fixed habits. The advantages of variety are not so many with age, but when college students barely out of their teens set themselves in a rut and say, "I do not like this particular form of amusement, therefore I will not go," they are making a serious decision. It indicates a smug and self satisfied state of mind which is the universal enemy of progress and advancement. It is a state of mind which would have denied these same students the modern conveniences and modern standards of living of the present day had it existed among our forefathers.

OUTLINE PARTY PERMIT SYSTEM

S. S. G. A. COMMITTEES DECIDE ON PROCEDURE NECESSARY

Paid Chaperones Are Required for Dances Given in Public Halls—Organization Pays

The social affairs and calendar committees of the S. S. G. A. executive council have outlined the following procedure which must be gone through in getting permission for social functions or any student event.

All organizations desiring dates for social affairs should send a request to Clara Evans, chairman of the calendar committee, who will fill out a permission blank and return it to the person making the request. This permission for the date must be left in Dean Mary P. Van Zile's office with the name of the chaperon engaged. The permission must then be approved by the chairman of the social affairs committee at least 48 hours before the time set for the function.

All dances that are held in any public hall shall have a paid chaperon who is selected by the S. S. G. A. and approved by the welfare board of the city and college. A list of men who are available as paid chaperones will be found in Dean Van Zile's office and when permission is obtained for the function one of these men shall be chosen. It is the duty of the person securing the permit to consult with the chaperon chosen and report back to the office if the chaperon thus consulted is engaged. Those chaperones are to be paid by the organization giving the dance. The charge shall be $5 and shall be deposited at Dean Van Zile's office when the permit is received.

Hittorf or Crookes Tube

How Were X-Rays Discovered?

SIR James Mackenzie Davidson visited Professor Roentgen to find out how he discovered the X-rays.

Roentgen had covered a vacuum tube, called a Hittorf or Crookes tube, with black paper so as to cut off all its light. About four yards away was a piece of cardboard coated with a fluorescent compound. He turned on the current in the tube. The cardboard glowed brightly.

Sir James asked him: "What did you think?"

"I didn't think, I investigated," said Roentgen. He wanted to know what made the cardboard glow. Only planned experiments could give the answer. We all know the practical result. Thousands of lives are saved by surgeons who use the X-rays.

Later on, one of the scientists in the Research Laboratory of the General Electric Company became interested in a certain phenomenon sometimes observed in incandescent lamps. Others had observed it but he, like Roentgen, investigated. The result was the discovery of new laws governing electrical conduction in high vacuum.

Another scientist in the same laboratory saw that on the basis of those new laws he could build a new tube for producing X-rays more effectively. This was the Coolidge X-ray tube which marked the greatest advance in the X-ray art since the original discovery by Roentgen.

Thus, scientific investigation of a strange phenomenon led to the discovery of a new art, and scientific investigation of another strange phenomenon led to the greatest improvement in that art.

It is for such reasons that the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company are continually investigating, continually exploring the unknown. It is new knowledge that is sought. But practical results follow in an endless stream, and in many unexpected ways.

ROYAL PURPLE CAMPAIGN IS IN FULL SWING

SALESMEN MAY STILL CHECK OUT RECEIPT BOOKS

MORE THAN 100 COEDS SELLING

Historical Feature of Book Receives Favorable Comment from Students, Faculty and Alumnae of K. S. A. C.

The Royal Purple sales campaign which is now on and will last until the end of next week, is promising to be a great success for several reasons. The contributing factors are a substantial reduction in price, the efforts of more than a hundred coeds representing a score of organizations contesting for the Nason loving cup, and several independent salesmen working for one of the three prizes of $35, $20, and $10 in photography at the Studio Royal.

Price May Be $4.50

The price of the Royal Purple this year is $4.50 providing 1,500 books are sold. If less than that number are sold the price will be $5. It will therefore be to the advantage of every Aggie student who buys an annual to help sell his neighbor one so that he will be assured of the reduction in price.

It is not too late for salesmen to check out receipt books and get into the contest. The list of organizations entering the contest is rapidly increasing. For every 25 books sold the individual will be given one. If an individual earns three of four books he can dispose of them in any way he desires.

Historical Feature Receives Comment

The historical feature of the 1922 annual is receiving very favorable comment from students, alumnae, and faculty. Maurice Laine, senior in journalism says, "The 1922 Royal Purple will be a history in years to come that money can't buy."

N. A. Crawford, head of the department of journalism, says, "The historical features in the 1922 Royal Purple will make the volume unique. The reader will be enabled to travel back to the little college of the sixties, when old President Denison, as the ancient song says, Taught the classes, rang the bell, And spanked the naughty freshman well.

Then the reader can travel forward and see the institution move to the site it now occupies. He can see the many changes that occurred as the college grew from its slight beginnings to the place it occupies today. The Royal Purple always pictures effectively the K. S. A. C. of today. The 1922 book will picture the K. S. A. C. of many yesterdays—a K. S. A. C. about which most of us know too little."

Dr. A. A. Holtz, men's advisor and Y. M. C. A. secretary, says, "I feel confident that the Royal Purple will be more than worth the money this year and priceless for the backward look of the years to come."

of engineering, said, "I want the 1922 Royal Purple especially because of its historical feature. I understand that it will contain a brief history in permanent form of the development of the various lines of activity at this institution including engineering, and that the new engineers' hall will be featured."

A. P. Davidson, principal of the school of agriculture, says, "I buy Royal Purples because they are the best method I know of to keep a record of the college. I especially want a 1922 Royal Purple because of its historical value."

Miss Louisa Ziller, '17, head of the department of domestic art, in the Enid (Okla.) high school, says, "That historical feature sounds the best of anything I have ever heard of in the production of college annuals."

McLEAN OF INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL TALKS TO FATHERS AND SONS

About 75 Men Are Trying Out—Selection Probably Next Week

The selection of the cadet corps rifle team to represent K. S. A. C. in the rifle matches with other schools of the middle west, will not be selected this week as was planned. Since owing to the holidays all the aspirants for the team honors could not shoot for a high score the team will not be selected before next week.

There are about 75 men trying for the team and scores above 90 are becoming quite common. The ten men having the highest average scores will constitute the first team and the next ten, the second team or substitutes and alternates for the first team. Additional targets have been installed upstairs in the gym and the available shooting space is now doubled.

About 16 men who were on last year's team will receive the K for that sport, in the near future. It will be a purple K with the letters r and t on either side.

By the use of the unit crank and transmission case a single oiling point suffices for the lubrication of all working parts of the tractor. On the earlier product there is only one oiling point and this is located on the either side.

It is claimed that this two-row cultivator can be attached to the Model F Cletrac by one man in 2 min. It has a 30 in. clearance and therefore can be used on corn up to 48 to 60 in. in height. The Cletrac Model F tractor is a compact, simple, and efficient machine.

DECEMBER 16 IS DATE KID PARTY

CHRISTMAS TREE, PRESENTS, SANTA CLAUS ARE FEATURES

Miss Dean Urges that Students Make Arrangements to Get Costumes

The students of K. S. A. C. will have a chance to be kids again for at least one evening. The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. are arranging for a Christmas kid party to be given Friday evening, December 16.

It is not known just what is in store for the Aggie students but a Christmas tree and presents are assured. Santa Claus is scheduled to make his appearance some time during the evening.

The same plan that is to be used at this year's party was used at last year's and was very successful. Even some members of the faculty were dressed as little kids. "It doesn't make any difference whether you are a freshman or a senior," says Miss Irene Dean, Y. W. secretary, "write home to your kid brother or sister and get a costume for the occasion."

WILL GIVE BAND CONCERT MONDAY

FIFTY CENT CHARGE TO HELP PAY FOR UNIFORMS

Seat Sale in Charge of S. S. G. A.—Second Band Members To Be Ushers

The Aggie band—the best college band in America—will give its annual concert next Monday evening, December 12, in the auditorium.

It is to be a benefit concert and the proceeds will be used to help pay for the new uniforms. An admission price of 50 cents will be charged. A friend of the band has advanced the money for the suits and Prof. Ira Pratt and Prof. Harold Wheeler are responsible for paying it back.

The S. S. G. A. has offered to handle the seat sale and according to E. E. Huff those in charge intend to put tickets on sale at once. Mr. Huff says "I believe that we will have no trouble in disposing of every seat in the house. The concert will certainly be worth the money and every student in college can easily afford it. Too, it is a matter of college spirit, and I believe the students will all show the same loyalty they did in buying football tickets."

The first band, which will give the concert, is composed of 56 pieces. The members will appear in their new uniforms and the 30 members of the second band acting as ushers will also be in uniform.

Mrs. P. L. Swenson of Clay Center, was a week end guest at the Delta Delta house.

Of What Use Are Spectacles on a Dark, Dark, Night?

Classified Want Ad:

LOST—Tortoise shell rimmed glasses. Were left on bench in park. Reward.

Yes, Horace, we had the very same thought. But that's the way it appeared in a recent issue of one of the local dailies. Innocent enough on the surface, but when one stops to consider the possibilities—!!!

One naturally questions: man or woman? Married or single? Night or day? Alone or attended? Name and occupation?

Occupation. That's it. That's likely what started the whole business. But really they are so bungle-some, and their muzzling effect is something terrible. They act as sort of a miniature cow catcher, shoving aside everything within a given range. And then, besides, they have such havoc wrecking ways with hair nets. Yes, one must take them off, but one should take more care where one puts them. They're awfully much in demand nowadays, you know.

EXTEND TIME FOR PAYING DUES OF FRESHMAN CLASS

Only 69 of 800 First Years Have Paid Assessment

In the recent campaign for freshman dues, only 69 freshmen, from a class of 800, had sufficient capital to pay the 25 cent assessment. As it is the first of the month, and pocket books are unusually fat, the campaign will be extended for one week, so that everyone can pay up.

The all-freshman mixer which has been planned for the near future will be open only to those who have paid their class dues. Dues may be paid at the window opposite the post office, or sent by mail to the class treasurer, any time this week.

CAST TO TOUR NORTH KANSAS

MYSTERIOUS "CLARENCE" WILL VISIT SIX TOWNS

Marysville, Sabetha, Holton, Wetmore, Horton, and Onaga on List

In order that more people in Kansas towns, particularly through the northern part of the state, may know a little more about K. S. A. C., the public speaking department has been given permission to take the cast of "Clarence" on a road trip to six towns north of Manhattan. The booking which has been secured by the business manager, Mr. Whan, for the week of December 17 is as follows: Monday, Marysville; Tuesday, Sabetha; Wednesday, Holton; Thursday, Wetmore; Friday, Horton; and Saturday, Onaga. The first performance will be given in the college auditorium on Saturday, December 10.

Interest in the local performance has been greatly increased by the fact that weird and wild guesses as to the identity of Clarence have been running rampant. One "newsy" blonde is quite willing to impart the information "that she heard from reliable authority" that Rocky Bryan is Clarence. And Sh! "Don't you dare tell," says some frenzied bobbed-haired detective. "It's Cliff Jolley—why he even admits it." Another has it that Ken Carter has been acting rather suspicious. And they even accuse the director.

The members of the cast have withstood the threats, bribes, and entreaties of friends quite stoically but the all too frequent "Oh you think you're smart, but I know," retorts have upset their equilibrium to such an extent that they doubt their own knowledge of the identity of the name. Clarence will not appear on the play program. His identity will not be made known until he steps forth on the college stage a week from Saturday. Ticket sale for Clarence will begin Monday morning at 8 o'clock.

The chamber of commerce will give a banquet for the football men at the Congregational church Thursday evening at 6:30.

M. V. ENVOYS HOLD MEETING DECEMBER 3

GIVE $100 PRIZE FOR DESIGN FOR EMBLEM

ANNOUNCE ATHLETIC SCHEDULES

Valley Football and Baseball Games for 1922 Are Decided Upon by School Representatives

At the meeting of Missouri Valley conference faculty representatives held at Kansas City December 3 it was decided to offer a prize of $100 to anyone submitting a design suitable for use on athletic emblems awarded by the conference. Dr. H. H. King of the K. S. A. C. athletic board, an Aggie representative at the meeting, was appointed to receive the designs, and all samples of the emblems should be submitted to him. The contest is open to anyone.

Decide Several Important Issues

Several other important issues were decided at the three day conference attended by Doctor King, M. F. Ahearn, Charles W. Bachman, and E. C. Curtiss of K. S. A. C. The annual outdoor track meet was awarded to Kansas university, the date being set for May 26 and 27. An indoor track meet to be held March 25 in Convention hall was also approved. It was decided to permit the championship valley basketball team to play not to exceed three games with any title holder of any other conference. In the future, when valley schools schedule games with teams of schools outside the conference, they, latter institution must have been approved by members of the valley conference in that vicinity. Greater effort and greater interest in getting conference athletes on Olympic teams was urged. Wrestling as an intercollegiate sport was favorably looked upon, but boxing was frowned at.

Substitute Drake Game for Grinnell

The football and baseball schedules as arranged by the valley athletic directors give the Aggies practically the same gridiron opponents in 1922 as they faced in the season just closed, with the exception that Drake university substitutes for Grinnell. This will make next fall's schedule just a little stiffer than the one just gone through. The opening contest will be with a non-conference team and the closing game will likewise be with a non-valley eleven, neither of which have yet been selected. The first championship battle will be with Washington university at St. Louis on October 14.

The 1922 Football Schedule

K. S. A. C. will face the following valley football teams in 1922: October 14—Washington university at St. Louis.

October 21—Oklahoma university at Norman.

October 28—Kansas university at Manhattan.

November 4—Missouri university at Columbia.

November 11—Ames at Manhattan.

November 18—Drake university at Manhattan.

The Baseball Schedule

The Aggie baseball schedule for next spring:

April 14-15—Missouri university at Columbia.

April 21-22—Kansas university at Manhattan.

April 28-29—Nebraska university at Manhattan.

May 1-2—Nebraska university at Lincoln.

May 19-20—Oklahoma at Manhattan.

May 26-27—Kansas university at Lawrence.

FITZ ACCOMPANIES GROUP OF STUDENTS ON INSPECTION TRIP

Group of 28 Visits Many Kansas City Companies

Prof. L. A. Fitz and a group of 28 students and members of the faculty returned yesterday from an inspection trip in Kansas City.

Those who made the trip are: G. E. Findley, J. Kapka, John Matthew, J. N. H. Phlegar, C. L. Shellenberger, Carl Ulrich, Robert Willkie, and C. W. Oakes of the division of agriculture; John E. Franz, of the division of general science; C. A. Brantingham, Elmer Hopp, G. H. Joy, and W. J. Rogers, of the engineering division; Guy Brown, Joseph Everett, Roy Harrison, Winifred Haynes, C. M. Hooton, P. F. Jacobson, W. H. Malone, N. P. Olson, Fred Parish, W. S. Patterson, R. E. Upham, H. L. Webb, C. S. Walker, G. O. Swart, and R. C. Fleming, of the school of agriculture.

The group left Sunday evening and spent Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday visiting the Loose-Wiles Biscuit company, the Southwestern Milling company, the state office of grain and hay inspection and weighing department, the assembly plant of the Ford Motor company, the Campbell baking company, Swift and company packing house, and the National Biscuit company.

REPORT ANNUAL SALES EACH DAY

SALESMEN TO HAND IN NUMBER BOOKS SOLD DAILY

Standing of Organizations and Individuals Will Be Posted

All Royal Purple salesmen must report daily their sales, not later than 5 o'clock at the Royal Purple office beginning Wednesday and continuing until Saturday of this week.

The standing of the various organizations and individuals selling the Royal Purple will be published daily in front of the Royal Purple window after Wednesday of this week.

The historical feature of the 1922 annual has become common talk over the campus. Alumni, faculty, and students are all backing the idea. Word has been received from several of the alumni of the college stating that although they have never bought an annual since their graduation, the historical feature of the 1922 Royal Purple makes it a record that they want among their college trophies.

The staff members are emphasizing the fact that the Royal Purple is the one activity of the college year, in which the value increases with time. Most of the activities around the college which the student body and faculty are supporting are only temporary in nature, but the Royal Purple is permanent, and will be invaluable in years to come.

LABOR EXPERT TO VISIT HERE

DOCTOR HOGUE TELLS STUDENTS OF INDUSTRIAL PROBLEMS

Represents League of Democracy of Episcopal Church—Will Stay Until Wednesday

Dr. R. W. Hogue, representative of the League of Democracy of the Episcopal church, who spoke in the various churches Sunday, will be at the college until Wednesday. He will speak in various group meetings as well as in the classes of Miss Helen Elcock, Prof. R. R. Price, Prof. J. E. Kammeyer, and Prof. C. W. Matthews.

Doctor Hogue was rector of the cathedral in Baltimore, Md., and has had experience, and great opportunity to study economic conditions. He has made a special study of labor problems in England, and industrial problems of both England and America.

Miss Goforth and Miss Inskeep, of the Y. W. C. A. are here to help in the program, and will speak to some of the classes on industrial problems, and will also meet committees of the Y. W. C. A.

A banquet will be given in honor of Doctor Hogue, at the barracks Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock. Tickets may be obtained from representatives of the various churches, and a large number are expected to attend. This will be the only meeting on the hill where everyone who cares to go can have the opportunity to hear him speak.

Miss Thelma Dobson of Winfield, spent the week end at the Pi Phi house.

POULTRY MEN ADD ANOTHER CUP TO LIST

JUDGING TEAMS WIN IN FIRST VALLEY CONTEST

BICKFORD SECOND INDIVIDUAL

Arle Durea, N. R. Bickford, C. O. Watson, and C. E. Stout Represent Aggies—L. F. Payne Is Successful Coach

The poultry judging team of the Kansas State Agricultural college won first place December 2 in the students' poultry judging contest held in connection with the Heart of America Poultry show at Kansas City. The University of Missouri was placed second, the University of Nebraska third, and Iowa State college fourth. This victory will add another cup to the Aggie collection.

The Members of Team

The team, which consisted of Arle Durea of Leavenworth, N. R. Bickford of Bartlett, C. O. Watson of Pittsburg, and C. E. Stout of Manhattan, was coached by L. F. Payne, associate professor of poultry production. It was chosen after a month of intensive training, from fifteen competitors. Mr. Bickford tied Mr. Hartman of the University of Missouri for first place in individual standing but the tie was later broken in favor of Mr. Hartman. Mr. Durea won fifth place.

Contest First for Missouri Valley

This contest was the first held in the Missouri valley and one of the first ever held.

Eight classes of stock were placed, four for production, and four for breed type. One new idea brought into effect was that the egg laying records of the birds used in the production class was known so that the students' placings were checked by these records, not by a breeder's or judge's opinion.

ST. JOSEPH FIRM MAKES DONATION

GIVE LAMP POSTS FOR NEW ENGINEERING HALL

Make Strenuous Efforts to Get Them Here on Time

The many people who have noted with pride the two white pedestals which adorn the front of the new engineering hall may be interested in knowing the donor of these large lights. The story of generosity and cooperation which brought these lights here free of charge in time for the dedication ceremonies of the new hall was told by Prof. Clarence E. Reid of the electrical engineering department.

The King Manufacturing company of St. Joseph, Mo., which manufactures white way posts as their main product gave these posts to the school. They had but short notice that the dedication exercises were to be on November 19, and in order to get them here on time they completely rearranged their schedule of work. They shipped the posts by prepaid freight and the glassware by express from Ada, Okla., and were going to send four arms by express the latter part of the week. But before they finished these their foundry burned and made it impossible to complete the job in time for the dedication. They put everything else aside and hurried around to get the parts which would complete the pedestals. They also had two extra large glass balls and iron caps shipped to the college by prepaid express in order to get them here on time.

Professor Reid in telling the story remarked, "The King company is one of two companies that supplies practically all of the white way posts now being installed in Kansas towns. They took this opportunity to show their appreciation of the business that Kansas is furnishing them. The posts they sent are worth from $60 to $75 apiece but what I appreciate most is the great effort to cooperate with us in getting them here before dedication."

ANOTHER JUDGING TEAM GETS THE BLUE RIBBON

Another K. S. A. C. judging team has gone out and brought honors to our school. This time it was our poultry judges who were decorated with the blue ribbon of first place. Our student judging teams have the placing habit, and it has come to be a matter of only passing interest to learn of another judging victory. These teams are doing much toward advertising the worthiness of the college to the tax payers of the state. The men making up the teams are doing a service to the college which is appreciated by every thinking student and faculty member.

CAN THE AGGIES KEEP BACHMAN?

Now that the Aggies have completed their most successful season of conference football, there comes a report that Ames wants Bachman.

For two years the Wildcats plugged through the conference games and the best they could do was to tie a conflict now and then. They couldn't win. And yet first class athletes continued to come to the school from different parts of the state, hoping that the next season would bring better results.

Bachman has revolutionized the Aggie fighters. He has proved to everyone in the valley the stability of the Notre Dame style of play. The Aggies came out of the cellar and finished second only to Nebraska and tied with Missouri, credited in all publications as the most formidable teams in the middle west.

This victorious season and more victories that are bound to come if the Aggies keep Bachman are sure to attract the best athletes in the valley to this school.

We know that we have the best coach in the conference. But will we be able to keep him? Let Ames make a bigger and more attractive offer, but give K. S. A. C. a chance to put in its bid.

Here again we see the need for adequate support for athletics. And the most practical and the easiest way to get this support is by means of a student activity fee. A fee similar to that at the state normal would be sufficient to furnish the athletes with first rate equipment and to keep the best coaches for athletic teams besides providing a fixed income for all college activities in more generous quantities than they now receive under the present haphazard, tag day, ticket selling system.

THE PEOPLE HAVE A RIGHT TO THE FACTS

There is no more sinister tendency in the United States than the prevalent attitude toward facts. Business men, labor leaders, public speakers, educators, newspapers, are too often concerned with giving the people their view of the facts and not the facts themselves. They justify their practice on the ground that they know what the people ought to be told.

Anyone who upholds this practice is at heart a distruster of democratic government. Democracy rests on the theory that the best government is that in which the people, having considered what the facts are, express their conclusions upon them. If the facts they get are distorted or clouded or incomplete, so are their conclusions bound to be.

The tendency to withhold or distort facts exists in the college. This is not surprising; college people are much like other people. A reporter is asked not to publish the number of votes received by each candidate in an election and the groups supporting each. He is requested to write an article that is not strictly true but will in the opinion of somebody boost some college organization. In the most recent instance he is asked not to publish the complete decision of the judges in the Aggie Pop night contest, lest some one be offended.

In none of these cases is there a sinister motive. The person who requests the favor does it with a good intention. But the fact remains that there is an effort to keep the facts from the public. We who learn to do this in college will do it in later life, and will thus be putting stumbling blocks in the way of democracy.

If we are going to be supporters of democracy, the only safe motto is: The public is entitled to the facts, complete, uncolored, unaltered.

She dresses by periods. (Headline). If that is the case—and it seems very plausible that it is—her mind must become a blank every other period or so during the dressing process.

Who said the noise the sheep made was "Baa"?

Another uncalled for assumption of authority. This thing must be looked into. The sheep may not say "Baa" any more than anything else.

She powders not wisely but too well.

I am buying a Royal Purple this year for two important reasons, one of which is seemingly very selfish. Athletics will be given a place in the sun and the Wildcats will be featured.

It is a senior enterprise that should receive the financial backing of every loyal Aggie—for it advertises the college activities in an impressive and attractive manner.

"I especially want the 1922 Royal Purple because it will contain a history of the school's development, carried out in every department of the book. It will also contain the record of the most successful football season which the Aggies have ever had.

I want a 1922 Royal Purple because of its historical features.—Ruth Cunningham.

Two dollars will reserve it. Buy it now. 2125

Especially shall I cherish this Royal Purple of 1922. It will break away from the petty policy of many College Year books throughout the country, a policy which results in a jealous display by each senior of the names and photographs of the organizations to which he belongs,—and the consequent dedication of the book to the purposes of that kind of record. As I understand the plans for the Purple this year, it will devote its chief effort to the recognition, in a big and permanent manner, of those who have passed this way, as students, before.

However, the book will in no way lack the usual interesting features arising from the doings and sayings of the present enthusiastic student body and patient, well meaning faculty.

INTRAMURAL B B GAMES ARE ON

TO DECIDE CHAMPIONSHIP 132
GAMES MUST BE PLAYED

All Games Are Free—Short Courts
Are Being Used

Preliminary divisional games for the intra-mural basketball championship are now being played. To decide the championships of three separate divisions into which the teams are divided, 132 games must be played. Each team will play all other teams in its division.

The winners of each division will be given a championship cup. The division champions will play a series of games to determine who is intramural champion. The rules of intramural basketball forbid any basketball K man to play in the games and also bar any man who may be chosen for the basketball squad for the coming season.

All games are free and many of them are being met with enthusiastic support. The short courts are used so that two games may be played at the same time. Team practices are being held by schedule in the Nichols gymnasium and in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium.

The scores of the game in the different divisions are as follows:

What They Think of the Band

Prof. Ira Pratt: "The best college band I ever had the privilege of hearing. The student body and most of the faculty do not appreciate the true worth of the band. If they did I believe they would support it as it should be supported. It is about time they were waking up."

Prof. H. P. Wheeler, director: "I believe I have one of the best, if not the best college band in the United States. That means that it is almost as good as any professional organization. The only difference between the amateur and the professional is in the 'finish' the professional gives to the music, and if the amateur makes a special effort he can attain this finish. So up to a certain limit I think the quality of music played by an A number I college band is equal to that of a symphony orchestra. And I think there is no doubt that we have an A number I band."

Prof. H. W. Cave, coach of the dairy judging team: "I have heard a good many college bands and this one has them all backed off the map."

Prof. Howard T. Hill: "The best college band in Kansas, the best in the valley, and certainly one of the best in the whole country. It is one of the biggest assets the college has. Add to the talent and expert direction the fact that the band has and expresses, always the finest college spirit and we know why the concert should be given before a crowd of Aggie Pop proportions."

Prof. H. H. Haymaker: "One of the biggest assets K. S. A. C. possesses. It is deserving of the same support accorded athletic teams."

Prof. H. W. Davis: "The band now ranks with the athletic and stock judging teams as an advertisement for the college. It is advertised all over the United States as one of the best college bands in the country. It is just another case of no man being a hero in his home town."

PI BETA PHI WINNER AGGIE POP DECISION

WEBSTERS PLACE SECOND—ALPHA BETAS ARE THIRD

SCORING SHOWS WIDE VARIATION

Florence Helzer, Katherine Kimmel, H. A. Shinn, Professor Mulloy, and Mable Elmore Are Judges

In spite of all precautions taken against it, the auditorium was filled to overflowing last Friday evening, long before the lid of the giant candy box of the Pi Beta Phi's was lifted and the popping of the third annual Aggie Pop night was begun.

To say the event was a success would be flat and insufficient. To say it was a scream would only be literal. True to its reputation the evening started off with a jump, and held its interest throughout. At no time was an opportunity given the audience to relax until the last of the stunts had been presented and the decision of the judges announced. As is indicated by the varying decisions of the judges and the opinion of everyone who attended, the competition for the Aggie Pop loving cup this year was unusually keen.

As everyone was there, there is no necessity to give a detailed account of the stunts. The ranking of the organizations is as follows: Pi Beta Phi, first; Webster, second; Alpha Beta, third; Aggie Press club and Hort club, fourth; Ionians, fifth; Alpha Delta Pi, sixth.

While the faithful stage hands were busily engaged making debris of the previous stunt's stage setting, the usual boresome wait on the part of the audience was alleviated by seven "go betweeners," staged in front of the curtain. The names of these, as were the names of the judges, were withheld until Friday evening. Once it was a rag and French doll dance by Julia Caton and Ruth Kittell, again a reading by Osceola Burr, and at other times Enchiladas Synchopated Silhouettes, the Kappa Delta's "Rite to Happiness," a Royal Purple screen sales talk; which kept the minds of the audience off the nerve racking ordeal of the stage shifters.

While the decision of the judges was being figured, Miss Alice Hannen gave two dances, "Margurites," and "Valse Bluett." Behind the scenes it is known that the faculty members were to have staged a stunt between acts, but due to the absentmindedness of some of the professors, or something, they were not on hand when their opportunity came.

For years it has been suspected by some that stunts having a college loyalty theme would be scored down by judges from other institutions. This year a careful check of this condition was made and it was found that there is no grounds for such fears. Dr. H. H. King read the decision of the judges.

The judges were: Miss Katherine Kimmel of the department of music, Miss Florence Helzer of the department of English, Prof. Henry A.

Shinn, of the department of public speaking at Kansas university, Miss Mabel Elmore of the Junction City high school, and Professor Mulloy, of the music department at Hays normal.

SIEVER URGES THAT ALL STUDENTS BE VACCINATED

Believes Vaccination Only Prevention for Smallpox

Dr. C. M. Siever, college physician, urges that every student who has not been vaccinated for smallpox do so as soon as possible. He believes this is the only prevention for this contagious disease which has been fatal in so many cases.

The college maintains a hospital where students suffering from any contagious disease, except smallpox, are cared for. However, Doctor Siever is so confident that vaccination will prevent smallpox, that arrangements have been made for any student who has been vaccinated and then takes smallpox to be cared for at the college hospital.

Y PICKS FROSH FOR COMMISSION

FIRST MEETING IS HELD WITH CABINET AND SECRETARY

Organization Serves as Auxiliary Cabinet of Y. M. C. A.—C. R. Smith in Charge

The freshman commission of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet, which was recently chosen upon the recommendation of faculty members and people out over the state is announced by C. R. Smith of the Y. M. cabinet who has charge of the organization of the commission.

At the first regular meeting of the year the men had dinner with the members of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet and Dr. A. A. Holtz. At this meeting the work of the association and the functions of the different departments was explained by the secretary and cabinet members.

Members of the commission will hold regular meetings during the year and will serve as a sort of an auxiliary cabinet to the association, giving such assistance as they can to all work which is undertaken by the Y. To vary the program social activities will be taken up to a certain extent.

The men who were appointed on the commission are: C. L. Roesser, L. M. Staley, C. E. Moorman, Gladwin A. Read, Paul Cobb, H. L. Summers, Horace Williams, S. H. Heath, H. A. Wright, Harold H. Evans, Hugh Willis, Charles L. Howard, Jr., Elmer C. Huhman, Everett E. Bell, C. G. Frey, Frank V. Houska, Floyd C. Cooley, Jewell M. Johnson, Donald E. Lathrop, Willis Cuddy, George D. Hanna, and Harold H. Howe.

Cabinet committee members in charge of the commission are C. R. Smith, J. M. Leonard, and L. W. Hinchshaw.

CAFETERIA WORK WILL CONTINUE

BUILDING WILL BE FINISHED BY NEXT FALL SEMESTER

Dining Room and Kitchen on First Floor—Kitchenette on Second

Unless cold weather interferes, the walls of the first story of the new cafeteria will be up by Christmas. The building, which is to be the best of its kind in the state, will be completed for the opening of the fall semester next year.

The concrete for the sub-base of the foundation has been laid. This sub-base is below the floor of the basement in order to get below the frost line. For the past two weeks stone masons have been busily engaged at work on the foundation proper.

The building which is to be the same style of architecture as the other buildings of the campus, is to be two stories in height. William Duncan, the superintendent of construction, states, that the building will be more elaborate than any of the others on the campus. On the first story are to be the dining room, kitchen, and smaller rooms which will probably be used for offices. On the second floor is to be situated a kitchenette which will be used for faculty receptions and for the entertainment of visitors of the college. The finish of the kitchen and dining room is to be in white enamel, while the woodwork is to be natural finished oak.

PRESENT LAST FACULTY RECITAL

MR. O. I. GRUBER MAKES FIRST APPEARANCE BEFORE AGGIES

Give Band Concert Next Monday—Messiah Date Is Sunday December 18

The sixth and last recital of the faculty concert series was given in the auditorium Sunday, December 4.

The program was presented by Miss Helen M. Hannen, violinist; Miss Elsie H. Smith, pianist; Mr. O. I. Gruber, tenor; and B. R. Ringo, pianist. It was featured by the same excellence that has characterized every one of the concerts this year. Mr. Gruber made his first appearance before a K. S. A. C. audience and he was warmly welcomed. The other performers are all well known to Aggie music lovers and they and their work was of the usual high standard.

Mr. Ira Pratt, head of the department, announced that there would be no concert next Sunday. The annual band concert will be held in the auditorium Monday night, December 12. An admission of 50 cents will be charged and the proceeds will help pay for the new uniforms. Professor Pratt also announced that the Messiah would be presented on the following Sunday, December 18, by a chorus of 250 voices.

Freshmen Misunderstand Assessment

According to members of the Royal Purple staff there are a large number of freshmen who do not understand their class assessment which is to take care of their share of the Royal Purple expenses and which entitles them to a picture in their class section of the annual. The receipt which is issued at the payment of this assessment is taken to the Royal Studio at Eleventh and Moro where appointments can be made to take the picture for the Royal Purple.

Four positions are taken, proofs are made, and the student makes the choice of the picture he desires. This picture is used in the class picture without further charge unless the student wants it used in an organization picture in which case it will cost 35 cents more.

It is impossible to have an accurate or complete record of college students for the year unless all students pay their class assessments and thus get their pictures in the Royal Purple with their regular college classes.

H. S. Orchestra To Give Concert

A concert will be given in the college auditorium Friday, December 9, by the high school orchestra. The concert is given under the direction of Miss Helen Hannen. Miss Katherine Kimmel of the college music faculty is soloist. The concert begins at 8:15. The admission price is 25 cents.

Dr. E. J. Frick of the veterinary division will go to Dresden Friday and Saturday of this week to investigate a disease affecting a herd of purebred Shorthorn cattle in that vicinity.

AGGIES TO AID STUDENTS OF OTHER NATIONS

RELIEF DRIVE FORMS PART OF CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

WILL SELL CHRISTMAS CANDLES

Yuletide Program Will Be Given in Quadrangle Tuesday Before Students Leave for Vacation

A drive for the relief fund for European students will be launched next week, and will form a part of the Aggie Christmas program which will be held in the quadrangle on Tuesday evening before students leave for vacation. A joint faculty and student committee are working on the plans.

Hoover Directs Relief Work

The dire needs of students in foreign countries has recently been presented at the college by Mademoiselle Suzanne Bidgrain, who is a travelling secretary of the World Student Christian federation. Many students are living on less than one meal a day, have no fuel, and are with little clothing. The relief work among the students of the destitute countries has been left exclusively to students of American colleges and universities, by Herbert Hoover who directs the work.

Due to the exchange rates, an American dollar has a greater value in buying commodities in the war ridden European countries and it is estimated that $35 will keep a student in school an entire term, and that $4 will buy a suit of clothes. Little of the money which is raised goes for overhead expenses: Little paid organization exists for its administration since most of the work is done by volunteers.

To Sell Christmas Candles

The money probably will be raised at K. S. A. C. by selling Christmas candles, and by voluntary contributions. Large candles will be sold to organizations, and smaller ones to individuals. The candles will not be sold for any fixed price, but for the amount which the organizations or persons wish to pay for them. The first candle has been bought by the Cosmopolitan club for $25.00.

It is hoped by the committee in charge that students and faculty members will contribute to this cause, and make their contributions real Christmas presents to those who will most appreciate the gifts. The faculty committee consists of Prof. Ira Pratt, director M. F. Ahearn, Prof. W. S. Wiedorn, Prof. C. E. Reid, and Dean Mary Pierce Van Zile. The student committee is composed of Ruth Peck, Fred Paulsen, Rebekah Deal, Marian Brookover, Ila Knight, C. C. McPherson, J. Wheeler Barger, Elizabeth Dickens, Gail Lynch, and A. R. Saunders. The chairmen of the sub-committees are: Gail Lynch, Christmas tree committee; C. C. McPherson, contributions committee; Rebekah Deal, candle sales committee; J. Wheeler Barger, publicity committee; and program committee Fred Paulsen.

The Christmas program in the quadrangle will be put on by students of the music department, under the direction of Prof. Ira Pratt.

SECOND DEBATE SERIES ON NOW

HOLD PRELIMINARY INTERSOCIETY CONTESTS TUESDAY

Final Argument Is at Joint Meeting of All Societies December 17— Rally Follows

The preliminary intersociety debate contest held Tuesday afternoon and evening resulted in victories for the two Athenian teams, the negative teams of the Ioniads, Brownings, and Eurodelphians, and affirmative teams of the Alpha Betas, Franklins and Websters. A large number of persons attended each of the contests and the debates showed that the contestants had given the question thorough study.

The second series was Thursday evening and this evening. The matching of the teams in this second series is: Franklin affirmative vs. Athenian negative in the Franklin hall; Alpha Beta affirmative vs. the Ioniads negative in the Alpha Beta hall; Athenian affirmative vs. the Eurodelphian negative in the Athenian hall; and the Webster affirmative vs. the Browning negative in the Webster hall.

The purpose of the intersociety debate contests is to stimulate interest in debate among the literary society members, and to develop material for the college squads. The final contest will be held on December 17, at a joint meeting of all the literary societies. A debate rally will be held after the final contest, which will take place in recreation center, and an interesting program will be given. Music will be furnished by the Webster quartet, the combined stringed sextets of the Hamiltons and Alpha Betas, and short talks by persons interested in debate. The newly chosen debate coach will probably make his first public appearance on this occasion.

DEAN VAN ZILE RECEIVES HONOR

IS ELECTED PRESIDENT OF KANSAS DEANS OF WOMEN

Aggie Etiquette Mentor Speaks at Meeting on Teaching Social Usage

At the annual convention of the Kansas deans of women held at Topeka, Saturday, Dean Mary Pierce Van Zile spoke on "How Can We Best Teach Social Usage to Our Students." She presented many problems concerning girls of today.

The convention recommended the following resolutions: that a dean or adviser be appointed for each high school; secondly, that girls establish a closer relationship and better understanding between the homes. The convention approved the action of President Harding in calling the Conference on Limitation of Armament. Third they opposed interscholastic basketball for high school girls.

The other officers elected at the convention were: Mrs. Albert E. Kirk, Southwestern college, first vice president; Mrs. Kate Riggs, adviser of girls at Lawrence high school, second vice president; and Miss Ella Bernstorf, Friends university, secretary and treasurer.

The place for the next convention has not been definitely decided but the following places are being considered: Hays, Manhattan, Pittsburg, and Emporia.

ALBERT MEAD WINS PRIZE FOR BEST "GHOST" CRITICISM

Opal Seebor Receives Honorable Mention—English Faculty Judges

In the contest for the best written criticism on the play "Ghosts" the prize of $10 was won by Albert V. Mead. Opal Seebor received honorable mention. The criticism was made on the production of the play which was given here by the Traveling Theater with Madame Hammer playing the leading role.

The contest which was held by the English department was judged by members of the department faculty. Prof. R. W. Conover, C. W. Matthews, Miss Florence Heizer, and Prof. N. A. Crawford. Mr. Mead is a senior in industrial journalism and Miss Seebor is a junior in general science.

IVY FULLER IS ELECTED HISTORIAN AMERICAN LEGION

Is Well Known to Aggie Alumni— Graduated in '13

Ivy Fuller, a graduate of K. S. A. C., '13, has been appointed historian of the American Legion. This is a newly created office.

Miss Fuller was a Red Cross nurse during the war and was sent by the Manhattan post as a delegate to the state American Legion convention held at Hutchinson this fall. Miss Fuller was the only woman delegate present. At this convention she was elected a delegate to the national convention held at Kansas City.

Miss Fuller was chairman of the committee on entertainment for Homecoming day and is well known to Aggie alumni. She is a member of the Delta Delta Delta sorority.

American Girls Too Fresh, Decide Aggies From Foreign Lands

When American college students get together they talk about Josephine, the girl with the bobbed hair; Marguerite, who has the "wicked line"; and Dorothy, the vamp.

But the conversation of foreign Aggie students on the subject of women is quite different. Each one tells about the social customs of his native land, and they all are surprised that people act so queerly in other countries.

"The girls are too fresh in America," says a modest freshman who hails from Egypt. "The independence and aggressiveness is surprising to one who hails from a place where the women wear veils to hide their faces from public view. In Egypt, one does not notice a woman when she passes down the street, but you sometimes turn around and gaze at an American college girl until she has gone a block. Young people are not together so much in Egypt, as the mother usually selects her son's wife, and they must 'stand hitched' since divorces are not granted."

"You can't get familiar with a girl in Mexico," chirped in a Mexican Aggie. "You must see a girl in the presence of a chaperon. But we have great times together anyway. A Mexican boy does not get a date to such tame affair as the movies. We take our dates to bull fights. Do they enjoy them? I should say so. Mexican girls have bull fighters for heroes, just like American girls have their movie heroes."

"There is little difference between the girls in South Africa and those in America," said a student from the dark continent. He admitted that they were a little tamer, and that although jazz had been introduced they did not shimmy, camel-walk, or toddle. He said the African girls did not bob their hair or wear rolled hose.

HOLD DEMONSTRATIONS FOR FOODS CLASSES NEXT WEEK

Illustrate Meat Cutting and Use of Corn Products

A meat cutting demonstration for all foods I classes will be held at 4 o'clock Tuesday, December 13, in the home economics building.

On Wednesday and Thursday, December 14 and 15, Miss Velma Shumard will give a cooking demonstration from 4 to 5 o'clock in room 2. She will use products of the Corn Products Refining company. These demonstrations are open to the foods I students and to the general public. Miss Shumard will also give a special demonstration in the same room before the class in foods demonstrations Tuesday afternoon, December 13, from 1 to 4 o'clock. Only those students who find it impossible to attend Miss Shumard's demonstrations either Wednesday or Thursday afternoons should attend the special demonstrations on Tuesday. Foods I students must attend one of the demonstrations given by Miss Shumard.

Prof. C. H. Scholer, testing engineer of the road materials laboratory of the applied mechanics department, is attending a yearly meeting of the American Association of State Highway Officials at Omaha. The session will last three or four days.

Snow Proves Hard on Churches-- Stimulates Wool Hose Sales

A snow storm on the week end in Manhattan lessens attendance at Saturday night shows and Sunday night church services, increases the business of all people selling shoes, wool hose, and riding trousers, speeds up the shoe repairmen and blacksmiths, increases the business of Doctor Slevor, and prohibits preparations for Monday classes. Otherwise, a snowstorm in Manhattan, on a week end, in the proper season of the year, is a just, beneficial, and moral sort of thing.

Last Sunday everybody who had a bob-sled or a friend who had one, or a friend who could make one, and an auto, or a friend who had an auto, or a friend who was willing to help hire an auto—everybody so situated went bob-sledding.

One bob-sled, in essentials, is like every other one, and the account of one bob-sledding experience is the account of all.

'CLARENCE' IS READY TO BE MADE KNOWN

BOOTH TARKINGTON PRODUCTION IS TOMORROW NIGHT

PURPLE MASQUE PLAY WILL TOUR

Leading Character a Mystery—Holcombe Directs Show—Whan Business Manager—Nine People in Cast

Mystery still surrounds the identity of the person who is to play the title role of "Clarence" in the play of that name which is to be presented at the auditorium, Saturday night. The members of Purple Masque and of the cast of "Clarence," who know the identity of this person, say that very few have made correct guesses.

Play Is Tarkington's Greatest

The play "Clarence" is counted as the greatest play ever written by Booth Tarkington. Many critics say that his "Seventeen" cannot compare with "Clarence" in original situations and comedy. "Clarence" is one of the few New York successes that have been released for other than professional production. Purple Masque is one of the first western organizations to secure it for amateur production.

It had a continuous run of 571 nights in New York and of 234 nights in Chicago. As a dramatic attraction, David Belasco placed it on equal terms with "The Emperor Jones" and "Lightnin'." Unlike these two plays, which needed the power of Charles Gilpin and Frank Bacon to make them successful, "Clarence" had no brilliant stars in the leading roles. David Belasco says, "The clever situations and clean, brilliant lines of Clarence adapt it for success as a road play."

Make a Tour of State

Following the presentation of "Clarence" to the Aggie audience the cast is to tour through six Kansas towns. The routing for the week of December 17 is: Monday, Marysville; Tuesday, Sabetha; Wednesday, Holton; Thursday, Wetmore; Friday, Horton; and Saturday, Onaga. Several other Kansas towns have written in inquiring of the possibility of securing the play. It is possible that the tour of the play will be continued during the holidays.

General admission tickets are now on sale by the members of Purple Masque. The reserved seat sale starts Friday morning at the Co-op book store. The prices are $1 for all main floor seats, the first six rows in the center section and the first four rows on the sides of the balcony. All other balcony seats are 75 cents.

Applications for the position of Collegian editor for the second semester should be submitted to Prof. N. A. Crawford before December 19. Any student in college is eligible to apply for this position. The board wishes each applicant to give any information concerning himself which would help in determining his fitness for the task, and asks that letters of recommendation accompany the application. The business manager will hold his position the entire school year, but the editor is elected only for one semester.

Ray E. Holcombe of the public speaking department is directing the production and Vorin Whan, assistant in the public speaking department is business manager.

BAND CONCERT MONDAY NIGHT

WHEELER SAYS BAND IS BEST EVER AT K. S. A. C.

Plays Difficult Music—Has Representatives from All Divisions

The Aggie band which appears in concert next Monday night in the auditorium is undoubtedly the best that ever represented K. S. A. C. But according to Prof. H. P. Wheeler the band is just getting a new start and from now on this college will continue to have just as good and probably better bands.

The program of Monday's concert is as follows:

Maximillian Robespierre Overture..... Litoll
Second Movement of Fourth Symphony..... Tchakowsky
Suite, Scenes Pittoresques, Massenet
Two Extracts from Pagliacci.....
(a) Minuet and Gavotte
(b) Intermezzo

Pierrot..... Rubner
Were My Songs with Wings Provided..... Hahn
One Fine Day (Madame Butterfly)..... Puccini
Miss Edna Ellis

Humoresque—The Girl I Left Behind Me..... Bellstedt

Another reason is that the Aggie musicians have now mastered the high class of music which Professor Wheeler introduced three years ago. The difficult music rather bewildered the men at that time, but they have improved until now there are only a few, if any, college bands in the country capable of playing the class of music played by the Aggies. The best band directors in the United States were astonished and incredulous last year when the band played before them at St. Joseph. They could not believe a college band was capable of playing such difficult selections.

Some of the features which distinguish the Aggie band are given by Professor Wheeler. The chief thing is the balance served by the preponderance of the reed instruments. The first band is composed of 56 pieces of which 20 are clarinets. Last year there were only eight clarinets in a band of 35 pieces. Another unusual feature for a college band is the presence of an oboe; a very difficult instrument to play and one which adds much to the quality of the music. A bassoon will probably be added next year.

Some interesting facts about the personnel of the band were given by Professor Wheeler. Approximately 60 per cent of the members are engineers. The ags are next with 30 per cent while the general science division contributes eight or nine per cent. The vets have two representatives. Of the 56 members half are volunteers, that is, they receive no credit for the work. Forty per cent are taking it for a military credit and 10 per cent for a music credit. All of the men who once took it for credit are still enrolled as volunteers.

Ray Hahn, captain-elect of the 1922 eleven has been selected by Walter Eckersall as guard on the third All Western football team for 1921. H. W. Schmitz was given honorable mention by Eckersall.

1922 ELEVEN MAY BATTLE TEXAS TEAMS

MIKE TRIES TO FILL TWO OPEN DATES IN SOUTH

WESTERN GRIDDERS MIGHT COME

Haskell Wants Game—Chamber of Commerce Gives Football Men Banquet—Lyle S. Munn, Captains Frosh

Two Texas institutions, the Rice Institute and Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college, have been asked by Mike Ahearn, Aggie athletic director, to furnish the opposition in the two closing games of the 1922 Aggie football schedule.

Opener with Washburn Probably

If plans under way are carried out, the Aggies will play Texas A. and M. college on November 25, and Rice Institute on November 30, Thanksgiving day. Both contests would be decided in the Lone Star state. If the games with the Texas schools cannot be arranged, an effort will be made to bring two Colorado elevens to K. S. A. C. to fill the open dates, according to Director Ahearn. The Colorado Aggies and Denver university are possibilities. Haskell has wired for a game with the Aggies to be played at the new K. U. stadium at Lawrence on Thanksgiving day. The open date on October 7 will probably be filled with Washburn.

Final Banquet Thursday Evening

Thursday evening a final banquet was given to the letter men of the Aggie varsity and freshman football squads and to the letter men of the Manhattan high school by the local chamber of commerce. Talks were given by Director Ahearn, Coach Bachman, and other members of the coaching staff and teams, and by prominent business men.

The 24 freshmen gridders of 1921 who received numerals have elected Lyle S. Munn of Norton, as captain. Munn played at left end on Coach Curtis' scrappy aggregation of froshes in the strenuous training disputes with the varsity eleven, and his work at the wing position attracted much favorable attention from the coaches. He is a former Manhattan boy, his parents having lived here before moving to Norton.

Ahearn to National Intercollegiate

The National Intercollegiate meet will be held in New York City December 27 and 28. M. F. Ahearn will probably attend the session as representative of K. S. A. C.

CAREY IS KANSAS RHODES SCHOLAR

EISENHOWER RANKS NEXT TO CANDIDATE CHOSEN

Is Only Applicant Not an Athlete, Considered Among First Five

William Carey of Hutchinson, a junior in Cornell university, was selected as the Rhodes scholar from Kansas to go to Oxford in October, 1922. There were 18 candidates for the Kansas appointment. While this is the first year that K. S. A. C. has been represented in the conference, Milton Eisenhower, the Aggie candidate, placed high in the selection. His application was placed second only to that of Carey, the successful candidate.

In scholastic standing and student activities, Eisenhower's record was among the highest. He was the only candidate among the first five considered who has not been active in college athletics.

It is hoped that more Aggies will take the opportunity of trying for Oxford now that a precedent has been set by one of the students. There are a number of leading students in the institution who would stand a fair chance of receiving the appointment in the future. To be represented in the conference is an honor to the college.

SIX MEETINGS IN THE NEXT HALF HOUR

Why is the joiner?

Nobody has ever been able to answer satisfactorily but despite the fact that no reason for the existence of a joiner is known he is obtrusively present at K. S. A. C.

You know him. He wears organization jewelry besprinkled over his vest until his front elevation takes on the appearance of a medal board belonging to the best all-round athlete in Simpson county. His gait is a perpetual dog trot and he answers your invitation to "stick around awhile; we might open a conversation" with a shouted-over-the-shoulder reply that he has six meetings in the next half hour.

Does he accomplish anything? He does not. His energy is vitiated in an effort to get to all his meetings and to keep track of the dates for the next day's gatherings. He bluffs his way through his organization duties as he does through his class work.

It's too late to do anything in the way of a warning to juniors and seniors. However, to the freshmen of K. S. A. C. we say, join just what social, professional, political, booster, or any other organization you can't escape. With the present state of over-organization of the student body that will be too many.

BEHIND THEIR BACKS

He is the college Diogenes.

He is the cynic, the philosopher, the shrewd analyst of the puppets about him. He is the woman hater, the satirist. He is the yahoo with the ten penny brain. He is the fool who uses sarcasm and silence to hide his mental vacuum.

He is the college Diogenes.

Like his name-sake he has lived in a tub all his life, and his brain does not function on anything farther than two feet on either side of his head. He has assumed the role of the cynic, and the sarcastic speech in self defense. No one will find out what a know-nothing he is if he can help it. Whenever he is asked to give his opinions on anything without the confines of his tub he does one of two things; either keeps still, or mumbles what he considers a scathing remark on the frailties of the world's dummies. There is another alternative, too. If he is ever forced completely to the end of his rope of sarcasm and silence he will tell the truth. At such times only, does he get a true inkling of how unnecessary he really is.

He is the college Diogenes.

Often as not he doesn't hate women any more than he hates himself, and his antipathy is assumed. Assumed to a great extent for self defense, and—so the girls will notice him. Where is the college Diogenes who isn't as vain as he is hollow pated? As much as his limited intelligence will allow he often secretly admires and waxes sentimental over the gentler sex, oftener than not. He has found that a show of indifference and worldliness will sometimes make the feminine gender interested in him, and he plays that show for all it is worth. He never mentions where he saw the world. At first thought a tub doesn't appear to permit of much diversity of any kind, and he discreetly sidesteps the issue.

He is the college Diogenes.

Sometimes he realizes his true mental state, and panic seizes him when he confronts the necessity of using a mentality which he doesn't possess. Then after the crisis is over he settles down to hating the world. The pitiful part about his existence, as far as those who must associate with him are concerned, is that his farce often gets over. His instructors hail him as brilliant and promising, and the girls get no end of delight in imagining that he has offended them, and whispering hoarsely about the "sarcastic line that boy slings"—and the boys tolerate him. When he leaves college, if his vacuum falls, as its should, to support him, he will either live with a relative, go to work, or go crazy and write free verse on "My Observations from a Tub."

He is the college Diogenes.

Kenneth Muse, who was operated on last Sunday for appendicitis, is reported as doing well today.

BEYOND THE HILL

Knickerbockers have been adopted as the style for the young ladies of the University of Wisconsin.

A vigorous campaign has been launched at the Utah Agricultural college to rid the library there of gossip, love-making, and social chatter.

The dean of Oklahoma A. and M. has lately compiled some interesting statistics from observation upon the actual time spent in eating at the cafeteria there. They are as follows:

The average length of a meal is only eight and one half minutes.

A boy takes one or one and a half minutes less to eat than a girl.

The quickest meal observed was finished in four and one half minutes. It consisted of a piece of pie, a doughnut, and a glass of water.

Winter caps for freshmen at Ames have made their appearance.

The number of universities in the United States possessing courses in journalism has increased more than 100 per cent during the last four years.

A hat exchange at Harvard has been established and remarkable results have already been accomplished. The "lost" column, so far, far exceeds the "found" list.

Miss Goforth Talks to Commission
The Freshman Girls commission met Tuesday in L. 26 to hear Miss Goforth tell of the student movement to help the students in European countries. She told of the great suffering of the students, especially in central Europe, and then told of the great assistance the money given by the students last year had been to them.

Rockey Lectures on Thomas Hardy

Prof. N. W. Rockey gave the English lecture in the home economics rest room Wednesday afternoon. He spoke of Thomas Hardy and his writings. The first part of his talk was devoted to a discussion of the life of Thomas Hardy, and the beginning of his career as novelist, and later, as a poet. Mr. Rockey then discussed several of Hardy's books, which show his philosophy. Next Tuesday, Miss Anna Sturmer will discuss H. G. Wells.

Prof. E. V. Floyd was operated on for appendicitis Tuesday evening. He is reported as doing well.

Mrs. Walter Tatge of Abilene, was a guest at the Pi Phi house, Saturday, December 3.

Dinner guests of the Sigma Nu fraternity, Sunday were, Miss Mary Bahan, Miss Francis Godden, Miss Ann Ratliff, Miss Louise Mangledorf, Miss Helen Crew, and Miss Dorothy Mebus.

MEMBERS OF FOODS CLASS STUDY BOILING AND STEAMING

Plans Menus with Dishes Prepared by Two Methods

The foods I classes recently have made a study of the various cooking processes and in review prepared several boiled and steamed dinners. The pressure cooker was used for steaming the meats and vegetables and the Toledo steamer was used for the desserts. Both the direct and indirect methods of steaming foods were used. By the former method the steam comes in direct contact with the food and by the latter method the double boiler is used.

The advantages and disadvantages which a housewife must experience in cooking an entire meal by one process were brought out in the study. The girls also planned several menus for dinners, using dishes prepared by boiling or steaming.

K. U. Engineers Inspect Oil Burners

Prof. George Shaad, head of electrical engineering and Mr. John Shea, superintendent of building and grounds of Kansas university were visitors at the new engineering building last Tuesday, December 2.

They were interested in looking through the new building and inspecting the oil burners under the boilers in the shops. They were here in the interest of Kansas university as that school is contemplating the installation of oil burners and they wish to get an idea of the success of the new system.

W. L. Dehner and Caroline Perkins were voted into the society as honorary members.

Barton County Club Meets

A meeting of the Barton County-K. S. A. C. club was held Friday. Plans were made for putting on a chapel program at the Great Bend high school as part of the publicity plan to boost K. S. A. C. in Barton county. A feature of the meeting was Miss Opal Seeber's speech on "Why we should tell the advantages of K. S. A. C. to others."

K Fraternity Initiates

The K fraternity has initiated Don D. Murphy, senior in agriculture; L. Burr Smith, senior in architecture; A. R. Stark, sophomore in commerce; Burr Swartz, special in industrial journalism; H. L. Brown, senior in civil engineering; John Steiner, junior in general science; I. F. Schindler, junior in general science; and Merle F. Henre, sophomore in electrical engineering. All of these men but Merle Henre won their letters in football this year, Henre winning his K on the cross country team. The initiation was conducted in the K fraternity room in the gym.

"I especially want the 1922 Royal Purple because it will contain a history of the school's development, carried out in every department of the book. It will also contain the record of the most successful football season which the Aggies have ever had."

The 1922 year book will compare favorably, not only with those of other Missouri Valley schools, but also with those of the Big Ten schools.—Buy it now. 2125.

I buy the Royal Purple because it is an invaluable record of the college for the year, and contains pictures and stories of many of my college friends and associates.

DEAN SEATON.

Especially shall I cherish this Royal Purple of 1922. It will break away from the petty policy of many College Year books throughout the country, a policy which results in a jealous display by each senior of the names and photographs of the organizations to which he belongs, and the consequent dedication of the book to the purposes of that kind of record. As I understand the plans for the Purple this year, it will devote its chief effort to the recognition, in a big and permanent manner, of those who have passed this way, as students, before.

However, the book will in no way lack the usual interesting features arising from the doings and sayings of the present enthusiastic student body and patient, well meaning faculty.

PICK MID-YEAR DEBATE TEAMS

FOUR ARE SELECTED FOR EACH SIDE—ONE AN ALTERNATE

Women to Debate Normal January 13—Men Meet Iowa State

The personnel of the men's and women's mid-year debate teams has been announced by C. W. Matthews, acting debate coach. Four persons were selected who will compete for the three places on the team, and the least proficient contestant will serve as alternate.

On the men's teams are H. L. Collins, E. Kimble, W. E. McKibben, V. W. Stambaugh, Austin Stover, F. A. Swanson, J. E. Thackrey, and W. W. Weaver. Working on the women's teams are Anna Best, Osceola Hall Burr, Lois Clark, Bernice Fleming, Margaret Gillett, Queenie Hart, Georgia Newcombe, and Bertha Summers.

Three persons on the men's teams have had previous experience in intercollegiate debate. They are Herbert L. Collins, Ellis Kimble, and Verne Stambaugh. W. W. Weaver, Frank Swanson, and J. E. Thackrey have worked on the college squad before, while the other two men have had experience in high school debates. The only freshman on the team is W. E. McKibben of Hutchinson, who won prominence in the state high school debate league last year. None of the members of the girls' teams have debated in an intercollegiate contest, but each of them has either had experience in college dramatics or in high school debates. The women's teams will meet a team from the Kansas State normal on January 13. The question debated will be, "Resolved that Kansas Should Have a Unicameral Legislature." The men's teams will debate representatives from the Iowa State college sometime in January on the question of the practicability of world disarmament.

Competition for places on the team was keener than it has been for several years. Nearly 100 persons tried for places on the squad, and after competition from those who were selected the final selections were made.

LIVESTOCK WINS AT ANNUAL SHOW

TAKE 22 PRIZES AT INTERNATIONAL EXHIBIT

Aggie Sheep High with Fifteen Placings—Competition Unusually Keen

Livestock exhibited by the department of animal husbandry at the international livestock show which was recently held at Chicago, won 22 prizes for K. S. A. C. As the international is the largest livestock show of the year, the largest agricultural colleges and the foremost livestock owners of the United States enter their stock, making competition unusually keen.

K. S. A. C. did particularly well with its sheep, winning 15 prizes.

In the fat steer class K. S. A. C. won the following awards: Short-horns: senior yearlings, sixth; senior calves, eighth; junior calves, third; herds, fourth. The prizes for Herefords are: senior yearling, eighth; junior yearling, fourth; junior yearling herd, fourth. In the Aberdeen-Angus class the college won: senior yearling, third; senior calf, sixth; herds, fourth. For Galloways: senior yearlings, second and third; junior yearlings, second.

In the fat sheep class Cheviots won: yearling wethers, first and third; champion on yearlings. The Rambouillets won: yearling wethers, second. In the class of medium wool, grades and crosses the college won: yearling wethers, second in class of 47; lambs, third; pen three yearlings, second. The Hampshire yearling wethers won third and fourth. The Shropshire aged ram won fourth. Of the Dorsets the aged ram won second; lamb ram, second; ewe lamb, first; flock, third, pen three lambs, third.

Of the fat hog class the Poland China barrows junior yearling took second and fifth; pen of Poland China barrows junior yearlings, second. The Duroc Jersey pen of barrows won fifth.

K. S. A. C. RANKS HIGH WITH FOREIGN SCIENTISTS

Solomon, Nephew of Egyptian Minister of Agriculture, Enrolled Here

The standing which K. S. A. C. has among scientists of foreign countries is demonstrated by its being elected by 22 foreign students as a place to take graduate work in agriculture.

Joseph Solomon, Pacha, minister of agriculture in the Egyptian sultan's cabinet, desired to send his nephew to the leading agricultural college in the United States, and asked the American ambassador to choose the school. After consulting Doctor Freeman, an American botanist employed by the Agricultural Society of Landlords, and with other graduates of American colleges, the ambassador recommended K. S. A. C.

Labid Peter Solomon, nephew of the Egyptian minister is now taking graduate work in entomology here, and hopes to contribute to the control of pestiferous insects when he returns to his native land.

MENTAL TESTING PROVES VALUABLE IN TRIALS HERE

Half Hour's Examination Tells About Probable Success in College

The intelligence tests which have been given for the past three years under the direction of Dean Edwin L. Holton and Dr. J. C. Peterson, have shown definitely that a half hour of mental testing will tell as much about the probable success of a student in college as will the grades obtained in four years of high school.

Three hours testing showed twice as much similarity with the grades obtained in the first year of college work as shown between the high school work and the first year's work in college. In some subjects the correlation was high while in others it was low. In chemistry the correlation was 67 per cent while in woodwork it was only 16 per cent and in forging only 21 per cent. This affords a basis for the choosing of courses.

The results also indicated the probability of a student's staying in college. An example is the test given to the engineering freshmen of 1919-20. The first years were divided into four groups, according to the scores obtained in the tests. At the present only 29 per cent of the fourth obtaining the lowest grades in the test are in college, while 70 per cent of those in the fourth, ranking highest in the tests are in attendance.

DAIRYMEN SHORT COURSE STARTS

WILL MAKE STUDY OF GENERAL DAIRY PROBLEMS

First of Kind Ever Given Here—Continues Until Last of Next Week

Eleven dairymen from various parts of the state have enrolled in the herdsman's short course which began this week and which will continue until the last of next week. This course is being offered by the dairy department for the benefit of those who want to make a short and intensive study of general dairy problems.

The work throughout the two weeks will consist chiefly of a study for higher production of dairy cows. Feeding, care, and management of the dairy herd is to be studied carefully. The fitting of a dairy show herd is also to be given considerable attention. A study of the diseases and pedigrees of dairy cattle will be made.

Laboratory work for the class will consist of judging of dairy animals as to breed types and the testing of milk and cream. During the course these enrolled will visit some of the best dairy herds near Manhattan.

There will be several lectures by prominent dairy men of Kansas including James Linn and Clem Young of Manhattan and James Williamson of Sabetha. It is interesting to note that each of the above speakers are graduates of the K. S. A. C. dairy department within very recent years and are now recognized as leaders in the dairy business of the state.

Although this is the first short course of its particular kind ever given by the dairy department those at the head of the department are well pleased with the number and type of men who have enrolled.

COLLEGE PROFS ISSUE BULLETIN

FITZ AND LANGWORTHY WRITE ON LIVESTOCK REMEDIES

Is Entitled "The Enforcement of the Kansas Livestock Remedy Law"

A bulletin entitled "The Enforcement of the Kansas Livestock Remedy Law" has been prepared by Prof. L. A. Fitz, head of the department of milling industry, and Mr. A. E. Langworthy, feed inspector, both of K. S. A. C. The bulletin shows buyers of livestock remedies how the law will be of benefit to them, and tells manufacturers of the remedies how to comply with the law.

The law requires that the English name of each ingredient of the remedy, the per cent of certain drugs, and the maximum per cent of filler used, be given when the drug is registered.

After some general information and a statement of the correct way to register the remedy, the bulletin gives some very valuable tables. The first six tables give the names of the ingredients used most, and the values of the most important ones. The second table lists the ingredients given above and their English names, common names or synonyms, and properties. As the terms used in stating the properties are technical, they are explained at length in the next table. Names of firms who have failed or refused to register their products and so cannot legally sell their remedies in Kansas, are given. The final table gives the name and address of every firm who has complied with the law, the names of their products, and the ingredients of each.

NUMBER HORSES ON DECLINE IN KANSAS SAYS McCAMPBELL

Aggie Professor Speaks Before Horse Association of America

If the ratio of decrease horses in Kansas have undergone in the last seven years should be continued three years more there would be no more horses a year old in the state, according to a report made at Chicago before the Horse Association of America by C. W. McCampbell, professor of animal husbandry. The average decrease shown by his report has been approximately 10,000 a year. A recent statewide survey indicates there will be approximately only 30,000 March 1, 1922.

"The tractor has had considerable influence in reducing horse production," Professor McCampbell declared. "When livestock maintenance costs mounted to such tremendous heights many turned to tractors, hoping that they might prove to be a more economical form of motive power, but the hundreds of abandoned tractors that one sees in every part of the state might be termed monuments to the blasted hopes of false economists. However, the tractor has come to stay on a large number of Kansas farms, not for the purpose of supplanting work horses, but as an additional piece of farm machinery that may do a special kind of work."

TO ADAPT HISTORICAL DRESS TO MODE OF PRESENT DAY

Miss Schell To Offer New Costume
Design Course

Next semester a new elective course in costume design is to be offered in the home economics division by Miss Mary Schell. Historic costume will be the basis for adaptation to the present modes of street dress and evening wear. In addition costumes for plays, pageants, etc., will be designed. The technique of the course is much farther advanced than any previously taught in this department. It is a desirable course for anyone interested in artistic creations of whatever kind.

Miss Schell received her training at the Chicago Institute of Fine Arts and the Fashion Academy, where she studied under the foremost designers of this country—Harry Collins, Gilbert Clark, and others.

It is hoped that enough students will be interested in the course to make it worth while both to themselves and to the instructor. Miss Mary Schell or Miss Louise Glanton will be very glad to talk the matter over with any student needing an elective with real pep.

MAY HOLD CROP JUDGING CONTEST

COLLEGES DESIRE SUCH A PRO-JECT AT CHICAGO

S. C. Salmon Spends Week at International Hay and Grain Show

It is possible that arrangements will be made at Chicago for holding an international crop judging contest at the International Hay and Grain show, beginning next year, according to S. C. Salmon who attended the show this year. A committee has been appointed by the American Society of Agronomy to work out plans for this contest and between 20 and 30 of the leading agricultural colleges have signified their desire to enter such a contest if held.

Professor Salmon spent last week at Chicago where he represented the Kansas Crop Improvement association at the International Hay and Grain show which is held in connection with the International Livestock exposition. Professor Salmon received and placed the exhibits sent to Chicago by members of the Kansas Crop Improvement association.

While at Chicago he also attended a meeting of the International Crop Improvement association which is made up of the officers of the Crop Improvement, Corn, and Grain Growers' associations in various states and Canada.

He also attended some of the sessions of the school of instruction on grain sorghum grades being held by the board of review of the department of agriculture.

C. C. Cunningham, now a farmer at Eldorado and formerly in charge of cooperative experiments in the agronomy department, was one of the judges at the International Hay and Grain show.

Lowden To Speak to Dairymen
Ex-governor Lowden of Illinois, a former candidate for the Republican nomination for president, has promised to speak here February 8, which is Dairy day of Farm and Home week. Mr. Lowden is president of the Holstein-Friesian association of America. Besides giving an address to the dairymen, he will probably speak at general assembly on that day.

Wisconsin Organization Offers Prizes

The article must not exceed 5,000 words and must be sent to the dean of the University of Wisconsin before March 1, 1922.

Details can be found on the announcement which is posted on the bulletin board in Waters hall.

Tuesday the Brown-Yellow game resulted in a Yellow victory, 16 to 2, and the Purples won over the Whites 34 to 1. DEWEY HUSTON ON GRIDIRON
AGAIN: WITH TESCOTT TEAM

Played Fullback on Town Eleven in Thanksgiving Fray

Dewey Huston, the famous Aggie football guard played the fullback position on the Tescott town team against the Minneapolis team on Thanksgiving day. Huston played fullback on this team and the report has come that "Duke" showed a lot of speed.

With Huston there were several other football heroes of more or less renown. "Red" Ivy, end, and Frank Mandeville, half back, formerly with Kansas university, were consistent ground gainers for the Tescott team. Other members were Archer and Bice from Hays normal and "Dad" Perry from Kansas Wesleyan. This combination of allstars defeated the Minneapolis team but the 7-0 score was not overwhelming.

Huston made the forward pass that won the game. Earlier in the game when the result seemed to be in doubt, he attempted a 60-yard drop kick and the ball fell short but a few inches. So after the Duke completes his year of school teaching and football coaching at Oberlin, Aggie fans may look for their old favorite long distance kicker, back again.

Even Museum Cats Seem Wilder Now— Other Animals Quake

Someway the wildcats in the library museum look wilder since the Sooners were defeated Homecoming day. They present such an awe inspiring countenance that the other animals, birds and beasts, slink into far corners of their cages.

The Aggie wildcat snarls her warning and even the Jay bird, though not vanquished from the field, shows slightly ruffled feathers. She squawks in fear as she casts an appraising eye toward the larger, more formidable wildcat of 1922. The '21 cat throws vengeful looks in Mr. Jaybird's direction—not so the '22 feline. She looks serene, confident, triumphant, for she reigns supreme in the library museum, patiently waiting the day next year when she'll rule the Missouri valley.

KANSAS TAKES KAFIR AND MILO PRIZES AT CHICAGO

Captures Eleven of 20 Prizes Offered

Kansas took most of the prizes in kafir and milo classes at the International Grain and Hay show held in connection with the International Livestock show at Chicago. Of 20 prizes offered 11 were captured by Kansas farmers. The following were winners in the kafir class: W. G. Pigoot, Wichita, first; L. A. Somers, Wichita, second; W. E. Simmons, Manhattan, third; J. M. McGray, Zeandale, fourth; Bruce Wilson, Manhattan, fifth; Fred N. Bieri, Onelda, sixth; Lillian N. Bieri, Onelda, seventh.

In the milo class the following took the high prizes: Lillian N. Bieri, Onelda, first; Fred N. Bieri, Onelda, second; R. E. Getty, Hays, third; L. C. Swihart, Lovewell, eighth. The remaining prizes in kafir and milo were taken by Missouri, Oklahoma, and Colorado growers. In addition to the above prizes won by Kansans, R. E. Getty of Hays took fifth place on cowpeas and E. S. Lyons of Manhattan took seventh place on alfalfa hay.

FRED TRIGG IS CHAPEL SPEAKER

"THE FOUR LEPERS OF SA-MARIA" SUBJECT OF ADDRESS

"The World Is Starving for What Colleges Can Give" Says
Speaker

"The big issue in this country today, is to know how many leaps we are from anarchy, riot, and bolshevism," said Fred Trigg, of the Kansas City Star, in his address at chapel yesterday on "The Four Lepers of Samaria."

"The thing which will save civilization from this crisis is to be found in the colleges of America, in the form of personal service," said Mr. Trigg. "The story of the four lepers who saved Samaria from starvation by carrying the news of food to be found in the Assyrian tents to the people of that unfortunate city must be repeated today. The world is starving for the thing which colleges can give."

Mr. Trigg believes the reason for the difficulty of state schools in getting sufficient appropriations lies in the lack of service which graduates render to the state which gave them their training. "It is your responsibility to see that your community and state receive the dividends which they have a right to expect," he said.

"The advantage of a college education is not to enable us to take care of ourselves but to give to the world the best we have," declared the speaker. "Unless colleges give to humanity the thing it most needs, God shall set our civilization aside for a more lowly one, as he did 4,000 years ago when Samaria ceased to be a missionary nation and became a money-grabbing people."

The solo by Prof. William Lindquist was a special feature in chapel and was generously applauded. The selections by the band were also appreciated by the audience.

Miss Helen McDonald, '24, underwent an operation for appendicitis last Monday. She is reported to be getting along well.

Meets Take Place at Each of Three

Contests

The rifle meet with K. U. and the Colorado Agricultural college which is to be held Saturday December 10, promises to be a victory for K. S. A. C. as the team has been practicing for some time and has many of the men of last year's team back this year.

The meet is to take place at the rifle ranges of the three contesting colleges. The results of this match will be telegraphed to Manhattan, in order that the final results may be known. The positions of fire are to be prone, sitting, kneeling, and standing. The score is taken on a basis of a possible 6,000.

About 70 men have been turning out regularly for practice, and of this number a team of 30 members has been chosen. The last year's rifle team won first place and the championship cup at Camp Perry. The elimination contest, which will be held before the meet, will determine those who are to fire in Saturday's meet. There will be from 10 to 15 successful candidates. The following men will fire in the elimination contest:

"Any one who gets an inspiration or conceives an idea should submit it to the Brown Bull," says Mr. Bryson. "We wish to make the Brown Bull a snappier magazine every issue. The Union Pacific railroad has started work on the construction of a switch track at the foot of Vattier street, which will shorten the distance of hauling freight to the college from 12 to 14 blocks. It is hoped that eventually the switch will be extended, so that grain, livestock, fuel, etc., will be brought by train to the college grounds.

EXPERIMENTS DO NOT REVEAL AMOUNT OF REWORKED WOOL

Textile Laboratory Class Experiments on Textiles

According to the results of experiments by the members of Miss Louise Glanton's laboratory class in textiles on different grades of wool cloth made of new and reworked wool, it is nearly impossible to determine whether or not there is new or reworked wool in the cloth. If this is true then it would be practically impossible for the United States to enforce the French-Capper bill now pending before Congress.

The French-Capper bill intends to prevent deceit and unfair prices that result from the unrevealed presence of substitutes for new wool in woven fabrics purporting to be of first class value. There has been some contention in Congress as to whether, if this bill becomes a law, it will be possible to enforce it. Senator Arthur Capper, one of the sponsors of the bill maintains that the law can be enforced, while others contend that there is no means of telling accurately the percentage of new and of reworked wool in a fabric.

These samples of woolen fabrics used in the textile laboratory at K. S. A. C. were raveled and two inches of the yarn from the filling were untwisted and pulled apart. The fibers were separated on the basis of new and reworked wool and the percentage of each calculated from the results obtained by the count. The laboratory results bore no relation to the actual blend in the cloth showing that the known methods of determination of the presence of new and reworked wool are of little avail.

SAVE EQUIVALENT 500 TONS COAL ALREADY THIS FALL

Saving in Addition to That Made on Lower Cost of Oil

Approximately 500 tons of coal or its equivalent has been saved in the power plant this fall over the amount burned during a corresponding period last winter, according to Jacob Lund, superintendent of the heat and power department. This saving is due to the greater efficiency of oil and the milder weather this fall. This saving is in addition to the saving made in the lower cost of handling the new fuel. Indications are that the new plant will mean a great saving to the institution in the future.

"I am buying a Royal Purple this year for two important reasons, one of which is seemingly very selfish. Athletics will be given a place in the sun and the Wildcats will be featured.

It is a senior enterprise that should receive the financial backing of every loyal Aggie—for it advertises the college activities in an impressive and attractive manner.

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, MANHATTAN, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1921

NO. 26

STRATTON IS PAVING WAY FOR STADIUM

SENDS OPEN LETTER TO AGGIE FOLKS

"WHEN?" QUESTION ASKED ALUMNI

No Doubt About Need for Stadium
Says Stratton—Conditions Poor
Now for Starting
Drive

In an open letter this week to alumni and former students, Cliff Stratton, '11, executive secretary of the alumni association, says in part:

"The necessity for a stadium at the Kansas State Agricultural college in the near future is bringing the matter of a stadium drive to a head.

"Mike Ahearn, athletic director, says that the present 'grandstand' and bleachers, inherited from the old Blumont field of 1906, will not half-way take care of the crowd at the Homecoming game with K. U. next fall.

"That is self evident.

"Mike also says the 'grandstand' and bleachers are so old they practically will have to be rebuilt in a short time.

"There is no doubt we need a stadium. No argument against that, so far as I can see.

"The question is, how badly do we need it?

"Do we need it badly enough to start a drive for it this year?

"Now?

"Here is the other side of the question, as I see it. And it should be faced squarely and fairly.

"Nearly every business and every business man in Kansas is in the red for the year.

"This is true especially of farmers and farming.

"It applies to most of our alumni and former students.

"In a modified way it applies to our students. They have less money than for several years. Not a few of them will have to drop out at the close of this semester for lack of money.

"It applies to our friends over the state, and they are legion. These are in the worst shape, financially, they have been for years. Those who are not, think they are, which is almost as bad.

"The question in my mind is this:

"Is it the right thing for us to start a drive for funds for a stadium—granting that we need one—under these conditions?

"Will it be fair to our alumni, former students, students, and friends, to ask them this year for money for a stadium?

"I haven't any doubt that we can raise money enough to erect a section of 5,000 seats, perhaps a double section of 10,000, by next fall.

"But is it the fair thing to jump a friend for money for a stadium—in the popular mind money for an amusement—when you know he is badly in the hole?

"Would it be better to tell him frankly we expect to ask for funds soon, probably next fall, and ask him to begin figuring on what he can pledge at that time?

"Personally I prefer the latter plan.

"One thing more. We do have enough alumni and friends who can afford to put up a section of 5,000 seats this summer without suffering any themselves.

"The plan I have outlined would not preclude their doing so. Their action would encourage others to come in when the call is issued.

"How do you feel about it? Write and let me know.

"Are you for starting the stadium fund now?

"How much are you for it in dollars and cents?"

PRESBYTERIAN STUDENTS GIVE PARTY AT I. O. O. F. HOME

Date is December 17—64 Children and 57 Old People in Home

The Christmas party which was so successfully given at I. O. O. F. home last year, by the College Bible class of the Presbyterian church, will be repeated December 17, with the assistance of the men's class.

There are 64 children and 57 old people in the home, and besides the Christmas tree there will be gifts and treats for everyone. A special program of college talent has been arranged for the occasion. Before the program there will be an hour of games for the children.

Special entertainment will be provided for the invalids of the home. Some of the young people will go to the rooms of those who are unable to attend the program, and will carry gifts and entertain with music.

GIVE SERIES OF HEALTH TALKS

DR. MAY HABENICHT OF NATION-AL Y. W. BOARD HERE

Is Here at Invitation of Dean Van Zile and Physical Education Department

Dr. May Habenicht, who has come from the social education department of the national board of the Y. W. C. A. will lecture at K. S. A. C. this week. She has come at the invitation of Dean Mary P. Van Zile, dean of women, and will work in co-operation with the Y. W. C. A. and the physical education department.

The first meeting in the busy schedule planned was a health lecture for all girls at 5 o'clock Monday, in recreation hall. The meeting was open to all the college women, including faculty members. Although it is not definitely arranged, it is probable that Doctor Habenicht will lecture to the physical training classes this week in regular class periods.

Special attention will be given any girls who have individual health problems, and Doctor Habenicht will be glad to make appointments with girls through Miss Tausche's office, for personal interviews. Girls are urged to take advantage of this opportunity because Doctor Habenicht is a specialist, and an experienced physician.

Doctor Habenicht has recently visited Hays normal, Colorado Agricultural college, and Colorado university.

ATHENIANS LEAD DEBATING TEAMS

SEMI-FINALS THIS EVENING—
FINAL DEBATE DECEMBER 17

Both Athenian Teams, A B Affirmative and Browning Negative in Semi-Finals

Both of the Athenian debating teams, the Browning negative and the Alpha Beta affirmative will meet this evening in the semi-finals of the intersociety debating contests. The question, "Resolved that Labor Unions as They Now Exist Are Detrimental to Society" has been debated by two teams of each of the eight literary societies of the college.

December 17 is the date of the final debate and this will be held in the recreation hall. The Athenians won the intersociety championship last year and they are in the lead so far this year with two teams in the semi-finals. These debates serve as a debate rally and all members of literary societies meet together to stimulate the interest in debating and to further the friendship and acquaintance of society members.

Three debates were held last Friday evening. The negative Browning team composed of Grace Herr, Mary Maroney, and Elfreda Hemperk won a 2-1 decision over the Websters. The Webster debaters were: Lynn Copeland, Tom Stratton, and D. C. Bushey. The Athenian negative won a unanimous decision from the Franklin affirmative. Victor Englund, A. R. Paden, and H. R. Priestley debated for the Athenians and Hazel Lyness, Myrtle Dubbs, and Suzanne Whitten for the Franklins.

The Athenian affirmative made up of B. J. Miller, D. C. Anderson, and C. W. Howard received the decision over Vida Butler, Thelma Gossard, and Ruth Bachelidor debating for the Eurodelphians.

A great deal of interest in debate has been displayed this fall and over 100 persons have tried out for the college teams.

Attempt To Solve Mystery Ends Sadly for the Investigator

The curious and studious freshman loitered near the chained-off stairway to the library basement. He wondered what was hidden at the foot of those dark stairs and why he was locked out.

"Looks like they'd let a fellow study where and what he wants to. Thought this was a students' library." Thus he muttered and waited. Each day he spent hours in a vain vigil before the mysterious stairs, hoping some day to discover the key to that lock and the secret recesses below.

"Perseverance wins" they say, and he believed it. One day Miss Grace Derby, assistant librarian, decided to explore. She had left her key at home, so she just slipped under the chain.

"Easy enough," thought the frosh. "I'll do that too."

Alas! He counted naught on the comparative size of Miss Derby and himself, as is proved by the portion of his sweater which dangles on the troublesome chain. The basement remains a mystery—"and may forever" sighs the wiser first year.

SOLVE MYSTERY OF "CLARENCE"

NORMAN FLEMING PLAYS
TITLE ROLE IN PRODUCTION

Cast Leaves Monday for Week's Tour of Northern
Kansas

The approval voiced by the audience who witnessed the presentation of the Purple Masque play, "Clarence" at the auditorium Saturday adds this play to the long list of successful Purple Masque productions.

The mystery surrounding the identity of the person playing the title role of Clarence was solved when the audience began a round of "I told you so" at the entrance of Norman Fleming. Mr. Fleming ably substantiated the mystery which surrounded the character by his faultless interpretation of the hero who was loved by all, but whose love was centered around the charming Miss Pinney. Renna Rosenthal, in the character of Miss Pinney, was one of the brilliant spots in the dramatic action of the entire four acts.

In the comedy element of the production, Louise Mowry stood out as the principal mirth provoker. Her clever work in the typical kid part of Cora Wheeler brought laughs to the most blasé playgoers. James Albright, as Bobby Wheeler, portrayed the masculine universal kid to a degree bordering on perfection.

Manhattan audiences have learned to expect the excellent work in dramatic action that they received from Vorin Whan, Clifford Jolley in their respective roles of Dinwiddie, the butler; Mrs. Martyn, the secretary; Della, the maid; and Hubert Stem, the villain. Their portrayal of these characters taken in contrast to other parts that they have played in Purple Masque productions only accentuates the versatility of these persons.

Maurice Laine was highly successful in his interpretation of the character, Mr. Wheeler. Mr. Laine made his first appearance before an Aggie audience in the lead of "The Lottery Man" which was presented this summer. Margaret Ansdell in the difficult role of Mrs. Wheeler, created a lasting position for herself among Manhattan audiences.

The cast left Monday afternoon for a week's tour of northern Kansas. Their routing is Marysville, Sabetha, Holton, Wetmore, Onaga, and Horton. They will play these towns from Monday to Saturday in the order named.

The play was under the direction of Ray E. Holcombe of the department of public speaking. Vorin Whan, assistant in the department of public speaking was the business manager.

Helen Reid Narrowly Escapes Injury
Miss Helen Reid, a freshman in home economics, escaped serious burns Thursday when she lighted the gas in the home economics building. Someone had left the gas turned on and when Miss Reid started to light it, the blaze swept up into her face.

SELL BASKET BALL TICKETS WEDNESDAY

PRINT ONLY 1,200 OF SEASON
PASTEBOARDS

PRICE FOR ALL GAMES $2.50

Only 600 Seats Will Be Reserved—
Fans Have Chance to See All
M. V. Teams in Action

Season tickets for the eight Missouri Valley basketball games to be staged on the Nichols gymnasium court beginning January 5, will be placed on sale by the K. S. A. C. athletic department on Wednesday, December 14. The K fraternity and the Women's Athletic association will have charge of the ticket sale, and the pasteboards will also be procurable at the athletic office while they last.

Supply of Tickets Limited

Only 1,200 of the little counters have been printed because of the limited seating capacity of the gym. Only 600 of these will be reserved seats. A heavy demand for the tickets is anticipated and inasmuch as the demand will very likely far exceed the supply, a grand rush for the pasteboards will very likely far exceed the supply, a grand rush for the pasteboards is almost a certainty, and some of the fans are predicting that the gayly colored checks will rise above par among the tardy enthusiasts of the caging sport. The price of the season books has been fixed at $2.50, despite the fact that the price of admission to all Missouri Valley basketball games this year will be at least 75 cents, or a total of $6 to those who fail to secure season books. Reserved seats are $1.50 extra. The saving made possible by the purchase of season tickets is obvious.

Competition Among Players Keen

Competition for regular berths on the Aggie five is becoming increasingly keen, and good material of individual ability above the mediocre class apparently abounds. This is probably due to the swarm of candidates working strenuously to land positions on the squad. Coach Curtiss has not yet picked the personnel of the squad from the host of eagle-eyed goal shooters, trick dribblers, roaming floor men and flashy pivoters that are putting in two hours of practice daily. But when he does, and succeeds in welding the promising individual performers into a quintet capable of consistent team work, the Aggie five should provide some sparkling entertainment for the eight visiting teams that will display their wares to K. S. A. C. fans at Nichols gymnasium this winter.

Possessors of the season tickets will have the unusual opportunity of seeing every Missouri valley basketball five in action against the Aggies. The dates for the games that will be played at Manhattan are:

January 5—Grinnell college.
January 14—Washington university.
January 16—Iowa State college.
February 8—Kansas university.
February 10—Oklahoma university.
February 14—Nebraska university.
March 1—Drake university.
March 6—Missouri university.

CONDUCT SPEED AND ACCURACY
CONTESTS IN TYPOGRAPHY LAB.

Velma Lawrence and Byron Short
Have Highest Standing

While many departments on the hill have the "contest fever," the journalism department doesn't like to be left out of anything exciting. Accordingly, E. M. Amos, instructor in typography, has instituted a contest among the various typography classes.

During most of the semester, Mr. Amos has stressed accuracy more than speed, but the contest held last week was based on both accuracy and speed.

The following are the names of those who had the best standing in each of the six laboratory classes last week:

Monday, Margaret Martin, Helen Van Gilder, Gladys Mullenburg; Tuesday, Alice Paddleford, Emily Adams, Jean Frances Middleton; Wednesday, Gertrude Cate, Daby Barnett, Kenneth Chappell; Thursday, Byron Short, Margaret Brenner, William Batdorf; Friday, Hilda Frost, Orille Bourassa; Saturday, Velma Lawrence, John Gartner, Lucille Kinnamon.

A number of others came out with grades almost as good as those whose names are given. Velma Lawrence and Byron Short received the highest grades of all the classes.

RAILWAYS MAKE A HOLIDAY CUT

GIVE SPECIAL RATES DECEMBER
22-23-24 TO JANUARY 4

Round Trip Fare Is One and One Half Times One Way
Fare

The usual just-before-vacation rush at the deans' offices will probably be less this Christmas than ever before in the history of this institution.

Students who in previous years have managed to have sick relatives, poor train connections or a job awaiting them, will not be so impatient to rush away this year. For there is a new consideration this year, a consideration that makes a dying relative seem of small importance.

The good news has already spread all over the hill and many exaggerated rumors are flying about. Listen: The Union Pacific and Rock Island agents here have announced that all railroads west of St. Louis and Chicago are to have a special holiday rate of one and a half times the one-way fare for the round trip. This rate applies only on December 22, 23, and 24, and will be good until January 4.

To all students who have any distance to travel this announcement means at least another dance or two during vacation. And to those who live in other states it comes like the death of a rich uncle. So a great many are planning to endure it all another day, and if Dad hasn't heard of the reduction it will be a money making proposition.

After all, however, the news is probably more welcome to the deans than anyone else.

NASON CUP GOES TO DELTA ZETA

The Nason loving cup offered by the Royal Purple staff to the organization selling the most annuals has been awarded to the Delta Zeta sorority for the sale of 166 Royal Purples. The number of books sold by the first seven organizations is as follows: Delta Zeta, 166; Chi Omega 114; Browning, 93; Eurodelphian, 75; Ionia, 73; Alpha Beta, 61; Philomathian, 55.

Over 700 books were sold during the campaign, and the staff members are well satisfied with the results. Counting in the number of seniors who have purchased books, the total sales are over 900. However, 1,500 books must be sold if the price of the annual is to be $4.50.

Spend Week in Project Work

Miss Jessie Hoover and Miss Birdsey spent last week in project work in the extension department. Miss Hoover is in charge of the milk project at the states relation service in the Washington office. She is a graduate of K. S. A. C. and held a position as dean of the home economics department of the University of Idaho until her resignation to enter war service in milk utilization work at Washington.

Miss Birdsey is assistant to Miss Florence E. Ward of the states relation service and is in charge of the home economics extension specialization of the middle west.

PREXY TURNS DOWN OFFER OF CALIFORNIA

California Is Trying to Build Up Greatest Agricultural College in United States—Has Big Appropriation

Not a little anxiety was prevalent among students and faculty members recently when the rumor was passed around that President W. M. Jardine might leave the institution. The president, who has just returned from a 10 days' trip to California at the invitation of the university there, has made public his intention of staying here.

California has $3,000,000 which it expects to spend toward developing one of the best agricultural institutions in America, and it was as head of this school that President Jardine was wanted. In speaking of his decision to remain at K. S. A. C., President Jardine said:

California Wants Biggest College

"California is determined to build for herself the greatest agricultural college in America. The people of the state have appropriated a sum of money which seems ample to make those hopes come true, provided it is properly invested. They are now looking for a man to help them develop an agricultural program for the state which includes the establishment of an agricultural college. It was as president of this institution that I was considered.

California Job a Big Opportunity

"The California position offers a wonderful opportunity for the right man, and one in which one could not help being interested. Likewise the presidency of the Kansas State Agricultural college is a position that one cannot afford to withdraw from without knowing where he is going. Most of all, it is important for a man engaged in educational work to keep in active service. The Kansas State Agricultural college is a public service institution, and every member of its faculty regards it as such. As a result, everybody here is pulling together trying to do something worth while for Kansas folks. It is the wish of the board and of myself that I remain a member of this group a few more years."

GIVE INDIVIDUAL AWARDS FOR ROYAL PURPLE SALES

Three Prizes of Photography Offered
—Free Book for 25 Sales

The staff members of the Royal Purple have arranged for an individual contest for the person selling the largest number of the books. The contest is open to all students on the hill and will close some time shortly after Christmas. The prizes are: first prize, $35 worth of photography at the Royal Studio; second prize, $20 worth of photography at the Royal Studio; third prize, $10 worth of photography at the Royal Studio.

To everyone selling 25 copies of the Royal Purple, a complimentary copy will be presented. The staff expects to give out a considerable number of free editions in this way. One student sold the required number in three days and is now sure of his book.

W. A. A. Initiate Six Members

W. A. A. held a meeting Thursday evening to initiate new members. Those initiated were Phyllis Burtis, Alice Paddleford, Dorothy Frost, Eunice Hobson, Josephine Boggs, Grace Johnson.

At the meet it was decided to charge admission to the girls' interclass basketball games. Every one has been asked to get behind this movement and boost the W. A. A. As the band had asked the W. A. A. to sell tickets for the concert, the girls undertook the ticket selling although they received no commission for selling the tickets.

Next Thursday in chapel 10 W. A. A. girls will receive their K sweaters.

MYSTERIES GET TIRESOME IF NEVER REVEALED

It's all very well for the mystery idea to be played up in the pre-presentation advertising of a play, but how about keeping the audience guessing throughout the presentation of the play?

Mystery is a good drawing card, nothing very original, of course, but a good feature of modern advertising nevertheless. But when it goes so far that an entire audience for a performance like "Clarence" is compelled to forego the pleasure of having a program to tear into bits, or shoot over the balcony in the form of arrows, not to mention the satisfaction of normal curiosity as to the identity of the members of the cast, one is inclined to believe that mystery can go too far. One is, indeed.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR K. S. A. C.

With the coming of the national convention of Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalistic fraternity, in 1922, there will come a national broadening of the prestige of the institution here. There are 37 chapters in this fraternity and they represent every section of the United States.

The men who come will undoubtedly be the men who lead in their profession in their particular chapters, and being men who are primarily interested in the journalistic profession they may be expected to give wide publicity to their treatment and observations while here. It is one of the biggest opportunities to spread the fame of our college, and another chance to live up to the highest traditions of hospitality.

THE KANSAS RHODES SCHOLAR

William P. Carey has been named Rhodes Scholar for the state of Kansas.

William P. Carey from Hutchinson—and of Cornell university. "I wonder," Kansans should be asking themselves, "what the country will think of the fact that the Kansas Rhodes scholar was named, not from the University of Kansas, nor from the state agricultural school, nor from any of the number of other Kansas schools, but from a university in the east?"

It is not the spirit of envy that incites Kansas to question the appointment of Carey. Carey is no doubt a capable student. But the schools of Kansas have many, and need more, capable students. Why is Carey at Cornell? He is a football star—Kansas needs football stars. He holds a high place in the student government at Cornell. There are high places in the student governing organizations of Kansas that need big men.

Carey is probably a high type of man. No doubt he will take creditable advantage of the opportunities offered with a Rhodes scholarship. But Carey is the appointee from Kansas—and he is not from a Kansas school!—University Daily Kansan.

THE JOB'S THE THING

"If by the time he is a sophomore or a junior, the student hasn't a pretty good idea of the career he wants to follow, his first few years in the practical world are apt to be lost. Jobs do not turn up as if by magic, the day after commencement."

This observation comes from a business executive. It is based on his experience with candidates for opportunities in commercial and industrial organizations—candidates from among the annually increasing number of graduates from American colleges.

Frequently, however, the undergraduate activities of a college man or woman give unmistakable evidence of the kind of work he or she is most naturally fitted for. Fortunate indeed is the student who finds the job which will give these talents an opportunity for development. Then the first few years out of college will not be lost.

Grasping this opportunity to serve undergraduates of American colleges who wish to focus their efforts where they will count for most the American Association of Social Workers (130 East Twenty-second street, New York) has issued a pamphlet presenting the opportunities in social work open to men and women trained for this new profession. It is entitled "The Profession of Social Work," and may be secured by mail from the above address.

"Some college students are always being consulted by their friends in regard to the election of courses, or their own personal problems." They can become trained case workers assisting individuals in a wider field to solve their social problems. Such positions are most often found with organizations dealing with children, with families, with maladjusted or abnormal individuals, although employment management, visiting teaching, vocational counseling call for the same ability.

"Other undergraduates naturally stand out and assume leadership in college clubs, or athletic teams. They become song leaders, run amateur theatricals, preside over debating societies." In the club work of settlements, Boy and Girl Scout organizations, the recreation work of the Y. M. C. A. and Community Service, group activities with foreigners, this ability to handle groups of people is a pre-requisite.

"Still other students successfully run athletic teams, school publications, or special social events." This is the stuff of which the community organizer is made. Health agencies, community councils of social agencies, chambers of commerce, financial federations—present opportunities for these.

Finally for the honor student, the Phi Beta Kappa man or woman who is interested in gathering, analyzing and interpreting facts, there is the broad field of social research. With research foundations, public departments, and a wide variety of social agencies, opportunity can be found for fundamental contribution to social science.

In one of the 22 professional schools of social work a college graduate can secure training which will start him well on the road to success in this new profession. All of them have generous fellowships and loan funds, and while its appeal is not to those who put remuneration first, yet both beginning and average salaries compare well with those in other professional fields.

Dr. A. A. Holts was in Salina Saturday and spoke before the Saline County Teachers' association. Doctor Holts talked on "What's Wrong with Main Street."

Miss Enola Winter spent the week end visiting in Lawrence and Kansas City.

LOOK INTO THIS

While the practice of suppressing the facts is detrimental to democracy, there are a few things better left unsaid.

For instance, if the newspapers all followed the practice of publishing "the facts, complete, uncolored, unaltered," the public would rise up in indignation, and there would be many instances of mob action.

Were the newspapers to print the truth about deceased people in the obituary, which most people know is highly colored, there would be a beligerent attitude on the part of the general public as well as on the part of relatives of the deceased person.

And again, if the society editor of a paper came out with an article telling the truth about the bride, telling her conspicuous faults and shortcomings, how long would the society editor hold his, or her, job?

In the case of the Pop Night stunt, the general public was not interested in the placing of the stunts after the first three, with the possible exception of a few connected, directly or indirectly, with those particular organizations.

Why burden the public with details?

But, if the public must be burdened with details, and the papers are going to be muckrakers, why not tell everything, good and bad?

As to Pop night, why was the story published that everything was a success. It was not, at least from the current reports heard in the business section of Manhattan. In personal conversation a number of the downtown people volunteered the information that things were slow and that the time dragged.

Why not tell everything?

If you are publishing a paper for the purpose of uncovering scandal and publishing sensational news, all well and good; but in the everyday run of newspaper work, the secret of it all is to use judgment as to what should be said and as to what should be left unsaid.

The proposition is summed up in the following motto: "Use Discretion!"—H. C. S.

If silence is golden there is certainly a lot of small change in circulation around here.

It is stated by many authorities that there is going on at the present time a revival of the painted art. The revival is manifesting itself at K. S. A. C. by constantly increasing sales in rouge, and an ever deepening blush on the faces of the art students.

The Weekly Character Hint

John Bunyan was a practical joker in his youth, and see what John made of himself. Try and get a reputation as the village cut up before you begin your professional career. Start now.

Who said the noise the chicken made was "cluck cluck?"

The same old story again. The way some people twist their ungrounded opinions upon an artless world is nothing short of disgusting. Chickens may have been grossly misrepresented for centuries, and justice can be done them only by investigating the matter thoroughly.

"Pioneer tells of days when daring spirits reclaimed the wilderness." Headline. The wilderness is just as grim a reality today as years ago, but the trouble is that whenever any of today's daring spirits begin working, the police confiscate the still.

A Suggestion

Homer and Harold.
Dear Sirs:
Why would it not be a good idea for the Collegian to establish a humorous column? I notice that many other college papers have such a column, and I believe it to be a good idea.

A Thinker.

"Respect for monkeys in India." Headline. Sadly enough, altogether too many monkeys receive respect here in America.

The annual Paris kissing spree was observed in that gay and alcoholic capital the other day. The youth of American colleges is undoubtedly wondering why this country can't have something like that.

A perennial chance for the free play of one of the great college traditions might indeed permit the chap-erones of the land more laxity in vigilance for the other 364 days of the year.

But doing things by weeks as we do over here the question is raised as to whether or not there might be such a thing as over-osculation.

It might be possible, however, to denature the kisses in some way or other, or cut down their strength to such a percent that a whole week could be undergone. An investigation committee might be appointed.

All That I Know

About a certain individual
Is what I hear while Sitting next to him in
A restaurant after
He has ordered
Soup.

That's enough for me.
—Hippolytus.

"Save and Have Ben Franklin" reads an ad in large type. But there are a few of us who don't want him. What then?

And now we are wondering whether the individual who on a dark, dark night recently left his tortoise shell rimmed glasses on a bench in the park, has found them.

We most sincerely hope so. Should this amorous citizen fail to recover them we predict the local vigilance workers would cite for the next decade this terrible fate of one who strayed, and lost, and enjoyed himself.

At one of our local churches a few Sunday evenings ago the congregation adopted temporarily the practice of applauding the service at the points which especially won their favor. Aside from making the recipients swell with pride, it had the accompanying effect of lending a more homelike atmosphere to the front row movie fans.

We cannot refrain from secretly speculating what a silent place some churches would be were the applauding system universally applied to sermons.

Busy Week for Y. W. Octette

This is a busy week for the Y. W. C. A. octette. The members have worked for some time preparing the program scheduled.

Monday afternoon the octette will sing at the Social club meeting in recreation hall, and Tuesday afternoon a program is to be given at the Community house.

An excellent program has been arranged by the Octette for vesper service Thursday afternoon.

Sigma Delta Chi Pledges

Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, has pledged C. W. Pratt, senior in industrial journalism.

Guy Oden, senior in mechanical engineering, and Glen Gates, senior in civil engineering, attended a temple meeting of the Masons in Salina Tuesday. They took the Shriner degree.

B. F. Barnes, superintendent of the Colby experiment station, was in Manhattan last Wednesday and Thursday on business connected with the station.

About 75 couples attended the freshmen men's Pan Hellenic dance at the Community house Friday evening. The pins of the different fraternities were the feature of the decorations and during each dance a different pin was lighted. The fraternity house mothers were the chap-erones of the evening.

The Stafford county Aggies held a party at 1018 Bluemont Friday evening. The club enjoyed a social hour followed by a discussion of plans for a Christmas entertainment to be given to the graduating students of the county high schools. It is the plan of the organization to stimulate more interest in college work among the students and thus encourage a larger attendance at K. S. A. C. from Stafford county.

The annual fall party of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity was held at Elk's hall Saturday evening from 8:30 to 11:30. The evening was spent in dancing, with Roark's orchestra furnishing the music. Favor programs of leather card cases stamped with the fraternity crest were features of the evening. Out of town guests who attended the party were Miss H. Thomas of Emporia, Miss Vera Samuel of Abilene, Mr. Myron George of Lawrence, Mr. Robert Lemmons of Lawrence, Mr. Phillip Dodderidge of White City, Mr. West of Atlanta, Ga., Mr. Maux Moore of Topeka, and Mr. Bob Steiner of Topeka.

SIGMA DELTA CHI CONVENES HERE IN 1922

MANHATTAN SELECTED AT RECENT CONVENTION AT AMES

LOCAL CHAPTER HAS 15 ACTIVES

Victor Blackledge Is Delegate to Recent Meeting—Fund for Entertainment Already Started

The Kansas State Agricultural college was selected as the meeting place for the 1922 convention of the Sigma Delta Chi, national honorary journalistic fraternity. Victor Blackledge represented the Kansas State chapter petition for the convention, at the annual meeting which was held at Ames, Iowa, December 8-10.

Men from 37 Chapters Coming

The convention will bring representatives here from 37 chapters located in all parts of the United States. Many alumni and honorary members of high newspaper rank always attend the convention as speakers and guests and this will afford an excellent opportunity for Aggies to advertise K. S. A. C.

De Pauw university organized the first chapter of Sigma Delta Chi April 17, 1909. The Kansas State chapter was installed on May 4, 1915. The chapter now has 15 active members: Prof. H. W. Davis, Prof. N. A. Crawford, Prof. E. T. Keith, Prof. C. E. Rogers, Maurice Laine, H. G. Bryson, C. R. Smith, Albert Mead, Walter Law, Morse Salisbury, Donald Ballou, Victor Blackledge, Milton Eisenhower, Randolph Palmer, and W. C. Howard. K. S. A. C. is one of the few agricultural colleges that has been granted a chapter.

Department Rank Influences Choice

The convention choice was based largely upon the fact that K. S. A. C. has one of the best technical journalistic schools in the west and was one of the first schools in the United States to offer a course in printing. The chapter here has been active and has a fund started for the staging of the convention. Manhattan is centrally located and is easily reached by railroads.

Arrangements for the entertainment of the convention will be started immediately. Funds raised from the sale of Brown Bulls will be used for the entertainment of the guests.

LAUNCH RELIEF DRIVE THURSDAY

GIVE UP JOINT Y PARTY ON ACCOUNT COMMUNITY PROGRAM

Ira Pratt in Charge Christmas Program—To Have Large Tree

The campaign for European student relief funds will be launched after chapel Thursday, when Aggie students will offer Christmas candles for sale. The candles will be sold both to individuals and to organizations. Those for organizations will sell at not less than $10. Persons in charge of the campaign hope that American students will respond generously to the suffering of students in other lands, and will give Christmas presents to these people who will so greatly appreciate them.

The first candle has already been spoken for by the members of the Cosmopolitan club. These 20 students who have seen conditions in European countries and know the dire need which exists in them, have raised nearly $30 for the purchase of the candle. One member of the club who has recently traveled extensively in Europe believes no difficulty would be experienced in going over the top with candle sales, if American students had actually seen the conditions as they exist.

The Christmas party which had been planned by the social committees of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. will not be given on account of the Community Christmas program which will conclude the relief campaign. The program will be given in the quadrangle and will be under the direction of Prof. Ira Pratt of the department of music. Christmas carols by the crowd and carols and other special music by the chorus will make up the short program. A large tree has been secured and will be artistically decorated for the occasion.

Information concerning the drive will probably be given in chapel Thursday, according to the committee in charge. Details for the raising of the fund and of the Christmas program which is to be the final feature of the event, are in charge of a joint committee, consisting of faculty members appointed by President Jardine and of prominent students on the hill.

Important Senior Meeting Tonight

An important meeting of the senior class will be held in F 2 this evening at 7 o'clock.

Fresh Commission Divisions to Meet

The first division of the freshman girls' commission will meet Tuesday at 4 o'clock in L26, and the second division will meet Thursday at the same hour and place. At the last meeting the girls were asked to write out and hand to the leader some question for discussion, concerning a freshman girl's problems. These questions will be discussed at the meetings this week.

Postpone School of Ag Debate

The School of Agriculture debate which was scheduled for December 10, was postponed until December 17 on account of the play "Clarence." Both teams have their material well in hand, and the coaches are expecting some keen competition.

Lost—Electrical engineering hat taken by mistake from auditorium Friday, December 2. Reward if returned to P. M. McKnown, Box 171.

Prof. Albert Dickens returned Sunday from Sumner county where he had been conducting an orchard school.

MESSIAH TO END A BUSY SEASON

ELEVENTH ENTERTAINMENT OF MUSIC DEPARTMENT THIS FALL

Six Faculty Concerts and Orchestra Concert Were Free of Charge

With the presentation of the Messiah next Sunday, December 18, one of the most successful seasons the K. S. A. C. music department has ever known will come to a close.

Eleven entertainments have been presented by the music department this fall. Of these 11 it is interesting to note that eight have been free to the public. Six faculty recitals and the orchestra concert have been given without charge and the Messiah will also be free. Unusually large crowds have turned out for the recitals and they have been a success from every angle.

The two numbers of the Artists' Series have been exceptionally satisfactory as far as the quality of the entertainment goes. The second number especially was a treat to music lovers. But the financial side has not been so successful. The students and townspeople failed to support the Series although the artists were of a higher class and the prices lower than in previous years. A rather small crowd attended the band concert which was given last night in the auditorium. An admission of 50 cents was charged, the proceeds to help pay for the new uniforms.

Mr. Ira Pratt, head of the department makes this acknowledgement: "I want to thank everyone for the fine support accorded the various activities of the department this fall. Students, townspeople, and faculty members have all shown a fine spirit of cooperation. It was this spirit that made possible our success this fall and that will make possible the accomplishment of greater things in the future."

Sunday dinner guests at the Kappa Delta house were Mr. G. O. Dakin and Mr. John Dakin of Ashland, and Mr. G. A. Chandler of Tulsa, Okla.

Lost: Saturday night in the auditorium or on the walk leading to Anderson hall, a strand of heavy Japanese pearl beads. Finder please notify Miss Izil Polson, phone 172W or 651. Reward.

FARRELL TO SPEAK TO AG STUDENTS THURSDAY EVENING

Will Repeat Talk Made Before Faculty of Division

No meeting of greater interest to the students in the division of agriculture will be held during the whole year than that on Thursday evening, December 15 at 7:30. Dean F. D. Farrell, at the request of the executive council of the Agricultural association, will repeat a talk which he gave last week before the agricultural division faculty members.

Several of the faculty members who have heard the talk have expressed their intention of attending the meeting. Some of the things which will be dealt with are motives in agricultural education, the attitude of agricultural graduates toward public welfare, and divisional spirit.

Something unusual is to take place at the meeting, according to a few upper class ags. It is, however, of great secrecy, and will be "sprung" confidentially to the entire division on that evening.

Engineers Have Movies at Seminar

A moving picture show was put on last Thursday at the engineering seminar which was held in the barracks. Three interesting reels were shown for the education of the students. The first reel showed the manufacturing plant of a 50,000 horse power steam turbine generator, the largest single power producing unit in the world. The second reel showed the making of electrical porcelain, from the mixing of ingredients to the finished product. The Island of Sugar showing the world's greatest achievement in cane sugar industry showed how cane sugar is produced.

Sunday dinner guests at the Kappa Delta house were Mr. G. O. Dakin and Mr. John Dakin of Ashland, and Mr. G. A. Chandler of Tulsa, Okla.

ACTIVITY FEE FAVORED BY BIG NUMBER

S. S. G. A. COMMITTEE SUBMITS
TENTATIVE PLANS

SYSTEM USED IN OTHER SCHOOLS

Cost to Individual Is Less—Eliminates Tag Day and Season Athletic Tickets—Definite Action Soon

Every one of the 15 organizations which have made their report on the varsity activity fee to date has been in favor of the compulsory activity fee which is to be paid for the whole year through the business office at the time of registration. The general consensus of opinion seems to be that the Collegian should not be included in the fee.

S. S. G. A. Suggests Plans

The S. S. G. A. committee which has been investigating the possibilities of the student activity fee proposes two tentative plans for a varsity activity fee which is to include the support of all intercollegiate teams and the admission to all intercollegiate contests, including athletics.

Plan number one includes subscription to the Collegian and plan number two does not. Aside from this difference the two plans are alike. Included in the varsity activity fee would be support for all judging teams, oratory, debate, band, membership in the S. S. G. A., and admission to all intercollegiate contests. At present the cost to the individual student of these various activities is $17 for those who participate, where under the varsity activity fee the cost would probably be $9 without the Collegian and $10 with the Collegian. As it is now, all money for the band and judging teams has been raised by benefit dances, subscriptions, and tag days while oratory and debate have been supported exclusively by the literary societies.

Ask Opinion of Organizations

The two general plans together with other information and points for discussion have been sent out to every organization of students connected with the college with the request that they discuss the plans and take official action either in support or rejection. If then the popular sentiment is found to be in favor of the plan a general meeting of the S. S. G. A. will be called and the plan acted upon by the general assembly of students.

The plan for having a compulsory activity fee collected by the business office at registration time has been used with success in many of the larger institutions of the country. The state normal at Emporia and the manual training normal at Pittsburg both use this plan. The general plan followed here in making the tentative proposal was that in use at the University of Texas.

Jardine Backs Students

Since President Jardine has given his assurance that he will take it upon himself personally to put the fee through the state board of administration in case the students desire it, definite action will probably be taken by the general assembly of the S. S. G. A. sometime in the early part of January.

SCHOOL OF AG DEBATE TEAMS
MEET SATURDAY, DECEMBER 17

Adoption of Soldier Bonus Bill Subject of Argument

Much interest among school of agriculture students is being shown in the debates which are to be held Saturday, December 17, between two teams representing the literary societies against teams chosen from persons who are not members of these organizations. The question which will be discussed is, "Resolved, that Congress Should Adopt a Soldiers' Bonus Bill."

The literary society teams are being coached by Wayne E. McKibben, who is a member of the college debate team. The negative team, which is composed of girls from the Philomathian literary society, consists of Chester Hepler, Dorothy Ross, and Mona Hogelman; and the affirmative team, which is made up of men from the Lincoln literary society, consists of W. C. Boller, E. Parker, and J. T. Von Trebra.

Teams representing the non-literary society members are coached by Ellis Kimble, double-K deabter. The affirmative team is composed of Miss Helen Swallow, C. A. Mathien, and F. A. Cooley; and the negative team is composed of C. B. Keck, F. D. Johnson, and Corwin Spencer.

Klod and Kernel Klub Meets

The Klod and Kernel Klub met Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in recreation center. Prof. L. A. Fitz spoke concerning scientific grain grades, Prof. L. E. Call discussed the New Orleans meeting of the Society of Agronomy, and Prof. S. C. Salmon told of the International Hay and Grain show.

Wilson County Club Elects Officers

A meeting of the Wilson County club was held Thursday, December 7, at which time officers for the remainder of the year were elected. The plans of the club were also discussed. R. E. Clegg of Altoona, is president of the club.

GIVE ORATORIO MESSIAH SUNDAY

OVER 125 PEOPLE WILL TAKE PART IN PRODUCTION

Presentation Largest Ever Attempted in Middle West, According to Pratt

Over 125 people are to take part in the presentation of the Messiah at the college auditorium Sunday evening, December 18. This is the greatest number that has ever been in the presentation of this oratorio at the college, and according to Ira Pratt, the conductor, this will be the most complete presentation that has been attempted in the middle west.

The Messiah is to be presented by the college chorus assisted by the choir union of Manhattan. The college orchestra is to play the musical scores. The soloists are to be Miss Edna Ellis, soprano; Miss Katherine Kimmel, contralto; Mr. O. L. Gruber, tenor; and Mr. William Lindquist, baritone. These people are members of the faculty of the music department.

There will be no admission charge but a silver offering will be taken to help defray the expenses incurred in the presentation of the oratorio.

MANY STUDENTS ARE VACCINATED

DOCTOR SIEVER AVERAGING 20

Now

Since students are beginning to realize the necessity of being vaccinated against smallpox an average of 20 have been vaccinated each day for the last two weeks. The total number of persons vaccinated by Dr. C. M. Siever is 539.

A letter was recently received by the department of student health from Nellie M. Payne, an instructor in Lindenwood college and formerly of this place, asking for her certificate of vaccination. She found that she must either be vaccinated again or show a certificate before she would be allowed to travel.

Get New Military Equipment

The military department has just received a shipment of new material from headquarters. Among the equipment are a 37 millimeter, or one pound gun, a trench mortar, a skeletonized rifle, and a skeletonized automatic rifle.

The main feature of these last two guns is that the action can be seen, and in this way will aid materially for instruction purposes. The dummy hand grenades and rifle grenades will be of interest, not only for their novelty, but for the practical practice they will afford. Major Davidson's morning and afternoon classes both gave demonstrations Monday of musketry tracer ammunition.

"Fire Horse Charlie" Is H. W. D's Name For Friend Rogers

Under ordinary circumstances Charles Elkin Rogers and Hallam Walker Davis are good friends. Because of the similarity of their professions they are thrown much together and their interests are much the same. Their offices are in the same building and their homes are within a block of each other. It can readily be seen that they have several points of contact.

One afternoon not long since Mr. Rogers happened to be at home performing various little domestic duties included in the routine of a good husband—whether it was drying the dishes or peeling potatoes does not matter greatly. On the same afternoon Mr. Davis, author, poet, advertiser, and college professor was not at home. Perhaps it was coincident. Perhaps it was because of superior ability in evading domestic duties.

The Rogers' phone rang. "Mrs. Davis speaking. Mr. Rogers, will you come quickly? The house is on fire."

A word to the brave is sufficient. Hatless, coatless, sleeves rolled up, and a Joan of Arc expression on his noble face, Charles Elkin Rogers ran gallantly to the assistance of the wife of his neighbor and contemporary. Arriving there in a breathless condition he sensed the odor of superheated pine. Heroic search on the part of Mr. Rogers failed to reveal the pine shaving which had accidentally fallen into the oven of the kitchen range.

When Mr. Davis returned some time later he found Mrs. Davis and Mr. Rogers talking of—well, most anything, around the kitchen table while indulging in a morsel of the most delicious cake.

Mrs. Rogers now has specific instructions from Mr. Davis that in case Mr. Rogers is called to his home again under any slight pretext even if it is only a superheated furnace that she leave home at once and come to see him, Hallam Walker Davis. Such is Mr. Davis' idea of Nemesis.

BROWN BULL TO HONOR 'KNICKIES'

NEXT HUMOROUS MAGAZINE TO BE "KNICKIE KNUMBER"

Jazzy Illustrations Are To Be Used—
Want Student Contributions

"Knickie Knumber." That's what they're going to call it, and from what they say the copy that is being turned in so far is fully as jazzy as the title. It's the Brown Bull force, you know, and the magazine they're planning to put out next time. And art! You just ought to see some of the pictures that have been handed in. Ain't nature wonderful? Already the staff is planning to order a case and a half of shell rimmed spectacles fully equipped with dimmers.

But the public must be given what it wants, and what it wants most just now is to know all about knickiebockers—their history and their future. The next Bull will depict their evolution from the time of Eve to Lizzie Wooster herself, and will probably give a few practical futuristic suggestions for spring.

The "Knickie Knumber" will be out Tuesday, January 31—and will serve to shorten the hours of waiting in line during the enrolment ordeal. The editor is sending out to every student in school an S. O. S. call for a copious flow of early copy in order that there may be plenty of time to select only the best and incorporate it in "Knickie Knumber."

And for every food eating student in K. S. A. C. here is a crumb of information. There is to be a nifty contributors' banquet staged for those who hand in a certain amount of copy or cartoons. This will be a real feed, and will include, besides eats, lots of toasts, and grub, and edibles of various kinds for the benefit of the more humanly inclined of the literary lights who chance to be interested in nutrition. If you hear a good joke and are interested in having a good Brown Bull next time, just write the joke on a piece of paper and send it to the Brown Bull. And don't forget to send your name, so they will save a plate for you at the banquet.

LIT SOCIETIES STAGE RALLY SATURDAY

HOLD FINAL DEBATE OF INTER-SOCIETY SERIES

COACH H. E. ROSSON WILL SPEAK

New Argument Director Began Work
This Week—Brownings and Athenians Meet in Final Scrap

The annual inter-society debate rally will be held in recreation center next Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The rally is an annual event and comes as the culmination of the inter-society debate series which has been in progress between the eight literary societies during the past few weeks. At the rally this year H. E. Rosson, the new debate coach, will make his first public appearance.

Negatives Win in Semi-Finals

Each of the societies originally entered two teams in the race, making 16 teams in all. By a process of elimination this number was gradually reduced to the four teams which participated in the semi-finals, held Wednesday evening. The Athenian negative, Athenian affirmative, Browning negative, and Alpha Beta affirmative teams were the ones which took part in the semi-finals. Both negative teams won.

Brownings To Take Affirmative

At the rally Saturday the Browning team will take the affirmative side of the question against their brother society, the Athenians. The question to be debated will be: "Resolved: That labor unions, as they now exist, are beneficial to society"—the same question that has been used throughout the series. The teams will be made up as follows: Athenian: H. R. Priestly, A. R. Paden, and V. J. Englund; Browning: Grace Herr, Elfrieda Hempker, and Mary Maroney.

Hold General Mixer

Besides the debate, there will be a general mixer for the society members, and short talks by Prof. H. E. Rosson, the new debate coach, and others.

Rosson a Practicing Attorney

H. E. Rosson, a practicing attorney of Des Moines, Iowa, has been chosen coach of debate here. Mr. Rosson began work Monday. He was graduated from Knox college in 1916 and enrolled in law at the University of Iowa the next year, but enlisted and was sent to the officers' training camp at Fort Snelling. He was commissioned and served as an inspector of S. A. T. C. units for New York and New Jersey during the latter part of the war.

Mr. Rosson finished his law course at the University of Iowa in 1920, and has been practicing since at Esterville and Des Moines, Iowa. While in Knox college Mr. Rosson was student assistant in public speaking, and was instructor in debate while doing graduate work at the University of Iowa. His interest in debating and public speaking and his desire for work in training college students in forensic law has caused him to give up his law practice and return to teaching.

While in college, Mr. Rosson was prominent in debate and oratory. In 1914 he won second place in the Illinois state peace contest, and first place in the Illinois state intercollegiate oratorical contest in 1915. As a recognition of his speaking ability he was elected to membership in Delta Sigma Rho, forensic fraternity. He is also a member of Phi Delta Phi, legal fraternity, and of Beta Theta Pi.

Mr. Rosson will not teach any classes this semester, but will devote all of his time to coaching the four debate teams which will enter contests in January. He will make his first public appearance at the debate rally which will be held in recreation center Saturday evening.

Coach Charles W. Bachman of the Aggies spoke before the semi-annual meeting of the Kansas State conference held at Topeka December 10, on "The Value of Football in General College Life."

DR. CHARLES BAKER GIVES HEALTH LECTURES HERE

Speaker Is Redpath Horner Lecturer
During Summer

Dr. Charles E. Baker, who is in Manhattan under the auspices of the Rotary club spoke to the college students in recreation center Thursday evening.

The theme of Doctor Baker's lecture was the importance of giving thought and time to personal health. He believes that a sound mind in a sound body is the key to success and happiness.

Doctor Baker has spent many of his summers lecturing from the platform of the Redpath Horner chautauqua and in the winter he lectures to the general public.

While in the White House William H. Taft was under the care of Doctor Baker. The late Chief Justice White, Senator Aldrich, Frank Vanderlip, and many other men of prominence have been under his care.

POULTRY JUDGES SIXTH AT CHICAGO

IS FIRST YEAR K. S. A. C. HAS ENTERED COLISEUM SHOW

Percentage Aggies Made at Kansas City Would Have Won
First Honors

The poultry judging team of K. S. A. C. won sixth place in the Chicago Coliseum Poultry show. N. R. Bickford was fifth in personal rank. The team was composed of the same members who won first place at the Heart of America Poultry show: Arlie Duree, N. R. Bickford, C. O. Watson, and C. E. Stout, alternate, all vocational students. This year is the second time that the Coliseum Poultry show has held a students' stock judging contest and this year is the first time K. S. A. C. has entered a team.

If the team members had made the same percentage that they did at Kansas City, they would have won first place.

Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college took first place; Iowa State college, second; Missouri university, third; Purdue university, fourth; University of Nebraska, fifth; Kansas State Agricultural college, sixth; and Michigan Agricultural college, seventh.

BASKET BALL TICKET SALE GOING STRONG

NO DEFINITE REPORT ON SALES
YET AVAILABLE

PICK QUINTET BEFORE VACATION

Members of K Fraternity and Women's Athletic Association Have Tickets on Sale—Only 1,200
Seats Procurable

The sale of season basketball tickets is getting under way like an Aggie line smash. Although the pasteboard selling campaign has been in progress only a day and a half, a steady stream of Aggie sport fans who believe this is the Aggie year, has filtered into the athletic office for the purpose of securing seats on the sidelines of the rectangle in Nichols gymnasium. The enthusiasm that was so much in evidence during the gridiron season, is apparently again due to come into its own. The sale of reserved seats has been particularly gratifying, according to Mike Ahern, the Big Chief of Aggie athletics.

No report had been received at the athletic office on the sale of tickets by the K fraternity and the Women's Athletic association yet Thursday noon.

Saving Looks Good to Students

The saving made possible by purchasing admission to eight championship battles for only $2.50—reserved seats for the season $1.50 extra—seems to have an especially attractive appeal to the Aggie loyalists in these days of "tight money." A few organizations have reserved blocks of seats, but the bulk of the books thus far have been purchased by individual fans who are taking the precaution of insuring their opportunity to witness the eight valley quintets that are the foremost exponents of the court game in the middle west, in action against Coach Curtiss' Aggie contenders.

Expect No Trouble Selling Tickets

There seems to be little doubt in the minds of those in charge of the ticket sale that every one of the 1,200 season booklets printed, will be disposed of before the season opens with Grinnell college here on January 5. When these tickets are sold, no more will be procurable, due to the limitations on the seating capacity of the gymnasium.

Basketeers Working Hard

The basketeers are working diligently two hours every afternoon under Coach Curtiss, and a large number of the aspirants are showing varsity calibre. In order that every candidate may have a thorough tryout, the size of the squad has not yet been cut, and the work of the men under increased competition for positions is showing results. Coach Curtiss has announced that he will wield the pruning hook just before the holiday vacation, and the cagers whom Captain Brady Cowell will lead in the campaign for the coveted Missouri valley pennant will be chosen.

The tickets may still be secured from members of the K club, the Women's Athletic association, or at the athletic office.

Hand Ball Courts Are Open

Commencing Tuesday, December 13, all 1922 football candidates are requested to make use of the hand ball courts in the gymnasium. The courts will be available at any hour during the day. Candidates are to sign up at the east office of the gymnasium for the hours that they can attend.

MORE THAN PRIDE IS NEEDED

Others tell us and we like to tell ourselves we have one of the best bands in the United States. We like to proclaim it from the house tops. At the football games we glory in boasting of our band. On the military parade ground we never miss an opportunity to point with pride to our band, as they march by in their new uniforms. We are proud of our band.

And yet, only last Monday evening we were all given an opportunity to lend a helping financial hand to this same band, and less than 25 per cent of our students and faculty gave response. Attendance would not have been a donation. It would have been a musical feast, and would have been a splendid method of showing our appreciation. These new suits cost $2,500, and must be paid for. Support such as was given last Monday will not pay for them.

FOOTBALL ASSET OF COLLEGE BACHMAN TELLS CONFERENCE

World War Emphasizes Value of Games Says Coach

"Football may truly be considered as a most valuable asset to the college," stated Coach C. W. Bachman at a meeting of the Kansas conference of the intercollegiate athletic association held in Topeka last Saturday. "It was not until we entered the world war and realized the need of a man's possessing executive ability and the qualities of leadership that the true value of the game was realized."

"Football teaches the boy self-reliance, acuteness and rightly directed aggressiveness."

"It is true that accidents often occur on the football field and the players are often bruised, battered and weary but they willingly submit to this and come home tired but happy, and their weariness is of a wholesome nature."

"Several large institutions such as Columbia, California, and Northwestern have tried the experiment of dropping football but in every case they have been forced to come back to it. The general public supports football with an enthusiasm that it does not bestow upon other forms of athletics."

"Notre Dame university, with the most consistent football team in the United States, famous for its superb spirit, accounts for that spirit largely by the fact that every Notre Dame student plays football."

"No college can successfully resist the game, for in football the student finds a game which fulfills his idea of a genuine sport."

Beg Your Pardon

The Collegian wishes to correct the mis-statement made in a recent issue of the Collegian to the effect that the Alpha Beta society was the winner of third place in Aggie Pop Night. The Alpha Betas were the winners of second rather than third place.

At a recent meeting of the Kansas Society for Mental Hygiene in Topeka Prof. N. A. Crawford gave an address on "Mental Health and the Newspaper." Mr. Crawford was made a member of the board of directors of the society.

The Rev. B. A. Rogers has been appointed as associate pastor of the Methodist church. He is a graduate of McKendree college, Ill., of the Boston university school of theology, and of Columbia university. Mr. Rogers will begin his work in January. Mrs. Rogers is a graduate of the Emerson School of Oratory in Boston. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers will live at 1006 Vattier.

THE REJECTION SLIP

That loyalty and homage we owe to our school

Is true beyond any suspicion,
But there's one thing that should be made clear to us now:
Just what's this Great Aggie Tradition?

When pepstirs and such maniaes use the phrase

To better old Alma's condition
They forget that we're all way off down in the Styx Anent this Great Aggie Tradition.

Those who don't rally to aid the school's drives

Are due for some stern admonition;
But how can they rally when 'way out at sea
About this great Aggie Tradition?

Just think of the stigma our grads must endure

When forced to the shameful admission
In front of alumni from other a. m.'s.
They don't know our Great Aggie Tradition.

It certainly seems that the S. S. G. A.

Would give the school full exposition
On a subject it's always been muddled about:
Viz: Just what's this Great Aggie Tradition?

Crawford Has Poem in Midland

Pendleton, and Bob Jenkins appealed to the members of the class to have their dues paid and pictures taken.

She gave a comprehensive survey of H. G. Wells; his life, his fame in science, as a novelist, an essayist, and as a journalist. Typical examples of his works were presented. The meeting was very well attended.

WANT COUNTIES ALL ORGANIZED

MANY CLUBS PLANNING ENTERTAINMENTS FOR THE HOLIDAYS

Of 105 Counties Represented at K. S. A. C. Only 25 Have Clubs

"Have the students of your county organized into a county club?"

"What do you think of the idea of putting on a program for the high school seniors in your home town during the Christmas vacation?"

These are the questions being asked of the students by the S. S. G. A. school spirit committee. This committee is highly interested in the promotion of college spirit in the home towns during the Christmas vacation by programs conducted by the county clubs.

Out of the 105 counties in Kansas 100 are represented at K. S. A. C. but only 25 of these have active organizations. A number of the organized counties are planning entertainments for the home town during the holidays. The Trego County club is making a tour of the entire county with a short play. Stafford students are giving a community entertainment and evening program; Shawnee County club members are giving a banquet to the graduating students; Dickinson is giving a high school chapel program. Wilson county students are planning a recital series.

The Y. M. C. A. extension department and alumni association are working with the S. S. G. A. in promoting this spirit. Wall banners are being purchased for some of the larger high schools of the state.

The school spirit committee urges that the students of every county not yet organized, do so and get busy on a holiday program at once.

W. H. Chappell of Norton, was a Sunday dinner guest at the Pi Kappa Alpha house.

Sunday dinner guests at the Beta Theta Pi house were Miss Jean Hanna, Miss Doris Riddel, Miss Corinne Smith, Miss Annie Laura Moore, Miss Dora Dean Dakin, Miss Florence Helzer, Miss Myrna Pilley, Miss Laura McAdams, Miss Florence Barnhisel, Miss Myrl Barnhisel, and Miss Jean Moore.

Prof. Clarence E. Reid of the electrical engineering department has received a letter from C. W. McCracken who is with an electric company in Santiago. Mr. McCracken says that after two years in the apprenticeship of the General Electric company he was sent to their Havana office. After four months in Havana he was sent to San Francisco to place of an engineer.

A. E. Langworthy and Frank M. Aliman, feed inspectors, left Tuesday on a regular inspection trip through southern and eastern Kansas.

Prof. H. W. Davis, of the English department, was in Topeka Saturday attending a meeting of the executive council of the state association of teachers of English.

WILL START A NEW TRADITION FOR K. S. A. C.

HOLD COMMUNITY GATHERING IN QUADRANGLE TUESDAY

PLAN TO MAKE AFFAIR ANNUAL

Celebration Ends Relief Drive—Music Department Will Furnish Program—Christmas Tree
Will Be Feature

The long-felt desire on the part of students and faculty members for a Christmas program just before holidays will be realized next Tuesday evening. A community gathering will be held in the quadrangle on this evening. A short musical concert will be given under the direction of Prof. Ira Pratt of the music department. The grounds will be brilliantly lighted and a Christmas tree will be a feature.

Make Celebration Annual Affair

It is the intention of the committee to make this an annual affair, for the members feel that this is a tradition which should exist at K. S. A. C. Downtown people are expected to attend the program, however, as it is to be a community affair. The program will be short, especially if it is cold on Tuesday evening. It will consist entirely of music, some of which will be Christmas hymns sung by the audience, while the major part will be carols sung by the glee clubs under the direction of Professor Pratt. Some of the singers will stand on the steps of the auditorium, while the others will sing from the steps of the home economics building. The alternating responses from the groups will be something novel in the way of a musical treat.

Climax of Relief Campaign

The program is to be a climax of the relief campaign which is being put on this week to raise funds for the aid of students in European colleges and universities.

The means adopted by the committee for the raising of this money is the selling of Christmas candles. Two kinds of candles may be secured, namely: small green ones which individuals may purchase for a minimum of 25 cents, and large white candles which organizations may secure for a minimum of $10. If an organization is unable to pay $10 for a candle it may secure one of the smaller ones for any sum which it is able to pay.

Give Up Y Christmas Party

The annual Christmas party which the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. had arranged for has been given up so that it will not interfere with the community program. Ila Knight and Fred Paulsen, chairmen of the Y. M. and Y. W. committees, are working in connection with the other committee to make the affair a success.

TURN DESIGN ROOM INTO JAPANESE CURIO SHOP

Mrs. De Garvis, in Charge of Display,
Is Experienced Writer

The design room in Anderson hall resembled a real curio shop last week and Aggie students and faculty members were very much interested in the collection of Japanese souvenirs displayed there.

Mrs. Frederic de Garvis who had charge of this display has just returned from Japan where she obtained the collection. Some Korean things were also displayed. The collection contained Japanese fans, kimonos, parasols, tea sets, silks, and many other things which could be appreciated only by being seen.

Mrs. de Garvis went to Japan five years ago. She has been writing for many American magazines, and was for two years connected with the Japan Advertiser at Tokio. This is the greatest English paper published in Japan. Mrs. Garvis' husband is connected with imperial government railways. They have traveled all over Japan and have become very well acquainted with Japanese customs. Mrs. De Garvis is now completing a book on Japan.

Bess Curry Visiting Here

Miss Bess Curry, formerly instructor in the K. S. A. C. music department, and now with the Ralph Dunbar Opera company of Chicago, is spending a few days in Manhattan before going to her home in Norton for the holidays.

Miss Curry left K. S. A. C. at the end of the spring semester last June to join the Dunbar company and has since been engaged in operatic work. She has played many parts and has done many kinds of work, from singing in the chorus to directing the opera. She was playing Maid Marian in "Robin Hood" a short time ago when the director was taken suddenly ill and Miss Curry was selected for the position. She is very enthusiastic over her work and says she has "learned a lot" since leaving K. S. A. C.

While in Manhattan Miss Curry is the guest of Miss Helen Hannen, of the music department. She expects to leave for her home Thursday to visit there until the first of the year.

Prof. N. A. Crawford expects to go to Pittsburgh, Pa., some time in January to install a chapter of the American College Quill club at the University of Pittsburgh. Mr. Crawford is national chancellor of the organization.

L. W. Townsend, freshman in agriculture, has withdrawn from college because of poor health.

John D. Sanders, federal board man, has withdrawn from college because of poor health.

H. L. Baker, senior in agriculture, has been compelled to drop out of college because of poor health.

Prof. B. M. Anderson was in McFarland Thursday and Friday managing the Stocker and Feeder sale for the Kansas Livestock association. There were 2,000 cattle sold at this sale.

Dr. C. W. McCampbell was elected president of the Livestock Registry board at its last meeting which was held in Chicago during the International Livestock show. Doctor McCampbell has been president of the Livestock Registry board for nine years.

The annual meeting of the American Association of Teachers of Journalism will be held in Madison, Wis., December 28-30. Prof. N. A. Crawford, as secretary of the association, is preparing the program.

Hobart May, former student of K. S. A. C., who was seriously injured in an automobile accident at Goodwin, Kan., early last fall, is now able to be out of the house and can walk a short distance.

TO HOLD XMAS GET-TOGETHER THIS EVENING

EVENT MARKS ESTABLISHMENT OF NEW COMMUNITY RELATION

PROGRAM IS ENTIRELY MUSICAL

Gathering to Be in Quadrangle—Several Organizations Have Contributed to Friendship Fund

The community Christmas get-together of Aggies and downtown people this evening at 7:30 will mark the establishment of a new custom at Manhattan. The long-felt need of some function which would bring college students and Manhattan citizens together before the students leave for their homes will be realized this year, and will become a permanent custom at K. S. A. C.

The program will be entirely musical in nature, consisting of Christmas carols by the men's and women's glee clubs, and selections by the band. The program is under the direction of Prof. Ira Pratt, head of the music department. It will be appropriate for the occasion and different from anything but on heretofore.

Give Program in Quadrangle

The program will be given in the quadrangle between the gymnasium, auditorium, library, and home economics buildings. The grounds will be artistically lighted. The program will not last over 45 minutes, and will begin promptly at 7:30.

The carols which will be sung by the glee clubs are as follows: "Holy Night, Peaceful Night," a German folk song, with words from Parish hymnal; "Draw Nigh, Immanuel," an old French Melody of 13th century with words from Mozarble Breviary; "O Little Town of Bethlehem," a traditional melody with words by Phillip Brooks; "The First Noel! What Child Is This," a traditional melody with words by W. C. Dix; and "We Three Kings of Orient Are," to the tune of an old melody, with words by J. D. Hepkins.

Climax of Student Friendship Drive

The community gathering is a climax of the student friendship drive which Aggie students have been carrying on the past week for relief of students in European colleges and universities. A silver offering will be taken to augment the $300 which has already been raised from sale of candles. Monday noon six organizations had purchased large candles for the following sums: Pi Beta Phi, $36; Big Sister captains, $14; Kappa Kappa Gamma, $35; Cosmopolitan club, $40; Alpha Tau Omega, $30; and Alpha Delta Pi, $35. Candles are being sold in the engineering, agricultural, home economics, and chemistry buildings and in Anderson Hall.

WORK ON FARM AND HOME WEEK

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT PREPARES PROGRAM

Doctor Stanley of Missouri University to Lead Discussions

Plans for the home side of Farm and Home week February 6 to 11 are well under way in the home economics program. Dr. Louise Stanley, professor of home economics of the University of Missouri, will be the outside speaker and will lead in all discussions. Dean Helen B. Thompson is in charge of the program.

There will be a morning and an afternoon session each day and an evening session Tuesday, February 7. All sessions will be in the home economics building unless otherwise stated. Tuesday morning there will be a clothing exhibit and a demonstration by students on the selection and construction of garments, under the direction of Miss Mary Schell. In the afternoon session Doctor Stanley will speak on "The Effect of Methods of Cooking on the Nutritive Value of Food" and Miss Louise Everhardy will give an exhibition of house furnishings at the down-town stores. This exhibition is to be continued Wednesday and Thursday afternoons as well. Doctor Stanley also will speak in the auditorium Tuesday evening. Her subject will be "Some Important Legislative Measures Affecting the Home."

Wednesday afternoon there will be an opportunity for the visitors to visit the home economics practice house at 1641 Laramie street. The afternoon session on Thursday is to be devoted to discussions on child health and a clothing exhibit and a demonstration by students under the direction of Miss Mary Polson will be given Friday morning. A talk will also be made by Dean Mary P. Van Zile on "The Relation of Extra-Curriculum Activities to College Life." In the afternoon session Miss Araminta Holman will talk on the "Selection, Framing, and Hanging of Pictures" and a demonstration on home made dress forms will be given by Miss Minnie Sequist, a specialist in the extension department.

Throughout the entire program there will be talks by instructors and professors of the several departments in the home economics division.

S. S. G. A. IN ITS THIRD YEAR NOW

ORGANIZATION TRULY REPRESENTATIVE OF STUDENT BODY

Working on Examination Schedule—Student Activity Fee Up Soon

The Students' Self Governing association, of K. S. A. C. is now in its third year.

One of the big problems on which considerable study has been directed is that of changing the final examination schedule so as to require the student to take only one examination a day. Another proposition, which will effect all students, is the Student Activity fee. This will in the near future be submitted for the students' approval.

Every year, here and there among the different colleges, new theories and ideas are put into practice pertaining to the betterment of student welfare. By observing the results of those which might benefit this college, the S. S. G. A. hopes to make this institution a leader among colleges.

Different colleges and universities have various means of electing representatives to their student governing body. It is the practice of some colleges to choose their representatives from the different schools or divisions, in others the governing body is elected from the classes as was formerly the practice at K. S. A. C. under the old Student Council. Under the S. S. G. A., a combination of selecting representatives from the different classes and organizations has been worked out.

To see how representation of the divisions as well as of the classes and organizations has worked out at K. S. A. C. it is only necessary to look at the personnel of the present executive council.

The following list of the members of the executive council of the S. S. G. A. and their classification brings out this point.

Engineering: C. C. McPherson, senior, electrical engineering, president; Robert Spratt, junior, civil engineering, chairman of school spirit committee; Ivan Riley, sophomore, architecture, chairman of points committee; L. W. Grothusen, mechanical engineering.

Agriculture: Harold Howe, senior, agronomy, chairman of discipline committee; E. E. Huff, senior, agricultural economics, chairman of social affairs committee; T. O. Garinger, senior, animal husbandry, treasurer; Charles Hadley, senior, agricultural economics.

Veterinary medicine: T. J. Foley, junior, veterinary, vice president; Kent Dudley, junior, veterinary, chairman of finance.

School of agriculture: M. C. Wallace.

Whether or not K. S. A. C. is free from contagious diseases following vacation, depends largely on the members of the student body, according to Dr. C. M. Siever, college physician.

"Students going into small pox districts should be vaccinated before leaving school, and at home the students should stay away from all places where there is sickness," says Doctor Siever. "This is the time of year when scarlet fever, diphtheria, measles, smallpox and other epidemics prevail."

"Take precaution, and do your part towards keeping K. S. A. C. free from contagious diseases following the holidays."

Slow But Sure Are The Murderous Ways of Aggie Professors

Is K. S. A. C. the most wicked college in the middle west?

Perhaps more cold deliberate murders are committed here than in any other school of similar size. Not only is the number of murders astounding, but the brutal means used are quite as shocking. Innocent victims die every day at the hands of cruel hearted professors who smile as the martyrs to a good cause take their last dying gasps.

And how do they do it? These merciless profs kill little innocent rats, pigs, and chickens by that slow and fatal method of refusing to put vitamins in the food of these suffering creatures. Oh, calory, where is thy strength!

COMMITTEE ON STADIUM MEETS

WILL FORMULATE PLANS FOR ERECTION OF AGGIE MEMORIAL

May Erect Section of Stadium—Drive Unlikely at This Time

The committee recently appointed by President W. M. Jardine of the college to formulate plans for the erection of an Aggie memorial stadium on Ahearn field, will meet today at the office of Dr. H. H. King, chairman of the committee.

It is not believed that a formal drive will be undertaken at this time, but a number of alumni and business men of Manhattan have pledged enough money to make the supporters of the movement confident that at least a section of the stadium can be built before next fall. However the recommendations of the committee as presented at the meeting today will be complied with.

The committee is composed of Dr. H. H. King, Mike Ahearn, and Dean R. A. Seaton of the athletic board; Dean J. T. Willard, Dean Harry Umberger, and Cliff Stratton, representing the alumni, and Dean F. D. Farrell, Dean Helen B. Thompson, Dean R. R. Dykstra, and Prof. J. V. Cortelyou, representing the faculty.

New Military Classes To Be Opened

The military department wishes to announce that, beginning next semester, classes will be opened in both advanced infantry and coast artillery for men who have completed two years of basic work. Those interested in taking either of the advanced courses should consult with Major Terrill before the end of the semester.

E. G. Kelly of the extension division will spend the holidays in Toronto, Canada, where he will attend a meeting of the American Association of Entomologists.

Applications for the position of editor of the Collegian for the second semester have been made by Homer G. Bryson and C. R. Smith. It is the desire of the Collegian board that anyone having information concerning the qualifications of the candidates mail it to the Collegian board, care of Prof. N. A. Crawford, before January 9.

AGGIE ARGUERS HOLD RALLY IN RECREATION HALL SATURDAY

Final Debate of Inter-Society Series Is Not Held

The annual inter-society debate rally was held in recreation center Saturday evening and was attended by members of the eight literary societies and many other persons interested in debate. The finals of the debates were not held, since two negative teams were victorious in the semi-finals.

A short program was given, consisting of talks by the new debate coach, H. E. Rossen and H. I. Richards; music by the Browning-Athenian quartet, the Webster quartet, and by the Hamilton-Alpha Beta string quintet. Stunts were given by representatives of the eight societies.

The final debate contest will be held Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock between the Athenian negative and the Browning affirmative.

VACATION ON AT SIX TOMORROW

RAILROADS WILL HAVE SPECIAL THROUGH COACHES

Classes Begin Again Thursday Morning, January 5—Only Two Days Off Next Semester

For all those who can tell a good story to the deans it has commenced already, but for the rest the Christmas vacation begins Wednesday, December 21, at 6 o'clock. College opens again Thursday morning, January 5.

Special arrangements are being made by the railroads to handle the extra Christmas traffic. Everyone whose round trip fare amounts to more than $2.50 is eligible for the fare and a half rate. The Rock Island officials announce that for the accommodation of those taking advantage of the reduced rates on December 22, they will have special through coaches Wednesday night on the 12:44 train leaving for Topeka, Kansas City, Wichita, and Hutchinson. Special coaches will also be on the train leaving for Topeka and Kansas City Thursday morning at 5:02. The Union Pacific officials also announce that special equipment will be added for the students.

The first good chance for the freshmen to get home and tell mother all about it has come. It behooves them to make good use of this opportunity for vacations in the next semester are extremely few. Decoration day and Washington's birthday are the only holidays officially booked in the college calendar between now and commencement, June 1.

Y. M. EXTENSION PLANS CAMPAIGN

START HIGH SCHOOL TRIPS EARLY IN SPRING

Harold Howe Is Chairman of Committee—Professor Talbert, Adviser

The extension committee of the Y. M. C. A. is getting its work under way for the spring "Go to College" campaign. Although the trips to the various high schools over the state will not be made until March and April, the committee is now working on plans whereby the greatest number of trips can be made and the most good done by these trips.

Harold Howe is chairman of this committee and he has as his faculty adviser Prof. T. J. Talbert of the extension division of the college. Mr. Howe is a senior in agronomy, a member of Phi Kappa and Pi Kappa Delta fraternities, the Athenian literary society and Tri K. He is a member of the executive council of the S. S. G. A., the Men's Pan-Hellenic council, and the Inter-society council. Mr. Howe is a K debater and is in charge of the 1922 oratorical contest. He is chairman of the discipline committee of the S. S. G. A. and chairman of the oratorical board.

With Mr. Howe on the extension committee are Robert C. Spratt, J. J. Serlight, Vorin Whan, and J. A. Wheeler. The extension committee is working in cooperation with a committee of the Y. W. C. A. who not only make up a large share of the personnel of the teams but also help to finance the "Go to College" campaign.

CURTISS WILL CHOOSE B B SQUAD TODAY

CAGERS COMING BACK FOR PRACTICE DECEMBER 30

WILL CARRY FIFTEEN ON SQUAD

Curtiss Short on Material for Center—Kuykendall May Be Back—Season Booklets Selling Rapidly

Inasmuch as the initial Aggie basketball contest with the Grinnell Pioneers is on January 5, the day that school takes up again following the Christmas vacation, Coach Curtiss' squad of cagers will convene on December 30 for the purpose of working off the slowing-down effects of the holiday menu.

The long threatened axe is scheduled to fall today and the list of candidates will then be weeded down to a more manageable size. Coach Curtiss expects to carry about 15 players on the squad through the season.

Four Letter Men Back

The four letter men of last year, captain "Brady" Cowell, guard; Faval Favol, "Freddy" Williams, and "Rocky" Bryan, forwards, will head the selection. Other candidates who are practically assured places on the squad, according to Coach Curtiss, are R. D. Hahn, H. G. Webber, L. O. Sinderson, and A. Stark, guards; G. S. Wann, L. W. Grothusen, M. Dobson, and C. F. Hadley, forwards, and A. McKee, F. C. Helea, and P. R. Woodbury, centers.

At the guard positions the ex-football warriors are having things almost their own way, with "Brady" Cowell leading the field. Captain Cowell is noted for the closeness with which he covers an opponent. He practically smothered an opposing forward and his guarding last season put an awful crimp in the ambitions of several Missouri Valley cagers to pile up an individual point record by field goals. He was given honorable mention on the all-valley five, being kept off the all-conference selection probably only by the brilliant quality of his brother, "Shorty" Cowell's performance through the season.

Gridiron Men Show Up Well

Ray Hahn, captain elect of the 1922 football eleven, is making a strong bid for a guard position, as are Webber and Stark, both gridiron men. Sinderson, the fifth candidate, is a baseball athlete of ability. Hahn and Webber seem to have the edge. Both are big in stature, both have had previous experience, and both can carry into the court game the endurance and aggressiveness developed under Bachman's football training this fall.

Among the forwards, Wann and Williams are perhaps the most adept at locating the basket from all angles. Faval is also an accurate basket shooter, is a good floor man, a good defensive guard, and an all-around player. Bryan is still out of the game with an injured hand. Dobson appears to be one of the most brilliant court men on the squad, his work often bordering on the sensational.

Center Material Scarce

The thing that is worrying Coach Curtiss at present is the shortage of good material for the center berth. The position necessarily requires an all-around player, one who possesses height, reach, speed, and a good eye for the basket. McKee is the most promising prospect just now, but he has been out of the game for some time. Helea, Woodbury, and Grothusen are other possibilities as pivot men. There is also a possibility that Kuykendall, a letter man of last season, may return during the holidays and try out for the center position.

The season booklets continue to sell rapidly. Only a scattered sprinkling of the reserved seats have not been taken, according to Mike Ahearn, athletic director, and these are expected to be sold out before vacation commences Wednesday night.

Miss Louise Tausche and Miss Mary Worrall were dinner guests of Pi Beta Phi sorority Tuesday.

Now comes the season of the year when several million American boys will again swear off on elocution for life.

Children's Christmas programs are designed primarily to afford amusement for the old m— no, we won't call them that—the elderly unmarried ladies of the congregation.

As we look sagely back upon it now, however, we doubt if we would have been so bitter toward the ordeal, had we but realized the thrill that attends the leading of those infantile processions down the aisles.

"Art as Found in the Bible" was the subject discussed at the regular meeting of Kappa Phi girls Thursday evening. A number of short talks were given by members, followed by a discussion of Bible subjects in art by Miss Araminta Holman of the applied art department. Most of the discussion was given over to Raphael's Madonna paintings.

The Pi Beta Phi sorority sang Christmas carols Saturday evening. This is an annual custom of the fraternity.

DEAR SANTA CLAUS

Dear Mr. Santa Claus: Please bring me an automatic chaperon. I want to get to bed before 2 o'clock on Friday and Saturday evenings. Besides, every time I hear music any more I forget myself. Just the other day I was passing a dimly lighted class room when the cows in the dairy barn began to bawl. Thinking I was listening to a jazz orchestra I ran to turn on the lights in the dark room. Naturally I felt rather foolish on awakening to my mistake. The chaperon must be able to turn lights from bright to brighter, shake hands, tap people on the shoulder, and stop the music. Don't forget me, Dear Santa. I want a rest. With Love, HUGH DURHAM.

Dear Mr. Santa Claus: Dear Mr. Santa, please bring me a toy agricultural college so that I can teach nothing but farm mechanics in it. Yours for a snappy school, CAP SANDERS.

Dear Claus: Please bring me a joke book. If I have to make many more chapel and pep meeting speeches I won't be able to talk about anything but myself and Doc King. As the latter subject gets rather monotonous after a while I ought to have something new to spring now and then. I don't want any jokes about Irishmen in the book. King tells all those first. Don't fail me, there'll be a big drain on my oratory after Christmas.

Yours for humor,
MIKE AHEARN.

Dear Mr. Claus: Please bring the college lowbrows something else to laugh about besides vitamins. I don't see why vitamins are any funnier than molecules, or osmosis, or rising infections—. If you love me I wish you'd do something about it. These vitamin jokes irritate me.
HELEN THOMPSON.

LINCOLN AND PHILOMATHIAN TEAMS WIN ANNUAL DEBATE

Society and Non-Society Students Meet in Contest

The annual debates between the literary society members and the non-society students of the school of agriculture Saturday night resulted in victories for both teams representing the Lincoln and Philomathian literary societies.

The members of the negative team representing the Philomathians were: Mona Vogelmann, Dorothy Ross, and Christia Hepler. This team met the school of agriculture affirmative consisting of Helen Swallow, C. A. Mathison, and Floyd Cooley. The negative team won a unanimous decision from the judges: Dean Mary P. Van Zile, Ada Rice, and E. V. James. Dr. A. A. Holtz presided.

The affirmative team representing the Lincoln literary society won a two to one decision over the school of agriculture negative. The judges were J. W. Zahley, Bess McKitterick, and I. V. Iles. The affirmative team members were C. W. Boller, Eli Packer, and J. T. Von Trebra and the negative team members, Chester Keck, Allen Johnson, and Corwin Spencer. A. D. Rice presided over the debate.

The question discussed in both contests was whether or not congress should adopt the soldiers' bonus bill.

Lindquist, bass; and O. I. Gruber, tenor. These singers are all well known to Aggies and their work was of its usual high quality.

A crowd of Aggie Pop night proportions attended the performance. No church services were held in Manhattan and all church goers were invited to attend the Messiah.

It is the intention of Prof. Ira Pratt, head of the music department and director of the chorus, to make this presentation an annual affair. He wants to make it a community, rather than just a college affair.

KANSAS AUTHORS' CLUB OFFERS ANNUAL PRIZES

Give Awards for Best Poem and Short Story

The Kansas Authors' club will award two annual prizes for the best literary contributions of resident Kansans. The prizes on authorship are given for the best poem of the year with an award of $100 and for the best short story. K. S. A. C. has always been interested in this contest and sends in a large number of contributions annually, giving the college honor by the authorship talent that is centered here. Last year the poetry prize for the best poem submitted was awarded to Prof. N. A. Crawford, head of the industrial journalism department and the short story prize awarded to Mr. and Mrs. E. Haldeman of Girard.

Contestants should enter not more than one short story and not more than two poems. The manuscripts should be typewritten without the name of the author attached, sent in to George H. Morehouse of Topeka, secretary of the Authors' club, by January 10, 1922, but it is preferred to have creations entered by December 31, 1921. The judges are composed of three appointed by the executive committee of the Kansas Authors' club and their decision is final.

In their determination of the awards the judges decide whether or not the material submitted is by resident Kansas authors, and if in their judgment the competition is too close between contestants they divide the awards into first and second prizes.

STUDY WOMEN'S CLOTHING HABITS

OVER 40 PER CENT MAKE THEIR OWN APPAREL

Cotton Used in Over Half the Clothing—Report Shows Sensible Choice

A survey of the purchasing habits of Kansas was recently made by Miss Louise P. Glanton, head of the department of clothing and textiles. A questionnaire was sent out over the state last spring, to the home demonstration agents of each county, to all high school teachers of home economics, and to women's clubs, concerning the material used in women's and children's clothing, the construction of the garment, and the reasons for choosing materials used.

With 24.8 per cent choosing their clothing for durability, 43.67 per cent making their own clothing and 48.67 per cent of their dresses of cotton, it might be inferred that Kansas women are more sensible in dress than they are often given credit for being.

The survey gives the following figures. Materials used: cotton dresses, 53.4 per cent; wool dresses, 6.25 per cent; silk dresses, 30.35 per cent; wool suits, 100 per cent; wool coats, 100 per cent.

Construction of the garments: home made, 43.37 per cent; ready made, 39.43 per cent; made by dressmaker, 16.9 per cent.

Reasons for choosing: for durability, 24.8 per cent; style, 11.1 per cent; cost, 15.7 per cent; color, 16.7 per cent; material, 17.5 per cent; comfort, 15.7 per cent.

GREATER PROFITS IN FARMING IS FARM AND HOME KEYNOTE

Students Asked To Talk Up Week During Vacation

"Greater Profits in Farming" will be the keynote of the seventh annual Farm and Home week which will be held at K. S. A. C. February 6 to 11. Preparations are being made to handle at least 2,000 visitors who are expected to be in attendance from every county in the state.

Aggie students are expected to be more interested in the event and do more to help make it a success than ever before, according to extension specialists. Final examinations will not interfere with students' attendance at the program. The first semester will end January 28. Students can do a great deal toward making the event a success by talking it up when they are home during the holidays, and by acting as guides and hosts to visitors while they are here.

A general assembly will be held each morning at 11 o'clock and an evening meeting at 7:30. Students may attend any of these meetings, and those in charge believe the general meetings will be especially interesting to students. The speakers for general assembly will include ex-Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois; Dr. H. J. Waters, former president of K. S. A. C.; Sherwood Eddy, noted lecturer and writer on international questions; Charles Dillon, who established the K. S. A. C. Journalism department, and is now in the publicity department of the association of railroad executives, and Dr. Louise Stanley, dean of home economics at the University of Missouri.

An interesting feature of the Farm and Home week program will be the banquet on Thursday evening. The visitors and Aggie students whose friends or parents are in attendance will have a big spread, at which a few short talks by prominent persons will be given. Perhaps the liveliest group of visitors will be the 500 boys and girls who have won prizes in pig, calf, corn, and poultry raising and judging contests.

Close Cafeteria December 22-27

The college cafeteria will be closed from 6 o'clock Thursday evening, December 22, till the morning of Tuesday, December 27. Meal service during the vacation will be: breakfast, 7:30 till 8:30; dinner, 12:00 till 1:00; supper, 5:00 till 6:00.

Bakers Meet Here in January

The Kansas Bakers' association is to meet in Manhattan January 11, 12, and 13, and will hold its sessions at the college. Dean F. D. Farrell will give an address of welcome and Prof. L. A. Fitz will speak to the association on some phase of work of special interest to the members.

The association met here last year and was so well pleased that it is planning to make Manhattan its permanent headquarters. About 100 attended the meeting last year but more are expected this winter if the weather remains good.

Maybe It's Too Dark for the S. S. G. A. To Look Into This

You remember how it was when you were a little tad—and not so little, too—and you went to the Halloween party. Your hostess, dressed as a witch, met you at the door and conducted you up and down dimly lighted stairs until you didn't know where you were and you were getting so scared you didn't care very much.

Then she led you into a pitch dark room and told you to cross it. You didn't want to, but you were ashamed to say so. You didn't know what might be underfoot, but terrible possibilities popped into your mind. You had a feeling that things were passing you, but they could neither be seen nor felt. The room seemed to get blacker and blacker, spookier and spookier, and suddenly you wished you hadn't come.

Well, that's how it is in Anderson hall these dark mornings.

Hold Competitive Manual of Arms

Two or three times a month the Monday military classes will hold a competitive manual of arms between the various companies. The relative standing of each company will be posted Tuesday following the Monday drill period. The winning company will receive a certain number of points, not yet determined, toward personal efficiency. At the end of the year the highest ranking company will be awarded a suitable trophy cup.

TO NOMINATE POPULAR GIRLS AT FIVE TODAY

VOTING WILL BE DONE JAN-
UARY 20

Sale of Annuals Ends January 14—
All Class Pictures Must Be Taken By January 20

Nominations for the most popular girl in K. S. A. C. will be in order at the mass meeting in the auditorium at 5 o'clock today. The voting will be done on January 20 at the Royal Purple window, and the winners will be announced in an interesting manner at the popularity ball in the gymnasium that evening. Arrangements are being made by the management for the best of orchestras for the evening.

Full payment on a book entitles the purchaser to 50 votes, and a $2 payment to 20 votes. The receipt for the purchases must be presented at the time of voting, and no duplicates will be issued. The ballots are to be counted by a faculty committee. The girls receiving the six highest number of votes will each be given a page in the popularity section of the Royal Purple.

The most interesting features of the Aggie annual are being stressed in a letter that the management is sending to all the students. The historical and alumnae sections, the malloy cover with its embossed engineering building, the division pages with their novel color work, and many other innovations, are features that the readers can appreciate only by seeing them.

January 14 is the last day that Royal Purple payments can be made. The junior, sophomore, and freshman assessments are $5, $4, and $3 respectively.

The staff is desirous that the students be well represented in class picture this year. All class pictures must be taken before January 20.

FIRST DEBATES JANUARY 13-14

HOLD CONTESTS WITH NORMAL AND IOWA STATE

Girls Debate Unicameral Legislature —Men Universal Disarmament Question

The first intercollegiate debates of the season will be held January 13 and 14. The Aggie teams will compete against teams representing the Iowa State college and the Kansas State normal. The Aggie teams were selected before the holidays by the debate coach, H. E. Rosson, and finished preparing their speeches during vacation. The remaining time of debate squad meetings before the contests will be used in working on delivery and preparation for rebuttal.

The contest on Friday evening will be between girls' teams representing K. S. A. C. and K. S. N. The Aggie team which will debate at home is composed of Georgia Newcomb, Oceola Hall Burr, and Bernice Fleming. The negative team which will go to Emporia is composed of Queenie Hart, Anna Best, and Margaret Gillette. The question for debate is, "Resolved; that the State of Kansas Should Adopt a Unicameral System of Legislature."

The dual debate with Iowa State college is the largest intercollegiate forensic contest of the year. The question for this men's debate is, "Resolved; that Universal Disarmament of the Armies and Navies of the World Can be Made Practicable Through the League of Nations." The team which will represent K. S. A. C. at home is composed of Austin Stover, Wayne McKibben, Verne Stambaugh, and W. W. Weaver. The travelling team is composed of Hubert Collins, Joe Thackery, and Ellis Kimble.

More interest is being shown in debate this year than for several years, according to professors interested in forensics. A larger number of persons tried for places on the squad and competition was keener. The only unfortunate incident that has occurred was the sudden resignation of O. H. Burns, former debate coach. The new debate coach, who has had a great deal of training and experience, has organized his work in a remarkable manner, according to the debaters, and prospects for victorious teams are bright.

MAKE PROGRESS ON BROWN BULL

IST FOR ISSUE

Many Students Write Contributions for Knicker Knumner During Christmas Vacation

If a snappy cover, lots of good cartoons, original ideas, oodles of contributors, and pointed jokes have anything to do with the success of a humor magazine, the "Knicker Knumner" of the Brown Bull gives evidence of being one of the best numbers ever put out at K. S. A. C. The staff plans to have the number featuring knickerbockers, the coming dress for women you know, ready for its readers by the first of next semester.

Work on the magazine is progressing much more rapidly than ever before. This is due partly to the short time allowed for writing the material, and partly because of the vacation period. A surprisingly large number of students wrote material during the Christmas holidays.

The art work in the "Knicker Knumner" will be one of its special features. For the first time in the history of the publication the cover is being printed in three colors. John Post, a sophomore in general science, has drawn the cover, which itself should make the magazine desirable as a room decoration at least.

Besides the usual shorter jokes, the "Knicker Knumner" will contain several of the longer articles such as are carried by the regular national humor publications—the kind of stuff that allows you to sink back in your over stuffed chair and forget your troubles.

"It's not such a bad old world after all," say the members of the staff, "and if you don't believe it just see some of our evidence in the 'Knicker Knumner'."

A box has been placed in Anderson hall where anyone in school may leave his contributions.

MATCHLESS DALE, HEAD OF SHORTHORN HERD IS DEAD

Prize Bull Property of College for Ten Years

Matchless Dale, for 10 years head of the college Shorthorn herd, died December 14 at the age of 15 years.

G. A. Laude in his book, "Kansas Shorthorns," says—

"The records made by steers sired by him is remarkable. The college has shown 18 steers sired by Matchless Dale that have placed not lower than third at the American Royal and the International show. At the American Royal they won two championships, nine firsts, seven seconds, and six thirds. At the International they won one championship, two reserve championships, six firsts, four seconds, and three thirds."

Tom Patterson bought the bull for the college in 1911 at the price of $400. He was purchased from Carpenter and Ross of Mansfield, Ohio. This buy was one of the wisest ever made for the department, for Matchless Dale was a wonderful specimen of Shorthorn type. His disposition was remarkable. He was always easy to handle and he transmitted this trait to his calves. In ordinary breeding flesh Matchless Dale weighed 2,400 pounds and carried as mellow a hide as the most discriminating breeder could wish.

Mill Kanred and Turkey Samples

C. W. Oakes, college miller, has just finished milling 80 samples of Kanred and Turkey wheat grown in Kansas in different localities. The flour is to be baked and the loaves will be exhibited Farm and Home week to show the comparative qualities of the wheat.

AGGIES MEET NEBRASKA IN 1922 SEASON

GAME WILL BE AT LINCOLN NO-VEMBER 18

ONE OPEN DATE ON SCHEDULE

Game with Wabash College or Texas
Christian May Be Arranged for November 25 or 30

With the acceptance by Athletic Director Mike Ahearn just before the holiday vacation, of Nebraska university's offer of a gridiron game to be played at Lincoln on November 18 next year, only one date on the Aggie 1922 football schedule remains unfilled. The contest with Drake in the tentative schedule was cancelled because mutually agreeable dates could not be found. Negotiations are now in progress with Texas Christian college and with Wabash college of Illinois for the open date on the K. S. A. C. calendar. These prospective opponents have been offered their choice of two dates, either November 25 or 30. Both these dates are acceptable to the Aggie athletic board, but only one can be filled in conformation to the Missouri Valley ruling permitting a conference member to play only eight contests.

Other eleven that have been considered by the athletic board are Rice Institute, Tulane university, and the Colorado Aggies.

The 1922 schedule now stands as follows:

Oct. 7—Washburn at Manhattan
Oct. 14—Washington at St. Louis
Oct. 21—Oklahoma at Norman
Oct. 28—K. U. at Manhattan
Nov. 4—Missouri at Columbia
Nov. 11—Ames at Manhattan
Nov. 18—Nebraska at Lincoln
Nov. 25 or 30—Open

HOLD NEWSPAPER CONTEST AGAIN

PAPERS WILL BE JUDGED BY MIDLAND EDITOR

This Is Second Year Newspaper Day
Has Been Feature of Farm and Home Week

Three newspaper contests will be held at K. S. A. C. during January, as a part of the Farm and Home week program. One contest will be open to Kansas dailies whose circulation does not exceed 5,000 copies a day and another to weeklies whose circulation does not exceed 5,000 copies a week. The third contest will be open to dailies and weeklies in the state having a circulation not greater than 5,000 copies.

A blue ribbon will be awarded to the daily and to the weekly making the best showing on front page make-up, treatment of general community news, and treatment of agricultural news. Each paper is to submit two issues to the department of industrial journalism, K. S. A. C., before Newspaper day of Farm and Home week, Thursday, February 9.

A blue ribbon will also be offered for the best advance write-up of Farm and Home week printed by either weekly or daily.

The papers will be judged on Newspaper day by a committee composed of John T. Frederick, editor of the Midland, Iowa City, Iowa; Dr. Henry J. Waters, managing editor of the Weekly Kansas City Star; and one member still to be chosen.

Newspaper day will be featured on the Farm and Home week program this year for the second time. Mr. Frederick will be the morning assembly speaker on this day. He will also talk at the conference of newspaper men in the afternoon. Last year the principal speaker was Bristow Adams, editor of publications at the New York state college of agriculture, Cornell university.

The general newspaper contests were won last year by the Pittsburg Sun in the daily class, and the Anthony Republican in the weekly class. The date of Farm and Home week is February 6 to 11.

Aggies 23—Grinnell 13

The Aggie cagers got under way in the Missouri Valley basketball race last night by harding the Grinnell Pioneers a 23 to 13 defeat. "Brady" Cowell started the scoring by tossing a free counter. Foval and Wann hooked the only two field goals thrown in the first half. The score at the end of the half was 10 to 2.

The Iowans revived in the second half and caged five goals while the Curtiss men tossed six baskets from the floor. The Aggies were never pressed.

Cowell located the hoop seven times in 10 attempts at free throws. Foval and Williams each scored two field goals, and Grothusen, Webber, Hahn, and Wann registered once each during the game.

ART DEPARTMENT SHOWS PAINTINGS

EXHIBITS LOANED BY AMERICAN FEDERATION OF ARTS

Consists of Works by Conservative Modern Painters

During the remainder of the week and all of next the department of applied arts is displaying a collection of portraits and landscapes, which are the work of the more conservative group of modern painters. The individual paintings of this collection are valued at from $175 to $3,000 each. The American Federation of Arts are the loaners of this collection which contains about thirty-two canvases. From here the collection goes to Washburn and Baker.

The noted artists whose paintings are represented are: Ryder, Hassam, Henri, Frieske, and Bellos, Miss Araminta Holman, head of the applied arts department states that the department will have a series of exhibitions from the American Federation of Arts. The next is to be held the latter part of this month, at which time a collection of oriental shawls from the Thayer collection will be displayed. In February a collection of oil paintings of the more modern painters will be held. Some of these are: Sandzen, Poore, and Nordfeldt.

LOWDEN WILL MEET DAIRYMEN
DURING FARM AND HOME WEEK

Ex-Governor Is President National Holstein-Friesian Association

The big day for the dairymen of the state will be Wednesday, February 8, of Farm and Home week, when Ex-Governor Lowden of Illinois will be at the college and deliver an address at general assembly in the auditorium. He will also address the dairymen in their meeting. Ex-Governor Lowden is president of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America and is known throughout the country as an authority upon dairying and dairy problems.

C. L. Burlington, secretary of the Ayrshire Breeders' association, and L. E. Best, president Kansas Creamery Improvement association will conduct discussions of interest to dairymen and creamerymen. Other lectures and discussions will be given by Prof. J. B. Fitch, Prof. H. W. Cave, and other instructors of the dairy department of the college.

Elizabeth Munson Still Ill
The Collegian is in receipt of a letter in regard to the illness of Miss Elizabeth Munson, a student at K. S. A. C. last year. The letter is in part as follows:

"Miss Munson has been brought home from Christ's hospital very little improved. She had a very severe case of diphtheria last fall which prevented her return to school. From this sickness she has not fully recovered and has gradually grown weaker."

Miss Munson is a Chi Omega and was interested in student activities.

All men interested in trying out for intercollegiate swimming teams report to E. A. Knoth as soon as possible. A meet with Nebraska university is scheduled to take place here in February.

COMPLETE STADIUM SECTION FOR FALL

MEMORIAL STADIUM WILL COST
$200,000 WHEN FINISHED

START CAMPAIGN PLANS NOW

Structure Adds 5,000 to Seating Capacity—Circular in Shape—Same Architecture as Nichols Gymnasium—Use Native Stone

The beginning of the 1922 football season will find one section of the proposed memorial stadium ready to take care of the ever increasing crowd of spectators interested in Aggie football prowess, according to present plans. The stadium which is to be built as a memorial to the Aggies who gave their lives in the war is to be of native Kansas stone, of the kind which is used in all the college buildings, will cost $200,000, and when complete will consist of four sections equal to the one which is to be completed next fall.

Has Prexy's Sanction

President Jardine has authorized the beginning of a campaign for raising funds from friends of the college. The committee in charge of the details has not yet determined whether the campaign will last over two or three years. Of the total fund of $200,000 to be raised it is expected that Manhattan will furnish half. The Aggie faculty alone will be called upon for $25,000.

In a statement regarding the opening of the campaign President Jardine said, "In view of the general economic depression we would not think of calling upon our alumni for the full $200,000 within the next year. But the worst is past, we hope. The year 1922 is expected to bring with it better business conditions generally. Within two or three years our alumni and other friends of K. S. A. C. will be in a position to contribute their share toward the completion of the memorial stadium."

Manhattan to Build First Section

"But already there are friends of the college residing in Manhattan who are ready to give enough during 1922 to complete the first section. These men are eager to see a beginning made and it would not be fair to them to delay another year. We shall bend every effort toward the completion of the first section with a seating capacity of 5,000 persons, before the opening of the football season next fall."

The stadium will be built on the site of the present athletic field and when complete will form a proportionally small section of a great circle, instead of the conventional U-shape stadium. Spectators seated in the structure will have a panorama of the college buildings, with Nichols gymnasium on the extreme right, and Engineering hall on the extreme left.

It is planned to design the stadium in the same general style of architecture as that of Nichols gymnasium. Beauty and workmanship will be emphasized as much as utility. The use of the native stone will give especial distinction to the structure.

Utilize Space Underneath

All four sections will seat a total of 20,000 persons. The space underneath the seats will be utilized for locker rooms, showers, recreation centers, and club rooms for the old grads. Owing to the growth of intramural athletics the space beneath the stadium will probably be used also to relieve the congestion on the gymnasium floor, which is now taxed to capacity.

CRAWFORD HONORED BY TWO JOURNALISM ORGANIZATIONS

Attends Meetings Held in Madison,
Wisconsin, During Holidays

Prof. N. A. Crawford, head of the department of industrial journalism, was elected president of the American Association of College News Bureaus, and reelected secretary and treasurer of the American Association tion of Teachers of Journalism, at meetings of these organizations held in Madison, Wis., during the holidays. Both associations are national in scope, numbering in their membership representatives from practically every institution in America in which journalism is taught.

At the convention of the American Association of College News Bureaus, Professor Crawford spoke on "Methods of Finding College News for Presentation." He spoke before the American Association of Teachers of Journalism on "The Teaching of Agricultural Journalism." The attendance at the meetings and the membership in the organizations were the largest in their history.

SHOW ACTIVITIES OF SHORT COURSE

ADVERTISE THIS YEAR'S WORK
BY SHOWING FILM

Reels Were Taken by Aggie Illustration Department During Last Year's Course

A motion picture film representing interesting phases of life on the K. S. A. C. campus and in the laboratories, work shops and on the farms of the college, has been released for the purpose of announcing the farmer's short course and the commercial creamery short course, which will begin here January 9, continuing until March 4.

The film consists of two reels showing some of the typical school activities of the farmers' short course students. The picture also contains some general views of the campus and buildings, and of Manhattan.

Some of the specific school activities illustrated by the film are farm accounting, studies of seed bed preparation, treating oats for smut, studying a farm drainage system, judging horses, beef cattle, sheep and swine; disinfecting a barnyard as a method of disease prevention, judging dairy cattle, testing milk and cream, spraying orchard trees, pruning, tree transplanting, poultry culling, preparing bee colonies for winter, operating power field machinery, and placing poison for gophers. These views illustrate the intensely practical character of the farmers' short course instruction.

The picture was made during the farmer's short course period a year ago and shows students of last year's course at work. The film was made by the department of illustration with the assistance of various departments of the college which give the farmers' short course work. Showings were booked for the entire month of December by the division of extension through arrangements made with certain county agents and extension specialists.

Winchester Conducts Experiments

Prof. H. B. Winchester, of the department of animal husbandry, is running two experiments, one to find the comparative feeding value of alfalfa hay and sudan grass, and the other to find the effect of ration on salt consumption.

In the latter experiment two groups of cattle are being used. One gets a wet feed in the form of silage and one pound of cottonseed meal daily. The other group is fed on alfalfa hay only. It has been observed generally that cattle fed on a ration high in moisture used more salt than those on a dry ration, and Professor Winchester is having accurate records kept of the salt consumed after due allowance has been made for the weather conditions.

Aggies Find Favor With Josephus Daniels, Recent College Visitor

Josephus Daniels, former secretary of the navy, who recently visited K. S. A. C., was favorably impressed with the institution. In an article which appeared in the November 26 issue of his paper, the Raleigh Chronicle, he praises the high standards of education; the beauty of the campus and buildings; and the patriotic spirit of the students, which he found at the Kansas State Agricultural college. The article follows:

"The rarest thing in America is to find a college or university where uniform good taste has been shown in the creation of buildings on the college campus. As a rule they represent half a dozen styles of architecture and disclose the taste of different periods and of different college presidents and building committees.

"As to the eastern institutions, like Topsy, most of them 'just grew,' and have become large through long periods. They were started without plans and their increase could not be foreseen and no landscape gardener laid off their grounds or artists in architecture planned their buildings.

"When the agricultural college of Kansas was built in the late sixties, the men who laid the broad foundations were wise enough to do two things: (1) to select a campus and surrounding lands big enough for growth. They have a thousand acres; the campus being laid off so that it is beautiful and of good taste. (2) To decide upon a general type of buildings and the use of stone from a quarry near by; and up to this hour no building has been built of any other stone or of brick. The result is an imposing and symmetrical assembly of college buildings. They had lands and money and the quarry near by—essential requisites. But many institutions have had all three of these and have made a hodge-podge of buildings, for the lack of vision and a well defined policy.

"I was greatly interested in spending a morning with President Jardine in the Kansas Agricultural college and in getting points which may help in our own state college. It was an inspiring thing to try to talk to 2,800 students, keen and patriotic, in their great auditorium. Like many other colleges it has drawn on North Carolina. Mr. P. L. Gainey, an honor graduate of our state college, is a member of the faculty, and he with his charming wife, who was Miss Grace Deaton, of Raleigh, are held in high esteem. It was good to meet also the Rev. W. O. Guerrant, a fine Presbyterian preacher, who preaches Sunday nights in the Presbyterian church and leads church work for the Presbyterians in the college. He is a star and has leadership here. A brief taste of their hospitality made a Tar Heel on the road happy.

"The Kansas Agricultural college is regarded as among the first three in the country. In facilities and equipment I have not seen its equal, and in the spirit of its president and student body and the pen of the student body it would be hard to find its equal. They remind me of our own boys in West Raleigh, only there are very many more of them. I found a school of journalism and they are beginning to use wireless to send weather reports all over the state to the farmers. It has the same general policy of our own college in West Raleigh and I feel quite at home with the faculty and boys.

"In this college and at the State university no provision is made for housing students on the campus. They have a fine cafeteria, but the membership of the student body live all over the town. Nearly all the families take them to board, and there are clubs, and men's halls. But when school ends, the campus is quiet; no dining room, no kitchen, no bed rooms, no anything touching living arrangements. Likewise, there are no homes on the campus for the president or the professors.

"How does it work? That is what interested me and I made some inquiries and observations. The college authorities inspect all places where students live, see that they are suitable as to sanitation, as to the standing of the people who take students to room or board, and have enough power to safeguard health and morals and environment. They stop there.

"Life on a college campus is wholly unnatural," said President Jardine, a big man in his profession who is not wedded to convention. "To pen them up for four years in a life that is abnormal is not wise or salutary. When they leave college they must live the life of the community. Why not when they are in college?"

"The college is co-educational. The spirit between the girls and boys is fine and the history is proof that co-education is wise. The social life of the town is largely dominated by the college thought and the college people, and makes a fine social atmosphere, so Mr. Guerrant tells me, and that was my own conclusion.

"Though the college students are called 'Aggies' the low price of farm products is being reflected in the choice of studies by the students. The class in engineering is, much larger than the class in agriculture. The boys see little prospect for large return in farming and are looking for a profession that will give better pay. The engineering department is housed in a new building and the equipment would make President Ridick, of our state college, happy."

MAKE CHANGES IN AGRONOMY COURSE SECOND SEMESTER

Other Important Variations Planned for Next Year

Several changes have been made in the courses to be offered by the agronomy department during the second semester, and other changes are contemplated which may be made next year. The course in advanced grain crops will not be taught and a new lecture course known as plant ecology will be offered by Professor Salmon.

A new course in grain grading and judging will be offered by Prof. L. A. Fitz of the milling industry department in cooperation with Prof. S. C. Salmon and Prof. J. W. Zahnley of the agronomy department.

It is probable that next year a new course in the origin and classification of crops will be offered in the agronomy department. This course will be taught by Prof. J. H. Parker and will include some of the laboratory and class work which has previously been given in the course in advanced cereals by Prof. S. C. Salmon.

The other changes which are contemplated and may be made effective next year involve slight reductions in the number of credit hours required both in crops and soils. Tentative plans are being made for the combining of the courses now given in grain and forage crops into one required course in farm crops and for the combining of the separate courses, soils and soil fertility, into one new course.

K. S. A. C. ON A MIDDLE PLANE

BETWEEN TRADE SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES SAYS FARRELL

Dean of Agriculture Speaks at Meeting of Shawnee County Alumni During Holidays

That the Kansas State Agricultural college is on a middle plane between the two extremes of trade schools and colleges where only classical studies are taught, was the statement made by F. D. Farrell, dean of the division of agriculture, at a meeting of the Shawnee county alumni association which was held December 28 in Topeka.

"The college does not intend its graduates to be solely thinkers or solely laborers," Dean Farrell continued, "for, as Ruskin says, 'It is only by labor that thought can be made productive and only by thought that labor can be made happy.'"

"The college graduates may be housewives who read and discuss 'The Education of Henry Adams' or 'The Moon and Sixpence'; farmers who think and talk intelligently of our economic relation with China, or civil engineers who not only build roads and bridges but take an intelligent and constructive interest in beautifying the town in which they live.

"Yet there are two forces which will oppose the middle-of-the-road attitude which produces such citizens. In the first place, there are comparatively few agricultural college graduates and they must face a tremendous inertia which is opposed to them. And in the second place the public attitude has been in favor of one or the other of the two extremes. However, this opposition is a good thing for K. S. A. C. for the college can become strong only by overcoming difficulties."

WILL EMPHASIZE PRODUCTION COST

STRESS MODERN FARM PROBLEMS HERE FEBRUARY 6-11

Larger Farm and Home Week Attendance Expected This Year Than Ever Before

On account of the unusual interest in production cost, farm finance, and cooperative marketing, a strong course in these subjects will be given during Farm and Home week at the agricultural college, February 6 to 11. The keynote of the program this year will be more economical production, according to T. J. Talbert, who is in charge of arrangements.

Attendance at the big annual Kansas farm and home festival this year is expected to be much better than formerly. Farmers' meetings of all kinds during the last year have been attended from one-third to one-half better than farmers' meetings held during the year previous, Mr. Talbert said.

Farm and Home week is now considered the most important agricultural event of the year in Kansas. Eight farmers' associations and organizations will meet at Manhattan during the week, uniting with all the farmers present in the consideration and solution of the fundamental problems which are confronting the farmers of Kansas.

The program arranged by the college departments regarding livestock production, feeds and feeding, crops and soils, marketing and farm management, fruit production, insect and rodent control, engineering, home economics, including practically every phase of women's work, beekeeping, boys' and girls' clubs, veterinary, and other subjects equally as important as the ones mentioned will afford an unusual opportunity to become acquainted with the latest information and progress in every phase of agricultural development.

Daily morning general assemblies and evening meetings will feature men and women speakers of national and international reputation—the best agricultural authorities in the country upon the present problems of Kansas farmers.

"The programs for the week have been so arranged as to fit the needs of every farmer in attendance," Mr. Talbert said. "No one should have any difficulty in obtaining the instruction and information desired."

"All the courses are given free of charge. The farmers' only expense will be that of travel from home, and board and lodging while at Manhattan. A one and one-half railroad fare on the certificate basis has been secured for the week."

ENTOMOLOGISTS READ PAPERS AT MEETING AT TORONTO

Dean, Head of Economic Entomologists, Gives Presidential Address

Prof. George A. Dean, head of the department of entomology, Prof. J. W. McCulloch, associate entomologist and Prof. E. G. Kelley, extension entomologist, attended the meetings of the American Association of Economic Entomologists, the Entomological Society of America, and other scientific societies affiliated with the American Association for the Advancement of Science. The meetings were held in Toronto, Canada.

Professor Dean, president of the American Association of Entomologists, gave the presidential address at the meeting. This organization consists of about 800 members. Professors McCulloch and Kelley presented papers at three of the scientific societies. Dr. R. C. Smith, Dr. J. H. Merrill, and Prof. William P. Hayes of the entomology department submitted papers which will be published in the proceedings of the society.

J. B. FITCH IS HONORED BY DAIRY SCIENCE ASSOCIATION

Is Elected Secretary-Treasurer of National Organization

Prof. J. B. Fitch, head of the dairy department, was elected secretary-treasurer of the American Dairy Science association at a recent meeting. The association is composed of professors and investigators in dairy work in the United States and Canada. The association publishes a monthly magazine called the Journal of Dairy Science which is a recognized authority on dairying. Professor Fitch has been a member of the faculty of K. S. A. C. since his graduation from Purdue in 1910 and this honor is a recognition of his work in advancing the standing of the dairy department here, until it ranks among the leading schools of dairying.

Engineering Profs. Attend Meeting
Dean R. A. Seaton and Professors J. P. Calderwood, L. E. Conrad, and C. E. Reid, attended a meeting of the Kansas Engineering society at Hutchinson December 22 and 23. Dean Seaton is chairman of the committee on conservation, and Professor Calderwood is chairman of the committee on mechanical engineering. Professor Walker is chairman of the committee on flood and drainage.

A. W. Sampson a Visitor Here

A. W. Sampson, director of the Great Basin Forest experiment station at Ephraim, Utah, was a college visitor shortly before the holidays. Mr. Sampson, who is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, is one of the leading authorities in this country on grazing and range management. He has been in the forest service for several years where he was associated with Prof. R. L. Hensel, now in charge of pasture management in the department of agronomy at the college. Mr. Sampson was on his way to Washington, D. C., and from there will go to Yale university where he will deliver a series of lectures before the Yale school of forestry, on grazing problems. Mr. Sampson is to take up a new position as head of the department of range management at the University of California with headquarters at Berkeley this year.

Film of Aggie Short Course

A motion picture film representing interesting phases of life on the Kansas State Agricultural college campus and in the laboratories, workshops, and on the farms of the college, has been released for the purpose of announcing the farmers' short course and the commercial creamery short course, which will begin here January 9, continuing until March 4.

Dean F. D. Farrell and Dean Harry Umberger spent Tuesday in Lyndon attending the annual meeting of the farm bureau. Dean Farrell made a short address.

GRADES REALLY INDICATE WORTH

SURVEY OF SUCCESSFUL GRADS SHOWS VALUE OF E'S

Dean Holton Prepares Interesting Table—Investigates 150 Alumni Records

An interesting and enlightening table on the predictive value of scholarship marks has recently been compiled by Dean E. L. Holton of the department of education. The conclusions reached by means of this table are as follows:

If 75 per cent or more of a K. S. A. C. graduate's scholastic marks are E's and G's he will be highly successful in his life work.

If 75 per cent or more of his scholastic marks are M's and P's he will make an average success in his life work.

If 75 per cent or more of his marks are P's and F's he will rank below the average in his life work.

These facts are borne out by the table which was compiled in the fairest and most accurate manner possible. By the help of people who know the graduates of K. S. A. C., three lists of 50 names of graduates were selected for study. All of the graduates selected have been out of college at least 10 years.

The first list was made up of those who have been highly successful, the second, of those who have made an average success; and the third of those who are ranked below the average in success.

Their scholastic marks were then looked up and it was found that of the highly successful, 29 per cent of the total marks were E's and 46 per cent G's. In the average class 52 per cent were M's and 23 per cent P's. Sixty-two per cent of the grades made by those who were ranked below the average were P's and 13 per cent were F's.

NEED NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF APPLE GROWERS—BARNETT

Aggie Pomology Professor Speaks at State Horticultural Meeting

"The outlook for the commercial apple growers is excellent, if adequate marketing facilities can be provided, and the ideal way to supply this need would be to organize a national association of fruit growers," declared R. J. Barnett, professor of pomology, in speaking on "Some Kansas Fruit Marketing Problems," at the 55th annual meeting of the state Horticultural society which was held December 21-23 in Topeka.

"The condition that makes the marketing of fruit so difficult at present," continued Professor Barnett, "is the vast variation in the amount of fruit that is produced for the market from year to year. In a good year, a large expensive organization is built up to take care of the crop. Many agencies and salesmen are provided. Then in a bad year all this machinery cannot be used and it goes to pieces, so that when a good crop is raised again the organization has to be rebuilt. A national organization could shift its employees to the places where they were needed and prevent a great deal of waste."

Professor Barnett called attention to the fact that the yield of apples has not kept up with the increase in population in the last two decades.

THE KANSAS STATE COLLEGLIAN

VOL. XXVIII

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, MANHATTAN, TUESDAY, JANUARY 10, 1922

NO. 30

VARSITY FEE NOW GOES TO POPULAR VOTE

CALL GENERAL STUDENT MEETING ON JANUARY 20

COLLEGLIAN NOT INCLUDED IN FEE

Business Office To Handle Money—President To Appoint Chairman Budget Committee—Students To Have Two Representatives

A draft of the Varsity Activity fee resolution which is to be presented to the student body on January 20 has been made by the Varsity Activity fee committee which is working under the direction of the executive council of the S. S. G. A. The committee has been considering carefully all suggestions made at the time of the preliminary discussion a few weeks ago. Majority Favor Excluding Collegian

The majority of those who expressed themselves on the fee, as well as those organizations which took action seemed to favor leaving the Collegian out of the fee. By letting the college paper go on its own merits the opinion was that the paper would keep up a higher standard. Aside from this decision there is no material change in the entire plan as presented a few weeks ago.

The Resolutions

The Executive Council of the S. S. G. A. proposes the following resolutions to be voted on by the entire student body of K. S. A. C.

Resolved: That we the students of the Kansas State Agricultural college adopt a compulsory activity fee of $10 for each school year, known as the varsity activity fee, which shall be paid to the business office at the time of registration and which shall be collected and used in accordance with the following provisions:

1. Proceeds from the fee to go to the support of the following:

- All intercollegiate athletic teams.
- Intercollegiate judging teams.
- Aggie band.
- S. S. G. A.

2. Payment of the fee to entitle student to tickets or receipts at the time of payment which would give the student the following benefits:

- Admission to all athletic events.
- Admission to all intercollegiate debate and oratorical contests.
- Membership in the S. S. G. A.

3. Exemption from payment of this fee to be allowed by permission of the president.

4. Time of payment and special provisions.

(a) Fee for the entire year to be paid at the time of registration for the fall semester.

(b) Proportionate amount to be paid by students entering college the second semester.

(c) A refund of like amount to be given the student who attends college the first semester but does not attend the second semester.

5. All money to be handled through the business office according to the following provisions:

(a) All money to be apportioned by budget committee of five, two of whom shall be students elected from the student body and the chairman who shall be appointed by the president of the college and who shall have no vote except in case of a tie.

(b) Committee shall meet the first week of the fall semester to apportion the money to the different activities included in the fee.

(c) All activities included in the list shall submit a detailed sworn statement of the expense of that particular activity for the preceding year together with a budget and detailed plans for the current year.

(d) The action of the committee shall be made public as soon as conveniently possible.

(e) All money shall be paid on the order of the chairman of the budget committee to the treasurers of the different organizations which are to be benefited by the fee.

(f) The amount of the fee shall remain the same until changed by a vote of two-thirds of the student body, but the apportionments may be varied from year to year to fit the varying needs.

Crawford To Install Quill Rune

He is now in the east where he has several speaking engagements. Before he returns he expects to install a rune of the American College Quill club at the University of Pittsburgh, in Pennsylvania.

Capital To Publish Student Article
Competition is keen in Professor Roger's feature writing class. Each person is writing a 2,000 word feature story on Kansas history. The best one of these articles will appear in the Topeka Daily Capital of Sunday, January 29.

NEED TO STRIVE FOR OUR IDEALS

THINKING OF IMPERFECTIONS CAUSES DISGUST, SAYS SLADE

College Life a Test of Leadership, Loyalty, and Love, Chapel Speaker Believes

"Hold before yourself an image of what you want to be," urged Dr. William Franklin Slade, pastor of the Manhattan Congregational church, in speaking to Aggie students in chapel last Friday.

"In practically every phase of activity," continued Doctor Slade, "we concentrate our thoughts upon improvement, but in our personal lives we concentrate our thoughts upon our imperfections and shortcomings. Carried to the extreme, this results in lack of self confidence, causing people to become dissatisfied, disgusted, and finally causing them to hate themselves.

"A person should believe in himself. 'Love thyself' is a good motto. One should strive to secure absolute control over all his faculties, and have confidence to assert his own personality without restraint."

Doctor Slade pointed out that college life is a test of one's leadership, loyalty, and love. If a student can adapt himself and find a new place of leadership; if he can be loyal to himself and his own ideals, even though they are not popular with the group; and if he can retain the confidence in himself to assert his personality without restraint, his stay at college will prepare him for a place of leadership and influence in the world greater than any of which he has ever dreamed.

Doctor Slade is giving a series of addresses at his church on Sunday evenings on the subject "Religion and Science."

GIRL SWIMMERS BEGIN PRACTICE

INTER-CLASS CONTEST WILL BE HELD IN MARCH

Aquatic Meet Is Annual Event—Practice 4-5 O'clock Tuesdays and Thursdays

All girls who are interested in swimming are requested to come out for practice on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 4 o'clock. From those who attend the practices, the class teams will be chosen for the inter-class swimming contest in March. This contest is an annual spring event. It is hoped that enough upperclassmen will come out to have separate class teams as last year the juniors and seniors were forced to combine their teams. The freshman girls are urged to come out, too, in order to get started in the contests. Making the swimming team gives points toward a K sweater.

Harold Howe and George Raleigh spent Friday and Saturday at Columbia, Mo., where they assisted the initiatory team from the K. U. chapter in installing a chapter of the Phi Kappa fraternity at the University of Missouri.

"Enjoyment to the Limit" Doesn't Cheer the Profs Up a Bit

'Twas the day after Christmas holidays. "Remember, only three weeks until the end of the semester," said the cruel Prof. to the sleepy students who dutifully went to class.

"Uhm—n—n," groaned the class and thereafter slumbered peacefully until the bell rudely disturbed them.

"Just about six-fifths of this class are flunking," roared the next exasperated instructor as the answer "unprepared" came sleepily from one after another of the students.

But Prexy came to the students' rescue and cheered them up a bit when he said in chapel Friday "I'm glad to see so many of you back to the first chapel after vacation and I hope you all enjoyed yourselves to the limit during the holidays."

They all did—that's why there were so many sour, cranky hard-boiled professors on the hill Thursday and Friday.

HOLD CROP IMPROVEMENT MEETING HERE NEXT MONTH

Many Important Speakers To Be Brought Here February 8-10

The annual meeting of the Kansas Crop Improvement association will be held at the college February 8, 9, and 10. The three days promise to be of great interest and value to the farmers, students, and visitors from other colleges who will attend.

Among the important speakers on the program are Fred G. Laptad of Lawrence, president of the association; Prof. G. N. Hoffer, from the agricultural experiment station of Indiana; J. C. Mohler of Topeka, secretary of the state board of agriculture, and C. R. Ball, cerealist of the U. S. department of agriculture. The three days' program will be made up of lectures and discussions conducted by these men and by prominent farmers of Kansas as well as by the instructors in the agronomy and milling industry departments of the college.

The Crop Improvement association has a membership of more than 500 progressive Kansas farmers, who have an interest in the production and sale of good seed. The association has been instrumental in the distribution of Kanred seed wheat and Kanota oats throughout the state.

SURVEY ANDERSON AVENUE PRELIMINARY TO PAVING

Half of Expense to Be Borne by College

Plans for the paving of Anderson avenue along the south side of the campus are being made although it is not known just when actual work on the pavement construction will begin. There is probably no other street in the city that is so much in need of paving as Anderson avenue but because of the heavy expense that would have to be borne by the property owners on the one side of the street no headway has been made in the matter until recently. Last summer a petition was presented to the city council for paving this section but it failed.

After this attempt the matter was taken up for consideration through the president's office and instructions were given to the head of the civil engineers to have estimates made for the work. H. H. Connell and Murray A. Wilson, senior civils, were selected to make the survey and submit plans through their department to the president's office. As the matter stands at the present time the cost of paving is to be laid half on the property owners and half on the college. Just when actual work will begin is not known at the present time.

May Hold H. S. Rifle Meet Here

Floyd Hawkins, who graduated in the class of '20, and who now is engaged in state Y. M. C. A. work, is planning to hold a rifle meet for high schools and academies some time in the spring. The military department is backing him in this movement.

Home Study Puts Out Calendar

The home study department is establishing a precedent in putting out a calendar for 1922. It will be sent to high schools, county superintendents, and county agents of the state and will serve as a reminder of the opportunities offered by the department.

AGGIES TRAIN FOR FOE FROM WASHINGTON

WILDCAT-PIKER GAME COMES JANUARY 14

GRINNELL VICTORY DECISIVE

Iowans Were Plainly Outclassed by Aggie's Five—Neither in Mid-season Form—Cowell's work a Feature

With the scalps from the opening Missouri Valley conference basketball melee safely tucked in their championship hope box, Coach Curtiss' Aggie basketballers have launched into intensive training in preparation for the next encounter with a valley foe on Saturday, January 14, when they clash with Washington university here.

Aggies Win Easy Grinnell Victory

The 23 to 13 victory scored over the Grinnell cagers was probably more decisive even than the count indicates, and was fairly satisfactory to Aggie supporters. The Iowans were plainly outclassed and at no time was the going strenuous enough to force the Aggie basket tossers to exert themselves. It could hardly be said that either of the teams played in mid-season form, especially in the first half, but in the last half of the fracas, spurred on perhaps by the temporary spurt of the Pioneers, the Curtiss men showed greater capabilities under stiffer opposition. It evidently will take a more formidable aggregation than the Grinnell five to test the true ability of the Aggie squad.

Many Show Basketball Ability

The romp with the Grinnellians was the first opportunity the Aggie mentor has had to observe his men under fire, and he took advantage of the occasion to try out several of his candidates. While no sensational "find" has been uncovered, it is evident that Coach Curtiss has something more than five men with basketball ability. The quality of the Aggies' defensive work is indicated by the fact that the Iowa cagers were unable to hook a single field goal in the first half. The offensive of the Wildcats could apparently stand some more drilling, and Saturday night's game will undoubtedly see a decided improvement in this department.

Cowell's Performance Encouraging

"Brady" Cowell's performance in the opener lends encouragement to the fans who have predicted a repetition of last season's brilliant work by the Aggie all-round athlete. Captain Cowell's floor work and free throwing were features. He tossed seven free baskets in 10 attempts. Hahn and Webber alternating at the other guard position, both promise to develop into speedy, aggressive guards. Each of the two football veterans caged a ringer from near mid-court during the game. Grothusen and Woodbury, pivot men serving their first hitch in an Aggie uniform, performed creditably and seem to possess both fight and endurance. Foyal and Williams, both letter men, held down the forward berths, and Wann, a clever basket shooter from last year's freshman squad also got into the going.

Dope mongers may glean some basis for comparison of teams from the fact that the Pioneers were trounced by the K. U. hoop experts 38 to 16. From thence the Iowans journeyed to Oklahoma and took another defeat at the hands of the Sooners, 29 to 20.

ROGERS TO ISSUE BULLETIN FOR EXTENSION WORKERS

Is Sixth of Series Published by Industrial Journalism Department

Prof. C. E. Rogers is gathering material for the sixth of a series of K. S. A. C. industrial journalism bulletins. It will be a handbook for extension workers, containing suggestions for the preparation of copy for newspapers. Many extension workers feel the need of the information such a booklet would contain, since most of them have not had training in news writing and other related problems.

The journalism bulletins which have been published are: "The Agricultural College and Its Editor," by Henry Jackson Waters; "The Farm Paper: A Series of Addresses" and "Preparation for Editorial Work on Farm Papers," by Nelson Antrim Crawford; "Agricultural Literature and the Farmer," by J. C. Mohler; and "Stories Farm Paper Editors Want," by C. E. Rogers.

K. S. A. C. Gets New Incubator

A new giant incubator has been purchased by the poultry department of the college. This incubator is one of the largest that has yet been successfully operated.

The heat is supplied by a stove which burns hard coal, and which has an automatic feed, so that coal is automatically fed at regular intervals. The incubator itself is five feet wide and 30 feet long and has a capacity of 3,600 eggs. The eggs are automatically turned, thus insuring the best possible results. Should the temperature rise or fall above or below the danger point, an alarm is sounded giving the attendant a warning signal.

PI KAPPA DELTA JUDGE DEBATES

OFFER SERVICES TO NEARBY HIGH SCHOOLS

Will Also Coach on Delivery—Of Benefit to Both—Advertise College

Members of Pi Kappa Delta, forensic fraternity, have placed their services as judges of debates at the disposal of high schools which are within easy reach of Manhattan. They are also willing to spend a day at a high school to coach its debate team on delivery, immediately before a contest.

The first contest which will be judged by Pi Kappa Delta men this year will be held Friday night. This debate which will be between the Alma and Westmoreland high schools will be judged by H. I. Richards, J. Wheeler Barger, and Arnold Englund.

The purpose of the work is not only to give training to the college debaters in weighing evidence and coaching on delivery but also to give them a chance to meet high school students, and interest them in coming to K. S. A. C.

Last year several Pi Kappa Delta men served as judges and spoke in high school chapels concerning K. S. A. C. The members of the fraternity are H. I. Richards, J. Wheeler Barger, Arnold Englund, Charles W. Howard, J. J. Seright, Everett Williams, Walter Rolfe, Harold Howe, Verne Stambaugh, Hubert Collins, J. W. Farmer, and Ellis Kimble.

BOXERS TO MEET NEXT SEMESTER

ALL COLLEGE TOURNAMENT TO BE HELD

Participation Is Not Limited to Members of Boxing Classes

Coach E. A. Knoth is going to develop the "Aggie Fight" in a very emphatic way with the beginning of the next semester. In the handball room of Nichols gymnasium is posted an enrollment card for an all-college boxing tournament. The tournament will be similar to the one held last year with the exception of the limitation of those who may enter. Last year only those enrolled in boxing classes could compete while this year any student in the college may enter the contests.

The fighters will be divided into six different classes according to their weight. Feather weights, 115 to 125 pounds; light weights, 125 to 135; welter weights, 135 to 145; middle weights, 145 to 155; light heavy weights, 155 to 175; heavy weights 175 and over.

GIVE ONE ACT PLAY AT CHAPEL

"THE STRIKE" FEATURES FRIDAY'S PROGRAM

Parts in Play Are Taken by Rowena Thornburgh, V. E. Whan, and Kenneth Carter

An unusual play, "The Strike," written by a member of the Wisconsin players, is to have its premier presentation by the members of the Purple Masque dramatic fraternity at chapel Friday.

"The Strike" is one of the best examples of the clever modern one act play. The characters of the play are taken by members of Purple Masque who have appeared in major and minor Purple Masque productions at K. S. A. C.

The members of the cast are: Mr. John Brewster, the husband

.....Vorn E. Whan

Mrs. Peggy Brewster, the wife

.....Rowena Thornburgh

Captain Phillip Russell, the lover

.....Kenneth L. Carter

The action of the play portrays a love triangle. John Brewster is a stereotyped business man who is very jealous of his young wife, Peggy. Captain Phillip Russell is a handsome captain with decided views on life. One of the views that he holds is that the brave deserve the fair even when the fair happen to be the property of someone else.

The events of the play bring out the declaration of love for Captain Russell by the beautiful Peggy, when the husband enters the room. From this point of the play the action is just a bit different from that of the average production.

"The Strike" is under the direction of Ray E. Holcombe of the public speaking department.

Dr. N. D. Harwood was in Hutchinson last week looking after the health of the animals at the state industrial school. He also went to Hays to investigate and break up diseases of animals in that vicinity.

LEST WE FORGET

On October 11, 1918, as I was returning from the front, I saw near the roadside some white crosses over which waved the stars and stripes. I stopped, as was my custom, and looked for familiar names. To my deep sorrow, I saw that one of these crosses marked the resting place of our Eddie Wells. This experience stirred my deepest emotions.

It was there that I made a solemn vow that I should never forget that Eddie Wells and his kind had successfully passed the supreme test for courageous manhood. Standing beside his white cross, I wrote in my diary these words, "K. S. A. C. will build a worthy memorial to her boys who made the supreme sacrifice."

Christmas, 1921—what have we done? What would our soldier dead have us do, if they could speak to us? I don't know. It is my conviction that the most fitting memorial we could erect for them is a great stadium. It is in the stadium that we forget our differences and learn to cooperate. It is one of the institutions in which America is solving the problem of how to make democracy safe. It is one of America's great socializing institutions. It is an institution in which the common experiences, the common hopes, and the common ideals of our great American democracy are created and kept alive.

What have we done? Have we kept faith? What are we going to do about it?—Edwin L. Holton.

BEYOND THE HILL

Signs to be posted on the bulletin boards at Indiana university must conform to the size regulation, 11 by 14 inches or smaller, before they will be posted.

Two thirds of the articles found on the campus of the University of Iowa are lost by women, according to the superintendent of grounds there. Freshmen lose more books, he said, than any of the other classes, but professors lose more proportionately than students. Women make more of an effort to recover lost articles than men.

Michigan Agricultural college is considering the building of a stadium.

The military department at Ohio State university has recently published a magazine, "Le Militaire." Over 2,000 copies have already been sold.

A decrease of about 500 per cent, or a drop from 3,160 to 641 students, in the enrollment of veterinary colleges in the United States has taken place in the last five years. There are at present only 163 freshmen enrolled in the veterinary schools of the country.

Iowa university students are already trying to figure ways and means whereby they can witness the Iowa-Yale game at New Haven next year. One senior is counting on making the trip a honeymoon affair.

Keeping library books overtime costs the students of Indiana university $300 annually. Three dollars has been the biggest fine so far this year but the largest last year was $7.

In a recent letter to the president of Oklahoma university, a division superintendent of the Santa Fe railroad condemned the practice of "bumming" to intercollegiate contests by college men on the ground that it is immoral and lawless.

A student at Baker university was recently paddled and later proved his innocence, which led the students there to vote for a court of appeals before which cases should be tried before the offenders were punished. The idea was later dismissed.

Closed doors will soon lose their secrets in the buildings at Indiana university. On all class room doors will be placed cards that will name the class that is within and the professor in charge. The cards will be held in a small steel container.

The Delta Zeta chapter at Northwestern university recently was awarded a loving cup for having the highest grade average of any sorority at the university.

Thirty years ago the following notice appeared on the walls of the medical building at the University of Michigan: "Senior medics are requested to wear whiskers, artificial, if natural ones are impossible, in order that they may be distinguished from the freshmen."

Sororities of the University of California have adopted the "preferential" system of rushing, where bids are handed to rushees through the medium of the dean of women, thus eliminating unfair competition, rivalry between sororities, and outside influence.

ATHENIANS WIN DEBATE CONTEST

GET INTERSOCIETY CUP TWICE IN SUCCESSION

Priestly, Englund, and Paden Compose Team—Seright Coached Winners

The final contest in the annual inter-society debate tournament which was held recently resulted in victory for the negative team of the Athenian literary society. The team, which was composed of Hally R. Priestly, Victor J. Englund, and Alfred R. Pa-den won a four to one decision against the affirmative team of the Browning literary society.

The judges for the debate were
Dr. A. A. Holtz, Dr. Wm. Franklin
Blade, Dean Julius T. Willard, Prof.
R. E. Rosson, and Rev. John Parkinson. Lawrence Whearty, president of the Webster literary society, who presided over the contest, presented a silver loving cup to the winning team.

The victorious team was coached by J. J. Seright, senior in electrical engineering. Mr. Seright was a member of the champion intersociety debate team as well as an intercollegiate team. He is a member of Phi Kappa Delta forensic fraternity, and president of the senior class.

This is the second consecutive year in which the Athenians have won the contests. Last year both Athenian teams were in the finals, but this year the affirmative team was brought down to defeat in the semifinals at the hands of the negative team representing the sister society, the Brownings. The silver loving cup will become permanent property of the Athenian society if its team wins the debate tournament next year.

This contest was the last of 15 debates which literary society teams have staged during the tournament.
Each of the eight societies had an affirmative and a negative team composed each of three persons. Thus, 48 persons, who composed 16 debate teams, received training in the forensic art of persuasion.

The debates were under the supervision of the committee on debate of the intersociety council. Junius W.
Farmer is chairman of this committee. Opal Seeber and J. Wheeler
Barger, holders of the English department scholarships in debate, are ex-officio members.

A great deal of interest was shown in the topic which was discussed by the debaters. The question debated was: "Resolved: that labor unions as they now exist are beneficial to society."

Frank Swanson, senior in agronomy, has withdrawn from college for the year and is now teaching in the high school at Irving.

Tendencies Toward Red Ties and Eats Find Student Favor

Professor Colver is never thought of as being an ordinary individual.
And yet in the past few weeks he has developed certain unexplainable eccentricities over which many of his students and fellow faculty members are puzzled.

First it appears that the good professor has taken to wearing red neckties on the days of exams. A praiseworthy idea if put into effect soon enough, but why, we ask, flag the train when it is already on the bridge which has the center span gone? Professor Colver should wear the red necktie on the day before exams in order to have his original style fully appreciated by students.

Again, Professor Colver served a lunch to his classes. Such bald-faced originality has been surpassed only once, and that by H. W. Davis, head of the college English department when he served ice cream to one of his last year's classes in place of the customary final examinations.
This lunch serving mania is a newly discovered disease of the heart, which, while being a highly contagious affection, finds rather an inhospitable reception in the frigid anatomy of the average college prof. We congratulate Professor Colver on his susceptibility.

A. H. PROFS GET OUT CIRCULAR

McCAMPBELL AND WINCHESTER
CO-AUTHORS PUBLICATION

Give Results of Experiment on Use of Grain in Cattle Feeding

A circular has been issued by Dr.
C. W. McCampbell and Prof. H. B.
Winchester, of the department of animal husbandry, giving the results of cattle feeding investigations which were mainly in the use of grain in feeding cattle.

Doctor McCampbell in speaking of the circular said: "Everybody realizes that land prices are rising, that population is increasing and that agricultural areas are not extending.
All this means that the human animal will be a competitor with other animals for the use of the grain crops. This being true it is up to us to find means of producing fat animals without the use of much grain.
"The only solution of this problem is to utilize roughages for the cattle.
So we are trying to be ahead of the times by working out means of using the maximum percentage of roughages in growing and fattening animals for the market. This is given special emphasis in Circular 19.

"Another important point is that cattle feeders have been finding 2, 3, and 4 year old steers the most profitable. But economic conditions have changed, and calves are now most profitable. But old timers are slow to appreciate the change."

McClung Sigma Alpha Epsilon Officer

John R. McClung of Manhattan was elected province recorder at the biennial convention of Province Zeta of Sigma Alpha Epsilon which was held at Lincoln, Nebr., during the holidays. The convention was attended by delegates from nine chapters and eight alumni associations in the states of Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, and South Dakota. The delegates from K. S. A. C. were Paul Tupper of LeCompton, Luke Gullfoyle of Wamego, and Bob Allingham of Manhattan.

Outline Music Course Requirements

A meeting of the students in applied music was called by Miss Elsie Smith, head of the piano department,
Monday, December 16. The object of the meeting was to outline the course of study for the four years so that each student may know exactly what is expected of him.

"We want the amount of work required to secure a degree in music, to be as definite as in any course in the college," Miss Smith says. "The course of study is based on what the average student can accomplish by practicing three hours a day the first two years, and four hours a day the last two. Many students are not qualified to enter as freshmen when they come to K. S. A. C., and must do extra work in order to meet the requirements. The progress already made and the natural ability of the student determine the length of time required to complete the course."

Frank Chinery of Cincinnati, Ohio, supreme vice president of the Phi Kappa fraternity spent Thursday at the Phi Kappa house.

FACULTY WILL DECIDE EXAM PLAN MONDAY

PROPOSED SCHEDULE TO BE OFFERED FOR APPROVAL

WOULD BE USED THIS SEMESTER

Plan Originally Suggested by S. S. G. A. Committee Rejected Because of Length of Time Required

Whether or not the examination plan which has been approved by the faculty committee will be adopted for use this semester, will be decided at a meeting of the faculty Monday afternoon. An outline of the plan approved by the committee has been sent to all members of the faculty in order that they may familiarize themselves with the proposed schedule before the meeting.

The committee which worked out the system is made up of Prof. A. E. White, chairman, Prof. Hildegarde Kneeland, Prof. W. A. Lippincott, Dean R. A. Seaton, and Prof. O. W. Colver. The plan proposed by the S. S. G. A. committee was not approved because if it were in effect 21 days would be necessary for conducting the examinations.

Explanation of the Plan

At least a one hour examination period is provided for all lectures, recitations, and laboratories carrying one hour of credit.

A two hour examination period is provided for all lectures, recitations, and laboratories carrying two or more hours of credit.

Additional examinations may be given at the regular meetings of classes previous to the scheduled examinations.

No classes shall meet during the last seven days of the examination period, and no examinations shall be given during these seven days, except as scheduled. (The second semester the examination period is six days in length.)

At the close of the second semester, certain examinations for seniors are provided for in the first two days of the examination period; examinations not thus provided for may be given at previous meetings of the classes.

One credit courses scheduled for the day preceding the period set aside for the final examinations, shall receive their examinations at the regular class hours, the day previous to the examination period; other classes meeting as usual on this day.

For convenience in designating and scheduling classes for examinations they are grouped as follows:

Group I Designated by Th

All lectures, recitations, and laboratories, the regular schedule for which is Thursday or includes Thursday, at any of the eight recitation periods. This group includes all classes meeting on TWTF, MTWTF, TWTF, TWT, Th, TT, ThS, ThFS, etc.

Group II Designated by W

All lectures, recitations, and laboratories, the regular schedule for which is Wednesday or includes Wednesday, at any of the eight recitation periods, but does not include Thursday. This group includes all classes meeting on MWF, MTuW, WF, WS, MW, W.

Group III Designated by M

All lectures, recitations, and laboratories, the regular meeting for which is Monday only, at any of the eight recitation periods.

Group IV Designated by Tu

All lectures, recitations, and laboratories, the regular schedule for which is Tuesday only, at any of the first seven recitation periods.

Group V Designated by S

All lectures, recitations, and laboratories, the regular schedule for which is Saturday only, at any of the first five recitation periods.

Group VI Designated by F

All lectures, recitations, and laboratories, the regular schedule for which is Friday only, at any of the eight recitation periods. Subjects in this group shall receive their examinations the day preceding the final examination period.

Examinations in subjects not provided for in the above groups, (i. e. subjects whose schedule involves combinations of the days Monday, Tuesday, Friday or Saturday) must be divided. For example the time of examination in a subject, the regular schedule of which is MS second hour, shall be the times provided for second hour classes in Group III and Group V. This involves only a few classes.

The notation, Th-1 indicates the subjects in Group I meeting the first hour; W-3 indicates the subjects in Group II meeting the third hour, etc.

A class meeting on two or more consecutive class hours is scheduled as belonging to the first hour of the period. For example a laboratory meeting M 2, 3, and 4 hours is scheduled as a second hour class.

STILL PLAYING COLOR GAMES

PICK CLASS TEAMS AT BEGINNING OF NEW SEMESTER

Yellow Team Ranks First Now—Purple Team Second and Green Third

The color tournament in basketball which began before Christmas is still in progress, and will continue until the end of the semester. Such a large number of girls turned out for basketball practice that it was necessary to make 10 color teams. Blue, Brown, Yellow, Lavender, Green, Red, White, Purple Pink, and black, and the spectrum was nearly exhausted in finding names for the teams. At the beginning of the new semester the class teams will be chosen for the color teams, and the class tournament will begin. Admission will be charged to these games.

The tournament score as it stands now shows that the Yellow team is ahead with eight games played, and seven games won. The Purple is second with seven games played, and six games won, and the Green team ranks third with six games played, and five games won.

COMPANY H IS FIRST IN DRILL

FRESHMEN HOLD FIRST PLACE IN MANUAL OF ARMS

Standing Taken at Beginning and Close of Every Period

In the competitive manual of arms that the military department is holding company H of the freshman section is holding first honors. Of the sophomore companies, the first company of engineers is ranking highest.

The relative standing of each company is taken at every drill period and is based on the number present at each roll call, and the number left at the end of each period. For each error made a man is eliminated. At the close of drill the percentage of the company is taken. The percentages of each freshman company are: first, H company, 837; second, G company, 759; third, D company, 581; fourth, C company, 507; fifth, B company, 240; sixth, A company, 55.

The percentages of the sophomore companies are: first, I company (engineers), 388; second, K company, 183; third, 2-company (engineers), 173; fourth, F company, 75.

Mr. Allan Hartman, Mr. Milton Eisenhower, and Mr. Marian Stauffer were dinner guests at the Delta Delta house Tuesday evening.

Thanksgiving Game Next Fall

Negotiations for a Thanksgiving day football game for the 1922 Aggie eleven, to be played here November 30 with the Texas Christian college, were closed this week by M. F. Ahearn, Aggie athletic director. The Texas school this year turned out one of the strongest teams in the south. This makes the 1922 Aggie football schedule complete.

Even Though Man Is a Wise Animal He May Be Outwitted

Time: Recently.

Place: West steps of Anderson hall.

Characters: A squirrel, a bun, and a hungry student.

Plot: The squirrel happy, the bun traveling, and the student derived of his dinner.

Action: One of the boys from the country near Manhattan, carries his lunch to school, like some of you folks used to do when you went to the one-room country school years ago. This student was unwise enough to leave his lunch on the steps of Anderson while he went to the post office. A friend of yours, one of the cute little hairy friends—a squirrel—decided to investigate the queer package.

Result: A saddened but wiser student walks among you today.

Moral: Don't leave your clothes on the bank of the river and expect to find them there when you come out of the water.

KANSAS BAKERS HOLDING ANNUAL MEETING HERE

Farrell, Fitz, and Mrs. E. B. Keith Are on Program

The Kansas Bakers' association is holding its annual meeting in Manhattan, on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. The business sessions are being held at the college. Yesterday Dean F. D. Farrell gave an address of welcome. A. J. Cripe, president of the association gave the response. Among others Prof. L. A. Fitz presented a paper on the "Process of Flour Manufacturing" and Mrs. E. B. Keith spoke on "What a Housewife Expects of the Baker."

Eurodelphians Have Mystery Program

A mystery program was given at the meeting of the Eurodelphian literary society Saturday, January 7. The girls were divided into two groups, and one group listened to the impromptu program prepared by the other girls. The program was as follows: devotions, Georgia Belle Crihfield; debate, Alice Marston, Colletta Mayden, May Hunter, Velma Lawrence; reading, Irene Maughlin; music, Nellie McComb and Esther Russell; the Delphi, Hortense Caton, Frances Smith, and June Harter; stant, Sybil Watts and Julia Caton.

Speaks at Vocational Meeting

At the meeting of the National Society for Vocational Education, held in Kansas City recently, a paper was presented by Dr. L. J. Bogert, head of the department of foods and nutrition. Doctor Bogert's subject was "Shall We Teach Related Science in the Secondary School on the Basis of the Project, the Unit Course, or the General Course?"

Commercial Creamery Short Course Starts

The commercial creamery short course began Monday and will close March 4. Anyone over 17 years of age is admitted to this course. It offers excellent training for present and prospective creamery operators and ice cream manufacturers. At present 10 have enrolled in the course.

T. B. Age, professor of highway engineering at the Iowa State college, was here during part of the Christmas vacation to consult with Prof. C. E. Conrad, of the civil engineering department, in regard to tests which Professor Conrad is making concerning wind resistance on motor vehicles. Professor Conrad's investigations are under the direction of the National Research council.

Miss Josephine Boggs, whose home is in Concordia underwent a serious operation during the holidays, and is unable to return to her studies here.

AGGIES HAVE TWO VALLEY GAMES HERE

MEET WASHINGTON SATURDAY AND AMES MONDAY

BOTH ARE STRONG AGGREGATIONS

Grothusen in Quarantine—Woodbury or McKee at Pivot—Dope Indicates Good Battle—No More Games Till February 8

Coach Curtiss' galaxy of basket flingers will have two hurdles in the pennant race to overcome on Saturday and Monday nights, when they take on Washington university and Iowa State college respectively. The Wildcats will entertain the basketballers from the St. Louis institution on the home court January 14, and will compete with the Ames basket shooters on Monday evening, January 16.

Washington Better Than Last Year

The Washington university five experienced one of its most disastrous seasons last year, losing 14 out of the 16 games in which they engaged. But the Pikers are reported to have recruited from their 1921 freshman squad several court athletes with all-valley ambitions, and to have a much more formidable quintet entered in the Missouri valley basketball derby this season. However, in their first game with the Missouri Tigers, the Bengals romped away from the Near Beer city cagers 45 to 26. Which may indicate that the Piker team lacked something, and on the other hand, may only be some more convincing evidence that Missouri again has a basketball squad that must be reckoned with by those who aspire to a clear title to the valley championship bunting.

Expect Real Fray With Iowans

It is likely that the clash with the Iowa Farmers will prove a real test of the ability of the Wildcats, and that they will have a pretty court battle on their hands in turning back the Cyclone five. Ames finished fifth in the valley race last season with one of the best teams the school has had in years. The Cyclones were responsible for one of the four defeats suffered by the Aggies during the season, and they twice defeated the University of Iowa five. Only two of the Cyclones' letter men were lost by graduation, and the team is expected to prove one of the strong contenders for a place at the top of the championship ladder this season. Ames lost to Nebraska this week.

Work for Offensive and Accuracy

Coach Curtiss has been putting his charges through their paces at a fast clip this week, stressing offensive team work and accuracy in locating the hoop. Not much change from the lineup which started in the Grinnell game, is anticipated in tomorrow night's affair. Grothusen, probably Curtiss' best bet at the center berth, has been out of the game under quarantine, and even if the quarantine is lifted before Saturday night, he will hardly be in condition to play. Woodbury, who relieved Grothusen in Thursday night's contest, or McKee will probably start at the pivot position against Washington.

Monday night's dispute with Ames will be the last game on the local court until February 8, when the Aggie cagers tangle with their ancient enemies, the Jayhawkers, at Manhattan.

LOUISE PRICE GOES TO NEW POSITION IN OREGON

H. J. Battle Fills Vacancy in Aggie Chemistry Department

Miss Mary L. Price, instructor in chemistry resigned her position at the beginning of the holiday period to accept a position as instructor in household chemistry in the Oregon Agricultural college, Corvallis, Ore. The new position offers a material increase in salary.

H. J. Battle of Denver has been appointed to succeed Miss Price as instructor in chemistry here. Mr. Battle is a graduate of the University of Denver having taken both his bachelor's degree and his master's degree there, in addition to a master's degree from the University of Illinois, where he was an instructor for a year. During the war, he was in the chemistry warfare branch of the service. Since the war he has been with a brass manufacturing company in Ohio.

Journalists To Topeka Kansas Day

The students in the journalism department have been offered the chance of helping in the publication of the Kansas Day issue of the Topeka Daily Capital, January 31. About 15 have signified their intention of going and a few more are expecting to go. Some of the students will cover the state house, and some the Kansas Day gatherings.

SHORT COURSE MEN ARE HERE

AGRICULTURAL COURSES BEGAN TUESDAY, JANUARY 3

Have Enrolled 151—Offer New Work to Herdsmen and Builders

A total of 151 students are enrolled in the various short courses that are offered at K. S. A. C. In the agricultural short courses there are 81 and in engineering 70. The agricultural courses began Tuesday, January 3.

The two new courses that are offered this year are a course in building and a course for herdsmen. The herdsmen's short course began December 27 and was completed January 7. This course had a good enrollment for a new course. Most of those who took it as a rule were engaged in purebred livestock raising.

The course in building trades is a practical short course consisting of work in drafting, plan reading, estimates, business contracts, and professional relations. Those taking this course are practical builders and contractors.

The short courses in agriculture consist of general work in farm economics, agronomy, animal husbandry, and creamery work. This latter course consists of work and problems in the handling of butter, milk, cheese, and other dairy products. In this there are nine persons enrolled. The farmers' short course has an enrollment of 57 persons, 49 of whom are enrolled in livestock production. The class in farm management has an enrollment of 36 while the class in grain crops has 33.

Those who are taking engineering short courses are getting work in auto operation, and the operation of tractors and their care. The work in auto operation is designed for the prospective automobile owner. Twenty-six are enrolled in this course.

COLLEGE HEALTH CONDITIONS GOOD

BUT ONE CASE OF CONTAGIOUS DISEASE SINCE HOLIDAYS

Eugene Leeper Is Ill with Scarlet Fever—Many Students Have Colds

But one case of contagious disease has appeared in college since the return of the students after the holidays. Eugene Leeper of Goff, freshman in commerce, has scarlet fever, and is in the college hospital. Dr. C. M. Siever, college physician, attributes the excellent health conditions of the student body to the fact that students are beginning to realize the danger of bringing back diseases after the holidays and are careful not to expose themselves to disease while at home.

Although on last Monday 157 students visited the college doctor, most of the cases were colds. In spite of the few serious diseases here so far this semester the college physician and nurses are kept busy with cases of minor ailments.

Dr. C. W. McCampbell attended the state board of agriculture meeting which was held in Topeka.

JARDINE GOES TO NATIONAL CONFERENCE

TO ATTEND MEETING CALLED BY WALLACE

AGRICULTURAL LEADERS INVITED

Jardine Is Well Qualified To Help in Solving Problems of Marketing, Labor and Price Levels

An invitation to attend the national agricultural conference at Washington, D. C., has been extended to President W. M. Jardine. The conference, which is made up of delegates selected by Secretary of Agriculture Henry C. Wallace, are men who are authorities on the agricultural and economic problems of the country. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss methods of treatment for improving depressed agricultural conditions. Such subjects as the problems of marketing, labor, and price levels for produce are to be discussed with the aim of improving the producers' side of the question.

Jardine Knows Farmers' Needs

President Jardine goes well-qualified to take part in the work at hand, being well informed concerning the average farmer's needs, and ways of supplying them. To date the total number of delegates is 90.

Conference in Session a Week

A few of the delegates are Governor Carey of Wyoming, Governor Parker of Louisiana, Eugene Meyer, Jr., director of the war finance corporation; A. C. Miller, director of the federal reserve board; and Judge Robert W. Bingham, representing the Burley Tobacco Growers' association. Besides these and others are included deans and presidents of several other institutions, all prominent as agricultural leaders.

The conference will be in session for about a week, depending on the progress that is made with the work.

AG PUBLICATION HAS GOOD SALE

PUBLISH 1,000 COPIES KANSAS AGRICULTURAL STUDENT

First Magazine of Its Kind Here—Next Issue Out in February

Nearly 1,000 copies of the Agricultural Student, the magazine published by the Agricultural association, have been sold. Of this number 325 were local subscribers. This is the first magazine of its kind to be published at K. S. A. C.

The magazine has several purposes. Prof. Hugh Durham, faculty advisor for the magazine, says, "The Kansas Agricultural Student is a method of unifying the division and a means of expression for the ag students. Its greater educational value is for the ones who write for it, but it is also valuable to other students, alumni and all persons interested in scientific farming. This magazine is really a mouth-piece for the department and will be of assistance in publicity work of the college."

Plans have been made to publish the magazine four times during the present school year. It has not been decided whether it will be a quarterly or monthly, next year. The next issue will come out the last of February.

Each number of the Kansas Agricultural Student will feature different phases of the ag division. The spring number will be a summary and explanation of all the departments of agriculture. This number will be sent to high school students who are interested in this work.

Miss Florence Dial, who has been student assistant in the library, has accepted a position as teacher of home economics in the high school at Glasco.

K. S. A. C. SUPPORTS DEBATE TOO

The president of a leading American university said recently: "Students of higher educational institutions are becoming intoxicated over athletics to the exclusion of everything else!"

This is not true at K. S. A. C. We support athletics and are justly proud of the teams which do so much toward putting the college in the limelight. But a revival of interest in debate and oratory has taken place the past two years which is gratifying to every person on the hill who believes that one's development in college should be symmetrical.

Attendance at forensic contests last year was twice as large as it was three years ago. Yet the attendance should be larger. Debate is an activity which should be supported by the entire student body. Victorious debate teams bring credit to the institution just as do other victorious teams. Debate can and will mean much to K. S. A. C. if the students prove even more loyal.

Tonight and tomorrow night occur the first intercollegiate debates of the school year. These contests offer an opportunity to listen to a linguistic battle and to hear a demonstration of the time-honored forensic art—the art of persuasion.

And at the same time the contests offer to every student an opportunity to support a worth while college activity.

Miss Glanton at Vocational Meeting

At the 15th annual convention of the National Society for Vocational Education at Kansas City, January 5 to 8, Miss Louise P. Glanton, head of the department of clothing and textiles at K. S. A. C. led in all discussions Thursday, January 5, in the program by the retailing section.

The entire day was devoted to talks and to discussions on the training of students and of teachers for teaching this profession. Dr. Norris A. Brisco, director of New York university of Retailing was chairman of the program and was the leading speaker. Doctor Brisco's subject was "Coordination Between Store and School." The purpose of this program was to bring out the fact that training in retailing means better service, better methods, better personnel, less waste, more satisfied customers, lower costs and larger profits.

Prof. J. E. Kammeyer will address a meeting of the Parent Teachers' association at Clay Center January 20. The subject of his speech is to be, "What Parents and Teachers Can Do in the Great Cause of Disarmament." This meeting is a combined assembly of the city and country schools.

Prof. H. B. Walker attended a meeting of the American Association of Agricultural Engineers at Chicago during the holidays.

The oil burners under the Babcock and Wilcox boilers were reset last week. The intense heat of the oil flame was causing trouble with the tubes. It is expected that the increasing combustion space will overcome this difficulty.

Prof. C. F. Baker has been unable to meet his classes for several days on account of illness.

Prof. C. H. Scholer attended a conference of state highway engineers and brick manufacturers at Topeka last Monday. Professor Scholer does all the testing of road materials for the state highway commission.

W. S. Brown will spend the week end in Kansas City.

The first intercollegiate debates of this school year will be held tonight and tomorrow night. The contest this evening is a girls' debate between the Aggie team and a team representing the Kansas State Normal school. The debate tomorrow night will be between the Iowa State college and K. S. A. C.

The debate with Ames is the leading intercollegiate forensic contest of the year. It is an annual dual affair between the two leading land grant colleges of the midwest. The debate this year will be held in recreation hall immediately after the basketball game.

On the Aggie team which will represent K. S. A. C. at Ames is Hubert Collins, Joe Thackery, and Ellis Kimble. The home team is composed of Wayne McKibben, Austin Stover, W. W. Weaver, and Verne Stambaugh. The judges for the local contest will be Prof. Henry A. Shinn of Kansas university; Prof. Martin Holcomb of Bethany college; and Prof. E. D. Schonberger of Washburn college. Three musical numbers will be furnished by the Athenian-Browning orchestra, made up of Elfreda Hemker, Florence McKinney, Herbert Hemker, Charles Gunn, Walter Hemker, Ella Paustian, H. W. Wilkins, M. S. Cook, and Hazel Hulse.

The question which will be debated with the Iowa representatives is, "Resolved, that Universal Disarmament of the Armies and Navies of the World can be Made Practicable Through the League of Nations." The constructive speeches will be 12 minutes in length and the rebuttal speeches, five. Prof. Walter Burr of the department of economics and sociology will preside over the contest.

The team representing Iowa State college will be composed of Chas. H. Sverett, Louis Pickus, and Stuart Smith.

The contest this evening between the girls' teams will be held in the home economics rest room at 8 o'clock. The Aggie team will be composed of Georgia Newcomb, Osceola Hall Burr, and Bernice Fleming. The travelling team which will debate at Emporia is composed of Queenie Hart, Anna Best, and Margaret Gillette. Harman has accompanied the girls' team to Emporia.

Freshman Class Meets

The freshman class met Wednesday evening in C26. Twenty members were present. Those present voted to hold a meeting Wednesday evening, January 18, to nominate officers for next semester, to vote on the activity fee, and to discuss collection of class dues.

Sophomore Class Meets

The sophomore class met Tuesday, January 10, in A60. Miss Marie Correll was appointed. Royal Purple representative. She announced that she wishes a number of clever snap shots of the class members turned in for the use of the annual. The class voted for the activity fee, under plan number two with a fee of $10. Sophomore class dues are 50 cents a semester or $1 a year.

To Offer Herdsmen's Course Annually

The first herdsmen's short course which has just been completed, was such a success that it is planned to offer the course every year. Dr. C. W. McCampbell in speaking of it said, "The men who took the course were earnest and enthusiastic. All of them were established pure stock breeders and came to the college in order to learn the finer points. I am very well satisfied with the results of our first herdsmen's course."

Class Studies Practical Problem

Prof. Walter Burr and his class in rural organization went to Louisville Wednesday evening where they studied at first hand a problem in organizing a rural activity. The community of Louisville is contemplating the construction of a community hall and are meeting with the usual obstacles. Their problems furnished practical lessons for the class in rural organization.

May Re-christen Aggieville

There is a movement among the business men of Aggieville, to change the name to College City. The movement, so far as it has gone, has met with approval, and much enthusiasm has already been worked up for the prospective change.

"We wish to change the name to something more significant, something more outstanding and attractive," said Mr. John Coons, one of the men at the head of this movement. "College City" is a much more appropriate name, since this is a college and not principally an agricultural school."

Prof. L. E. Call, head of the department of agronomy, is in Topeka today where he will speak to the state board of agriculture on spring crops that can be planted where winter wheat has been killed out.

Arise Ags! Your Course Will Be 'Terra Firma Culture' Next

What's the answer? Are they after the farmers again? Say, isn't it more or less of a shame the way our sons of the soil get it in the neck like that all the time?

Now some one wants to change the name of our metropolis on the east from Aggieville to College City. Sure it's a shame. You bet. Arise, ye Ags! Rise up, that the Great Aggie Tradition may not be desecrated. (By the way, isn't it fine when a school can have anything for a great tradition that it wants? Wonderful.) Hang to it, boys! Fight the good fight! Don't let no one do us dirty!

Why think of it, boys. First they want to hide the disgraceful fact that we raise things in Kansas, by making it Kansas State College, and then they want to ruin the Great Aggie Tradition. Why the next thing you know they'll be calling your course Terra Firma Culture, or Soil Art! Shades of Secretary Wallace.

And then there are those who say with the immortal William, "What's in a name?" That which we call a rose "by any other name would smell as sweet." The College City Propagandists will doubtless inculcate that in their argument. And do they lie? Would a single one of Aggieville's effluvia change with the name? Were we walking through College City rather than Aggieville would there be the alteration in strength of even so much as one essence? You know the answer. Sure you do.

But you know, boys, traditions lead a dog's life. Some meddler is always poking them in the ribs, or sticking them with a pin, or something, and everything. Why the things are beginning to require as much protection as a case of Biscardi rum. It's either carry a pair of knucks or see your pet tradition trampled in the dust.

It may be, you know—that is, it's entirely possible—uh-h, several things lead us to suspect that some one thinks the words agriculture, and Aggie a bit—shall we say—gauche—hardly the diletante. Here! Here! sit down—is it our fault? You know just as well as we do that the east is coming west. Why there are actually places as far west as Ohio now, where you can be Bohemian without being thought more than mentally unbalanced, and it is entirely possible that one of the bugs slipped into Aggieville by way of Kansas City or Emporia. Undoubtedly the fellow still retains some of his former instincts, and how in the world can he be Bohemian in a place whose name is suggestive of cows and hard work. He may admire the unconventional himself, but he must have inspiring surroundings or he can't be eccentric. College City would probably sound a little better to him.

And then again our guess might be that one of our great captains of industry has said to himself, "It's all right for a man to run a barber shop in Aggieville, but I'd rather have my store in College City."

But this way or that way we're going to keep our flag in the air, eh boys? Just let 'em try to do us dirty!

Hurrah!

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, MANHATTAN, TUESDAY, JANUARY 17, 1922

DECIDE FATE ACTIVITY FEE THIS FRIDAY

PRESIDENT BUTCHER OF EMPORIA, ENDORSES PLAN

FACULTY COMMITTEE APPROVES

Important Changes Made—Include Admission to Band Concerts—Pay Bills Through Business Office—Vote at Assembly

The final test of the campaign for the varsity activity fee comes Friday morning at 10:15 when the question comes before a general assembly of students in the college auditorium. In this meeting the students will decide whether or not they adopt a stable plan of financing which is in use in many of the colleges over the country.

Means Unanimous Student Support
If passed it will mean that athletics, forensics, and debate, judging teams, and the Aggie band will receive the unanimous support of the student body. Besides doing this the fee will reduce materially the expense to the individual student who in the past has supported these various activities. President Butcher of the Kansas State normal has written a letter in which he states that after four years' experience with the system in that school he considers the fee a success. Recently when the season fee at the normal was advanced in price there was not a single dissenting vote.

Some revisions in the plan as presented in the first issue of the Collegian last week have been made as various phases of criticism have been considered. The whole plan was made public early so that popular sentiment would have a chance to mold the plan as nearly as possible to what the students really want.

Change Plan of Paying Bills
The revised plan provides for admission to all band concerts. Instead of the payment of the allotment of funds to the treasurer of each organization benefited by the fee, the money is to be left in the hands of the business office, credited to the account of the particular organizations, and given out in payment of bills through the regular channels of the office. In this way the business office of the college has direct supervision of the payment of all bills payable from this fund.

Another change provides for the appointment by the president of the college of two faculty members of the budget committee and the chairman of the committee who is to be a student, thus giving the students the balance of power with three of the fee members, since it is primarily their enterprise. Faculty members are invited to participate in the benefits of the fee by the payment of the same amount as students.

Faculty Met Monday

A committee of the faculty which considered the fee and suggested the changes given above, approved the plan unanimously. The faculty as a whole met Monday night and reached a decision on the fee. Printed copies of the final plan as approved by the executive council of the S. S. G. A., the varsity activity fee committee, and the faculty, will be given out Friday morning at the auditorium.

ELECTRICAL DEPARTMENT GETS BETTER EQUIPMENT

More Floor Space and Efficient Arrangement Now

The electrical department of the college has received three new Century motors for use in its experimental laboratories. These motors are of medium size, and are all three different types, one being a three phase squirrel cage induction motor, one a three phase induction motor with wire wound rotor, and a single phase motor.

In its new home the electrical department has a greater floor space for their laboratories, besides having a much more efficient arrangement. The electrical connections coming from the power plant are run through the cement floor in metal conduits to a main switchboard. From here the electricity is distributed to the various laboratories and classrooms. In experiments calling for alternating current, the laboratories are now in a position to generate their own current. Not all of the apparatus that has been moved from the old laboratories in the chemistry building has been put into working shape, but within a month all will be in working order.

Y. W. Commission Finish Course

The last meeting of the Freshman commission was held Tuesday. The girls were invited to a meeting of the first cabinet, to learn how a model Y. W. C. A. cabinet meeting is conducted.

The six weeks' course in training for leadership, and for discussion of college problems is finished. Besides the work in the discussion meetings the girls have been active ever since their organization in various affairs of college and townspeople.

ARTISTS SERIES NUMBER MONDAY

WALTER GREENE AND FRANCES NASH TO GIVE PROGRAM

Performance Monday Is Closing Number of this Year's Artists Series

The third and closing number of the Artists Series will be given in the auditorium next Monday evening, January 23. Walter Greene, baritone, and Frances Nash, pianist, will present the program.

This concert is the only one in the series in which two artists have appeared in joint recital. Prof. Ira Pratt, head of the music department says "I think this recital will be one of the most enjoyable of the series. To many people I think it will be the most enjoyable because of the variety of the program. Both of the artists would be headline attractions by themselves."

These artists are especially interesting because both are truly American products. They are leading examples of American training.

It will also be interesting to Kansas audiences to know that both were born in the middle west and received training in this section. Mr. Greene received much of his training in St. Louis.

After studying in St. Louis Mr. Greene went to New York where he studied under the leading American teachers and soon was a recognized concert singer. He is now recognized as one of the leading baritones in the world and as he is still very young he has a brilliant future before him.

Miss Nash is an international artist and has appeared in all parts of the world. She is very young also but is generally recognized as one of America's foremost pianists. Her work is popular with all classes of people.

GIRL DEBATERS DEFEAT NORMAL

GET UNANIMOUS DECISION HERE AND 2-1 AT EMPORIA

Resolved: That Kansas Should Adopt A Uni-Cameral System of Legislature

The Kansas Aggie girl debaters won two decisions over the Kansas State Normal teams from Emporia in debates Friday evening. The decision was unanimous here and 2-1 at Emporia. The question was: Resolved: that Kansas should adopt a unicameral system of legislature.

Georgia Newcomb, Osceola Hall Burr, and Bernice Fleming upheld the Aggies here. The debate was held in the home economics room. The team which went to Emporia and won a 2-1 decision was composed of Queenie Hart, Anna Best, and Margaret Collins. Dr. Mary T. Harman went to Emporia with the team and Miss Ada Rice presided at the debate here.

In a closely fought contest last night the Ames Cyclones defeated the Aggie basketball quintet 34-26.

AGGIES HAND PIKERS SHORT END OF 28-18

CAGERS CLIMB ANOTHER RUNG IN M. V. LADDER

WILLIAMS IS OUTSTANDING STAR

Accurate Free Throwing of Thompson Kept Pikers in Running—Aggies Get Lead in Early Minutes of Game

Coach Curtis' Wildcat cagers climbed up another rung on the valley-championship ladder by discursively presenting their guests from Washington university with the damaged end of a 28 to 18 score, Saturday evening. The dispute with the St. Louis delegation was hard fought and close enough to keep the enthusiastic balcony fans leaning precariously over the railing, and the first-floor spectators on the edge of their seats. For, while the Aggies took the lead away from the Pikers in the early minutes when Williams, Aggie forward, caged a long shot after Thompson had tossed a free throw, and maintained it until the close, Coach Applegram's five managed to keep within a disquieting proximity to the Aggie score during most of the battle.

Washington An Aggressive Crew

While there was little doubt as to the superiority of the Curtis quintet, the St. Louis team was a big, aggressive crew. Three of the five were football letter men. They possessed a world of fight and endurance, and played the game without a let-up until the final gun. They played a strong defensive game that resulted in most of the Aggie baskets counting from long range shots. "Freddy" Williams, right forward, was the Aggie high point man and the outstanding star of the contest, caging five field goals and four charity flings. The total Aggie score would have been much higher but for the fact that time after time, the elusive Wildcat forward's long range shots hesitated around the edge of the basket in a heart breaking manner—and then dropped outside the hoop. Webber, playing his first hitch at center for the Aggies, earned a right to a permanent berth at the pivot position, hooking three of his team's baskets. Captain "Brady" Cowell caged a ringer and he and Hahn, left guard, were the main cogs in the effective Aggie defense, repeatedly breaking up Washington's passing. Bryan, who replaced Foval, managed to toss a pair of field goals despite the close guarding of the Pikers.

Free Throws Help Pikers

The chief factor in keeping the Pikers in the running was the accurate free throwing of Thompson, who accumulated eight out of a possible 10 fouls assessed the Aggies. Just before the half was up, with the Wildcats leading 14 to 7, Loeffler, Piker guard, rolled one in from underneath the basket and repeated again immediately after the tip-off, making the score at the half 14 to 11. Score 14-13 at Beginning of Second

At the beginning of the second half Cristol, Washington center, hooked another field goal, crowding the Aggies 14 to 13, and the fans began to lose weight. But Bryan came back with a counter, and from then on the Aggie five kept well in front, Williams ringing two beautiful long shots and Bryan, Cowell, and Webber each caging a field goal. Thompson of Washington made good three free tosses, and just before the end of the struggle Thumser dropped one through the hoop for the Piker's second field goal of the last half, making it 28 to 18.

MRS. JARDINE SPEAKS AT Y. W. VESPERS THURSDAY

Watch the Words that You Use" Is Speaker's Message

"Watch the words that you use," said Mrs. Jardine, at Y. W. Vespers Thursday. "Are they kind, are they true, and are they necessary? The words that you use may be the means of ruining some one's reputation. Think each time before you speak." Mrs. Jardine showed that a great deal of harm may come from careless remarks and cutting criticisms, while by continual vigilance many unkind things are left unsaid.

This is the first time Mrs. Jardine has consented to speak to the girls. The meeting was in charge of the big sister committee, led by Marion Brookover. Mrs. A. M. Reed, led in devotion. Music was furnished by Geraldine Shane and Marguerite Brooks.

Vets Display Basketball Trophy

A basketball trophy given for the winning of the intramural championship of 1921 is on display in the main hall of the Veterinary building. The vets are the first to have won an intramural championship in the basketball tournament that was started last year. The ornament is the miniature of a basketball resting on three diagonal bats 14 inches high.

"THE STRIKE" IS CHAPEL SURPRISE

PURPLE MASQUE FRATERNITY PRESENTS ONE ACT PLAY

Strike of Actors Ends Melodramatic Scene of Play within a Play

A part of a vaudeville entertainment, stopped at a dramatic moment by the calling of an actors' strike, was the program offered by the Purple Masque, dramatic fraternity, in chapel Friday.

The audience arrived at the auditorium after the fancied first part of the program was finished. Clifford Jolly and "Jimmy" Albright were just taking their second encore after presenting a convict romance entitled "The Wallop."

The actors in the strike were: Vorin E. Whan, the jealous husband, Mrs. Brewster, who left his wife "Peggy," played by Rowena Thornburg, with her infatuated lover, Captain Russell, played by Kenneth L. Carter.

Captain Russell declared his love for "Peggy" and started to commit suicide when she told him that she did not return the affection. Whether "Peggy" Brewster really loved Captain Russell or declared her love to save him from suicide will always be a question in the minds of the audience.

It was a dramatic moment in the playlet that promised to be even more melodramatic than usual but the returned husband had only returned to the stage to announce the actors' strike.

F. L. Haggard as the theater manager gave the audience further information regarding the strike and promised them that admission would be refunded at the door.

WIN AND LOSE IN AMES DEBATE

TEAM VICTORIOUS AT HOME—DEFEAT AT IOWA UNANIMOUS

Question of Debate Was Universal Disarmament—Large Crowd Attended Contest Here

By a two to one decision the Aggie debate team defeated the team representing Iowa State college in the contest held in recreation center after the basketball game Saturday night. The team which went to Ames, however, was defeated unanimously.

The victorious team was composed of Austin Stover, Wayne McKibben, and Verne Stambaugh. Stover and McKibben had not taken part in an intercollegiate debate before, but both did splendid platform work. This was Stambaugh's second year in varsity debate.

A large crowd attended the debate which was the most interesting forensic contest ever held with Ames. The discussion was characterized by a wrangle over the issues or interpretation of the question of universal disarmament rather than a direct clash of argument.

The team which went to Ames was composed of Hubert Collins, Joe Thackery, and Ellis Kimble.

STOCK JUDGERS WIN AGAIN AT WESTERN

BAKERS WIND UP MEETING FRIDAY

CONVENTION ATTENDED BY 115—FITZ ON PROGRAM

Next Year's Gathering Will Be Held at Wichita, January 1923

The three days' conference of the Kansas Bakers' association, which was held at Manhattan, ended Friday. About 115 bakers, the majority of whom were from Kansas, attended the meeting.

Prof. L. A. Fitz, head of the milling department, took an active part in planning the convention. He also spoke to the representatives on "Flour Manufacture." Some of the other interesting addresses were: "The 1922 Loaf and What It Should Contain" by F. C. Stadelhofer; "What the Housewife Expects of the Baker" by Mrs. E. B. Keith of Manhattan; "New Plans of the American Bakers' Association" by Frank Rushton of Rosedale and "Bakery Advertising that Pays" by A. J. Cripe of Hutchinson.

Thirty-two of the bakers brought their prize loaf along and entered it in the bread judging contest. Cripes Perfection bread of Hutchinson took first and third honors and the Merit bread made by the Campbell Baking company of Kansas City carried away second place. Frank Rushton of Rosedale and Professor Fitz of K. S. A. C. were the judges.

The visiting bakers were entertained at a dinner at the community house Thursday evening. A dance followed the dinner.

The bakers decided at their last meeting to hold the next annual convention at Wichita in January, 1923.

At the faculty meeting yesterday afternoon the general plan of the examination schedule, as recommended by the faculty committee, was approved. Amendments may be made, either this semester or hereafter, if advisable. Teachers are to announce to their classes the time at which the class examinations will be given.

A. D. Weber, C. B. Roberts, J. J. Moxley, C. B. Quigley, and "Scotty" Stewart, Are Members of Team—Bell the Successful Coach

For the third time in succession the Kansas State Agricultural college has won the stock judging contest at the Western National Livestock show, at Denver. Because the college has won this event three times in succession, the team, which is composed of A. D. Weber, C. B. Roberts, J. J. Moxley, C. B. Quigley, and J. S. (Scotty) Stewart, has secured for the college permanent possession of the $500 Denver Stockyards cup. The Western National Livestock show is the second largest in the United States.

Stewart Third in Personal Points
J. S. Stewart ranked the highest of the Kansas boys and third compared with all the other contestants in personal points. Colorado State college took second place, the University of Nebraska third, and the State college of Wyoming, fourth.

A great deal of credit is due Prof. F. W. Bell who coached the winning team, for the splendid showing, at this show, the American Royal at Kansas City, and at the International Livestock show at Chicago.

Show Twenty Years Old
In contrast with most livestock shows, the Western National Livestock show exhibits only livestock, showing no grains. This show, which has a close connection with the Denver stockyards, has been in existence for about 20 years.

Our Weekly Character Hint

A famous English poet invariably carried a pocket full of potatoes wherever he went. Start from the ground up; be a huckster for a year or so before you launch upon your career.

Now that Christmas vacation is over, maybe some of us can get caught up on our neglected beauty naps.

There is no foolishness about that either. Some of these self-satisfied profs who speak so lightly of beauty naps fail to consider what a place they have in relieving the tedium of the class room.

We suggest a strike of all beauty nappers of K. S. A. C. for a period of one week.

With nothing to look at but formulas, stage, empty seats, unkempt, black-circled women, we believe a repentance would be forthcoming.

Even at that, dear reader, don't get the idea the coeds have a monopoly.

But to brighten things. Examinations will soon be upon us.

Too bad the new year's resolutions could not be made then.

WATSON TO MEET RAY AGAIN AT KANSAS CITY, MARCH 28

Will Run 1,500 Yard Race at M. V. Indoor Conference

Ray Watson, star Aggie long distance runner, is to meet Jole Ray, famous Chicago athlete, who defeated the Kansan less than 10 yards in a mile race at Pasadena last July 4. They will run 1,500 yards at the Missouri Valley indoor conference meet at Convention hall, Kansas City, March 28.

Watson had never been in a race with the long distance runner until last summer although it had been his ambition to meet Jole Ray ever since the two athletes had competed in the Olympic games in the summer of 1920.

Issue Home Study Calendar

A calendar featuring a picture of Lincoln studying by the fireside has been put out by the home study service department. Each sheet of the calendar contains an appropriate bit of information about the department. Copies have been sent to all of the high schools and county superintendents in the state. The K. S. A. C. printing department did the work on the calendar.

"WEAVERS WITH WORDS" MADE FOR NEWSPAPER MEN

Crawford Edits Work—E. T. Keith in Charge of Typographical Make-up

"Weavers with Words," a small booklet of verse and prose about newspapers and newspaper men was published by the journalism department during the holidays. The publication was edited by Prof. N. A. Crawford and the cover page was designed by E. T. Keith of the printing department.

Copies of the work were sent out to all the students in the department, graduates of the department, and faculty members, editors and publishers interested in the department.

Material for the booklet was selected from the works of Walt Mason, Eugene Field, Walter Williams, Ben Hecht, Warren G. Harding, Bristow Adams, and other men of note in the journalism world.

The success of the publication can best be stated by some of those who have read it.

T. W. Morse, director and livestock editor of the Capper Farm Press, writes: "I do not know when I have seen a volume, large or small, which was as nearly 100 per cent of interest and delight as this one."

E. T. Sliger of the Printing Art magazine says: "We shall undoubtedly give the booklet some mention in the Printing Art, and in that case you may depend upon it that it will be appreciative."

Donald and Murphy of the editorial department of the Wallace publishing company stated: "Your little booklet has arrived, and shows itself to be a piece of work attractive enough to justify pride on the part of both editor and printer."

Prof. Walter Burr of K. S. A. C. writes, "I picked up 'Weavers with Words' and just finished an hour of most delightful communication with the spirits of the old print shop."

"It is indeed a distinctive New Year's greeting to receive such a volume. And I am sure this will add to the growing impression that you of K. S. A. C. are doing unusual things," says W. G. Clugston of the Kansas City Post.

TRACK WORK IS BEGINNING TO LIVEN UP

INTERCLASS MEET OPENS
SCHEDULE FEBRUARY 4

G. OF E. COMING FEBRUARY 18

Aggies Will Enter K. C. A. C. Meet at Kansas City February 25 and Illinois Relay at Champaign March 4

Kansas Aggie track work, begun before the close of the football season under the direction of Ray Watson, has entered upon a more active stage since Head Coach Charles Bachman has taken over the active direction of the work.

The indoor track schedule for 1922 will open February 4 with an interclass meet in which it is hoped by the Aggie mentors that some new material will be uncovered. A feature of the meet will be a race between Ted Curtiss, assistant coach, and Ray Watson. The distance will be 660 yards, a good compromise between Curtiss, who is a quarter miler, and Watson, who is at his best in the longer races. While a student at the University of Chicago, Curtiss made the quarter mile in 49 1-5 seconds.

The annual Purple and White meet, a strictly collegiate athletic tournament, is slated for February 11. The College of Emporia will come to Manhattan for the dual meet, February 18. The following Saturday, February 25, is the date of the K. C. A. C. meet at Kansas City. Several Aggie track men will be entered in the Illinois relays at Champaign, Ill., March 4. The crowning event of the indoor season will be the valley indoor conference meet at Convention Hall, Kansas City, March 28.

Coach Bachman is working with six K men.—Charles G. Kuykendall, Twin Falls, Ida.; M. R. Henre, Sterling; W. J. Clapp, Logan; Emil Von Riesen, Marysville; E. H. Riley, Manhattan; and W. J. Mathias, Perry.

In addition to Kuykendall and Henre, there are two sophomores working out for the two mile. They are E. H. Bradley, Winfield, and J. C. Post, Manhattan.

Mathias, Clapp and Von Riesen will be pushed to hold down their places as milers by two promising yearlings of the 1920 season, Joe Price, Valley Falls, and E. J. Chapman, Leavenworth. Price and Von Riesen are the most promising half milers on the squad.

The quarter milers, in addition to Riley, are four second year men, R. J. Shaw, Medicine Lodge; F. N. Erwin, Pratt; Richard Hopper, Manhattan; and Maurelle Dobson, Winfield.

Only brand new varsity material is working out for sprints, the most promising being Erwin, Hopper, and Dobson. To date the hurdlers who are showing most promise are Riley, Shaw, Hopper, and Dobson.

Not a single K man is working out for any of the field events. Dobson is looking up as a pole vaulter, and also may develop into an exceedingly good high jumper. The other two candidates for the pole vault are H. J. Counsell, Garden City, and T. A. Constable, Minneapolis. Constable is also out for the high jump, and Jennings is a third candidate.

Four sophomores, two of whom played fullback, and two line men, on this year's Aggie football team, are putting the shot. They are A. M. Butcher, Solomon; R. M. Nichols, Osage City; V. A. Clements, Hainesville, and Joe Quinn, Manhattan.

POPULARITY BALL TO BE IN GYM

VAN ZILE, KING, AND AHEARN WILL COUNT VOTES

Dance Tickets Give Five Votes If Turned in by 9:30 January 20

The Razzin Jazzin Syncopated seven piece orchestra, will furnish the music for the popularity ball to be held in Nichols gymnasium Friday evening, January 20, from 9 to 12 o'clock, according to E. H. Coles, business manager of the 1922 Royal Purple. Other plans are being completed for the annual affair.

Professors Hugh Durham and R. C. Smith will be official chaperones. The management is planning to make this the biggest and best popularity ball ever staged. The announcement of the popular girls will be worked out in a unique manner.

The tickets for the ball will go on sale early next week. The price will be $1.10 including war tax and each ticket from advance sales will carry with it a vote of five for the popular girl. No tickets will be sold at the door but tickets properly marked that are presented at the door before 9:30 will count their voting power in the contest. Tickets presented after 9:30 cannot be counted.

The ball is being held in the gymnasium this year as it is the only hall in town that will appropriately accommodate the large number that always attend the popularity ball. There will be checking room to care for wraps.

Voting will be done in Anderson hall at the Royal Purple office and the votes will be counted by Mrs. Mary Pierce Van Zile, dean of women, Dr. H. H. King, head of the department of chemistry, and M. F. Ahearn, head of the department of physical education.

Receipt for full price of Royal Purple is good for 50 votes, $2 is good for 20 votes. Books are on sale at office and by salesmen.

CENTER AND ST. GEORGE

Sixteen Games Are on Schedule—
Play Ten on Home—Court

The school of agriculture basketball team opened the season by defeating the Clay Center high school team with a score of 16 to 15 Thursday. The Clay Center team led in the first half, which ended 11 to 5. However, in the second half the school of agriculture came back strong and played a wonderful defensive game; they hit their offensive stride, tossing five goals from the field and nosing out their opponents by one point.

They won their second victory Saturday afternoon when they played the St. George high school defeating them by a score of 32 to 14.

The school of agriculture has a schedule of 16 games, 10 of which will be played at home. If they continue to play the brand of basketball exhibited in their first two games, they are expected to be dangerous opponents for the Kansas high schools in this part of the state.

The line-up for the two games was: J. E. Brooks, captain, and R. M. Karns, forwards; C. L. Sprout and E. R. Honeywell, centers; G. E. Stutz, H. P. Quinn, and Earl Bogue, guards.

'BIG 10' SCHOOL TRYING TO GET AGGIE COACH

NORTHWESTERN TO MAKE BACHMAN OFFER—PRESS REPORT

WANT NOTRE DAME FOOTBALL

K. S. A. C. Mentor Came Here from Northwestern—Record Has Attracted Comment Throughout Middle West

A gloom bomb was exploded in Aggie athletic circles upon the receipt of a press association wire report yesterday, stating that Head Coach Charles W. Bachman of the Kansas Aggies would be made a tempting offer to accept a position as head coach at Northwestern university.

Coach Bachman said that no official offer had been made to him by Northwestern athletic authorities, but that he had been approached in regard to the matter while in Chicago recently.

Wildcat Record Brings Coach Notice

The wonderful work of Coach Bachman, who took over the coaching of Aggie football at a time when the Wildcats had failed to win a single conference game the year previous, and in two seasons builded an eleven that finished second in the valley race, has attracted attention throughout the middle western football circles.

The Illinois school is determined to secure as coach an exponent of the successful Notre Dame style of football, and tried unsuccessfully to get Knute Rockne, head mentor of the Indiana school. Northwestern has been finishing in the 'also ran' position in the Big Ten conference race for several years, and the brilliant K. S. A. C. record of Bachman, who before coming here served as head coach at Northwestern, has doubtless convinced the authorities of the eastern institution that the Aggie "miracle mentor" would be able to put them back on the football map.

Aggies Hope To Retain Mentor

However, Aggie followers are clinging to the hope that the Wildcat mentor will not be satisfied to leave K. S. A. C., at least until he has produced a valley championship football eleven, for which the prospects next year are exceedingly rosy.

MISS GLANTON REPORTS MORE IN COMMERCIAL EDUCATION

Retail Selling Offers Most Opportunities to Young People

Miss Louise P. Glanton, who has returned from the meeting of the National Society for Vocational Education, held recently in Kansas City, reports a very interesting program in commercial education. She says that people from all over the United States, who have been teaching retailing in high schools, attended the convention and announced large and enthusiastic classes in the course.

Reports from the largest schools teaching retailing were from Indianapolis, St. Louis, Birmingham, and Los Angeles. The head of the work at Indianapolis is a young woman who received the first degree of master of science in retail selling, ever conferred by any university. Miss Bacon, a representative from the Federal Board of Vocational Education in her talk stated that retailing offers more new opportunities for young men and women than any other profession. Last year there was a good registration in this course at K. S. A. C.

GET DESIGN PLATES DIRECT FROM PARIS FOR NEW CLASS

Give Latest Styles, in Hand Painted Pictures

Miss Mary Schell of the department of clothing and textiles has recently received direct from Paris a set of costume design plates showing new winter costumes. The designs were obtained in Paris by her father and are entitled "Toujours Chic." There are 80 of these pictures beautifully hand-painted in colors, displaying styles for street, evening, and afternoon dresses as well as for cloaks. These plates, along with other colored prints of historical and theatrical designs will be used in the new course in advanced costume design, which is to be offered next semester. Miss Schell is most enthusiastic over the plates and is eager to begin the new work.

Two or three young women students here are planning to design costumes and to make the dresses for people in the city, probably using these new designs as a basis for their work. Miss Garnet Grover will be glad to talk this over with any one interested in having one of these costumes made.

PLAN A RECORD STUDENT CHORUS

PRATT WANTS 300 STUDENTS IN CHORUS NEXT SEMESTER

Present Chorus Has 200 Members—Rehearsals Will Begin Early

A student chorus of at least 300 members is the goal set by Prof. Ira Pratt for the second semester. He plans to have an unusually large and well drilled chorus ready for Festival week.

In announcing the tryouts for this chorus, Professor Pratt urges every student who can carry a tune to come out and try for a place. He wants as many as possible to come out at once in order that he may find out where they belong and give them a place in the chorus.

Rehearsals will begin early as Professor Pratt is anxious to have the chorus in the best of shape for Festival week. With a larger student chorus than ever before, along with the other attractions, he is anticipating one of the biggest and most successful weeks in the history of the school.

As the present chorus contains less than 200 members, Professor Pratt is anxious that everyone and anyone sign up and try out. If the number is raised to 300 it will make the largest student chorus in the history of the college. Combined with the Manhattan choral union the chorus would have over 400 members.

FINAL ARTISTS NUMBER MONDAY

WALTER GREENE AND FRANCES NASH APPEAR IN CONCERT

Both, Although Young, Have International Reputations—Are from Middle West

Aggie students will have the opportunity next Monday evening of hearing two unusual artists—unusual because they are truly American and the products of purely American training.

Frances Nash and Walter Greene who will present the third and last number of the Artists Series in the auditorium Monday evening are perhaps the leading examples of American training on the stage today. However, they have not confined their successes to this country and both have an international reputation. Miss Nash especially has traveled extensively and has given concerts in all parts of the world.

Another interesting thing about these artists is that both were born in the middle west and received much of their early training in this section of the country. Mr. Greene studied in St. Louis for some time, and when he went to New York he achieved immediate success. He is still a young man and has the best part of his career ahead of him.

Miss Nash, too, is young, and has achieved phenomenal success. She is almost as well known in Europe as she is in this country and is recognized in all countries as one of America's foremost pianists.

Orchard schools were conducted last month by the extension division in Wichita, Belle Plaine, Argonia, and Oxford. Professors Albert Dickens, L. C. Williams, and E. A. Stokdyk attended the meetings.

Hungry Frosh Gets Excited at Pushes of Aggie Journalist

The hungry frosh gave the busy Collegian reporter a hard look as he crowded through the cafeteria door, pushing the lean-looking freshman unceremoniously out of his way.

"How does he get that way? What does he think this is? I'm as hungry as he is, ain't I? I got as much rights as he has, ain't I? These blankety-blank upperclassmen make me weary." The much ruffled freshman man stamped his foot and stormed.

The reporter took two steps at a bound as he rushed to get his "copy" in on time, and muttered as he went.

"These poor ignorant studs give me a pain. They think that Kedge hall is made for the sole purpose of feeding them and their hungry brothers. They don't let it soak through their ivory domes that the sign out in front reads 'Cafeteria—Journalism and Printing.' They think we're trying to beat 'em to the soup and gravy, when all the time we're just delivering our goods on time. Well, if the poor boob can't use some sense, it isn't my funeral. My conscience is clear, so let 'em rave."

And the frosh lived on in blissful ignorance of the good will of the upperclassman.

OVER THOUSAND SEE ART WORKS

MORE PEOPLE SEE EXHIBIT THAN EVER BEFORE

Includes More Conservative Productions of Modern Artists

The art exhibit given in the art department rooms in Anderson hall, January 5 to 14, was attended by more people than any ever given by the art department of the college, thus proving the growing appreciation of the public for art.

During the ten days of the exhibit there were a thousand guests besides the two hundred and fifty students a part of whose class work it was to attend it. There was a constant attendance of interested people and some instructor was always present to discuss and explain the exhibit. An average of about 90 people attended the exhibit each of the 10 days it was here.

The educational purpose for the students studying line, form and color, and the general appreciation and cultural value to the public were the objects in bringing the exhibit to Manhattan. As a whole the exhibit represented the more conservative line of art work. However there were three impressionistic works, by Childe Hassam, Howard L. Hildebrandt, and Frederick Carl Frieseke. The latest and most interesting one was "Meticulous" by George W. Bellows.

"The art exhibit was very, very interesting, representing some of the best living artists of the modern as well as the academic schools," says Walter L. Dehner of the architectural department, who studied in the Catskill mountains in Woodstock, N. Y., which is a summer colony of a great number of artists, several of whom were represented in the exhibit, including Bentley, Bellows, Carlson Harrison, Henri, and Kroll.

A second exhibition of painting and prints of such work much more modern than this last exhibition, such as Sanzen, Norfeldt, and Poore, will be given February 20.

Railroads Cooperate With College

Kansas railroads through the Western Passenger association are cooperating in offering a reduced rate of one and one half fare to Farm and Home week visitors from all points in Kansas, also from Kansas City, St. Joseph, and Joplin, Mo.

Sell Senior Invitations Soon

Senior commencement invitations will be put on sale soon. The price will be reduced 20 cents from that of last year, making the leather ones 50 cents each, or 40 cents if bought in dozen lots. The invitations without the leather cover will be 35 cents.

Miss Margaret Ansdell and Miss Francis Batdorf visited Miss Lucile Gramme of Perry, last week end.

C. R. SMITH TO EDIT COLLEGIAN NEXT SEMESTER

HAS HAD MUCH EXPERIENCE ON COLLEGE PAPER

STAFF IS NOT YET ANNOUNCED

Change in Term of Editor Made Last Spring—Business Manager Serves Throughout Entire Year

At the meeting of the Kansas State Collegian board Wednesday afternoon, C. R. Smith, junior in industrial journalism, was elected editor of the Collegian for the second semester.

Smith Well Fitted for the Work

Mr. Smith has had a great deal of experience in Collegian work, having served as reporter, exchange editor, assistant editor, and associate editor on the paper. Besides his work in journalism he is active in a number of student organizations. He is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, and is a member of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet. He is in charge of the work of the freshman commission.

The new editor will begin his work with the first edition of the Collegian to be issued during the new semester. This issue will, in all probability, appear on Wednesday. The other members of the staff, who are chosen by the editor, with the approval of the Collegian board, have not yet been announced.

Policy Changed Last Spring

The policy of the Collegian board in choosing the editor of the Collegian was changed last spring when it was decided to elect the editor for only one semester instead of the entire year as before. The members of the board thought that in this way a greater number of students would have the opportunity of running the college paper. The business manager, however, is elected for the entire year. The present business manager, Victor R. Blackledge, continues in his present position for the spring semester.

EMPORIANS COME HERE WEDNESDAY

BASKET SHOOTERS MEET OKLAHOMA AT NORMAN TONIGHT

General Admission of 50 Cents Will Be Charged for Normal Game

Aggie court fans will have an opportunity to compare the Missouri valley conference brand of basketball with the Kansas conference product, when the Wildcat five meets the Kansas State normal at K. S. A. C. next Wednesday night, January 25.

The contest with the Teachers has been scheduled by the athletic department to provide Aggie basketball followers with a snappy court exhibition to break the three weeks' wait until the next valley battle on the home court on February 8 with K. U. Many sport followers have contended that the caliber of basketball played by the faster Kansas conference teams is on a par with that found among the Missouri valley schools, and this will be a good chance to see a representative quintet of the smaller league in action.

The Emporians had a fast team last season that finished close to the top in the state conference race, and Coach Schabinger has a veteran five again this year that is hoped to rate among the headliners. Reserved seat tickets to the regular games will be honored at Wednesday night's contest, but due to the fact that the price of the season tickets for the eight valley games was fixed at the lowest possible margin, a general admission of 50 cents will be charged.

Coach Curtiss and his squad of basket shooters left Thursday evening for Norman, Okla., where they meet the Oklahoma university cagers tonight. The dope on the southerners thus far gives the Aggies about an even chance of winning over the Sooners. Both teams walloped Grinnell and both in turn were nosed out by Ames. But the Oklahomans will have the moral advantage of fighting on their home court, and this, with the veteran personell of the southern five, combines to make the Sooner team a dangerous opponent. Williams, Aggie basket shooting star, who counted 20 of his team's 26 points in the Ames battle, will have a competitor in artistic goal tossing in Waite of Oklahoma. The big Sooner center was second high score man in the valley conference last year.

On their return trip the Aggie five will stop off at Stillwater for a game with the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college team.

New Courses in Zoology

Of the changes recently made in the zoology curriculum, two involve courses to be offered next semester. Ornithology, a two hour course on birds, affording one field trip for laboratory period and one lecture per week will be in charge of Dr. Mary T. Harman.

A new course, parasites and public health, with three lectures a week will be offered graduates and undergraduates by Dr. J. E. Ackert.

VOTE TODAY ON POPULAR COED

RESULT WILL BE ANNOUNCED AT BALL TONIGHT

Plan of Introduction Being Kept Secret—Number of Ball Tickets Limited

Who is the most popular Aggie girl?

Everybody is wondering who is to be introduced at the Popularity ball tonight. All day there has been a mad rush to and from the voting place in Anderson hall, and it is believed that every owner of a Royal Purple will have voted before the office closes tonight. There has also been a scramble among organizations in the sale of tickets for the ball. A limited number of tickets have been printed, so those wanting to attend must secure their tickets early. A seven piece orchestra consisting of piano, saxophone, trombone, cornet, violin, banjo, and traps will furnish music for the dance.

The plan of introducing the popular girls is being kept secret, but C. W. Howard, editor of the Royal Purple, promises that the manner of introduction will be different, something both novel and original.

Tickets will be counted tonight by H. H. King, M. F. Ahearn, and Dean Mary Van Zile. The dance will begin at 9 o'clock.

A five pound box of Schrafft's chocolates is to be given to the most popular girl by the College Canteen.

SHEEP WIN 31 WESTERN PRIZES

PATERSON TO SHOW FLOCK AT WICHITA EXPOSITION

Denver Awards Are 15 Firsts, Six Seconds, Three Thirds, and Seven Championships

Thirty-one prizes were won by the flock of sheep which Prof. A. M. Paterson took to the National Western Livestock show in Denver in session from Saturday, January 14 to Saturday, January 21. Fifteen first prizes were won, six seconds, three thirds, and seven championships.

Besides the above 31 prizes Professor Paterson won, the grand champion wether sold for $1 a pound. Others also sold at high prices to packers.

From Denver Professor Paterson went to Wichita where he will show his flock of sheep at the Kansas National Livestock exposition.

Prof. Otis Wade has recently been appointed to succeed P. L. DePuy as specialist in rodent control. Mr. Wade comes from Oklahoma where he has been engaged in U. S. biological survey work.

HARBORD HERE IN FEBRUARY ON BRIEF VISIT

WILL VISIT HIS MOTHER, MRS. EFFIE HARBORD

TO HELP DEDICATE FLAG POLE

Is One of Most Distinguished Aggie Grads—Had Command of American Forces at Chateau Thierry

Major General James G. Harbord of the United States army, a graduate of K. S. A. C., who had charge of the American forces at Chateau Thierry and later reorganized the Service of Supplies for the American Expeditionary Forces will give the dedicatory address at the erection of the flag pole in the quadrangle south of the library. The flagpole is a memorial given to the college from the graduating class of 1921, is to be 100 feet high and will float old glory high above any of the buildings on the campus.

General Harbord was graduated from the college in 1886, after a brilliant scholastic record. For a short time after graduation he was assistant in telegraphy in the college. He tried for a West Point vacancy in his district, but was defeated. He thereupon enlisted in the army as a private, and after passing through all the non-commissioned grades was commissioned as second lieutenant. He served in Cuba, in the Philippines, along the Mexican border, and elsewhere.

At Chateau Thierry

General Harbord's rise in army circles during the war was rapid and spectacular, establishing a record for great achievement. He went into action at Chateau-Thierry in June, 1918, in command of the marine brigade, and directed the counter attacks by which the German thrust toward Paris on the Rheims-Paris highway was stopped. Later he was promoted to command of the Second division and successfully led it in the counter offensive which broke the German line on July 18.

General Harbord became General Pershing's chief of staff. He was chosen by General Pershing to reorganize and expand the service of supplies, which the A. E. F. at the front had outgrown. Before the close of the war the S. O. S. had become known as a marvel of excellence in the greatness and smoothness of its work in supplying the army.

Has Many Decorations

Following the armistice, the wheels were reversed in order to hurry the army back home. This was completed more rapidly and more satisfactorily than the most optimistic general staff officers had believed it could be done. In one month General Harbord transported more than 350,000 men home, establishing the world's record in troop movement, even surpassing the largest number which the British had been able to take across the Channel in one month.

General Harbord was awarded the United States Distinguished Service Medal by General Order 136 in 1918, which refers to "his great constructive ability and professional attainments," which "played an important part in the success obtained by our armies."

He holds also nine decorations from foreign governments.

General Harbord will be in Manhattan visiting his mother, Mrs. Effie Harbord, February 1, 2, and 3, and while here will undoubtedly spend much time in looking over his alma mater and renewing old acquaintances.

To Speak in Chapel

He has also been asked to address the student body in chapel February 2. Though he has visited here since his graduation he has never spoken before a student assembly and an audience that will fill the auditorium is expected to hear his address on February 2.

T. J. Talbert and Karl Knaus of the extension division, attended the Kansas agricultural conference at Topeka last week.

BEHIND THEIR BACKS

She is the girl who buys the five cent ruled tablet with the picture of Tom Mix on the front, and uses the paper for everything from letters to term papers.

She has just reached that point of robustness where, if she gains another pound, she will be unmistakably fat. Her hair, or whosever hair she happens to be wearing, apparently depends, for being held in place, upon one hair pin. For the most part its faith is betrayed, and the greater share of her crowning glory falls in long strands over her ears and face, and probably into her soup and oatmeal.

Aside from her tablet, her laugh is probably her most distinguishing characteristic. No, she does not laugh—she merely pantomimes—a sound rarely escapes her. Is she amused? No. She only thinks she is. The only time in her life that she ever laughed because she thought a thing was funny was when her father fell down stairs one night and broke a rib. She knew nothing of the incident until the next morning, and then she laughed until the tears came. But she has been reading Laura Jean Libby, and thinks she is biased. She simpers and giggles constantly at the unsophisticated puppets about her, who go their own infinitesimal ways day in and day out; never realizing what they are missing by not cultivating her acquaintance.

Hawklake she pounces on every movie review she can find. Oh, the anticipation that is hers when she sees one booked for Manhattan that at least 10 preachers, three reformers, six school teachers, three lawyers, and four plumbers have condemned.

When the much heralded evil reaches town she takes some girl along whom she can nudge. She giggles all the way to the theater from pure enjoyment of her Bohemian, unconventional self. The picture is usually one disappointment after another. When, after the entertainment is over, and absolutely the only thing she could do any nudging about was a pair of rompers fluttering in the wind, she tears home in a rage, and for about two hours the next day she forgets to giggle. Soon, however, the humor of her association with other individuals strikes her, and her perpetual amusement begins again, her shoulders undulating like drunken waves.

She is not a kicker—she is not a complainer. She has not enough energy to do either. Strangely enough she avoids admitting that she is disinterested in the school's activities, so she attempts to hide behind a screen of cynicism. She is worse than disinterested, she is ignorant.

She has no time to study—she is too busy reading Laura Jean Libby and the movie reviews. Consequently she will sooner or later be notified of the college's desirability of her absence. With a supercilious titter she will board the train for home.

In six months some man who thinks in terms of hogs and fried eggs will marry her for the heavy work she can do around the house.

College Club Elects Officers

The College club held its annual election of officers at a meeting last Wednesday evening. H. T. Hill was elected president; J. Rubenstyn, first vice president; W. P. Balch, second vice president; and T. L. Ibsen, secretary and treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Holcombe and Mr. James Albright were dinner guests at the Alpha Delta Pi house Sunday.

Miss Mildred Wright spent the week end at a house party at the home of Florence Blagham in Junction City.

You Get Them All
Little Brown Ones or Dad's Allowance

Even if they are busy cramming for the big examinations they still have time to write letters.

The college post office handles as much mail daily as the average town of five thousand. Every day Johnny has to write Betty a note and tell her that he did think of her. On Friday and Saturday comes the big rush. Then she lets him know for sure whether they will let her go to the dance and all about the time, and—well you all know all about it, you have done the same thing.

There are letters from home, that you are always glad to get; and letters from the deans that you are not so glad to get. When you see them in your boxes you almost wish that you had had your mail sent to the house, but what's the use they would all know sooner or later anyway, so why not now? Once in a while you even find a package waiting for you to take home. Even the old stand-by, the spring style book has a place in the box.

Once in a while someone sends a package home, but these are usually boxes containing a pair of trousers that you snagged on that fence that you didn't quite make, or a middy that some one was kind enough to pour HCl all over. Since you have to have clean things once in a while you have to send your washing home so there goes 12 cents of your stamp money.

Often a special delivery is sent to Dad, asking the age old and time worn question, "When does my next check come?"

With all the mail they have to handle, from packages to tiny notes, don't you think that our distributors have a job to get your mail to you in such a short time?

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Peine were dinner guests, Wednesday, January 18, at the Delta Delta Delta house.

STUDENTS TEACH PRACTICAL COURSES IN ENGINEERING

Exchange Theoretical and Practical Ideas with Workers

Practical courses in mechanical drawing, electricity, and steam and gas engineering are being given to the laboring men of Manhattan. The classes are taught by college students, with engineering faculty members as advisers.

The work is in charge of a committee of which J. J. Seright is chairman and R. G. Kioffler is faculty adviser. The course in practical electricity is taught by J. F. Beyer, the work in mechanical drawing is given by R. H. Crimmin, and the class in steam and gas engineering is in charge of Addison C. Depuy.

Most of the laborers are from the Rocky Ford plant, Manhattan Light and Gas Plant, United Telephone company, and Manhattan Sheet and Metal works. The classes meet on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday evenings in the engineering building.

The students give the working men theoretical instruction, and in return receive a great deal of practical information from the men who have been engaged in practical work.

STATE WILL BUY ITS FLOUR ON A NEW BASIS HEREAFTER

College Will Test Composition of Samples of Various Kinds

James A. Kimball, state purchasing agent, has sent several samples of flour to the department of milling industry to have them tested and reports made of their composition. These samples were submitted to Mr. Kimball by different firms that wanted to secure the contract to supply the flour for all the state institutions. The reports from the tests will be the basis of awarding the contract.

This is the first time state contracts have been let in this way, the old custom being to buy a certain grade and depend on the manufacturer to deliver just what was ordered. As the flour bought under the new system will have certain specifications, tests can be made at frequent intervals and in this way Mr. Kimball can make sure that the state is getting what it orders.

Cattle Club to Meet Here

An important feature during Farm and Home week will be the meeting of the Southwest Cattle club at Manhattan, February 8-9. This club which is composed of breeders in Kansas, Oklahoma, and Missouri has its headquarters at Kansas City. Heretofore the club has held its meetings at Kansas City but this year the members decided to accept the invitation of K. S. A. C. and meet here.

F. M. Wadley, a graduate of K. S. A. C., has returned to take graduate work for six or eight weeks. Mr. Wadley is regularly employed in the United States entomology laboratory at Wichita.

LA SOCIEDAD HISPANICA IS THRIVING ORGANIZATION

Society May Produce Play—Conduct Sessions in Spanish

With each meeting the enthusiasm of its members for La Sociedad Hispanica, the recently formed Spanish society, grows. Besides those in the regular advanced Spanish class, the society has a number of other members, one of whom is Julian Herrera from Mexico, freshman in agriculture.

Every attempt is being made to make Spanish of practical value to its students. The society intends to obtain subscriptions to a number of Spanish newspapers and periodicals, and probably a play will be produced for the benefit of the Spanish classes. Naturally the sessions of the society are conducted only in the language that is being studied. The programs, in charge of Frank Howard, provide a great amount of entertainment as well as instruction.

La Sociedad Hispanica meets every Tuesday evening from 7 to 8 o'clock in N53.

Aggie Cow Makes New Record

A new record has been established in dairy cows at K. S. A. C. Carlotta Empress Fobes, a mature Holstein-Friesian cow has completed a yearly record, producing 27,400 pounds of milk containing 803 pounds of butter fat. This is equivalent to 1,003 pounds of butter. This is the first time that any cow in the college herd has produced more than 1,000 pounds of butter. It is also the highest record in milk production at the college and third highest in the state.

The latest enrolled student in K. S. A. C. is John Horgan, son of Dan Horgan of Bantry county, Cork, Ireland. Mr. Horgan is enrolled in the farmers' short course.

GIVE COURSE IN AERODYNAMICS

NEW SUBJECT IS OFFERED IN MECHANICAL ENGINEERING

Similar Courses Are Given in Many Colleges of the United States

A course in aerodynamics has been introduced in the curriculum of mechanical engineering. Many urgent requests from various sources to offer a course in aeronautics at the college seemed to indicate that some phases of the subject should be included in the engineering curriculum.

In order to see what other institutions were doing in the matter, inquiries were sent out to some 20 institutions of collegiate rank known to be giving some work in aeronautics. These brought out some interesting information. Only two of the institutions give a post-graduate course in aeronautics leading to the degree of master of science, and both require a degree of bachelor of science in mechanical engineering as a prerequisite. Only one institution gives an undergraduate degree leading to the degree of bachelor of science in aeronautical engineering. The remaining institutions give optional aeronautical subjects in the mechanical engineering course, varying from two to three semester credits.

The course in aerodynamics, as introduced into the mechanical engineering course at K. S. A. C., is given in the second semester of the senior year and is a three credit subject, with two hours of recitation and three hours of practice. The course is made optional with that of heating, ventilation, and refrigeration and will deal chiefly with the theory of wind stresses.

The laboratory work is intended to supplement the theory covered in the class room. Laboratory equipment has been installed in the third floor gallery of the steam and gas engineering laboratory.

The equipment already purchased consists of a Spad, type XIII, aeroplane motor, and one Hall-Scott motor. A small wind tunnel is now part of the equipment. This eventually will be superseded by one of larger capacity and higher wind velocities. The airplane and the rotary motors will be used chiefly as models. The airplane will be studied as to its rigging and general construction, and was selected because of its being most nearly representative of modern practice machines. The Hall-Scott motor will be available for test work.

Aeronautics is so comparatively new a subject that it will take time to build up a course that is in every way satisfactory, members of the engineering division believe. The college is fortunate in having among the engineering students several who have had extensive experience in aviation. With their help and cooperation, it is believed the course should prove of great practical value.

PUT HOME STUDY CENTERS IN FIVE KANSAS TOWNS

Total Enrollment Is 112—Give Two Hour Lessons Weekly

The home study department of the Kansas State Agricultural college has organized extension study centers in five towns in northeastern Kansas, Alma, Wamego, Concordia, Clay Center, and Kansas City. A member of the college faculty gives one two hour lesson a week in each of the centers. Fifty-four are enrolled in one class in Kansas City. The total enrollment is 112.

Prof. V. L. Strickland is giving a course in sociology, and Prof. H. W. Davis a course in business English in Kansas City. In Clay Center Prof. L. H. Limper is giving a course in French. Prof. C. W. Matthews is conducting a course in rhetoric at Wamego and Prof. P. P. Bradford has a psychology course in Concordia. Prof. J. C. Peterson is conducting a series of mental tests at Alma.

HOLD R. O. T. C. SUMMER CAMPS AGAIN THIS YEAR

Government Designates Frisco, Minneapolis and Camp Carlisle Sites

The military department announces that it will hold summer camps again this year about July 15. The engineers are to go to San Francisco, the infantry to Fort Snelling at Minneapolis, Minn., and the veterinary students to Camp Carlisle, Pa.

The freshmen engineers will have an opportunity to attend the coast artillery camp at San Francisco. It is probable, however, that all who may desire to go can not be accommodated because of the fact that the upperclassmen will be given preference since they have more of the coast artillery work. Any number who desire to go to Camp Snelling can be taken care of.

Dale Teaching in Porto Rico
E. E. Dale, a former instructor in botany at K. S. A. C., is now an instructor in the University of Porto Rico at Rio Piedras. Mr. Dale who received his master's degree at K. S. A. C. in 1920, went from here to Ann Arbor, Mich., where he spent a year in the University of Michigan working on his doctor's degree.

Lights Entrance to Anderson
A movement started some time ago to put lights at the entrance to all of the college buildings has finally resulted in a means of illumination for the east entrance to Anderson hall. The east entrance was chosen because it is more in need of light than the south entrance which is illuminated by the light in front of Kedzie hall.

Library Gets New Books
The library has recently purchased some books for the zoology department. One of the books is a highly prized work published in 1819, on parasitology. The book is entitled "Living Worms in Living Men" and is by Dr. Johan Gottfried Bremser. While the volume contains many facts, it deals extensively with the superstitions current at the time of the book's publication.

E. E. Bezz, '21, who is with the Westinghouse Electric company at Pittsburgh, writes that James Hagan of the class of '16, has been sent by the Westinghouse company to the island of Java. ## SECOND BAND IS GOOD TRAINING

MEMBERS GRADUATE WHEN PROFICIENT IN MUSIC

William Illingworth, Manhattan Band Director in Charge—Knows Military Bands

That the high degree of excellence reached by the Aggie band will be maintained in years to come, is assured by the unusual interest shown in the second band this year. The second band serves as a preparatory school, and when its members become sufficiently proficient in music, they are graduated into the first band.

There are 21 men in the second band. Fifteen of this number take the work for military credit. The others are volunteers, and come for the musical instruction. Considering the fact that many of the men are beginners their progress has been remarkable. Mr. William Illingworth, who is also director of the Manhattan band is in charge of the second band. Mr. Illingworth is well fitted for this work, having had wide experience as a director, teacher, and bandman. He has been in the army for a number of years, and so can give first hand information regarding military bands.

"If we don't learn another thing this year," Mr. Illingworth stated, "we want to gain a thorough mastery of scales. That is one thing that Professor Wheeler insists upon before anyone is admitted into the first band. But we will learn to play some concert numbers as well." The work covered so far has been mostly marches and popular music to be used at the football and basketball games and pep meetings.

The second band has been equipped with the new uniforms and although the members are not allowed to play in the concerts given by the first band, they play at the games and at chapel, and have been a great help in adding pep to these occasions.

The work next semester will be a little more advanced. Some concert pieces will be studied and if it is possible a concert will be given before the end of the year.

The members of the band are as follows: Roy Balner, W. W. Carlson, G. K. Chew, William Dalton, A. B. Edwards, A. C. Goering, H. A. Goering, W. D. Hemker, L. A. Lyman, A. E. Melk, W. H. Messinger, R. P. Moyer, C. B. Wisecup, C. S. Schenk, D. B. Rising, L. L. Dunagan, C. M. Hemson, P. R. Wise, H. D. Hockman, C. L. Roesser, and A. H. Ford.

Episcopalians Honor Brower
Lieutenant G. W. Brower of the military department, was elected director of the church school of the Episcopal church at a recent business meeting. He was also elected as a delegate to the Diocesan convention held at Topeka in February. At the same meeting Prof. Malcolm Sewell was elected vestryman and Prof. R. W. Conover of the English department was made senior warden and appointed as a delegate to the Diocesan convention.

Announcing The New MODEL "F"

Cletrac

$845 TANK-TYPE TRACTOR COMPLETE FOB Cleveland

Cletrac F pulls any standard 2-bottom 12-inch plow under ordinary soil conditions at rate of 3 miles per hour

Cletrac Two-Row Cultivator cultivates corn, cotton or other row crops, 10 to 20 acres a day. Price, $135 f.o.b. Cleveland

CLETRAC F is the tractor that farmers everywhere have been waiting for since the beginning of the tractor industry. It handles all farm jobs including cultivating of corn, cotton and other row crops. Plows 6 to 8 acres a day, discs or harrows 20 to 25 and cultivates 10 to 20. Unlike every other tractor, in cultivating with the Cletrac Two-Row Cultivator, Cletrac F travels between the rows—applies power from behind. The operator sits comfortably in the tractor seat looking ahead at his work instead of straight down. Cletrac Cultivator can be attached in two minutes—sells for $135 f.o.b. Cleveland—accommodates any type of shovel, sweep or weeder—works in any corn up to 60 inches high.

The unusually low price of Cletrac F is possible because it embodies unique engineering principles. It is made to last. Parts subject to wear are constructed of Chrome Steel—the toughest material obtainable. Automatically lubricated. The 4-cylinder, kerosene burning motor gives a plowing speed of 3 miles an hour, with variable speeds from 1 to 3 1/2 miles. Yet Cletrac F is so thrifty and compactly designed that it weighs only 1820 pounds and measures only 83 inches in length, 50 inches in height, and 32 inches in width. A few minutes practice and you have mastered its operation.

Manhattan Cafe

When the student goes down town there is one business place where he enjoys visiting more than any other. And that place is the Manhattan
Cafe

Apparently every effort is made here to give the student the most courteous service possible. In fact it seems that every waitress takes great delight in serving the student in a manner calculated to make a regular patron of the individual. Perhaps this is one reason you always find so many of the students eating there.

But there are several other reasons which have caught the attention of the student, anyone of which commends
the Manhattan Cafe to those in search of

Good Food,
Well Prepared and Well Served at

Reasonable Prices

The interior of the place is neat and attractive, to say the least.
The building has been newly remodeled, and refinished, and everything is clean and bright. And what is most important: the kitchen shines with cleanliness. I was interested in the place where my food was prepared so I visited it. And I was more than satisfied. Utensils were neatly arranged, employees were spick and span, and the place looked as tho it had always been as clean as it now appears.

My investigation disclosed that great care was taken to insure the serving of good foods to patrons. In the basement
there were supplies enough to fill a grocery store, and all of excellent quality. A large ice-box is kept full of ice all the time to preserve the freshness of meats and vegetables.
The cafe caters to those who love well prepared salads and vegetables.

An attractive feature of this cafe is that they make their own pastry. The baker uses better grades of ingredients in the preparing of his delicious pies and cakes, and thus has helped to establish a reputation for the place as one where you can get what you want to eat at a reasonable price.

The Manhattan Cafe is located at 404 Poyntz Ave. It has been in Manhattan so long that it is an institution of the city. Last autumn it was taken over by O. J. Kastner of Kansas City who is in charge now. Mr. Kastner will be joined by his brother Mr.
G. H. Kastner, as soon as he can dispose of a cafe at Twelfth and Troost in Kansas City. The Manhattan Cafe is open both day and night, catering especially to after theatre parties and banquets.

M. V. ORATORICAL TRYOUTS SOON

K. S. A. C. REPRESENTATIVE WILL BE SELECTED FEB-RUARY 1

Announcement of Successful Candidate Will Not Be Made Until Intersociety Contest

The tryout to select a representative for the Missouri Valley Oratorical contest will be held on the evening of February 1. All persons who wish to enter the tryout should hand their names, the title of their orations, and their telephone numbers to Dr. Howard T.
Hill, head of the public speaking department.

Any student in college, either man or woman, is eligible to compete in the tryout. The winner of the contest will not be announced publicly, however, until the night of the intersociety oratorical contest.
This information will be withheld to avoid a lack of interest in the intersociety contest should one of the intersociety contestants win in the tryout. But the representative will start practicing under the direction of Dr. Hill immediately after he is chosen.

The intersociety contest will be held at Washington university the second Friday in March. The orations are to be 1,700 words in length and will be judged on general effectiveness of delivery. The judges for the contest will be the coaches of the orators who enter it, each judge scoring the oration of each contestant except the one he coaches. The schools which will have representatives in the contest are Kansas university, Missouri university, Washington university,
Drake university, Oklahoma university, Iowa State college, University of Nebraska, and K. S. A. C.

Milton Eisenhower representing K. S. A. C. last year won first place in the oratorical contest.

Tractor schools under the direction of Mark Haverhill, extension engineer, are to be held in Leavenworth and Harvey counties this month.

VASS, '09, SEVERELY BURNED IN ATTEMPT TO SAVE CHILD

Condition of Injured Aggie Believed To Be Improving

Alonso F. Vass, '09, head of the agronomy department at the University of Wyoming is the victim of severe burns received recently in an attempt to rescue a small boy from a burning building.

Vass, while working in his office on the university campus late one night during the holidays saw flames leaping from a frame barracks building. Rushing to the place, he succeeded in rescuing a woman and her small daughter from the blazing building. However the other occupant, a small four year old boy was not to be found, for in the excitement he had climbed out of a window unnoticed.

Vass made three unsuccessful trips into the flames in search for the child giving up only when utterly exhausted. Vass is in the hospital at present and his condition although serious is thought to be improving.

Gym Exams This Week

Examinations are being given this week in all the girls' physical education classes. These exams are one hour in length and review the marching and floor work covered in class this semester. Wednesday was the last day on which back work could be made up, all work not made up by that time counting as unexcused absences.

Locker keys are to be turned in at the last regular class period this week.

Students Give Program at Talmadge

A number of the young people of the Epworth league of the Methodist church were invited to Talmadge last Sunday to put on a special mission study program. They furnished special music in the morning, and gave a program in the evening. The following people made the trip: Irene Maughlin, Agnes Ayers, Esther Mc-
Stay, Esther Russell, Frances Knerr,
Belle Hagans, and Fred Paulsen.

Miss Gretchen Voiland spent Tuesday at her home in Topeka.

KLOD AND KERNEL KUB MAY BECOME NATIONAL

Plans Being Made for Formation of Agronomy Association

The Klod and Kernel Klub is making plans to organize a national agronomy club. The National Society of Agronomy has appointed a committee, of which Prof. J. H. Parker of the agronomy department is a member, to consider the possibility and advisability of establishing such a club.

Inquiries from Nebraska and other states indicate a very favorable attitude on the part of these colleges.
The Tri-K club members hope to be able to establish the national club under the name of the Klod and Kernel Klub.

Prof. H. H. King spoke to the members of the Klod and Kernel Klub Tuesday evening on the problems of agricultural chemistry. He emphasized the need of thorough training in chemistry, physics, and mathematics for those who expect to engage in agricultural research work.

Get Your Brown Bull —No Matter Where You Are

Have you run out of spondulecks?
Have you been kicked out of college by the dean? Have you found out that you are a hopeless case, and that further college training would mean merely so much donation to Manhattan merchants and landladies? If not for these causes, are you leaving K. S. A. C. next semester for any reason?

If you are, the Brown Bull assures you there is no reason for worry or despondency. You can get your "Knicker Knicker" just the same if you will but mail your address and two bits to the Brown Bull office before you leave.

According to the Brown bull force, copy and pictures continue to flood the office. The editor is skimming but the upper layer of the cream, and is confident that the "Knicker Knicker" will be a magazine which will stand as a monument to Aggie wit.
Six student artists are drawing pictures, which in themselves are said to be well worth the price asked for the magazine.

The Brown Bull staff points out that students away from college will appreciate the Aggie humor magazine even more than if they were here, and accordingly are making arrangements to handle a large mail order business for the "Knicker Knicker."

Philip Young Sails for China

Philip Young, '18, '21, sailed recently on the steamship, China, for Shanghai, where he is due to arrive January 5. His address in China will be National Southwest university, department of agriculture, Nanking,
China.

Young will be in charge of rice experimentation at the university.
He expects to publish a bulletin soon on rice investigations in the United States. Young recently wrote an article on the "Choice of College and Special Study" for the Chinese Quarterly circulated among Chinese students in China. In this article
Young wrote in part:

"As Kansas is one of the foremost wheat producing states in the union our student who desires to specialize in that important crop should naturally come to Kansas State Agricultural college, Manhattan, Kansas.
Creation of a wheat called Kanred by the college which has outyielded the local varieties for many years from 3.6 to 4.7 bushels per acre has made that institution world wide famous.

Persons like Professors Call, (wheat specialist), Salmon (small grain specialist), and Parker (plant breeder) of that institution are known not only as national authorities in agriculture but also as men of practical experience."

Dean F. D. Farrell, Professor N.
E. Olson, and Prof. J. B. Fitch will go to Topeka Saturday to consult with the state architect concerning the new wing of the agricultural building. The plans for the building have been completed and at the meeting Saturday final arrangements will be made for submitting the plans to the contractors.

Prof. J. B. Fitch attended a Farmers' institute at Marion, Tuesday.

Miss Margaret Woodruff and Miss
Rebekah Deal were dinner guests
Thursday, January 11, at the Pi Phi house.

Mrs. Elizabeth Warner spent
Thursday and Friday in Herington.

Two silver loving cups are to be awarded this year for attendance at Farm and Home week. One will go to the county farm bureau sending the greatest number of delegates and the other to the boys' and girls' club best represented at the program.
Mileage will be taken into consideration in determining the winners.

Miss Irene Dean was recently appointed as a member of the National Finance committee of the Y. W. C.
A. Miss Dean will go to Denver for the first meeting of the committee January 25. The committee will get the work ready for the national convention.

A. W. Foster, who graduated from K. S. A. C. in 1920, has recently been appointed county agent of Anderson county, with headquarters at Garnett.

A new farm bureau has been established in Sherman county. A. F.
Turner of the extension division assisted the local organizers.

HELP FARMER TO INCREASE PRODUCTIVITY

FARM AND HOME WEEK THIS YEAR FEBRUARY 6-11

TO OFFER MANY SHORT COURSES

Eight Agricultural Associations Will Meet Here—Loving Cups Offered
To County and Boys' and Girls'
Club for Best Representation

"Increased production of farm dollars" is the slogan of the extension division of the Kansas State Agricultural college, which is arranging the program for Farm and Home week, to be held in Manhattan February 6 to 11. The object this year is not so much to give the farmer information on increasing production but to help satisfy his demand for methods of cheaper production, for adequate systems of rural credit, and for methods of marketing which will ensure him prices high enough to pay the cost of raising his products and still leave him a profit.

The departments of the college offer short courses of lectures and demonstrations in the following subjects: poultry husbandry, home economics, agricultural economics and farm management, entomology and zoology, veterinary, farm engineering, horticulture, beekeeping, rural organization, and cream station operation.

Eight agricultural associations have announced programs for their annual meetings which will be held in Manhattan in connection with Farm and Home week. They are the Kansas State Farm bureau, Kansas Improved Livestock association, Kansas Sheep Breeders' association, Kansas Sheep and Wool Growers' Cooperative association, Kansas Short-horn Breeders' association, Kansas State Dairy association, and Kansas Crop Improvement association.

Two loving cups will be offered this year for attendance. The first will be given to the county having the largest number registered at Farm and Home week, with miles traveled taken into account. The second goes to the boys' and girls' county club which has the best representation.

In the eight assembly periods, Farm and Home week visitors will hear well-known speakers drawn from a wide variety of agricultural pursuits. These programs are for the students of K. S. A. C. as well as for the out of town guests.

Cannot Supply Home Study Calls

More calls for study center work than can be supplied are coming into the home study department, according to V. L. Strickland, head of the department. A request for a class in interior decoration came in last week from Kansas City but the department was unable to meet it.

Prof. C. W. Mathews of the English department will give an address at Longford next Friday evening, the occasion being the dedication of a community auditorium at that place.

AGGIE RIFLEMEN BEAT MISSOURI

TEAM BEATS BY A MARGIN OF 236 POINTS

Scores Are Telegraphed to Schools—Want More To Try for Team

In the indoor rifle match held January 13 with Missouri university the K. S. A. C. rifle team won by a majority of 236 points. Each team was composed of 12 men, but only the 10 highest scores were counted. The scores at each institution were approved by each officer in charge and then forwarded to the other schools by telegraph.

The team and their scores in order are: Cathrop, 180; Stutz, 177; Ratcliff, 173; Clapp, 170; Taintor, 167; Willis, 160; Crawford, 158; Marshall, 158; Colburn, 151; Dilts, 144; Kibler, 143; Howell, 131. The best 10 scores of the 10 highest men made 1,636 out of a possible 2,000, while Missouri was 236 points below this.

The course was fired on N. R. A. targets for 50 feet, each man having two sighting shots on the bullseye. Twenty rounds of ammunition were issued each rifleman to fire in five different positions, five shots prone, five shots sitting, five shots kneeling and five shots standing. The team under Lieutenant J. V. Cole has been working hard and is showing up well in the effort to cop every match that comes along. It is hoped that arrangements for a telegraphic match with K. U. can be made for the last of this week by the coach and his team. The military department wants more men to try out for the rifle team and report to the shooting gallery for a practice. Lieutenant Cole announced that next week 15 men would be picked from the college to shoot in the National Rifle meet. They will work themselves into shape for this event from February 1 to March 15.

Would They Dare To Play Horseshoe in New College City?

"Been to the new amusement center of College City, Bill?" One of the old students asked the question of another as they walked down the hill one evening.

"New amusement center? No. In College City? Where's that?"
"Poor fish, don't you know where College City is? That's the new name for Aggville."

"Oh, yes, that is it. College City is in Aggville. No, I didn't know we had a new amusement center in Aggville. I didn't even know we had an old one."

"Sure thing! Right down on the corner, free for all, no admittance charged. The new short course men found things sort of dull in this small town so they started something. Very thrilling!"

"Aw, come on! Tell me what you're raving about! I haven't seen any new buildings going up."

"Oh, no, nothing like that, just a nice friendly and really exciting game—horse shoe!"

THE KANSAS STATE COLLEGLIAN

VOL. XXVIII

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, MANHATTAN, TUESDAY, JANUARY 24, 1922

NO. 34

AGGIES WANT NEW VARSITY ACTIVITY FEE

NOT ONE DISSENTING VOTE ON FINAL ROLL CALL

FEE IN EFFECT FALL SEMESTER

Minor Changes in Original Plan—
School of Agriculture Included—Majority Vote Can Change
It

When final vote upon the Varsity activity fee plan as a whole came last Friday morning there was not a dissenting voice. Several minor changes in the plan as presented in the printed circulars, were made, among the most important of which was the inclusion of School of Agriculture activities and the support of these same activities from the fund.

The Revised Plan

Resolved: That we, the students of the Kansas State Agricultural college adopt a Varsity activity fee of $10.00 for each school year which shall be paid to the business office at the time of registration and shall be collected and used in accordance with the following provisions:

I. Proceeds from the fee to go to the support of the following:

- All intercollegiate athletic teams.
- Intercollegiate judging teams.
- Intercollegiate debate and oratorical teams.
- Aggie band.
- S. S. G. A.
- All School of Agriculture scholastic activities.

2. Payment of the fee to entitle the students to tickets or receipts at the time which would give the students the following benefits:

- Admission to all athletic events.
- Admission to all intercollegiate debate and oratorical contests.
- Membership in the S. S. G. A.
- Admission to band concerts.
- Admission to School of Agriculture interscholastic activities.

3. Exemption from payment of this fee to be allowed by permission of the president of the college.

4. Time of payment and special provisions:

- Fee of $5 for each semester to be paid at the time of registration for that semester.
- All money to be handled through the business office according to the following provisions:
  - All money shall be apportioned by a budget committee of five members who shall be selected as follows: Two members from the student body shall be elected by the executive council of the S. S. G. A.; the chairman, who shall be a student, and two faculty members shall be appointed by the president of the college. The chairman shall have no vote except in case of a tie.

(b) Committee shall meet within the first three weeks of each semester to apportion the money to the different activities included in the fee.

(c) All activities in the list shall submit a detailed sworn statement of the expense of that particular activity for the preceding semester together with a budget and detailed plans for the current semester.

(d) The action of the committee shall be made public as soon as conveniently possible.

(e) All bills shall be paid from the accounts credited to various organizations benefited by the fee in accordance with present college regulations.

(f) The amount of the fee shall remain the same until changed by a vote of a majority of the members of the S. S. G. A. but the apportionments may be varied from year to year to fit the varying needs.

6. The privilege of participation in the Varsity activity fee shall be extended to the members of the faculty and employees of the college.

The plan will not be put into effect until the fall semester of 1922.

Miss Ruth Garvin was a guest at the Alpha Delta Pi house last week end.

Sentiment Strong for Home Agents

"The need for home demonstration agents is being felt in many counties of the state," according to Miss Nina B. Crigler of the extension division.

Sedgwick county has voted to employ such an agent this year. A letter which came to the main office last week states that Labette county has 500 women ready to back the proposition there.

Calls Speak at Ohio University

Prof. L. E. Call of the agronomy department will leave January 30, for Columbus, Ohio, where he will speak on the subject, "Why Do We Plow?" Professor Call lived on an Ohio farm and graduated from the Ohio State university in 1907 and took graduate work there in soils in 1912. In his talk he will emphasize some of the principles of soil tillage which have been learned from the experience of the Kansas Experiment station, in preparation of the seed bed, corn cultivation, and other tillage experiments.

SOCIETY ORATORS ARE SELECTED

ALL BUT ALPHA BETAS CHOOSE REPRESENTATIVES

Contest Will Take Place February 25 —Announce Missouri Valley
Orator Then

Seven of the eight college literary societies have selected their orators for the intersociety oratorical contest which will be held February 25. The Alpha Beta society will select its orator sometime this week.

The Athenian society will be represented by C. W. Howard, who won the society contest held last Tuesday, with his oration "The Forward Step." Howard has had two years' experience in intercollegiate debate and has had considerable practice in public speaking. He is editor of the Royal Purple and a member of Pi Kappa Delta, honorary debating fraternity and Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity.

The Webster orator will be Thornton J. Manry, senior in electrical engineering and prominent in student activities. He was rated first in the society tryouts by four of the five judges, Dr. Howard T. Hill, Dr. A. A. Holtz, Dr. William Franklin Slade, Prof. C. W. Mathews, and Prof. Hugh Rossen.

The Hamilton literary society will be represented by Donald Bach, junior in agriculture. The selection was made at the meeting of the society Saturday evening.

The Eurodelphian literary society will be represented in the contest by Irene Hays, senior in general science.

Claramary Smith, senior in home economics, will represent the Ionian society in the contest. Miss Smith is a member of the Kappa Delta sorority.

Grace Herr, senior in home economics, will be the orator of the Browning society, February 25.

Paul Roote, junior in industrial chemistry, is the Franklin orator.

The results of the Missouri Valley oratorical contest will be announced at the same time that the winners of the intersociety contest are given out.

THREE MODERN LITERATURE COURSES ON SCHEDULE

N. A. Crawford and R. W. Conover
Will Offer Subjects

Three courses dealing with modern literature are offered in the college for the coming semester. Current literature is offered at 1 o'clock Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, by Professor R. W. Conover. This course is a general survey of the field of current writing in English and other languages. Current periodicals, a course in which study is made of the leading American magazines, is offered at 2 o'clock Tuesday and Thursday, by Prof. N. A. Crawford. A course in new poetry is offered by Mr. Crawford at 4 o'clock Wednesday and Friday. This course studies the sources and characteristics of modern poetry.

Appreciation of tendencies in modern literature is the purpose of each of these courses.

Music and Math Closely Related Says Ira Pratt

"The construction of a good piece of music cannot help being interesting to a person with a mathematical turn of mind," declared Prof. Ira Pratt, head of the college music department, in an address before the Science club of the college Wednesday evening.

"The musical score can be measured to the last 32nd note and all must be in its orderly place, each instrument or voice in perfect balance with every other instrument or voice. Chord forms must fall in their proper sequence according to fixed rules, certain keys contrasting with certain other keys, and the whole composition taking on a definite form that cannot fail to interest deeply the student with the turn of mind necessary to an engineer."

Thus, the conception of the Ags that the engineer is a solemn sort of being, grinding away at endless tables of logarithms and slipsticking stolidly through college is proved all wrong. Music and mathematics must be related if one believes Professor Pratt. However, the leader of the Aggie songsters goes even further than the math end of engineering training in urging it as an advantage for musical work.

"Did it ever occur to you that the progress of music has been dependent largely upon mechanical invention?" he asked. "The music of today differs from that of 100 or 200 years ago mainly because of the greater modern facilities for presentation. Melody is the same and the rules for harmonic construction have not changed, though much more freedom is allowed in musical composition than formerly."

MANY CONTRIBUTE TO BROWN BULL

STAR CONTRIBUTORS WILL BE GUESTS AT BANQUET

Magazine Will Be Published Sometime During Farm and Home
Week

The student body has taken unusual interest in the writing of the "Knicker Knumber" of the Brown Bull. Aside from the long list given, a number of contributors have handed in anonymous material. Several have handed in copy with merit but due to lateness when it was received it has been crowded out of the coming number. Much of this material will be saved for the next issue.

Students who will not be in school next semester may assure themselves of a copy of the "Knicker Knumber" by sending their name and 25 cents to the Brown Bull office before leaving. Only 1,800 copies are to be printed this time, and those who have inspected the contents of the magazine predict a ready sale. Those who wish to insure themselves of as many copies as they wish should take advantage of the mail order system. All such communications should be addressed "The Brown Bull, K. S. A. C."

Contributors who have shown exceptional interest and ability will receive invitations to the contributors' banquet to be held soon after the "Knicker Knumber" comes from the press. The exact date of publication has not been decided, but will be during Farm and Home week—probably on Newspaper day.

The probable list of contributors follows: Wallace Pratt, Margaret Watson, Alice Paddleford, R. V. Barrington, Harold Hobbs, Victor Blackledge, Harold Spencer, Albert Mead, Julia King, Harry Monroe, Helen Van Gilder, H. W. Davis, S. C. Swenson, Edith Abbott, E. F. Frick, Mildred Swenson, Nelson Barth, J. Wheeler Barger, Malcolm J. Clark, E. F. Nelson, K. M. Wilson, E. M. Amos, Hilda Frost, Olive Hering, Burr Swartz, Milton Eisenhower, C. E. Rogers, N. A. Crawford. Artists who will have work in the magazine include Don Ballou, art editor; Earl Graves, T. O. Hedrick, J. S. Fuller, and John Post.

LOCALS LOSE TO OKLAHOMA LAST MINUTE

PRESS REPORTS SAY IT WAS A HOT STRUGGLE

AGGIE STARS, WANN AND WEBBER

Wildcats Tie for Fourth Place in Conference Standing—Lose Game at Stillwater

With the score standing at 26-all, and one minute to play in the Aggie-Oklahoma basketball contest at Norman Friday night, Captain Waite of the Sooners and Captain Cowell of the Aggies called time out. In the remaining minute of the game after play was resumed, the Oklahoma five counted a pair of field goals and a free throw, giving them a 31 to 26 victory.

Game Was Exciting

Press reports from the southern university declare that the game was one of the most exciting and hotly contested struggles witnessed on a Norman court for years, with both quintets battling desperately on practically even terms until that last minute of spectacular basket shooting by the Sooners. The same account admits that the Oklahoma basketballers fairly outdid themselves, the sensational work of Gilmer and Morse, two first year forwards, converting the Sooners into an entirely different team from that which has heretofore been sent into a game this season.

Aggies Get Early Lead

The Aggies got off to a lead in the first few minutes, but were later headed by the Sooners. At the end of the half the Oklahomans held a 4-point advantage, 16 to 12. This was the largest lead the southern five had over the Aggies until the last minute of the game. At the beginning of the second half the Aggies overcame the Sooner lead and kept abreast of them until those two final lucky baskets of the Norman cagers, the last of which dropped through the hoop simultaneously with the sound of the pistol shot ending the struggle.

Wann and Webber Star

Brilliant long shots from the center of the court by Wann and Webber of the Aggies, together with the work of Captain Cowell at guard, are said to have featured the game. Foval of the Aggies secured three field goals, and Williams and Cowell converted eight of nine Sooner fouls into Aggie points. Waite, giant Sooner center, was high point man for Oklahoma with six field baskets and seven free tosses to his credit. On their return trip the Aggies dropped another close game to the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical quintet at Stillwater by a score of 22 to 16.

Aggies Tying for Fourth

The defeat by Oklahoma puts the Aggies in a tie with Ames, Drake, and Oklahoma for fourth place in the valley race. On Wednesday night, January 25, the Kansas State Normal five will measure the Kansas conference brand of basketball with that of the valley conference when they tangle with Curtiss basketballers at the college court here. Coach Schabinger's Teachers come here with a reputation as a fast, aggressive, hardfighting quintet that should insure an interesting court battle Wednesday night. E. C. Quigley, St. Marys, will call the decisions.

PUT NEW PLAN REGARDING AG ELECTIVES INTO EFFECT

Students Must Consult Department Heads About Subjects Taken

The faculty of the agricultural division has provided a new system for the approval of electives of junior and senior students. From now on, the junior and senior students are required to consult with the head of the department in which they are taking their major work and to secure the approval of the head of that department as well as that of the dean, for elective subjects, before taking out an assignment.

It is believed that this change will make it possible for upper classmen to choose their electives a little more carefully and with the advice and counsel of the members of the department in which they are specializing. The new system is being used in preparation for the assigning period for the second semester and apparently is going to prove beneficial to all concerned.

Compare Garment Types

The Clothing II classes of the home economics division are comparing the cost of the ready made garment with that of the home made garment. Pattern dresses have been received from Marshall Field's and other large dry goods stores.

The girls are making dresses as nearly like the pattern dresses as possible, computing the cost of material and time. The results are then compared with the ready made garments and personal conclusions drawn.

EXPECT RECORD BREAKING CROWD

COLLEGE PREPARES FOR MANY GUESTS FARM AND HOME WEEK

Bad Financial Conditions Act as Incentive—2,000 Attended Last
Year

Plans for a big Farm and Home week program are being completed and a record breaking crowd is expected for the events which take place February 6-11, 1922. Arrangements have been made to care for the crowd, and rooms may be secured at a reasonable rate.

A new plan has been adopted this year by which representative farmers from all over the state will be brought here. A call has been sent out to all the county commissioners, asking them to appoint delegates from each township. This in no way obligates the state or county to pay the representatives' expenses but it is believed that it will act as an incentive to bring the men to the meetings. The film which was used last year to advertise the event is being used again this year. This film "James Wakes Up" and another "The Short Course Film" are being shown in theaters all over the state. The latter is a film showing the work done by the short course Ag students.

Indications are that the crowd will exceed last year's. Over 2,000 were here last year. The reasons for expecting a larger crowd are that all county fairs and other instructive exhibits are better attended this year, and the financial conditions, which would seem to be a hindrance, act as an incentive; for the farmer, when he is hard pressed for funds, is more willing to attend meetings and demonstrations which instruct him as to better farming methods.

BACHMAN TO STAY HERE— NORTHWESTERN GETS COACH

Glenn Thistlewaite, Ex-High School
Mentor to Big Ten School

Aggie athletic circles are resting easier again upon the announcement Saturday that Northwestern university of Chicago will not attempt to lure Aggie Head Coach Charles W. Bachman to accept a position as head coach of the Big Ten school. The Northwestern athletic board has signed Glenn Thistlewaite, formerly coach of Oak Park high school at Chicago, as head football coach for the coming year.

A recent press report emanating from the Illinois school announced that a movement was on foot among the alumni of Northwestern to bring back to that university Coach Bachman, who served as head coach there before coming to K. S. A. C.

McDowell Club Meeting

The McDowell club held its regular meeting Monday evening, January 16, in the auditorium. This was the fourth meeting devoted to some special composer, Schubert being the one for the evening. The number by the string quartet was especially fine. The program was, "Springtime Longings," Miss Robinson; Scherzo, Ruth Paslay; paper, Elsie Knox; "To Be Sung on the Water," Orpha Russell; Moment Musical, String Quartet.

The popular girls were announced in quite a novel way at the Popularity ball, Friday evening. Each girl appeared in a page of a large Royal Purple, constructed for the occasion. Mrs. Mary P. Van Zile, dean of women, turned the pages of the book, disclosing the six winners to the expectant crowd.

BASKETBALL—INTERRUPTIONS ET CETERA

This will be a week of annoying interruptions for basketball. Most of the teams hereabouts have school or college connected with them, although not too noticeably. For the most part the colleges are content to remain in obscurity, but at this time of year they have an attack of examinationitis in virulent form. Teams that have been exposed to it have never been the same afterwards. But after this week there'll be a solid month heavily booked with games and after that the national tournament of the A. A. U. in Kansas City.

We believe there is one element lacking in the exchange of visits by athletic teams. That is courtesy. Not altogether, of course, but present in so small an amount that it can be and is thrust aside too easily in event of the unusual. A visiting team, its attaches, and officials should be regarded as guests of an institution. In one's home when one is host, if he thinks his visitor rude, he doesn't hoot at him, hiss him, or in any other fashion descend to the level of the visitor. One never asks the person to come again. Why do students act differently? If a visiting player or a coach forgets himself and his sporting principles, is the matter remedied by hisses, catcalls, and, sometimes, epithets? If an official blunders, what reparation does an insult make?

In one's home one doesn't sleep in the guest room and show the visitor the cellar. One doesn't expect the stranger to find his own way about. One doesn't minister to his own wants to the exclusion of caring for those of his guest. Yet an exchange of visits by college teams very often has all the courtesy and attention that marks the invasion of a ham ball club into a hick town in a bush league. We don't long for the return of the iron pants days of chivalry nor do we expect to make Launcelots of football players, but there is a place for the revival of the polite customs that marked the knightly athletics in the lists at King Arthur's court.—Topeka Daily Capital.

Call Speaks at Topeka

Prof. L. E. Call attended the meeting of the state board of agriculture at Topeka last week, speaking on the subject "Spring Crops to Plant on Land on Which Winter Wheat Has Failed." Professor Call cautioned against the planting of spring wheat except in the extreme northwestern counties of the state and suggested that barley, the sorghums, oats, and corn would be much more apt to produce profitable yields under Kansas conditions. He also suggested that a part of the abandoned winter wheat acreage be summer fallowed in preparation for wheat seeding next fall.

AWARD TWO CUPS FOR FARM AND HOME WEEK ATTENDANCE

One Goes to County Representation—Second to Club

There will be two silver loving cups awarded this year at Farm and Home week, February 6 to 11. One will go to the county farm bureau having the largest number registered, distance traveled considered. The other cup will be given to the boys' and girls' club having the best representation at the boys' and girls' clubs program.

Following are the rules that will govern the farm bureau contest:

Only those who register at registration headquarters, Anderson hall, giving name, county, and distance traveled, will be counted.

Registration closes at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon, February 9.

Award will be based on the following:

Total attendance from each county will be multiplied by mileage traveled (by rail or auto).

County with the largest representation will receive reward.

The successful county will be allowed to hold the trophy for one year or until the next Farm and Home week is held.

The cup will become the permanent property of any county when it has been won three consecutive years.

The cup will be presented at the annual Farm and Home week banquet, Thursday, February 9.

Any county in the state is eligible to compete in the contest. Although it is called farm bureau contest, it is not limited to farm bureau counties.

Last year the cup was won by Leavenworth county.

The boys' and girls' club cup will be offered for the first time this year. The award of the cup will be based upon the number registered, total miles traveled, and the percent of local clubs in the county represented.

New Chemistry Instructor Arrives

H. J. Beattie arrived recently from Cleveland, Ohio, to take a position as instructor in the chemistry department. Mr. Beattie is a graduate of Denver university and also holds an A. M. degree from that school. He has received the same degree from the University of Illinois, where he was an instructor in chemistry for two years. Mr. Beattie was in the chemical warfare work for the army during the war. Since then he has been working with a brass manufacturing company at Cleveland.

EXPERIMENT ON COST OF RAISING CATTLE FOR BEEF

Six Lots of 10 Head Each Are Used for Tests

Six lots of 10 head of high grade Hereford calves are being used in the tests that the department of animal husbandry is conducting. The test promises to show wherein the livestock man can raise beef cattle at the least possible cost, maintaining at the same time the most possible beef producing qualities.

Each lot of cattle is given a basal ration of cottonseed meal, and alfalfa hay and cane silage. The latter is given in varying amounts, regulated by the individual animal.

For the past two seasons steer calves have been full fed on all the cane silage they could consume, alfalfa and cottonseed meal being given for the following three months. The results in market value of these cattle show that cattle fed in this manner are on an average only 15 cents per hundred weight lower than strictly corn fed cattle.

NUTRITION CLASS GETS EXPERIENCE

CONDUCTS PRACTICAL HEALTH GROUP IN BLUEMONT SCHOOL

Keeps Accurate Chart of Children's Weights—Thirty-eight Students Under Experiment

After making a careful study of child nutrition in the class room, the class in field work in nutrition is conducting a health class at Blumont school. This health class has been conducted now for one semester and has proved a successful project in bringing the abnormal child to near standard and has offered valuable study in applied dietaries for the nutrition class.

The health class meets on Thursday of each week and is conducted by the students of the nutrition class. Each girl has charge of the health charts of a certain group of the pupils and weighs and measures the children in her own particular group. Each gain or loss is charted and if possible every loss is attributed to some cause. A curve showing the normal weight of a child of the same age and height is on every chart and the line showing the increase or decrease in the actual weight of the child appears on the same chart. Thus the subject may be easily compared with a normal child.

There are 38 in the health class, 27 of whom were from one to 12 pounds below normal and 15 of whom were as much as 7 per cent under weight. A few were several pounds heavier than the normal child and one was found to check with the normal weight.

The children are much interested and willing to carry out their part of the experiment. Johnnie no longer regards cooked cereals, milk, vegetables, and plenty of sleep as unnecessary, tiresome things he must tolerate just to please mother. He has learned why coffee and rolls do not make the proper breakfast for a child of 10 and why cooked, preferably brown cereals, milk, and a greater variety of vegetables are what his body requires.

As a part of the class work, lessons on the more important foods in a child's diet have been taught and the children are learning the benefits of certain qualities of foods. They have learned that milk is valuable because it contains protein which builds muscles, and contains lime which builds bones and teeth. The children are told about vitamins in a simple way. The little folks are much interested in the iron content in vegetables for iron makes "red blood" and red blood makes "rosy cheeks." There has been a little work on "counting the calories" in the foods. The purpose of this is to teach the children at this age to choose a meal from the standpoint of food values.

The youngsters are urged to drink at least one pint of milk every day, sleep 10 hours with the windows open, and to brush the teeth twice a day. Those who comply with these directions are awarded colored stars to be pasted on the weight charts. Other health habits such as cleanliness, and the proper amount of exercise and rest are also encouraged.

One of the problems of the students in the class in field work in nutrition this year is that of seasonal variation, i. e., whether there are greater gains in weight in the fall and winter months than during the spring and summer months. This health class offers a good opportunity for the nutrition students in practical experience with the problems of a school child's diet and the relation of diet and health habits to growth.

The most important point kept before the children all of the time is that everyone should be seeking good health, which means good color, vitality, energy, good posture, normal weight and normal height.

BURR DISCUSSES MAIN STREET AT VESPER HOUR THURSDAY

Traces Carol Kennicott's Failure Back to College Life

Discussing Sinclair Lewis' popular novel, "Main Street," as applied to practical rural leadership Prof. Walter Burr talked at the vespers hour last Thursday afternoon. The lecture was open to everyone and there was a large attendance.

Professor Burr stated at the beginning of his talk that his purpose in talking upon Main Street was to show up the common problems confronting rural leaders. He gave as his opinion of the cause of Carol Kennicott's miserable failure the fact that she refused to learn during her collegiate career, to accept social conditions more or less as they are, and not to expect great social and economic changes to take place over night.

He emphasized strongly the statement that for those who expect to take up and to be successful in rural social work, special training in leadership problems is essential. He also made plain that the evolution of a community must come from within the community under the guidance of a trained leader.

Honor Last Member Marine Band

A banquet at the Pines was given by the members of the Aggie band last night in honor of Mr. O. F. (Scrubby) Fisher who is leaving school this semester. Mr. Fisher is the only remaining member of the old marine band. He has been the cornet soloist for the past few years. About 60 members of the first and second band were present and Prof. Ira Pratt, head of the music department and Major F. B. Terrill of the military department were invited guests. This banquet was the first ever given by the Aggie band.

English Teachers Meet at Topeka

The State Council of Teachers of English met at Topeka last Saturday. A luncheon was given at Pelletier's tea room, after which an informal meeting was held. Miss Helen Elcock presented the plans for working out a series of uniform tests in English composition. The meeting was attended by about 25 teachers from colleges and high schools.

Show Sheep at Wichita Show

The Kansas National Livestock show is being held at Wichita this week. The sheep that were shown at the Denver show last week are being shipped directly from Denver to Wichita, where they will be entered in the various sheep departments. The stock that was entered at Denver were primarily sheep, and the entries at the Wichita show will comprise only the exhibition of sheep. About 50 head are entered in the show under the headings of different breeds and classes.

YELLOW WIN BB TOURNAMENT

PURPLES FINISH SECOND, BROWNS THIRD IN COLOR GAMES

Class Practices Will Be Held Before Basketball Teams of Classes Are Chosen

The color tournament, which started two weeks before Christmas, ended last Thursday night. The Yellow team was the champion of the tournament, as it went through the fray without losing one game. The Purple team ranks second, with one game lost, and the Brown team is third, having lost but two games. The results of the tournament are:

	W	L
Yellow, first	9	0
Purple, second	9	1
Brown, third	9	2
Green	9	4
Black	9	4
Blue	9	5
Pink	9	5
Lavender	9	7
Red	9	8
White	9	8

This tournament is for the purpose of giving each girl the opportunity to play basketball, whether she makes a class team or not. An unusual number of girls responded this year. After the hockey color tournament the class squads were chosen from the color teams, and from the squads the class teams were selected. But as it will be impossible to pick out the class squads for basketball, directly from the color teams, class practices have been scheduled. Any girl who took part in the tournament may come out to the class practices which are to be the first of February. Then from those appearing at the class practices, the class squads will be selected. Those who show up best at the squad practice will be chosen for the class teams.

The dates for the class practices are, freshmen, February 1; sophomores, February 2; junior-senior, February 3.

The squad practices will be sometime in the week following, and the teams will be chosen on February 10 and 11. The dates for the class games have not been announced yet. These games will be played after a week's practice. Admission will be charged for them.

Experiment on Poultry Feeding

The poultry department is conducting an interesting experiment on the feeding of poultry.

Locality, since its effect on the food requirements is so great, is one of the main factors to be considered in judging the food used in feeding the poultry. The food is judged according to price and amount required for proper nutriment. Cafeteria style of feeding the poultry is used and the chickens are permitted to make their own selection of food. The results of the experiments are not yet determined.

Delta Tau Delta dinner guests Sunday were Mr. C. E. Sawyer of Iola and Mr. and Mrs. Kent R. Dudley.

C. T. Wilson Tire and Vulcanizing Service

When an auto owner has a puncture or blow-out he wants his damaged tire repaired or vulcanized at a shop where he can get a thoroughly satisfactory piece of work on the tire, and where the shop will make the greatest effort to give him service, both courteous and speedy. It seems to appear that the Wilson Tire and Vulcanizing company which is located at the corner of Third and Houston offer all this to their trade. Certainly it gives its customers this service for the shop is always busy, and these customers all speak well of the shop. It is sure that every modern convenience has been installed in the shop in order to make every repair a more satisfactory one.

There is only one hydraulic tire press in Manhattan. This press is used to force the solid truck tires on to the rim of the wheel of the truck. It is impossible to put a new tire upon a truck wheel without the use of one of these presses. Many months ago Mr. Wilson met the demand in this locality for solid truck tire business and installed one of these presses. The one in his shop has a pressure of 250 tons. Nearly every ton of this pressure is necessary in putting on some of the larger truck solid tires. It is worth anyone's time to watch and inspect this powerful press.

The Wilson Tire Shop has the distribution in this territory of the OLDFIELD, the FIRESTONE, and the UNITED STATES tires. It carries a full stock of every tire size in these well known and standard brands. Each of these is a standard brand, and each is very well known. Most tire users are, through their individual experience and knowledge, very partial to one brand of automobile tire. If it is one of the three brands named above Mr. Wilson can supply them at the same prices they are offered everywhere. However, "There are many people who are compelled to get greatest service out of their tires and who do not realize that the Oldfield tire is more especially built for their use than any other tire on the market," says Mr. Wilson. "More wear is built into this tire," says he, "and although the cost is only about 10 per cent more than other good tires, the Oldfield will stand more punishment of the road, and will give more mileage to those who demand greater service from their tires than others. This is why the Oldfield is so universally used upon the race track."

The Wilson Tire and Vulcanizing company maintain an excellent free road service.

AGGIES LOSE TO TEACHER QUINTET 27-14

KANSAS CONFERENCE TEAM PLAYS FAST CONSISTENT GAME

AGGIES RALLY IN SECOND HALF

Emporians Go After Victory from Outset—Their Game Too Much for Aggies in a Slump

Maybe someone misinformed the Aggies about those basket shooting Teachers from William Allen White's town. Perhaps the Curtiss basketballers felt that the slim crowd didn't warrant a regular court performance. The Aggies may have been suffering with an attack of acute examinitis. At any rate—Aw, what's the use?—the Emporia Normal basketball quintet handed the Aggie exponents of the court game a sound drubbing Wednesday night, taking the long end of a 27 to 14 score.

Normal Team Was Fast

The Kansas conference team went after the victory from the tip-off, and played a fast consistent game. They wanted this contest to give them a little extra prestige in state conference circles. They did their damndest, and their damndest was too much for the Aggies in a slump. Emporia drew first blood on Duer's free toss. Duer caged an easy field goal, and then hooped one from mid-court, getting a 5-point lead before Williams registered for the Aggies with a free throw. The Aggies had apparently forgotten where the hoop was. The Teachers ran it up to 14 to 1 before Wann of the Aggies discovered that the hoop had not been moved, and rolled one in. The score at the half stood 16 to 6.

Aggie Rally Fell Short

Cowell started the second half with a gift counter. He added a field goal a minute later, and it began to look as if the Wildcats might hit their stride. Williams came back into the game with a basket and then caged another from a difficult angle. But the rally died there, and the Aggies did not score again until Williams registered a free throw just before the end of the riot. Duer and McGahan of the Normals led in the Emporia assault, Duer garnering four baskets and five free tosses for his team. Van Osdal played a good game at guard for the Teachers, as did also Cowell for the Aggies.

GIVE PRIZES FOR COLLEGIAN WORK

THREE AWARDS TO BE MADE BY BOARD

J. W. Barger Leading in Space Contest—Alan Daily Second—Dahy Barnett Third

The five students who have had the most work published in the Industrialist and the Collegian this semester are: J. Wheeler Barger, 672 inches; Alan Daily, 546; Dahy Barnett, 498; M. S. Eisenhower, 211; and Alice Paddieford, 186½. Thirty-five students are enrolled in the courses in which this contest is held. Those taking Collegian practice are required to have 100 inches for a one hour credit and those taking Journalism practice, a two credit course, must have 150 inches.

The Collegian board will award a prize of $10 to the student having the most inches published, a prize of $5 for the best editorial, and $5 for the best feature story.

ENROLMENT PLAN IS SAME AS THAT OF LAST SEMESTER

Students Get Numbers from Deans—Wait in Auditorium

The enrolment system this semester will be similar to that used last fall. Everyone must get his number from his dean and then go to the auditorium to wait until his number is called.

Miss Jessie Machir, college registrar, warns every one to bring his fee receipt. Without this ticket or a duplicate it is impossible to enrol.

All of the new students who have not their classifications and permits to enrol must first go to the office of the registrar. From there their course will be the same as that of the others. If a former student, one need only go to the registrar's office for his classification and then go for his number. If one is a new student and has no permit to register he can go directly to his dean for his number.

It will not do anyone any good to stand at the door of the gymnasium and wait for his number to be called. One should go to the dean and get a number, then go to the auditorium and wait for his number to be called.

VAUDEVILLE WILL BE FEBRUARY 18

PHI MU ALPHA PREPARING FOR ANNUAL FROLIC

Seven Acts Have Been Selected to Date—A Success in Past

The date for the vaudeville to be put on under the direction of Phi Mu Alpha, musical fraternity, has been set for Saturday evening, February 18, in the college auditorium.

Others besides the members of the fraternity will take part in the vaudeville which is to consist of a number of star acts. The program is not entirely arranged up to the present time nor are the characters all selected but the acts which have been selected are a fashion show, a one act play entitled "Three Men and a Girl," a sketch, a saxophone sextet, a comedy sketch, a men's chorus and a musical revue.

Each year these vaudevilles have been given under the direction of members of the music department and have been one of the most popular student attractions presented in the college auditorium. Last year the vaudeville performed for a packed house and it is generally expected that the attendance for this year's performance will be up to the precedent established in former years.

BURR WILL COMBINE CLASS WORK WITH TALKS TO FARMERS

Lectures Will Deal with Practical Rural Problems

Prof. Walter Burr, instructor in sociology, who has charge of the program in the department of rural organization for Farm and Home week will give his lectures at the same hour that his regular classes meet.

Under the subjects of community programs, rural social problems, and rural organization, Professor Burr will discuss problems of practical interest to visitors. His lectures will be not merely theoretical but will deal with extremely practical rural problems in social and economical organization.

While actually giving the Farm and Home week visitors working ideas in community cooperation the field covered by Professor Burr's talks will furnish interesting demonstration work for the students in his classes.

To Publish Household Account Book

"A book which will visualize the relation of allowance to expenses," is what Mrs. Mary W. McFarlane, leader of home economics specialists, says of "The Household Account Book," which has been compiled by members of the home economics department of the extension division. As soon as published the book is to be adopted as a text for college classes in household accounting.

"Most account books on the market today assume too great a knowledge of bookkeeping," states Mrs. MacFarlane. "This book explains a simplified method of recording household expenses. The account page is fashioned after a score card. The summaries are unique because they show at a glance the balance between the budget and the actual expenses. The practical value of the book has been tested by members of the department who have used the system for over a year."

Doc Peterson Now Knows Secrets of Faculty Minds

The freshmen, especially, and many of the upperclassmen will have no difficulty in recalling the tests they had to take to see whether or not their minds were able to grasp the words of the worthy instructors. They are now even, at least in part. The general science faculty was politely asked to undergo a similar test recently.

Prof. J. C. Peterson, of the department of education claims that he can tell as much about a person and his education in a test that takes half an hour as he can by knowing the grades that person received in high school. After having found so many brilliant students this fall, the next thing was to examine the faculty to see if they were really capable of supervising such work.

As a result of this test many interesting things have been learned, many of which you would never even have guessed. The only one who knows the results of this test is Doctor Peterson and he has promised not to tell. It would probably be interesting to know the results, but even reporters are not taken in on the secrets of the faculty, when they are as vital as this one.

HOME OF S. A. T. C. WARRIORS NOW HARBOURS RATS AND MICE

North Barracks Scene of Experiments and Nutrition Tests with Small Animals

The old north barracks that served, during the war, as a home for student soldiers, are now serving the Kansas agricultural experiment station and the college in many ways.

The second floor is a veritable granary—filled with cereals, grains, and various forage crops. The grain is brought in from the experimental plots, weighed, tested, etc., to ascertain which ones have been the most productive.

One-fourth of the first floor is given over to the storage of rough feed, but most of this floor has been converted into a small animal house. Here the habits of the destructive gopher and the voracious mole are being studied at close range. Large bull snakes are found here also. At present, though protected from the cold, they are hibernating—spending days and nights in their annual winter sleep—preparatory to another big season of feasting on pocket gophers, rats, mice, and other pests.

The barracks likewise furnish a home for hundreds of guinea pigs that are making contributions to our knowledge of the laws of inheritance. Rabbits, guinea pigs, and other small animals, suffering with various bacterial diseases, are being treated and studied at the barracks. Their recovery, or failure to recover, throws light on the diseases, not alone of small animals, but of men.

In another compartment are large numbers of white rats, used for testing various combinations of food elements. Defective eyesight and other physical changes, demonstrate the lack of certain food accessories and the results due to such deficiencies. Since these little mammals' bodies are essentially like those of men, practically anything that is learned about nutrition of young rats will apply, equally well, to young children.

Another portion of this building is given over to tests on the effects of parasites on small domesticated animals, and the means by which such parasites are transmitted from one animal to another. Some parasites that are known to live in animals, live also in man. Tests of this kind are now being made here, using—instead of man—the monkey.

The department of medical surgery has acquired a new Ford roadster for taking veterinary students on country calls. This is a feature of veterinary education greatly appreciated by students in veterinary medicine as it gives a large amount of practical experience under actual farm conditions.

Miss Hazel Reynolds, who is teaching at Goff, spent the week end at the Delta Delta Delta house.

Dr. C. E. Sawyer underwent an operation for appendicitis Tuesday, January 17. Although in a very critical condition for a few days he is rapidly improving at present.

TO GIVE THREE ONE ACT PLAYS FEBRUARY 11

PURPLE MASQUE MEMBERS ARE COACHING PRODUCTIONS

PROCEEDS TO STUDENT LOAN FUND

Plays Are Produced Under Auspices of Daughters of American Revolution—Admission To Be Twenty Five Cents

The next offering of the Purple Masque dramatic fraternity will be three short plays which are to be produced under the auspices of the Daughters of the American Revolution and presented the night of February 11 at the auditorium. The proceeds from this trio of plays will be devoted to the Student Loan fund.

The Three Plays

The first of these plays is "The Clod," which is a character sketch with an unusual ending. Mrs. Blanche Forrester is to play the character of the Clod, a woman who has no emotion or feeling and who does not respond to the call of patriotism. This play is under the direction of Rowena Thornburg.

Eugene Huff, a member of Purple Masque, is to direct the second one-act play, "The Bracelet," which is one of the most amusing satirical comedies that has been produced by the theater guilds.

"The Playgoers" is an example of the slow working American mind. The lines of the play are all created through the inability of the characters to decide any question for themselves. The play is under the direction of Queenie Hart.

Plays Are Different

The three plays have been chosen with the view that they shall be entirely different from any others previously presented by Purple Masque. They give the idea of the class of work that is being presented by the little theaters in the United States, each play being typical of a definite type of presentation.

Ray E. Holcombe of the public speaking department and Florence M. Heizer of the English department are supervising the direction of these plays.

The plays will commence at 8:15 promptly, February 11. The price of admission will be 25 cents.

DEBATE TRYOUTS ON FEBRUARY 8

K. DEBATERS MUST GET PLACES SAME AS BEGINNERS

Rosson To Choose Six Men for Debate with State Normal

Tryouts for places on the men's intercollegiate debate squad will be held on the afternoon and evening of February 8, according to Prof. Hugh E. Rosson, debate coach. Six men will be selected from the squad to represent the college on the teams which will meet the Kansas State Normal school teams.

Each person who tries for a place on the squad must give a five minute constructive speech on either side of the question: Resolved, that United States vessels should be required to pay toll for passage through the Panama Canal. A few questions will probably be asked for each person to answer offhand.

No one will be placed on the squad because of previous experience in debate. Men will be required to try for places on the squad along with inexperienced debaters, and the team will be composed of persons who show up best in squad practices regardless of experience, according to the coach.

All persons who wish to try out should see Coach Rosson in his office in Anderson hall and arrange for a time to give his speech. Material on the question is on reserve in the library.

Miss Ernestine Pinkerton left this afternoon for Clay Center where she will spend the week end with her mother.

Fit Up Textile Research Laboratory

A research laboratory for graduate work in textiles is being fitted up in the home economics building. A new conditioning oven costing $350 is soon to be installed. This oven contains eight baskets in which the materials are conditioned and weighed before removing from the oven. The weights are so accurately balanced that not only the fabrics themselves are weighed but the ashes also. In conditioning a fabric all moisture, whether atmospheric or otherwise, is removed. All fabrics are conditioned before the test is made. This machine with the tensile strength testing machine, purchased last year, and with the apparatus for testing the fastness of color in fabrics, together with the equipment already in this laboratory makes it one of the best equipped of textile laboratories.

MAKE PLANS FOR FESTIVAL WEEK

LUCY GATES PROBABLY WILL SING DURING PROGRAM

"Home Talent" To Be Excellent This Year—Large Chorus To Sing

Festival week will be held this year during the week of May 3 to 7 inclusive. According to plans being worked out it promises to be the largest in the history of the school, both from point of attractions and attendance.

The entertainments are being planned on a bigger scale than was ever before attempted. Not all of the outside artists have been selected as yet but it is certain that Lucy Gates will be here with the Spaldzo Harp Ensemble, consisting of seven Italian harps. The other artists will be announced in the near future and it is assured they will be the best that can be secured.

The "home talent" this year is far superior to that of any other year. The college band and orchestra will give concerts and the faculty quartet will also give a program. The college glee club is to combine with the Manhattan Chamber of Commerce men's chorus and form a men's chorus of 60 voices. The community chorus which will be composed of 300 members will present "Fair Ellen" by Max Bruch and "The Hymn of Praise" by Mendelssohn. This chorus will be almost twice as large as the present one and rehearsals for Festival week will begin at once. A play by the Purple Masque concludes the list of performances by Aggie entertainers.

The S. S. G. A. is endeavoring to have all the mothers and fathers here for Festival week, as Mothers' day comes about that time. With other outside visitors this will mean a record crowd.

EXTENSION DIVISION COMPILES YEAR BOOK FOR CLUB WOMEN

Packet Libraries Are Included in New Service

A 1922 year book compiled by the home economics department of the extension division has been issued to over 40 women's clubs in the state. The year book contains outlines of programs to be carried out by these Home Makers' clubs.

In addition to the year book it has been arranged that packet libraries shall be sent, for two weeks, to each community taking the work. These libraries will contain all the reading references included in the year book for the month. This is a new feature of club work and is expected to broaden greatly the scope of the organizations.

Miss Glanton to Speak at Pratt

Miss Louise P. Glanton is to speak before the Business Girls' club of Pratt February 15. Miss Glanton will talk on salesmanship and the fields which this activity opens up to women who are interested in a business career. There are about 75 of these young women as well as the leading business men of the town who see the possibilities of growth and enlargement of opportunities afforded by the systematic study of salesmanship.

NEW COLLEGE DRIVE MAY BE 'HARBORD WAY'

MOVE ON FOOT TO HONOR FAMOUS ALUMNUS

HARBORD COMING FEBRUARY 1-

Work on New Drive May Not Be Started for Some Time—R. O. T. C. Will Cover Route in Review

At a recent meeting for the purpose of making plans for the visit of Major General James G. Harbord, who will be in the city February 1-3, it was decided to start a movement to call the new college drive "Harbord Way." A committee made up of Dean J. T. Willard, Prof. Albert Dickens, and Cliff Stratton met yesterday afternoon with President W. M. Jardine, concerning the proposition of naming the new drive after the distinguished Aggie alumnus.

According to present plans General Harbord will deliver the dedicatory address at the erection of the flag pole in the quadrangle south of the library.

To Enter Campus at Fourteenth

The proposed drive will enter the campus from Fourteenth street, circle around past the new cafeteria building, the auditorium, and the library, and join the present drive just east of the south entrance to Anderson hall, thus forming a semi-circle from the cafeteria to the horticultural building.

Although work on the new drive-way probably will not be started for some time, it is planned to have the college R. O. T. C. march over the proposed route when they pass in review before General Harbord during his visit at the college.

May Name Other Drives

Those who attended the meeting last Saturday night and were instrumental in the agitation of naming the new drive were: Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kimball, Prof. and Mrs. Albert Dickens, Mrs. S. A. Baldwin, Mrs. E. P. Harling, Cliff Stratton, and W. R. Browning. It was decided that if the new drive is to be named, the other drives about the campus should be named in honor of distinguished K. S. A. C. graduates.

AS PER FRANK CRANE

The Collegian suggests herewith a pleasant pastime for the between-semesters period which begins tomorrow.

This pleasant pastime is an inventory of your collegiate and personal resources and an investigation of your standing.

Nothing particularly new of course. Nearly every college paper runs such an editorial at the close of the first semester or the beginning of the second. It corresponds to the "Upward and Onward" editorial two columns wide, deeply indented and heavily leaded, and placed at the top of columns two and three on the front page of every well regulated newspaper in the virile middle west on the morning of January 1.

The first day of the second semester is the college New Year's Day, and resolutions concerning the turning of a new leaf in the personal ledger are apropos—that is, if you believe in resolutions.

However, if you trail along with the writer in the belief that resolutions were invented by self-made martyrs and are of little use to the average candid student who admits his own shortcomings, you can still derive a little benefit from a personal inventory.

Some things you discover in the personal stock probably will prove a little disquieting, and others will be a source of pride. A frank examination of habits formed, acquaintances made, and things accomplished the past semester will be of benefit to you. You'll come to know yourself a little better.

An acquaintance with one's own self is comparatively rare in the present era of over-organized college life.

BEYOND THE HILL

Kansas university coeds have "only half a chance" of marrying their college sweethearts, according to reports of marriages in the ranks of the alumni and student body and public at the alumni office recently.

Five bachelors willing to undertake to be judges for the coed beauty contest were not to be found on the Ohio State campus. This necessitated the use of married men on the list.

Plans are now being worked out whereby Colorado university will establish a news service by wireless between that school and the University of Utah.

The Purdue Exponent is running a series of articles dealing with the history and early traditions of Purdue university.

The R. O. T. C. cadets and the Girls' rifle battalion of the University of Illinois are competing in rifle shooting. The scores made by both teams are about equal.

Fifty per cent of the students at Magill university (Canada) are actively engaged in athletics according to late statistics.

Early in May the School of Hygiene at John Hopkins university will send out an expedition of scientists to study the Eskimos.

The school of business administration at Boston university recently voted to exclude coeds from that department. The reason given was that their presence took the minds of the men off their work.

Students who take drill at Iowa State and check out uniforms must give bond for their return.

Wharton school of the University of Pennsylvania has abolished final examinations.

The "Increased Production of Farm Dollars" program of Farm and Home week will make the expense of coming to Manhattan during the week of February 6 to 11 one of the most profitable of farm investments.

And Even at That They Didn't Seem So Much Worried

"How d'you like the new exam schedule, Jessie?"

"Oh, it's all right if you like to work, I guess. What d'you think of it?"

"It 'ud suit me just fine if some of those profs. would use a little discretion, but they don't. They have the idea, goodness knows where they got it, but nevertheless they have it, that the S. S. G. A. formulated this plan for their express benefit. They have it figured that it's a good way to get even with the poor kids for all the mean things, such as cuts and slumber parties in class, which they have done throughout the semester. Well, here goes to kill another two hour nightmare. That old boy knows how to give 'em, too."

"G'bye, Geraldine. Don't overwork your brain. It's soft, you know, from disuse, and easily fatigued. It'll get used to the strain, though, if this schedule becomes a permanent event. G'bye."

Miss Eleanor Watson left Tuesday morning for her home in El Dorado, where she will spend a week with her parents.

Two weeks to Farm and Home week.

What Is Research?

SUPPOSE that a stove burns too much coal for the amount of heat that it radiates. The manufacturer hires a man familiar with the principles of combustion and heat radiation to make experiments which will indicate desirable changes in design. The stove selected as the most efficient is the result of research.

Suppose that you want to make a ruby in a factory—not a mere imitation, but a real ruby, indistinguishable by any chemical or physical test from the natural stone. You begin by analyzing rubies chemically and physically. Then you try to make rubies just as nature did, with the same chemicals and under similar conditions. Your rubies are the result of research—research of a different type from that required to improve the stove.

Suppose, as you melted up your chemicals to produce rubies and experimented with high temperatures, you began to wonder how hot the earth must have been millions of years ago when rubies were first crystallized, and what were the forces at play that made this planet what it is. You begin an investigation that leads you far from rubies and causes you to formulate theories to explain how the earth, and, for that matter, how the whole solar system was created. That would be research of a still different type—pioneering into the unknown to satisfy an insatiable curiosity.

Research of all three types is conducted in the Laboratories of the General Electric Company. But it is the third type of research—pioneering into the unknown—that means most, in the long run, even though it is undertaken with no practical benefit in view.

At the present time, for example, the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company are exploring matter with X-rays in order to discover not only how the atoms in different substances are arranged but how the atoms themselves are built up. The more you know about a substance, the more you can do with it. Some day this X-ray work will enable scientists to answer more definitely than they can now the question: Why is iron magnetic? And then the electrical industry will take a great step forward, and more real progress will be made in five years than can be made in a century of experimenting with existing electrical apparatus.

You can add wings and stories to an old house. But to build a new house, you must begin with the foundation.

STUDENTS ISSUE TOPEKA CAPITAL

AGGIE JOURNALISTS PUBLISH
MONDAY'S PAPER

Is Kansas Day Number—Thirteen
Students to Make Trip

The students in industrial journalism are to become professional journalists—for a day at least. The management of the Topeka Capital has invited the Aggie Press club to publish the Kansas Day edition of the Topeka Daily Capital.

Kansas Day will be celebrated Monday, January 30, and the students' work will appear in Tuesday morning's paper. On Monday the annual Republican banquet will be held and the Woman's Kansas Day club will meet. The students will act as reporters to cover these events and also to get the city news.

Besides reporting, the students will assist in editing the editorial feature page. The story of the development of Kansas which has been written by the class in feature writing will appear in Sunday's edition.

Those who have signified their intention of going to Topeka are Morse Salisbury, Alan Daily, Elizabeth Dickens, Edith Abbott, Harold Hobbs, Homer Bryson, Alice Padelford, F. E. Charles, Grace Justin, W. C. Pratt, Edith Haines, Maurice Laine, C. R. Smith, D. D. Ballou, S. C. Swenson, Velma Lawrence, and H. E. Monroe. It is hoped that a number of other students of the department will find it possible to go.

EXAM SCHEDULE NOT YET PROVED

SEVERAL YEARS NECESSARY FOR TRIAL, FACULTY BELIEVE

System Was Tried Here Under Three Term Plan—Took Too Much Time

The new schedule for examinations will not be a proved success till it has been tried for two or three years but at the present time it is showing up very favorably according to Dean J. T. Willard. Many, especially the students, say the new system should be kept, while others say that it is a waste of time. In general, members of the faculty are not willing to express an opinion either way until the system has been given a longer trial here. It has proved a success in most of the larger institutions and has found favor with the students as well as the faculty.

The plan was tried here about 10 years ago when the year was divided into three semesters a year but it was discarded after a year's trial on the grounds that it took too much time for each term; but now with two semesters less time is lost. Probably the most popular feature with students is the extra amount of time given to getting up back work and preparing for the final plunge. If the faculty like the plan after it has been tried for several years it will be established permanently.

Miss Hyde, vice chairman of the Kansas section of the Mathematics Association of America, gave a paper before that body January 21, on the subject "Standardized Tests in Algebra and Geometry."

Goats Help Aggie Student Make His College Expenses

One student is planning to make part of his college expenses by running a goat dairy. He is H. G. Burt, a vocational student.

"Goat milk is in great demand for infants and invalids, because it is so easily digested," Burt said. "The fat globules in goats' milk are much smaller than those in cows' milk. Goats' milk can be digested in 20 minutes, because of certain digestive enzymes it contains. It can be produced at a cost of six and two-tenths cents a gallon, while the cost of producing one gallon of cow's milk is eight and two-tenths cents. Alfalfa hay and grain furnish a complete ration for goats, and eight can be kept for the cost of keeping one cow."

Mr. Burt gets forty cents a quart for the milk of the goats, but cows' milk is worth only 12 or 15 cents a quart. He keeps several goats here, which supply his family and several neighbors with milk. He has a ranch near Garden City, where he keeps 23 does. Eleven of them produce four quarts or more of milk per day. Mr. Burt is studying genetics with the object of breeding so as to produce a predominance of females that will furnish from four to six quarts of milk a day.

ARTISTS SERIES CLOSED MONDAY

WALTER GREENE AND FRANCES
NASH PRESENT PROGRAM

Audience Is Small but Appreciative of Work of Two Artists

The closing number of the 1921-1922 Artists' Series was presented in the auditorium last Monday evening, January 23. Frances Nash, pianist, and Walter Greene, baritone, gave a very delightful program featured by the wide variety of the selections.

The audience, although rather small, was more appreciative than at any other concert of the series. Both artists established themselves in the hearts of those present as among the foremost musicians who ever appeared at K. S. A. C. Every group of numbers was so totally different from the preceding group that at no time did the entertainment drag. It was enjoyable from beginning to end.

Mr. Greene's singing was characterized by his wonderful range of voice and even placement of tones, which enabled him to sing the most difficult songs with ease. The group of French songs including "J'ai encor un tel pite," by Adam de la Hale, "Chazet chant d'amour," by Wekerlin, and "Chanson Espagnole," by Georges, was probably his best and most effective work. Two lighter and more popular songs, "Scandalize my name," and Francis Moore's "The Promised Land," were also particularly good. The former was especially well liked by the audience.

The ease and grace with which she commanded her instrument, and her extraordinary ability to keep the theme dominant even in the most difficult variations, were the features of Miss Nash's playing. List's "Polonaise" and a group of light numbers including Debussy's "Clair de Lune" and "Dance of the Elves" by Sapelnikoff were her most enjoyable selections.

Miss Elsie Smith of the department of music accompanied Mr. Greene.

Wisconsin Studes Give 'Inside Dope' on Modern College Life

An intimate view of college student life, compiled from 400,000 answers in 3,500 questionnaires, is presented in "The Wisconsin Mirror," an article in the January "Commerce Magazine" published by the students of the University of Wisconsin; and in 30 tables in the magazine office.

As questionnaires, carrying about 60 questions each, were submitted to 7,500 students, and about half of them were answered, the survey is said to be the largest ever conducted in an American university. Some of its high lights are:

Concerning best age for marriage, freshman girls prefer the age of 22, while senior girls suggest 27. About 30 per cent prefer marriage after 25. Some 250 never expect to marry. Among the men, only 14 per cent think of marriage before 26; 75 per cent between 26 and 30; and 10 per cent after 35.

As to income necessary for marriage, one girl in 10 would marry on $2,000 a year; one in three on $2,500; one in five on $3,000; one in seven asks $5,000; and 10 per cent ask more. Among the men, 33 per cent say $2,000; 22 per cent say $2,500; 17 per cent say $3,000; 11 per cent say $4,000; and 10 per cent say $5,000.

More than 12,000 letters are written home by students each week; and 500,000 during the school year. Girls write most.

The average student, either man or woman, knows less than 250 of his 7,500 college mates. About 30 per cent of the men, and about 10 per cent of the women disapprove of coeducation. Almost 3,000 know no professors outside of class, and 95 per cent would like to know more professors.

Some 96 per cent of the sorority girls and 86 per cent of the fraternity men go to dances, while only 66 per cent of the non-sorority girls and 64 per cent of the non-fraternity men do so. Those enjoying social engagements during the week include: sorority women, 62 per cent; non-sorority women, 30 per cent; fraternity men, 51 per cent; non-fraternity men, 39 per cent. Sorority women average 5.6 dances a month; non-sorority average 4.5 dances. Social affairs cost the social lions among the men students about $25 a month, while the average men students spend about $15. The very popular coeds spend very little, while other girls spend from $12 to $15 a month on amusements.

Less than half of the university men smoke. The number ranges from 46 per cent in the freshman year to 55 per cent in the senior year, showing that few learn it in college. About one girl in 10 admits that she has smoked.

On total college expenses, 35 per cent of the men, and 20 per cent of the women spend less than $75 a month. About 25 per cent spend more than $100, and half of these more than $125. For room and board, half the students spend less than $50 a month; others more. For clothes, half the men spend less than $15 a month, and only 10 per cent over $50; half the girls spend between $25 and $50, with 25 per cent exceeding $50.

About one-fourth of the men and one-tenth of the women are earning all or part of their college expenses.

In newspapers, 99 per cent read cartoons, 6,000 read the sport page, less than a third read features, and one-fifth read book reviews.

About 96 per cent of the girls aim at "service" in after life; 60 per cent seek wealth. Eight per cent of the men seek fame; the rest, average accomplishment.

About 1,500 students are children of farmers; 4,000 of business men; 1,500 of professional men. Three-fourths come from cities or towns under 60,000, but only one-fourth plan to return to small towns and cities. More than 5,000 desire to go to large cities. Between 20 and 55 per cent of the upperclass men and women have after-college jobs in prospect.

Half the men and more than half the women vote that they are not getting enough out of college.

New Stairs Add a Positive Element to Aggie Progress

A new element of certainty has been added to the upward progress of the K. S. A. C. student. For who is there that at some conspicuous moment in his college career has not fallen? Yes, Anderson's old steps long since ceased to be respectful of persons. You remember the day; the crowd, the crash and the cruel cackling.

Future Aggies are to encounter no such obstacles. Their upward advancement is to be unimpeded, for Anderson has a new flight of stairs, made of smooth hard oak. Those who seek the heights need no longer fear the unseen foe. From now on the Aggie student will be enabled to stand on his feet, as it were.

AGGIE FOURTH ESTATERS PUT OUT CAPITAL

HELP REGULAR STAFF WITH TUESDAY'S ISSUE

A DAY OF MUCH EXCITEMENT

Regular Beats and Assignments were Covered on the Topeka Daily—Kansas Day Meeting Featured

Twenty Aggie Journalists had a chance to get a real taste of metropolitan newspaper work on Monday, January 29, when they went to Topeka to help put out the Kansas Day issue of the Topeka Daily Capital. The students were given beats and assignments to cover the various meetings and general activities of the city just the same as the veteran reporters on the Capital.

Many interesting things took place which were noted by those students who made the trip. The high spots of the day's experience follow in short paragraphs.

Aggie Bombshells From Topeka
It was a false rumor started by Donald David Ballou, art editor of the Brown Bull and notorious K. S. A. C. artist, that caused several of our alma mater's aspiring journalists to attempt to ride on the Topeka street cars for six cents.

Edith Haines displayed her metropolitan sophistication when she asked of the street car conductor, "Do I leave my money here?"

Spencer Takes the Prize

While interviewing one of the prominent politicians of the state, Harold Spencer registered a knock-out by drawing from his pocket a neatly folded handkerchief handsomely embroidered with the inscription "Victory Lunch."

"Spence" came in for honorable mention again when he gave a dish of spaghetti the o. o. and remarked that he couldn't make up his mind which end of the string to commence on.

Seven forty-five is pretty early in the morning for journalism students during vacation. To prove our statements we quote facts. The following K. S. A. C. gentlemen took breakfast in Topeka, last Monday morning: Morse Salisbury, C. R. Smith, and Homer G. Bryson.

Dailey a Veteran

Alan Dailey spent an enjoyable half hour chatting with Mr. George Snow, maniac candidate for governor.

Dailey scored again when he told a distinguished gentleman that he was reporting for the Capital and desired an interview. The d. g. casually remarked that he was Tom McNeal (of Capper publications) and that he would be glad to interview him any time as his office was just next door to that of the reporters.

Salisbury Is No Scamman

There's no denying that Morse Salisbury is a good reporter, but he'll never be able to ride the dashing waves worth shucks. Every time the street car that took the bunch to the Capital office, started, Morse, who had to stand up, reeled like a land lubber and bowed over every man who was unfortunate enough to be standing behind him.

H. C. Spencer, either fearing a dearth of news, or intending by underhanded methods to capture a howling scoop, frisked some trainman's pocket for a torpedo signal on the way down to Topeka. His ardor soon cooled, however, and at last reports the only thing he wanted to do with his torpedo was lose it.

In an exciting and close race with the 8:07 Union Pacific, coming to Manhattan Monday night, Velma Lawrence caught her toe on a switch lever and reclined with some abruptness on the none too "cushionery" gravel. That incident was the one disappointment of the trip. It was dark, and all of the bunch had been hoping that something like that would happen up town during the day.

Prof. Davis Does Family Wash
Every now and then a true martyr to duty is found, and the latest discovery is Prof. H. W. Davis. Despite an almost overpowering longing to go down to Topeka and get in everybody's road like the rest of the Aggie journalists he had to surrender to the dictates of his wife and stay home and help with the washing.

It is only fair to C. R. Smith to make the more or less cryptic statement that if it hadn't been for certain restraining influences he would have been the unsuspecting victim of a deep dark plot. "We have spoke."—The Dirty Doers.

Raising Roosters vs. Politics

Politics was not the only subject discussed at the noonday Pioneer luncheon of the Native Sons and Daughters at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Edith Haines, who was reporting the meeting, overheard one of the feminine feasters conversing with her neighbor. "And then you can raise your own roosters!"

Keith Clevenger, formerly a familiar figure around Manhattan and president of the Native Sons of Kansas (Concluded on page three)

KANSAS PAPERS ENTER CONTEST

MUST BE UNDER 5,000 CIRCULATION TO ENTER

Publications Will Be Judged Farm and Home Week—Are Two Classes

The newspaper contest which is to be held in connection with Farm and Home week is creating much interest among the papers of Kansas. Any newspaper with a circulation of less than 5,000 is permitted to enter the contest. The papers will be divided into two classes; weekly papers in one class and daily papers in another.

Three awards will be given in each class for the following things: the best front page make-up; the best handling of community news; and the best handling of agricultural news. A special award will be given for the best advance story of Farm and Home week. The judges will be: John T. Frederick, editor of the Midland, Iowa City, Iowa; H. J. Waters, editor of the Weekly Kansas City Star; and one other judge not yet secured.

ORATORS TO TRY OUT FOR VALLEY

EIGHT WILL COMPETE IN AUDITORIUM THIS EVENING

All Public Speaking Classes Attend—Judges Are Business Men and Faculty

The tryout to select a representative to the Missouri Valley Oratorical contest will be held in the auditorium tonight. All persons who have enrolled in any course in public speaking for the second semester must attend the tryout.

Probably eight persons will compete to be the college orator. These include several of the literary society representatives in the Inter-society Oratorical contest which will be held February 25. The tryout contest will be judged by seven persons, three of whom are business men, and four college faculty members. The judges will be H. W. Brewer, R. P. Evans, John McClung, Dr. J. E. Kammerer, Grace Hesse, Prof. Eric Englund, and Dr. H. H. King.

Any person expecting to compete in the tryout should hand his name to Dr. Howard T. Hill by Wednesday noon. A probable list of contestants are Thornton J. Manry, Charles W. Howard, T. O. Garringer, Paul McConnell, Paul Root, J. Wheeler Barger, Grace Herr, Claramary Smith, and Danold Ibach.

Persons enrolled in public speaking courses should turn their names in to ushers at the door so they will receive credit for attendance. The contest is open to the public and those in charge expect a large attendance.

Hamburg King Has Now Located Near South Campus Gate

"Did you know that the new cafeteria has been finished?" said the wise frosh to a brother student.

"No—since when? Last I saw of it they had the foundation almost done. Saw it this morning, too, on my way to an 8 o'clock class. You must have been out last night and asleep this morning when you came in the south entrance to the campus. You just dreamed that the cafeteria was standing there."

"Dream nothing, boy! I bought a hamburger and ate it there."

"Say! What did you have to drink? Been violating the Volstead act?"

"Not at all. Come with me and I'll show you the wonderful new feeding facility—constructed for the sole benefit of hungry K. S. A. C. students. This way please."

It stands by the gate at the south entrance. It used to stand at Fifth and Poyntz. The wonderful new cafeteria.

Did someone sting you with this joke, too—or weren't you one of the suckers that bit?

Interclass Track Meet Saturday Night

The indoor track schedule will be formally opened Saturday night at 7:30 when the four classes will tangle for honors in the Annual Indoor Interclass Track meet. This event usually creates considerable excitement among Aggie track followers because in it is frequently discovered some "dark horse" which has escaped the notice of the coaches. The Interclass is really a tryout meet for the selection of the Varsity team for the indoor season and brings out some real fights for individual honors because of the competition for places.

The events scheduled are: 30 yard dash, 30 yard low and high hurdles, quarter mile, half mile, one mile, and two mile runs, high jump, pole vault, shot put, and a half-mile relay.

Every man in college is eligible for this meet. At present it looks like a tough battle between the sophomore and junior classes, but there is the ever present prospect of a bunch of freshman material that had not been counted on. The seniors are in the minority and are hardly expected to figure strongly in the percentages. The relay which will consist of four heats of 220 yards each promises to be a lively affair. Coaches Bachman and Watson have some promising material which they will present to the public that night.

Professor Crawford of the Journalism department, will serve as one of the judges of the stunt contest to be held on anniversary day at Washburn college, February 6.

Hamburg Kings Go; Cafeterias Arise; But Mess Hall Runs On

Whether it takes but a few sips of pink tea, a wafer or two, and a piece of butterscotch pie to gratify your appetite, or whether your nutritive demands include the more substantial products of the culinary art, there is no excuse for you to go hungry at the Kansas State Agricultural college.

For those equipped with over-sized appetites, or those who still retain a lingering liking for the dough-boy existence, the college maintains a special eating place. Besides the college cafeteria which caters to the students and faculty, the college maintains another eating place for the less elite in one of the mess halls used by the 1,200 student soldiers stationed at the institution in 1918.

Probably at no other place are the barracks of war time being utilized to better advantage than at the agricultural college. Since demobilization each of the six government buildings has been put to peace time work. One of the structures is now used as a tractor laboratory for the engineering students, one is used for a work shop, another is used as a locker room, parts of some are used for storage purposes, and still another which was formerly a mess hall is now used for class recitation work. The lower floor of the latter, where the student soldiers were fed, still is run much the same as in the

AGGIES MIX UP WITH MISSOURI BASKETSQUADS

LEAVE THURSDAY FOR COLUMBIA AND WASHINGTON

WILDCATS HOLDING M. U. JINX

Farmers Have Spoiled Two Seasons for Tigers—Dope Favors Locals in Piker Game by Virtue of Victory Here

Next Thursday nine Aggie cagers and Coach Curtis will entrain from Manhattan for an invasion into Missouri territory. The first game will be played Friday night with the valley leaders, the Missouri Tigers, who have not been defeated this season. Saturday the Wildcats will tangle with the Washington Pikers at St. Louis.

Missouri Game Is Friday

When the Wildcats and Tigers mix on Friday there is going to be lots of fur flying in the ozone and not all of it will be coming from the backs of the fighting Wildcats. The battle cry of the Aggies, when they go into the Missouri fray, will be: "Who spoiled your record in the last two seasons?"

One Piker Scalp This Year

After the Missouri engagement the Wildcats will march into the Piker camp with wild craving to add another Piker scalp to the belt of the Aggie warriors. The first Piker meat was tasted when the Aggies cleaned them 28 to 18 on the home court during the first part of the season.

GENE LYONS DECIDES ROOKIES NEED PACE TO HANG COLORS

Memorial Flag Pole Is Result of His Decision

The class of 1920 is erecting a large flag pole in the square just north of Nichols gymnasium. It seems that Gene Lyons, who was chairman of the 1920 memorial committee, has been wondering just what to do to get rid of the painful responsibility of watching a few hundred dollars entrusted to his tender care by said class. In his wanderings it came to his notice that the rookies had not a place to hang the colors while practicing the niceties of reveille and retreat, so he said Mr. Lyons has taken the necessary measures to relieve the difficulty.

The flag pole will be dedicated by General Harbord during his visit to the college.

NORA CORBET GETS APPOINTED TO FELLOWSHIP IN N. Y. CITY

Graduate of '21 Has Been Working at Cole's

Miss Nora Corbet who graduated in home economics, class of '21, and who has been employed at Cole's store in Manhattan has been appointed to a fellowship in the New York school of Retailing, which is a division of the New York university.

The purpose of this school is to give a degree in Retailing and to fit the students so that they can instruct. The New York school of retailing is financed by 25 of the largest department stores in New York City.

COUNTY CLUB A BOOSTING BUNCH

AGGIES ADVERTISED COLLEGE DURING VACATION TIME

Bucked Zero Weather and Bad Roads to Visit High Schools

What eighteen members of the Rice county club composed of students at the college did for K. S. A. C. during the holidays is told by the Lyons Daily News.

"The first publicity drive of the county by the Kansas State Agricultural college was put on Friday by some 18 members of the Rice county club of K. S. A. C.

"Although the mercury was flirting with zero the Aggie students met at the Lyons high school, and went to Sterling. The programs at these two places consisted of short talks of what the college is and what each division is like, and how any one interested can get information about the school.

"From Sterling they went to Alden, Bushton, Geneseo, and Little River. At these places the program consisted of a fair imitation of a typical Aggie hike, a few songs, and yells. Literature was left at each school. Although the roads were somewhat rough the trip of some 80 miles or more was completed with little trouble.

"The success of this drive was due to a great extent to the cooperation of the superintendents of the high schools visited.

"Those participating in the drive were Lola Thompson, president; Allice Marston, Mabel Vincent, Mae Connery, Belle Bush, Georgiana Bush, Guy Olden, George Bush, Fred Smith, Edgar Davis, Wayne Blackhull, Sylvester Case, and Mr. Heater."

ILLINOIS ADOPTS HOLCOMBE PLAN

WILL USE DRAMATIC COURSE AS CREDIT WORK

Course at K. S. A. C. Has Been Open to Purple Masque

Another member of the K. S. A. C. faculty has won recognition by another school. Prof. Ray Holcombe of the public speaking department, is to have his plan for a course in dramatic productions copied by the University of Illinois. This course was offered last semester to members of Purple Masque. Many took advantage of the opportunity to learn some of the technicalities of the stage.

The course gave special training to those who were coaching one act plays. Professor Holcombe took up the work of producing plays from the mechanical, technical, and artistic standpoints. The effects of different kinds of lightings and settings were considered, and the attainment of a stage voice and dramatic force were discussed. Dramatic situations were especially emphasized and in the next semester's work, Professor Holcombe expects to take up these various phases more in detail.

Since the course was limited to members of Purple Masque no credit was given, but the University of Illinois expects to make this course, as outlined by Professor Holcombe, a credit course in their public speaking department.

WAINWRIGHT WILL SPEAK AT DEDICATION

ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF WAR HERE WITH HARBORD

SERVICES TOMORROW AT 10:30

Exercises To Be in Morning—President Jardine To Give Luncheon for Honored Guests at Noon

Speakers at the dedication of K. S. A. C.'s new 100-foot flag pole, to be held at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning in the auditorium will be Major General James G. Harbord and Colonel J. M. Wainwright, assistant secretary of war. Major General Harbord, General Pershing's chief of staff and probably K. S. A. C.'s greatest alumnus, wants Major Terrell, head of the college military department, to make it distinctly understood that his talk will be in no way formal. First, second, and third hour classes will meet with shortened schedules.

Inspect U. S. Military Posts

Harbord and Wainwright are at present making an inspection tour of all the military posts in the United States. They have been at Fort Riley since January 31 and will arrive here tomorrow morning. While here General Harbord will visit his mother, Mrs. Effie Harbord, a resident of Manhattan.

President Jardine will give a luncheon in the home economics building at noon tomorrow in honor of the two distinguished guests. Among others who will be guests are Major General Omar Bundy, commanding officer of Fort Crook; Lieutenant Colonel C. H. Muller of Fort Crook, chief of the seventh corps R. O. T. C. in which K. S. A. C. is located; Major General Malin Craig, commanding officer of Fort Riley, and Colonel J. S. Winn, commander of the Second cavalry of Fort Riley.

Flag Pole 100 Feet High

The flag pole, for which the chief ceremonies are being held, is a 100 foot steel shaft. It is a gift of the class of 1920 which will be represented by a graduate of that year, E. S. Lyons, now an instructor in agronomy at the college. Short dedicatory exercises will be held in the quadrangle.

While Major General Harbord is here a movement may be launched to name the new college drive "Harbord Way." The plan is now in the hands of a committee composed of Cliff Stratton, Dean J. T. Willard, and Prof. Albert Dickens.

EXTENSION WORKERS ATTEND CONGRESS OF FARM WOMEN

Miss Batchelor and Miss Sequist Talk at Emporia

Miss Ellen Batchelor, assistant home demonstration agent leader, and Miss Minnie Sequist, extension specialist in clothing, attended the Farm Women's Congress at the Kansas State Normal school at Emporia, January 24 and 25. Miss Sequist gave a demonstration on the making of a dress and Miss Batchelor gave a talk supplementing the four reel film, "The Home Demonstration Agent."

The farm women of Lyons county, of which Emporia is the county seat, are so much interested in placing a home demonstration agent in the county that they are helping to finance the farm bureau this year.

YOU HAD BETTER PLAY A LITTLE

If you think that the success of the world rests upon your shoulders remember that success to the individual means everything and to the world it means nothing. If you think that your pet organization cannot run without you then it is time for you to drop out a year. When you begin to take yourself too seriously then you had better spend a couple dimes and go to the movies or dance a while.

DID HARBORD EVER THINK IT?

We wonder if Major General Harbord looked ahead to the time when he might come back to his alma mater as one of its most distinguished favorite sons.

THE PROBLEMS OF COLLEGE CITIZENSHIP

One of the biggest questions in the regulation and government of the college community is whether the student's life and activities shall be in accordance with the rules and specifications of the faculty or whether it shall be for students either individually or collectively to make rules for their own guidance. It is probably due largely to the American tradition of self-government and independence that the modern trend in student affairs is to make students themselves responsible for their rules of conduct. This in effect is to make the college community a laboratory course in citizenship, which if taken intelligently, will mean a heightened sense of the duties and privileges of citizenship to the student when he goes out into the world of practical activity.

As a man enters an educational institution it is usually with a rather general lack of knowledge. As a first year man enters upon his career he is astonished at what he finds. He holds his instructors in a sort of religious reverence. To him, seniors are the last mark of distinction. He seldom recognizes the average man because he is continually noticing the men who seem above him in intellectual ability, the men whose magnetic influence and force of character make them the pace-setters of the college population. The successful men of the college community are not only those who have a good scholastic standing. They must be clear thinkers, and broad minded men who know how to meet and mingle with the people of their every day existence. The technical side of education will tend to drop away, but in acquiring that technical knowledge we are learning the two fundamental requirements of a valuable citizen, to think clearly and act intelligently. Through this process of thinking and acting comes the force of character and self confidence which everyone admires in a man.

The two most outstanding hindrances to good college citizenship are indolence and self-interest. Indolence causes so many mediocre men to drift aimlessly through four years of college life. It is from this level of intellect that the snob comes. He is the man who lacks the foresight to see the value of any viewpoint beyond that of his own immediate circle. The worthlessness of this type of individual is often only intensified by a college education.

The second hindrance, that of self-interest, may often be found in a man of great intellectual ability. He may be a man of large ambitions and with the technical and professional ability to fulfill these ambitions. But if in his desire for attainment he fails to work with his associates in college for the mutual benefit of the whole community he is a man who will in all probability go through life friendless and alone except in so far as the world requires the services of an efficient machine.

The ideal in the college citizenship is one who can strike a judicial balance between scholastic attainment and college activities, one who can look forward without neglecting the work of the moment, one who has personal ambitions without egotism, and one who can pull with team work as well as individually. In following out these principles the college student will find himself forging ahead with the leadership which shall continue and expand long after the time of his graduation.

Jack Rubensyne of the civil engineering department was called to his home in Chicago last week by the critical illness of his mother.

Dr. Howard T. Hill will read Browning's poem, Saul, at the next meeting of the Riley County Daughters of the American Revolution.

MARVIN JORDAN, FORMERLY IN K. S. A. C., DIES FROM TYPHOID

Was Attending University of Colorado at Boulder

Friends of the A. M. Jordan family, formerly of Manhattan, recently received word of the death of Marvin Jordan, a former student of K. S. A. C., at Boulder, Col., on January 20 as a result of typhoid fever.

Marvin had been in poor physical condition for some months, and the family moved to Boulder from Manhattan with the hope that the change of climate might improve his health. His constitution had been so weakened by the months of ill health that he was unable to resist a serious disease.

The Jordans are well known in and about Manhattan, having farmed north of the city for a number of years. Marvin attended the country school near his home, and later high school in Manhattan, from which he graduated in 1920. Last year he was a student at K. S. A. C., during the fall semester, but a nervous breakdown caused him to leave school in January. Hoping to improve both Marvin's and his mother's health the family moved to Colorado in the summer. Marvin was 20 years of age, and a student of the University of Colorado at Boulder at the time of his death.

Dr. Howard T. Hill will speak before the County Institute at Chapman February 23.

O. I. Gruber of the music department, was called to his home at Clayton, Ill., last week by the sudden death of his father.

AGGIE FOURTH ESTATERS PUT OUT CAPITAL

was made this rather startling statement at the luncheon. "Kansas has raised much hell, but more wheat."

Bryson and Dalley Get Religion

Homer Bryson and Alan Dalley have decided to swear off smoking cigarettes, shooting craps, and all other criminal habits. They took a peep in the Bull Pen at the Topeka police station, and seemed to think the class of the inmates was rather below them. The rest of the bunch was too tired to express their opinions on this subject, so no hard feelings were created.

When Harold Hobbs came back from his beat for lunch he acted so reserved and aloof and was so altogether unlike his usual flighty self that one of the bunch finally screwed up enough nerve to ask if there was anything the matter. At this Harold drew himself up haughtily, looked us over disdainfully for a minute and then replied "No, nothing."

But Harold gave it away when he afterwards condescended to confide his experience to Homer Bryson. Mr. Hobbs had been introduced to Cave Mulvane, big Republican boss of the state, and had been riding around the city in Mr. Mulvane's electric. No more explanations were asked of Harold. The bunch felt that his aloofness had been explained satisfactorily.

Miss Justin Enjoyed It

Grace Justin was assigned to interview the two women candidates for governor, neither of whom, apparently, was in the city. After several futile attempts to locate the women, she rushed into the Capital office and exclaimed breathlessly, "Well, I can't find anybody, and I can't get anything—but oh, I'm having the best time!"

Morse Salisbury and Cliff Stratton achieved a real thrill at the Kansas Day club luncheon, when they stood up as the governor entered. They were the only ones who showed the state official such respect. Cliff got away with it by bowing to the crowd, but Morse claims the distinction of being the first one down.

Students Have Professional Form

The Aggie bunch had heard that all real Capital reporters used the stairs, never the elevator. In this one respect at least the Manhattan students were able to achieve the professional attitude.

At the meeting of the Woman's Kansas Day club the banquet tickets automatically made one a voting member. When the ballots for president of the club were being collected, one woman at the rear of the hall piped up with "I have an extra banquet ticket I bought for a friend who can't be here. May I vote twice?"

A pioneer club woman sitting in front of Edith Abbott turned to the girls and said confidentially, "Now girls I just hope you won't put that in the paper. It's 'greenies' like that who make fools of women in politics."

Elizabeth Wants Woman's Day Club
Elizabeth Dickens who was one of the students assigned to cover the meetings of the Woman's Kansas Day club was much impressed, apparently, with the importance of the proceedings, for throughout her copy she insisted on referring to the meeting as that of the Kansas Woman's Day club.

C. R. Smith severely jarred his newly acquired reportorial dignity when on descending the steps of the Capitol building he caught his right foot in the cuff of his left trouser leg and staged an extremely acrobatic recovery—right in front of a bunch of real reporters, too.

Hotte Electric Co.

For fourteen years, M. J. Hotte, proprietor of the Hotte Electric Shop at 421 Poyntz Avenue, has been introducing modern electrical necessities and conveniences into Manhattan and Riley county homes. When he first opened up an electrical shop here the city had already become users of electricity, but the people had not become thoroughly familiar with its uses. Nor was there the endless variety of labor and time saving devices then on the market that we find today.

"Fifty per cent of the homes and business places," says Mr. Hotte, "were using electricity for light. Many at this time considered its use a luxury. It is true that the college had a great influence in demonstrating its possibilities of usefulness at that time. In many other cities of similar size its use was not so general as in this. Today, at least ninety per cent of the buildings here are lighted by electric current, and it has a wide use for power and heat as well."

The growth of the Hotte Electric Shop is almost a story of the development of the common use of electricity here, and of the introduction of modern fixtures and devices. For today, in place of merely installing the wiring and lights, this shop is placing electric washing machines, irons, curling irons, (some with marcel wave attachment) vibrators, cleaners, footwarmers, toasters, heaters, and even electric stoves, and dishwashing machines. Then, there is an improvement in the quality of the light furnished through the Mazda globes which this store offers the public. Further improvement and convenience in lighting has been brought about through the use of shade lamps, student lamps, and chandeliers, with both direct and indirect lighting.

This shop has had no small part in placing many of these conveniences and necessities in Manhattan homes. Many of the homes have been wired by this shop. Mr. Hotte offers a stock which includes every electrical article, many of which we now consider as absolutely necessary. Much household drudgery has been done away with here, through the services of such appliances. Many homes have been made more comfortable in this way.

The business future for dealers in electrical equipment seems bright. Electricity, the great blessing of our age, is destined to a place of steadily increasing importance in our industrial and domestic life. Much has been accomplished in late years that has widened the sphere of usefulness for electricity, but who knows what may still be left to do? There are wide fields left as yet practically untouched, and these are the future of electrical development.

The judges for the evening are as follows: President W. M. Jardine, honorary referee; Dr. W. E. Muldoon, referee and starter; Ray Watson, clerk of the course; Major F. B. Terrell, Prof. H. W. Davis, Prof. J. V. Cortelyou and Prof. R. W. Conover, judges of the finish; Prof. J. O. Hamilton, Dr. H. H. King, Dean E. L. Holton and Prof. R. I. Throckmorton, timers; Dean R. A. Seaton and Prof. H. T. Hill, field judges in the pole vault and high jump; O. H. Burns and Captain C. N. Jackson, judges in broad jump; Cliff Stratton and Prof. F. A. Smutz, judges in shot put; Sergeant Comiskey, official scorer; and Dr. L. R. Brady, announcer.

With the return of Hollis Hope and Charles Kuykendall the followers of track have shaken off their doubts as to the success of the coming season and are now wearing smiles of assurance. Hope is a demon at the hurdles, broad jump, and pole vault while Kuykendall makes all competitors face his dust storm in the distance runs.

Two Basketball Men Enroll

Aggie devotees of athletics will be pleased with the announcement that Bert Born and Linden Blazier, promising basketball men, from Moreland, have enrolled as freshmen in the college. Both men have played on the undefeated Moreland high school team this season. Born is not only a center of merit but one of length, measuring six feet seven inches when he is standing still and tipping the scales at 193 pounds when clothed in three pounds of basketball paraphernalia. Blazier is a promising forward, who measures one foot two inches less than his team-mate.

ROYAL PURPLE DATE EXTENDED

STAFF WILL REOPEN WINDOW NEXT WEEK

New Students May Have Pictures Taken—Books on Sale Till February 10

Requests from new students to have their pictures appear in the 1922 Royal Purple, have induced the staff of the Purple to deviate slightly from their original plans and reopen the window for picture assessments, Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, February 6, 7, and 8. This change in plans has further necessitated the postponement of the final date on which pictures may be taken till Saturday, February 11. Although this arrangement is for the accommodation of the new students, any of the old students may take advantage of it. The last day that class and organization pictures can be taken has been set for February 11.

In considering the percentage of students appearing with the class sections, the number this year is found to be below normal. Possibly through neglect or postponement, many students have overlooked it. The staff hopes that when the window closes at 5 o'clock Wednesday a far greater representation will be included in class sections.

Book sales are something over the 1,000 mark but a large number must yet be sold in order that the book may be bought at $4.50. The sale of 1,500 books is necessary to guarantee this price. Those who have reserved their copies may save fifty cents by selling books to their neighbors.

For the benefit of the new students, it might be said that the 1922 Royal Purple will be known as the historical number. This will mean the featuring of the different stages of the growth and development of the Kansas State Agricultural college and a history of the individual buildings and events incident to their erection. The annual diaries of the college organizations will also be opened and many events that even some of the grads did not know about will be exposed. The creating and building up of the high status of the present engineering division and the remarkable advancement of the greatest agricultural division in the world will each have its place. A thorough investigation is now under way so that no division or department will be overlooked and a correct review of the advancement of the whole college will be assembled between the covers of the 1922 Royal Purple.

The books may be purchased at the Royal Purple office across from the post office on the same days that the window is open for assessments.

MRS. HOLCOMBE NEW ASSISTANT

TO ASSIST IN PUBLIC SPEAKING DEPARTMENT THIS SEMESTER

New Faculty Member a Wisconsin Graduate—Taught in Iowa Last Year

The increased demands upon the public speaking department have made necessary the appointment of another full-time teacher. The place will be filled the second semester by Mrs. Ray E. Holcombe.

Mrs. Holcombe graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1920. While in the university she was prominent in dramatics, taking the leading part in several productions. She was head of the Women's Dramatic club her last two years in school. As recognition of her outstanding work, she was elected to membership in Pi Epsilon Delta dramatic fraternity.

Last year Mrs. Holcombe was an instructor in the public speaking department at the Iowa State college. She taught dramatic interpretation public speaking at Ames, recommended Mrs. Holcombe as an instructor of unusual ability and accomplishment.

Mrs. Holcombe will take up her duties in the public speaking department here the beginning of the second semester. She will teach classes in oral interpretation and story telling. Miss Fredricka Shattuck, head of the department of probably coach the girls in the Intersociety Oratorical contest.

O. H. Burns, formerly associate professor of English in the college, spent one day of last week in Manhattan. Mr. Burns resigned his position at the college last fall to accept a place as sales manager in the state of Missouri with the Great Northern Loan and Savings Trust company. He has spent the past three months establishing branch offices at different points in Missouri. After next week Mr. Burns expects to be located for a few weeks in Kansas City.

A "Dateless Women's club" has been formed at Cincinnati university. Its aim is to provide amusement for lonely women on Saturday nights. The rules for admission are very strict and once a member breaks a rule she is automatically dropped. All candidates must present credentials of four dates or under, and when one has had more than 10 dates she is promoted to the veterans or the "Daters' club."

Y. M. C. A. WILL DISCUSS ACTIVITIES FOR NEXT YEAR

Meeting Will Be February 6—Cherrington Here

The meeting of the Y. M. C. A. which was to be held February 2, at the "Y" building has been postponed until February 6, owing to the change in the date of General Harbord's visit.

There will be at this time a meeting of the board and cabinet and all committeemen together with the faculty advisors and anyone else interested in the Y. M. C. A. to discuss the plan of activities of the Y. The committees of the board will give reports of their activities. Such questions as "How can I make the organization of greater service on the campus and in the community?" and "Is it possible to cooperate more closely with the churches and other organizations?" will be discussed.

Ben. Cherrington, Rocky Mountain regional secretary, will be here for the meeting. Each cabinet member will be responsible for the presence of his committeemen and faculty advisor.

COLLEGE ORATOR IS J. W. BARGER

WILL REPRESENT K. S. A. C. IN MISSOURI VALLEY MEET

Howard Wins Second Place and Garbinger Third—Eight Entered

J. Wheeler Barger, senior in agricultural economics, was chosen Wednesday night in the tryouts to represent the college in the Missouri Valley Oratorical contest which will be held at St. Louis March 10. Eight persons entered the contest which was judged by four faculty members and two business men.

Mr. Barger's oration, "The Penalty of Progress," is the outgrowth of his last summer's experience and observation as a member of the Collegiate industrial research group which studied conditions in Colorado. He asserts that the industrial warfare which goes on today is largely the result of the parties of industry not understanding each other's point of view. Industrial cooperation is advocated as a solution.

Barger has been a member of three intercollegiate debating teams, and for the last two years has held the scholarship in debate awarded by the English department. He is a member of the Athenian literary society, Pi Kappa Delta forensic fraternity, Quill club, the Forum, and the Agricultural Economists' club. Mr. Barger is also student assistant in botany and president of the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Charles W. Howard won second place in the tryout and Mr. T. O. Garringer third place. The other contestants were Ted Bayer, Thornton J. Manry, Donald Ibach, Clara-mary Smith, and A. P. Wertman.

There will be no down town dances for the men at Emporia normal, according to an announcement by President Butcher of that institution. He states that the rule will be as rigidly enforced for men as it has been for women.

Final examinations have been abolished at Pennsylvania university. The faculty considers them an unfair measure of a student's ability.

Miss Christine Saunders left yesterday for her home in Amarillo, Tex. Miss Saunders will not be in school this semester.

J. W. Searson, formerly head of English at K. S. A. C., is visiting in Manhattan.

Mrs. Edward Fishback underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Parkview hospital recently. Mrs. Fishback's condition is improving and she expects to return soon to her home, 1409 Anderson avenue.

Malcolm J. Clark, sophomore in industrial journalism has withdrawn from college this semester.

R. C. Nichols has been visiting in Manhattan this week. Mr. Nichols has been with a trade magazine in Kansas City the past year, but may be enrolled in college this semester.

RAILROADS TO OFFER RATES NEXT SUNDAY

ONE AND ONE-HALF FARE FOR ROUND TRIP

INQUIRIES FROM ALL OVER STATE

Visitors This Year To Be Here for Business—Many Teachers and County Agents Will Attend

All of the railroads of the state have made arrangements to sell one and one-half fare, round-trip tickets to those who come to Manhattan to attend the Farm and Home week program. These tickets will also be sold at Kansas City, Joplin, and St. Joseph.

The sale lasts from February 4 to February 11 inclusive, and tickets are good for return until February 13.

System Easier This Year

This way of handling the reduced rate will be much more convenient than the method employed last year, and will probably be one means of increasing attendance at the institute. The rate will be the same, but the purchasers will be saved the trouble of obtaining certificates, and of having them validated.

Prof. T. J. Talbert of the extension division, says he is looking for as large a crowd as was here last year. Reports indicate that even more people may be in attendance. Farmers from all parts of the state have written that they expect to come and bring their friends. "Those who do come," says Mr. Talbert, "will be here for business, and not merely to satisfy their curiosity. They realize that, to make their farms pay, they must get all the help they can." Economic conditions over the state will make it impossible for a number of farmers to attend, but those who can come will be more anxious to secure the benefit. A number of teachers of vocational agriculture, and county agents are also planning to come.

Small Attendance at Missouri

Reports from Missouri show that only about half the usual number attended Farm and Home week at Columbia, January 16 to 21.

AERONAUTICS IN ENGINEER WORK

OFFER AERODYNAMICS TO SENIOR MECHANICALS

Will Take Time to Build Up Course—Few Schools Have It

The new course in aerodynamics which is being offered as an engineering elective was limited to five selected students this semester and a large number had to be disappointed. According to Professor J. P. Calderwood only those who have had practical experience in the work were considered and the number was limited in order to make the course more interesting. More students will probably be admitted hereafter, after the course is given a trial.

In order to see what other institutions were doing in the matter, inquiries were sent out to some 20 institutions of collegiate rank known to be giving some work in aeronautics. Only one institution gives an undergraduate degree leading to the degree of bachelor of science in aeronautical engineering. The remaining institutions give optional aeronautical subjects in the mechanical engineering course, varying from two to three semester credits.

The course in aerodynamics, as introduced into the mechanical engineering course here is to be given in the second semester of the senior year.

The laboratory work is intended to supplement the theory covered in the class room. Laboratory equipment has been installed in the third floor gallery of the steam and gas engineering laboratory.

The equipment already purchased consists of a Spad, type XIII, aeroplane motor, and one Hall-Scott motor. A small wind tunnel is now part of the equipment. This eventually will be superseded by one of larger capacity and higher wind velocities.

White Chairman of Mathematicians The Kansas section of the American Mathematical association met in Topeka, January 21.

The meeting was composed of teachers of college mathematics in the state. Professor A. E. White of the mathematics department here, was elected chairman of the Kansas section.

MANY ENROLLED FOR NEXT TERM

OVER TWENTY-TWO HUNDRED TAKE OUT ASSIGNMENTS

"Number Compares Favorably with Last Year," Says Miss Machir

Twenty-two hundred and fourteen students had been enrolled at 5 o'clock Wednesday evening, according to Miss Jessie M. Machir, registrar. Approximately 150 were new students.

This number compares favorably with the enrollment of the spring semester last year. It was feared that the large number of students leaving school would materially decrease the registration figures for this semester but an approximately equal number of new students have come in. It was necessary to call off classes on Wednesday afternoon in order to take care of the unexpected number.

Miss Machir expresses herself as being very well pleased with the enrollment. She says "The number of students enrolling is always less in the spring than in the fall but this compares very favorably with any spring semester enrollment we have ever had. It is rather surprising in view of the large number of students who left school."

CRAWFORD NOW HEADS AUTHORS

KANSAS WRITERS ELECT OFFICERS AT TOPEKA TUESDAY

Is Third Time An Aggie Professor Has Held Position—Prof. Talk

Prof. N. A. Crawford, head of the journalism department of K. S. A. C., was elected president of the Kansas Authors' club at the meeting held in Topeka, last Tuesday. J. W. Searson, formerly head of the English department of K. S. A. C., has held the office for the past two years. Professor Crawford's election brings the presidency of the club to K. S. A. C. for the third consecutive year.

Prof. H. W. Davis gave a short talk before the club on "Improving Kansas Standards." Dean E. L. Holton spoke on "The High Cost of Self Improvement." Prof. C. E. Rogers addressed the assembly on the subject, "Topping the Market."

Speaking of authors Mr. Rogers said, "The old bunk about genius feeding on inspiration does very well in the movies but writers must have a different means of livelihood."

The marketing of literary productions was discussed and the opportunities for feature writers pointed out. The shifting whims of the editors who buy feature stories were taken up in detail.

Mr. Rogers stated, "In spite of a seeming depression in the last year, the industrial journalism department of K. S. A. C. has been able to place as great a proportion of the students' work as in the year previous or even in that bountiful year of 1919 when editors threw money away."

It is Mr. Rogers' belief that the editors of daily and Sunday papers will buy anything that is interesting. In order to find out the opinion of the average reader Mr. Rogers advised, "Try it on your wife. Don't measure it by your own interest. Your wife will give you just the reaction you need."

HARBORD ASKS MORE ACTION LESSORATORY

AGGIE GRAD HELPS DEDICATE GIFT OF 1920 CLASS

WAINWRIGHT EULOGIZES ALUMNUS

General Is Brief Talker—Addressed Assembly on "Futility of Talk"—Left Thursday Afternoon

With the dying strains of "The Star Spangled Banner" the great flag touched the shining ball on the top of K. S. A. C.'s new flag pole. E. S. Lyons, '20, presented the pole, a gift of his class, President Jardine responded and then called upon Major General James C. Harbord to say a few words in dedication.

Fitting Gift of 1920 Class

"It is fitting that this pole should be the gift of the class of 1920," said the General. "A class which gave so many to the service." And in ending his few well chosen remarks: "The gift will be a monument to the past and an obligation to the future."

After a short prayer by the Rev. A. M. Reed of the United Presbyterian church the dedication ceremonies were over.

Yesterday's ceremonies were begun in the auditorium by speeches by Colonel J. M. Wainwright, assistant secretary of war, and Major General Harbord. A packed house listened to the two men.

Wainwright Eulogizes Harbord

Colonel Wainwright, who received much of his training in the National Guard, and saw service abroad, gave the first talk, which was in large part a eulogy of General Harbord.

"Harbord is the most modest man in the world," he said. "The only thing that ever makes him nervous is praise." He pointed out Harbord, the man, as a model for young people to pattern after.

General Harbord had, before coming to Manhattan this time, stated specifically that his talk would be informal. The moment he began talking it could be seen that he had not changed his mind. The only words which he dressed in formal style were:

"I feel as though I had laid aside my heavenly harp for a moment, leaned over the wall, and as a feather dropped from my angel's wings caught a glimpse of my own epitaph."

"The Futility of Talk"

General Harbord's few words were a preachment on "The Futility of Talk," as he put it.

He said that he had spent 17 of his 35 years out of college abroad, and was surprised upon his return at the astounding growth of clubs, secret societies, and organizations of all kinds.

He lamented the fact that the original constitution of the United States had become so bungled up in unwieldy boards and commissions and committees, all of which, he said, were great agents for oratory and preaching, but in the long run had no active connection with the true sources of legislation. His was a plea for action.

"Action Instead of Oratory"

"We must substitute action for oratory, and wisdom for wind," he ended.

After this short but forceful talk the actual dedicatory exercises were held. The spectators massed along the north, east, and west sides of the quadrangle, the cadets marched in front of them and formed lines of squads on the north and east sides, while the band formed immediately to the north of the pole and played the national anthem as the great flag swung aloft. Then followed the presentation, acceptance, dedication, and prayer.

Major General Harbord and Colonel Wainwright left yesterday afternoon for Fort Leavenworth.

Prof. J. B. Fitch of the dairy department was in Kansas City last Thursday to attend a meeting to arrange for the Holstein show which is to be held in June.

WHY NOT ENFORCE TRAINING RULES?

The accumulated experience of the great college athletic coaches in the country has shown conclusively that a consistent athletic machine cannot be built up unless training rules are enforced.

An old Aggie dropped into town recently and looked in on the crowd at Johnnie's. He had also been reading the sport columns of the daily newspapers sufficiently to know the Aggie standing in basketball. Immediately he put two things together. Knowing the effects, he had found a contributing cause if not the fundamental cause. A basketball squad which is in training does not make a practice of attending dances during the season.

It is futile to levy Varsity activity fees and lend every other encouragement to athletics if there is not enough loyalty to the college and to the sport itself to bring about the enforcement of legitimate training rules. Where is the laxness?

QUALITY RATHER THAN QUANTITY

Flunking seemed to be in season at the close of the semester just past. Upon first consideration it looks rather alarming to note the number of little knockout slips which were handed through the college post office. Has the college student been neglecting his training rules? It is the preparation long before the battle which finally wins the struggle. A heavy cram the night before the final may by chance put the student across the line but the odds are against him. An hour's study in February is worth three or four in the spring sunshine of May, and there is not Festival week or junior-senior prom to diversify attention at this chilly season of the year.

But there is another aspect to the flunks of last semester. An inspection of the bulletin boards in front of Dean Willard's office leads us to believe that from henceforth quality production is going to be stressed more in this institution than quantity production. We have attained the quantity and it is on the increase. It now remains to make the quality. Even though it is rather suddenly and dishearteningly brought to our attention, perhaps after all the flunk slips make a step in the right direction.

BUILT UP STONE UPON STONE

Among other things General Harbord made a brilliant scholastic record while in attendance at K. S. A. C. Passing on to his military record we find a tendency to do things with thoroughness. The superstructure of his achievements was built upon a foundation of war time substitutes. The construction process was slow and gradual rather than meteoric so that his life's work thus far completed has been able to stand the battering of the critics' severest storms. His results have shown his efforts and his efforts have justified the results. The Aggies' most distinguished alumnus and our honored guest. We salute him.

A REAL REGISTRATION SYSTEM

After years of successive trials and experimentation the registration system of the college has finally and happily evolved into a system which for all practical purposes is fool proof. While perhaps not as fast as we would like to see it there is something about it which shows headwork.

PROFESSIONALS MENACE SPORT

COACH JONES OF ILLINOIS SEES GROWING DANGER

Nine Athletes Disqualified at Illinois
—Eight at Notre Dame

Professional football has been the subject of lively discussion in the past few weeks by sport enthusiasts all over the country, and concern is being expressed by leading writers as to the future of the game, as a collegiate sport. Although the exposures have been mostly confined to the Western conference still they are of vital interest to every follower of college football.

At the present time fate seems to be treating the professionals rather roughly. First, Chick Harley, famous Ohio State star and all-American halfback for years, was taken severely ill from injuries received in a professional game resulting in a lot of unfavorable comment. Then Fielding T. Yost, the grand old man of Michigan and of Western conference athletics, came out with a statement condemning professional football as a menace to the collegiate sport.

The latest and most incriminating evidence against professional football and professionalism in general is the recent Western conference scandal which has resulted in the disqualification of nine athletes of the University of Illinois and eight from Notre Dame.

The suspension of these athletes was the result of a game between two small Illinois towns. A group of citizens of Carlinville, Ill., decided last fall to clean out the rival town of Taylorville by obtaining 10 college stars to play on their team and then betting to the limit on the annual football classic between the two towns. But Taylorville learned of the plan, secured nine college players for their own team and not only beat Carlinville but won close to $50,000 by covering every Carlinville bet that was made.

Ten Notre Dame men were supposed to be in the Carlinville lineup and the nine Illinois men played on the Taylorville eleven. It has recently developed that managers of the Carlinville team had been duped and that two of the college players they hired were fakers. The other eight have confessed and have been duly suspended by the Notre Dame officials.

Collegiate circles all over the country are much disturbed and drastic steps are being considered. The athletic authorities of the Big Ten where the situation seems to be the worst are especially concerned. The recent example of Dietz, head coach of Purdue, in attempting to bribe several Pacific coast players to come to Purdue would indicate, however, that the prevalent crookedness is not entirely confined to players.

Coach E. T. Jones, director of athletics at the University of Wisconsin, commented as follows on the suspension of the Illinois and Notre Dame athletes, "I feel and know that there is a great deal of professionalism among college players and if the situation is not taken care of there will be no more intercollegiate games. Athletics may get a setback as they did in 1905, when rules against professionalism were enforced, but they will benefit in the end."

Commendation of the action of Illinois and the opinion that an immediate investigation and cleanup should be started was expressed by E. O. Stehman, director of athletics at the University of Indiana and formerly head coach at Nebraska.

A social recreation leader has been appointed at the University of Chicago and classes in social recreation may be substituted for dancing and other gym work. Chicago is the first university to try this experiment.

Now that the new semester has started here's hoping that we can get back to a pre-funk basis before long.

A Collegian reporter has admitted that he was not allowed to disclose the findings of the faculty's intelligence test. Who slipped him the hush money?

Must there be an S. S. G. A. probe to learn the truth?

If there are those among our instructors who are mentally defunct, we, the free born students of Kansas State Agricultural college must know it.

January, 1922: Festival week this year promises to be the largest in the history of the school. The home talent is far superior to that of any other year.

It appears that the Arbuckle publicity campaign is about over.

We always hate to say anything against the faculty, but we have never been able to understand what mental process is responsible for their using YELLOW envelopes in which to mail their unimportant notes.

Sturdy Son of Soil Outscribbles Journalists at Their Own Game

Are the present school of journalism and journalists going to the dogs? Must it eventually be infused with the spirit of old mother earth and God's great out of doors, to live? Is the winning of the Collegian inches contest by J. Wheeler Barger, senior in agriculture, and one of America's sturdy sons of the soil, a fore-runner and a prophecy of the inevitable?

The whole affair is an insufferable disgrace. Barger, conscious of the sentiment of his competitors and fearing violence, has not entered the journalistic sanctum since the results of the contest were announced. It will undoubtedly be many months before the incident has been lived down and forgotten, if such a thing is possible.

Alaa Dailey, a loyal son of the fourth estate, fought to the last pica, and contested Barger's every inch, but despite his gallant efforts, thinkers, sidestep the issue as they would, could but see the debacle approaching, the time when a layman, a farmer, would best the journalist at his own game. Does it foreshadow the downfall of the present order? If it does, the present order shudders.

What a disaster this looming regeneration of journalism will be for the schools teaching the subject, and for the poor individuals who, in the last five or 10 years have graduated from the schools. An entire reorganization of the course of study must be made to accommodate the avalanche of farmers, preachers, and plumbers, all disciples of the new order. And today's poor writers—it is impossible to picture the depths of degradation into which they may fall.

And the most insufferable part about it all is that the Ags. will be laughing—not up their collective sleeves, but brazenly—a cranium splitting guffaw. Insufferable!

But the pain of the defeat will only goad the supporters of the old order to more furious action. For a moment they may feel a tendency to hang their heads, but the newspaper men's motto is, "We get what we go after," and enervating as the recent defeat has been they will be up and at it again, fighting off the possibilities of another defeat.

the president, presiding. The election of the officers for the coming year were, Mrs. John Parker, president; Miss Grace Heses, secretary and treasurer; and the three vice presidents, Mrs. George Clammer, Mrs. Arthur Fielding, and Mrs. Ambrose Johnstone.

The new $75,000 chemistry building of the Colorado Agricultural college was completely destroyed by fire during the Christmas holidays. All records and equipment were lost and laboratory work has been discontinued indefinitely.

An organization has been formed at the University of Colorado having for its avowed purpose the abolishing of all social fraternities. One hundred fifty students attended the first meeting. Publicity and propaganda are the means they intend to use and no radical action of any kind has been taken as yet.

Complete reorganization of the college year will be made at the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college beginning September, 1922. The semester plan is to be abandoned and three terms of twelve weeks duration will be substituted.

More than 25,000 cases have been treated by the Ohio University medical clinics since the beginning of the school year.

A fifty piece saxophone band is being organized at the Oregon Agricultural college. It is the first college band of its kind in the country.

The City Pan Hellenic held its annual banquet Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock at the Gillett hotel. A color scheme of yellow and white was carried out with yellow candles and vases of calendulas with sweet alyssum. Mrs. R. Russell Cave was chairman of the committee that planned the party. Miss Katherine Kimmel acted as toast mistress. Those who gave toasts were Miss Nina Crigler, Mrs. A. A. Holtz, Mrs. R. K. Nabours, and Miss Marie Coons. A brief business session followed the banquet, Mrs. J. B. Fitch,

Pioneer Men of Aggie Football Met Much Faculty Opposition

The unprecedented grit of an early Aggie football player, F. A. Dawley, guard on the first team of the college, at the age of 49 again playing in a match game between the extension division faculty and the regular faculty last month, has occasioned a good deal of interest in the early history of the sport.

Football got its start at K. S. A. C.

after it had started, Dean was lost in the spirit of the game. Without knowing it, he was pushing in the direction he wished the ball to go. As the play started, he braced and pushed, only to be met with a rebuke from President Fairchild, whose body he had encountered. I think Professor Dean has been a lover of the game ever since that day in spite of the unpleasantness of the

The accompanying picture is that of the Aggie team of 1894. It probably is the earliest picture of a K. S. A. C. football team. F. E. Colburn, college photographer, has photographed the old print and can supply copies to any alumni or others who may be interested. Reading from left to right the players are: Standing—First figure not identified; F. A. Dawley, '95, guard, K. S. A. C. faculty; C. Williams, tackle, Glasco; Dr. H. G. Johnson, '95, center, Lindsborg; C. V. Holsinger, '95, guard, Ames, Iowa, Middle row (kneeling)—J. B. Harman, '95, tackle, Kansas stockman; Dr. B. W. Conrad, '95, fullback, Sabetha; Will (brother of President Will), quarterback, sitting—George Menke, halfback; O. A. Otten, '95, Hebron, Neb.; B. Kirkpatrick, end, lawyer, Tulsa, Okla.; Bryant, lying down in front—Emmett Hoffman, Enterprise.

In 1892 when "Cap" Conrad, now Dr. B. W. Conrad of Sabetha, organized an eleven. Conrad is an enthusiastic football fan today, although he has not gone on record as being willing to play a match game as his fellow athlete Dawley of the early 90's did. Speaking of the difficulty he had in getting football started at Manhattan, Conrad became reminiscent recently.

"We always were opposed by the faculty throughout the four years I was in attendance," he said. "Having endured the sport for a short time, the faculty passed a measure that forbade us to play in contest games without the faculty's consent and approval.

"We evaded that measure by contracting to play practice games. Fort Riley was our first practice game, and by the way it was the hardest fought contest I was ever in.

"Three of us, J. A. Scheel, Victor Standt, and I were called before the faculty for disobedience of the rules. Some were in favor of expulsion. Some favored suspension for a period of four weeks, while others were more lenient.

"Through the influence of two professors, Jones and Mayo, we were saved from embarrassment, although President Fairchild gave us such a reprimand that we were slow to disregard rules for the rest of that year."

Doctor Mayo, to whom Doctor Conrad refers as one of the "footballers," staunch supporters, now connected with the Abbot Laboratories of Chicago, told recently of his efforts to get football started at the college.

"In those days even the most optimistic would hardly call the faculty a 'sporting faculty,'" he said. "Old timers will recall President Fairchild, and Professors Failyer, Kellerman, Popenoe, and Georgeson, and it will require no stretch of imagination to picture how frequently and completely the writer was squelched in his enthusiastic effort to get the faculty to allow the students to have a football team. Dean Willard states that after a remarkable oratorical plea on my part that ended by asking the faculty if they had ever seen a football game, Professor Walters replied: 'Well, it is not necessary to descend to the depths of infamy to know what infamy is.'"

Doctor Conrad recalls the scores of the two games with St. Mary's. The first that was played in '92 was 10 to 18 in favor of the Aggies. At the end of the first half it was 8 to 10 in favor of St. Mary's.

"We had a conference during the intermission and solved a way to break the old turtle shell play and they were unable to advance without its use," Doctor Conrad said.

"We made our gains by wide end runs, then more or less of an innovation, and two other plays."

Doctor Conrad roomed with Professor George Dean, now head of the entomology department of K.S.A.C.

"He was not very enthusiastic over football at first," Conrad recounts. "I urged and persuaded him to attend a game, and in a few moments women should begin to understand the significance and importance of those hitherto more or less cryptic masculine expressions, "belt," and "suspenders."
